Die Veneris, 1<sup>o</sup> Martij 1795

THE Lords being in their Places, the House returned, the usual Proclamations made, and the Defendant appearing at the Bar, the Lord Chancellor acquainted the Counsel for the Defendant they might proceed in his Defence.

Then Captain DAVID WILLIAMS was again called in, and further cross-examined, as follows :

Q. (by Managers.) How long was you stationed under Colonel Hannay in the District of Baraich and Goruckpore?

A. I took the Command of my Battalion, I think, in March 1781, and I believe I quitted that Country some Time in October.

Q. Do you mean to say that you took the Command of your Battalion in that Country at that Time?

A. Yes.

Q. Where was your principal Station?

A. At Gungowah.

Q. Did you continue there during the whole Time of your Stay in that Country?

A. No.

Q. Where else were you stationed?

A. I went with Leave of Absence to Lucknow, as I before stated.

Q. How long did you stay upon that Leave of Absence?

A. I returned back to my Command on the First of September, I believe.

Q. Can you say when the Leave of Absence commenced?

A. I cannot exactly specify the Time.

Q. About what Time?

A. I think it must have been about the 16th or 17th of August; I cannot say exactly.

Q. Did you return to your Station at Gungowah till, or about the Time of the Insurrection?

A. I do not understand the Question.

Q. Did you return to your Station at Gungowah, in Goruckpore, before the Time of the Insurrection?

A. There were some Disturbances which I discovered upon my Return, particularly the Attack of the Post which was taken at Bully.

Q. What Time did you return?

A. The 1st or 2d of September.

Q. Had you any other Station during your Residence in the Country, excepting that of Gungowah, previous to the Insurrection?

A. That was my fixed Station.

Q. How far was that Station from the Country of Mustapha Cawn;—from the usual Residence of Mustapha Cawn?

A. I cannot say exactly; it might have been about 200 Miles.

Q. During the Period of your Residence at Gungowah, had you any particular Knowledge of the Proceedings of Mustapha Cawn?

A. Colonel Hannay mentioned to me, when I took the Command, many Circumstances respecting Mustapha Cawn; such as his being a notorious Rebel, and that great Care should be taken of him; that I should give strict Charge to the Officer who commanded the Garrison at Goruckpore to take Care of him; and I think that I had a Letter from Ahlaud Sing, giving me Account of the Attack upon the Fort, that Mustapha Cawn had killed One of the Sepoys on his own Hand, when the Prisoners rose upon the Guard.

Q. Whether, during your Residence at Gungowah, previous to the Insurrection, you knew any Thing of the Proceedings of Mustapha Cawn?

A. I knew that he was a Rebel, at least it was reported so to me.

Q. Could you answer the Question?

A. I really do not know, but my Knowledge wish to do it.

The Managers for the Commons desired the Question might be read.

The same was accordingly read by the Clerk, as follows :

Q. Whether, during your Residence at Gungowah, previous to the Insurrection, you knew any Thing of the Proceedings of Mustapha Cawn?

A. I know nothing but from the Accounts that I received.

Q. Did you receive any Accounts from Colonel Hannay previous to the Time of the Insurrection?

A. I was in the Habit of continually receiving Instructions and Orders from Colonel Hannay previous to the Insurrection.

Q. About him?

A. Not him particularly, I believe;—I cannot say exactly respecting him, what Number of Letters passed between Colonel Hannay and me during the Space of Time.

Q. You know nothing then of your own Knowledge or Observation concerning Mustapha Cawn, previous to the Time of the Insurrection?

A. Of my own personal Knowledge, I certainly do not.

Q. Upon what Grounds have you thought proper to call the Followers of Mustapha Cawn his Banditti, when you had no Knowledge of his Proceedings, nor any Observation of your own concerning them?

A. In order to do that, I must state the Accounts which I have heard respecting Mustapha Cawn: I had Accounts from the Rajah of Binjah, who was with me, and whose local Situation near Namparra would enable him to know almost every Thing respecting Mustapha Cawn; he mentioned to me that Mustapha Cawn was originally a Trooper in the Time of the Father of Shujah Dowlah Suffer Jung.—I am stating the Accounts I have heard respecting Mustapha Cawn.

Q. The Question is not concerning the Pedigree of Mustapha Cawn, but upon what Grounds you have called the Followers of Mustapha Cawn a Banditti?

A. I am stating it.

The Managers for the Commons desired the Question might be read.

The same was accordingly read by the Clerk as follows :

Q. Upon what Grounds have you thought proper to call the Followers of Mustapha Cawn his Banditti, when you had no Knowledge of his Proceedings, nor any Observation of your own concerning them?

A. I have stated he was a Trooper, and afterwards created a Rajah; that he was confined at Fyzabad. I think he escaped, it was in the Beginning of the Year 1773, that he corrupted the Guards that were over him, and seduced them by the Offer of Reward to permit him to escape: That they did so, and went off with him to Namparra to receive the promised Rewards;—in Hopes of receiving the promised Rewards. Mustapha Cawn cut off all their Heads, to the Number of Fifty. He from that Period was in Rebellion till he was taken, I believe, some Time in 1780. I am only stating now what he mentioned to me. When I was at Lucknow in the Year 1779, the Nabob sent his own Body Guard, under Captain Mordaunt, and Lieut. Polhill, against Mustapha Cawn, who was then armed, and in Rebellion, and therefore I called them Banditti. He was heading a Party of Rebels, of notorious Rebels, from every Quarter I could get Intelligence from, he had been in the continual Habit of making incursions upon the Nabob's District, and plundering and murdering the Nabob's Subjects.

The Managers for the Commons objected to the Answer.

Q. Whether this Account, which you have heard, was that Mustapha Cawn was in Prison, or not?

A. If I thought proper, I think I might refuse answering the Question concerning Mustapha Cawn, because, as one Part of the Charge against Mr. Hannay, my Conduct respecting Mustapha Cawn is introduced; I have not availed myself of the opportunity to have really answered to the Questions thought proper to be put by the Honble. Managers.

Q. Do you not know that that Charge stood against you, under the Article of One of your own Officers, sworn, when he was at Lucknow, before Sir Ralph Maye?

A. The only Thing stated, I believe, as far as my Memory serves me, in that Affidavit is, that Muttapha Cawn had been executed agreeably to my Order, and that a Proclamation had been made through the Town by my Orders, that Persons who had been guilty of the same Crime should suffer the same Punishment. I do not believe there is a Word more in that Affidavit about Muttapha Cawn.

Q. Whether, previously to the Confinement of Mustapha Cawn, any Thing came to your Knowledge concerning the Conduct and Proceedings of Mustapha Cawn?

A. I really cannot say when Multapha Cawn was confined; he was confined previous to my coming into the Country.

Q. Then this Account that you received of him was subsequent to his Imprisonment?

A. Part of it was, and the other Part, respecting Captain Mordaunt, was when I was at Lucknow.

Q. Whether Mustapha Cawn was not a Man of great Power and Influence in that Country? whether he was made a Rajah by Creation, or possessed it by Descent?

A. I understood from the Accounts I received in the Country, that Mustapha Cawn had at Times headed a large Body of Rebels; I call them by that Epithet, which I think they de-

Q. Do you know any Thing at all relative to the Nature and Quality of the Troops which Muttapha Cawn commanded?

I believe Colonel Hannay, in One of his Letters to me, terms Mustapha Cawa a murderous and desperate Villain.

Whether or no the Words used by Colonel Hannay, with regard to him, were not these, and only, "that he has often raised Seven and Ten thousand Horse and Foot?"

I believe that was stated, or something to that Effect, in One of Colonel Hannay's

Q. Is that the Expression in Colonel Hannay's Letter,—Aye or No?

That is a Part; but if the Honble. Manager will read after—

Q Have you that Letter to produce?

A. That Letter is not in my Possession; it was laid upon the Table of the House of Com.

Q. Have you delivered to the House of Commons all your Correspondence with Colonel Hann upon your Oath?

A. I delivered to the House of Commons the Letters I received, respecting Mustapha Cawn.

Q. Have you delivered over all your Correspondence with Colonel Hannay, or have you any part of it now in your Possession?

I certainly did not deliver over all my Correspondence during the Time I was in that Country. There was a great Mass of Correspondence between us.

Have you any Objection, that that Correspondence which you laid before the House of Commons, should be produced?

And have none, for my own Part.

Q Have you any Objection to produce your whole Correspondence with Colonel Hannay, and not your garbled Correspondence?

that is a strong expression. I did not garble it. I delivered over to the House of Commons that related to the Subject that was before the House.

How long did you stay at Goruckpore, at the Time of putting the Rajah Mustapha Cawn

I cannot exactly recollect the Dates. I think I arrived about the 20th, and I believe left about the 4th or 5th of October.

Whether you have not heard that Colonel Hannay had sworn "that Perwannas really becoming to be, from the Vizier himself, were sent to the insurgent Rajahs whom you mention namely, Zaim Sing, Genoo Roy, Ajeet Sing, Purtypaul Sing, Futteh Saw, and others, promising to them, if they rose upon the English, the Restoration to their Hereditary Zemindars."

do not recollect I heard any Thing from Colonel Hannay respecting such a Perwanna, and since I have been in England, I cannot say exactly, something of that Tendency.

Whether you was not at Lucknow with Colonel Hannay when Colonel Hannay made

A. I was certainly at Lucknow, but not with Colonel Hannay, when he made that Affidavit.

( 1950 )

Q. Were you not both at Lucknow upon the 26th of November?

A. I believe so.

Q. Then how came you to make a very detailed Narrative as you made upon Oath, on the 26th of November, at Lucknow, so recently after the Transaction of all your Proceedings in Goruckpore, wholly to omit all Mention whatsoever of so material a Fact as the cutting off the Head of the Rajah Mustapha Cawn?

A. When I made the Affidavit at Lucknow, I made it at the House of Colonel Martine. I stated in that Narrative such Events as occurred to me at that Moment, and, in that Narrative, I was anxious to state the Difficulties, particularly that I myself had encountered, and the perilous Situation in which I stood, and which prevented my proceeding to Benares. I had before acquainted Colonel Hannay of the Execution of Mustapha Cawn officially, therefore I did not think it was a material Point to introduce into an Affidavit, the professed Object of which, was to shew how far Cheat Sing's Influence extended to the Creation of Disturbances in Goruckpore and Barratch.

Q. Why did you not state in that Affidavit the Difficulty that occasioned you to put the Rajah Mustapha Cawn to death, without any Form or Process?

A. I think I have answered that already.

Q. Why did you say nothing in that Affidavit about your being stopped at Baunsey, by Persons in Arms, declaring that the Relentment of that putting to death, and killing of Mustapha Cawn, or some other Rajah, was One of the Causes of their rising?

A. I never stated that I was stopped at Baunsey.

The Managers for the Commons desired the Question and Answer might be read:

The same were accordingly read by the Clerk.

Q. Do you know the Reason why Colonel Hannay, in his long Affidavit, has taken no Notice of the Order he gave to you, to put the Rajah Mustapha Cawn to death, or of any Report or Return which you made to him upon that Subject?

A. I really cannot tell Colonel Hannay's Reasons; he never communicated them to me.

Q. Whether Colonel Hannay was not in close and confidential Correspondence and Communication with you?

A. If it is meant, that I was in the Habits of Friendship with Colonel Hannay at that Time, it was certainly the Reverse of it, we were not upon good Terms.

Q. Whether Colonel Hannay had not the Collection of the Revenues in that Province?

A. I certainly did not know, while I was in that Country, that Colonel Hannay had any Thing to do with the Revenue.

Q. Do you believe he had?

A. I have said that Colonel Hannay, when I was in the Country, told me he had nothing to do with it.

Q. Do you believe the Collection of the Revenue was substantially in Colonel Hannay's Hands?

A. I believed so afterwards, from reading a Paper which stated Col. Hannay had acknowledged he had: I believe I saw it long after I left the Country.

Q. Do you know how many Months Pay the Troops were in Arrear at the Time of the Mutiny?

A. I do not strictly recollect, but many Months.

Q. When did you receive any Money to pay those Troops, and what Money did you receive?

A. I believe during the Time that I was in that Country, I think only One Month's Pay; but I am not certain.

Q. Through whose Hands did you receive it?

A. Really I cannot speak whether it was from Colonel Hannay, or Mr. Wombwell; my Pay Accounts were kept with Mr. Wombwell as Paymaster, and I rather think that that Money was sent from Lucknow; I cannot tell.

Q. At the Time of the Mutiny, you say you received but One Month's Pay?

A. I think not, to the best of my Recollection now.

Q. Then you borrowed the other Two Months Pay which you paid them?

A. I mentioned before, that there were only Two Companies with me at the Time of the Mutiny, and that a Month's Pay had been received for the Whole Battalion; and, in order to quiet the Mutineers, I paid those Two Companies Three Months Pay, out of the Pay for the Rest of the Battalion.

Q. How

( 1951 )

Q. How long before the Mutiny did you receive this Pay?

A. The Money, I believe, came to Gungowah during my Absence at Lucknow. I think so.

Q. So you found it at Gungowah?

A. The Pay was in Charge of my Moonshy or Secretary when I arrived at Gungowah?

Q. Why, having a Month's Pay for the Whole Battalion so long in your Hands, you left the Two Companies without any Pay for so considerable a Time, and until they mutinied?

A. The Lapse of Time I believe was only a few Days.

Q. Why did you delay it till they mutinied, as you knew that many Months Pay had been due to them?

A. I really cannot state the actual Reasons that weighed in my Mind at that Time; but the probable Reason was, that I did not think it prudent to pay them till they had crossed the Ganges, but that I gave them Subsistence Money in the mean Time; because often when Troops are ordered upon Service in that Country, considerable Desertions take Place, and if I had paid them the Whole of their Arrears there, it might have increased that Kind of Desertion which frequently happens,

Q. Do you know when the Account of all these Transactions, including the putting to Death the Rajah Mustapha Cawn in the Manner you before stated, came to the Ears of Mr. Hastings, Mr. Hastings caused any Inquiry to be made into your Conduct by a Court Martial or otherwise?

A. I do not know whether they came to the Ears of Mr. Hastings or not, I cannot say. The Nabob was the Person, if I had done any Thing wrong, who would naturally have complained of any Acts of Injustice of mine. I saw the Nabob at Lucknow upon my Return from my Command, and if I had done any Thing wrong, he would naturally have made a Complaint to the British Government against me, to the Governor General and Council: The Nabob sent me Thanks for my Conduct in the Goruckpore Country, and for the Protection that I yielded to a great Number of his Subjects who accompanied me to Lucknow.

Q. Whether you have not Reason to believe that the whole Mass of Affidavits sworn before Sir Elijah Impey upon his Affidavit Circuit, were transmitted to Mr. Hastings, and by him sent to the Court of Directors?

A. I have heard it so stated; I cannot speak to my own Knowledge of it; but I have heard it.

Q. Do you not know, or have you been credibly informed, that the Nabob made Complaints against Colonel Hannay, and the Officers under his Command, and against British Officers in general serving in his Dominions?

A. I can only speak with respect to myself; he never made any Complaints against me, to my Knowledge.

Question repeated

A. It is impossible to remember all I have read respecting India Matters; I possibly may have read it, but I do not know there was such a Complaint made.

Q. Have you any Reason to know or believe that the Nabob had any Copies of those Affidavits delivered to him, or any Communication of the Transaction?

A. I really do not know whether they were sent to him or not.

Q. Do you believe that they were, as you was there at the Time?

A. I cannot speak to that as a Matter of Fact; but as to my Belief, I think it was natural that he should.

Q. Do you recollect the exact Time when you found the Persian Letter you have produced?

A. I really cannot state the exact Time; I believe it was a few Days previous to my Examination in the House of Commons.

Q. You said you did not find it yourself; was you in the Room when it was found?

A. I certainly was in the Room with Captain Broome. I carried all the Persian Papers that I found to Captain Broome, and laid them upon the Table for his Examination.

Q. Where did you take these Papers from, which you carried in a Heap to Capt. Broome?

A. They were in a Trunk of mine, with other Papers.

Q. Had that Trunk been constantly in your Possession from the Time you left India?

A. In my Possession? I really cannot exactly understand what is meant.

Q. Was it a Trunk containing Papers only, and which had not been opened till the Time you and Captain Broome examined the Contents of them?

A. The Trunk contained Clothes, and other Articles, which I brought up from the Court.

Q. Did it contain other Letters and Correspondence respecting Matters that had happened during your Command in India?

A. I really do not recollect what the Contents of them were exactly, but Captain Broome mentioned, that that particular Letter, as he conceived, respected the Transactions in Goruckpore:—That was the only Paper that he found among them.

Q. Are you positive there was no Cover to the Letter when it was found?

A. Captain Broome, who examined the Papers, told me at the Time, that he could not find the Cover.

Q. Have you any Recollection of having seen or observed this Letter at any Time while you were in India?

A. No; I really have not any Recollection of it at all.

Q. You have stated that you supposed it to be One of the intercepted Letters?

A. Yes; I stated that I conceived it was One of the intercepted Letters, from its mentioning Ajeet Sing, and others who were hostile to me. Upon that alone I conceived it was One of those Letters?

Q. Have you any other intercepted Letters?

A. Not to my Knowledge.

Q. Do you suppose that all the other intercepted Letters were either lost or destroyed?

A. I really do suppose so from my having given all the Persian Papers in my Possession to the Inspection of Captain Broome; I could not read them myself.

Q. Do you remember to have stated, that many of those other intercepted Letters were of much more Consequence, and tended much more strongly to impeach the Begums, than the Letter you have now produced?

A. Certainly there were.

Q. You have stated that you caused some of those intercepted Letters to be destroyed, what induced you to do so?

A. I gave Orders to my Moonshy, who kept my Persian Papers, to destroy any intercepted Letters that might fall into the Hands of the Enemy.

Q. When did you give this Order?

A. It was a general Order that I gave after my Return from Lucknow to my Station, when the Insurrection at Benares happened, before I set off for Gungowah.

Q. Do you mean, during the Insurrection, when you was yourself in Danger with your Corps?

A. Yes.

Q. Did not these intercepted Letters contain Communications and Intelligence, as you have stated, respecting the Sedition and Rebellion they were supposed to be encouraging?

A. Whose Sedition?

Q. The Begums?

A. Yes.

Q. Who were the Enemy into whose Hands you were apprehensive of those Letters falling?

A. Into the Hands of the Persons they were directed to, or into the Hands of the People that were hostile to us at that Time.

Q. Upon what Grounds were you apprehensive that any Danger could arise to the English, from the Communication between those supposed Rebels falling into their own Hands?

A. I certainly apprehended Danger to myself, because my Baggage was frequently attacked, and liable to be carried off, and that I should have more to oppose me in my March, if those Letters should reach the Persons they were directed to, or fall into their Hands. I am stating these as the probable Reasons; for really, at this Period of Time, I cannot state exactly what was my Motive at that Time to do any particular Act; every Day a Change of Circumstances took Place; it might change daily and hourly from the Variety of Intelligence I received; therefore it is impossible for me here to tell exactly what was my Motive at that Time for every Part of my Military Transactions.

Q. Have you no Recollection how this particular Letter came to be preserved?

A. I certainly have not; I think it was by mere Chance.

Q. You said you ordered all these intercepted Letters to be destroyed, lest they should reach their Destination, and that the Enemy should be encouraged by their Contents to collect a larger force; did you, at that Juncture, destroy all your Correspondence in general?

A. Does the Question mean the Persian Correspondence?

Q. All Letters which you received at that Period? or did you retain any of them amongst your Baggage?

A. I certainly retained English Letters, Orders.

Q. Did you retain no English Letters, but mere Orders ?

A. I dare say. I think so. There might have been private Letters and Correspondence. A great Part of my Letters, Maps, Plans, and others, were left at Gungowah, and many Letters were destroyed by me at Lucknow; and I do not believe that I should have had any single Paper now in my Possession, respecting any Thing that passed in that Country, had it not been for Major Gilpin, who was examined at this Bar.

Q. What was the Period at which you conceived yourself to have been in the greatest Danger, and when you thought it most necessary to destroy any Correspondence which might have increased that Danger ?

A. I conceived myself to be in constant Danger of Attacks, from the Time of my Troops Mutinying, and during the whole of my March, till I joined Colonel Hannay.

Q. Give the Dates of that Time ?

A. From about the 4th or 5th of September, to the 24th of October.

Q. Do you recollect precisely, during that Period, to have received a Number of Letters from Colonel Hannay and Mr. William Blane ?

A. I did receive a Number of Letters from Colonel Hannay, and from Mr. Blane, who occasionally acted as his Secretary.

Q. Do you recollect whether or no the general Tendency of those Letters was to state the Affairs of the Company's Forces in those Parts as in the most desperate Situation, and to give the greatest Encouragement to the Enemies of the English ?

A. Those Letters stated, the Tendency of them principally went, that I should march with all possible Expedition to Colonel Hannay's Assistance, who was in great Distress.

Q. Whether, throughout that Correspondence, there were not Circumstances stated to you by Colonel Hannay, calculated, if those Letters had fallen into the Hands of the Enemy, to encourage them to attack you, and convince them that you could have no Hope of being assisted by Colonel Hannay ?

A. I was convinced those Letters could be of no Service or Diservice, the English Letters; because I believe now, and believed then, that there was no Person in that Country who could have read them; therefore there could be no possible Danger of their doing Mischief.

Q. Then you state, upon your Oath, that you believe there is no Danger of an English intercepted Letter, falling into the Hands of the Enemy upon Account of the Impossibility of their being made able to understand them ?

A. I did not say Impossibility; I said Improbability.

Q. Have you never heard of the People called Moonshys ?

A. Yes, certainly.

Q. What Language did your own Moonshy speak, besides Persian ?

A. He spoke the common Moorish Language of the Country; and I believe he did not understand One Word of English, at least I understood so from himself—I am speaking of my own Moonshy.

Q. Do you mean to say that about the Persons of the principal Chiefs of the Country, or at the Begum's Court, there was no Person capable of conveying the Meaning of an English Letter ?

A. I cannot say what there was about the Begum's Court; there was no English Person there to my Knowledge at the Time.

Q. Was not there an English Factory established at Taundeh ?

A. I do not think it was an English Factory; it was a private Factory of Mr. Scott's, not upon the Part of the English Government; I understood so; I never was at Taundeh.

Q. Then you did not destroy the Correspondence of Col. Hannay and Mr. Blane, but preserved it through all the Dangers of the March, merely upon Account of the Improbability of its being understood by the Enemy, had it fallen into their Hands ?

A. I really cannot say at this Distance of Time, but that I might have destroyed many of Col. Hannay's Letters, for his Letters were mere small Strips of Paper conveyed in Quills, Wax, and in the Soles of the Shoes, and in various other Manners.

Q. Do you recollect the Correspondence you delivered at the Bar of the House of Commons between Col. Hannay, Mr. Blane, and yourself ?

A. I really cannot repeat or recollect exactly the Letters which I delivered in at the Bar of the House of Commons Two Years ago, and which I have had no Access to since.

Q. Do you recollect that the first Letter, and the first Passage of that Correspondence, begins thus; "You no Doubt, have heard of Gordon's Disaster, and I am happy to hear you are safe in Gornakpore?"

A. Yes.

Q. Do

( 1954 )

Q. Do you recollect that the Date of the first Letter was the 11th of September, and the last the 5th of October.

The Witness (looking at a Paper) said,

A. The last Letter I see here, is the 5th of October.

Q. You have stated, that you made constant Communications to Col. Hannay of your Situation, and of the Reports which had reached you; do you recollect that, by the Letter of the 17th of September, Colonel Hannay appears not to have heard from you, nor to have known where you were?

A. It appears by that Letter that he was not certain whether I was at Goruckpore, or not.

Q. Do you recollect this Passage in that same Letter of the 17th—'Unacquainted as I am with the Circumstances you may be under, I cannot pretend to give you Directions what to do; I shall therefore depend upon your own Prudence and Conduct, which I doubt not will lead you to do right; and to keep in your Mind that while we maintain Possession of the Kella of Goruckpore, and you are able to maintain your Post at Gungowah, there will be little Doubt, but as soon as the present Ferment is over, Things will be restored to their usual Channel, and a Communication with Patna opened;'—Do you recollect that?

A. Yes.

Q. Was not the Communication often shut between the different Detachments of British Troops, and many Letters intercepted on both Sides?

A. The Communication was certainly very precarious and uncertain, many of my Hircarras were murdered in conveying Letters, and it was a very difficult Matter to convey Intelligence.

Q. Do you not perceive, by the Passage before quoted from Colonel Hannay's Letter, that on the 17th of September Colonel Hannay did not receive those circumstantial Accounts which you may have written to him, accompanied with the Detail of the Reports, which you before stated to have constantly communicated to your Commanding Officer?

A. By this Letter it certainly appears that Col. Hannay did not know exactly at what Place or in what Predicament I then stood.

Q. Does it not appear that he could not have received the Letters sent to him?

A. Certainly he complains of not receiving Intelligence.

Q. Does it not appear that the Letters which you had before stated to have written to Col. Hannay had miscarried?

A. It certainly does so appear.

Q. Have you ever heard upon what Day the Treaty of Chunar was signed?

A. I really do not know; I may have heard it, but I cannot say, for I do not know at this Instant upon what Day it was executed.

Q. Did you never hear that it was, upon the 19th of September?

A. I really cannot say; it is possible I might, or I might not.

Q. That it was signed on the 19th of September, and negotiated on the Three preceding Days?

A. I really do not recollect, I was not near the Place where the Treaty was made, and I did not concern myself directly or indirectly about it.

Q. Did you ever hear in India that any Communications made by you to Col. Hannay at that Period, and afterwards communicated to Mr. Hastings, had influenced the Conduct of Mr. Hastings in signing that Paper?

A. I really do not know any Thing about it; I cannot say whether it influenced Mr. Hastings.

Q. The Question is if you ever heard it?

A. I really cannot charge my Memory.

Q. Did you never hear that that Treaty of the 19th of September contained an Order for the Confiscation of the Begum's Jaghire?

A. I believe I can state that I never saw the Treaty, nor do I know any Thing at all of its Contents.

Q. What are your Reasons for supposing that the intercepted Persian Letter, or supposed intercepted Persian Letter, was written by or addressed to any Person in the Interest of the Begum?

A. I have no other Reason than what I have before stated.

Q. Have you read Mr. Halhed's Translation of the Letter attentively?

A. I looked it over, and the only Part that made it appear to my Mind, it was an intercepted Letter, was its mentioning the Names of Ajcet Sing, I think, and others, who were hostile at that Time.

Q. Have you compared this Translation with the Purport of the Letter as Rated by Mr. Broome to you, and delivered by you at the Bar of the House of Commons?

A. I have not compared them, but I think they differ.

Q. You

( 1955 )

Q. You have said, that the Mention of Ajeet Sing is the only Circumstance which has led you to believe there was Matter in this Letter which appeared to criminate the Begum ?

A. I did not say so ; I said that was the only Reason that made me think it was one of the intercepted Letters, one of the Letters that were written at that Time.

Q. Is there any Circumstance in the Letter which appears to you to warrant a Conclusion that it was written by an Agent, or addressed to an Agent, of the Begums ?

A. There is nothing that I know of ; I deliver this as a Matter of Opinion, not as a Matter of Fact.

Q. Is it the single Circumstance of its mentioning Ajeet Sing that leads you to think it was written by an Agent of the Begums, or addressed to an Agent of the Begums ?

A. I really cannot say.

Q. What is the Ground of your Opinion that it is written by an Agent, or to an Agent of the Begums ?

A. I have already mentioned that I have no Ground except that the Letter was one of the Letters intercepted.

Q. (by a Lord.) Have you said that it was a Letter written from an Agent, or to an Agent of the Begums ?

A. No, I have not.

Q. (by the Managers.) Do you mean to say you never gave an Opinion, either in this Examination, or in any other Place, that this Letter was a Letter written by or addressed to any Agent of the Begum, or that it tended in any Degree to support the Suspicions against her ?

A. I have stated that, but in another Place ; but it was upon the Ground of the Translation given by Captain Broome, not upon any other.

Q. You mentioned that Ajeet Sing was in Hostilities, and employed by her ?

A. He was in Hostilities certainly.

The following Questions before put to the Witness, and his Answers to the same, were ordered to be read.

The same were accordingly read by the Clerk ; viz. (a)

Q. Do you know any of the Persons named in that Letter ?

A. Rajah Ajeet Sing.

Q. Was that Man Rajah Ajeet Sing the Brother of Suban Sing ?

A. Yes.

Q. Was that the Person who acted hostilely against the English at that Period ?

A. Rajah Ajeet Sing and Suban Sing I conceived to be hostile to the English.

Q. Is there any other Person that you immediately recollect ?

A. No.

Q. Whether it appears that the Troops mentioned in the Letter were brought to support Ajeet Sing, or to oppose him ?

A. There is one Part of the Letter written to Ajeet Sing, that he should be gratified with a Troop of 500 faithful.

The Witness said,

I certainly did not mean that ; I meant some Part of the Letter mentioned Ajeet Sing.

The Clerk proceeded to read, as follows :

That some Part of the Letter mentioned, that Ajeet Sing should be gratified with a Troop of 500 faithful.

The Witness said,

No, that is not exactly what I meant ; it was this :—That the Contents of that Letter mentions the Name of Ajeet Sing, who was hostile at that Period ; that was the Reason in my Mind, to make me think that it was an intercepted Letter.

Then the Clerk proceeded to read, as follows :

Q. Whether, if it was written by an Officer of the Nabob, Ajeet Sing was not bound to obey such an Order coming from the Nabob ?

A. I should suppose so ; Ajeet Sing was not in the Nabob's Service, but he was a Subject of the Nabob.

(a) Vide supra, Page 1932—3.

‘ Q. Was he not in the Nabob’s Service ?

‘ A. He was not in the Service of the Nabob.

‘ Q. Whether, if this Letter was written by an Officer of the Nabob, raising Troops by the Nabob’s Orders, for the Purpose of assisting the English, and if Ajeet Sing had been previously indisposed to the English, this Offer of gratifying him with the Command of a Troop was not a probable Method of inducing him to assist the Nabob’s Government ?

‘ Q. Upon what Grounds have you stated, or will you now state, that this Letter was one of the intercepted Letters in India ?

‘ A. I ground it upon the Names of those People being introduced into the Letter, who were hostile to me at that Time, and mentioning the Names of Places which I was acquainted with, and Towns ;—and this Letter was found amongst some Persian Papers which were packed up when I came to England ; and I did not know, till I came to England, of my having any Papers particularly respecting any Thing that passed in Goruckpore ; I therefore desired Captain Broom to examine them, and he produced this Letter from among them, as the only one.

‘ Q. Whether you recollect or know how it came, that the Cover of the Letter, containing the Address of the Person to whom it was written, and by whom it was written, was lost ?

‘ A. I did not know I had such a Letter, as I only found it accidentally.

‘ Q. Do you know that it ever had a Cover ?

‘ A. I cannot say, but doubtless it must have had a Cover : It was written upon Business.

‘ Q. Had it a Cover when you found it in the Trunk ?

‘ A. Captain Broome found it.

The Managers for the Commons were informed, that it did not appear that Captain Williams had given an Opinion who the Letter came from.

The Witness said,

I formed the Opinion I formerly gave from Captain Broome’s Translation ; ~~he was~~ not upon Oath.

Q. Whether, since you have seen the Translation upon Oath, you adhere to the Purpose with which you delivered in the Letter to the House of Commons ; and do you now retain that Opinion ?

A. I desired Captain Broome to make a Translation of the Letter ; and conceiving it was a correct one, for I could not say from the Letter itself, whether it was or not, I formed my Opinion that it was a Letter from one of the Begum’s Agents ; but by this Letter now produced, I cannot say that it fully warrants that Conclusion.

Q. Do you think it warrants it at all ?

A. It warrants my Opinion no further than that from the Name of Ajeet Sing, and others, who were hostile to me, it might be so : But I cannot say from the Translation any Thing further upon the Subject ; it is Matter of Opinion ; I cannot say it was a Letter from the Begum’s Agents, or to them.

Then the following Question and Answer in a former Part of the Examination of the Witness this Day were read by the Clerk.

‘ Q. Is there any Circumstance in the Letter which appears to you to warrant the Conclusion, that it was written by an Agent, or addressed to an Agent, of the Begum. (a)

‘ A. There is nothing, that I know of ; I deliver this as a Matter of Opinion, not as a Matter of Fact.

Then the Witness was asked,

Q. Whether or no the Disaffection of the Rajahs was partial, or very general, throughout the Country in which you commanded ?

A. It was very general ; I met with only Two instances of Persons who were disposed to aid and assist us.

Q. Whether you have observed this Passage in this Persian Letter. ‘ It is ordered, that I should charge Mediporee, and the other enrolled Sepoys belonging to my District, to take Bonds from them, that none of them go for Service to the Rajahs.’

A. I have.

Q. What Rajahs could be here referred to ?

A. I really cannot say what Rajahs.

Q. Which do you imagine? That they were the only Two Rajahs who were neutral, or some of the general Class of Rajahs who were so universally disaffected?

A. There is such an Ambiguity in the Letter altogether, that I really cannot say: I really cannot give a clear Opinion, which could be satisfactory; for every Part of it militates with another, many Parts of it.

Q. Were the Two Rajahs you have mentioned in Arms?

A. One was Bridge Bookam, who joined me with a considerable Force about the 7th or 8th of October; the other was the Rannee of Baunsey.

Q. Look again at the Letter, and say whether the Words "The taking Bonds from these Men," means that they should not go to the disaffected Rajahs, or means they should not go to the Rannee of Baunsey, or Bridge Bookam?

A. There is One Part of the Letter which would lead me to think that it might possibly be to the disaffected Rajahs; viz. "I have written to Rajah Ajeet Sing, Brother of Suban Sing, that he should be gratified with a Troop of 500 Peons, and a Number of Nudjeebs." This Paragraph makes me think, but it is an Opinion, and mere Matter of Opinion, that it might be written by the Begum's Agent to some Person in that Country.

Q. Do you think the Word 'Rajahs' could refer to a Rajah and a Rannee?

A. Certainly not.

Q. Then, as you have stated that there was but One Rajah and One Rannee not disaffected to the English, and as you state it is impossible it could refer to them, whether it must not of Necessity refer to the disaffected Rajahs?

A. There is such a Contradiction in the Letter, that I really cannot give any decided Opinion upon it.

The Managers for the Commons desired the last Question and Answer might be read.

The same were accordingly read by the Clerk.

Q. Then give a more decided Opinion?

No Answer.

Q. As you have stated it could not possibly refer to the only Two Powers who were not disaffected to us, if the Passage referred to any Rajahs, it must not refer to those who were disaffected?

No Answer.

Q. (by a Lord) Whether the general Disaffection you speak of among the Rajahs extended to all the Vizier's Provinces, or to that District where you were quartered?—Was it general throughout all the Provinces belonging to the Vizier?

A. I confine myself solely to the Districts in which I was quartered, and to the adjoining ones. I did not hear that the Whole of the Nabob's Country was in a State of Rebellion.

Q. Do you not conceive that this intercepted Letter which mentions Ajeet Sing, must not relate to those Districts? And whether every Place named in the Letter was not within those Districts?

A. I think certainly; it mentioned a particular Spot called Owdhoolee.—Owdhoolee was certainly in the District, and I believe the others.

Q. (by Counsel.) As far as you know, were they not all in the District?

A. I think that they were; but I am not certain.

The Managers for the Commons desired that the following Question before put to the Witness, and to which he had not answered, might be read.

The same was accordingly read by the Clerk.

Q. As you have stated that it could not possibly refer to the only Two Powers who were not disaffected to us, if the Passage referred to any Rajahs, it must not refer to those who were disaffected?

A. I really cannot give a clear Answer—I can give no Opinion upon it—it might certainly be referred to those Rajahs.

Q. Could it possibly be to any others?

A. As I stated before, there is One Part that induces me to believe and to think it was written to the disaffected Rajahs, the First Paragraph.

Q. Do you know whether the Begums had any Commanders in Provinces or Districts, who were at the Head of regular Corps of Sepoys?

A. The Begums had a Corps of Sepoys at Fyzabad; a Body of Men: I mean by Sepoys, Men dressed in the English Uniform.

Q. Had they Commanders in other Provinces or Districts, who had regular enrolled Sepoys belonging to their District?

A. No, not that I know of.

Q. Then, must not the Passage which directs Medoporee to collect the enrolled Sepoys belonging to his District, refer to any Commander of the Begum?

The Counsel for the Defendant objected to the Question.

Q. Were not the Sepoys in the Nabob's Service, and in our Service, at that Period, generally refusing to march without Pay?

A. What Sepoys?

Q. The Sepoys particularly under your Command, and generally throughout your District?

A. I can only speak as to those under my own immediate Command,—that my Detachment had refused to march to Benares.

Q. Did you not hear that the same was the Case with Colonel Hannay, Gordon, and Mr. Donald?

A. No, I never heard that those Sepoys refused to march with those Gentlemen; I believe they had marched.

Q. Have you not observed this Passage of the Letter:—"As at this Time the Wind is contrary, the Sepoys will not - - - - - without travelling Charges?"

A. I must once more advance, that the Letter altogether is such a Mass of Confusion, that I cannot make any one Thing of it; I can hardly give any Opinion, with all the Knowledge I have of the Country.

Q. Did either Mr. Halhed or Mr. Broome ever suggest to you, that this Description of Sepoys, who would not march without travelling Charges, could refer to the People in Insurrection?

A. I had no Conversation with Mr. Halhed at all upon the Subject; as to the Contents of Captain Broome's, I have not seen it lately, nor read it at least for some Time.

Q. Have you observed that Passage which states, "the People are badly inclined?"

A. Yes.

Q. Have you observed this Passage, "By the Grace of God, the unalterable Glory shall be—," then there is a Blot, since filled up with "Established—"?

A. Yes.

Q. To what do you conceive the Words, "unalterable Glory," to refer?

A. I really cannot tell, there is no Meaning in it, that I know of.

Q. You have observed, that in the Passage before quoted, respecting certain Rajahs, it mentions Ajeet Sing should be gratified with a Troop of 500 faithful and Nudjeeb Men, to his own great Honour and Advantage, and that whatever he should write in Answer should be immediately communicated. Did you ever hear in India, that Rajah Ajeet Sing had received any Offer of this Sort, and whether or not he considered it as a Gratification to induce him to forego his Disaffection to the English?

A. I never heard it.

Q. Have you any Knowledge of what Answer the Rajah returned?

A. I never heard of such an Offer being made.

Q. Whether the Rajah Ajeet Sing, being a Subject, as stated by you, of the Nabob's, if he had then been well affected, and in the Service of the Nabob, would not have been ordered to assist the Nabob, without such Order being accompanied with any Proposal of Gratification?

A. Certainly, I think so.

Q. Now, whether, upon considering all these Passages which have been suggested to your Observation, you are not in your Conscience convinced that this Letter was not, and could not have been written by any Agent, or addressed to any Agent, of the Begums?

A. I really cannot give a decided Opinion, whether it was or was not, for I can draw no Conclusion from this Letter, either one Way or the other, that would be satisfactory to my own Mind, for one Part of it militates with the other, so that I cannot give a clear Opinion upon it.

Q. (by a Lord.) Whether, according to your Acquaintance with Indian Writings, the Word "Faithful," does not always mean Musselman?

A. It is applied in that Manner, I believe, "the Faithful, the Followers of the Faithful."

Q. It has been stated, that a Body of 500 Horse was offered; was that Offer for the Purpose of Seduction, in your Opinion?

A. I cannot say whether it was, or no.

Q. Whether, if the Nabob, who was the Sovereign of the Country, had written to him as Sovereign of the Province, and wanted his Service, he would not have spoken to him in another Style?

A. I think, if the Nabob had sent an Order, he would have written in a plain and distinct Style, without any Breaks or Omissions.

Q. (by

Q. (by the Managers). Had you any Reason to know, by any possible Means, that the Begums had 500 Horse to offer to any Body?

A. I cannot say, of my own Knowledge, that they had.

Q. Do you not know that they had no such Force?

A. No, really; I cannot say they had no such Force: When I was at Fyzabad, I think in February 1781, I was there a considerable Time, I heard that they had Horse in their Service, but I never saw them.—Horse and Foot.

Q. (by a Lord.) Was the Key of that Trunk which contained the Remains of your Persian Correspondence, and various other Effects, kept constantly by you yourself, or was it occasionally trusted to other Hands?

A. The Key of that Trunk has been doubtless often out of my Possession, and in the Possession of my Servants in the Course of their necessary Attendance upon me, as my Linen was kept there.

Q. (by Managers.) You have deposed respecting an intercepted Letter of Jewar Ally Cawn, did you see the Seal of that Letter?

A. I saw the Letter, the Cover and the Seal upon it.

Q. What Reason had you to suppose that was the Seal and Signature of Jewar Ally Cawn?

A. My Moonshy told me so.

Q. On your own Knowledge you cannot assert it was his Seal, but only from the Report of your Moonshy?

A. No; certainly not.

Q. Did you ever see any intercepted Letter directly from the Begum;—any Letter or Order or Perwanna pretended to be directed from either of the Begums?

A. I rather think not: There were a great Number of Letters passed at the Time—I was in the Country—I cannot recollect the whole of them, or the Purport of them.

Q. Did you ever see Two Affidavits of Colonel Hannay; the One made before Sir Elijah Impey at Lucknow in November, and the other before Mr. Hastings at Benares in December?

A. I possibly might have seen them in the Benares Narrative, but the Contents of the Book I cannot recollect.

Q. Do you recollect to have observed in One of those Affidavits, that Colonel Hannay states at length the Intelligence he had received from Captain Gordon?

A. I really have not perused Colonel Hannay's Affidavits for a long Time, and I cannot say what is contained in them exactly.

Q. Then you have not observed, that in neither of those Affidavits, does Colonel Hannay mention your Name, or his having received any Intelligence from you?

A. How can I speak to the Contents of Affidavits which I have already stated I have not perused for a long Time?

Q. Did not your own Affidavit, made at Lucknow, contain the Whole which you then recollected respecting the Transactions which had recently passed in the Provinces where you had been?

A. The Affidavit I made at Lucknow contained all such Matters as then immediately occurred to me upon the Subject for which it was made; there might have been many Circumstances that happened in the Country that were not inserted in it; but I inserted all that occurred to me at that Moment respecting Cheit Sing, and the Influence of Cheit Sing.

Q. You have stated various Reports which you received from the Beginning of September to the Middle of October; did you not receive various false Reports as well as those which you seem now to think were well founded?

A. I cannot say;—there were many Reports brought to me by Hircarras, and a great Variety of other Reports that did not prove to be afterwards true.

Q. Whether you can state, from your own Knowledge, and not from Hearsay or Report, any One Fact which tends to criminate the Begums, or to prove any One Act of Disaffection upon their Part towards the English?

A. I have stated the Fact that I myself believe from the Reports of the different Officers to me. There was nothing I could prove myself as a Fact that the Begums were hostile, or what they did at Fyzabad at that Period, because I was then at so great a Distance, 100 Miles;—but the Reports officially made to me by the different Officers of my Detachments being cut off, and the Perwannas and Lettas which the Officers intercepted, left not a Doubt in my Mind that the Begums were exceedingly active in granting Aid to Cheit Sing, and creating Disturbances in that Country; and I never heard, while I was in India, that any Body doubted of the Disaffection of the Begums; I never heard it from any Body.

The Counsel for the Defendant desired the last Question and Answer might be read.
The same were accordingly read by the Clerk.

Q. (by Counsel.) There is something you mean to correct?

A. Yes—I mean to say “In the Country where I was.”

Q. Were those Letters and Perwannas, which left no Doubt in your Mind of the Hostilities of the Begums, among the intercepted Papers which you directed to be destroyed?

A. The Letters which the Officers intercepted at different Periods, particularly the One of Bidjoo Sing, the Officers did not deliver to me: They did not deliver to me any intercepted Letters before they joined me.

Q. Then the Officers destroyed those Perwannas and Letters without Authority, and without shewing them to their commanding Officers?

A. I cannot say what they did with them.

Q. But they never brought them to you?

A. Not as I recollect; they might; at so distant a Period as 11 Years it is impossible for a Mind more attentive than mine to speak particularly to all Facts that passed.

Q. Then in those Cases where they did bring those Perwannas and Letters to you, you directed them to be destroyed?

A. I cannot say that they did bring me Letters or Perwannas.

Q. The Fact however is, that they were all lost or destroyed?

A. I believe so; I know nothing about what the native Officers did.

Q. Whether it is consistent with the Discipline of the British Army in India, or the Practice of the British Army in India, that when an inferior Officer intercepts Perwannas or Letters of so important a Nature, as those stated to contain Proofs of Rebellion and Hostilities on the Part of Persons of such Consequence as the Begums of Oude, that such Officers should destroy them, or do what they pleased with them without Orders, or Communication with their commanding Officers?

A. I cannot say positively whether it is customary; but I myself communicated the Contents or the Purport of the intercepted Letters and Perwannas to my immediate commanding Officer Colonel Hannay, and my sole Reason for destroying the Letters was upon Account of my own Safety; and if I had not been in that perilous Situation, I probably should have kept the original Letters, and have transmitted them to my commanding Officer.

Q. When did you communicate the Contents of the Letters which did come to your Hands to Colonel Hannay?

A. From Time to Time as I received them, possibly; I think so.

Q. You have said that you destroyed them on account of your own personal Apprehension, and that of the Troops under your Command, should your Baggage have been attacked, and the Letters have fallen into the Hands of the Enemy;—whether, if you communicated the Contents of those Letters, from Time to Time as you received them, to Colonel Hannay, there was not much greater Danger that such Contents should come to the Knowledge of the Enemy, you having yourself stated that there never was any safe Communication between yourself and Colonel Hannay, and that your Messengers were frequently seized and murdered?

A. I communicated in as short and in as concise a Manner as I could, the Purport of the Intelligence that I received as often as I could; I was not apprehensive that my Correspondence with Colonel Hannay, which was in English, if it had fallen into the Hands of the Enemy, could have operated to my Disadvantage.

Q. Did you never reprimand any of your inferior Officers for not having preserved any of these important Papers?

A. No; I really did not; nor am I at this Moment certain whether these Officers may not now be possessed of them, for I never called upon any of those Officers, when the Affidavits were made at Lucknow, to produce any Documents at all respecting the Begums; for I understood then that the Begum was not the Object of Inquiry, but Cheit Sing, and not a Word was mentioned to me respecting the Begum at that Time.

Q. At the Time you refer to?

A. At the Time of making the Affidavits, or before or after.

Q. You are understood to say that neither at the Time of making the Affidavits, or before or after making the Affidavits, you ever understood the Begums to be the Object of Inquiry, but Cheit Sing?

A. I certainly did not during the Time that I then staid at Lucknow, which was two or three Months, I cannot say exactly how long.

Q. Do

Q. Do you not think it extraordinary, that such dangerous and notorious Acts of Hostility, as you have before stated the Begums to have been generally reported to have committed against the English, should remain uninquired into?

A. When I was at Lucknow, immediately upon my Arrival at Lucknow with Colonel Hannay, I waited upon the Resident, and stated to him every Particular respecting the Begums, that was fresh in my Memory at the Time, by Way of Complaint against them.

Q. Whether you yourself was ever blamed for not having preserved any of those important Papers, which you now state to have left no Doubt in your Mind of the Guilt of the Begum?

A. I was not.

Q. Did not you take some Prisoners between the Beginning of September and the Middle of October?

A. I really cannot recollect.

Q. Did never a single Man fall into your Hands, who appeared to have been enlisted for the Begums, or to have been in their Cause against the English?

A. I do not recollect any.

Q. Did you ever hear of any Party of English being attacked by the Begums Troops, in any Place or District belonging to the Begums?

A. I heard certainly from Major Nailor, and the Officers who were with him when he marched to the Relief of Colonel Hannay, that there were a considerable Body of the Begums Troops who attacked him near Byrom Gaut, previous to his crossing the Gogra.

Q. Do you mean that Colonel Nailor ever stated them to be the Begums Troops?

A. He told me so.

Q. Whether Colonel Hannay's Orders to you for the Execution of Mustapha Cawn, were not conditional, that is, in case you apprehended a Rescue?

A. Some of his Letters were conditional, and others peremptory.

Q. Was there any Attempt made to rescue him?

A. There was a Body of Men, by the Intelligence I received at that Time, within a short Distance of Goruckpore, whose professed Object was to release him.

Q. What Number were this Body of Men supposed to consist of?

A. About 800, or between 700 or 800, or about 1,000, I cannot state the Number exactly; but a large Body.

Q. Had not you then joined Ahlaud Sing?

A. I was encamped upon the Rastee, at a small Distance from the Fort of Goruckpore. Ahlaud Sing was in the Fort, and commanded in the Fort till it was abandoned.

Q. What Force had Ahlaud Sing with him at that Time?

A. I think it was about 50 Men.

Q. Had not Ahlaud Sing just before repulsed a Body of 6,000 Men, as stated by himself and by you, who had come to the Fort for the Purpose of rescuing the Burgomauls?

A. He defended that Fort, and they did not get Possession of the Fort; and certainly, by the judicious Management and Promptitude of Mind of a Zemindar, who gave out that the Whole Regiment was coming to the Relief of the Place, which induced the Soldiers to abandon it; they were Panic struck.

Q. What Force had you with you, independent of Ahlaud Sing's?

A. I cannot exactly recollect the Number of Men; there were a good many Companies.

Q. Did you not bring with you some Prisoners, Two in particular whom you was directed to bring?

A. There were Two that I conducted to Colonel Hannay, who had been confined there for a Deficiency of Revenue.

Q. Do you not then think, that after the dispersing of the 6,000 Men by Ahlaud Sing and his 50 Men, that you had Force sufficient with you to have conducted Mustapha Cawn, as well as the other Two Prisoners, without any Apprehension of a Rescue from the 800 Troops reported to be near you, and so that you might have avoided putting that Rajah to Death?

A. I certainly, at the Time, deemed it hazardous in the Extreme, to have attempted to have carried Mustapha Cawn away, because it was not the 800 Men alone, there were some Thousands of Men about us during the Route from Goruckpore, a great many Bodies of Troops, under different rebellious Rajahs, who were ready to oppose us. The Country which our Route lay through, which I marched through, was principally through Forests, where there were rapid Rivers to cross. I believe, in the Distance from Goruckpore to Sacora, I had not fewer than Twenty Rivers and Nullas to cross, without any Boats upon them but Two: I was obliged myself, having no other European Officer with me, to construct Bridges over those Rivers, for the Officers were unacquainted with that. I was constantly obliged to order the Troops to lay upon their Arms, and I had, I believe, upwards of 2,000 of the Nabob's Subjects under my Protection, which were a great Incumbrance to my March, and which I could not, upon Account of supplying them with Provisions, and protecting them, during the Attacks from the Natives, proceed with so fast.

Q. As you took other Prisoners; what was your particular Reason for not taking Mustapha Cawn?

A. The other Prisoners were not Military Men; One of them had formerly been, I believe, the Dewan of Colonel Hannay; I could have no great Apprehensions from him; and the other was not a Military Man.

Q. Was your Apprehension, an Apprehension of the personal Prowess of this Military Man, Mustapha Cawn?

A. No, certainly, not as to his personal Prowess; but I was apprehensive he would be rescued, being a Man of considerable Military Talents, and whom, from the Intelligence I could then obtain, the Rebels, who were hostile to me, wanted to place as their Leader.

Q. Did any Part of the Country, through which you passed, belong to the Rajah Mustapha Cawn?

A. My March did not lay far from the Country where Mustapha Cawn had formerly resided.

Q. How near was it to the Country of the Rannee of Baunsey?

A. As near as I can recollect about 100 Miles; it might be more.

Q. How near did your March lay to Baunsey?

A. I encamped within about a Mile, or somewhere thereabouts.

Q. Did you not state, that the Rajah's Country was at least 100 Miles distant from Baunsey?

A. I did not say, or at least I did not mean to say, that the Rajah had a Country, but that the Place of his Residence was Namparra, in which he and his Banditti, or Rebels, generally resided, as I understood, for I never was there. This is the Account I received; and that it was situated in the Middle of a Forest.

Q. Was the Habitation, which you have been speaking of, where he resided with his Banditti, 100 Miles from Baunsey?

A. It was at Namparra, which is 100 Miles from Baunsey.

Q. Then what is the Country belonging to the Rajah Mustapha Cawn, that you must have passed in your March to Baunsey?

A. I mean the District of Namparra; it is a small District, in the Middle of a Forest, as it was described to me, for I never was there; I never saw it.

Then the following Questions, above put to the Witness, and his Answers, were read by the Clerk.

Q. How near was it to the Country of the Rannee of Baunsey?

A. As near as I can recollect about 100 Miles; it might be more.

Q. How near did your March lay to Baunsey?

A. I encamped within about a Mile, or somewhere thereabouts.

Q. Did you not state the Rajah's Country was at least 100 Miles distant from Baunsey?

A. I did not say, or at least I did not mean to say, that the Rajah had a Country, but that the Place of his Residence was Namparra, in which he and his Banditti, or Rebels, generally resided, as I understood, for I never was there. This is the Account I received; and that it was situated in the Middle of a Forest.

Then the Witness was asked,

Q. Whether you ever went nearer to the Residence of the Rajah, in the Course of your March, or to any Part of his Country, than Baunsey?

A. I went as near, as I recollect, within about 14 or 15 Miles of Namparra; my Route lay near it.

Q. What do you mean by the Country he formerly possessed?

A. I mean the Place where Mustapha Cawn had resided, and from whence he used to make Incursions to plunder the Nabob's Country.

Q. Had the Rajah Mustapha Cawn been frequently and long in the Neighbourhood of Baunsey, in those Incursions?

A. I really cannot say; but his Incursions, as I understood and heard, lay in a Circle about Namparra, for a very considerable Extent: Barraitch, and Bulrampoor, I think Colonel Hannay mentioned to me, and he used to come down to Goonda, as far as Goonda.

The

The Managers for the Commons desired the last Question and Answer might be read.

The same were accordingly read by the Clerk.

Q. Under these Circumstances, might not the Rannee have called Mustapha Cawn, as he is said to have called him, "our Rajah?"

A. The Rannee never said any Thing about Mustapha Cawn.

Q. Had you not received Directions, or the Opinion of Colonel Hannay, that the letting out of the Prisoners would remove every Temptation of Attack of the Fort of Goruckpore?

A. There was a Letter; at what Period I do not exactly recollect.

Q. Will you say that the Confinement of all these Prisoners in the Fort of Goruckpore, was not the real Cause of the Insurrection there, and not any Machinations of the Begums?

A. No, I do not think the Insurrection was caused by the Confinement of those People; because they had been confined there from the Time that I arrived first in the Country, and no Insurrection took Place then.

Q. Then you differ from Colonel Hannay, and do not think the Release of the Prisoners would have quieted the Country?

A. No, certainly.

Q. (by a Lord) When you transmitted to your superior Officer the Substance of the Intelligence contained in those Letters which were intercepted by the Native Officers under your Command, did you content yourself with the verbal Relation of those Officers, or did you, or your Secretary or Interpreter, inspect the Letters themselves?

A. I certainly did not give any Directions to my Moonshy, to inspect them particularly; I contented myself with a verbal Relation.

Q. (by a Lord.) You say you did not understand the Persian Language yourself, but employed your Moonshy to translate it: Had you any Occasion, at any Time during your Employment of the Moonshy, to suspect him of Infidelity, by giving you false Intelligence: Did you not find, as far as you could judge, that his Information was always faithful?

A. I never discovered that he betrayed me, or gave me any false Intelligence; he was not a Native of that Country; he was a Native of Patna, and recommended to me by Colonel Fullerton.

Q. Did you ever discover, in your Interpreter, any Enmity or Aversion to the Eunuchs or Begums?

A. I did not.

Q. As far as you are able to judge from the Interpretation of your Moonshy, are not the Seals of all Persian Letters inscribed with Persian Characters, or are they not made with some particular Mark, descriptive of the Writer?

A. There are certainly Seals with Persian Inscriptions of the Name or the Title; they are authenticated by the Seal in general.

Q. Is it, or is it not, Part of the Business or Occupation of the Moonshy to understand and know the Seals of the great Persons of the Country where the Moonshy resides?

A. Certainly; I should conceive the Moonshy must know the Seals of Letters that were written when he saw them.

Q. (by a Lord.) Did you say there was a Seal of Jewar or Bahar Ali Cawn, to One of the Letters that you intercepted?

A. There was; my Moonshy explained to me, that the Letter, which I intercepted at the Ghaut upon the Raptee, had the Seal of Jewar Ali Cawn upon it.

Q. Did you ever know, of your own Knowledge, or discover or hear from others, that your Moonshy Interpreter had any Interest in deceiving you?

A. I never heard that he had, and I never discovered it myself; I always found him faithful.

Q. Nor ever suspected him?

A. No.

Q. You say you sent the Contents of the Persian Letters to Colonel Hannay, in English; would it or would it not have been safe to have sent the original Letters in Persian?

A. I really think it would not, for those Papers were bulky, and could not have been sent in that Manner. I transmitted Scraps of Paper only as Intelligence to Colonel Hannay: I have stated already the Manner how that Communication with Colonel Hannay was kept open.

( 1964 )

Q. Were all the Reports made by the Officers who made Reports to you as their superior Officer, verbal or in Writing?

A. Some were verbal, and some in Writing.

Q. Were not some of the Officers under your Command removed at some Distance from you?

A. Some were, and some were not.

Q. You said the Report of the Disaffection of the Begums was very general?

A. Yes.

Q. Whether it was so very general as to induce you to think, or not to think, whether it might be a Question hereafter, whether such Disaffection did exist?

A. I never could have conceived there would have been a Doubt of it.

Then several Papers were shewn by the Managers for the Commons to the Witnesses.

The Witnesses said,

I believe the Letters shewn me are Colonel Hannay's.

Q. (by the Managers.) Whether you did not bring or call upon your native Officers at Lucknow to depose all they knew upon the Subject?

A. The Order I gave respecting these Affidavits was to my Commandant, to direct the Officers to go before Sir Elijah Impey, to make Affidavits of such Facts as they knew.

Q. Was your Moonshy One of them?

A. My Moonshy, I believe, went there.

Q. What is your Moonshy's Name?

A. I cannot recollect all the Names; I believe it was Mahomed Moraud, but I am not certain.

Q. Whether any of the Matters you have just now stated concerning the Seal of Jewar Ally Cawn have ever been communicated to him to answer it?

A. Not that I know of.

Q. Whether you have not stated that One of the Soldiers under your Command was murdered at Fyzabad?

A. It was mentioned to me that he was.

Q. Did you afterwards charge the Begum or her Eunuchs with that Fact, so as to obtain any Satisfaction upon the Subject?

A. I certainly stated that Fact, and a Number of others, to Colonel Hannay and the Resident at Lucknow, and not to the Begums.

The Managers for the Commons desired the last Question and Answer might be read.

The same were accordingly read by the Clerk.

Then a small Paper was shewn to the Witnesses, and he was asked,

Q. Whether, when you talked of bulky Papers you could not carry with you, whether they are not of the Nature of this?

A. Some of them.

Q. Whether or not Letters intended to be conveyed secretly in that Country upon Business are not even less than this?

A. They might be less, or greater.

Q. Did you not carry with you a great deal of valuable Baggage, and of a heavy Nature?

A. No, really I abandoned the greatest Part of my heavy Baggage, for the Sake of the Nabob's Guns.

Q. Had not you a strong Guard with you?

A. I had.

Q. (by Counsel.) Did you see the Person upon whom the intercepted Letter of the 30th of September was taken?

A. I did; it was brought to my Tent in the Evening.

Q. Did you ask him where he came from, and by whom he was sent?

A. I really cannot recollect exactly what passed, what Conversation passed, but I presume that I did ask him that Question.

( 1965 )

Q. Do you recollect whom he said he came from?

A. I really cannot positively say.

Q. Did he say where he came from?

A. I cannot recollect.

Q. (by a Lord.) You said One of the Sepoys was killed at Fyzabad: Was the proper Application for Redrefs to the Begums and her Eunuchs, or to the Resident?

A. The proper Channel of Redrefs I should conceive was through the Resident, and the only proper Channel I could employ.

Q. Did you say you made that Application?

A. Yes.

Q. When.

A. Immediately upon my Arrival at Lucknow, the very Day.

Then the House adjourned to the Chamber of Parliament.

THE Lords being in their Places, the House resumed, the usual Proclamations made, and the Defendant appearing at the Bar, the Lord Chancellor said;

“ I am, by Command of the House, desired to inform the Honourable Managers, and you Gentlemen who are of Counsel for the Defendant, that they observe with great Concern a Deviation from the strict Line of Examination, which, though intended for Expedition, is more frequently productive of Delay; and therefore it is the Resolution of the House, that a more strict Course of Examination should be observed; and that while the Party producing the Evidence is in the Course of putting Questions to the Witness, there should be no Questions interposed on the other Side, but it should be reserved for Cross-examination; and also that, except when an Objection is taken, any Matter that is Comment or Observation should be avoided.—When the Party producing the Evidence has finished what they have examined him to, they will then state to the House that the Examination is closed in Chief:—The like Course must be observed with respect to the Cross-Examination, and the Examination in Reply. The Lords will have the Goodness, after the Examination is closed by the Parties, to put such Questions as occur to them, and to reserve such Questions as may have occurred in the Course of the Cross-Examination till the Examination is so closed by the Parties.—Gentlemen, you, who are of Counsel for the Defendant, may now proceed in his Defence.”

The Counsel for the Defendant informed the House, that they now proposed to call Lieutenant Thomas Shuldham.

Accordingly Lieutenant THOMAS SHULDAM was called in; and, being sworn, was examined as follows:

Q. Was you at Cawnpore in the latter End of the Month of August in the Year 1781?

A I arrived at Cawnpore the latter End of August, and remained there till the Beginning of October 1781.

Q. While you were at Cawnpore, had Intelligence arrived of the Insurrection at Benares?

A. I think it had.

Q. Was there any general Report with regard to the Conduct of the Begums as to that Insurrection?

The Managers for the Commons objected to the Question.

The Question was ordered to be read.

The same was accordingly read by the Clerk.

The Managers for the Commons were informed that the Question was proper to be put.

The Witness said,

A. The Disaffection of the Begums was universally believed in the same Manner as it is universally believed in this Country, that there exists a Party coalesced to destroy the happy Constitution. The People of England have no legal Evidence to establish the Fact, but the Notoriety of it has been deemed sufficient Proof to produce Associations in different Counties to resist the Danger. As well might the People doubt the treacherous Designs of these People, as those who were in the Nabob's Country could doubt the Disaffection of the Begums.

The Counsel for the Defendant requested that the Question and Answer might be read.

The same were accordingly read by the Clerk.

19, 784

Q. Did you ever hear it doubted while you continued in India?

A. I never did, until my Return to England; I believed it then, and I still believe it.

Q. At what Time did you arrive at Fyzabad?

A. I speak from my Memory alone; I cannot be correct as to Dates; I think some Time in January.

Q. In what Year?

A. In January 1782.

Q. Did you then see Bahar or Jewar Ally Cawn?

A. The Eunuchs Bahar and Jewar Ally Cawn were confined in a Tent in our Camp. I have frequently been in with them, but never heard them complain of any ill Treatment.—They were attended by their own Servants, and, in my Opinion, had every Indulgence they could expect. Upon our leaving Fyzabad, they were, I think, delivered to the late Major Nailor, and their Irons taken off. I saw the Smith in the Act of taking off the Irons of One of them; which of them I do not recollect. They were very little larger than the Ornaments of Gold and Silver worn by the Native Women round their Ancles, and to Men could not, in my Opinion, be oppressive.

The Counsel for the Defendant informed the House, they had closed their Examination in chief.

Cross-examined.

Q. (by the Managers.) Where was you at the Time when you heard these Reports of the Disaffection of the Begums?

A. I was at Cawnpore.

Q. How far is that from Fyzabad?

A. I really do not know the Distance.

Q. What Road did you take from Cawnpore to Fyzabad?

A. I went from Lucknow to Fyzabad.

Q. Say what you judge or believe the Distance to be?

A. I really cannot say; I do not know the Road.

Q. From a Thousand Miles to One; give some Idea what Distance you take it to be?

A. I really do not know the Distance.

Q. Is it a Mile?

A. It is.

Q. Is it Twenty?

A. It is.

Q. Is it One hundred?

A. It may be about One hundred Miles; I cannot speak exactly.

Q. In what Corps did you serve in Cawnpore?

A. In Major John M'Pherson's Regiment.

Q. Was it a temporary Brigade, or a permanent Brigade?

A. It was a permanent Brigade.

Q. On what Occasion was you ordered to Lucknow?

A. The rebellious State the People were in at Lucknow, I believe, was the Cause of the Regiment I was in marching to that Station.

Q. At what Time was this?

A. I think the Beginning of October 1781.

Q. How long did you continue at Lucknow?

A. Until January.

Q. Was you there when Sir Elijah Impey arrived there?

A. The Battalion I was in marched out to meet Sir Elijah Impey.

Q. Did you learn the Occasion of Sir Elijah Impey's Visit to Lucknow?

A. I did not.

Q. Did you hear that Sir Elijah Impey, while he resided at Lucknow, was employed any Part of his Time in taking Affidavits relative to the Rebels in the Province of Owde?

A. I did hear that Sir Elijah Impey had taken Affidavits respecting the Country that Colonel Hannay was in.

Q. By what Means do you know that Sir Elijah Impey's Inquisition was confined to Colonel Hannay's Country?

A. I really do not recollect.

( 1969 )

Q. Was you called upon to make any Affidavit before Sir Elijah Impey?

A. I was not.

Q. When was you sent to Fyzabad?

A. I believe I answered that Question before; in January 1782.

Q. Then you continued at Lucknow from October 1781 to January 1782, or thereabouts?

A. I did.

Q. Where, and at what Time, did you communicate to Mr. Hastings these Reports you had heard at Cawnpore?

A. It was not my Duty to communicate them to Mr. Hastings.

Q. Did you communicate them to Mr. Hastings in Fact?

A. In Fact I did not.

Q. Did you ever hear of the Treatment received by the Begum's Ministers, after they were delivered into the Hands of Major Naylor?

A. Never until, I believe, it had been transmitted from England; that, I believe, was the first Information I ever heard of it.

Q. How long did you stay in India after your delivering the Ministers to Major Naylor?

A. I think nearly 10 Years.

Q. Did you never hear of the Confiscation of the Begum's Treasures during that Time?

A. I heard that the Vizier had taken Possession of Part of the Treasures of his deceased Father—I was at Fyzabad at the Time.

Q. How long did you remain at Fyzabad after the Arrival of Sir Elijah Impey?

A. Sir Elijah Impey was not at Fyzabad during the Time I was there.

Q. You have mentioned some ornamental Irons put upon those Persons; why were they put in Irons at all while they were in your Camp?

A. I understood, because they had not kept their Agreement with the Vizier, in paying a certain Sum of Money.

Q. Then those Irons were put upon them as a Means of compelling them to make that Payment?

A. I cannot say what the Nabob's Reasons were for putting on those Irons.

Q. What were his Orders?

A. I do not know, they were not communicated to me.

Q. Was you not ordered to put them in Irons?

A. I was not ordered to put them in Irons.

Q. Do you know who was directed to put them in Irons, or by whose Authority they were put in Irons?

A. I presume by the Orders of the Vizier.

Q. Under whose Guard were they?

A. They were under the Guard of the Regiment I belonged to, commanded at that Time by Captain Neale Stewart.

Q. Do you know to whose Choice and Selection, the Sort of Irons that were placed upon these Ministers, were left?

A. I do not.

Q. How came you to be so accurate in your Observation of the Weight and Nature of those Irons?

A. Because I have heard in England, they were looked upon to be very oppressive.

Q. Then you know nothing upon that Subject, but what you have heard in England since your Arrival?

A. I know what I have already stated respecting the Size of them.

Q. Why did you, when you first answered upon this Subject, state the Circumstance as a Fact which came within your own Knowledge, and not as a Report since your Arrival in England?

Then the following Questions before put, and answered by the Witness, were ordered to be read.

The same were accordingly read by the Clerk.

Q. Did you then see Bahar and Jewar Ally Cawn?

A. The Eunuchs Jewar and Bahar Ally Cawn were confined in a Tent in our Camp. I have frequently been in with them, but never heard them complain of any ill Treatment. They were

‘ were attended by their own Servants, and, in my Opinion, had every Indulgence they could expect. Upon my leaving Fyzabad, they were, I think, delivered to the late Major Nailor, and their Irons taken off. I saw the Smith in the Act of taking off the Irons of One of them; which of them I do not recollect. They were very little larger than the Ornaments of Gold and Silver worn by the Native Women round their Ancles, and to Men could not, in my Opinion, be oppressive. (a)

‘ Q. How came you to be so accurate in your Observation of the Weight and Nature of those Irons?

‘ A. Because I have heard in England, they were looked upon to be very oppressive.

‘ Q. Then you know nothing upon that Subject but what you have heard in England, since your Arrival?

‘ A. I know what I have already stated respecting the Size of them.’ (b)

Then the Witness was asked,

Q. (by a Manager). If those Irons were so slight, resembling only the Ornaments of Women, how came it to be necessary to have a Smith to knock them off?

A. I believe, if they had been fastened in such a Manner as to make it unnecessary for a Smith to take them off, the Eunuchs themselves would have taken them off.

The Managers for the Commons desired the following Question before put, and the Answer of the Witness, might be read.

The same was accordingly read by the Clerk; viz.

‘ Q. Was there any general Report with regard to the Conduct of the Begums, as to that Insurrection?

‘ A. The Disaffection of the Begums was universally believed, in the same Manner as it is universally believed in this Country, that there exists a Party coalesced to destroy the happy Constitution. The People of England have no legal Evidence to establish the Fact; but the Notoriety of it has been deemed sufficient Proof to produce Associations in different Counties, to resist the Danger; as well might the People doubt the treacherous Designs of those People, as those who were in the Nabob's Country could doubt the Disaffection of the Begums.’ (c)

Then the Witness was asked,

Q. (by a Manager). Did you ever hear in India, of any judicial Inquiry or Trial, respecting the Conduct of the Begums or their Ministers?

A. I do not recollect that I did.

‘ Q. Was it a Practice in India, upon mere Report and Rumour of general Belief, to inflict the Punishment of Imprisonment, Confiscation, and Scourging, against Persons whom the general Report and Belief may have pointed out as Objects of Suspicion?

A. I know of no such Practice;—I believe the Vizier, in his own Dominions, had a Right to act as he pleased upon the Subject.

Q. Did you know or hear that this was the Act of the Vizier, and not an Act to which he was compelled by the British Government?

A. I certainly heard it was an Act of the Vizier, but never heard that he was compelled to it by the British Government.

Q. You say you staid about Ten Years in India after this Transaction?

A. Thereabouts.

Q. Did you not hear that, during that Time, Mr. Hastings was actually under Impeachment for this very Offence?

A. I did.

Q. State the precise Date, when you heard at Cawnpore the Reports respecting the Begums?

A. I have already said I speak from Memory alone, and cannot be correct as to Dates.

Q. Can you recollect the Year and the Month?

A. That Question, I believe, I have already answered; I said I arrived there the latter End of August, and left it in October, 1781.

Q. (by the Counsel in Reply.) You have been asked whether you heard in India that Mr. Hastings was impeached for this Act,—was the Impeachment of Mr. Hastings generally known among the Natives of India?

A. It was.

(b) Vide supra, Page 1969.

(c) Vide supra, Page 1967.

Q. In what Estimation was Mr. Hastings held by the Natives, after their Knowledge of that Fact?

A. I have no personal Knowledge of Mr. Hastings, I am not acquainted with him, nor do I speak from any Favours I ever received from him, for none have ever been conferred. I speak from the Communications of the Natives and the People of India themselves.—As a public Character, I do not believe there ever has been, or ever will be, a more able Governor; and as a private Character, I do not believe there exists a more benevolent or a better Man than Mr. Hastings.—This was the universal Opinion of both Europeans and Natives.

Q. (by a Lord.) You say you was at Fyzabad when the Vizier took Possession of the Effects of his deceased Father; did he take them as claiming them of Right, as belonging to himself?

A. I believe he did.

Q. What was the general Opinion at that Time of that Right?

A. The general Opinion at that Time was that he had a Right to take them.

The Witness was directed to withdraw.

The Counsel for the Defendant informed the House, they would now call Colonel Duff.

Colonel DUFF was accordingly called in, and sworn.

Then the Counsel for the Defendant informed the House, that the particular Situation in which Colonel Duff stood, namely, of being about to depart immediately for India, induced them to prefer a Request to the House, that they might be permitted to put a few Questions to him upon this Article, and also upon the Article relative to the Contracts, as otherwise they might probably lose the Opportunity of examining him to the latter Article.

The Managers for the Commons stated they had no Objection.

The Witness was examined, as follows:

Q. How long have you been in the Company's Service?

A. About 30 Years and better; I rather think more than 30 Years.

Q. In what Department of the Military Line?

A. I am an Artillery Officer.

Q. Was you in India in the Year 1781?

A. I was.

Q. And in that Department during the Troubles in Barratch and Goruckpore?

A. Yes.

Q. What was the general Report in that Country at that Period respecting the Begums Conduct?

A. It was universally reported and believed that they were hostile to the English Government;—I never heard it doubted, nor do I believe that any Man in that Country ever did doubt it.

Q. How long did you remain in India after that Period?

A. I cannot positively say, but several Years.

Q. How long have you been returned to this Country?

A. I arrived in December last.

Q. Have you been in England since the Year 1781, before December last?

A. Yes.

Q. When?

A. I was in England about Three Years ago.

Q. You have since been serving upon the Coast under Lord Cornwallis?

A. I have; I commanded the Artillery with Lord Cornwallis during the two last Campaigns.

Q. How long did you remain in Bengal after 1781,—how long before you left that Country?

A. I cannot exactly recollect, but I believe two or three Years at least; I cannot exactly speak; I answer to the best of my Knowledge.

Q. Did any Circumstance ever come to your Knowledge to induce a Doubt respecting the Report of the Begums Hostility?

A. Never.

Q. Whether the Period of that reported Hostility of the Begums in the latter Part of the Year 1781, was a Period of great Danger and Distress to the Company's Affairs?

A. It was of very great Danger and Distress, in my Opinion.

Q. Did you ever, during the Whole of your Service in India, remember a Period of greater Danger and Distress than that?

A. Never; as far as I can judge.

Q. Do you recollect whether at that Period the Army in the different Stations were in Arrear?

A. I do remember that they generally were in very long Arrear.

Q. Did that State of Danger and Distress cease upon the 19th of September 1781, or continue long after?

A. It continued, to the best of my Recollection, long after; some Time after.

Q. Have you been much in the Country of Oude in the Course of your Service in India?

A. I have been several Years there.

Q. Whether the independant Power given to the Jaghidars in that Country was beneficial or injurious to the Country?

A. I think injurious.

Q. Do you know whether, by the Usage of Hindostan, Jaghires are in their Nature resumeable by the Vizier, the Sovereign Power?

A. I believe they are in general.

The Managers for the Commons objected to the Evidence.

The Counsel for the Defendant stated they should now proceed to examine the Witness relative to the 4th Article of Charge, viz. the Contracts.

Q. Whether it did fall peculiarly within your Department as an Artillery Officer to observe the Cattle, the Bullocks that were employed in drawing the Artillery?

A. It did.

Q. Was you in that Service during the Period of Mr. Croft's Contract in the Year 1779?

A. I was during the greatest Part of it, but not the Whole; I cannot say exactly, but I know I was during the greatest Part of it.

Q. Did you see the Bullocks that were supplied under that Contract by the Contractor?

A. I did, I mustered them, as it was my Duty, every Month.

Q. Have you read that Contract, and the Regulations introduced into it?

A. I have often.

Q. Whether, from your own Knowledge upon this Subject, and your Experience, those Regulations are adapted to promote the good of the Service, or otherwise?

A. The Regulations I think are calculated to promote the good of the Artillery Service, and I think further, that they had that Effect by producing better Cattle for the public Service than ever I saw before or since that Period.

Q. Do you remember the Number proposed to be furnished by that Contract?

A. Not exactly, I cannot carry it in my Mind.

Q. The Number was 6,700?

A. I believe it was thereabout, but I cannot charge my Memory.

Q. Whether, considering the Nature of the Service, and the Period at which that Contract was made, that was an excessive Number, or a proper Number?

A. I considered it to be of such essential Service to the Operations of an Army, that it was highly proper and incumbent upon Government to supply a proper Quantity of proper Cattle to answer any Contingency that might happen.

Q. Do you conceive that Number to have been too great, taking into your Consideration the Circumstances you have stated?

A. I believe that those who argue upon a Certainty of Peace, or upon Principles of strict Economy, may suppose that the Number was too large; but I, who have often seen the great Distress that the Army has been put to for Want of a sufficient Supply of Cattle, do not think that the Number was more than in many Cases must be employed.

Q. What Number of Cattle had Lord Cornwallis in his Army in the Course of the last War?

A. It is impossible for me to answer particularly, I know he had considerably above 25,000 at some Times.

( 1973 )

Q. At the Period when he had 25,000 Cattle, what Number of Men were necessary ?

A. I suppose between 15 and 20,000 Men ; I mean King's and Company's Troops—But I cannot be supposed to be particular, for I do not know exactly, not having an Opportunity to see the Returns ; and if I had seen them, I might not remember.

Q. Is it necessary for the Good of this Service to have a regular Establishment of Bullocks trained and exercised, and fit for immediate Service at a Moment's Warning ?

A. Most certainly it is.

Q. What Sort of Cattle were furnished in Point of Size and Strength under Mr. Croft's Contract ?

A. The Cattle were all large, and good Cattle ; there was a Standard, I believe, of Forty-two Inches, I cannot be certain ; but I know it was a very high Standard, and none were received that were not above that Standard, and fixed by the Contract ?

Q. Were the Checks that were imposed by the Terms of the Contract strictly enforced upon the Contractor ?

A. They were.

Q. From what Country must Cattle of that Size stipulated by the Contract be furnished ?

A. The Cattle of that Sort are generally brought from Pornea, or Toroot, there being none of that Size, or near that Size, in any other Country in India.

Q. These Places are in the Bengal Dominions ?

A. Yes ; on the Right of the Ganges, up the Country.

Q. Is the Contractor in this Article during the Period of War exposed to considerable Risk ?

A. Very great Risk certainly.

Q. State the Nature of those Risks ?

A. From Disorders among the Cattle ; from their being killed in Battle, or carried away by the Enemy : epidemical Disorders get very often among the Cattle.

Q. Have you remembered Instances of great Numbers of Cattle being destroyed by Slaughter in Battle, or by epidemical Diseases ?

A. I have ; I have known many Hundreds of Cattle die in One Day.

Q. Is it of Importance to have Cattle ready to supply that Loss immediately ?

A. Certainly it is.

Q. Can the Army be supplied from the Country, if they have not a regular Establishment of Bullocks ?

A. At all Times they cannot ; if they are very near large Cities, they may have the Opportunity of being supplied with Cattle from the Draft Cattle that are generally employed there.

Q. Do you recollect any Loss happening from the Want of a proper Supply of Bullocks in Lord Cornwallis's Army ?

A. Many very heavy Losses ; One of them was a Loss of our whole battering Train at Seringapatam.

Q. What Number of Drivers is it proper, in your Judgment, to have to the Bullocks, in Proportion to their Number ?

A. Not less than Two Drivers to Three Bullocks.

Q. Have you considered it necessary for the Good of the Service that there should be at least One Driver to a Pair of Bullocks, and a Surdar to every Six Drivers ?

A. One Driver to Two Bullocks is certainly necessary, and the Surdar is also useful himself.

Q. Have you known Instances of the Artillery suffering for Want of a sufficient Number of Drivers ?

A. Often.

Q. Was you with Lord Cornwallis when he experienced great Loss upon that Account ?

A. I was.

Q. Whether this Contract could be well served, consistently with the Good of the Service, upon an annual Contract, and an Advertisement for the lowest Bidder ?

A. I do not think it can, nor do I think the Contract ought to be given to the lowest Bidder, and that only those ought to have it, who are known to be able to fulfil their Engagements. I likewise consider that all Contractors should have an Allowance sufficient to enable them to do so, and that it is better for the Service that they should receive a little more, than that the Service should be obstructed by a Want of Cattle from their not being able to supply them at the Rates which they may offer.

Q. Whether

Q. Whether it is necessary for the Contractor to establish Granaries, and to have a necessary Stock of Cattle, in order to carry on the Contract with Benefit to the Service?

A. I think it is necessary he should do so.

Q. Is it necessary for him to advance Money to the Farmer?

A. I do not positively know whether it is necessary or not.

Q. Were the Regulations adopted in the Year 1779, in the Instance of Mr. Croft's Contract, such as met with the Approbation of all the Officers of the Army at that Time?

A. I cannot answer that Question; I do not know their Judgment, but I know the Cattle met with their Approbation that was furnished by the Contract.

Q. Was the Size of the Cattle furnished under Mr. Croft's Contract higher than that under the late Contract?

A. I have answered before that I thought the Cattle better, and in general they were larger, I think.

Q. Whether there was a greater Number in Proportion of Cattle to Men in the Army at the Period of Mr. Croft's Contract, than there was at the Period you have spoken of under Lord Cornwallis?

A. Nothing like it.

Q. Nothing like so many?

A. Nothing like so many, certainly.

Q. Was the Quantity of Food for the Bullocks, to keep them in Heart for Service, sufficient for that Purpose under Mr. Croft's Contract?

A. It was, in my Opinion, fully so.

Q. As you have been Thirty Years in India, and been in England since the Commencement of the present Trial, and returned to India, you have had Opportunities of consulting and collecting the Sentiments of the People in India at different Periods; in what Estimation is the Character of Mr. Hastings in India?

A. Mr. Hastings's Character always stood very high in India, and still continues so since they knew of his being tried; and they consider him, as I do at this Moment, as a very good and a very injured Man.

Q. Do you speak of the Sentiments of both Europeans and Natives?

A. I speak of both Europeans and Natives.

Q. Is this Testimony you have given of Mr. Hastings the Result of any private Obligations to Mr. Hastings?

A. No, it is not;—I even thought myself hurt by Mr. Hastings's Conduct when in India, but that did not hinder me from joining, in a strong Letter, with all the Rest of my Brother Officers, acknowledging the Sense we had of Mr. Hastings's Conduct.—I still continue of the same Way of Thinking.

Cross-examined by the Managers for the Commons.

Q. In what Employment was you in India in the Year 1781?

A. I was then Commanding Officer of the Artillery.

Q. In 1782?

A. I believe the same in 1782.

Q. Where was you in August 1782?

A. At Calcutta, I believe.

Q. What Period, in the Years 1781 and 1782, did you spend in the upper Provinces?

A. No Part of them. I must always observe I am speaking to the best of my Knowledge, but I think I am speaking nearly right.

Q. Where was you, when you heard the Reports respecting the Disaffection of the Begums?

A. At Calcutta; but wherever I went I heard it.

Q. When did you first hear it?

A. I cannot exactly say, but about the Time it happened;—immediately as soon as it was possible to hear it.

Q. What Time did it happen? What do you mean by Disaffection happening?

A. I have sworn that I have heard it, and I mean that.

Q. That you heard of Disaffection—where did you hear it?

A. I heard it at Calcutta, and wherever I went.

Q. Will you swear that it was sooner than October?

A. I will not swear what I cannot possibly remember as a Fact.

Q. Whether you have not heard that other Persons in the Country of Oude, besides the Begums, were supposed to have acted in a disaffected Manner at that Time?

A. Only the Dependents and People employed by her.

Q. Did you ever hear that the Nabob of Oude himself was suspected upon that Occasion?

A. Quite the contrary; I always understood he behaved well.

Q. Did you ever hear that Mr. Hastings, at one Time, was himself inclined to suspect him?

A. I never did;—but I never had any Conversation with Mr. Hastings upon that Subject.

Q. Whether you never heard that Saadut Ally Cawn was himself under an evil Report upon the same Subject?

A. I believe I have heard Saadut Ally Cawn was suspected, but I never heard that he was guilty.

Q. Against whom do you suppose this Rebellion, of which you have heard, was made or carried on?

A. Against the British Government.

Q. Was the British Government the Sovereign Power in Oude?

A. I do not understand the Question properly. I believe not; as far as I can judge the Nabob of Oude, the Vizier, was the Sovereign Power there.

Q. Then say, during the Time of your Residence in the Province of Oude, what Instance you have known of the Resumption of Jaghires, previous to the Year 1781?

A. I do not remember any.

Q. Have you ever seen the Grant or Patent by which a Jaghire is held?

A. I have read it in some Books, particularly a Persian Book by Mr. Balfour; but I really do not remember what it is.

Q. Whether you did not say that that Period of Time was a Time of the greatest possible Difficulties to the Company's Affairs?

A. I did, and think so still.

Q. That it required the Assistance of all the Forces then maintained in that Country?

A. I think it did, I think we had not a Man too many.

Q. Do you not know, or have you not heard that Mr. Hastings stipulated with the Nabob of Oude, for the Reduction of a large Body of Native Troops, under British Officers, in his Pay, on the 19th of September 1781?

A. I might have heard it, but I do not recollect it.

Q. Temporary Brigade?

A. I commanded the Artillery of a Temporary Brigade, but I do not know any Thing of Mr. Hastings's Negotiations.

Q. Did you command the Artillery of the Temporary Brigade, on the Month of September

A. I do not recollect Periods; as I said before, I cannot remember them; it is impossible; I have no Memorandum.

Q. There or thereabouts?

A. It might have been, or it might not.

Q. Did you command, at any Time in the Year 1781, a Temporary Brigade?

A. I think not at that Time—I cannot answer the Question—I am not certain—I think not.

Q. Whether you do not know by as authentic a Rumour, or general Fame, that several Corps, composing the Army under British Officers, in the Nabob of Oude's Dominions, were actually reduced or reformed at or about that Period, as you know of the Begum's supposed Rebellion?

A. I believe there were some Corps reduced there—I have heard it and believed it.

Q. You said the Army was greatly in Arrears; how much might it amount to?

A. I cannot say—I can speak of the Corps that belonged to myself, that it was sometimes Six, Seven, Eight, and Nine Months in Arrear.

Q. Do you recollect at what Time the Payment of that Arrear that existed in 1781, commenced?

A. I do not.

Q. While this Distress existed, did you hear Mr. Hastings had been in the Practice of taking Presents from the Country Powers and others?

A. I never heard it, I always thought the contrary; I always thought and believed the contrary.

Q. Then you was not at all in Mr. Hastings's Confidence in that Part of his Economy ?

A. I was not.

Q. Was it generally known in the Country at all ?

A. I cannot say ; it was not known to me, I never heard of it till such Time as it came out from England—I believe it came out from England principally.

Q. Where did you command, when the Contract for Bullocks with Mr. Croftes was made in 1779 ?

A. I believe that was the Year I came down to Calcutta, to command the Artillery ; but I cannot tell where I was.

Q. Do you know the Terms of the Contract made by Mr. Croftes ?

A. I do not know what Contract is meant.

Q. Whether you do not know of more than one Contract for Bullocks ?

A. I have known of a great many Contracts, but I do not recollect any One of Mr. Croftes's but One ; may be there might be Twenty.

Q. Have you not heard that the Contract of Mr. Johnson came into the Hands of Mr. Croftes in the Year 1778 ?

A. I do not know exactly—there might have been some Connection between them—they were Partners, but I cannot tell which of them carried on the Contract.

Q. Do you know the Terms of that Contract in which Mr. Johnson and Mr. Croftes were Partners ?

A. Not particularly, I do not.

Q. Do you know any Thing of the Execution of it ?

A. I have had Occasion to muster the Bullocks upon all the Contracts, for many Years—I know nothing further than that.

Q. Do you know whether that Contract was not dissolved, before the Expiration of the Term, by Mr. Hastings ?

A. It might or might not : I do not know ; I do not remember.

Q. Do you know whether any Bullocks furnished under that Contract, were transferred to the new Contract ?

A. I suppose they were, because it was the general Practice.

Q. Do you know what the Terms of the new Contract were—do you know why the old Contract was broke, and a new One made with the same Person, for a longer Term ?

A. I did not know the Contract had been broken, nor the Reason why—I know One was made in December.

Q. Do you know the Difference between the Terms of the Two Contracts ?

A. No, I do not.

Q. Have you seen the Requisition of the Commander in Chief, for the Bullocks for that Service ?

A. I understood that the Contract of Mr. Croftes was made with the Approbation of Sir Eyre Coote, the Commander in Chief of India, as well as with the Consent of General Stibbert, Provincial Commander in Chief of Bengal.

Q. Whether you do not think the Terms of that Contract, and the Mode by Contract, to be the best Method of furnishing Bullocks for the Army ?

A. I do not think that Contract was the best Method ; I mean to say a general Contract of that Kind.

Q. Do you know why Mr. Hastings chose that Method, after having had Experience of a Contract before ?

A. I do not know ; I was not consulted upon that Occasion.

Q. Do you think it right to renew a Contract, which you did not think a beneficial Mode of furnishing Bullocks for the Service, for a longer Time than the One that was near expiring ?

A. I would not renew any Contract I did not think right.

Q. Do you not think it both more expensive and more mischievous to the Service than the Mode by Commission ?

A. I cannot answer ; I do not think there is much Difference between them.

Q. Could you assure the Company, and recommend in the most earnest Manner, a Provision for draft Bullocks for the Service of Bengal, by Agency, with a limited Responsibility and liberal Confidence, rather than by Contract ; and can you say, upon the most decided Experience, that nothing thing can be more injurious to the Service than the latter, nor more extravagant than the lowest Rates, at which it had to that Time been undertaken ?

A. I cannot answer the Question, I do not know any Thing about it.

The Managers desired the last Question might be read.

The same was accordingly read by the Clerk.

Q. If you had heard the Governor General had asserted such a Proposition, would you have acceded to it ?

A. If I had understood the Proposition, I could have replied to it, but I do not.

Q. You have said it was best to employ a Man of Responsibility on such a Business rather than a Person who bids lowest ?

A. That is my Opinion.

Q. What was Mr. Croftes' Fortune and Responsibility, to your Knowledge ?

A. I cannot say : I always understood him to be a Man of immense Fortune, but I believe I was mistaken in that ; but I thought so.

Q. What was his Employment ?

A. He was, I believe, Treasurer at that Time ; I am not sure.

Q. Had he ever been conversant in the Traffick of Cattle in the upper Country ?

A. Not to my Knowledge.

Q. But his Office was in the Treasury at Bengal ?

A. I believe he was in many Offices.

Q. But at that Time ?

A. I think it was.

Q. Did you ever hear of his being concerned in any Way whatsoever relative to the furnishing of Cattle before ?

A. No.

Q. When you speak of the Cattle being sufficiently furnished, whether you mean the whole 6,700, or only speak of those which came within your own Knowledge ?

A. During the Time of that Contract, I was in every Part of the Country where Bullocks were employed, except where some small Detachments went to, very insignificant ones indeed, may be under a Subaltern's Command.

Q. Then you are understood that the Whole of those Bullocks contracted for in 1778 and 1779, on Mr. Croftes Two Contracts, and his Agency, were employed chiefly if not wholly within the Company's Provinces and their Dependencies ?

A. No, I do not think so, but I had the examining of the greatest Part of the Bullocks before they were sent out of the Provinces.

Q. How many were sent out ; what Proportion in that Period ?

A. I cannot say.

Q. Was there any very great Proportion ?

A. There was a very considerable Detachment went into the Mahratta Country under Colonel Camac.

Q. Do you know what Number that Detachment amounted to, and what Artillery, Military Stores, and other Military Baggage, were taken with that Detachment ?

A. I do not know exactly.

Q. Whether the Service upon the Coast did not require a far larger Number of Bullocks than any internal Service you were acquainted with in Bengal ?

A. A great deal more.

Q. Was not the Proportion of all Sorts of Artillery in the Service beyond all Comparison greater ?

A. I believe the Field Artillery were nearly the same ; the battering Train was nearly the same.

Q. Whether the Military Stores of all Sorts were not greater in Quantity than that for the internal Service of Bengal ?

A. Certainly they were.

Q. Whether the Cattle upon the Coast are so large and strong as those furnished in the Provinces of Pornea and Toroot ?

A. Nothing like it ; not Half the Size.

Q. Was there not a Necessity of carrying with the Army of Lord Cornwallis a great Quantity of its Provisions ?

A. Yes ; all of them.

Q. Do

Q. Do you think that any Mode of providing these Bullocks, whether by Contract or Agency, could have saved Lord Cornwallis from the Loss he sustained of the heavy Artillery by the Want of Cattle?

A. I think not.

Q. Whether the Country through which Lord Cornwallis marched was not, in its own Nature, such as to waste and consume a greater Quantity of Cattle, and subject them to more Diseases than the Current Service in Bengal?

A. Our Marches were seldom so long as I had marched before, but the Cattle being confined within the Limits of our own Camp were often distressed for Provisions, and we had besides that, a great deal of bad Weather, heavy Rain, and very cold.

Q. You say you believed the Jaghires were in their Nature resumeable in India, but have known no Instances of it?

A. Yes.

Q. Whether the Danger of a Mutiny of the Troops continued long after the 19th of September, and how long after?

A. I cannot tell how long.

Q. You said your own Corps was Six, Seven, Eight, and even Nine Months in Arrear?

A. I did.

Q. Do you know by what Mismanagement it could have happened that the Company's Troops remained so long unpaid?

A. I never conceived it was from Mismanagement, or had an Idea of that Kind.

Q. Owing to what Circumstances then?

A. I considered it as greatly owing to the large Sums of Money which were sent to the Coast and Bombay for carrying on the War at those Two Places.

Q. Do you believe there were no Resources belonging to the Company, and at Mr. Hastings's Command, that might have been applied to satisfy these Arrears.

A. I do not know that there were.

Q. Do you believe, or did you ever hear, the Begums Treasures were applied to this Purpose?

A. I do not know that they were, and I do not know that I have heard so.

Q. Did you never hear of the Fact of those Treasures having been seized by Mr. Middleton?

A. I have heard of Mr. Middleton having seized some, but what they were, and to what Amount, I do not know.

Q. Nor did you ever hear to what Purpose they were applied?

A. I did not.

Q. Were the Arrears of your own Corps satisfied soon after the seizing of the Treasures?

A. Not immediately, not till some Time afterwards; I cannot be particular, but they were always paid as fast as possible.

Q. Did you never hear or read an Account written by Mr. Hastings himself, that he, Mr. Hastings, had, at the Time of this Distress, and while the Troops were so in Arrear, received a present of 100,000 l. for himself from the Nabob?

A. I think I have read it.

Q. Do you know any one Fact, of your own Knowledge, to prove the Disaffection of the Begums?

A. None; I only speak from Report of a Thing which was never doubted in that Country.

The Witness was directed to withdraw.

The Counsel for the Defendant informed the House they would next call Major Lumsdaine.

Accordingly Major LUMSDAIN was called in, and being sworn, was examined as follows:

19784

Q. How long did you serve in India?

A. I went out to India in the Year 1765, and returned in 1785.

Q. Where was you stationed between the Month of September 1781, and the Month of March 1782?

A. With my Regiment, under Colonel James Mordant's Command, at Cawnpore.

( 1979 )

Q. Do you remember, during that Period, any Disturbances in the Country of Oude, which followed upon the Rebellion of Cheit Sing?

A. I have heard there were Disturbances in the Provinces of Barraitch and Goruckpore.

Q. Did you know or hear of any Concern the Begums had in the Production of those Disturbances?

A. I have heard that the Begums excited the Zemindars of these Provinces to Disturbances.

Q. Was that the general Report and Belief of the Country at that Period and afterwards?

A. It was.

Q. Have you since known or heard any Thing to discredit that Report?

A. I have not.

Q. Did you ever see or converse with any Individual in India who expressed a Doubt of the Concern of the Begums in those Disturbances?

A. I never heard it doubted in India.

Q. How many Months in Arrear of Pay was your Corps about the Beginning of the Year 1782, or the Close of the Year 1781?

A. Between Six and Seven Months in Arrear.

Q. Do you remember when those Arrears were discharged; and do you know from what Fund?

A. A great Part of those Arrears, as well as I can recollect, Five Months, were discharged in February or March 1782; about that Time.

Q. Do you know from what Fund?

A. I was told the Money came from Lucknow, and was Part of the Money that was paid by the Begums.

Q. Had the Arrears of Pay, you have mentioned, occasioned any very particular Distress to the Army of which you formed a Part?

A. A very great Distress; the Sepoys of my own Regiment were really unable to do their Duty and to clothe themselves like Soldiers, and when reprimanded for those Neglects, stated to me that they were starving for Want of Food, and had sold all their Necessaries to supply them.

Q. What do you conceive would have been the Consequence to the Army, if those Arrears had not been about that Period discharged?

A. A large Detachment under Colonel Sir John Cummings was detained at or near to Cawnpore for Want of Money to discharge their Arrears; and I really believe that if Money had not been obtained, the Troops must have separated and have dispersed; they could not exist in the State they were.

Q. After what you have said, it is unnecessary to ask you whether between the Period of Time, between September 1781 and March 1782, was a Period of the greatest Distress and Difficulty in the Affairs of the British Government in India?

A. It was a Period most alarming, and of the greatest Distress that I ever knew in India! I think the Existence of the British Government in India depended solely upon the Preservation of the Life of Mr. Hastings.

Q. You recollect probably what was mentioned by Major Gilpin upon that Subject, if you do, state it?

The Managers for the Commons objected to the Question.

Q. Do you recollect whether the Period I have already particularly mentioned, between September 1781 and March 1782, was the Period in which the Money was taken at Fyzabad, and applied by the Vizier in the Manner you have stated for the Relief of the Troops?

A. I have heard it was.

Q. Do you remember a Person of the Name of Ghinoo Roy?

A. I do.

Q. Do you know at what Time this Person, this Rajah, had been expelled from the Country of Oude?

A. He was expelled from the District of Goruckpore in November 1778.

Q. By whose Order?

A. By the Order of the Vizier, transmitted to Colonel Hannay, and given by Colonel Hannay to me. It required an honorary Draft from the Vizier, and a Letter of Thanks for the Services that I did his Government in expelling Ghinoo Roy.

U

Q. For

Q. For what Cause was Ghinoo Roy expelled ?

A. For refusing to pay his Revenue, his Rents.

Q. Was the Country before occupied by Ghinoo Roy more productive in Point of Revenue to the Vizier, and in a better State of Cultivation, after the Expulsion of Ghinoo Roy, than it had been before ?

A. The Country occupied by Ghinoo Roy I never heard paid more than between 27,000 and 30,000 Rupees a Year, and after his Expulsion there were between 80,000 and 90,000 Rupees collected from it.

Q. Was that Collection made without any Harshness or Oppression to the Native Cultivators of the Land ?

A. I think it was made without Oppression or Hardship to them.

Q. Do you know of another Person of the Name of Ajeet Mull ?

A. I do.

Q. Who was he ?

A. Rajah of Manjowly.

Q. At what Period, and for what Cause, was he expelled from the Country of Oude ?

A. He was not expelled from the Country of Oude, he ran away and abandoned his Country.

Q. Upon what Occasion ?

A. He had formerly large Possessions in the District of Goruckpore, the Pergunnas of Seer Poor were Part of these Possessions, and the Rajah himself requested me to endeavour to get these Lands restored to him, and that he would give an Increase of Revenue to the Vizier's Government.

Q. At what Period was this ?

A. In 1778, I made Application, and the Lands were restored to him: The Chowdry who had had the Collections of those Lands, and the Government of them, on hearing that they were restored to the Rajah, drove off the Inhabitants, and threatened them with Death if they cultivated the Lands. The Rajah was alarmed at this, and knowing he was responsible for the Revenue from the Engagements he had entered into, he fled the Country.

Q. Do you know at what Period Futteh Saw was expelled the Country ?

A. Futteh Saw, to the best of my Knowledge, was expelled from Hussianpoor in 1767 or 1768.

Q. Was you there at that Time ?

A. I was not.

Q. Was Futteh Saw absent, or out of the Country, at any Time prior to the Year 1781, expelled or otherwise ?

A. He certainly was, but was in the Habit of returning and making Incursions, as it suited his own Convenience and Opportunity.

Q. Is Hussianpoor a Part of the Province of Bahar or of Oude ?

A. It is Part of the Province of Bahar.

Q. You have said that Futteh Saw was in the Habit of making Incursions from Time to Time; do you mean hostile Incursions, or otherwise ?

A. I mean hostile Incursions.

Q. Was Futteh Saw in Arms against the British Government, in and before the Year 1781 ?

A. He was expelled from Hussianpoor, by Captain Camac, by the British Forces in 1767 or 1768; but I must observe, I was not present there myself, it is only what I have heard.

Q. Do you speak of the Fact of his being in Arms against the British Government in 1781, of your own Knowledge, by an official Report to you in your Military Character, or merely by Hearsay ?

A. Merely by Hearsay.

Q. Do you know either by official Information, or of your own immediate Knowledge, any Thing of the Situation of another Rajah, called Purtypaul Sing, about the same Period, that is the Year 1781 ?

A. Purtypaul Sing, in the Year 1781, I have always understood to have been in the Begums Jaghire; but I cannot swear it from my own particular Knowledge.

Q. Did you know a Person of the Name of Mustapha Cawn, and had you him at any Time under your Charge, and whether, at the Time you so had him under your Charge, Mustapha Cawn was under Sentence of Death, or no ?

A. In or about May 1780, Mustapha Cawn was sent to the Fort of Goruckpore a Prisoner by Colonel Hannay, who wrote me to be particularly careful that he did not make his Escape, and to place Sepoys over him, upon whose Courage and Fidelity I could depend—he also wrote me, that he was under Sentence of Death.

Q. Did you deliver over this Person called Mustapha Cawn, under Sentence of Death, to Captain Williams, with the same Charge respecting him, which you had yourself received from Colonel Hannay?

A. I certainly did.

Q. A Witness has said, there was no Drought in the Province of Oude during the Years 1779 and 1780; whether you was in the Country of Oude in the Years 1779 and 1780, and whether there was any considerable Drought during that Period?

A. I was in the Country of Oude in 1779 and 1780, and a very great Drought prevailed.

Q. Do you recollect it, by any particular Circumstance of Distress that you observed at that Time?

A. The Inhabitants were greatly distressed for Provisions, and for some Years afterwards, for Two or Three Years afterwards, the Periodical Rains did not fall in their usual Quantities, and particularly in the Year 1782, when the Inhabitants were greatly distressed indeed; and I observed them sweeping the Grass Lands, and collecting the Seeds for Subsistence.

Q. You was in India till the Year 1785, after the Close of Mr. Hastings's Government?

A. I left India a few Weeks or Days before Mr. Hastings.

Q. In what Estimation was Mr. Hastings held, both by the Natives of the Country, and by the European Inhabitants, during all the Time you resided there, and particularly towards the Close of his Government?

A. Mr. Hastings, during the whole Period of his Administration, was held in the greatest Veneration and Estimation by the Inhabitants of the Country, and was generally looked upon as a very great and good Man, and highly respected.

Cross-examined by the Managers for the Commons.

Q. Whether your Station was not at Cawnpore?

A. In 1781, I was stationed at Cawnpore.

Q. Under whom was you stationed, and did act, during the Time of Mr. Hannay's Administration in the Provinces of Goruckpore and Barraitch?

A. From January 1778, until February 1781, I was stationed in the Province of Goruckpore.

Q. Whether you served in Colonel Hannay's Corps?

A. I did at the Period I have specified.

Q. By whom was you appointed to act in Colonel Hannay's Corps?

A. By the British Government—the Governor and Council.

Q. Who appointed Colonel Hannay?

A. The same Authority.

Q. Was you there at the Time of Colonel Hannay's first Administration?

A. Will the Honourable Manager state the Dates.

Q. Was you there at the Time Colonel Hannay was first stationed at Barraitch and Goruckpore, about 1778 or 1779?

A. I was.

Q. Was not Colonel Hannay removed?

A. He was.

Q. By whom?

A. By the Vizier.

Q. Did you hear for what Cause?

A. I did not.

Q. Do you not know that he was replaced in the same Government or Command?

A. He was.

Q. By whom?

A. I was told so by Colonel Hannay himself.

Q. By whom?

A. By the Vizier.

Q. At whose Instance?

A. Colonel Hannay told me, that when the Vizier applied to him to return into the Countries of Barraitch and Goruckpore, that he refused to do it, and that he would not nor did accept of the Command, until he was solicited to it by Sir Eyre Coote, at the Request of the Vizier.

Q. Did you never hear that the Vizier held the Idea of Colonel Hannay returning into his Dominions with Horror?

A. I have not; I have just stated that the Vizier requested his Return.

Q. Had

Q. Had you any other Authority for this than Colonel Hannay himself?

A. No other Authority; but I never doubted what Colonel Hannay said; he was a Man of Honour and Veracity.

Q. Have you ever heard that the Vizier had written a Letter to Mr. Hastings, in which he declares Colonel Hannay is inclined to request his Permission to be employed in the Affairs of this Quarter?

A. No.

The Counsel for the Defendant objected to the Evidence.

The Managers for the Commons were heard in Answer to the Objection.

Q. Whether you ever heard of this Communication being made by the Vizier of Colonel Hannay, and received the 15th September 1782?

A. I am really inclined to believe that he was dead at that Time; I cannot tell, but I am inclined to believe he was.

Q. Whether you had any Knowledge of a Communication made by the Vizier to the Governor General respecting Colonel Hannay, to the following Effect:—'Colonel Hannay is about to request your Permission to be employed in the Affairs in this Quarter: If by any Means any Matters of this Country should be entrusted to the Colonel, I swear by the Holy Prophet I will not remain here, but will go from hence to you; from your Kindness let no Concern dependant upon me be trusted to the Colonel?'

A. I never heard of that Letter till this Instant.

Q. Do you think that after the Governor General and Council had appointed him to a Command in Barraitch and Goruckpore, as you have sworn he did, the Vizier would have removed him without some strong Cause of Displeasure?

A. I cannot assign the Vizier's Motives for removing Colonel Hannay.

Q. Do you know that the British Government had considerable Influence over the Vizier of Oude?

A. I believe they had.

Q. Then, from your Knowledge of that Influence, do you imagine that the Nabob of Oude would have removed Colonel Hannay, who had been named by the Governor General and Council to the Command, without some strong Cause of Displeasure?

A. I believe not; a Removal certainly implies a Displeasure; but he was again appointed at the Vizier's Request, at least so I was told by Colonel Hannay; I had no other Authority for it.

Q. Did Colonel Hannay tell you by what Means he had removed the Cause of Displeasure from the Nabob's Mind?

A. He did not.

Q. Whether Colonel Hannay was not concerned in collecting the Revenues of that Country?

A. The Revenues of that Country were collected by the Vizier's Officers, under the Direction of Colonel Hannay.

Q. Did Colonel Hannay farm the Revenue for a certain Sum, or upon what Tenure did he hold it, as Collector, or Aumil, or how?

A. I believe he farmed the Revenue.

Q. Do you know at what Sum he farmed it?

A. I do not.

Q. Do you know what Sum he collected under that Farm?

A. I do not.

Q. Do you know how he kept his Accounts with the Nabob?

A. I do not.

Q. Do you know, before Ghinoo Roy was expelled, what his Revenue stood at?

A. I have always understood between 27,000 and 30,000 Rupees.

Q. Do you know whether Colonel Hannay, before he was removed, proposed to him an Augmentation of that Revenue, or not?

A. He did.

Q. Do you know whether the former Revenue paid by Ghinoo Roy, was or was not agreeable to any Caboodleat or Agreement made with him?

A. An annual Caboodleat.

Q. Do you know that?

A. I do.

Q. Have

Q. Have you seen the Cabooseat?

A. Both Colonel Hannay and the Aumil told me, that it was an annual Cabooseat.

Q. Who settled that Cabooseat?

A. The Aumil.

Q. Who was the Aumil before Colonel Hannay?

A. I mean the Aumil that was there in 1778.

Q. Was it previous to Colonel Hannay's farming it, Yea or No?

A. No.

Q. It was settled then under Colonel Hannay's own Directions, or with his Consent?

A. To what Year does the Question allude?

Q. The Cabooseat which made the Revenue stand at 27,000 or 30,000 Rupees?

A. It was settled for the Year 1777, before Colonel Hannay was in the Country, and it appeared upon the Cutcherry Books, what the Cabooseat was.

Q. Have you seen the Cutcherry Books?

A. I had my Information from the Aumil who had them all in his Possession.

Q. To what did Colonel Hannay propose to raise it upon the granting of the new Cabooseat?

A. Colonel Hannay proposed to the Rajah to pay 60,000 Rupees; but he would have taken 50,000, if the Rajah had come near the Terms.

Q. Then Colonel Hannay attempted to raise his Revenue above what it was under the antient Aumil, from between 27,000 and 30,000 Rupees, to 60,000—that was his Proposition, and he would have been content with 50,000—that he proposed to raise it very considerably?

A. Certainly; and the Country could well afford to pay it.

Q. How do you know this?

A. Because between 80,000 and 90,000 Rupees were collected from it.

Q. How do you know that?

A. From the Information of the Aumil.

Q. Do you know what the Aumil's Name was?

A. I think Sheik Mahommed, but I am not certain.

Q. Why, and upon what Occasion, had you so many Conversations with Persons who were managing and settling the Revenue to be paid by the Zemindars?

A. I was stationed at Gungowah, for the express Purpose of assisting the Aumil with Troops for the Collection of the Revenue, and upon every Requisition that he made to me, it was very natural we should have various Conversations about the Revenue.

Q. Whether your Military Duty did naturally lead you to know, and be conversant in the Settlement of the Revenue between you, Colonel Hannay, and the Zemindars?

A. My Military Duty certainly did not lead me to it, but it made Part of the Conversations I had with the Aumil.

Q. Then you know nothing of what you have said, but through Colonel Hannay's Representation, that the Aumil acted immediately under him?

A. I do not; but I believe it to be perfectly true.

Q. When you say that the very probable Ghis Roy would have abandoned his Country, if only a moderate Revenue was demanded of him?

A. He would not abandon his Country, but he was driven out of it.

Q. For what was he driven out of it?

A. For refusing to pay the Revenue.

Q. The Revenue at which he was assessed by Colonel Hannay, is that so?

A. I cannot say so.

Q. Was he driven out of the Country because he would not pay the Revenue at which he was assessed by Colonel Hannay?

A. He was driven out of the Country for refusing to pay an Encrease of Revenue; and certainly a moderate Encrease, I think, from the Richness of his Country.

Q. Was he not expelled the Country for not paying the Revenue at which he was assessed by Colonel Hannay?

A. He was driven out of the Country for refusing to pay an Encrease of Revenue.

Q. By whom was he driven out of the Country, and by whom was the Encrease demanded?

A. The Encrease was certainly demanded by Colonel Hannay.

Q. By whom was he driven out?

A. If the Question means the Officer who was employed, I was the Officer,—I acted under Colonel Hannay's Orders.

Q. Then you having turned him out of the Country yourself, what were the Means, and what were the Circumstances?

A. By attacking his Town and Fort, in which I lost 100 Men of my Battalion—about 100 Men killed and wounded.

Q. Did you take the Fort, or did he remove from the Fort by Composition?

A. I took the Fort.

Q. Did you take the Rajah Prisoner, or not?

A. No.

Q. Did he escape?

A. He escaped.

Q. As you lost 100 Men in taking the Fort, how many of the Enemy or Natives perished in the Attack, as far as you can judge?

A. I believe very few.

Q. What did you do with the Effects, if any, that were found in the Fort?

A. The Effects found in the Fort, including Provisions and every Thing, I sold, amounting to between 400 and 500 Rupees; and, with the Consent of the Battalion, I divided the Money among the Children of the killed and wounded Men.

Q. Had Ghinoo Roy any Family or Children, or near Relations?

A. I have understood he was married, but had no Children.

Q. Was his Wife, or any of his near Kindred, in the Fort?

A. I cannot positively answer to that—no Woman was seen by any Person that I commanded.

Q. Can you tell what became of his Wife?

A. I suppose she went with her Husband.

Q. What Provision out of his Effects was made for his Wife?

A. Does the Question mean out of about 50 l. Sterling that was found in the Fort?

Q. Whether this Zemindar had any Stock of Corn, Cattle, Horses, or other Effects, upon his Lands?

A. I have already stated all that ever I saw of the Effects,—the whole Amount I ever saw. I heard he carried off a Sum of Money with him upon Elephants.

Q. Did you ever know a considerable Zemindar of that Country without a considerable Stock of Cattle, beginning with Elephants;—without a considerable Stock of Cattle of one Kind or other?

A. If he had any Cattle or Property it was in the Fort when we besieged it.

Q. The Question is as to his Zemindarry, whether you know of any considerable Zemindar or Landholder in that Country that has not a Stock of Cattle?

A. I am at a Loss to answer the Question; if it means Cows and Cattle, I suppose he had some.

Q. Then what Account was taken when the Proprietor was dispossessed of those Effects, in order to save them for Government, or otherwise?

A. I never saw nor heard of more Effects than I have specified; I never saw an Ox or Cow he had.

Q. Then, to your Knowledge, you cannot say that any Care or Attention was had to that Object?

A. Except the Effects which I have stated, I never saw a Bullock, or an Ox, or a Cow, he had.

Q. Was any Measure taken to ascertain whether he had or not?

A. If he had any such Property it was carried off with him—his own People carried it off—I never saw any he had, nor ever enquired about it.

Q. To whom was the Zemindarry of Ghinoo Roy granted?

A. It was held by what is called, in the Country Language, the Cutcher, and collected by the Aumil's People.

Q. Then it was taken into the Hands of Colonel Hannay to be managed by his Aumil?

A. It was managed by the Aumils under Colonel Hannay's Directions.

Q. Do you know what Revenue Colonel Hannay collected from it?

A. I have been told between 80,000 and 90,000 Rupees.

Q. Did it continue in the same Way when Colonel Hannay was driven out of the Country ?
A. I really cannot say, I was not in the Country at the Time.

Q. Do you know what Account Colonel Hannay gave to the Circar of the Money so collected ?

A. I do not.

Q. Did Ghinoo Roy ever attempt to establish himself in that Country ?

A. When I marched out of the Country in 1779, I think in the End of 1779, he came back to his Fort, and left it again immediately upon my Approach towards him.

Q. Whether you have not Reason to believe that he entered into the Country afterwards with a considerable Force, or raised a considerable Force in the Country ?

A. If the Question alludes to the Time I mentioned, he had not a considerable Force.

Q. No; when Colonel Hannay was driven out of the Country in 1781 ?

A. I really do not know that Colonel Hannay was driven out of the Country.

Q. Whether, previous to 1781, he was not in the Habit of making Incursions into the Country,—whether in great or small Force ?

A. He never came into the Country at any Time, that I know, except in the Beginning of 1780, or the End of 1779.

Q. Was there not an Apprehension that he would always come into the Country, if an Opportunity was favourable to him ?

A. Of that I can have no Doubt.

Q. Upon what Account did the Difference happen between Colonel Hannay and Ajeet Mull ?

A. I believe I have stated that already.

Q. Whether Ajeet Mull did not quit the Country upon a like Attempt to raise his Revenue upon a new Assessment ?

A. By no Means; Ajeet Mull's Offer was voluntary, as I have stated.

Q. Was it accepted ?

A. Yes.

Q. Then whether you have not said he had been removed for some Cause or other; and state what Cause, if his Offer was voluntary ?

A. I do not recollect that I have said so.

Q. Whether you did not suppose him to be out of Possession for some Cause or other ?

A. I suppose the Question alludes to my having said that the Lands of Seerpore were restored to the Rajah; but those Lands I have always understood had not been in the Possession of the Rajah's Family since the Time of Sufter Jung, until the Period I alluded to, 1778, I believe.

Q. To whom did he make the Offer in order to be restored ?

A. The Rajah requested me to interest myself with Colonel Hannay to get his Lands restored to him.

Q. Did you succeed in your Application ?

A. Yes.

Q. Who was in Possession of the Lands out of which this Man had been so many Years dispossessed ?

A. The Chowdry collected them.

Q. Under what Authority ?

A. Under the Authority of the different Aumils.

Q. Had the Chowdry been long in Possession ?

A. I cannot say.

Q. You found him in Possession ?

A. Yes.

Q. What Arrangement was made with the Chowdry, when he was to be dispossessed, in order to repossess Ajeet Mull ?

A. The Lands were taken from the Chowdry, and given to Ajeet Mull, whose Right they were.

Q. Did you put him in Possession of them ?

A. No.

Q. When you thought he had a Right, and had interested yourself in Favour of that Right, how came Ajeet Mull not to be put into Possession ?

A. Ajeet Mull was put into Possession of the Lands, but not by me.

Q. By

Q. By whom?

A. By Colonel Hannay and the Aumil.

Q. Did he continue in Possession?

A. No.

Q. Was there any Resistance to his taking Possession?

A. None.

Q. Why did he not continue in Possession?

A. He left his Country for the Reasons I stated in the first Part of my Evidence.

Q. State distinctly what Reasons induced him to leave it, and what you know of the Chowdry driving him out?

A. I stated in the first Part of my Evidence the Reasons which induced the Rajah to leave the Country, the Chowdry did not drive him out.

The Managers for the Commons desired the following Questions before put to the Witness, and his Answers to the same, might be read.

The same were accordingly read by the Clerk.

Q. Do you know of another Person of the Name of Ajeet Mull?

A. I do.

Q. Who was he?

A. Rajah of Manjowly.

Q. At what Period, and for what Cause, was he expelled from the Country of Oude?

A. He was not expelled from the Country of Owde, he ran away and abandoned his Country.

Q. Upon what Occasion?

A. He had formerly large Possessions in the District of Goruckpore, the Pergunnas of Seerpore were Part of these Possessions, and the Rajah himself requested me to endeavour to get these Lands restored to him, and that he would give an Increase of Revenue to the Vizier's Government.

The Witness said,

When I said 'He had formerly large Possessions,' I should have said, 'his Family had formerly large Possessions.'

Then the Clerk read as follows:

Q. At what Period was this?

A. In 1778, I made Application, and the Lands were restored to him. The Chowdry, who had had the Collections of those Lands, and the Government of them, on hearing that they were restored to the Rajah, drove off the Inhabitants, and threatened them with Death, if they cultivated the Lands; the Rajah was alarmed at this, and knowing he was responsible for the Revenue from the Engagements he had entered into, he fled the Country. (a)

Then the Witness was asked,

Q. (by Managers.) What Means were taken to support the rightful Possessor so restored against the improper Efforts of the Chowdry?

A. A Detachment of Sepoys was sent into the Pergunna.

Q. What Success had they?

A. They were not opposed by any Force, but they could not prevent the Inhabitants running away.

Q. Why was the Rajah under Apprehension that he should be obliged to pay a stipulated Revenue, when he had no Means of collecting it, so as to oblige him to fly the Country?

A. He had entered into an Agreement to pay a stipulated Sum, and I suppose he was certainly obliged to pay it.

Q. Whether there was not possibly a Cause of Apprehension that this Rajah would trouble the Peace of the Country, previous to the Year 1781?

A. No Cause of Apprehension that I know of.

Q. Did he, in Fact, ever make any IncurSIONS into the Country, or make Disturbances there?

A. Not as long as I remained at Goruckpore.

Q. Whether it was not to be apprehended, that a Man whom you represented to have an ancient Right in the Country, and that to very considerable Possessions, would endeavour, when an Opportunity offered, to repossess himself of his Country?

A. The Man ran away, and never raised any Disturbances in the Country while I staid there.

(a) Vide supra, Page 1980.

Q. How long after his running away did you stay in the Country?

A. From 1778, to the Beginning of 1781—I speak as nearly to my Recollection as I can.

Q. Had he not a natural Inducement so to do when an Opportunity offered, without any particular Instigation of any Body?

A. Ajeet Mull never did do it.

Q. Whether he had not, to repossess himself of large Possessions, a sufficient Motive to enter into the Country to repossess himself, without the particular Instigation of any Person?

A. They are apparent Motives, but he certainly never did enter the Country.

Q. Would he have succeeded if he had, while the Force of Colonel Hannay remained entire?

A. That would depend what upon Force he brought with him, and what Force was opposed to him.

Q. What Revenue did the Chowdry pay for those large Possessions after the Flight of Ajeet Mull?

A. I really do not know.

Q. Then you do not know that it was a greater Revenue than that offered by Ajeet Mull?

A. I should rather suppose it to have been less, but I really do not know.

Q. Do you know what Account Colonel Hannay gave of the Receipt of that Revenue?

A. I suppose it was carried to the Vizier's Account; I know nothing about it.

Q. How comes it that you, who had the Negotiation for the Restoration of Ajeet Mull, in which you was frustrated by the Efforts of the Chowdry, should know nothing of what that Chowdry paid whom you was obliged to leave in Possession?

A. I did not enquire what the Chowdry paid, but I think it must have been less than Ajeet Mull would have paid.

Q. Do you know whether the Inhabitants who had fled from their Habitations ever returned to their Possessions, and in what Manner?

A. I have no Doubt but a Number of them did return, but I cannot state what Number.

Q. Do you know that any did return, and how many?

A. I believe they did.

Q. Do you know of any that did?

A. They certainly must have returned in considerable Numbers, otherwise the Chowdry never could have paid any Revenue at all.

Q. Do you know, de facto, that the Chowdry ever did pay any Revenue at all after that Period?

A. I have been told by the Aumil he did, and I have, no Doubt of it.

Q. The Question means as full a Revenue as formerly?

A. I cannot tell; for I really do not know what the full Revenue was.

Q. Do you know what was the Cause of the Rajah Purtipaul Sing quitting the Country?

A. I am not clear I heard the Reasons of his leaving the Country, as he was in a different Part of the Country from where I was; but I believe he quitted the Country, from what I heard, for refusing to pay his Revenue.

Q. Have you any Reason to think these were the only Zemindars in the Country whose Revenue Colonel Hannay attempted to raise by a new Assessment?

A. I dare say he endeavoured to raise the Assessment of the Revenue of many of the Zemindars of the Country.

Q. Then what were the Proportions, as far as you have been able to discover, which the new Assessments of Revenue bore to the old?

A. I really cannot state that.

Then the House adjourned to the Chamber of Parliament.

Die Veneris, 12° Aprilis 1793.

THE Lords being in their Places, the House resumed, the usual Proclamations made, and the Defendant appearing at the Bar, the Lord Chancellor informed the Counsel for the Defendant, they might proceed in his Defence.

The Managers for the Commons desired Major Lumsdain might be called in to conclude his Cross-Examination.

Major LUMSDAIN was accordingly again called in, and cross-examined, as follows:

Q. You have been examined concerning the Condition and Conduct of Purty Paul Sing, a Zemindar that had raised Disturbances in Goruckpore where you were stationed under Colonel Hannay,—did Purty Paul Sing make any Disturbances or re-enter the Country previous to December 1781?

A. Purty Paul Sing was not a Zemindar of the Province of Goruckpore, and never entered it to my Knowledge.

Q. Do you not recollect that you said, “That you was not very clear as to the Reasons of Purty Paul Sing’s quitting the Country; that it was a different Part of the Country from where you were; but you believed he quitted the Country for refusing to pay his Revenue:”—Did you ever hear of Purty Paul Sing before the Period stated in the Question?

A. I did say so.

Q. Did you ever hear of any Disturbances made by Purty Paul Sing, or of his entering into the Country previous to the Year 1781?

A. I have heard that he made Disturbances in the Country, but it was not in the District of Goruckpore.

Q. Was it not in the District of Baraitch?

A. It was rather in the Country that lies between Baraitch and Goruckpore where his Zemindarry was.

Q. Do not those Provinces confine upon one another?

A. They do.

Q. What Country is it then that you state to lie between them?

A. The Country in which Purty Paul Sing’s Zemindarry was.

Q. What is it called?

A. I do not recollect the Name.

The Map was shewn to the Witness by the Managers for the Commons, and he was asked,

Q. You may possibly know it by this?

A. Yes, it is the Name of the Zemindarry.

Q. Rusty was his Zemindarry?

A. Yes.

Q. Was not Rusty within the Farming of Colonel Hannay?

A. It was.

Q. Whether there were not frequently Disturbances in the Provinces of Baraitch and Goruckpore previous to 1781?

A. I can only speak positively to Goruckpore, and from Hearsay in the Province of Baraitch:—The Disturbances in Goruckpore I have specified, and I have heard that Purty Paul Sing was driven out of his Country previous to 1781.

Q. So there were Disturbances in the Country previous to 1781,—did Disturbances exist in the Country farmed by Colonel Hannay before the Year 1781?

A. Some Disturbances certainly did exist before 1781.

Q. Do you know of any Regulations of Trade made in that Country by Colonel Hannay?

A. I do not; I know of no Regulations of Trade.

Q. Have you ever heard that Colonel Hannay did directly or indirectly interfere in the Trade of those Provinces—mediately or immediately?

A. I do not recollect that he did.

Q. Did he establish any Gunges or Markets within that Country?

A. Not that I know of, unless the Bazars attached to the different Corps can be called Markets.

Q. Did you hear that no Complaint was made of those Bazars or Gunges attached to the Military Corps, as being the Cause of Tyranny and Oppression towards the Aumils and Inhabitants?

A. I never did hear that any of the Bazars attached to the Military Corps were the Causes of Oppression; indeed they were in themselves so very trifling, that they scarcely merit the Name of a Market or Gunge.

Q. Did you never hear that those Gunges, commonly known by the Name of Colonel Gunges, were complained of by the Nabob on Account of the Abuses just mentioned?

A. I have heard that some Gunges in different Parts of the Country were complained of by the Nabob, but these had no Relation to any Bazar that was established with the Troops under Colonel Hannay.

Q. Whether you have never heard of a Letter from the Nabob Vizier to the Rajah Govind Ram, and another written by himself, received the 1st of February 1781, upon the Subject?

A. I never have heard of any such.

Q. Was not you engaged in some other Parts of the Country to repress refractory Zemindars?

A. Yes, I was: I was employed in 1782 and 1783 in repressing Disturbances excited by Rajah Bulbudder Sing.

Q. In your Opinion what was the Occasion of those Disturbances?

A. I have heard that the Rajah himself and his Father were in constant Rebellion against the Government of Sujah Dowlah, and his Son Asoph ul Dowlah.

Q. Did you hear whether that Rebellion constantly continued, or only broke out afresh after some Intermision?

The Question was objected to.

Q. Whether or no that Rebellion which broke out, and which you was to suppress, was a Continuation of those former Rebellions which you have already mentioned?

A. The Rebellion of Rajah Bulbudder Sing had not the least Connection with any of the other Rebellions which I have mentioned.

The Managers for the Commons desired the following Questions above put to the Witness, and his Answers to the same, might be read.

The same were accordingly read by the Clerk, as follows:

Q. Was not you engaged in some other Parts of the Country to repress refractory Zemindars?

A. Yes, I was: I was employed, in 1782 and 1783, in repressing Disturbances excited by the Rajah Bulbudder Sing.

Q. In your Opinion, what was the Occasion of those Disturbances?

A. I have heard that the Rajah himself and his Father were in constant Rebellion against Sujah Dowlah and his Son Asoph ul Dowlah.

Q. Whether or no that Rebellion which broke out, and which you was to suppress, was a Continuation of those former Rebellions which you have already mentioned?

A. The Rebellion of Rajah Bulbudder Sing had not the least Connection with any of the other Rebellions that I have mentioned.

The Witness said,

As far as I know.

Q. Whether or no this Rebellion which began on the Part of Rajah Bulbudder Sing, in the Time of Sujah Dowlah, continued at the Time when you was sent to repress it, or whether there was any Intermision?

A. It continued with Intermisions as the Rajah had Opportunities of entering the Country.

Q. Did he not receive some Pension, Annuity, or Allowance upon the Part of the Begums of Oude, in order to keep him quiet?

A. I have heard that he did.

Q. Do

Q. Do you think that this Pension, whatever it was, was regularly continued to be paid to him to the Time of his last Rebellion?

A. I believe it was withheld from him.

Q. Whether this Bulbudder Sing was not the lineal Descendant of the most powerful Hindoo Family in that Part of Hindostan?

A. I have understood that he was.

Q. Did you not hear that Connections with him were eagerly sought after, as thought to confer Honour; that he was much respected himself; and that his Rebellion against Government was not looked upon as a Crime, and whether you did not so represent it to John Bristow Esquire, Resident at the Vizier's Court, in a Letter dated the 16th of November 1782?

A. The Question is a very long one, and will require some Explanation. If the first Part is read, I will give an Answer to the first Part, and to the other Parts as they go on.

Then the first Part of the Question was read to the Witnesses, as follows:

Q. Did you not hear that Connections with him were eagerly sought after, as thought to confer Honour?

A. The Rajah was a Man of high Cast, and Marriages into his Family were thought to confer Honour.

Q. That he was much respected himself, and that his Rebellion against Government was not looked upon as a Crime, and whether you did not so represent it to John Bristow Esquire, Resident at the Vizier's Court, in a Letter dated 16th of November 1782?

Then a Book was shewn to the Witnesses, and he said,

A. He was much respected on Account of his high Cast, which always carries Respect in that Country; and the neighbouring Zemindars of Azimgurrah, where his Country bordered upon, did not look upon his Rebellion as a Crime—on the contrary, I believe many of them were very well inclined to follow his Example—that is my Answer to that Part of the Question.

Q. Whether you did not so represent it to Mr. Bristow?

A. I did so.

Q. Whether you did not represent 'that the Zemindars were much attached to that Rajah, whom they considered as their Hereditary Prince, and never failed to assist him'?

A. I did.

Q. Then did you not recommend the renewing the Pension or Allowance to this Rajah, as the most effectual Means of quieting the Disturbances of the Country?

A. I did so recommend it.

Q. Have you any Reason to think your Advice was taken?

A. I had no Right to advise; what I recommended was not adopted.

Q. Do you recollect that Mustapha Cawn was delivered to you in May 1780?

A. As near as I can recollect, I think that was the Time, but I cannot be certain as to Dates.

Q. Do you recollect what became of him; in what Name and Character was he delivered into your Hands, and by what Authority?

A. I have stated that, in a former Part of my Evidence; if that is referred to, it will appear, and I really can give no further Information upon the Subject.

Q. Was he delivered to you under Sentence of Death?

A. He was delivered to me as under Sentence of Death, by the Vizier.

Q. Did you ever see that Sentence?

A. No.

Q. Did Colonel Hannay shew you the Warrant he had for confining him as a Person under Sentence of Death?

A. No, Colonel Hannay was about 150 or 200 Miles distant, about that Time, from me.

Q. Was you Commandant, or otherwise employed in Authority at Goruckpore, at the Time when Mustapha Cawn was delivered to you?

A. I commanded the Battalion stationed at Goruckpore at that Time.

Q. Where was you at the Time when you received this Order for the Imprisonment of Mustapha Cawn?

A. To the best of my Recollection I was at Gungowah, about 60 Miles from the Fort of Goruckpore, to which Colonel Hannay sent Mustapha Cawn.

Q. Then

Q. Then you did not see Mustapha Cawn, nor confine him by the Authority derived from Colonel Hannay, but from somebody else?

A. I never in my Life saw Mustapha Cawn; but he was confined in the Fort of Goruckpore, by Colonel Hannay's Orders transmitted to me.

Q. To whom did you transmit those Orders for the Confinement of Mustapha Cawn?

A. To the black Officer, the Native Officer, commanding in the Fort of Goruckpore.

Q. Who was he?

A. I think his Name was Ahlaud Sing, but I cannot be positively certain of it at this Distance of Time.

Q. Have you Colonel Hannay's Letter to you?

A. I have not.

Q. Have you a Copy of your Letter to Ahlaud Sing, or whoever commanded in the Fort of Goruckpore, for the Imprisonment of Mustapha Cawn?

A. I have not.

Q. Did Colonel Hannay transmit any Copy of the Sentence to you?

A. He did not.

Q. Do you know, or have you ever seen, the Petwah or Sentence of any Judge of the Law, upon which Mustapha Cawn was sentenced to Death?

A. I never have.

Q. Do you know any Thing of the Place where he was tried and convicted?

A. I do not.

Q. Do you know the specific Offence that was charged against him, and the Defence that he made?

A. I have heard that Rebellion and plundering the Districts adjacent to his Place of Residence were the Crimes alledged against him.

Q. You have only heard so?

A. I have only heard so.

Q. Have you ever seen any Depositions, or Copies of Depositions, or any Notes taken of Evidence produced upon his Trial?

A. I never have.

Q. Whether you know why, if he was under Sentence of Death when he was confined in the Fort of Goruckpore, the Execution of that Sentence was respited for Fifteen or Sixteen Months?

A. I do not know.

Q. Whether you recollect where Mustapha Cawn chiefly resided—and what the chief Place of his Residence was called?

A. I do not now recollect the Name of the Place, but I have heard it was situated either in the Province of Kyraabad or Barraitch?

Q. Was it situated in a Place called Nampara?

A. Yes; that was the Name of it.

Q. What is the Distance of that Place from Goruckpore, as well as you recollect?

A. I really cannot exactly say; about 200 or 250 Miles, perhaps; but I speak from Conjecture.

Q. What Distance do you conceive it to be from Baunfey?

A. I really cannot state the Distance.

Q. Is it near the Road from Goruckpore to Baunfey?

A. I should think not, from my Ideas of the Country; but I never was in that Part of the Country.

Q. Or from Baunfey to Buslee?

A. I should think not; but I really do not know that Part of the Country; I never was in it.

Q. Whether Mustapha Cawn, to your Knowledge, had any considerable Influence in the Neighbourhood of Goruckpore itself?

A. I do not suppose he had.

Q. Whether you recollect, and can swear, to the precise Time of your first hearing the Reports against the Begums?

A. As well as I recollect, it was during the Rebellion of Cheit Sing, or immediately after, that I first heard those Reports.

Q. Will you take upon yourself to swear that it was before the 19th of September 1781?

A. I really cannot.

Q. Where was you at that Time—on the 19th of September 1781?

A. As near as I can recollect, I should suppose on my March from Cawnpore to Illahabad.

Q. Did you ever communicate those Reports to Mr. Hastings, and when particularly?

A. What does the Question mean?

Q. Concerning the supposed Rebellion of the Begums?

A. No; I never did.

Q. Did you ever see or hear of a Letter of the Vizier to Mr. Purling, the Resident at Oude, dated the 19th November 1779, in which the Vizier says, "The late raised Brigade at Futtigur is not only quite useless to my Government, but is moreover the Cause of much Loss both in the Revenues and Customs; the detached Bodies of Troops under other European Officers bring nothing but Confusion to the Affairs of Government, and are entirely their own Masters?"

A. I have read that Letter in England, but I never heard of it in India.

Q. Do you recollect that Mr. Hastings ever made a Complaint to this Effect;—"That the remote Stations of those Troops" (meaning the Troops just described) "placing the Commanding Officers beyond the Notice and Controul of the Board, afforded too much Opportunity and Temptation for unwarrantable Emoluments, and excited the Contagion of Peculation and Rapacity throughout the whole Army?"

A. I have read that Account in England also.

Q. Did you ever hear any such Account in India?

A. I did not.

Q. When Mr. Hastings reformed those Troops upon the Ground of such Complaints,—did he never communicate, or cause to be communicated, to you, or to any other Officer serving in those Corps, so grievous a Complaint?

A. I never knew of any such Communication.

Q. (by Counsel.) You have stated the Expulsion of Genoo Roy from his Country,—whether Genoo Roy was expelled from his Country before he had shewn a Spirit and Purpose of retaining that Country hostilely against his Sovereign?

A. Genoo Roy, previous to his Expulsion, had collected a large Force, and had fortified his Fort and Town, and thrown up considerable Outworks.

Q. Did you apply to have Admission into his Town?

A. Yes.

Q. What Answer did you receive to that Application?

A. Previous to my making the Attack upon his Town, I sent down the Native Adjutant of the Battalion, requiring the Gates to be opened, and the Vizier's Troops to be admitted; the Adjutant returned and told me that the People were all under Arms, and would not open the Gates, and that they had the Rajah's Orders to oppose the Entrance of the Vizier's Troops.

Q. Had not the Rajah, by the Custom of the Country, an Alternative, either to hold his Country at the increased Rent demanded of him, or, upon his Surrender thereof, to have the customary Allowance called a Nankar—a certain Proportion of the gross Rents by the Person who succeeded him?

The Managers for the Commons objected to the Question, as a new Examination in Chief.

The Counsel for the Defendant were heard in Answer to the Objection.

The Question was read by the Clerk, as follows:

Q. Had not the Rajah, by the Custom of the Country, an Alternative, either to hold his Country at the increased Rent demanded of him, or, upon his Surrender thereof, to have the customary Allowance called a Nankar—a certain Proportion of the gross Rents by the Person who succeeded him?

The Managers for the Commons were informed, that the Inquiry was proper, being merely to explain Matter arising upon the Cross-Examination.

Then the Question was put to the Witness as follows:

Q. Had the Rajah, by the Custom of the Country, an Alternative, either to hold his Country upon the increased Rent demanded of him, or, upon his Surrender thereof, to have the customary Allowance, a Nankar, which is a certain Proportion of the gross Rent paid to him by the Person who succeeds him?

A. By the Custom of the Country, the Rajah certainly had it in his Power to have given up his Country upon the increased Rent being demanded of him: Had he given in, what is called in the Language of the Country, an Estapha, or Renunciation of the Lands; and in that Case had he made all the Cultivators of the Lands forth-coming, he would have received what is called a Nancar, which is an Allowance from Government, generally from Seven to Ten per Cent. upon the Revenue realized.

Q. Do you know whether the Rajah ever delivered in, or tendered any such Estapha or Deed of Renunciation?

A. I think he never did.

Q. Whether the Pension which appears to have been paid to Bulbudder Sing, by the Begum or the Government of Oude, was not paid him in order to buy off those Incursions which he was in the Habit of making into that Country?

A. I have understood that it was paid him to prevent his making those Incursions into the Country.

Q. You have been asked, upon the Subject of Mustapha Cawn, whether you ever saw the Sentence of his Condemnation, or the Record of his Conviction; whether you are acquainted with the Mode of Trial in that Country, or have been present at any Trials?

The Managers for the Commons objected to the Question.

Q. Do you know, whether any Record is made of Convictions in that Country, or Warrants, or Depositions, or Sentences formally drawn up, or Notes of Evidence taken—Do you know whether such Things exist, or have you seen them, if they do, in that Country?

A. I should suppose in the regular Courts of the Cutcherry they do exist, but I have never seen any of them.

Then the Counsel for the Defendant requested Permission to ask One or Two Questions, which they had omitted to ask upon the Examination in Chief, concerning Treasures deposited in a Zenana, whether such Act of Deposit vested a Right to them, in any of the Women belonging to the Zenana.

The Managers for the Commons said, if the House had no Objection, they had none.

Q. (by a Lord.) What did you mean by making the Tenants forth-coming; what is meant by the Expression "forth-coming?"

A. I meant, had he made the Cultivators of the Land forth-coming to the Aumils, that they might have collected the Rents from them.

Q. Then you mean to say something was to be done to have entitled that Person to the Seventh or Tenth of the Profits upon his Resignation;—state more fully what that Person was to do to be so entitled?

A. I mean, that the Person giving up his Lands is obliged to make every Farmer of his Country forth-coming to the Aumils, to the Officers of Government, that they may collect and receive the Rents from the Cultivators of the Land.

Q. Then if he could not make them so forth-coming, he was not entitled to this Allowance?

A. Certainly not.

Q. Whether it is invariably in their Power to make the Tenants so forth-coming: Whether it was in the Power of Ghinoo Roy to make them forth-coming if he pleased?

A. Every Farmer or Cultivator of Land gives a Security, and the Rajah must either have produced the Man or the Person who was Security for him.

Q. (by a Lord.) Why should there be a Difference of from Seven to Ten per Cent. upon the Nancar,—whether there is a given Sum, or whether it varies?

A. I mentioned from Seven to Ten per Cent. as the Medium of what has been ever given.

Q. Then it is not any fixed Sum that he has a Right to?

A. It is not a fixed Sum; but it is generally from Seven to Ten per Cent.

Q. Is it then as a Bargain, the best he can make for himself?

A. A great deal of that will depend upon the Manner in which the Rajah conducts himself.

Q. The Nancar is for the Estapha or Resignation?

A. Yes.

Q. Whether you understood the Nancar to be the Inducement to the Resignation, which is necessary to those Persons who gave him the Nancar?

A. Not as an Inducement, but as a Maintenance, when he gives up his Country.

Q. Is the Nancar ever given to those who do not make a formal or instrumental Resignation of it, which I understand to be what they call the Estapha?

A. It never is.

Q. (by

Q. (by a Lord.) What Steps did Ghinoo Roy take to make the Farmers forth-coming?

A. Ghinoo Roy never gave in his Estapha or Resignation of his Lands.

Q. Did he take any Steps to obstruct their forth-coming?

A. He was expelled the Country, and had it not much in his Power to obstruct them.

Q. What is a Nancar?

A. A Nancar is a Maintenance allowed for the Subsistence of the Rajah upon his fulfilling certain implied Duties, such as I before stated.

Q. You have said it varies between Seven and Ten per Cent.; whether in the Company's Provinces it is not fixed at Ten per Cent.?

A. I cannot say.

Q. Whether you know any Thing respecting the Customs of the East, as to Places of Deposit for their Treasures; and whether Zenanas are not usually employed as Places of such Deposit?

A. Zenanas are generally kept in the most secure Place in the Possession of the Nabob or Rajah who has them; and it is customary for the Nabobs or Rajahs to lodge their Treasure and most valuable Effects in those Places.

Q. Does the Act of depositing Treasures in Zenanas, by the Custom of that Country, confer a Right to those Treasures upon the Women in whose Zenanas they are so deposited.

The Managers for the Commons objected to the Question.

The Counsel for the Defendant were heard in Answer to the Objection.

The Question was ordered to be read by the Clerk, and being read accordingly, the Witnesses said,

A. I think it does not.

Q. (by Managers.) Whether you have ever studied the Law of that Country, Mahometan or Hindoo?

A. No, I never did.

Q. Did you ever put that Question to any Doctor of those Laws, commonly called Pundits, and to whom?

A. No, I never did.

Q. What Means had Ghinoo Roy, or any Person in his Situation, when removed from the Authority in his Zemindary, to make the Tenants answerable for their Payments to the Aumil, Chowdry, or whoever else was in Possession of the Land, so as to make them forth-coming?

A. I think a former Answer I gave perfectly answers the Question: Every Farmer gives a Security to the Rajah for the Payment of his Rents, and the Rajah certainly had it in his Power either to produce the Farmer, or his Security.

Q. By what Means, when he is out of Possession?

A. When a Rajah, or Zemindar, gives in an Estapha, he always remains in his Country, and attends the Aumils or Government Collectors whenever they come into his District, or whenever they summon him to appear before them.

Q. Suppose they should run away, what Remedy has he, if both Farmer and Security run away?

A. The Securities very seldom do run away, and if they did, it would certainly be the Rajah's Fault for having taken a bad Security.

Q. Then in that Case the Rajah had no Means of recovering his Nancar, or Pension?

A. He would certainly forfeit his Right to it, in Consequence of the Engagements they always, in these Cases, come under: or he would be obliged to make up the Deficiency of Revenue arising from his not producing the Farmer or his Security.

Q. As this Nancar is reserved upon the Rents received by the Aumil who succeeds, what Way has the dispossessed Rajah of compelling the Aumil to come to an Account with him upon that Subject, or of finally compelling him to pay the Nancar at all?

A. I never heard that an Aumil refused to pay the Nancar, if the Rajah fulfilled his Engagements; and he could have Recourse against the Aumil, were he inclined to refuse paying it, by a Complaint to the Vizier; but I believe it never happened, that the Aumil refused to pay the Nancar, if the Rajah fulfilled his Engagements.

Q. Have you then never heard of an unjust and oppressive Aumil in that Country?

A. Of many.

Q. Whether

Q. Whether, or no, the Nabob of Oude was sufficient Master of an English Collector in that Country, so as to punish him for any Act of Oppression of his, or of his Aumil?

A. I cannot possibly suppose, that the English Collector or Aumil would ever refuse paying the Rajah; and the general Confidence that takes Place among Mankind renders the Supposition almost impossible.

Q. Was it always easy for a Rajah to have Access to the Nabob of Oude, to obtain Justice against an Aumil in such a Case?

A. I never knew of such a Case happening.

The Witness was directed to withdraw.

The Counsel for the Defendant informed the House, they would next call John Wombwell Esquire.

Accordingly JOHN WOMBWELL Esquire, was called in, and being sworn, was examined as follows:

Q. When did you first arrive in India?

A. In the Year 1776.

Q. When did you leave it?

A. In the Year 1787.

Q. Did you continue there during all that Time?

A. I did.

Q. When did you first go to Lucknow?

A. I believe in 1779.

Q. When did you quit it?

A. In 1787, I believe.

Q. In what Capacity did you reside at Lucknow?

A. In several, as Paymaster, Auditor General, Accountant, and Treasurer.

Q. Was you at Lucknow when Intelligence arrived there of the Insurrection of Cheit Sing?

A. I was.

Q. What was the general Report with respect to the Conduct of the Begums, as connected with that Rebellion?

A. They were believed, by every Body I saw, to be hostile to the English.

Q. Did you ever hear that Fact doubted in India?

A. I did not; it was generally believed.

Q. Did you yourself believe it then, and do you believe it now?

A. Certainly.

Q. Did you ever hear of a 1,000 Nudjebbs having left Lucknow at any Time during the Months of August or September, in the Year 1781?

The Managers for the Commons objected to the Question.

The Counsel for the Defendant were heard in Answer to the Objection.

The Witness was asked,

Q. Do you know whether or not, in Point of Fact, One thousand Nudjeebs marched from Lucknow in the Months of August or September 1781 to the Assistance of Cheit Sing?

A. I do not know.

Q. Could they, according to the best of your Judgement, have marched from Lucknow without your knowing it, or having some Intimation of it?

A. I believe not.

Q. Had you ever any Intimation of it?

A. No.

Q. Of what Description of Persons were the Jaghiredars in general?

A. There were several Descriptions there;—Orderlies of the Nabob and others.

Q. Do you mean amongst the Persons who had Jaghires in the Nabob's Dominions?

A. I do.

Q. Were those, in general, Persons of good or bad Character ?

A. They had no Character at all.

Q. Did you know a Person of the Name of Bowanny Sing;—Look at that List and mention the Names you do know ?

Then a Paper was shewn to the Witness.

A. I remember most of them.

Q. Mention their Names ?

A. Bowanny Sing, Mico Sing, Mamosty Sing, Nawaub Sing, Subah Sing, and another whom I do not recollect at this Moment;—Sannata Cawn.

Q. Were the Names you have mentioned Orderlies ?

A. They were so; I have not a Doubt of it.

Q. Was the Possession of Jaghires in Oude beneficial or injurious to the good Government and Prosperity of the Country ?

A. They ~~were~~ have been injurious when given to such Men.

Q. Independent of the Characters of those Persons who held them, was there any Thing in the Tenure itself that was injurious in the Respect already mentioned ?

A. I am not sufficiently acquainted with the Subject.

Q. Having resided in India during Twelve Years, in what Estimation was the Character of Mr. Hastings generally held by the Natives of the Country ?

A. I do not believe there was a Name in Europe more revered than the Name of Mr. Hastings was by the Natives of India.

Q. Do you mean by the Term was—is ?

A. Is.

The Counsel for the Defendant desired the Two last Questions and Answers might be read.

The same were read accordingly by the Clerk, as follows :

‘ Q. Having resided in India during Twelve Years, in what Estimation was the Character of Mr. Hastings generally held by the Natives of the Country ?

‘ A. I do not believe there was a Name in Europe’—

The Witness said,

In the World.

The Clerk continued to read,

‘ —More revered than the Name of Mr. Hastings was by the Natives of India.’

‘ Q. Do you mean by the Term was—is ?

‘ A. Is.’

Q. (by a Lord.) By no Name in Europe, you mean no European ?

A. Certainly.

Q. (by Counsel.) Do you mean it is impossible for any Name in any Country to be held in higher Estimation than that of Mr. Hastings was, and is, in India ?

A. I do.

Q. Do you know whether the Nabob's Debt to the Company was liquidated during the Year 1784-5 ?

A. It was, except a small Balance that was paid up afterwards by him;—a very small Balance;—I do not recollect what.

Cross-examined by the Managers for the Commons.

Q. What Age was you when you first went up into the Country of Oude ?

A. About Twenty-eight or Twenty-nine.

Q. In what Situation was you, before you went up into Oude ?

A. Superintendent of Saltpetre at Purnea.

Q. Do you undertake to say that you knew of every Corps of the Nabob's Troops which marched at any Time from Lucknow during your Residence there ?

A. No; I do not pretend to say it.

Q. Then a Corps may have marched out of that Place without your Knowledge?

A. I should think not at that Time.

Q. Had you an official Account of all the Troops which marched with the Nabob when he left Lucknow in that Year?

A. No.

Q. Do you not know that in general some considerable Bodies of Troops did march with the Nabob?

A. He always had Troops with him upon his March.

Q. Do you know whether there were not among the Jaghiredars Persons of other Descriptions than those Orderlies that you mentioned?

A. Certainly.

Q. Had not the Nabob's Mother and Grandmother Jaghires?

A. They had.

Q. Had not some of the Nabob's Uncles, and other very near Relations, Jaghires?

A. I believe so.

Q. Had not other Mahometans of Distinction Jaghires?

A. I believe so.

Q. Were not some of them conferred in the Time of the Nabob Shujah ul Dowlah, or earlier?

A. I do not know when they were conferred.

Q. Have you not Reason to think that some of them were of long standing?

A. I do not know when they were conferred?

Q. Whether those Orderlies, who had Jaghires, were not placed in those Jaghires by the reigning Nabob Asoph ul Dowlah himself?

A. They were; I believe they were.

Q. Whether they were not Persons in the Nabob's Favour?

A. Undoubtedly.

Q. Whether the Nabob would not probably have a Reluctance to the Removal of Persons who owed their Situation to his Favour?

A. I believe they were Men of very little Consequence even to himself.

Q. Whether you was at Lucknow when several Effects were delivered by the Begums, in Discharge of the several Demands that were made upon them?

A. I heard that they were.

Q. In what official Situation was you when those Effects were brought to Lucknow?

A. I was Paymaster General to the Vizier's Troops under the Command of British Officers—no; I believe I was then Accountant to the Resident.

Q. You was in the Resident's Office?

A. Yes.

Q. Was it only in Mr. Bristow's Time that any Effects of the Begums were delivered up for the Use of the English Government?

A. I recollect but One.

Q. Were there no Effects of the Begums delivered up during Mr. Middleton's Residence,—no Jewels, no Plate, no Cloaths?

A. I recollect but One.

Q. Do you mean in Mr. Middleton's Time?

A. It was immediately after the Affair at Fyzabad.

Q. Then do you not recollect One Delivery in the Time of Mr. Middleton?

A. I recollect no Delivery, but only a Report that such Things were brought to Lucknow.

Q. Do you not recollect there was more than One such Delivery?

A. I do not; I recollect no Delivery, but a Report.

Q. Was you not an Accountant in Mr. Middleton's Office at that Time?

A. I was; no;—I was Paymaster at that Time, I believe; upon my Honour I do not recollect, but I believe I was Paymaster.

Q. Can you swear that you know nothing of the Transactions in Mr. Middleton's Office at that Period of Time?

A. I can swear I know nothing with regard to the Question of the Treasures brought from Fyzabad.

The last Question was read by the Clerk.

Q. Can you swear that you know nothing of the Transactions in Mr. Middleton's Office at that Period of Time?

A. No; it is impossible to swear that.

Q. Then you are asked particularly what Transactions in Mr. Middleton's Office you were likely to know, and what not—What Transactions you do know, and what not?

A. I never was in Mr. Middleton's Office.

The Counsel for the Defendant objected to the Question.

The Managers for the Commons were heard in Answer to the Objection.

The last Question and Answer were read by the Clerk.

Then the Witness was asked :

Q. Whether or no it was not understood that the official Situations in which you was, were subordinate to the Resident, and controulable by him?

A. Not, ~~after~~ I was Paymaster certainly.

Q. Was it, when you was Auditor, Treasurer and Accountant?

A. When I was Treasurer, there was no Resident.

Q. Whether those Offices of Accountant, Auditor, and Treasurer, are not, in the usual Course of Business in the Province of Oude, subordinate to the British Resident there?

A. The Office of Paymaster was not : The Office of Accountant, when there was a Resident, certainly was;—I was Accountant when there was no Resident.

Q. Was not that of Treasurer?

A. There was no Resident when I was Treasurer.

Q. The Question is, whether, in the ordinary Course and Constitution of the Office, those Offices are not subordinate to the Resident when there is one there?

A. The Paymaster was not; the Accountant was when there was a Resident; the Treasurer was an Appointment formed when the Resident was recalled.

Q. Then how comes it that, in the Course of that Affair, you come to know nothing at all of the Money Transactions between the Begums and the Resident?

A. Because I had nothing to do with them.

Q. If Money was received from the Sale of the Begums Effects, who was to receive that Money on Account of the English?

A. The Resident was to receive it from the Nabob, the Paymaster received it from the Resident.

Q. Are you sure that you were neither Auditor, nor Accountant, nor Treasurer, at any of the Times of Receipt of Money or Effects from the Begums?

A. I was Paymaster and Auditor to the Vizier's Troops at the Time I first heard these Reports.

The last Question and Answer were read by the Clerk.

The Witness said,

I do not remember to have heard of them at any other Time.

Q. The Question is, whether, at any Time of the Receipt of Money or Effects from the Begums, you were in any Office of Treasurer, Accountant, or Auditor, at any Time of receiving any Money or Effects from the Begums?

A. I recollect such Report only once, and then I was Paymaster and Auditor; I believe so, but I do not recollect.

Q. Whether, at any of those Periods of Time, you was in any of those Offices, or in any of such Office as the Question described?

A. I recollect the Report but once, and I never was at Lucknow but in Office.

Q. Whether you can undertake to swear that you were not in any of those Offices at such Times, at any of the Times when any Goods or Money were received by the Office from the Begums, during the Period of the Year 1782?

A. I never received any of the Effects.

The Question was objected to as having been answered already.

The

The last Five Questions put to the Witness, and his Answers thereto, were ordered to be read.

The same were accordingly read by the Clerk.

Q. (by Managers.) Can you correctly recollect whether you were in no Office of Account at the Time you heard the Report of the Delivery of the Begums Effects or Money, after the beginning of January 1782?

The Counsel for the Defendant objected to the Question.

Q. (by Managers.) Whether you will swear you was not, at the Time you heard that Report, in the Office of Accountant General?

A. I was always in the Office of Accounts, but not in any that had to do with the Begums; indeed I recollect nothing about the Matter.

Q. Will you undertake to swear you was not an Accountant in the Office of Receipt and Account, not Paymaster in particular, but whether you can swear you was not Accountant General at that Period of Time?

A. I do not recollect the Period.

Q. The Period was subsequent to January 1782?

A. Nothing will be so easy as to refer to the Appointment, which was public.

Q. (by a Lord.) From what Time to what Time were you in that Office?

A. I do not recollect.

Q. (by Managers.) Will you take upon you to swear that you heard the Reports against the Begums, before October 1781?

A. The Reports I heard were at the Time of the Rebellion of Cheit Sing, the Reports I heard were at that Time.

Q. Can you swear it was before October?

A. I certainly cannot swear it.

Q. Did you make any Report to Mr. Hastings of the Information you received, concerning the Rebellion of the Begums, and when?

A. No.

Q. You say you believe no one doubted of the Begums Rebellion, did you ever converse with Mr. Bristow upon that Subject?

A. I do not recollect—I dare say I have—but I do not recollect.

Q. Did Mr. Bristow entertain no Doubt of it?

A. I do not remember, but I dare say he had Doubts about it—I do not at this Moment recollect any Conversation I had with Mr. Bristow on the Subject.

Q. Was you at Lucknow when Sir Elijah Impey was there, taking Affidavits upon this Subject?

A. I was.

Q. Whether you know how you came not to be examined upon it then?

A. I really do not.

Q. What is the Amount of your Commission of One and an Half per Cent. upon the Receipts?

The Counsel for the Defendant objected to the Question.

The Witness said, he had no Objection to answer the Question.

Q. What was the Amount of that Commission communibus annis?

A. There was but One Year I received, or a Year and an Half—I stated it to the Directors at about 15,000 l.

Q. What other Emoluments had you?

A. No other Emoluments but what were public, and they are in the Accounts.

Q. What other public Emoluments had you?

A. There were none but the public Emoluments.

Q. None, during your holding that Office?

A. None.

Q. What

Q. What other public Emoluments were there besides the Commission?

A. The Establishment of the Office.

Q. What was the Establishment?

A. There were several Servants, the Amount of the Whole between 4,000 or 5,000 Rupees a Month.

Q. What other official Advantages, Emoluments, and Salaries, had you, besides the One and an Half per Cent. Commission?

A. There was an Establishment for the Office, I believe between 4,000 and 5,000 Rupees a Month, which included the Whole Expence of the Office—it is stated in the public Accounts, and regularly stated every Month.

Q. (by Counsel.) Whether, besides public Emoluments that appear upon the public Accounts, there were any private Emoluments which you received?

A. None, and no Man doubts it.

Q. (by Managers.) By whom, and by whose Interest was you appointed to the Office in which you received a Commission of 1 and an Half per Cent. upon the Receipts, as well as the other official Emoluments?

A. By the Board.

Q. Do you mean the Governor General and Council, or not?

A. Certainly.

Q. Whether you know of any Pensions paid by the Vizier to the English, through the Resident or the Accounts of my Office in England, and I can tell by referring to them.

Q. Have you any Objection to producing that List of Pensions, and verifying it upon Oath?

A. I have a List of Pensions—the Books I have are Copies of the Books, I believe, that are in the House.

The Managers for the Commons desired the following Question, before put to the Witnesses, might be read.

The same was accordingly read by the Clerk; viz.

Q. Whether you know of any Pension paid by the Vizier to the English, through the Resident or yourself?

A. I have the Accounts of my Office in England, and I can tell by referring to them.

Then the Witness was asked,

Q. Do you know of any such Pension?

A. My Accounts were all public.

Q. Do you know of any Pensions on that Account?

A. I do not know of any Pensions.

Q. Whether you know of any Resident's Pension paid at Oude, to the English, through the Resident, yourself, or any other Person—Do you know whether any Pensions were paid at Oude by the Resident, yourself, or any other Person, to British Subjects?

A. There were several British Subjects who held Offices, whether they were Pensions or not—there were many English Gentlemen that held Offices, and received Salaries.

Q. Whether you know of no English Subject that received a Pension, without holding an Office, or that received a Pension over and above his Salary?

A. If the Honble. Manager will do me the Favour to mention any particular Person, I may answer, but I do not recollect any—I believe there was an Office attached to every Salary that I paid, that I recollect.

Q. Then, you swear positively, that you do not recollect any English Person receiving a Pension from Oude, except those who had an Office?

A. I do not certainly—I mean to answer that I do not at this Moment recollect it, but I may be mistaken.

Q. (by Counsel.) Have you any Knowledge respecting the Fact to which you are examined, except your public Accounts?

A. None at all.

The Counsel for the Defendant submitted, that the Witness having answered as above, the Managers ought to produce the Accounts, if they meant to make them a Part of their Case.

The Managers for the Commons were heard in Answer to the Objection.

The Managers for the Commons were informed by the House, that after the Witness had said he had no other Knowledge except the Account, and no Recollection distinct from the Account, the Account itself was the best Evidence.

The Witness said,

A. The Accounts are public Accounts; I have no other.

Q. (by the Managers.) Whether you know of any Pensions paid by the Resident?

A. I know of none.

Q. Do you know any Thing of Mr. Trevor Wheeler receiving a Pension?

A. Mr. Wheeler was my Deputy Paymaster General.

Q. What did he receive for that?

A. I am ashamed to say—I do not recollect—but it is in the public Account.

Q. Do you or not know that he received a Pension over and above the Salary different from any other Person in the same Situation?

A. Yes, I do;—I have heard of it; but what it was I really do not know.

The Counsel for the Defendant repeated their Objection to the Examination.

The Counsel for the Defendant were informed that the Witness had said, ‘If particular Names were mentioned to him, he might be able to answer.’

The Witness was asked,

Q. Do you know whether Major Palmer ever received any Allowance?

A. I do not know of any Pension paid to Major Palmer; I do not know of any; I have heard it from mere Report.

Q. Was you not Accountant General at that Time?

A. I was.

Q. Whether you do not know that Major Palmer had a Pension?

A. He was the Agent, and had a Salary as Agent.

Q. Agent to whom?

A. To the Governor General.

Q. Who had he his Salary from?

A. I do not at this Moment recollect whether I paid it or not; if I did, it is in the public Accounts.

Q. You do not recollect whether you did pay him that Salary or Pension, or not?

A. I have been very ill since that Time, and a great deal of it has gone out of my Memory; I know Nothing but what is in the public Account.

Q. Whether you do not know that Mr. Palmer, a confidential Friend of Mr. Hastings, had a Pension paid to him?

A. I have no private Accounts; they were public Accounts, and transmitted regularly to the Board. I do not recollect, at this Moment, whether Major Palmer received a Salary or not: I am ashamed I do not recollect it, but I do not.

Q. Do you know the Difference between a common Salary and a Pension?

A. Certainly. But Pensions I paid none. There were no Pensions.

Q. Then you swear that you do not know or recollect that you paid any Pension or Salary to Major Palmer?

A. I paid Nothing privately; all that I paid was public, and are in the Accounts—if that is what is meant.

Q. What Accounts?

A. The Accounts publicly transmitted monthly to the Board.

Q. Give a distinct Answer:—Did you ever make any and what Payment to Major Palmer, and upon what Account?

A. I have already stated that I am ashamed to say I do not recollect what it was at this Moment, but it is in the Account;—I paid Nothing privately, if I did pay it, I paid it publicly.

Q. Do you undertake to swear that you paid no Salary to Major Palmer, or Pension or other Payment, than those which appear in the public Accounts transmitted to the Board?

A. Most readily.

Q. Had

Q. Had Mr. Thomas, the Surgeon, a Pension paid to him?

The Counsel for the Defendant objected to the Examination.

A. He had a Salary.

Q. Do you recollect paying it to him?

A. Yes, I do; but I do not recollect, at this Moment, whether the Agent received his Salary from me or not: I do not know whether he received it from me, or whether it was paid at Calcutta by the Treasury.

Q. Can you undertake to say it was not paid by the Resident?

A. There was no Resident at that Time.

Q. When Pensions were paid, from whose Funds were they paid, from the Company's Treasury, or the Vizier's?

A. In Lucknow they were paid from the Vizier's. All that came from the Vizier were paid from His:—Public Salaries I mean. I believe the Agent had a public Salary, I do not recollect; but nothing is so easy as to refer to the public Accounts.

Q. Whether you know of any Accounts produced by Major Palmer, in the Year 1785?

A. I do not.

Then the Managers for the Commons shewed a Paper to the Witness, which they stated to be, an Extract of the Proceedings of the Governor General and Council in the Secret Department, of the 3d of May 1785, and to be contained in a Collection of Papers, which the Committee of Managers made for their own Information.

And the following Question was put to the Witness:

Q. Whether the Pensions there stated, are in the monthly Accounts transmitted by you to the Board?

A. There is one Account of, 'paid, Mr. Willes,' that I did not.

The Witness was informed by the House, that the Question was not Whether he paid them or not, but,

Q. Whether those Payments were entered in his monthly Accounts?

A. I really cannot say, but I am ready to produce the Monthly Accounts—I paid nothing privately—I paid none but what is in those Monthly Accounts.

Q. (by Managers). Then since you cannot say whether they are in the Monthly Accounts, you are desired to call to Memory, whether or no the Payments said to be paid in this Account now laid before you, were paid by you, or not?

The Counsel for the Defendant objected to the Question.

The Witness was asked,

Q. Whether you have not sworn whatever Pensions were paid to the English from the Nabob, were paid to you?

A. It is impossible I could have sworn to what the Nabob did.

Then the following Question, before put to the Witness, and his Answer to the same, were read by the Clerk.

Q. When Pensions were paid, from whose Funds were they paid, from the Company's Treasury, or from the Vizier's?

A. In Lucknow they were paid from the Vizier's. All that came from the Vizier were paid from His: Public Salaries I mean. I believe the Agent had a public Salary—I do not recollect, but nothing is so easy as to refer to the public Accounts.

Then the Witness was asked,

Q. Would you be understood to say, that to the best of your Knowledge, the Pensions paid to the English from the Vizier's Funds, were not paid to you?

A. I know nothing but what I paid myself.

Q. Are you understood rightly, that as far as you know all the Payments you made upon Account of the Vizier, all that came from the Vizier, all Payments on the Part of the Vizier to the English that came through you, appear upon the public Accounts;—Is that so?

A. Yes, and I know of no other.

Then the last Question and Answer were read by the Clerk.

And the Witness added to his Answer,

Yes certainly.

Q. Then

( 2004 )

Q. Then say whether you have heard and believe that Major Palmer had a Pension or some Payment made to him on Account of the Nabob?

The Question was objected to.

The Witness was directed to withdraw.

The Counsel for the Defendant informed the House they would next call Mr. Auriol.

Then the Court adjourned to the Chamber of Parliament.

Die Fovis, 18<sup>o</sup> Aprilis 1793.

THE Lords being in their Places, the House resumed, the usual Proclamations made, and the Defendant appearing at the Bar, the Lord Chancellor informed the Counsel for the Defendant they might proceed with his Defence.

The Counsel for the Defendant desired Mr. Auriol might be called in.

JAMES PETER AURIOL Esquire was accordingly called in; and being sworn, was examined as follows :

Q. Was you in the Company's Service ?
A. Yes.

Q. In what Capacity did you serve, and how long ?

A. I went out as a Writer in the Year 1770; I remained in Bengal till the End of the Year 1783.

Q. Was you at Calcutta in the latter End of the Year 1781, and in the Beginning of the Year 1782 ?

A. I might add to that Answer, that I was Secretary to the Government there, from August 1775 till I left India. I was at Calcutta in the End of 1781, and in the Beginning of 1782.

Q. Do you remember any Letter being received from Mr. Hastings, dated the 29th of November 1781 ?

A. I would beg Leave to ask if the Question means a Letter containing the Treaty with the Nabob Asoph ul Dowlah.

Q. Yes, that Letter ?

A. That Letter, I believe, was received in Course at the Presidency, by the Members of the Board to whom it was addressed—I remember it's being brought to the Board.

The Counsel for the Defendant said, they should have stated that the Purpose of the present Examination was to refute an Assertion of the Managers for the Commons, in Page 799 of the printed Minutes, " that no such Letter as the above-mentioned Letter of the 29th of November 1781, was written at that Time, or received or entered upon the Consultations at Calcutta."

The Witnesses was asked ;

Q. Whether any such Letter was received in due Course at Calcutta, at that Time ?

A. I was in the Course of my Answer—It was received in Course at Calcutta, by the Members of the Board to whom it was addressed;—I remember seeing it in Council a considerable Time before the sailing of the Swallow Packet, which, I believe, sailed about the End of December. The Letter remained in the Possession of Sir John M<sup>c</sup> Pheflon. I applied to him for it repeatedly, that it might be entered upon the Records, and transmitted to Europe by the Swallow, but he did not deliver it to me. I believe he told me, by Note, it was not necessary to send it by the Swallow, or something to that Purport. Afterwards, upon Mr. Hastings's Return to Calcutta, I think I mentioned to him, that the Letter had not been entered; and as well as I can recollect, his Answer was, that a Duplicate came down with the Narrative, and that the entering therefore of the Original was of no Consequence, it would answer no Purpose. The Duplicate was annexed to the Narrative, which was entered of Course.

Q. The Narrative and that Duplicate, were they sent to the Court of Directors ?

A. They were sent home to the Court of Directors by the Nancy, I think.

Q. Was there a Letter at the same Time sent home, of the 23d of January 1782 ?

A. I would beg to ask the Purport of that Letter, because I cannot remember Dates.

Q. It contained an Account of the Measures adopted with respect to the Begums, and then in Prosecution at Fyzabad ?

A. I remember there was such a Letter, and I believe it was entered on the Consultations, and transmitted home; whether a Copy of it was sent a Number in the Packet besides, I cannot say: the List of the Packet will determine.

Q. You have stated that you was Secretary to the Board at this Period, in what State was the Credit of the Bengal Government in the latter End of the Year 1781?

A. The public Credit at that Time was entirely exhausted; every possible Means had been taken to raise Money upon Loan, and the Bonds granted bore a considerable Discount; the Treasury was opened for further Loans, but no Sums were paid in; the Treasury was insolvent; the Drafts granted upon it by the Board, and payable at Sight, were often a considerable Time unpaid.

Q. In what Way, or from what Resources, were the other Dependencies at that Time supported—Madras and Bombay?

A. I believe entirely from Bengal; I believe they relied upon Bengal only for their Support for carrying on the War. The Presidency of Madras paid for almost every Thing in Drafts upon Bengal, which Drafts bore a considerable Discount the Moment they were issued, and were never regularly paid when due, or hardly ever, I believe.

Q. Had you yourself been present, and seen the Condition of the Presidency of Madras a little before that Period?

A. I went to Madras in the Year 1781 for the Benefit of my Health. I remained at Madras till August 1781. The Settlement of Madras was in the greatest possible Distress for Provisions of every Kind. Hyder Ally was in Possession of all the open Country up to the Gates of Madras. While at Madras I was frequently prevented from taking the Air out of the Fort, on account of the Danger from straggling Parties of Hyder's Troops, and the Inhabitants of Madras were generally prevented from going out on that Account from Madras. A Sea Voyage had been recommended to me; I went down in the Lively Packet, I believe it was in April or May, about April 1781 and visited Sir Eyre Coote, who was then in Command of the Army at Cuddalore. He told me the Army had then only Three Days Provisions; and he marched out, I believe, the next Day, or the Day following, and gave Battle to Hyder Ally.—In coasting it along, I saw the Horizon in Flames every Night from the Devastations supposed to be occasioned by Hyder and his Followers.

The Counsel for the Defendant stated, That it having been asserted by the Managers for the Commons, 'that whatever the Circumstances of the Danger might have been pretended to be in the Dominions of Oude before the Time of signing the Treaty of Chunar, yet that after that Time, and after the Seizure of the Treasures was determined upon, no State Necessity whatever existed upon which the Defendant could justify that Measure;' (a)

They would next ask the Witnesses,

Q. Whether the Distress he had described, ceased at the Time of the Treaty of Chunar, which was the 19th of September 1781?

A. I think the Distresses and Difficulties increased from that Time till the Conclusion of the War.

Q. Do you know whether the Troops in the different Stations of the Army were considerably in Arrear after that Period—after the 19th of September 1781?

A. The Troops were in Arrear differently according to their different Stations; and so much so, that as the Treasury could not answer the Drafts made upon it by Government, for the current Services, I think I recollect an Order of the Board, that the Disbursements of the Army should have a Preference to all other Demands: Notwithstanding which they still continued in Arrear, and the Military Paymaster General in his monthly Applications to the Board for Cash, was directed and did state the Sums which the Troops were in Arrears, as well as I recollect.

Q. You have given an Account of the State of the Credit of the Bengal Government, whether you confine that to the Year 1781, or whether it continued to 1782 in that Respect?

A. I think I have said, that the Difficulties increased; to explain that, I may add, that the Sum usually allotted for the Investment being near a Million Sterling, or about a Million Sterling, was diverted from that Object, and an Investment was supplied by the Subscriptions of Individuals who were repaid by Bills upon England, and further by Certificates granted upon the Opium sent to China, exchangeable there for Bills upon the Company in these Two Methods.

Q. Do you remember any general Report prevailing respecting the Conduct of the Begums towards the British Government in the Year 1781, and what Part they took?

A. I returned to Bengal from Madras about the 1st of September 1781; the first Report I heard upon my Arrival in the River, was of the Rebellion of Cheit Sing, and the dangerous Situation in which Mr. Hastings was. From that Time, the News received from that Quarter was by no Means regular, but was the daily Topic of Conversation; and the Disaffection of the Begums, and the Assistance offered by them to the Endeavours of Cheit Sing, were talked of as Subjects of common Report; I never heard their Disaffection doubted, nor do I myself doubt it.

Q. How long afterwards did you stay in India?

A. I mean that while I was in India;—I never heard it doubted while I was in India.

Q. Have you yourself to this Hour had any Reason to doubt of that Report?

A. None.

Q. Having stated the Length of Time that you was in India, in what Estimation, during the whole Period of your Stay in India, was the Character and Conduct of Mr. Hastings held?

A. I believe no Person existing has a more perfect Knowledge of India and its Inhabitants than Mr. Hastings: I think no Man could be more zealously attentive than he was to advance the Prosperity of the Country; to secure the Welfare and Happiness of the People; and at the same Time to promote the Interests of his Employers and the Parent State. The Inhabitants of India, both Europeans and Natives, with very few Exceptions, revered and loved Mr. Hastings for his able and good Conduct in public Life; and admired and esteemed him for his Benevolence and Humanity in private Life. I believe there never was a Character in India which stood higher with the People there than Mr. Hastings, both for his public and private Virtues.

Cross-examined by the Managers for the Commons.

Q. What Time did you first hear of this Disaffection and Rebellion of the Begums, precisely?

A. As nearly as I can speak, it was between the Month of September and the End of the Year.

Q. Whether you can swear that you heard it at any Time before the Month of November 1781?

A. I cannot positively swear to it; I am not certain whether it was so soon as that. The Communication was interrupted—

Q. Whether you did not say that you did not know of any Person in India who doubted it whilst you remained there?

A. I meant to say I never heard it doubted, to the best of my Recollection, while I was there.

Q. Whether you was Secretary to the Board at the Time a Motion was made by Mr. M<sup>r</sup>Pherson, or by Mr. Stables, upon that Subject?

A. I remember a Motion, I think by Mr. Stables, to institute some Enquiry in consequence of Orders from the Court of Directors respecting the Begums. The precise Terms of those Orders I cannot say I do recollect.

Q. Whether those Orders did not fully imply a Doubt upon that Subject?

A. I beg the Orders may be referred to.

Q. Answer, upon your Memory, whether those Orders did not imply a Doubt of the Share which the Begums had in that Rebellion?

The Counsel for the Defendant objected to the Question.

The Managers for the Commons were heard in Answer to the Objection.

The Managers for the Commons were informed by the House, that the Question could not be put.

Q. Whether in the Proceedings of the Board, upon the Letter from the Court of Directors, you had not Reason to observe, that there was a Difference of Opinion upon that Subject in some of the Members of the Board itself?

The Counsel for the Defendant objected to the Question.

The Witness said,

A. I have no Sort of Objection to state my Recollection upon the Subject, as far as it goes; it may or not be accurate, and the Proceedings themselves will shew the Difference, if there should be any. I recollect an Order from the Court of Directors, that some Enquiry should be made concerning the Rebellion of the Begums, and that this Order remained some Time without any Notice being taken of it by the Board; after which, I think, Mr. Stables wrote a Minute, proposing, that it should be carried into Effect: It was carried against the Question, as tending to renew a Subject which was then obsolete. That, as far as I can speak from Recollection, was the State of the Case—I am not sure; the Proceedings are the best Authority.

Q. Did you, or did you not, ever hear the Disaffection of the Begums doubted at the Council Board?

A. I cannot recollect that I did; I am not certain that the Minute of Mr. Stables went so far as to express a Doubt of his own; speaking from Memory, I should rather think not, and that was a long Time after the Event.

Q. Whether you was not concerned as Contractor for the Provisions sent from Calcutta Madras, and charged upon Mr. Hastings as an Offence in the present Impeachment?

A. I had no Contract; I was appointed by the Board Agent for Supplies to the other Presidencies—and, I believe, the Subject of this Agency is a Matter of the present Impeachment.

Q. (by Counsel in Reply.) Whether Mr. Stables was in India at the Time of Cheit Sing's Insurrection?

A. No; I believe he arrived some Time afterwards.

The Witness was directed to withdraw.

The Counsel for the Defendant informed the House, they would next call Captain Michael Symes.

Accordingly Captain MICHAEL SYMES was called in; and being sworn, was examined as follows:

Q. Did you know Mr. Scott of Taundah?

A. I did.

Q. Is he dead or living?

A. He is dead.

Q. When did he die?

A. He died the latter End of January last.

Q. Where?

A. In Ireland.

Q. Do you know whether, about that Time, Mr. Scott was preparing to come to England to give his Testimony upon this Trial?

A. He was.

The Witness was directed to withdraw.

Then WILLIAM PAXTON Esquire was called in, and being sworn, was examined as follows.

Q. Did you know Major M'Donald in the Service of the East India Company, and who served under Colonel Hannay in Oude?

A. I did.

Q. Is that Gentleman yet in India?

A. I believe so—I had a Letter from him, dated February 1792.

Q. From what Place?

A. I am not sure of the Place—somewhere in India—I believe from Cawnpore.

Q. Do you believe he is since returned?

A. No.

Then the Witness was directed to withdraw.

Then Mr. WRIGHT was again called in, and examined as follows:

Q. What Office have you at the East India House?

A. Auditor of India Accounts.

Q. What was the Amount of the Debt due from Sujah Dowlah at the Period of his Death, on the 26th of January 1775?

A. 44,1,877 Oude Sicca Rupees.

Q. What is it in Pounds Sterling?

A. I have not reduced it; I believe, 480,000 l.

Q. What was the Amount of the Cash received from Oude, from September 1781 to September 1785, inclusive?

A. £. 4,291,976 valuing the Current Rupee at Two Shillings.

Q. Have

The Witnefs produced a Paper, and faid,

A. I have fuch an Account in my Hand.

Q. Is that a correct Account of the Amount of thofe Expences?

A. It is, as taken from the Company's Books received from India.

Then the Account was delivered in at the Table, and is as follows :

The Witnefs was directed to withdraw.

Then Mr. HUDSON was again called in, and examined as follows :

Q. Whether you have carefully examined the Records of the India Houfe, for the Purpose of difcovering whether, in any Document of any Defcription, the Begums, or their Minifters, ever asserted that their Jaghires were held for Life, or that they were entitled to hold their Jaghires for their Lives—did you find in a fingle Instance, that they ever did assert that Right?

A. No; I did not.

Q. Have you fearchcd for the Purpose?

A. I have.

Q. Whether you have carefully examined the Correspondence of Mr. Bristow with the Board, and his Letters, which appear upon the Consultations?

A. I have.

Q. Did you difcover, in any one Letter of Mr. Bristow, an Opinion expreffed denying the Begums Hostility to the British Government?

The Managers for the Commons objected to the Queftion.

The Counsel for the Defendant were heard in Answer to the Objection.

The Witnefs faid,

A. I have not.

Cross-examined by the Managers for the Commons.

Q. Have you read the Translation of the Treaty with the elder Begum under the Seal of the Nabob Asoph ul Dowlah, and under the Seal and Signature, of Mr. Middleton, in the Persian Public Correspondence of the Year 1778. It is in Page 422 of the printed Evidence; that which was transmitted to the Council from Mr. Purling?

A. I certainly have read it.

Q. Do you remember this Article in it:—‘ The English are Guarantees to the above Engagement as long as the Begums shall exist?’

A. I do recollect that Passage.

Q. In what Manner did that Treaty come before the Board, as you recollect?

A. It was sent down, I believe, by Mr. Purling.

Q. Upon what Ground was it? Whether the Begums Jaghire was not guaranteed in that Treaty?

A. I think it certainly does guarantee them.

Q. Was that produced as an Argument against the Resumption of the Jaghires?

A. I cannot recollect at this present Instant what was the Argument against it.

Q. Whether the Jaghires, after being taken from the Begums, were not delivered up to them again in Consequence of this Treaty?

A. Is it meant when they were delivered up to them in 1784?

Q. No; at the Time when the Controversy was, when this Treaty was produced and sent down by Mr. Purling?

A. I cannot recollect.

The Counsel for the Defendant objected to the Examination.

The Managers for the Commons were heard in Answer to the Objection.

The Witness was asked;

Q. Whether you have read the Treaty with the younger Begum?

A. I dare say, I have read them all.

Then the printed Minutes of Evidence were shewn the Witness, and he was asked,

Q. Whether you recollect this Passage in it: “ Moreover his Highness has given the illustrious English Chiefs as Guarantees for the due Performance of the above Stipulations, as long as her Highness lives; I therefore, on the Part of the illustrious English Chiefs, deliver this written Engagement, that there be no Room for a Change or Failure in the Articles above recited.” Whether or no this was not sent down on the Part of the younger Begum by Mr. Purling, as well as the other?

A. I believe they were.

Q. Whether the Treaty did not specify by Name, those Jaghires held by the Begum?

A. I think there is a List of Jaghires annexed, to the best of my Recollection.

Q. Whether they were not given up likewise in Consequence of this Engagement, upon the Production of this Treaty?

A. I cannot recollect that; the Records will shew it;—I conceive the Question asked me by the Counsel, only related to any Correspondence that might have passed between the Governor General and the Begums, or their Ministers.

The Counsel for the Defendant informed the House, they should now resume the written Evidence, where it was interrupted on a former Day by the Examination of Witnesses, and proceed in proving the distressed Situation of the Company's Affairs in the Year 1781, at the Period when the Defendant went upon his Journey to the Upper Provinces, and likewise at a subsequent Period.

For which Purpose the Counsel for the Defendant stated, they should first refer the House to the Evidence upon this Subject, given in a former Year, and already on the Minutes in Pages 1547, 1560, 1562, and 1598, and then produce a Document, to shew, that in July 1781, Sir Eyre Coote's Army was so critically situated for Want of Pay and Provisions, that it was with the utmost Difficulty the Clamour of the Troops could be suppressed.

" Gentlemen,

" I have the Pleasure to acquaint you, that the Nancy Ketch has arrived safe with the Treasure Consignments, said to be in Gold, in Value equivalent to C. " I beg of you to accept my Thanks for this Supply, which has proved a most seasonable one; the Army being very considerably in Arrears, and until lately so much distressed for Want of Pay, that but for the personal Attention shewn the Troops, my own Exertions to raise a little Money in the starving Town of Cuddalore, and the spirited Efforts of Lord Macartney, since his Accession to the Government, to the same End at the Presidency; I say, but for the little pecuniary Aid these united Endeavours produced, and which served in some Measure to suppress the Clamours of the Troops, the Consequences might have been most pernicious.

Lieutenant General Sir Eyre Coote absent on Service at Fort St. George.

" Read and approved the Proceedings of the 18th instant.

" Read the following Letter from Fort St. George.

" Honble. Sir and Sirs,

" Amidst the Difficulties which involve this Settlement, it is some Consolation to us that a Member of your Board has had so late an Opportunity of judging on the Spot of the Evils which threaten or surround us, as well as our Efforts to avert them. The Enemy beaten, though not expelled, continues by his Cavalry, to which we have not Cavalry to oppose, to lay waste the whole Country. We are thus deprived of Provisions, and of Revenue arising from any Part of the Territories of this Presidency, except from the Circars. The Expences of the Civil Establishment are about 18,000 Pagodas per Month; the Military Expences, exclusive of the Detachment sent from Bengal under Colonel Pearse, amount to above 200,000 Pagodas monthly; the Civil and Military Arrears exceed already Ten Lacks Pagodas: To answer such Demands there is now in the Treasury the Sum of 150,000 Pagodas, with little Expectation of getting any considerable Remittance from our Subordinates for several Months. That the Garrisons daily attacked or threatened, and the Army occupied in the Field, might have less Occasion to murmur on Account of Arrears, we have stopt all Payment in the Civil Establishment for a Year past, which, though proper in the Consideration we have mentioned, has however thrown the Settlement into very poignant Distress.

• by the Fugitive.
See in Orig.

" The Army having been entirely supplied with Provisions from hence, and the Consumption of this Settlement is increased * from the Cruelties of Hyder, we now, notwithstanding the great Importation of Grain from Bengal, and the Circars, have not 1,000 Bags in Store. There are about 18,000 Bags in divers Vessels in the Road. From the List you sent us of Ships said to be bound from Calcutta with Grain, for the Account of Company or of Individuals, there remains 70,000 Bags of Rice to arrive yet here; but by a Calculation of the Consumption of that Article, restrained as it has been by the high Price it bore, and by Regulations in the Vent of it, it is evident that nothing less than a Supply of 150,000 Bags will prevent, before the End of the Year, a Famine here, of the Approach of which there appear already some most affecting Symptoms. Our Letters from the Circars, though they mention Abundance of Grain, declare also the impossibility of sending it to us through Want of Tonnage. We have indeed taken up the few Ships that could be had here to bring us Provisions from thence, but the Whole is inconsiderable, comparatively to the Prospect of our Wants, and it is from your Hands, whose Liberality in furnishing us Troops, Money, and Provisions, we have so long and so much experienced, that we must expect our chief Support.

" We must observe that we have had no Assistance of any Kind from the southern Part of this Coast. Many of the Ports are in Possession of our European or Indian Enemies, which has greatly interrupted the Communication, and the Seizure, by some of His Majesty's Squadron, of Vessels laden with Grain for this Market, as belonging to Black People, residing under the Protection of the Dutch, is thought to have deterred many others in their Neighbourhood, from venturing out with Supplies for us.

" To the Continuance of these Evils we are not as yet able to foresee a Termination; for though the Bravery and Discipline of our Troops, and the Ability and Experience of Sir Eyre Coote, have been attended with repeated Victories, yet such are the Difficulties that obstruct his Progress, such is the Facility the Enemy possesses of over-running and desolating the Country, that the General entertains but little Hope of enabling us to draw any Supply of Food or Treasure from it. He has not been able hitherto to penetrate far into the Country, either to the Relief of our remote Garrisons, or to the Attack of the principal Forts held by Hyder. As the whole Conduct of the War has been entrusted to him in consequence of the Resolution of the late Administration here, we have applied to him for a Communication of his Intentions absolutely necessary to be known to us now, though hitherto we have contented ourselves either with exerting our Authority in the Manner he desired, or transferring it to him for the Purpose of forwarding his Measures. He is now engaged in an Attempt to relieve the Garrison of Vellore, and possibly to attack Arrot, of which the Event will no doubt determine his future Plans, on which, and on the Necessity of our Situation, the Resolutions of this Presidency will be founded: If the Enemy should still continue his Depredations in the Carnatic, thereby depriving us in Fact entirely of the Benefit of it, we must, with regard to all effectual Resource, consider ourselves as immured within the Walls of Fort St. George; and, were even the Enemy to withdraw from our Neighbourhood, so effectually have all Traces of Cultivation disappeared, so destroyed are the Villages, so ruined and dispersed are the Individuals who were employed in Tillage, that the Inhabitants of the Towns can during Part of next Year, as well as in the End of the present, be by no other Means preserved from Famine, than by external Resources, mostly from your Government.

" We owe to the Situation in which you are placed respecting this Settlement, we owe to the Exertions you have made to extricate it from its Difficulties, to lay before you its present State, from which you may judge of the fatal Consequences which may attend the Continuance of the War in the Carnatic, if the Enemy shall not soon be driven from it by our Army, or be otherwise induced to retreat from it. That very Army, by the vast Load of Expence, and additional Consumption of Provisions it will necessarily occasion, must hasten the Misery of the Settlement; unless therefore our Troops shall, in their present Attempt, succeed, at least, in securing Food and Money for their own Subsistence, we shall be compelled to divide them into Cantonnements, happy if we could direct the Whole or Part of them to some national Object that might compensate for past Disappointment.

" Read the following Letter from Fort St. George.

" Honble. Sir and Sirs,

" It affords us a sensible Satisfaction to acknowledge our having received every considerable Assistance from you, both in Money and Provisions; but we are much concerned to inform you, these Aids are very inadequate to our Necessities. Since the Army arrived here from the Southward on the 24th July, to the 7th of September, we have furnished it from this Garrison with 22,337 Bags of Rice, besides Doll, Grain, &c. We continue to supply them at present with 750 Bags per Day, and our whole Store of Rice now remaining is only 23,000 Bags. In our Treasury there yet remains about 300,000 of Pagodas, which however is not more than One Half of the Demands which immediately press upon us, and the indispensable Monthly Charges are One Lack of Pagodas. The Nabob contributes nothing; no Sums whatever are received from the Country, nor can any Arrangement, such as you mention in your Replies to his Requests, were he ever so zealous to help us, produce a Supply to afford us any considerable Relief, as long as the Enemy is Master of the Country, and we do not see any Prospect, to be relied on, of his being soon driven out of it. Thus then you see we have nothing to save us, but extraordinary Exertions on your Part in Money and Provisions, or a speedy Peace, which we fear can scarce be expected on very favorable Terms. (a)

" Gentlemen,

" I am sensible of your Attentions, obliged by the Sentiments expressed relative to my Zeal and Exertions, and return my Acknowledgements for the high Opinion you are pleased to entertain of my Services. Such a Scene of Distress has never been exhibited in this or hardly any other Country, as the Army under my Command have constantly had to struggle with. On my Arrival on this Coast our Affairs wore the worst of Aspects; the Enemy triumphant, our Troops dismayed, and our Military Character on the very Verge of Non-existence:—That Time, thank God, is no more. The Height of the Storm has been parried, is partly blown over. We again feel our own Confidence. Time has been given for our Distresses being known in Europe, and for Re-inforcements arriving. These, when joined to the Handful of *Veterans here, who have hitherto by their spirited Exertions saved the State, added to the Advantages to be expected from our brave and reinforced Squadron, will, I trust, yet be the Means of our Eastern Empire resuming its former Confidence and Grandeur, and a happy Period being ultimately put to the Dangers which the Interests of our Nation have been, and are threatened with, in this remote Part of the World. The unremitted Attention of your Supreme Government of Bengal towards supplying this and our other Armies with the very Essentials of Existence and Defence, viz. Troops, Money, and Provisions, must always be remembered, and reflect the highest Honour on the Administration which have so evidently marked the Necessity of a superintending Power being placed over other Presidencies, and so wisely administered their saving Hand to secure the Means of Existence, and enable us to repel Danger in every Quarter. “ Read, the following Letter from General Goddard.

“ Gentlemen,

“ I have been honoured with your Letter of the 9th February, acknowledging the Receipt of mine of the 8th November and 2d of December last. It is with sincere Pleasure, I still have it in my Power to confirm the Information conveyed to you by the Letter of the President and Select Committee of Bombay's precipitate Resolution of the 2d November, having failed in producing the very disagreeable and fatal Consequences which were to be apprehended from it: But this favourable Circumstance must be attributed solely to the steady Attachment and Fidelity of the Troops belonging to your Establishment, and not to the Committee's having been made sensible of the ill Tendency of the Measure itself, and in Consequence revoking it. On the contrary, though repeatedly, and in the most strenuous Terms, applied to by me for Assistance, I have been able to obtain from them One Lack of Rupees only, without the smallest present Encouragement to expect further Relief. Deprived, therefore, as I have been of every other Resource, I trust you will, upon a particular and impartial Reference to the Situation I was reduced to, be induced to think the Draughts I have been necessitated to make on you very moderate, as indeed they have not been adequate to relieve the Distresses and severe Hardships which the Troops have suffered, and still most painfully feel for Want of even the Means of Subsistence. The Sepoys are, at this Time, near Six Months in Arrears, and the Officers have not received their Pay and Batta for more than a Twelve Month. Such a Situation in a Country where the Hire of Servants, and the Price of Grain, and every Necessary of Life, more than doubles what they are in Bengal and its dependant Provinces, must at once suggest to you the whole Extent of their Difficulties and Sufferings, from which I have been compelled to make it my particular Study to afford them every temporary Relief in my Power. With respect to the Rate of Exchange at which I have drawn, however unfavourable it may be in Comparison to what was formerly granted, when there was scarce any Demand for Money whatever, it has been the lowest possible; and my own Endeavours, uniformly and zealously assisted by Mr. Boddam, the Chief of Surat, have been exerted to keep it so. It should be also considered regarding the Difference of Exchange between Calcutta and this Place; that at the former the Specie is immediately paid, and at the latter it does not become due for near Two Months after the Bills are presented; which, at a moderate Computation, will require a Period of at least Four Months from the Time the Money is received here.

“ I shall obey the Orders you have been pleased to give me, for drawing no more Bills upon your Government from the Date of this Letter; but it is unnecessary to tell you that my sole Dependance must be upon the Provision which you may be enabled to make for the Support of the Troops under my Command, and that without an early Supply, I shall not have it in my Power to furnish them with the Means of mere Subsistence, unless by the Mode of Draughts upon your Government, which you have now thought proper to prohibit me from continuing, and from which I shall most certainly abstain, unless compelled to it by the last Emergency of the Service, and for the Preservation and Existence of the Detachment entrusted to my Care. " Honble. Sir and Sirs,

" Sir Eyre Coote is now encamped with the Army about Five Miles to the Southward of the Mount: He had taken a Position beyond Chingleput, but returned Two Days ago for a fresh Supply of Provisions and Money, which he thinks necessary to enable him to march again towards the Enemy. The former we shall continue to supply till the last Bag of Rice be expended, and as to the latter, the last Rupee is already gone to him from the Treasury; but the Whole that, by the most strenuous Efforts, we have been able to collect, is not sufficient to satisfy the Troops even for the present, or to remove the immediate Distresses which the Officers labour under. We have therefore, as the only Expedient, authorised the Paymasters of the Army to issue Notes to be paid out of the Money which you have shipped for us on the Resolution; and we must hope that something decisive in our Favour will be effected by the Time these Supplies shall be expended, as beyond that Period we see not the Possibility of keeping the Army in the Field. The Necessity of making you this Representation is rendered doubly painful by the Sense we entertain of your unwearied Exertions in our Behalf; but we should be wholly without Excuse, were we to conceal any Part of our Distresses from you, who, should the Remedy ever be attainable, alone have Power to apply it. of any Kind to be drawn from it for the Supply of the Army. The French Fleet having been able to keep the Coast to the Southward of Madras, and thereby preventing the Conveyance of Provisions by Sea, has been a mortifying Check to all my * Desires of distressing our natural Enemy. My Views shall if possible be directed to that Object, but the Equipments for the Carriage of Provisions, and in other Respects, are so circumscribed, that I cannot entertain any sanguine Expectations of acting with Effect. The whole Means I now possess for that Purpose, is not equal to the Carriage of Ten Days for the fighting Men, and not for Four for the whole Army; add to this, the Troops Four Months in Arrears, some Department Six and Seven, and but little Money to discharge them. " The Arrears due to the End of last Month, were near Twelve Lacks of Pagodas, which must have been accumulating under all the dangerous Circumstances to be apprehended from an Army, without a Farthing of Pay, had not Vice Admiral Hughes, upon my Representation of its Distresses, and of the obvious Ruin to which the public Interests were exposed by its Continuation in that State, with great Readiness, supplied me with a Lack of Pagodas from the Government Treasury, upon my becoming personally responsible by Bond (bearing no Interest) for the Repayment thereof here on Demand; which I have accordingly done, relying on being enabled to fulfil my Engagement by Means of the expected Supplies from your Quarter, from the First of which that arrives, I have promised that the Amount shall be reimbursed. " As the Select Committee may be prevented from addressing the Governor General and Council by this Post, I am directed to acquaint you, for their Information, that this Settlement has experienced a new and severe Misfortune in consequence of a Gale of Wind, which came on Yesterday Morning, and blew with encreasing Violence until Midnight. Several large Vessels, and among them the Earl of Hertford Indiaman, were driven a-shore, others foundered at their Anchors, and all the small Craft, amounting to upwards of Ninety, were either sunk or stranded: the Quantity of Rice lost is at least 30,000 Bags, which is equal to our whole remaining Stock, and the Loss of the Tonnage is irreparable. The Squadron put to Sea early in the Day, and we were in Hopes it had escaped the Violence of the Storm, but this Afternoon the Active Frigate brought the disagreeable Intelligence that the Superb is dismasted, and is besides with Difficulty kept above Water. The Admiral had shifted his Flag on Board the Sultan, and proceeds immediately to Bombay. The Active returns to him To-morrow, with some of his Officers who were left a-shore, and the Select Committee intended to avail themselves of that Opportunity to forward to him the Letter which the Governor General and Council have written to him.

" The Select Committee are desirous that the Governor General and Council should have the earliest Notice of this Disaster, as the present very alarming State of this Settlement may perhaps induce them to alter the Destination of the Indiamen that were intended to be dispatched to Europe, and to send them here immediately with Rice and other Provisions.

“ Mr. Macpherson.—As a Supplement to the Governor General's Minute, and in further Testimony of the Advantages which the Company derive from an united Administration, in their controuling Presidency, under the Direction of animated public Zeal and great Talents. I beg here to subjoin an extracted Account, signed by the Acting Accountant General, which shews that the Efforts of this Government to support the other Presidencies in Supplies of Money, Provisions, and Military Store, have been such as must draw the Admiration of our Employers.

" Previous to my Arrival in India, these Efforts of Supply were great and well timed, especially in the Carnatic; but the very Encrease of the Resources which the Governor General has stated in his Minute, and the Severity with which the late Resident, and the subsequent acting Resident at Oude, were called upon to do their Duty to the Company, have been the Sources from which our Supplies in Favour of the other Presidencies have been chiefly derived.

" The total Amount of these Supplies from the 30th September 1781 to the 1st of November 1782, appears to be Current Rupees 2,35,70,007 2 2.

" It is to be remarked, that in order to complete these Supplies, the Company have not been subjected to extraordinary Drafts, by Bills on Europe, nor to Loans in Addition to the Bonded Debt.

" The Abilities of this Government could not go farther in aiding the Presidencies of Fort St. George and Bombay, but by recommending a Plan of Co-operation against their common Enemies, which was early and forcibly pressed upon them, but which, though repeatedly urged, has not been hitherto carried into Execution. The Issue of the War in the Carnatic will shew whether, upon any other Plan, our Enemies can be repelled.

" The constitutional Powers of this Government, as well as its practical Exertions of Assistance, would not be extended to further Operation, and fortunately the Marratta War, with which it was customary to connect every Mismanagement in India, has been virtually closed from the 18th October 1781. No Hostility has been committed between the Marrattas and the Company, from that Period. On the contrary, a Peace has been concluded, which, in the Delay of its final Formality, leaves the Company in the Possession of those Resources, which at once gives us the Power of Defence, and withholds from them that of Hostility. This is a Tenure for Peace with an Asiatic State, the most secure, especially as it is founded in Justice on our Part, and Division or an Opposition of Interests among them.

" To place the Proceedings of this Government in their merited and most satisfactory Point of View, nothing is wanting but a Completion to the great Undertaking of Reform and Retrenchment of the public Expence, which was begun in June last, which was carried on with the most impartial Justice, but which the Interruptions of ill Health have cruelly suspended.

" It is upon this Foundation, that the most valuable Encrease of Revenue and Resource can be secured to the Company and the Nation; much has been already done, but it is only a Beginning, and the Work before us is arduous; but it is full of public Honour, for it constitutes the public Safety.

" The Aid which the Board have lately acquired in the Abilities, Firmness, local Knowledge, and co-operating Disposition of a new Member, warrants us in assuring the Company, that nothing within the utmost Compass of the Zeal and Abilities of this Administration, shall be left undone, in promoting the most active internal Economy, and maintaining our distant Dependencies with the most liberal Zeal.

" The Regulations and Arrangements necessary at home, to give successful Efficacy to the Views and Operations of a Government acting upon such Principles, depend not upon the Conduct, though they constitute the Wishes of this Board. It is our Duty to hope, and even to believe, that where our Measures are founded upon Prudence and good Intentions, they will meet with Support; nay, it is our Duty, if not our Right, to be confident that the Justice of our Employers, and of our Country, is ultimately unerring, even if it should be interrupted by Misinformation. " Warren Hastings,

The Counsel for the Defendant informed the House, that the next Document they wished to produce, was a Letter from Mr. Macpherson to the Court of Directors of the 30th March 1783; but that the Letter itself being lost, they proposed to read it, with the Consent of the Managers, from a Collection of Papers relative to the Impeachment, printed by the House of Commons, having first proved the original Document not to be forth-coming.

The Managers for the Commons said, they had no Objection to the Paper in Question being read as desired, provided the Original were first proved to be lost, as the Counsel had stated.

Then Mr. Robert Hudson was asked,

Q. Have you searched for a Letter of Mr. M'Pherson's to the Court of Directors of 30th March 1783?

A. I have.

Q. Is that Document forth-coming, or is it lost?

A. I have not been able to find it.

Q. Have you made due Search for the Purpose?

A. I have searched where I thought it likely to find it, and in other Places; but I have not been able to trace it.

Q. Do you know whether that Letter was printed by the House of Commons from a Copy which you yourself furnished?

A. When this Paper was ordered by the House of Commons, the Original itself was not then forth-coming, the Letter was therefore taken from a Copy which was then in the Office, which Copy has since been mislaid.

Then the Witness produced a Book, without any Title, but numbered "2;" and the same being delivered in, the following Extract was read from a Paper bound up in the same, and indorsed, "Copy of a Letter from the Governor General and Council of Bengal, dated the 16th Oct. 1781; and from John Macpherson Esquire, to the Court of Directors of the East India Company, dated in March 1783. No 5. 1787," beginning at Page 5 of the same Paper, and Page 863 of the Book.

" Calcutta, 30th March 1783.

" Of the general Distress of your Affairs in all your Presidencies in the latter End of August 1781, when I arrived at Madras, you have long since had authentic Accounts; but of the Danger to which the very Existence of the Company was then exposed, you can have no adequate Idea. Your Army towards Bombay had been obliged to retreat from a gallant but unsuccessful Enterprize towards Poona, and it required great Bravery and Skill to secure their Retreat from the Gauts to the Sea Side. Your Presidency of Bombay was then near a Crore of Rupees in Debt, notwithstanding the immense Supplies from Bengal, and their newly acquired Revenues. The utmost of their Military Exertions, though supported by an Army from Bengal, and though they had raised many new Battalions, was directed to keep the Marattas in Check.

" In the Carnatic, your principal Settlement, and your main Army under Sir Eyre Coote, were surrounded by the Army of Hyder, who had indeed been defeated on the 1st of July 1781, but who from that Check seemed only to have become more guarded and determined in his Purpose. Neither your Army, nor even Fort St. George itself, had at that Time above a few Days Provisions in Store, nor could there be any Prospect of Supply from the Country: Your Treasury at Fort St. George was empty; your Credit could not be said to exist in any active Force.

" At Bengal, on which your other Presidencies depended almost entirely for Supplies, your Treasury was drained, and every Effort of raising Money by Loan, by Annuity, and by partial Remittances had been tried, and, to complete the Measure of your Difficulties, a Rebellion had broken forth upon your Frontiers at Benares, which threatened Destruction to all your Possessions from the Source of the Mouths of the Ganges, and in every Quarter of India.

" Such was the Crisis at which it was my Destiny to become One of the Members of the superior Administration of India. Few who could have seen the real Difficulties of the Part I had to act, would have envied my Situation, and the most obstinate Party Contention had but ceased to rage in the Scene where I was to begin my Part.

" I shall leave it to your Governor and Commander in Chief upon the Coast of Coromandel to state whether I was of any Aid to their Councils in so desperate a Crisis. At all Events I esteem myself fortunate in having joined my Efforts to theirs to promote a favourable Impression upon the Maratta State. The Confidence which the Nabob of Arcot reposed in my Opinion, was not unserviceable to the East India Company upon that trying Occasion. I proposed that he should place the Seal of the Carnatic in the Hands of the Commander in Chief of our Forces, that he might grant Sunnuds to the Petty Rajahs and Poligars, to exempt them from future Tributes in Proportion as they might assist the Army with Provision or Force from their different Retreats; it was my Opinion that your Seal should have been sent to guarantee these Deeds of Concession. Sir Eyre Coote felt the public Advantages of this Proposition, and marched through the Pullams of these Rajahs and Zemindars that lay between Madras and Vellore; they supplied him with Provisions; he defeated Hyder on the Plains of Shulginghur; he afterwards relieved Vellore, took Chittoor, and returned to Madras, after an Absence of about Three Months, when the Supplies of Provision from Bengal arrived seasonably for the Support of Fort St. George, and your Army.

“ On the 29th of September I arrived at Calcutta, where I found Mr. Wheeler alone in Charge of the Government; he was labouring with the best Intention, good Humour, and Ability, to maintain your Affairs. I shall not attempt to describe the Situation of the Settlement, and the Variety of Apprehensions that agitated the public Opinion. The Governor General had, with great Spirit, recovered his Ground at Benares. The Attachment and Spirit of your Officers flew to him from every Quarter, but all the Provinces seemed still to tremble from the Shock of the Convulsion on the 24th of August at Benares. The Collections did not flow in their regular Course; all depended upon Regularity and Vigour in that Department; for your Collections were chiefly in the Hands of Native Renters and Zemindars, and it is their Rule to be no longer punctual in their Payments, than the State can attend to them respectively, and is in Force to compel them.

“ I declared to the Dewan of the Khalsa, Gunga Govin Singh, or in other Words, the Native Chancellor of the Exchequer, who stands between the Farmers and the Committee of Revenue, that I would move the Council to punish any Native Collector and Zemindar who had collected the Revenue from the Ryots but who withheld it from the Company beyond the usual Terms of Payment; for that such Crime, in the present Situation of Affairs, was the same as to attempt to rob the public Treasury, and should be punished as such. I declared to him further, that while I sat in Council I would not sign a Remission of Revenue, or agree to cancel a Company's Balance, but on a Ground of actual Invasion, or a general Famine;—for if the Farmer refused to pay the Money, he should pass his Bond to the Company for the Balance, and none but the Company should have a Right to cancel the Obligations of such Bonds.

“ These Declarations met the Approbation and the full Support of your Government, and produced an Effect which many of your Servants who are in the Charges of the Revenue can attest. By your monthly Collections or Kists in the Bengal Provinces, your Armies, then in every Quarter of India, were maintained and might be said to be kept together.

“ It is to your Servants (and you have many here of very great Knowledge and Ability, and liberal Attachment to your Interests) that I am indebted for that early Insight into your Affairs which enabled me to be of immediate Service.

“ I met your Servants who were in opposite Interests of the Party with equal Civility. I declared to them that, as far as my Voice would go, Party was abolished; and I requested from every Servant who was of known Ability and Experience in Office, a candid and confidential Account in Writing of the Management which might improve his particular Department, and tend to the general Prosperity. I pledged my Word to the sacred Custody of their Opinions.

“ By this Means, in the Course of Three Weeks, I received Memorials of Confidence, and the most useful Instruction in every Department of your Service, in Revenue, Investments, Contracts, Disbursements, Management of the Army Marine, General Accounts, and the State of our Alliances, with the Plans of Regulation by which Affairs might be retrieved. It would be uncandid in me not to name particularly the Servants to whom I owed such valuable and friendly Communication.

“ They are, Mr. Shore, Mr. Ducarel, Mr. Peter Moore, Mr. Jonathan Duncan, Mr. Charles Grant of Maltby, Mr. Petrie, and particularly Mr. Larkins, Mr. Murray your Commissary General, Colonel Sir John Cumming, Lieutenant Colonel Fullerton, Majors Popham and Bruce upon subsequent Occasions, Mr. Mackenzie, Mr. Charles Purling, Mr. Bristow, and Mr. Crofts, who always obligingly supplied me with every Calculation that I could ask, of your Receipts and Disbursements, and the comparative Statements of Revenue and Expenditure in different Years.

“ I could name many more of your Servants, who shewed the most chearful Readiness to give me every Knowledge of your Affairs.

“ Upon discussing these general Subjects with Mr. Wheeler, and taking a general View of Affairs in every Quarter of India, we address to your Honourable Court those general Letters in the Secret Department, which announced to you on the 16th of October and 29th of December 1781, the following Assurances.

“ That this Government would endeavour at all Events to put a Close to the Mahratta War.

“ That they would endeavour to secure and arrange the internal Peace of India, and a System of Moderation and Justice.

“ That they would at every Risk provide an Investment, and continue that great Commercial Provision, which was equally necessary to the internal Prosperity of these Provinces, as it constituted their Value to the Company, and to the parent State.

“ That amidst Harmony in our Councils, rendered necessary as well as desirable, we should endeavour to retrench every superfluous Expence, and attend to the most regular Collection of your Revenues, with every Attention to the Cultivation of the Country and Happiness of the Natives.

“ That we should labour, with every Exertion in our Power, to supply the other Presidencies with Money and Provisions, and strive, upon a regular System of Co-operation from all our Presidencies, to repel our natural Enemies, so as to forward the necessary Object of a general Peace in Europe.

“ Such

" Such were the Hopes which this Government gave to your Honourable Court in October and December 1781; and to perform the great public Objects of such Expectations, we pledged ourselves to the very utmost of our Abilities, to the Company and to our Country. The Governor General had not then returned to the Presidency; but from his confidential Correspondence, we were empowered to pledge his Name: We considered our Declaration which went to the above Obligations, though not in their formal Order, as an Engagement which we formally entered into with our Employers.

" I esteem it the greatest Happiness, and the greatest Honour, that could befall me in Life, that, in the Course of Sixteen Months, an Administration, of which I was a Member, should have been able, in so short a Time, to have performed to you so much of what they promised to attempt.

" 1st. The Mahratta War was closed by a general Cessation of Hostilities between you and that State, as early as January 1782.

" 2dly. The internal Peace of India has been secured by the Treaty of Peace and Alliance with the Mahrattas, which was concluded on the 18th of May 1782, signed by your Governor General and Council on the 6th of June, signed by the Peshwa on the 20th of December following, and finally exchanged and ratified on the 24th of February last.

" You will please to observe, that the said Treaty excludes France from any Establishments in the Mahratta Country, or any Aid from their Chiefs, and includes and binds every Power or any Consequence in India, as either in Alliance with you or with the Peshwa, without a Claim upon the Carnatic or Oude; and you may depend upon it, that nothing but the utmost Mismanagement of your own Servants can ever break a Treaty founded upon such an equitable Arrangement, originating from an Experience of unprofitable War on both Sides, and which is firmly secured by the real Interest of the Leaders of the Mahratta State.

" It may be pleaded to reflect a Moment upon the Difficulties under which this Treaty was negotiated, the Offers that were made by France directly from the Sovereign to the Ministers at Poona; the Intrigues, Abilities, and Resources of Mr. Bussy's Agents there; the Influence of Hyder; and what was a greater Bar than all to the Treaty, the general Cry from your own Servants for a Peace with the Mahrattas upon any Conditions; you will applaud the Management with which it was commenced, the Patience and Firmness with which it was conducted, and the liberal as well as dignified Manner in which it was finally ratified.

" In the midst of a general War it secures to you, in Tranquillity, the Revenues of these Provinces from Rohilkund to Cuttack; and with these Revenues, under a prudent Disbursement and a proper Co-operation of your Forces, you may bid Defiance to the most powerful States in Europe, in a Contest for any of your Possessions. In India such Contests must eventually be determined by the greatest and most permanent Power of Resource upon the Spot.

" 3dly. An Investment has been provided upon a Plan which counteracts foreign Competitors in your Trade at the Europe Markets, and which has very considerably reduced the prime Cost of the Goods.

" Formerly your Governor General and Council, sufficiently occupied with general Affairs, and the Virulence of their own Disputes, could not attend to this most important Subject. At present, they have inspected the different Proposals of Contractors, and have, after accepting the most favourable for your Interest, kept sealed Specimens of the Goods as a Check, and to ascertain at the Sales the faithful Performance of the Contractor's Engagements; for the Goods are not to be mixed, and each Bale is to be marked with the Name of the Contractor.

" Unpleasant as such Interference must have proved to your Board of Trade, they saw the Justice as well as Necessity of it; they acquiesced at length, with Chearfulness, in the Arrangement. It is worthy of your Justice to avoid Retrospect, and only to encourage the Sacrifice which these Servants who have served you so long, and whose Allowances are scanty, have made upon the present Occasion.

" 4thly. Amidst Harmony in our Councils, very considerable Retrenchments have been made from the increasing Scale of your Expenditures. These Retrenchments were begun early in the preceding Year, but impeded by the Interruption of ill Health; they were begun upon a System that was to carry them fully through the minutest Department in the Service; they are vitally necessary to the Permanency of your Prosperity in this Country. It should be remembered, that the Basis upon which you rose to Power, and have been able to stand the Shock of repeated Convulsions, has been the Accuracy and Simplicity of mercantile Method, which makes every Transaction in your Service, and every Expenditure, a Matter of Record. The Proceedings of this Government have been laboured and very difficult in the Business of Retrenchment; but when they are extended to every Department in the Service, which will be in the Course of Three Months, I do not think I exceed when I state that I hope they will amount to Six hundred thousand Pounds. I shall transmit to your Honourable Court an exact official Account to the last Rupee upon this Subject, with a Copy of the new Regulations that have been adopted to check every Department to separate establishments from contingent Charges, and to check the Accounts of Agency Disbursements, which were early reduced from Fifteen to Ten per Cent. The extraordinary contingent Expences of the Army, especially of the Detachments serving on the West Side of India, and in the Carnatic, you will find considerably reduced, as well as those of the Phouddarry, and the new Law Offices, which were cancelled before your Orders arrived.

" To my superior Colleagues must be due the chief Merit of such Reforms, for to them the Labour must have been more ~~useful~~. As far as my own Example would operate, in avoiding to trouble the public Finance with the Distresses of Dependants, or the Claims of Favour and Recommendation, your Records will do me ample Justice: On the Encrease of the Revenue I beg Leave to refer to the Governor General's Minute of the 13th December last, and my Reply in the Revenue Department.

" That Minute shews, from accurate Calculation and Figures, that your Resources have been virtually encreased in the preceding Year about 700,000 Pounds Sterling. It may not be quite out of the Way here to observe, that by enforcing the exact Statements of your most able Accountant General, an Error which had gradually arisen, to the Amount of Forty-three Lacks of Rupees in Account between the Company and the Vizier at Oude, is now in Train of Realization, under the Management of your new Resident at Oude, Mr. John Bristow, whom your Governor General promoted to that Office agreeably to your Orders, whenever he found that the former Resident neglected his Duty.

Rev. Dept.
13th Dec. 1781.

" 5thly. On the Subject of the Supplies which have been sent from hence from the Period of my Arrival for the Support of the War in your other Presidencies, I have the Honour of transmitting to you the accompanying official Account, signed by your Accountant General. From this Account you will please to observe, that the Amount remitted, and actually paid from the 30th September 1781, to the 1st March 1783, is Two Crores and Fifty-eight Lacks, One thousand three hundred and fifty-six Rupees, besides the Treasure and Stores that were sent some Days since with Sir Eyre Coote to the Coast, and Bills accepted by this Government, and under Payment, making in all a Sum little short of Three Millions Sterling.

" If you will take the Trouble to peruse attentively the Letters of this Government to Madras and Bombay, and General Goddard on the 26th December 1781, you will in those Letters be not more satisfied with the Exertions which this Government have made in Supply, than with the Plan of Co-operation, which was so early recommended to both these Presidencies, and in which they were cautioned against the Operations of our natural Enemies, which in the ensuing February burst on the Carnatic.

" The Letter of this Government to the Presidency of Bombay, on the 14th of October last, had the most fortunate Effect upon the Operations of that Government, as you will perceive in General Mathews's Letter of the 2d of December last to Sir Eyre Coote, entered upon your Records: The following Paragraph is worth your Attention.

" The Letter of the 14th of October from the Supreme Council, and the Remittance of fifteen Lacs, will not leave this Government a Pretence for Delay, and will give what they desire for the Outfit of the Expedition."

" You have since heard of General Mathews's Success. I have been honoured with a short Letter from him, dated at Bidenore, the 30th of January 1783, in which he says, that with the Support of this Government (of which I had taken the Liberty to assure him in a private Letter) he should hope to retrieve your Affairs on that Side of India.

" Having thus presumed to lay before your Honourable Court some Account of the Situation in which I found your Affairs, and of the Measures which the Governor General and Council pursued to retrieve them, permit me to state the particular Impression under which I viewed all the Transactions in India at such a Crisis. It was my Belief that Great Britain, after the Opposition and Separation of America, and attacked by so many powerful Enemies at Home and Abroad, could neither exist in her Finances nor Liberties, if India was not saved, and our Competitors here completely counteracted.

" The Separation of America came on by Degrees, and Trade, which was our only Return from thence, opened her Course through other Channels with Success. America yielded to Britain no landed Revenue; and each Colony there had, like the Mother Country, anticipated, by Debt, the Revenues of many Years. India was scarcely One Year's Revenue in Debt. The Loss of such a Dominion, if it was to happen, would be sudden, would be total; it would be irrecoverable by any Efforts from Home; it would prove the instant Loss of Millions of Individuals, and many Millions of the public Property; it would at once annihilate those Funds which constitute the Subsistence of all the Creditors of the India Company at Home and Abroad; it would fall upon the other Funds of the State, with a Shock that would strike the remotest Land-holder in Britain, and involve him ultimately in the same Fate with those who lived upon the Interest of the public Debts. But to complete the Misery of such an universal Catastrophe, our natural Enemies, who were in Force and Alliance upon the Spot, would succeed to the Remains of our Fortune; from that Succession, they could maintain their future Tenure, and dictate to Britain the last Terms of despotic Superiority.

" No Person but One who had once seen the Carnatic in its Prosperity, and who afterwards saw it in the Misery in which I beheld it, could conceive the Reality of the general Scene of Distress, which I have described, as within the Possibility of Human Events. There I saw Men who supposed themselves, and who literally were worth princely Fortunes a few Years before, absolutely in Want of Bread. The whole Substance of a great Colony, the Credit of a mighty Company and of Ally Princes, were extinguished by the Sword of Desolation. " You may come on Shore," wrote Lord Macartney to me the Day I came to Anchor in the Roads, "but if the Gentlemen who are Passengers with you come along with you, they must sleep in the Streets." And where was, at that Instant, the Existence of the India Company?—Only in the Revenues of Bengal; and in Bengal a Situation of Affairs similar to that which existed in the Carnatic was to be greatly apprehended; and had it actually taken Place, I leave it to your own Ideas to reflect whether the general Catastrophe which I have represented as possible, was not to be dreaded as a certain Consequence. France looked to such a Reversion in your Fortune, and when you see her Armaments prepared upon a Scale of Force and Expence, which is the utmost that her Faculties can send against India, you cannot be too sensibly awakened to the Dangers you have escaped; nor consider those Events as impossible which could alone reimburse your natural Enemies, or give them any Prospect of future Advantage from such extraordinary Efforts. Company's Ships Barwell, Lord Macartney, York, Stormont, Lascelles, Halliwell, and Belmont, have safely arrived here from England. On Board them are Part of His Majesty's 36th and 52d Regiments of Infantry, and we find the Remainder of those Corps are in the expected Ships which sailed at the same Time. The additional Expence that will necessarily be incurred by the Arrival of these Troops, has served to increase the Anxiety we before felt on Account of our Distress for Money. We have not now in our Treasury, including the Amount of the Bills you have lately transmitted hither and to Alasulipatam, more than sufficient for a Month's Disbursements, and we see no Prospects of any essential Supply but from you. Thus situated, we beg Leave to call your Attention to our approaching Necessities: Our Poverty has long exposed us to Inconvenience and Embarrassment, but the most fatal Consequences are now to be apprehended, unless we receive speedy Support from you. Our own Funds are trifling in Comparison with our present Expences, and our sole Dependence is upon your Assistance, which you have hitherto in our Emergencies so liberally afforded us, that we flatter ourselves we shall still be extricated from Difficulty by a Continuance of your Exertion in our Favour. We cannot at the same Time forbear observing to you, how much more convenient and quick the Remittance in Bullion is than by the Shroff's Bills, which are drawn at a very long Sight, and are not by any Means negotiable. "Sir,

"I did myself the Honour of addressing a Letter to you the 25th ultimo, which, from my having received no Reply to, I concluded has by some Means miscarried. I then informed you that the Troops at this Station, and those at Daranagur, were upwards of Three Months in Arrears, and requested Five Lacks of Rupees (agreeable to the Estimate then sent, and now again enclosed) might be remitted to me for the Payment of them.

"I have now to repeat my Request, and hope it will be complied with as soon as possible, as the Troops are exceedingly clamorous and distressed for their Pay, of which the enclosed Copy of a Note which I take the Liberty of sending you, addressed by Major Macpherison to Colonel Cummings's Aid de Camp, and sent by the Colonel to me, will give you a clearer Idea than any Thing I can say on the Subject.

"Sir,

"In consequence of an Express from the Governor General, I march for Cawnpore. I beg of you to dispatch Money, any Thing from Two Lacks of Rupees to Fifty Thousand will be a Relief. The Troops are starving, and very clamorous, and this sudden Movement will increase it. I leave this at Eight o'Clock in the Morning. I have ordered the Two Regiments from Daranagur to march by forced Marches for this Place. If you can send Forty or Fifty thousand Rupees to meet them at Bareilly, you will do an essential Service. They are Three Months in Arrears. Judge of their Distress in being called so suddenly away.

The low State of the Company's Treasury will not admit of my complying with the Whole of your Estimate at present. “ Sir,

“ I have been honoured with the Receipt of your Letters, under Date the 3d and 4th instant, desiring an immediate Supply of Two Lacks of Rupees—I am extremely sorry it is not in my Power to comply with your Request in full. The Drafts which have been lately made upon this Treasury from Cawnpore, and a large Sum I have been under the Necessity of sending to the Honble. the Governor General at Chunar Ghur, renders it impossible for me to assist you with more than One Lack of Rupees for the present. The Instant I have the Means of affording you a further Supply, I will do myself the Honour of addressing you.

“ I would with Pleasure have dispatched the Treasure without waiting the Arrival of your Escort, could I have procured * as sufficient Guard for its Protection. To prove that the Troops at Daranagur, in September 1781, were Three Months in Arrear, and that Mr. Middleton was applied to for Money to discharge them,

Read, from Letter Book A. already delivered in, the following Postscript to a Letter from Sir John Cumming to Mr. J. Middleton, dated Cawnpore, 11th September, beginning at Page 174 of the same Book.

" P. S. The Troops at Daranagur being now Three Months in Arrear, I entreat you will immediately order 60,000 Bareilly Rupees to be got ready at Bareilly, to wait the Arrival of the Escort to be dispatched from Daranagur to that Place for the 500 Stand of Arms, which I expect will be sent from Lucknow." (a)

To shew the Situation of the Army at Rohilcund, under Major Briscoe's Command; that they had contracted Debts to a large Amount, and were in Distress to discharge them, and that in September 1781 their Pay was Three Months in Arrear, Read, from the same Book, the following Letter from Major Briscoe, dated the 18th September, beginning at Page 177 of the same Book.

" To Nathaniel Middleton Esquire.

" Sir,

" I have this Morning been honoured with your Letter of the 13th instant, and immediately detached a Guard to Bareilly, with the Order you enclosed to Co-ja-Ain-UI-Deen, for the Sum of 60,000 Bareilly Rupees, on Account of my Detachment.

" Some Days ago I was obliged to write Mr. Day, Paymaster at Futtu Ghur, acquainting him with the distressed Situation of the Troops under my Command, for Want of their Pay, and requested he would take some speedy Method of sending Money to discharge the Troops their long Arrears, as they have nothing to subsist upon, and complain loudly of the Hardships they suffer from the many Delays in receiving their Pay.

" As I am at a Frontier Station, it is necessary the Detachment should be paid up their Arrears, or I am apprehensive some bad Consequences may ensue from the Troops, as they have contracted large Debts to the Inhabitants of Rohilcund, and have of late been very clamorous about their Pay; nay, it is impossible for me to describe to you the numerous Inconveniencies the Troops have undergone many Months past, from the Length of Time they have been kept in Arrears, Three, Four, and once near Five Months, they had Pay due * them. At present the Detachment are in Arrears Part of June, July, August, and September. As the Money will not arrive from Bareilly before next Month, the Officers did not draw their June Bills, on Purpose that the Sepoys might receive all the Money in the Treasury at this Station, which, as it was run far short of paying them their full for June, the 60,000 Rupees you have ordered, will not pay the Detachment for July, and what is still due * them for June, so that they will have very little Relief from it, especially as the Demands upon them are great by the Natives.

" The Aumil wrote me lately he had delivered above one Lack of Rupees and Eighteen thousand into the Hands of the Futtu Gur Paymaster Sirca at Bareilly, exclusive of what Money was sent to Futtu Gur and this Place some Time ago; so that the above Sum must not be in Charge of Ramseneder Sirca at Bareilly. I therefore hope and request you will on Receipt of this send an Order for One Lack of Rupees at least to be sent with the Escort from Bareilly, and that will go nearly to paying the Detachment their Arrears up to September, as by then it arrives the Troops will, in case such a Sum is sent, only have one Month due them. If this is practicable, after what I have represented to you, regarding the Troops being put to such Straits and Difficulties on Account of Pay, I make no Doubt you will send an immediate Order to Bareilly for such an Amount being granted for the Use of this Detachment; you will have sufficient Time to forward the Order before the Guard will be able to leave Bareilly. I have frequently written to the commanding Officer at Futtu Ghur and Paymaster on this Subject.

dients I was necessitated to have Recourse to, in order to raise Money for the Relief of the Troops, who were distressed to the last Degree for their Pay, and requested that I might as soon as possible be supplied with the Balance due on the Estimate transmitted to you the 3d instant; to which permit me now to add, that the with-holding the necessary Supplies for the Payment of the Troops at this critical Juncture, may be attended with the most serious Consequences.

" That you may be enabled to judge of the present Distress of the Troops, I take the Liberty of enclosing you an Extract of a Letter, which I have this Moment received from the Commanding Officer at Daranagur; it will give you a clearer Idea of their Situation, than any Thing I can add on the Subject.

To shew that the Troops under Colonel Muir, on the Banks of the Syngar, were in a wretched State in November 1781, for Want of Money and Cloathing, and that their Commander was obliged to draw on Mr. Middleton for Money to supply them,

“ This serves to advise you, that I shall immediately draw on you for a Sum not exceeding One Lack of Sunaut Rupees. A List of the Bills, I shall do myself the Pleasure to transmit hereafter.

“ The low State of my Military Chest, and the heavy Distress of the Troops, oblige me to draw on you at this short Notice. This Sum will enable me to pay the September Abstracts, a Circumstance I am most particularly anxious to accomplish at this Juncture, as the Troops in general are in a very naked State, and the Dearness, as well as Scarcity of every Article of small Cloathing in the Country where they have been so long stationed, was an unfurmountable Bar to their supplying themselves there, and the high Price of every Necessary of Life put it totally out of their Power to have a Sufficiency to purchase, now that they are arrived in a cheap Country; I therefore hope you will not hesitate in honouring my Draft, I being urged to apply to you on such an emergent Occasion; and as from the Remittances which the Paymaster will be enabled to grant upon this Credit to the several Officers in Camp, the Amount of my Bill on you will be paid into his Treasury immediately.

To prove that, in January 1782, the Troops under Colonel Muir's Command were Four Months in Arrear, and that their only Reliance for Supply was on the Resident,

" As the only Expectation of a Supply of Money I now have is from you, the distressed State of my Detachment I beg leave to lay before you. The Troops are now no less than Four Months in Arrears, and the Detachment in * Orders to march into Cawnpore, where upon its Arrival, the several Corps of which it is composed will be ordered to join their respective Brigades. The Distresses those Troops have already experienced, and what further threatens them, unless in your Power to afford them Relief, must plead my Excuse in soliciting an immediate Supply from your Treasury, exclusive of the Balance of So<sup>t</sup> Rupees 1,08,716 due to the Cavalry; the Sum of Three Lacks would enable me to clear off all the Accounts of my Detachment up to the 30th of November; this Sum, or as much as you can conveniently furnish, I earnestly entreat you will oblige me by supplying me with as soon as possible. • Sic in Orig.

" I expect to march the Detachment into the Station of Cawnpore by the 22d instant, by which Time the Receipt of the Money solicited for will afford me particular Satisfaction; and flatter myself if you can spare it from your Treasury, although the Troops under my Command may not be at his Excellency's Charge, yet the particular Debit of the † Issue will be no Obstacle to your † Compliance. † Sic in Orig.

THE Lords being in their Places, the House resumed, the usual Proclamations made, and the Defendant appearing at the Bar, the Lord Chancellor acquainted the Counsel for the Defendant they might proceed with his Defence.

The Counsel for the Defendant informed the House, they should next produce Evidence to shew that the Victory obtained by Sir Eyre Coote in the Carnatic, on the 27th of September 1781, (which had been proved by the Managers for the Commons, in their Evidence on this Article, by a Letter from Mr. Middleton to the Defendant, dated October 28th 1781) did not in any Degree relieve the Distresses of the Army in that Country, arising from the Want of Provisions; for this Purpose they desired Mr. Hudson might be called in.

Mr. ROBERT HUDSON was accordingly again called in, and produced a Book endorsed, "Fort St. George, Select Committee, from the 24th April to the 17th October 1781. Received, per Swallow, 10th June 1782." The same being delivered in,

"I have the Pleasure to inform you, that this Afternoon I have gained a Third and complete Victory over the Whole of Hyder's Army, which had collected in greater Force than I had yet seen them, and taken up very strong Ground, from which, however, we beat them, with much Havock on their Side, and but little Loss on ours. We have only One Subaltern killed, and by what I can gather from the Reports yet made me, not another Officer of any Denomination even wounded. I conclude from what I saw, and was reported to me, that Hyder's Army could not have consisted of less than 150,000 Men. We are now pitching our Tents on the Field of Battle; viz. on the Ground which he had occupied. I find he has not been able to carry off all his Guns. I would give all the Credit of this Victory for Five Days Rice. The Behaviour of the Officers and Men has been such as deserves the highest Commendation. “fary of the British Nation to possess, by whatever Means, a Share in the Administration, he “could not devise a Measure in itself so pernicious, or time it so effectually for the Ruin of the “British Interests in India, as that now introduced to the Board. Mr. Francis alone is consci“ous of his own Motives and Intentions; I can speak only to their Tendency. We are at this “Instant involved in a new War with perhaps the most powerful of all the States in India, which “has opened with a Calamity so dreadful, as to require the most immediate and vigorous Exer“tions of this Government to prevent what must otherwise be the Consequence, the total and “speedy Loss of the Carnatic, and of all the British Establishments and Possessions in that Part of “India. To ward off this impending Danger we have, besides immediate Preparations of War, “resolved to offer a Peace on their own Terms to the Marattas, with whom we have been, dur“ing the past Two Years, engaged in a hazardous, though hitherto successful War. At such a “Time to proclaim an entire Subversion of the Influence of this Government (for such must be “the Effect, whether it be or be not the Intention of the present Question), will be to defeat “every End of the Measures on which we have lately resolved, to give Encouragement to our “Enemies by the Prospect of an inverted, fluctuating, or divided Government, and discourage “those to whom the Advances of this Government are made, when they see the Person in “whose Name they are offered, and to whom alone they look as the Representative Instrument
 “of the British Nation in India, treated at the same Instant with Contempt, and disarmed of “the Power of fulfilling the Engagements, and maintaining the Faith of the Treaties offered by “him for their Acceptance.” § (a) [I will ask, who is Mr. Bristow, that a Member of the Administration should, at such a Time, hold him forth as an Instrument for the Degradation of the first executive Member of this Government. What are the professed Objects of his Appointment? What are the Merits and Services, or what the Qualifications, which entitle him to such an uncommon Distinction? Is it for his superior Integrity, or from his eminent Abilities, that he is to be dignified at such Hazards of every Consideration that ought to influence the Members of this Administration? Of the former I know no Proofs.—I am sure it is not an Evidence of it, that he has been enabled to make himself the Principal in such a Competition; and for the Test of his Abilities, I appeal to the Letter which he has dared to write to this Board, and which I am ashamed to say, we have suffered. I desire that a Copy of it may be inserted in this Day’s Proceedings, that it may stand before the Eyes of every Member of the Board, when he shall give his Vote upon a Question for giving their Confidence to a Man, their Servant, who has publicly in-sulted them, his Masters, and the Members of the Government to whom he owes his Obedience; who, assuming an Association with the Court of Directors, and erecting himself into a Tribunal, has arraigned them for Disobedience of Orders, passed Judgment upon them, and condemned or acquitted them as their Magistrate and Superior. Let the Board consider, whether a Man possessed of so independent a Spirit, who has already shewn such a Contempt of their Authority, who has shewn himself so wretched an Advocate for his own Cause, and Negotiator for his own Interest, is fit to be trusted with the Guardianship of their Honour, the Execution of their Measures, and as their confidential Manager and Negotiator with the Princes of India.] § (“As the Motion has “been unaccompanied by any Reasons which should induce the Board to pass their Acquiescence
 “in it, I presume that the Motion which preceded it for reading the Orders of the Court of “Directors, was intended to serve as an Argument for it, as well as an Introduction to it. The “last of those Orders was dictated the 23d December 1778, almost Two Years past; they “were dictated at a Time when, I am sorry to say, the Court of Directors were in the Habit of “casting Reproach upon my Conduct, and heaping Indignities on my Station; at a Time when “their Affairs in every Part of India wore the Aspect of Prosperity; at a Time too when the “Renewal of the Company’s Charter was in Contemplation, and a new Settlement of Govern“ment was required for the Administration of these Provinces. It was certainly their Intention “or Expectation that I should be immediately removed from this Government, and some other “Person substituted in my Place. To what Causes the Suspension of this Design is to be “ascribed I shall not enquire; but since they themselves have thought it proper to continue me
 “in the chief Administration of their Affairs, I shall not offer so gross an Insult to their Under“standings, or Impeachment of their Integrity, as to suppose that they could ever think it “consistent with the Interests and Security of their Constituents to deprive me of those Au“thorities and Sources of Influence, which can alone enable me to fulfil the Duties they have “alligned me, and on the Foundation of which so heavy a Responsibility rests on me par“ticularly. The relative Situation of the Governor General, and of the other Members of the “Council, has not indeed been defined by the Act of Parliament, which has constituted their “collective Authority; but in all Instances in which that Act has been silent, the Powers,
 “and Practice of the former Government were declared by the Act itself to subsist unchanged.
 “By the ancient and immemorial Constitution of the Company, the executive Authority of “every Presidency was committed to the first Member of it. He was declared the imme-

Such must be the evident Effect of the present Question if it shall be carried against me.] § (" I will not carry this Argument to the further Lengths or Conclusions to which it would warrantably lead me; but I do not * solemnly adjure the other * S.c in Orig. Members of the Board, that, unless they think me totally unqualified to execute the Functions of my Station, they will not give their Sanction to a Measure which must reduce me to the State of a nominal Member of it, which shall take the Reins of Administration from my Hands, to place them in those of Mr. Francis, and which, by subverting the natural Order of the Constitution, must deprive it of its Vigour by whomsoever it may be occasionally held. While they pay that Obedience and Respect which I am as ready as they are to yield to the Orders of the Court of Directors, let them compare the Situation of Things as they stood at the Time when these Orders were issued, with the present, and let them imagine what Orders the Court of Directors would, at such a Period as this, pass on such a Question. If they think, but it is impossible to suppose it, that a Body of Men, so respectable in their Characters and in their Rank of Life, would, at a Time like this, consent to degrade and disarm the first Instrument of their Authority, let them give their Votes for the Question; if not, let them act by their strongest Conviction of what would be the orders of the Company in the present Case, not what it is, applied to One which it was impossible for the Company to have foreseen; I again call upon them most solemnly to support my Authority, and at the same Time their own Rights and their Reputation, which are connected with it, both in its immediate Effect, and its remoter but inevitable Consequences.)" " Sir Eyre Coote.—At a Time when I am so engaged in the public Concern, I little expected that any Question of a private Nature would be agitated at this Board, that could possibly interrupt the Harmony of it, and that at a Time when that Harmony is so necessary for carrying on of the public Service. The Question to me is of so much Magnitude, that I must beg Leave to defer giving my Opinion on it till To-morrow." (c)

" Sir Eyre Coote delivers in the following Minute.

" After having created the Board the Trouble of a Second Meeting on the Question which formed the Subject of Yesterday's Debate, and for which I trust its Importance, my own Situation at this Juncture, and my being without any previous Knowledge until I arrived in Town in the Morning, that such a Business was likely to come before us, will plead Excuse. It is not my Intention to encroach further on their Time by tedious Argument or Discussion.

" Whilst I am bound in Honour, by my Opinion recorded on the Proceedings of this Board on a former Occasion, to support all Orders received from the Court of Directors, subsequent to my Arrival in this Country, I nevertheless hold it a Duty equally incumbent upon me as a Member of this Administration, appointed under the Authority of an Act of Parliament, and to which Tribunal of the British Constitution we are ultimately responsible for the due Execution of the important Trust committed to our Charge, the Care of the Interests of the English Nation in India, to judge how far, in following such Orders, I am likely to injure that first Object of our Attention.

" The late Requisition made of me by this Board, to take upon me the Command of the Army at Madras, and the Grounds upon which that Requisition was made, render it altogether unnecessary for me to bring forward, on this Occasion, Arguments in Proof of the very critical State of the Interests of the Company and the English Nation in India. Our unanimous Agreement on the Measure, and our subsequent Resolutions to carry it into force, evince its Expediency; and which I flattered myself had been the Result of a disinterested Conviction in the Mind of every Member of this Board, and of a Determination to allow no Objects to interpose which could have a Tendency to obstruct the successful Execution thereof. That the Restoration of Mr. Bristow, at this Time, to the Charge of the Residency at Lucknow, will produce Effects highly prejudicial thereto, I have not a Doubt of; as it will generate in the Minds of every Power of Hindostan, that the Governor General is carrying on Treaties with them which he has not the Power to ratify, and will produce on their Part Consequences destructive to all Negotiation, Indecision and Procrastination. The Necessity of avoiding every Step that can give rise to such Impediments, at the very Time the Governor General is negotiating, under the Sanction of this Board, Terms of Peace with the Marhattas, I am persuaded is too obvious to every Member of it to require Elucidation, and that they see it as a Conduct highly inseparable from the real Purpose of their Resolves, to give him every possible Support, both in Word and Action, for the Accomplishment of a Business in which the Interests of the Public are so essentially concerned.

" In short, although my former Declarations, added to the Rule I had laid down for my Conduct in all Cases where I could have the Orders of the Court of Directors for my Guide, obliges me to give my Voice in Favour of Mr. Francis's Motion; I nevertheless see, and am so thoroughly convinced of the great Necessity there is in the present critical Conjuncture of our Affairs in India, of supporting the Governor General as the first Instrument of our Administration, that I here declare, I will most heartily join with him in any Measure he can devise, whereby the ill Effects of the Change at Lucknow may be obviated, and the World in general be convinced, that he is still in Possession of that Authority in the Administration of the Public Business, so absolutely requisite for the Support of our Government.

" In urging these Sentiments, I am naturally led to reflect on what may be my own Situation in the Execution of that Duty which I am on the Eve of undertaking, the Operations of which may be materially injured by any Measure which * in the least impede the Negotiations set on foot by the Marattas. I therefore, as a Duty I owe myself and the public Welfare, call upon every Member of this Board to give me such Testimony of their Determination to support me in the Prosecution of a Service so important in itself, and in its Consequences, as that, when once entered on *, I may not be exposed to the Apprehension of Failure, from a Doubt of not receiving that ample Assistance from them which the Nature of the Undertaking renders so indispensably necessary, and which they alone can afford.

" I have frequently written to you, that I cannot submit to the Authority of Two Gentlemen, and desiring that you would recall Mr. John Bristow, and engage by Writing to continue Mr. Middleton for ever with me; because, from the Beginning to this Time, I have never deviated from the Friendship of the Company and you. I have been for a long Time hopeful that, from the increased Friendship, I shall be in Peace, and relieved from all Difficulties, and particularly at this Time, when, agreeable to my Wishes, you have, by the Blessing of God, the Power you have frequently promised, in Answer to my Request, that you would send for me, but as yet you have never done it. The Particulars of Mr. Bristow are as follow: He openly and publicly de-

These Expressions † there can be no Doubt of as they are publicly spoken: As such Declarations and Threats made use of by him, are an Insult to you, and an Injury to the Administration of Affairs here, I am therefore certain you will not consent to my suffering such Distresses. For God's Sake do not be unfavourable in this Matter, but recal Mr. John Bristow from hence, and grant * a me a written Agreement, specifying that Mr. Middleton shall be continued for ever with me; and to prevent his applying to Europe, send me, if you think proper, the Drafts of Letters which I may write to the King, the Vizier, and the Chiefs of the Company, and do you also write from your Favor and Kindness. Let this be done without Delay.

Written 21st May.

" I have received your Two Letters, the One advising me to quit Calcutta during the present unhealthy Air of it, which has caused the Death of several Persons; and the other acquainting me that you cannot submit to the Orders of Two Gentlemen, and desiring that I will recal Mr. Bristow, who publicly declares that he is in Expectation of Orders from Europe, giving him the sole Authority in his Country, &c. &c. with many other Particular * which I fully understand, and which gave me great Pleasure.

" In obedience to Orders from the Court of Directors, as at that Time there was a different Object and System, Mr. Bristow was sent to your Province, and his continuing with you was thought the same Thing as if I was there; and although you frequently wrote to me desiring his Removal, and I knew it could easily be done, yet I would not do it. At this Time however that you have written to Rajah Govind Ram that any Delay in his Recal will be attended with Disgrace, and as you have written to me likewise fully in the same Words, I therefore, to shew nothing is further from my Wish than your Dishonour, immediately on the Receipt of your Letter, sent to Mr. Bristow to return to Calcutta.

" It is nearly Three Years since Rajah Govind Ram, who is a faithful Servant of your Government, has been desirous of effecting an Interview between your Highness and myself; and you yourself have repeatedly written to me, that if I have no Leisure you will come to this Quarter; and this you likewise mention, in your Hand-writing, in a Letter from the Nabob Monier Ud-dowlah, which was delivered to me by Mr. Vansittart. As I consider that this would be putting your Highness to great Inconvenience, and as I myself had no Leisure from the Weight of public Affairs, I promised you that, as soon as I could find the smallest Opportunity, I would have the Honour of an Interview with your Highness. At this Time that you mention in your Letter to the Rajah, that you will come to Calcutta, in Person, without the Knowledge or Permission of any One; in order to prevent you from taking that Trouble, I have resolved now, that I have a little Leisure, to go to your Quarter; but as it will require One Month for Preparations, I shall be detained for a little Time; after which, by the Blessing of God, I shall leave this Place, and arriving with you shall, by the Blessing of God, have an Interview with your Highness, which is the greatest Wish of my Heart. But I request that you will never take the Trouble of coming.

I have already, agreeable to your First Directions, dismissed Bahar Ally Khan, the Particulars of which you will learn from Rajah Govind Ram.

" Copy of a Letter from the Nabob Vizier to Rajah Govind Ram.

" I have frequently written to the Nabob Ainaudud-dowlah about the Recal of Mr. John Bristow, and the Nabob promised he would soon do it, but to this Time he has not had an Opportunity of doing it: In the mean while Mr. Bristow resides here, and has come twice to pay a Visit, but I have not yet returned it, nor will I return it. He is now expecting Orders from Europe, which he says, will give him sole and entire Authority. Represent this to the Nabob in private. By the Blessing of God you are wise and acquainted with all Matters. This long Delay after Mr. Bristow has been told that he will be recalled to Calcutta, is a Disgrace to both Sides. I imagine the Nabob is acting prudently, so as to prevent Mr. Bristow's Attempts from reaching Europe, otherwise how could the Orders from Calcutta have been so delayed; by the Blessing of God, at this Time the Nabob, conformable to the Wishes of his Friends, has got the Power, it is therefore necessary for him to attend to the Concerns of his Friends, and to recal Mr. Bristow from hence, and grant a Sunnud in the Nature of an Engagement for Mr. Middleton to remain here for ever. If it is proper I will write to the King, the Vizier, and the Chief of the Company, in such Manner as he shall direct, and and in the Words which he shall order, that Mr. Bristow's Views may be thwarted there. A long Time has passed in anxious Expectation, let him now be favourable to me, and recal Mr. Bristow without Delay; should any further Delay happen in this Matter, or no Answer be returned to my Letters, being remediless, I will, without the Permission or Knowledge of the Nabob, leave this Place, and go to the Nabob's Prefence. Why is Bahar Ally Khan still in that Quarter? Do you mention it to the Nabob, and procure his Dismission from thence, that he may come to Fizeabad, and let the Nabob write to my Mother, that when he comes in Person to this Quarter, he will do whatever the Nature of Affairs shall require. § (" Received the following Letter from the Governor General.

22d Sept.
1782.

" Gentlemen,

" A few Days before my present Indisposition commenced, I informed you that I was sorry to find that the Resident at the Vizier's Court had evidently failed in his Duty to this Government, in not having carried into Execution the Conditions and Spirit of the late Treaty with the Vizier. I had further the Mortification to be obliged to inform you, that neither the Resident, nor his Deputy in his Absence, had communicated to me the Confusions which had arisen in the Vizier's Dominions, from a Neglect or Violation of the Treaty. The Letters which I wrote, in consequence of such Mismanagement, to the Resident and the acting Minister of the Vizier, were laid before you and approved.)"

§ (c) [Upon the same Occasion I observed to you, that the Obstacle which opposed itself to the Nomination of Mr. Bristow to the Residentship at Oude no longer existed: It was removed by my having vindicated what must ever be esteemed one of the necessary Privileges of this Government. I had the Pleasure of finding, upon the most impartial Inquiry, that the Conduct of Mr. Bristow, during his former Residence at the Court of the Vizier, had been proper and attentive. I accordingly wished to recommend him to succeed the present Resident, provided the Vizier had no reasonable Objections to his Appointment.]

§ (" I have now great Satisfaction in informing you, that my Letter to the acting Minister of the Vizier has had the happiest Effect in realizing the heavy Balances due to the Company from Oude; and it is said that the present Resident and his Deputy are brought to a proper Sense of their Duty to the Company.

" As in every Act of my Administration of the Affairs of the Company, I never had an Object in view but their permanent Interest, as far as my Judgment could direct me, and as Prejudices in favour of those in whom I have confided, or against those who opposed me, vanish in my Mind, when the Good of the Service requires it, I now wish you to recal Mr. Middleton from the Court of the Vizier, and to appoint Mr. Bristow in his Room.

" My weak State of Health obliges me to dictate this Letter from my Bed; yet I cannot but add, that your Instructions to Mr. Bristow should be strong and positive upon these Points:—First, That he should always shew every possible Respect to the Vizier and his Family.—Secondly, That he should take the most effectual Steps for securing all that may remain unpaid of the Company's Balances.—Thirdly, That the Security and internal Peace of the Vizier's Dominions, and the Happiness of the People, should be continually in his View; and that he should communicate fully and freely with this Government upon those Subjects.

The Counsel for the Defendant stated, That the next Subject upon which they should offer Evidence, was the Measure of resuming the Jaghires; and first they should produce a Letter upon the Subject of the Jaghires, from the Nabob to the Resident, to prove the Mischiefs they occasioned, and his Desire to resume them; which Letter they proposed reading, with the Consent of the Managers, from the Appendix to the printed Minutes, the Book in which it was entered not being at present in Court.

Read, the following Extract from N° XXXVIII. of the Appendix to the printed Minutes, beginning at Page 86 of the same.

" From the Nabob Vizier to the Resident.

" I have received your Letter, covering Copies of Letters from my Mother to yourself—recapitulated * the Contents.—She says her Jagheers were not granted by me. At the Time of the late Nabob's Death, these Mahls were under the Charge of Jowaur Ally Khan, on the Footing of other Aumils, inasmuch that the Accounts, &c. were lodged in the Dewan's Office; these Accounts, as they were delivered into the Dewan's Office to the Date of the Nabob's Death, are forthcoming. After his Death, I, as a dutiful Son, made over these Mahls to her in Jagheer, that it could not be said I left my Mother unprovided. The Business and Mahls of the Khalsa suffer considerably, and are much prejudiced by the Authority and Conduct of the Aumils of these Jagheers, Mahls, as also from the Insolence of the Household Khajahs; witness the Conduct of Bhar Ally Khan's Naibat Tondah. My Life, Estate, and Dominions originate from the Friendship of the English Government. Yet what Knavery have not these Household Khajahs been guilty of. As therefore it is not prudent that these Mahls should be continued in the Charge of my Mother, or Household Khajahs, I have appointed my own Aumils—receive the Amount arising from these Mahls, and pay it to my Mother, after deducting the Charges of Collections, &c. absolute Charges. I am ready to acquiesce in any Thing for my Mother. As for the other Parts of her Letters, I trust in God they are dictated by the Household Khajahs; and that I have not caused Shame to myself from my Conduct to God or my Mother. After the Death of my Father, whatever was due from him to the Company, also to the Troops, I took upon myself; but whatever Effects there were remained with my Mother. Some Time since she gave some Part to me, but it went no Way in the Discharge of the Claims of the Company or Troops. For these many Years I have endured much Inconvenience and Trouble for the Discharge of these; yet Half is not made good, and I am in daily Anxiety on this Account, from a Desire to discharge all just Dues to the Company. It is my Intention to proceed to Fyzabad in Ten Days, the Mohrum being over, when I mean to request of my Mother the Whole of my Father's Estate, to enable me to pay off all Debts to the Company. Agreeable to the Laws of God, all my Father's Effects are my Right, that I may make good all Claims on him. If my Mother, from Affection, contents, I shall be happy; if not, whatever Manner she may render it, I shall pay it towards the Adjustment of the Balance due to the Company. With respect to the Household Khajahs, I shall confine and punish them, for the Knavery and Means they have used towards effecting a Breach between my Mother and myself. You will in Friendship cause this Letter to be translated into English, and send it immediately to the Governor, desiring him not to listen to any one, or what my Mother may write, neither adopt her Opinion, but direct me to receive Money from her, towards the Payment of the Company's Demands. I am ready to defray and allow her for her Expences—with respect to the Amount Collections of her Jagheers, after deducting all necessary Charges of Collection; you may receive and transmit it to her." The ancient Forms of the Mogul Constitution appear to have nearly expired with Alumeer, and when the Company acquired the Possession of the Dewanny, the Traces of them were only to be found: It is not therefore surprising that the English should have adopted erroneous Ideas on this Subject, and have confirmed Abuses which they found to exist. "3. A Jagheer is properly an Appendage to a Dignity called Munsub, which it is therefore necessary to explain.

"4. In the Mogul Empire there are no Hereditary Dignities; the Rank of the Nobles was conferred, by special Appointment from the Emperor, for Life only, and revocable at his Pleasure; and it was estimated by the Number of Horse which they were supposed to command. This Command was denominated Munsub, and a Jagheer was an Appendage to it." (a)

" Beckanday Khan, and other Munsubdar, having obtained an Assignment for their Pay in the Pergunnah Berance, they laid Claim to the Possession of the whole District, as the Amount of the Rents of it in Daams corresponded exactly with that specified in the Vizier's Assignment. The Dewan refused his Assent, and insisted upon their receiving their Pay in Money which compelled the Munsubdars to accept the Assignments according to the established Rules, which left them no Portion of the Towfeer. By this Adjustment the Government was saved from a Loss of 109, 791 to 6, being the Excess of the Rents of the District, beyond the Valuation of Toren Mull." (a)

" Appendix, N° 12.

" In order to shew the Strictness with which the Jagheerders were obliged to account for the Sums, a Translate of an original Record taken from the Dewan Duster, containing an Account of the Collections from the Jagheer of Nazim of Bengal, is annexed. Similar Accounts were taken from all Munsubdars, and transmitted to Delhi with the Tusdeck Hazere, or Account of the Troops of the Munsubdars that had been marked and received, and according to which the Beraat or Adjustment of their Accounts was made out at the End of the Year by the Grand Bukthees at the Presence. The Claims of Government upon the Jagheerdar for the Hissah Khalla, Troops deserted, or not mustered, &c &c. were classed under the Head of Motalibah Sircar, or the Demands of the State; and to answer which it was customary on Assignments, to any considerable Amount, to suspend a Sum under the Head of Titemah Tullub, or Pay suspended, for which an Assignment was never granted till the Munsubdar had settled his Accounts. The Emperor Aurung Zeeb, being once importuned by his eldest Son to grant an Order for the Payment of this suspended Balance before his Accounts were adjusted; " Let him know," replied the Emperor, " that this (the Grant of a Jagheer) is not like the Dealings of Merchants. My Father suspended One-fourth of the Jagheers of the Princes and Nobles, but in the present Age the Laws are disregarded. If a Part of his Pay be suspended, it matters not, for it will be appropriated to " the Liquidation of Motalibah," or the Demands of Government, " the Price of the Jewels, and various other Claims." “ Sir, “ While the Nabob Vizier is, in all his Letters to the Governor General, complaining of the Insufficiency of his Resources, the very exorbitant Amount of Jaghires (not less than Half a Crore) stated in the late Resident's general Statement of Owde, and the many Informations we have received of the Injury caused to the public Revenues of the Vizier, by that Mode of gratifying those who have Interest or Claims upon the Nabob, cannot but induce us to direct that you will recommend to his Excellency to discontinue these Grants, and to resume them as they fall in * my Death, or otherwise, and, if possible, to change those now existing into Pensions of an equal Amount, payable from the Suddur Treasury, provided their Claims to such Indulgence shall appear reasonable. From this general Regulation, we of Course mean to exempt those Jaghires to which the Company are Guarantees. We are also informed, that notwithstanding repeated Injunctions to the contrary, there are yet a Number of unlicensed Europeans in the Provinces of the Vizier: We therefore positively enjoin you to urge the Nabob immediately to order them in the most speedy Manner to quit his Dominions, allowing them a proper, but short Time, to effect it, and to recommend, in case of Delay or Disobedience, that they be seized and sent down Prisoners to the Presidency.

To shew further the Evils experienced from the Jaghires, particularly the Begums, to have been the Subject of Complaint in the Year 1776,

“ At a Council; Present,

The Honourable Warren Hastings, Governor General, President;

Lieut. General John Clavering,

The Honble. George Monson,

Richard Barwell, } Esqrs.

Philip Francis, }

Secret Dept.

“ To the Honourable Warren Hastings, Governor General, and Council, &c.

“ Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

“ The repeated Applications I receive from the Begum, of the ill Treatment she meets with, induce me to trouble the Honourable Board on this very disagreeable Subject. I find all my Endeavours to reconcile her and the Nabob in vain; but as the Facts have happened, so shall I state them, and intreat the particular Instructions of the Honourable Board.

“ The Heads of the Begum's Complaints are as follows:

“ Article 1st. That the Nabob's Agents at Fyzabad treat her Servants in a Manner unbecoming her Rank and Character, so that they have not the same Liberty as the other Inhabitants of the Place.

“ 2d. That Murteza Khan, when at Fyzabad, threatened to prevent her Servants from bringing the Necessaries of Life into the Zenana, and did actually, by having a Number of Military with him when he waited upon her, terrify her, and sent her a Message that he would order Sepoys to force Money from her, if she did not willingly give it.

“ 3d. That the Nabob encourages his Agents to make Difficulties about the Receipt of Goods in Part Payment of the stipulated Sum, by objecting to the Identity of her Property, and claiming Effects as his Excellency's which belong to her.

“ 4th. That in Matters relative to her Treaty with the Nabob, I have not backed her Application in the Style I ought to have done, as the Inducement she had for stipulating to pay any Sum of Money was the Confidence she placed in the Company's Guarantee of the Treaty, and the Justice she expected to have rendered to her on all Occasions. She therefore makes the Company Principals in the Violences committed against her.

“ Most of these Heads I have already troubled the Honourable Board with in my Address of the 30th November.

“ The Violences complained of in the First Article, I really, from the Evidence of any Individuals I ever met with, do not understand to have been committed. I before informed the Honourable Board that I obtained positive Orders from the Nabob not to have any Disrespect shewn to the Begum or her Servants, and indeed it is improbable any Thing of the Kind could have happened, for Myrfa Ally Cawn and Sellar Jung her Brothers, were both at Fyzabad a long Time after Murteza Cawn and I left it, and were the Governors of the Town. They are under many Obligations to the Begum, and pay more Attention to her than to the Nabob himself. Sellar Jung in particular always backed her Assertions relative to her Poverty, and was even with

Difficulty

Difficulty persuaded to undertake the Negotiation, and throughout the Whole of it did not promote the Nabob's Interests so much as he might have done; he joined the Nabob since we left Lucknow, but Mirza Ally still remains with the Charge of Fyzabad. In making this Complaint, the Begum forgets the improper Conduct of her own Servants, who have hitherto preserved a total Independence of the Nabob's Authority, beat the Officers of his Government, and refused Obedience to his Perwannahs.

" I humbly conceive the 2d Article to be erroneous also; for on the First Visit to the Begum, Mirza Ally, Sellar Jung, Murteza Cawn, and I, went together; Sellar Jung had Two Companies of Sepoys as his Guard, being the Number he generally appears abroad with, and for the Reasons given in my First Answer, he could hardly be suspected of agreeing to any violent Measures.

" Murteza Cawn had perhaps Twenty Troopers and some orderly Sepoys, but in other Respects he did not go with Half his usual Retinue. The Begum's Eunuchs did industriously spread Reports of Murteza Cawn's ill Intentions to break into the Zenana, and seize all the Effects and Money that could be found; on the other Hand Murteza Cawn pretended to be afraid of Attempts on his Life, and kept a Body of Sepoys constantly under Arms at his House. I considered the Reports spread by both Parties, intended to serve the Purpose of discrediting each other's as much as possible, and which I did not believe to have any Foundation in Truth.

" Murteza Cawn, when he went from Myndigaut to Fyzabad in April last, was said to have sent a harsh Message to the Begum; but this Instance being previous to the Solicitation for the English to interfere, of course no Blame, I humbly conceive, could fall on me for any Transactions at that Period. When I was at Fyzabad, I am persuaded none but respectful Language was used to the Begum; one Thing only that I remember could be taken amiss, and that was my telling her, that unless she paid the Money the Treaty became null. Whether such a Hint was necessary, I submit to the Consideration of the Honourable Board; for the Eunuchs practised every Art to delay the Payment, protesting in positive Terms that the Begum had neither Money nor Effects, though, upon my one Day representing to her that I should immediately leave Fyzabad unless the Conditions were fulfilled on her Part, she found Means to send Six Lacks in Specie in less than Three Hours after; and it was hardly a Month before that she asserted her Inability to pay a single Rupee. The Copy of the Begum's Letter to me making this Assertion I troubled the Honourable Board with in my Address of the 9th September last.

" The Third Complaint I am persuaded is partly erroneous, from the Begum's claiming every Article of the late Vizier's Property, even to his Military Stores.

" The Nabob would be very glad to receive any Thing, but the Appraiser appointed by the mutual Consent of both Parties, remains at Fyzabad without having any Goods offered him, but such as are already in the Possession of the Nabob's own Officers.

" I understand the late Vizier deposited the Surplus of his Revenues with the Begum; and having died Intestate (or at least a Will was never produced, though one is said to be secreted by the Begum), it left a Door open to the Disputes which have happened; for, according to the Koran, and the Usages of the Country, the Nabob could claim an infinitely greater Share than he has got. It is beyond a Doubt that she has Money; for her principal Eunuch brought me a Message one Day, not as a Matter of any Secrecy or Confidence, that the Wealth the late Vizier had amassed was intended to supply an Emergency. I answered, the Nabob could not well want it at a greater one; and pressed her very earnestly to supply his necessary Wants.

" That she has Jaghires equal to her Rank in every Respect, is evident from her own Confession to me, in One of her Letters, wherein she says her own Charge amounts to 12,000 Rupees a Month; and her Income is known to be Seven Lacks a Year. If the Complaints contained in the Three First Articles are groundless, I humbly conceive the Fourth is not much better founded. The Begum can make no great Claim on the Company for Protection, when she herself has infringed the Conditions of the Treaty of which they were Guarantees. Let her pay the Nabob the stipulated Sum, and he not only consents, but is desirous that the Treaty should remain in force. He has observed that Conduct to the Begum which Nature dictates; and so far from harsh Usage, he has on all Occasions treated her with the greatest Delicacy.

" Murteza Cawn is afraid to use her ill, for he knows the Influence she has over the Nabob; and besides this, a Contract of Marriage is to take place between his and Sellar Jung's Children.

" The Begum had great Influence in the late Vizier's Time. On the Nabob Aufuph ul Dowlah's Accession, he at once placed the sole Management in the Hands of Murteza Cawn, which disgusted both her and her Adherents, particularly her Eunuchs, who have their Views in keeping the Wealth in the Begum's Possession. The Principal, Bahar Ally Cawn, enjoys her entire Confidence; and how far she may be better affected to the English than the Nabob, I leave to the Consideration of the Honourable Board from the following Fact:—On the Conclusion of the Treaty between the Company and the Nabob, the Begum blamed his Excellency very highly, and insisted on his not ceding Benares, offering of herself a Sum of Money in lieu of it. The Proposal was afterwards made to me by the Nabob; but I answered, I was not authorized to accept an Alternative; and that if he intended to have me represent the Matter to the Honourable able Board, he should give me his Instructions in Writing, and explain his Sentiments himself to the Governor General—which he did not do.

“ As the Begum’s Sentiments, at the present Juncture, will be best explained in her own Words, I trouble the Honourable Board with a Copy of the last Letter I received from her, as also my Answer to it. (a)

“ To Nathaniel Middleton Esquire.

“ Sir,

Benares, 3d January 1782.

“ I have already acknowledged the Receipt of your Letter of the 30th, and am determined, by the Assurances and Promise made to me in it, to return to Calcutta, and shall leave to you the Charge and Execution of the Measures necessary to the Execution of the Agreement concluded between the Nabob Vizier and myself in September last.

“ Willing as I am to trust to your Declarations, I cannot avoid yielding to the Doubts suggested by the Inconsistencies of your Representations of their Grounds. You, in a former Letter, told me that the Nabob had required the Assistance of a Regiment of Sepoys to enforce the Resumption of the Jagheers, but that it was your Opinion that a much larger Force would be required for it, as a powerful Opposition was prepared against it: I in consequence ordered a strong Detachment to perform this Service: You then wrote that the Nabob would not allow it, that you durst not communicate it to him, that you knew he would even oppose it by Force, and that the Payment of the Detachment would be a Breach of Treaty; and now you write, that the Nabob's Sebundy alone are equal to this Service, and that it will be but a Fortnight's Work to accomplish it. These are absolute Contradictions.

“ But I am most affected by your declaring, that you did not understand it to have been my Intention that the Reformation of the Nabob's Military Establishment should take place this Year; and that nothing has been done in the new Settlement of the Revenue, for the same Reason.

“ These are fresh Instances of what I have had too frequent Cause to complain of, your total Inattention to my Instructions. The like Inattention is manifested in a former Letter, in which you tell me that you did not know that I expected a present Supply to the Company's Treasury.

• Sic in Orig. “ In my Instructions I premise, as a Matter well * know to yourself, * that the chief Object
† Sic in Orig. of my Negotiation has been to induce and assist the Nabob to bring his Government and Finances into Regularity, † as to prevent his Alliance being a Clog to the Company, and to enable him to discharge his Debt to the Company in the shortest Time possible.’

“ It adds, ‘ I shall expect that the Whole of the Excess (of the Jaghires beyond the estimated Amount) be appropriated to the Discharge of the Nabob's Debt to the Company.’

“ The Order in which the Measures necessary to the Execution of the Agreement shall be taken is prescribed in the following Words:

“ After settling the Amount of the personal Disbursements of the Nabob Vizier and his Household, the next Point that will require your Exertions, towards the General Arrangements of the public Charges, is the Reform of the established and Muttaiena Troops, &c. &c.’

“ The Reformation of the Nabob's Troops, I considered, as a Point which neither required nor admitted Delay—that his Muttaiena Troops were almost wholly fictitious, and his regular Establishment scanty in Numbers, and in long Arrears: And I considered and stated this Reformation as One of the Means of reducing the Nabob's Expences, and enabling him to pay his Debts to the Company.

“ I have clearly explained my Intention to be, that the First Receipt of the current Revenue should furnish the stipulated Amount of the Nabob's private Expences; that his Assignments for the Company's Debt, and other Charges defrayed by them, should remain as usual; and that the Whole of the Excesses of the Jagheers should be appropriated to the same Account: I require no more; nor can I add either Explanation or Comment on the Instructions which have been originally given to you, that can be more clearly express, or more fully, than the Words of the original Text.

" I have carefully perused the Agreement itself, and the former Treaties existing with the Nabob Vizier, but can find no Clause in any of them which either expressly, or by Implication, gives him a Right to employ the Company's Forces, except those of the Subsidiary Brigade, without indemnifying the Company for their Expences. The Brigade itself is expressly declared to be for the Defence of his Dominions, and therefore has always been stationed on the Frontier nearest to Invasion. It was never intended that its Strength should be dissipated in little Detachments, and its Discipline ruined by employing it to suppress the Insurrections of his Reiats, and to enforce the Payment of the Collections, although a discretionary Power has been given to you, in Cases of great Emergency, to call for the Aid of Detachments from it for the former Service. And you know, that had our other Exigencies permitted it, it was intended to remand the Whole of Sir John Cumming's Detachment to Bengal, and to leave no more than the Subsidiary Brigade, and the Regiment appointed for Lucknow, in the Vizier's Dominions. If the Opposition proposed by the Begum is so formidable as you represented it when you first intimated it to me, your Employment of the Nabob's Sebundy to suppress it would only serve to make it a serious and protracted War; which my Order was intended to prevent, by suppressing all Attempts instantaneously. I shall now revoke my Orders; but I must positively forbid you to employ the Aid of the Regiment, which has been required and sent, on any Service to which you shall judge it not fully equal. This is no Part of the Agreement.

" I meet with a captious Expression in your Letter, which, as it is not warranted by any in mine, I deem unbecoming.

" Alluding to Sir John Cumming's Detachment, you desire ' my Determination on the future ' Payment of the Troops, which I may still think necessary to keep up to regulate the Nabob's ' internal Government.'

" It is not my Intention, nor ever was, to keep up Troops to regulate the Nabob's internal Government, but solely to defend his Country against Invaders, unless he should require occasional and temporary Aids to restore internal Peace and Order to it, to enable him to acquit himself of his Debt to the Company, and thereby recover the whole and unparticipated Regulation of his internal Government. If he conceives my Design to be any other than this, it is now your Duty to undeceive him.

" I now refer you back to the Agreement concluded by me with the Nabob, and my Instructions delivered in consequence of it. These are to be your sole Guide; nor do I mean by any Thing which I have since written, whether in this or any former Letter, to revoke or change a Tittle of what is written in them. On these I ground the Whole of your present Responsibility, except what I have written concerning the additional Claims made on the Begums, and which I consider a virtual Part of my formal Instructions. (a)

" I am, &c. &c.

(Signed)

" Warren Hastings."

The Counsel for the Defendant stated, they should next proceed to shew that the Annual Amount of the Jaghires in the Nabob's Country exceeded Thirty-nine Lacks of Rupees; and for this Purpose would read Two Extracts from the Appendix to the printed Minutes, if no Objection was made by the Managers for the Commons, not having the original Book immediately at Hand.

The Counsel for the Defendant informed the House, that the next Subject in the Order of the Evidence adduced by the Prosecutors was, the Interference in the internal Government of Oude, upon which the Defendant lay under Two Accusations; the First, of a general indefinite Responsibility for all the Evils existing in the internal Government of Oude, the other respecting his exerting an undue Influence over the Vizier and his Measures, in his internal Government: They should therefore proceed to shew, with respect to the First, that those Evils originated from Causes which the Defendant could not prevent; and as to the Second Accusation, they should shew that he took the Methods best calculated for the Purpose of remedying the Evils complained of. And First, they desired to refer the House to a Letter of the Defendant to the Vizier, upon this Subject, already given in Evidence by the Managers for the Commons (b), remonstrating with him strongly upon the Subject of the Behaviour of particular Individuals about his Person, and the Influence they exerted: After which they stated, they should next proceed to prove the Necessity and Propriety of the Defendant's making those Remonstrances to the Vizier, by shewing what Sort and Description of Persons the Orderlies, who had this personal Influence over the Nabob, were represented to be by the then Resident, and by the preceding Resident.

" Honble. Sir and Sirs,

" Lucknow, 4th July 1775.

" When I have informed the Honble. Board of the Rajpoots assembling an Army of Forty and Fifty Thousand Men, it must be observed, that not a Fourth Part of them are to be considered as regular disciplined Soldiers, or constantly maintained at a fixed Pay, but collected together by the different Zemindars and Rajahs, as the Emergency of the Service may require. Each Zemindar * of Rajah respectively commands his own Corps, and has his separate Encampment; and over the Whole there is a General, whose Power is rather to controul than to command. The principal Rajah is Perty Sing, a Minor of about 12 Years of Age, who resides at Joymegur; and as the Command of the Army, and Authority in Civil Matters, were formerly Hereditary in his Family, Hoshally Ram Bohra is appointed General in his Behalf. This Prince's Ancestors had entire Possession of the Countries now held by the Rajpoots; but by disposing of large Governments to Individuals, they, in the Course of Time, became independent, and at present do little more than just acknowledge his Superiority, and when it may promote their general Views, unite in opposing the common Enemy; but at other Times, are inattentive to his Authority, and subject to intestine Divisions. The Troops under each Rajah, &c. are in Miniature, formed in the same Way as the general Body. The Land-holders and Fatty Zemindars hold their Possessions upon the Condition of maintaining a certain Number of Men in Case of a War, and these Men are most of them brought from the Plow, without ever having been accustomed to Military Service. “ Honble. Sir and Sirs,

“ The Nabob preserves no Regularity in the Disposal of Military Offices, but they are given indiscriminately to his Favourites, with little Regard to their Abilities in this Line. Javo Lall, who now commands Seven Battalions of Sepoys, and the Artillery (which latter he obtained on the Dismission of the Europeans) never before had any other Charge than that of the Nabob's Stables. “ Received the following Letter from Mr. Bristow.

“ Honble. Sir and Sirs,

“ Camp near Etawa, February 12th 1776.

“ Notwithstanding I have so often addressed the Honble. Board on the distracted State of the Nabob's Affairs, I am sorry to say, they still wear an unfavourable Aspect, at the same Time I entertain great Hopes of their mending. In explaining his real Situation at this Juncture, I shall state, without Reserve, some Facts relative to the Nabob, both in his public and private Character.

“ His Excellency is juvenile in his Amusements, volatile, injudicious in the Choice of his Confidants, and so familiar in his Conversation, as to throw aside the Sovereign, and admit his Favourites to a Freedom destructive to all Subordination, and a Cause for the Inattention paid by them to his Commands. He frequently passes whole Days in Dissipation, and is of late much given to Liquor; for I have known him to make himself and his Favourites, and even his menial Servants, indecently drunk. By this Mode of passing his Time, he can have little Leisure for Business, and, indeed, he hardly attends to any, excepting when I wait upon him on the Company's Affairs; and then I am generally referred to his Minister, to whom, and the other Favourites, he confides the entire Charge of his Government.

“ The Men constantly about his Person are Murtehzeah Cawn, Javo Lall, Sowba Sing, Noway Sing, Bowanny Sing, Mooty Sing, and Holafs. The first of these in Rank, Murtehzeah Cawn, placed the others with the Nabob on his Accession, as his Dependants, to promote his own Views. Javo Lall, a Person of little Knowledge, low Birth and Education, by Adulation, and an easy Compliance with his Excellency's Foibles, gained an Ascendancy over him, obtained great Appointments and Commands. The others were originally Sepoys, and upon Murtehzeah Cawn's Plan, intended as his Excellency's Orderlies; but from being constantly about him, they also got highly into Favour, and now enjoy Titles, large Allowances, command Bodies of Troops, and are considered as the Persons to succeed to all Vacancies in the Military Line. They are known by the Name of Tellinga Rajahs. And the Introduction of Persons to the Nabob, and many Matters of Consequence frequently pass through this Channel. I therefore leave it to the Honble. Board to determine on the Characters which must surround this Court. Javo Loll in particular, and all these Men, have stepped beyond the Line originally drawn for them. Still Murtehze Cawn enjoys the Nabob's Confidence, fills the higher Offices of State, and the others the inferior ones. He considers them as a Party against him. They really do counteract him, and are laying Plans for his Ruin. There being amongst them not One Man of Ability or Knowledge, they were at a Loss to detect any Peculations and Misdemeanors Murtehze Cawn might have been guilty of. Thus circumstanced, they looked for a Person capable of such a Task, but who would not overstep their own Influence. Benny Behadre, who, shortly after the Battle of Buxar, had been made the late Vizier's Prime Minister, was the Person pitched upon, and called out of Disgrace from Fyzabad. He is * and intelligent Man; but being blind, is thought by the Party to be unlikely to hurt them, by obtaining superior Influence over the Nabob, as he cannot well enter into his Excellency's favourite Exercises and Amusements. Murtehze Cawn, by some Means, got Intelligence of the Reason of Benny Behadre's being brought in, and has endeavoured to attach him to his Party. This Instance shews the Temper of these People, and the perpetual Contention there must be for the Nabob's Favour. Javo Loll's great Ascendancy over the Nabob is to be considered to have taken its Rise since we left Mindighaut. In regard to my Conduct, it is to adhere to Murtehze Cawn, who has always warmly supported the Company's Interests. My Opinion of his Abilities I have before humbly represented. From his Station about the Nabob's Person, he is obliged to give up a good Deal of his Time to Dissipation, owing to which, many Businesses are so long protracted in the Execution, that the good Effects which might be expected from them are lost by the Delay: Still I imagine his peculiar Situation might not be detrimental to the Public, if he appointed able Naibs and Mottasiddies to act under him, who would, at the proper Time, execute all necessary Matters in which Murtehze Cawn might acquiesce, and ensure the Nabob's Approbation.

* Sic in Orig.

" Javo Loll by his Declaration, and the Evidence of many Individuals, is a Person I am persuaded ill affected to the Company. He frequently talks of the English having ill Intentions towards the Nabob, and uses his Endeavours to persuade him to a Conviction of his own Independance: Such Insinuations may be very prejudicial to his Excellency, and involve his Government in still greater Confusion than it at present is.

" Should his Alliance with the English be ever reported to be interrupted, Mal-contents would arise in all Quarters, whom it might not be afterwards so easy to quell. I considered a Point of such Delicacy, as a Misunderstanding between the Company and the Nabob, ought to be discouraged on the very first Surmises of it; that ill disposed Persons ought not to have the Opportunity of confirming any bad Impressions in his Excellency's Breast, which would be hereafter with Difficulty erased, or perhaps proceed to Extremitities, and involve the Two Governments in very fatal Consequences.

" I thought therefore the best Mode of knowing whether his Excellency paid any Attention to the improper Discourses of his Favourites, was to inform him candidly of the public Reports I had heard, and humbly solicited him to consider his real Situation, and the Conduct of the Honble. Board since the Conclusion of the Treaty: I stated to him every Expedient had been adopted to avoid Jealousies by any Connections with foreign Princes, and as for my Correspondence, I never wrote Letters but by his Sanction and Privity, and if he had Reason to be dissatisfied with me, that he should express it. When I represented these Circumstances to his Excellency, he denied any improper Discourses having passed in his Presence, and said he knew who was the Person who gave me the Information, meaning Murtehze Cawn, but pretended not to be displeased with him; I replied, that I should ill discharge my Duty to the Company or to him, to suffer these Reports to gain Ground, and hoped he would excuse my having mentioned the Subject.

" I lay little Dependance on the Information of Individuals, who are biased by the Cause they espouse; but when I heard it indiscriminately asserted by Persons attached both to Javo Loll, as well as his Opponent, that he has even gone so far with the Nabob as to offer to fight the Company; such Information is not to be overlooked. Many People assert to me, that they have heard Javo Loll speak of the English in the Nabob's Presence in the most disrespectful Terms, and use every Argument he could suggest to disgust him: Should I find any Alteration in the Nabob's Behaviour to me, or his Affairs likely to fail of Success, I purpose to present a Memorial, and endeavour to convince him of the Company being his firmest Friends. “ Received the following Letter from Mr. Bristow :

“ Honble Sir, and Sirs,

“ The Mint at Lucknow was farmed at 22,000 Rupees a Year to Bowanny Sing, one of the Vizier's favourite Orderlies, who refarmed it at * at 8,000 Rupees Profit to himself, and it was again refarmed to a Third Person for a further Emolument; so that it stands altogether to the Managers at 30,000 Rupees a Year, besides the Support of his Workmen, and other necessary Expences of every Kind; where, by the best Intelligence I could ever collect, it will not yield above 24 or 25,000 Rupees a Year. I have heard that general Complaints are made by the Inhabitants of the Loss sustained by Mal-Practices in the Mint, and that already Rupees of the 14th and 15th Years are the greatest Part bought up and coined into the Current Siccas with a Gain to the Proprietor. By this Circumstance alone, the Honble. Board may determine the bad Consequences of the present Management in the Coinage, and what is worse, I see no Probability of any Stop being put to it; for on his Excellency's coming into Cantonments, and shortly after Ellize Cawn's Arrival, I represented the Case as particularly affecting his Money Transactions with the Company, since he received this Species of Rupee in Payment of his Revenue, without having the Deficiency in the intrinsic Value made up to him; that the Company would not agree to this for their Monies, it being stipulated in the Treaty, that they were to be paid for their Transactions at the Standard then in being; that should it hereafter be debased, his Excellency was to make up the Deficiency; and I therefore hoped he would not be offended at being charged with the Difference. He answered in general Terms, “ That he had entrusted the Management of the Mint to a Man in whom he placed great Confidence, and who was capable of the Office.” I tried to convince his Excellency to the contrary, but all to no Purpose; and notwithstanding I repeatedly urged him on this Point, I could obtain no real Satisfaction, and I found my Representations so ill received, that I was forced to drop them. I did it very unwillingly, because Ellize Cawn had solicited me in the strongest Terms to use my Influence with the Vizier, to rectify the Mismanagement of the Mint, being fully sensible of the Detriment which would accrue from it; but the Manager being a Man so much favoured, he hardly dared openly to speak against him. The only Point we were able to effect was to get an Order to Bowanny Sing to coin the Rupees at the old Standard; and so far from curbing his Authority and Influence, the Vizier has since farmed to him all the Mints throughout his whole Dominions. Notwithstanding the Order, Bowanny Sing still continues to debase the Coin. In Corah particularly the Abuses are the greatest. That Mint is refarmed at a most exorbitant Rate, and has already produced Lead Money, the same in Proportion in all other Parts of the Country.

* Sic in Orig.

“ In Reply to what the Honble. Board direct, that I should ascertain and report the Weight and Fineness of a Bungaloo Sicca, I hope I have evinced the Impracticability of my doing it, in the present State of the Mint. The Old Sicca ought to be composed of Eighteen Burrunge Alley, and weigh Eleven Makhha, which will guide the Honble. Board in their Decision on the real Difference in Value between it and a Patna Sunnaut, if the Standard was adhered to. I understand, however, that the New Old Sicca is now current in the Buzar, at a Discount of Two per Cent. on the old, and that this Discount is expected to encrease upon every new Coinage.

“ I have for a long Time flattered myself with the Hopes of Ready-money Payments from the Vizier, which the Situation of his Country, and extraordinary Expences until the present Juncture, have prevented from being accomplished; and I am further to observe from his lavish Disposition, that it is impossible I should ever be able to obtain them: I therefore see no Way of realizing his Debt to the Company, but by procuring from him specific Funds, for the Payment of it, which he shall be bound not to appropriate to any other Purpose. To evince the Truth of this, it is impossible to ascertain with Precision, the Expences of the Privy Purse; and in order that they should not be known, he has appointed Two Persons, Hussein Reza Cawn and his favourite Bowanny Sing, besides the public Treasurer, to receive the Produce of his Revenues. Excepting the fixed and unavoidable Expences of his Household, not any Thing is paid into the public Treasury. Hussein Reza Cawn has latterly held his Office nominally, for very little Money has been deposited with him: Bowanny Sing receives almost the Whole, and when I have been able to trace his Excellency's Disbursements in this Channel, it has generally been in the Purchase of Trifles in the Buzar, and in Presents to his Favourites, almost immediately upon the Receipt * of even large Sums.

* Sic in Orig

“ Having

" Having such a Disposition to counteract, I humbly submit it to the Consideration of the Honble. Board, whether the Mode of securing specific Funds is not the only One of realizing the Company's Demand; and I hope my Conduct in adopting this Measure will meet with Approbation;—at all Events should it be disapproved, I can always give them up, and it would not be an easy Matter to procure them, if the Collections on Account of the new Year were once commenced. Herewith I do myself the Pleasure to enclose a Statement of the Assignments, (N<sup>o</sup> 10), which I have procured, both for the Payment of the Debt, and of the Army Subsidy for next Year. I objected strongly to the Assignment on Rohilcund, wishing to exchange it for One on Oud, which his Excellency repeatedly declined to grant me, so that I submit this Matter to the Consideration of the Honble. Board.

" The Kiltbundee I will forward as soon as I procure the Materials from the Aumils, as yet they have not furnished me with them.

" Honble. Sir and Sirs,

Mr. Bristow.

" The great Usefulness of Ellije Cawn to the Vizier I have already mentioned, and as Affairs may take a Turn in consequence of his Decease, I shall trouble the Honble. Board with the Characters of the Persons who compose the Vizier's Court.

" In my Address of the 12th February I mentioned Murteza Cawn, Jado Loll, Souba Sing, Nawar Sing, and Holafs, as Favourites; of whom Murteza Cawn was assassinated, Jado Loll disgraced. Three other Men have since rose into Favour, namely, Tupper Chund, the Treasurer; Jummarin Bukh, the Commandant of the Artillery, and the greater Part of the Troops now under British Officers; and Caim Cawn, his Excellency's Elephant Driver.

" Those whom I before defined to the Honble. Board, under the Denomination of Tellinga Rajahs, have Jagheirs of Thirty thousand Rupees a Year each; are Farmers of large Districts, and reap great Emoluments from occasional Gratuities. Excepting Bowanny Sing, they are not particularly distinguished one above another, but this Man enjoys, in a great Degree, the Confidence of his Master; and I have already explained to the Honble. Board that the Irregularities in the Coinage have principally proceeded from his Mismanagement. He is, to the best of my Judgement, possessed of no natural Abilities to make up for the Want of Education, nor any One Recommendation whatever, but merely the Vizier's Favour; and I am sorry to say that the general Conduct of all these Rajahs, and this Man in particular, is exceedingly oppressive and grievous to the People.

" Jummarin Bukh is a vain light insignificant Character, of the same Education and Abilities as the Tellinga Rajahs, and whose real Pretensions to his present Station are much the same as theirs. Caim Cawn has obtained his Favour from the Accident of being constantly under the Vizier's Eye. He is a Man whom I believe his Excellency consults upon many Occasions, and by whom he is much guided. Tipper Chund has been a long Time about the Court, is an artful intriguing Man, not wholly destitute of Abilities, and avowedly ill-disposed towards the English: In every Measure where he has been concerned, I have always met with Opposition from him.

" The Vizier's Turn for Dissipation takes up so much of his Time, that it is impossible he should attend to the Administration of his Affairs; and therefore, without a capable Man in the Station of Naib, I see no Prospect of their ever being settled on a permanent Footing. Supposing it to be vacant, there would be no one authorized to take upon him the Controul of Accounts, or to inspect into the general State of Affairs, but every Person who would have Influence with the Vizier would use it to serve his own Purposes. I saw a great Deal of this on our Return from Etawa, for if Ellije Cawn, or some Man equally capable had not been placed in Office, the Order and Regularity which were by him preserved would never have existed. The Duties of Naib, under the the wisest and most methodical Prince, require great Capacity, and must even then be executed with Difficulty; but under a Prince such as the present, I hardly see it possible for any one to discharge the Trust with Credit to himself.

"The Vizier's Unsteadiness is productive of contradictory Orders. The Views of his Favourites clash with the Minister's Measures, and overset all his Endeavours to establish Order and Regularity; if he should attempt to overset them in the Opinion of the Vizier and fail, Ruin would fall on his own Head. Ellije Cawn was so sensible of this, that far from opposing them, he was forced to forward their Interests in order to establish his own Authority. I am further sorry to observe, that though the Vizier's Attachments are not lasting, yet they are exceedingly strong for the Time, and he thinks he can never be too liberal in bestowing Favours on the Persons to whom he is so attached.

"In order to keep the Vizier steady in his Alliance, and to secure the Payment of their Assignments, I conceive the Naib ought to be a Man well disposed towards the English. Though the Vizier is sensible how much the Peace of his Government depends upon us, yet I find him frequently misled by the Insinuations of particular People, who raise his Jealousy of the Company's Intentions, and, notwithstanding Representations which I am almost daily obliged to make him, I am not able to prevent the Officers of his Government throwing great Interruptions in the Collections of my Assignments. The Vizier has made it a Condition, that those on Account the Company, and the Payment of his own Army under British Officers, shall be discharged prior to any others; he nevertheless often grants Tuncaws on the Places where mine are; and, when I represent that this is departing from a Promise engaged to in the most public Manner, which can only disgrace his Government, as it must make all Persons lose their Confidence in his public Faith, he pretends he is unguardedly led into those Measures.

"The Truth is, that he lavishes so much Money away in unnecessary and useless Expences, that unless he alters his Mode of Conduct, he will always be distressed. I have, for my Part, stated to him in the strongest Terms, that the Discharge of all Arrears to the Company, and the regular Payment of the Army under British Officers, are Points that the Honble. Board cannot, on any Account, dispense with. He always acquiesces in the Justness of what I say; but drove to it by his Extravagancies, he still winks at these Attempts to encroach upon my Tuncaws.

"The Appointment of an Officer to the Niabut, in the proper Choice of whom the Company's Interests are so nearly concerned, being a Point of the utmost Consequence, I conceived it to be my Duty to obtain the earliest Intelligence of his Excellency's Intentions; and seeing Ellije Cawn's Decease inevitable, I pressed the Vizier, for some Days past, to come to some Resolution on this Point, which I was never able to bring him to before this Morning. He had Two Persons in View, Surut Sing, the present Aumil at Rohilchund, and Tipper Chund. The latter I strongly objected to, for the Reasons I have above given, as I am convinced that he would not execute the Office with Credit to himself or the Vizier, and that he would exert his utmost Abilities to disgust the English. He is besides this a very unpopular Man, and unaccustomed to this Branch of Business. Soorut Sing appeared to me the fittest of the Two, having been a long Time Duan to Suja Dowla, and being well informed of the general State of the Country, a Man of plain Sense, but great Application; and the Aumils and People about the Durbar knowing his Talent in the Revenue Branch, he would have a Weight with them, which the other could not. For these Reasons, and that he has always shewn an Attachment to the English, I ever recommended him to the Vizier, and hope that my Conduct in so doing will be approved of by the Honble. Board.

"The Vizier, upon considering the Characters of all the Persons about the Court, looks upon him as the properest, and is determined to appoint him, if he appoints any Body; but he told me To-day, that he thought he could execute the Office of Naib himself. This Opinion I judged to have proceeded from the Insinuations of some of the People about him, who, concluding they could not obtain the Office for themselves, imagined they should have the greater Latitude to range in, if it was left vacant.

"I candidly informed his Excellency, that this was the Way to occasion him much Loss, and create endless Confusion in his Government, as he had too many other Occupations to attend to the Minutiae of so extensive a Department as that of the Revenue. After much Argument he agreed with me, but has deferred the Appointment until he shall have fixed on some Person to go in Soorut Sing's Room to Rohilchund, as likewise another Person to fill the Office of Dewan. His Excellency conceiving it incompatible that the Naibut and Dewanny should be united in One Family, the latter Office being now held by Soorut Sing's Son in Law.

"Whatever further Resolutions the Vizier may form on this Head, I shall be sure to give the Honble. Board early Information of.

§ (“ Read the following Letter from Mr. Bristow.

“ Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

“ Herewith I have the Pleasure to forward the Honourable Board the following Papers :

- Nº. 1. General Statement of the Vizier's Army.
2. Statement of the Vizier's Military Disbursements.
3. Statement of the Vizier's Civil Expences.
4. Statement of the Jaghiers in the Vizier's Dominions.
5. Statement of the Vizier's Revenues.
6. Statement of the Vizier's Issues and Receipts on Account of the Hindoo Year 1184, or from the 28th of September 1776 to the 28th September 1777.

“ By these Statements, or rather Estimates, the Honourable Board will observe the enormous Sum by which the Vizier's Expences exceed his Income; and as I obtained my Information from the best Authority, I have great Reason to believe that I have not over-rated them.

“ The Ministers have often represented to the Vizier his Situation, but without Effect; for though he may have been convinced at the Time of the Necessity of a Reform, yet his Turn for Expence will render it a most difficult Task to bring him to abide by any regular System. Besides this Reason there is a very principal one arises from the Opposition his Ministers meet with from Inaam Bucks, Tipper Chund, and the favourite Tellinga Rajas, who counteract every Measure they propose for introducing good Order and Economy. The Characters of his Excellency's Favourites I explained to the Honourable Board in my Letter of the 21st of August last, and am ignorant of any Change having happened in his Sentiments towards them.

“ It appears to be his Plan to intrust to the Tellinga Rajas the Management of any Farms that may in future fall vacant. I dread the bad Consequences that must ensue; for it needs little Judgment to penetrate into the Conduct of Men of low Birth, without either Education or Abilities, and whom I may safely declare totally unfit for the Charge of Government. The Country already feels the Effects of their Violence, and the Vizier does not receive even a temporary Advantage from it; as, whatever they may collect from the Country, the Payments to him from all the Districts fall infinitely short of the former Rents.

“ The Ministers, whoever they be, will be constantly perplexed how to act towards the Favourites, as their Influence with the Vizier places them above Controul, and likewise enables them to obtain extravagant Allowances for the Charges of Collection, as well as great Deductions for the Failure of Crops, deserted Lands, and under various Pretences void of Foundation. These Men themselves, I am told, doubt the Permanency of their Situation—they are sensible of the general Disgust which prevails against them, and that on any Change of Government they would be the first to feel the Effects, and therefore are the more earnest to acquire Emoluments, without regard to the Means.

“ In my Address of the 8th of August last, I informed the Honourable Board of the Abuses which reigned in the Mint, and of the Improbability of their being rectified, owing to the Influence of the Manager, one of the principal Tellinga Rajas. I am sorry to observe, that Abuses daily encrease; for at this short Period of Time from my forwarding the Honourable Board a Table of Assays, the Coinage at some of the Mints has been debased near Three per Cent. Such Departments of the Government as are not under the Management of the Favourites are neglected, and the Persons invested with the Charge of them exposed to the greatest Difficulties. Aumils, whose Districts are filled with refractory Zemindars, and require Troops to subject them, cannot obtain Assistance in proper Time, and, on this Account, I have known great Losses often accrue in the Revenue. Another great Difficulty they labour under is, the Assignments granted on them exceeding the Rent of the Lands they hold. To many People of Influence who have these Assignments they do not dare to give a Refusal, for fear of being injured by them, and they are at the same Time unable to comply with their Demands; so that I recollect many Instances of Aumils, whose Attention has been more taken up in making Excuses to Tuncawdars, than in the Care of their Districts. Every Tuncawdar sends a Vackell, Hircarras, and a Number of People to collect his Tuncaw, and if he has Troops under his Command, he detaches a Party to exact Payment from the Aumil; very often Troops, whom the Vizier cannot pay at the Presence, are sent to collect their Arrears from an Aumil. They frequently treat him in the most ignominious Manner, by confining and depriving him of all Sustenance, until he finds Means to satisfy them. So considerable an Officer

" of Government as an Aumil, whose Character should be held up to the People in the most respectable Light, to be thus disgraced, must not only affect the Vizier's Authority, but his Revenue, and is so prejudicial, that it will be impossible for the Government to subsist long upon this Plan."

" [Another great Abuse which prevails, is the Contempt with which the Vizier's Authority is treated: His Orders are ill executed; his Perwannas disregarded, even in the neighbouring Districts to the Capital, unless accompanied by similar ones from the Person immediately in Charge of the Province. In some distant Parts of the Country, neither his Excellency nor his Aumils are much regarded; the Gurrocpore District particularly can hardly be said to be under the Vizier's Government, as it is held by Zemindars who pay little Obedience to the Aumils, and discharge their Revenues with great Irregularity.] (a)

" Heretofore it was usual to annex the Sayer, or the Collection of Duties of Goods transported by Land, to the Department of the Aumil of the Province, but the Vizier has thought proper to make the Sayer of all his Dominions a separate Office, and entrust it to the Management of Bowanny Sing. This has been productive of much Confusion and general Complaint, because it interferes with the Authority of the Aumils, and creates perpetual Disputes. The Persons under the Sayer are frequently concerned in the Farming of Lands, and holding Offices under the Aumils. Both the Darogha of the Sayer, and the Aumils, have Claims on the same Man, and both issue Warrants to seize his Person and Effects. Many Aumils have found such great Impediments from this clashing of Authority, that they have made the Darogha a Present to give them up the Farm of the Sayer. To this Evil I see no Remedy, because the Vizier's strong Attachment to the Darogha deters all Complainants from representing their Grievances; and the Causes of Complaint are really aggravated by the Disposition of the Darogha, who exercises his Office in a very arbitrary unbecoming Manner.

" In the late Vizier's Time there was a Collection of the Sayer confined to Duties on Goods transported by Water from particular Places only; but the Sayer, on its present Footing, is a very extensive important Department, not so much from the large Amount of the Collections of it, but from the Opportunities it gives an ill-disposed or incapable Man at the Head of it to cause Irregularities in the Government.

" The Sale of Spirituous Liquors had become, in the late Vizier's Time, so great a Nuisance, that he found it necessary to publish an Edict, making it Death to distil or vend any. Some Offenders who were the most notorious he punished; still the Advantages accruing to the Country from the Consumption of Articles used in the Still, rendered it necessary to wink at the Infringement of this Edict, if it was not carried to Excess. The present Vizier has thought proper to establish an Office, under the Appellation of Abkany, merely for the Prevention of making Spirituous Liquors, the Authority of which extends to all his Dominions, and is entrusted to the Management of Rhemaum, who was a menial Servant of his Excellency's. He has under him many Companies of Sepoys, which he disposes of throughout the Country, accompanied by a numerous Body of Agents; and, under the Pretence of Distillers or Venders of Spirituous Liquors, every Individual is exposed to their Violences. This Office is not only the Cause of great Oppression, but of Loss, for the Aumils on this Account complain much of the slow Sale of many Articles, particularly of the Sugar Cane. In like Manner with the Sayer, the Office of Abkany interferes with the Authority of the Aumils.

" The Honourable Board will observe, by the Statement of the Vizier's Revenue, the extensive Districts entrusted to the Management of Individuals, which has been the Cause of much Confusion and Irregularity; and the Division of them ought to be one of his Excellency's first Objects.

" I have to observe to the Honourable Board, the Abuses which I enumerated in the Administration of the interior Parts of the Country are at least equalled by those at the Prefecture.

" The Execution of Business at the Public Offices is protracted unnecessarily, owing to the Vizier's Inattention, and the Difficulty the Ministers are under in bringing him even to give his Sanction to their Acts: Without it, however great the Latitude may be he avowedly grants them, still they dare not proceed; for, in the present divided State of the Court, the Ministers have too much to apprehend from the Insinuations of their Opponents, to enter into any Measures, unless expressly authorized by his Excellency.

" On the Appointment of the Ministers, I informed the Honourable Board of the Advice I had given the Vizier, and the Confidence I entertained of their earnest Wish to promote the joint Interests of their Master and the Company; and I have equal Reason to believe they are zealous in their Duty. Hyder Beg Cawn has shewn Abilities sufficient to discharge the Trust reposed in him; but, curbed and opposed on every Occasion as he had been, it is impossible to expect he should have been hitherto able to introduce a Reform in the Government. I shall dwell particularly on this Subject, because I know his Attachment to the Company has exposed him to the Enmity of all the Court; but I humbly hope the Honourable Board will regard Hyder Beg Cawn as a Man to whom their Countenance and Protection are necessary, as well to support the Vizier's Government, as the Company's Interests.

" Tipper Chund and Imaum Buch are the principal Opponents of the Ministers, because they are themselves endeavouring to obtain the Administration of Affairs. Imaum Buch has a very great Influence with the Vizier, who has conferred every Mark of Distinction and Honour on him that he could, and dignified him with the Title of General; his being a weak Man, and having such Weight with his Excellency, are useful and necessary to Tipper Chund, without being in the least dangerous. Tipper Chund directs all their Plans; and, as I understand, it is their constant Endeavour to impress the Vizier with Doubts and Suspicions of the friendly Intentions of the English, and the Infidelity of the Ministers. These Suggestions, together with positive Assurances, that in case of their coming into play, his Excellency's Privy Purse should ever be kept full, let what other Funds and Assignments might fail, have so far succeeded, that the Vizier is inclined to make Tipper Chund his Minister, if the Honourable Board should approve of it; and I therefore think it my Duty to mention these Circumstances without Reserve. I know him to be a Man avowedly ill-disposed to the English, and ever since my first having had the Honour to hold the Station of Resident, I have met with constant Opposition from him in all my Negotiations, particularly in that principal one of securing Funds for the Payment of the Expences of the Nabob's Troops under British Officers, and the Army Subsidy.

" In respect to the Tellinga Rajas, the Part they have taken in these Intrigues is not so conspicuous; but the Ministers, in doing their Duty, must clash with their Interests, and in consequence are their strenuous Opponents. I have to observe, by the Irregularities in the Vizier's Government, the Company must ultimately suffer; for I conceive it an Impossibility that the Assignments granted, either for the Payment of the Subsidy or Balance, can be realized on the present System.

" The Resident is unable to have such vigilant Agents as to prevent the Collections of all the Places on which he has Assignments from being appropriated to other Payments in preference to his. Some private Tuncawdars will make it the Aumils Interest to favour them. Mutinous Troops exact the Money for their Tuncaws, and thus the Deficiencies will fall on the Company. On the other hand, if the present Mode is set aside, and Ready-money Payments demanded of his Excellency, little or nothing would be realized.

" The Freedom with which I have stated the Situation of the Vizier's Affairs, and the Necessity of a Reform in them, will, I hope, meet with the Excuse of the Honourable Board. I, for my Part, shall only presume to say, that from the Experience I have had of his Excellency's Disposition, he will hardly of himself regulate his Affairs, and that the only Remedy to be found is in the Assistance and Protection of the English." " Letter from Mr. Middleton to the Governor General and Council, dated Lucknow, 9th February 1777.

" Honourable Sir and Sirs,

Mr. Middleton,
ton, 9th Feb.

" The growing Ascendancy of the personal Favourites of the Vizier, in Opposition to the Ministers, who his Excellency himself made Choice of, and whose Conduct he has hitherto been pleased to approve, appeared to be fraught with such dangerous Consequences, that I have thought it incumbent on me to give the latter the strongest Assurances, that the same Support they have hitherto met with from the English, and which alone can insure to them the Influence necessary to the due Execution of their important Trust, would be continued to them so long as their Conduct should furnish no Cause of Complaint against them; but these Assurances, without some concurrent Testimony from the Vizier himself, would not have had the immediate Effect which I wish them to work: I was, at first, struck with this Necessity, from the Circumstances which Mr. Bristow has set forth in his Address of the 22d ultimo, respecting the Characters and Dispositions of the Men who compose the Opposition against the Ministry, and which I have found, from every Enquiry I have been able to make, to be, so far as regards them, just. I have, indeed, had more convincing Proofs than my Predecessor, of the outrageous and destructive Lengths this Faction would dare to proceed, having been pretty well ascertained that it has been a Measure agitated, and actually agreed on, to assassinate the Minister Husein Reza Cawn, and his Naib Hyder Beg, to make Room for Tipper Chund and Immaum Buxh, whom the Party have chosen for the Ministry.

"The Persons who evidently appear to be the Principals in this Confederacy, are Immaum Buxh, Tipper Chund, and most of the Tellinga Rajahs. Although I am thoroughly convinced that his Excellency is unconcerned in, and unacquainted with, these Cabals, and that he is so far from harbouring Ideas correspondent with such Designs, that he has a good Opinion and a real Confidence in Husein Reza and Hyder Beg Cawn, both Men of Family, and among the oldest of the late Vizier's Dependants; yet such is the Influence of the Orderlies (particularly Immaum Buxh), from being the Companions of his Pleasures, over his Excellency's Affections, that I should fear he might be ready to excuse in them an Act which he himself would abhor the Commission of, and even take the Perpetrators of it into the same Degree of Favour they before possessed. How soon an uncontroled Reign of such People would plunge the Nabob's Affairs, and this Country, into irredeemable Ruin, is but too obvious from the Mischiefs which result from their present Influence, controuled and counteracted as it is. They are, indeed, of Characters, as infamous as they are, from the Want of Abilities and every requisite Experience, incompetent to the Charge of the Offices they wish to seize, by the Sacrifice of those who now hold them. In so serious a Conjunction as this, I thought it necessary to sound the Nabob's Disposition towards the Ministers, and as I found that he entirely approved their Conduct, and had no personal Objections to them, or any apparent Wish to remove them for others, I thought it prudent to mention to his Excellency (but without telling him of the Cabals forming), that as he assured me he entirely approved of the Conduct of the Men already in Station, I could wish he would be pleased to honour them with some new Marks of his continuing Favour, that it might be apparent to the World the same Conduct would be observed towards them as heretofore; adding, at the same Time, that this would manifest to the World that I heartily joined in wishing to support Men, whom his Excellency had first adopted, and still deemed competent to the Charge of the important Offices they were entrusted with. I have the Pleasure to acquaint the Honourable Board, that his Excellency, without the smallest Reluctance, but, on the contrary, with the utmost Cheerfulness, acquiesced in my Proposal, and appointed last Night to bestow Khelauts upon Husein Reza and Hyder Beg Cawn, which was accordingly done in my Presence.

"I hope the Honourable Board will approve the Conduct I observed on this Occasion, which appeared equally necessary for the Preservation of Tranquillity in the Vizier's Government, as for the Prevention of a Piece of Villany, shocking in its Nature, and in its probable Consequences extremely destructive.

" Lucknow,
the 9th Feb. 1777.

"I have the Honour to be, with the highest Respect, (Signed) " Nath. Middleton,
Resident at the Vizier's Court."

" Honble. Sir and Sirs,

"I had the Honour to address you last under Date the 9th instant, acquainting you that the Vizier had excused himself from obeying his Majesty's Summons. When his Excellency first discoursed with me on this Subject, he seemed doubtful as to the Part he ought to act on this Occasion. On one Hand, he did not like to offend his Majesty by a positive Refusal, and on the other, he appeared perfectly satisfied that the Interview would necessarily be attended with an Expence which the present Situation of Affairs would ill afford. When I found him wavering, I thought it my Duty to offer my Advice, which I founded chiefly on the Arguments contained in my Address to the Honble. Board of the 8th instant; adding that I thought, if his Excellency deemed his Compliance with this Summons inexpedient, his Answer might be conveyed to his Majesty in Terms perfectly consistent with the Respect and Allegiance he professed to his Sovereign, and yet evidently imply his Determination to disobey such Calls. He was pleased to approve of the Counsel I gave him, and have now the Honour to enclose you Translations of his Answers to his Majesty, and his Minister Abdut Ahud Cawn, together with a Translate of an Argees, which the Nabob entreated me to write to the King, in order to strengthen the Plea he had made use of to evade Compliance with his Requisition. It was with Reluctance I consented to address the King at all on this Subject, especially as no direct Application had been made to me; but I perceived that my hesitating to comply with so earnest a Request so ungraciously received, I deemed it imprudent to persevere; and as the Argument the Nabob has urged is not merely fictitious, I flatter myself the Honourable Board will not disapprove of my having so far interfered in this Matter, although unauthorized by their Instructions.

Mr. Middleton.
11th
February.

7 ["The Country of Gorruckpore, particularly that Part which lies contiguous to the Mountains, although not in actual Rebellion, is so far unsettled, as scarcely to be deemed a Part of the Vizier's Dominions.

Dominions. The Revenue of that District is rated at 560,000 Rupees; but, from the Manner in which the Payments have hitherto been made, I do not apprehend that more than Half that Amount will be realized: And the Reason which the Aumil assigns for this Failure is, the Number of Zemindars on the Confines of the Province, who, being in Possession of Mud Forts, withhold their Revenue, under various Pretexts, until extorted from them by Force. Under these Circumstances, the Charge of the Army necessary to be kept up, in that one District, is almost equal to the Amount of the Collections.] (a)

"His Excellency intends to march towards Gorruckpore, as soon as the Ceremony of the Mohur-rum is over. His Plan is to bring these Zemindars to an equitable Adjustment of their Accounts, to reduce all the Forts that are not immediately necessary for the Defence of the Country against foreign Invasions, and to put those in the Possession of Men whose Fidelity and Allegiance he can rely upon.

Read, from Mr. Middleton's Letter Book—B, already delivered in, the following Extract of a Letter from Mr. Middleton, to the Board, dated June 26th, 1777.

" To the Honble. Warren Hastings Esquire, Governor General, &c. Members of the Supreme Council at Fort William.

" Honble. Sir and Sirs,

" The Balances have by no Means encreased since my taking Charge of this Station, more than in Proportion to the additional Kists which have become due. In Truth, the Evils which have occasioned these Balances, have originated from the Time of the Tuncaws, have continued to the present Period, and have been such as neither my Predecessors or myself could possibly remedy; nor can indeed any Remedy be applied in future, but by the Adoption of a new System. It is my Duty to represent what these Evils are, and to propose what appears to me the only effectual Remedy, that the Honble. Board may take the Matter into their serious Consideration, and either adopt the Mode proposed by me, or such other as they may deem most expedient. The Causes of such Balances having accrued are, First, the Revenues having been injured by the Lands having been given in Farm to improper People, particularly to Orderlies and Favourites about the Nabob; Men, as I have already observed, of the lowest Extraction, most of them raised from common Sepoys, of Dispositions as mean as their Extraction, and who, from Want of Education, must be totally deficient in the farming Business. Thus ignorant, and, as most Men suddenly raised to Power and Fortune are, rapacious, they have plundered the Riates * wherever they have had Charge of Provinces, and of Course made them desert, desolated the Country, and ruined its Revenues. Secondly, the Vizier's Desire to raise his Revenues, which will scarcely in any Instance bear such Encrease without certain ensuing Loss; that has not only been the Case, on making new Bundabusts, but often Two Months after Engagements entered into by Government with Aumils, when an Encrease on the Revenues has been offered by any Adventurer, without any Charge of Delinquency, or even a Failure on the old Aumil's Part. The Vizier, from his idle Extravagancies, ever distressed for Ready-money, and allured by the Parishgee usually paid on the first Installment of an Aumil, has accepted the new Offer, disgraced the old Aumil, though an unexceptionable one, and put in a needy Adventurer, who if he does any Way realize his Encrease, must do it by plundering the Country, and sucking the Blood of the Inhabitants. It is evident that Proceedings like these must destroy all Confidence in Government, and effectually deter any creditable Men, solicitous of performing their public Engagements, and to improve the Country, from taking the Lands. Lastly and principally, in Addition to the foregoing Circumstances, his Excellency's public and private Expences are so inordinate and disproportionate to his Revenues, so totally ill calculated for any useful Ends, and the Conduct of them entrusted in such improper Hands, his Parasites, and the Ministers of his * unworthy Pleasures, that he is perpetually surrounded with clamorous Creditors, and, to get rid of their Importunity, he grants fresh Tuncaws on the Lands, although those he may formerly have given exceed the utmost Amount of their Rents, a great Part of these Creditors consisting of his Excellency's undisciplined Troops: It is but too evident how much an Evil, so great in itself, must be en-created by so lawless a Rabble being let loose on the Country, who will naturally plunder as they may be able, neither paying any Regard to what may be their just Demand, or the Mode in which they levy it; hence it has, within my Knowledge, frequently happened, that the Troops which have been stationed with an Aumil for his Protection and Assistance, have put him in Confinement, and not suffered him or his Officers to meddle with the Collections, until he has satisfied their exorbitant Demands. These united Causes have occasioned the Balances which have fallen so heavy on the Company's and Military Tuncaws, Causes which it has been impossible to obviate, these Tuncaws having been only partial Drafts on the Revenues of particular Provinces, where the Vizier's Authority remained in full Force, and where the Resident had no Troops to oppose the Nabob's lawless Rabble. I have been continually representing to his Excellency the Impossibility of the Company's and Military Tuncaws being realized, while he continued granting others exceeding the Revenues of the Provinces. My Remonstrances have however proved ineffectual, and I had no Authority over his Aumils in Opposition to his, the Evil has continued encreasing instead of diminishing. Plunged irretrievably, as the Nabob is, in Idleness, Extravagance, and Luxury, it is vain to expect that he should act, or indeed be able to act, another Year in a Manner less injurious to the realizing of the English Tuncaws, unless I am empowered by the Honble. Board to demand from his Excellency the exclusive Assignments of the whole Revenues of certain Provinces to an Amount equal to the Demands upon him, with an express Stipulation that the Rents shall be wholly paid into my Hands, without any Interference on the Part of his Excellency's Government; so that it shall by no Means be allowable to dismiss the Aumils on whom such Assignments are given, unless on a Representation from me that they have failed in their Payments, or that, from their Conduct, I have Reason to apprehend such Failure; also that the Troops stationed for the Service of the Collections shall by no Means be changed but at my Instance, in consequence of any Complaints from the Aumil of their Misbehaviour. If the Honble. Board think proper to authorize me to make the above Demands from his Excellency, I think I may venture to assure them that whatever may be due on the Honble. Company's and the Military Account at the Close of this Year, may be very nearly, if not wholly, realized in the Course of next Year; especially if the Honble. Board should also judge proper to authorize me to demand from His Excellency, that only such Troops as may really assist the Collections be stationed in the Provinces assigned me, to the Exclusion of Cavalry, which is not only an useless Establishment, but a most pernicious Charge on the Country. Read, from the same Book, the following Letter from Mr. Middleton to the Board, dated the 9th of May 1777.

(a) Vide supra, Page 654.

(b) Vide Appendix, N° LVI.

" To the Honble. Warren Hastings Esquire, Governor General, &c. Members of the Supreme Council at Fort William.

" Honble. Sir and Sirs,

" In my Address of the 9th of February, I informed the Honble. Board of the Designs which I was pretty confidently assured were entertained by Imaum Buxh and his Associates, against the Life of the Minister Mirza Hussein Reza and his Naib Hyder Beg Cawn; and that to overthrow any encouraging Hopes they might entertain of such a Piece of Villainy being approved of by the Vizier, or over-looked by the English, I had induced his Excellency to afford the Ministers new and public Testimonials of his continuing Favour. I have Reason to think the above Measure operated so far as for a Time to make the Party drop the infamous Designs they then had in Agitation; and this I am led to suppose, from the Rumours, which were before universal, entirely subsiding. Since that Time however, and during the Nabob's Absence on his hunting Expedition, Imaum Bux, finding every Opportunity he could wish to ingratiate himself with his Excellency, to misrepresent every Act of the Ministers who remained with me at Lucknow, to shew his own Influence to those about the Court, and practise unthwarted every Species of Cabal and Intrigue, and being probably egged on by disaffected Men, more artful, and equally daring with himself, resumed his Intentions of removing the only People whom he considered as Obstacles to his having the entire Administration of the Vizier's Affairs. Consultations are said to have been frequently held about the Time and Manner at and in which this Design was to be executed. Certain it is, however, that he endeavoured to thwart every Act of the Ministry, that he studiously courted every Opportunity of appearing the only Channel to the Nabob's Ear—that he persuaded his Excellency to deprive the Minister, through his Agent, of the Privilege peculiarly annexed to his Office, that of receiving and communicating the Intelligence collected by the Dawke and Hircarrah Darogha Row Kauffee Raje, and that he sounded all the Dispositions of all the Courtiers of Consequence towards him, throwing out Hints of various Kinds, at different Times, all tending to convince them, that in a very short Time he should have a much larger Share of Administration than he then possessed: At one Time particularly, I believe he gave it out that the Vizier had agreed, when the Bundburst of the new Year came to be made, the Disposal of Half the Country should rest with him (Imaum Buxh). There is, however, another Anecdote of him during this Period, too well authenticated by the Credibility of those who were Ear Witnesses to the Circumstance, to admit of a Doubt that his Designs comprehended the Assassination of the Ministers. In a mixed Company of the Courtiers, One Day riding out, he addressed himself to One of them, whom he wished to bring over to his Views; and after a Conversation, plainly pointing out the Ministers, for I am not certain whether he mentioned their Names, he observed that it was but a Piece of Prudence to kill one's Enemies, and thereby, as the only Way, put it out of their Power to do Mischief. The Reply made to him was, 'That if he meant an open Attack as a Soldier at the Head of his Troops, against an armed Enemy, the Sentiment was not unexceptionable; but if he meant a private Attack upon his Life, it was an Idea unworthy any generous Mind.' He replied, 'No, no; it is but Prudence to put an Enemy to Death when and how you can.' Here the Conversation, which would doubtless have been more circumstantial and explicit (had Imaum Buxh's Declaration met with a more favourable Reception) dropped. The Ministers, alarmed at these Informations, and still more so by the Alteration they observed in the Nabob Vizier's Behaviour to them since he had left Lucknow, and Imaum Buxh had had sole Possession of his Ear, came to me, and mentioned what I have now recited; which had indeed come to my Hearing in pretty nearly the same Terms from various Quarters: And I found it was a Matter universally believed, and generally talked of through the whole Country, that Imaum Buxh was to be Prime Minister, and that those now in Power were to fall a previous Sacrifice to his Views. Convinced of the Necessity of addressing the Nabob immediately on this Head, I took the earliest Opportunity of mentioning what I had heard, and what I believed was in Agitation; but those who had given me my Information having, through Fear of the Nabob's un placable Resentment for a Communication injurious to so strong and blind an Attachment, made a Condition with me that I should not discover them as the Authors, I could only mention these as Matters of universal and public Report; and which, upon this Footing only, could not be without Foundation. At the first Mention of these Circumstances, his Excellency treated the Whole as Calumny and malicious Inventions of the Enemies of his Favourite. On my urging him warmly on this Head, and putting him in Mind of the fatal Accident which had happened in the Instance of Moctanul Dowla to him, as unforeseen as this would be should it happen, he declared his perfect Conviction that Imaum Buxh, whom he called a harmless inoffensive Boy, would never have harboured any Designs of this Nature; but that there possibly might be ill disposed People about him, endeavouring to poison his Mind, which might have occasioned these Rumours, and that he would enquire into the Matter. He often urged me, as he had also done the Ministers, to give up the Authors of the Intelligence; but tied down as I had been, and sensible of my own Inability to protect them against the Effects of Imaum Buxh's Resentment, I was obliged to make the same Reply as the Minister did, that I was not at Liberty to discover my Authors, and that there was little Necessity for it, as a very slight Enquiry among those who were with him on his Hunting Party, would convince him, that he was probably the only Person of his Camp to whom these Transactions had remained a Secret. The Vizier has enquired into the Matter, and there is too much Reason to suppose from the Sequel, that he has been convinced of the Guilt of his Favourite, to whom he is, however, too blindly attached not to endeavour to hide the Truth, as if demonstrated, he could not, with any Consistency, longer continue to him the Posts he holds, or any Degree of his Countenance. Two Days passed in close and repeated Consultations between his Excellency, Sollar Jung, Imaum Buxh, and various of his Courtiers; the Nature of which could not be ascertained, as the strictest Orders were given to prevent any Body from invading the Nabob's Privacy at these Times. During these Consultations, Kaushee Rajee, Currun Sing, Hubbeeb Beg, and some others, the immediate Dependants of Imaum Buxh, and deep in every * Plate and Consultation with him, were, I believe, certainly tampered with; and when Matters were settled, the Nabob, in his Durbar, called for Imaum Buxh, told him in publick what he had heard, acquainting him that he was certain of his having disaffected Men about him, who endeavoured to warp his Mind, and lead him from his Duty; that his pardoning the Fault he had committed in giving Ear to any such evil Suggestions, depend on his naming his Advisers, when he might be lure of his Pardon, and continued Favour, as the Event of his concealing them, he should incur his highest Displeasure. He then named Kaushee Rajee, and Currun Sing, who were sent for, and Imaum Buxh declared before them, that they had by every Suggestion endeavoured to make him look on the Ministers as his Enemies, and as People whom he should endeavour to overthrow by every possible Means; and that so far from listening to their Suggestions, he always declared, 'That he was satisfied in every Respect with the Ministers; that were it otherwise, One or Two of his People were sufficient to remove them.' This was all the Scrutiny that passed relative to any Designs or Advices importing any Attack on the Lives of the Ministers; resting the Matter on the Deposition of the real criminal Imaum Buxh, who thus declared his own entire Innocence. The Nabob, without hearing Kaushee Rajee, or Currun Sing, in Reply, or questioning them at all, ordered them both to be banished his Dominions, with their Families, in the Instant, and the Charge of the Daukes to be as instantly delivered over to Poorun Chund. So extraordinary an Examination, in which his Excellency plainly discovered that nothing could be farther from his Heart, than to bring the Truth, as far as respected his Favourite, to Light, in which he had even paid no Respect to Appearances, by an Investigation which Kaushee Rajee and Currun Sing might have been prepared for by Threats and promised Indulgencies, so as to have uttered nothing which might tend to prove the Favourite's Guilt, and above all, the Hurry with which these People were banished the Kingdom, inclines me to suspect these Proceedings, and in Particular the latter Order, were meant to put a Discovery of the real Truth out of the Reach of Possibility, and convicted me, could I have had any Doubts before, not only that the Favourite was guilty of what was laid to his Charge, but that the Nabob also was confirmed in this Belief, and chose to sacrifice every Thing to the Security of his Favourite. As this Matter appeared too important to be thus passed over, and a Victory of this Kind might even encourage Imaum Buxh to persist in his infamous Designs, I sent to his Excellency, acquainting him, that I was informed he examined Kaushee Rajee, and Currum Sing, and that their Guilt having been proved, he had ordered them into Banishment. That as it was well known there were many others concerned, I must beg that he would for a few Days defer the Banishment of these People, as from their Depositions probably all their Accomplices might be discovered; that as it was of the utmost Moment they should not be suffered to escape, and as his Troops, who were under Imaum Buxh, might favour such an Attempt, for various Reasons, I requested that he would order them into the Confinement of his own Body Guard.—His Excellency returned me for Answer, that he thought it not necessary to put any Guard over them; that their Guilt had been proved; and that he had ordered them into Banishment, which he judged a proper Punishment for the Crime proved on them, and on them alone. After repeated Messages, which passed between us from Nine o'Clock at Night till Three o'Clock in the Morning, Hours at which I judged it improper to break in upon his Privacy myself, his Excellency reluctantly consented to have these People confined, and sent them to me to keep in Custody. This happened the Night before last, since which I have not been able to get any Confession from Kaushee Rajee, except that what Imaum Buxh laid to his Charge was an entire and absolute Falshood; ~~and from Curram Sing~~, <sup>and from Curram Sing</sup>, who even protests that until he came to me he was entirely ignorant of what was laid to his Charge, or what was his supposed Crime. I wish I may be able to extract any Thing more satisfactory from these People or others; but I own I have my Fears of getting sufficient Authorities to produce before his Excellency, since he has convinced the World, by the whole Course of his Proceedings in this Matter, of his Resolution to protect and extricate his Favorite; and therefore every Man, who is at all dependant upon his Authority, will be afraid of incurring his Displeasure, by uttering Truths he would wish to remain concealed. Should any Thing further relative to the Designs of Imaum Buxh transpire, I shall duly inform the Honble. Board; in the mean Time, I hope to be favoured with their Sentiments, that I may be satisfied how far the Honble. Board may be pleased to approve my Conduct in this Instance, and in what Manner they would wish me to act on any future Occasion of a similar Nature. I am particularly anxious to be ascertained on these Two Points, from a Conviction that Imaum Buxh's Designs will be little discouraged from the Checks he has just now received.

(a) Vide Appendix, N° CCCXLV.

“ Honble. Sir and Sirs,

“ It is with the truest Satisfaction I now acquaint the Honble. Board, that the Nabob has been pleased to dismiss Imaum Buxh from all the Offices he held, and to banish him his Dominions. It is not easy to assign the Cause of so sudden and so total a Change in his Excellency's Conduct, towards a Man who but the Day before possessed his unbounded Confidence, and was entrusted with the uncontroled Exercise of his whole Authority: And I beg Leave to assure the Honble. Board, I shall leave no Means untried to penetrate the real Motives of this unaccountable Manoeuvre, and duly inform them of the Result of my Enquiry. I have, in my former Letters to the Board, enlarged upon the Character and Conduct of this Favourite, and I have frequently remonstrated to the Nabob against his licentious Proceedings, but without Effect. His Excellency's general Reply to all my Representations was, that the Enemies of Imaum Buxh had prejudiced me against him—that he was a weak inoffensive Boy, innocent of the many Charges which had been alledged against him, and by no Means deserving of my Resentment. I had, however, so many Proofs of the Malignity of his Disposition, of his low Ambition, and of his entertaining Designs against the Life of the Ministers, that I thought it my Duty to mark, by every public Testimony in my Power, my Disapprobation and Abhorrence of his Conduct. I accordingly forbade his coming to me, in common with the Nabob's other Courtiers and Dependants, upon Visits of Ceremony; and acquainting his Excellency, at the same Time, with my Reasons for this Prohibition, I desired he would never employ him either personally or otherwise, as an Agent in any of his Transactions with me, for that I thought it incompatible with the public Character in which I appeared at his Court, and with what I considered due to my private one, to admit a Man of so mean and detestable a Character into my Presence, or to any Kind of Communication with me.

His Excellency made many Attempts to prevail upon me to withdraw this Prohibition, but I never would yield my Consent; and I have Reason to believe this Treatment, and my frequent Remonstrances to the Nabob, imposed some, though a very insufficient, Restraint upon his Conduct. I confess, however, I was to the last apprehensive for the Safety of the Minister, and I am persuaded, that nothing but the Conviction Imaum Buxh had, that the whole Army, and every Man about the Court, a very few of his own Creatures only excepted, detested his Character, and would have been shocked at the Idea of any Violence to the Minister, whose Character is as respectable as his was infamous, prevented his attempting to carry into Execution what he had more than once had in Agitation.

" Honble. Sir and Sirs,

" I am now to acknowledge the Receipt of the Honble. Board's Letter of the 26th of May, with a Translation of an Address from the Governor General to the Vizier, the Original whereof was forwarded to me by the Persian Translator.

" The Subject of this Address affording me a favourable Opportunity of pointing out to the Vizier the many Evils which, notwithstanding the Removal of Imaum Buxh, still exist in the Government, and the Measures which appeared to me necessary to a Reform, I thought it highly expedient to embrace such an Occasion; and that I might omit nothing which could tend to convince his Excellency of the Dangers to which he was exposing himself, by so injudicious a Selection of Men to fill the Offices of his State, and impress the more strongly on his Mind the Necessity of an immediate Reform, I had previously prepared a Representation in Writing, which, after delivering the Governor General's Letter, and enlarging a little upon the Grounds of it, I presented to him; and have now the Pleasure to enclose the Honble. Board a Translation of it for their Information: I have the most sanguine Hopes that the Governor General's Letter, enforced by my personal Representations, will be productive of salutary Effects; and I shall be happy to find my Conduct in this Instance meets with the Approbation of the Honble. Board. The Nabob expressed on this Occasion the fullest Confidence in the Honour and Integrity of his Minister, Houssein Reza Cawn, assuring me that he had committed the entire Government of his Household and Country into his Hands, and that he would in no Instance suffer any other Authority to be brought in Competition with his. So strong, however, is his Attachment to his Favourites, and so powerful is their Ascendancy over him, that I do not expect the Minister will venture, of his own Accord, to make any spirited Efforts to destroy the pernicious Influence they at present have in the Country; it will nevertheless occur to the Honble. Board, upon a Review of the Characters and Dispositions of the Men who now comprize his Excellency's Favourites, Men of mean Extraction, raised from the most menial Occupations, and totally void of Education and every Requisite to qualify them for Men of Business, that such a Step is indispensable * necessary to a Reform in the Administration of this Government. It is indeed true that the Removal of Imaum Buxh from his Excellency's Presence has entirely put a Stop to those Cabals and Machinations which were perpetually forming against the Minister, and left him perfectly at Rest as to his personal Security: But to give his Administration its full Effect, and to establish his Authority throughout the Country, the Rest of the Favourites should be deprived of the Share they hold in the Civil Government of the Country, and if possible of their Military Commands;—from the former they derive an Influence which the Ministry cannot effectually controul, and the latter must even make it their Interest to oppose any Attempts at a Reduction of Expence in the Department where it is most required. As his Excellency promised to give me his Sentiments at large on all these Points at a future Interview, I shall again renew the Subject in my Correspondence with the Honble. Board. (a)

" Honble. Sir and Sirs,

" I had the Honour to address the Board under Date the 27th June, acquainting them of my having delivered to the Vizier the Governor General's Letter, on the Subject of the Abuses in the Administration of the Affairs of this Government; and at the same Time enclosing them a Translation of the Representation which I made to his Excellency on that Occasion. I have since renewed the Subject in repeated Conversations with the Nabob, and have the Pleasure to acquaint the Honble. Board, that his Excellency has at Length consented to issue Perwannahs to all the Aumils and Officers of his Government, signifying his having invested Hussein Reza Cawn with full Authority as Naib, to make and regulate the Settlement of the Country, and requiring them to consider Hussein Reza Cawn's Orders in every Respect as his own, under Pain of his highest Displeasure, and the severest Punishment in case of Disobedience. He is in consequence immediately to receive a Khelaut, in Token of such Power having been delegated to him; and Hyder Beg Cawn is to have the same Mark of Favour conferred upon him, in Testimony of his Excellency's Approbation of him as Naib to Hussein Reza Cawn. It is necessary, however, I should acquaint the Honble. Board, that this Delegation of Authority has not been made without Exceptions which will in some Measure obstruct the Minister's Endeavours to introduce a general Reform. His Excellency insists, in Spite of every Persuasion and Argument I could urge against it, that the Province of Beiswarrah, formerly yielding a Revenue of 15 Lacks, shall be continued under the Management of his Favourite Rajah Bowanny Sing, who held it last Year, who turned out and expelled the Zemindar, though one of the oldest and most reputable in the Nabob's Dominions, and who has in fact, by a corrupt and imprudent Discharge of his Trust, nearly ruined that once flourishing Province. The Pretence on which his Excellency grounds this partial Distinction in Favour of Rajah Bowanny Sing is, that the Revenues of Beiswarrah have always been delegated to the private Expence of his Household, and that it is therefore but reasonable his private Pleasure alone should regulate the Disposal of them. His Excellency persists, with equal Positiveness, in refusing to give the Minister that Controul over his Army, which is necessary to enable him to reduce the enormous Expence of that Establishment, declaring that he can never willingly consent to his Troops being made subject to any Orders, but such as issue immediately from himself; but with Respect to the Expence, he has ordered an exact Estimate of the present Military Establishment to be laid before him, which he assures me he will himself carefully revise, and reform such Troops as shall appear to him superfluous, or beyond his Finances to support. I confess, however, I have but very faint Hopes that his Excellency will give that Attention to this Object which it requires, or if he should, that he will, of his own Accord, make any Reductions; it may therefore be necessary to resume this Subject at some future Period. In the mean Time, as the Settlement of the Country, and placing the Management of the Revenues in reputable Hands, appeared to me an Object of the first and most immediate Concern, I have hitherto thought it best to confine myself solely to that Object, which once effected in such a Manner as may secure the Revenues, and guard against those Abuses which have so long existed in this Government, to the great Injury of his Excellency, and the Honble. Company's Claims, I shall give equal Attention to the necessary Reform in his Excellency's Expences, and every other Point recommended in the Governor General's Letter, and I doubt not, but by repeated Representation, I shall be able to impress upon his Excellency's Mind, the Necessity of the Reform which has been recommended to him.

" I have the Pleasure to enclose you a Copy of the circular Perwannah, which has been issued to all the Aumils respecting Hussein Reza Cawn, and have forwarded by this Dawke his Excellency's Answer to the Governor General's Letter on the above Subject.

Read, from the same Book, the following Letter from Mr. Middleton to the Board, dated October 6, 1777.

" To the Honourable Warren Hastings Esquire, Governor General, &c. Members of the Supreme Council, at Fort William.

" Honble. Sir and Sirs,

" The many striking Inconveniencies which result to the Vizier's Government for the Want of his Authority being firmly established throughout the Doaub, and the Impossibility of introducing perfect Order and Subordination in a Country filled with Zemindars, who consider themselves in a great Measure independent, while the Means of Opposition are continued in their Hands, induce me to recommend to the serious Consideration of the Honble. Board, the Renewal of the Service Colonel Goddard was last Year employed upon, under such Limitations and Restrictions as they may think expedient. These Countries, from the Decline of the Mogul Empire, to the Period of their being annexed to the Vizier's Dominions, have been a Theatre of continual Wars. During that Interval, they were not only subject, on all Sides, to the Incursions of rapacious Invaders, but to the Ravages of their own numerous Rulers, who were perpetually at Variance, and mutually exercising every Species of Cruelty and Oppression upon the Adherents of each other. In this State of Anarchy and Confusion, every Man of Property or not in the Country thought it necessary to erect some Kind of Defence for the Security of his Family and Effects against the Attacks of his Neighbours, and in Proportion as he became formidable to them, he adopted adopted Principles of Independency, which have been transmitted from Father to Son, until the Idea of Subjection to any Superior has been almost totally lost.—Hence it has happened that the Provinces of Korah and the Doaub abound in innumerable Forts, which, although not capable of standing a regular Siege, were yet a sufficient Defence against the Attacks of a fugitive Banditti, which entered the Country with no other View, but to plunder and destroy, and are now, as Experience daily evinces, formidable enough to resist the Authority of the Aumil.—The late Vizier, convinced of the Impossibility of establishing any regular Government in these Countries, while so many Bars of his Authority were suffered to exist, raised several of these Forts in the Korah Province; and, I am informed, was determined to have done the same in the Doaub; but the Rohilla Campaign, which immediately succeeded his Conquest of that Country, obliged him to suspend his Intention. I agree with the Honble. Board, that it would be extremely impolitick to destroy the Defences of a Country, admitting them really to be such; but, guarded as these Provinces are by the Rivers, I humbly conceive these Forts in general, were they even in the Hands of Government, would not be considered as any actual Defence to the Country, and that the wisest System the Vizier could pursue for his own Security would be to improve the natural Strength of his Boundary, which might be done, and at no very heavy Expence, by erecting a few strong Mud Forts in proper Situations upon the Banks of the Jumma, and garrisoning them with small Parties of regular Troops; by which Means an Enemy from the Quarter it would seem his Excellency has most to dread it, might be awed, and perhaps successfully opposed, in any hostile Attempt upon the Doaub. But the strong Holds in the internal Parts of the Country, as they are now circumstanced, instead of being any real Security to the Vizier's Government in case of an Invasion, might, with great Propriety, be considered as ~~so many Resources in the Hands of the~~ Enemy; for many of the opulent Zemindars who possess Forts in this Country, exclusive of the natural Ties of Religion, have also Dependancies and even Family Connections with the Mah-rattas and the other neighbouring Powers to the westward of the Jumma, which would probably make them secretly encourage and assist, if not openly join them, in any Attempt to subvert the Vizier's Authority. Independent therefore of any Considerations of immediate Improvement to the Revenue, it certainly behoves his Excellency to guard as much as possible against a Species of Treachery which might at some Time or other endanger even his very Existence; and this I apprehend can only be done effectually, either by demolishing the Forts altogether, or by garrisoning such as may be thought of Consequence with his Excellency's own Troops. The latter Expedient would obviate any Dangers of the Nature I have mentioned, and be equally effectual in establishing the Vizier's Authority throughout the Country, but it would oblige him to maintain a larger Military Establishment than he would otherwise have Occasion for; which, in the present embarrassed State of his Finances, is a Consideration to be attended to. With respect to the Zemindars themselves, it would make no essential Difference which Alternative was adopted, as I apprehend they would just as soon suffer the Forts to be destroyed, as consent to their being garrisoned by any Troops but their own; since the one, as effectually as the other, would prove fatal to their Views of Independency. In either Case actual Force will be necessary, though I should hope that vigorous Measures, and a few severe Examples of the most refractory of them, would shew the Rest that Opposition were vain, and induce them to surrender their Forts without Resistance. Certain, however, I am, that while they are permitted to retain them on their present Footing, they will prove an insuperable Obstacle to the Establishment of the Vizier's Authority; and consequently, to the Exaction of the legal Dues of his Government. I humbly submit these Considerations to the Judgement of the Honble. Board, requesting to be favoured with their Sentiments and Instructions as soon as may be, as the proper Season for Field Service is now opening; and if the Board approve of the Plan I have recommended, the sooner it is carried into Execution the better, in order that the Service may be accomplished before the Expiration of the cold Months.

" After much Persuasion, he consented to Hyder Beg Cawn's being called in, and a considerable Time was employed in reading and explaining the Accounts; but I am sorry to say, to very little Effect: For although His Excellency appeared clearly convinced of the Necessity of a Reform, and earnestly recommended one; yet would he not, on any Account, permit it to extend to the Jaghyrs, or Emoluments of his Favourites, or indeed to any of those Sources of Expence where there was the most Room for it. He distinguished by Name those Persons who were to retain Possession of their Jaghyrs and Immunities, and the Disbursements which the Ministers were not to interfere with. In this partial Distinction were included the Jaghyrs and Rofs-aulahs of all his Orderlies and other Favourites, without Exception, and all his civil Disbursements under the Denomination of Doab Charges: So that, in Fact, he left nothing for the Ministers to do; as every Reduction which could possibly be made in the Departments immediately under their Controul, had already taken Place; and the heavy Jaghyrs, excepting those to the Begum, the late Vizier's Family, the Son of Mocktar ul Dowla, and a few old Dependants, which he knew could not with Propriety be taken away, his Excellency had particularly stipulated for. I would earnestly recommend to you in no Instance to relax in punctually demanding and exacting, by every Means in your Power, the Payment of the Kists as they become due, for the Nabob's Aumils in general pay little Regard to the Tenor of their Obligations, unless strictly watched and importuned; and his Excellency, however cautious he may be of openly encouraging them in their Attempts to withhold their Payments, will be but little disposed to punish them for it, while he can obtain for his own Purposes any Part of the Collections mortgaged to the Resident, which he frequently contrives to do, to the great Prejudice of the Company's Tuncaws. You cannot be too careful and circumspect to prevent the Nabob's encroaching on the Jaidaads assigned for the Company, which, unless opposed, he will constantly be endeavouring to do, in order to answer his own extravagant Purposes, or the Views of his Favourites, who not uncommonly prevail upon him to give them Tuncaws on Districts which have before been fully assessed for the Company, depending upon the Influence which they derive from their Ascendancy at the Court for the Recovery of them, in Preference to other Claims; a Practice of which I have frequently complained, but never was able entirely to prevent. “ Sir,

“ The very great Inconvenience, Loss, and Indignities to which the Vizier has long been subject, from the Authority and Dominion assumed and exercised by the Jagheerdars with the Support of armed Force, and the Impossibility of striking out any Medium by which these Evils could effectually be remedied, have induced his Excellency to resume all the Jagheer and Marofee Lands throughout his Country, promising to such Persons as have just or equitable Claims to his Bounty, or those guaranteed by the Company for the Amount of their Jagheers, Allowances in Ready Money equal to the Net Sum they shall appear to have annually realized from their Jagheers.”

§ [(a) “ This Measure, the Utility, and I may say the absolute Necessity, whereof will not be disputed by any one who has an Opportunity of observing the Conduct of the Jagheerdars in general, and particularly some whose Incomes enabled them to maintain Armies, not only superior to those of the Aumils of the Country, who should properly be a Check upon them, but even sufficient to resist the Force of the State itself, has met with violent Opposition from the Bhow Begum, who falls particularly under the last Description, and whose Power is rendered the more pernicious and dangerous, First, From its being wholly delegated to her Servants, who have their own Views of Ambition and Interest to answer; and in the next Place from the Reluctance with which the Ministers, and even the Nabob himself, interfere with any Concerns of the Begum.]

§ (“ From these Two Circumstances, strengthened by the immense Wealth in her Possession, also intrusted to her Two Chief Eunuchs, Bahar and Jowar Ally Cawn, and her unreasonable Expectations of Support from the English Government, of all which she and her Servants avail themselves to the utmost, she is become One of the most serious internal Evils that, among others, seems to bid fair to give great Disturbance to this Country.

“ The great Awe in which the Nabob, and of course every one under him, stands of her Displeasure, leaves without Bounds or Restraint the Effects of her uncommonly violent Temper. * Sic in Orig. Death and Destruction is the least * me Menace she denounces, upon the most trifling Opposition to her Caprice.

“ By her own Conduct, and that of all her Agents and Dependants during the Benares Troubles, it may, with Truth and Justice, be affirmed, she forfeited every Claim she had to the Protection of the English Government, as she evidently, and it is confidently said, avowedly espoused the Cause of Rajah Cheyt Sing, and united in the Idea and Plan of a general Extirpation of their Race and Power in Hindostan.

“ Her Agent at Taunda, who is the Cheyla and adopted Son of Bahr Ally Cawn, her principal Minister, treacherously turned his Guns upon Lieut. Gordon's Detachment, and was by that Gentleman's Account the sole Cause of the Loss of it. She gave every Encouragement in her Power to the Adherents of Cheyt Sing by her Agents; assisting them in raising Troops in the Town of Fyzabad; promised, and as is generally believed, actually advanced Money to the rebellious Rajahs of the Vizier's Country; raised Troops to support them, and issued Perwannahs for their Operations against the Forts garrisoned by the Nabob's Troops under the Command of British Officers; all which is fully stated in the Depositions made by Colonel Hannay and the Gentlemen of his Corps. Notwithstanding all these Facts, upon the general Resumption of the Jagheers I made the Rents of her Lands payable to me, under an Engagement of making the Amount good to her by such Installments as she might direct; in Return for which I have received Letters from her, containing the most gross Abuse, and the wildest Threats that can be transcribed, Copies of which I have the Honour to enclose.

“ Her chief Agent, Bahar Ally Cawn, has marched a considerable Force into Nabob Gunge, One of her Jagheers, declaring that if any Attempt is made to resume it, he will lay the whole Country of Goonda waste. These declared and repeated Acts of Rebellion are surely more than sufficient to forfeit all Claim whatever to the Interference in her Behalf from our Government; and if some Stop is not immediately put to it, it appears but too certain that she will

" light a Flame throughout these Provinces, which if not difficult to extinguish will at least put
 " a heavy Bar to the Company's Collections here. I cannot therefore avoid making these Re-
 " presentations to you, or doubt but you will approve of the Vizier's immediately taking those " Steps which may be necessary for effectually establishing his Government and Authority, and " depriving the Begum of those great Resources which she has shewn it would be extremely
 " impolitic and unsafe to trust longer in her Hands. On this Subject the Nabob has communi-
 " cated to me his Sentiments in a long Letter, Copy whereof I have the Honour to enclose you,
 " in which you will observe he signifies his Intention of prosecuting his legal Claims upon her
 " for the Public Treasure and Effects belonging to his Inheritance from his Father, which she " detains from him, and squanders in such destructive Purposes, while he is overwhelmed by " Public Debts, principally incurred by his Predecessor, and on Account of his Inability to dis-
 " charge which the Company have indispensably been driven to take upon themselves the Bur-
 " then of a large Military Establishment hitherto entertained for their Service at the Charge of " the Nabob.

" On this Head I think it unnecessary to offer any Remark, since a Reference to the established
 " Laws and Customs of the Country will sufficiently prove his Excellency's inherent Right to " claim the Property of his Predecessor.

" I must also take the Liberty to add my Opinion, that unless Fyzullah Cawn, remotely situated " as he is, out of Reach of Interruption, in the Centre of his own Tribe and Country, connec" ted uninterruptedly with the other Two remaining Patan Powers, becomes included in this ge" neral Reform of the Jagheer, or some effectual Check imposed upon him, the Whole may prove " abortive, while, if fully enforced, may save this Country, and with it possibly much of our " own Blood and Treasure.

Read the following Letter from Mr. Bristow.

" Honble. Sir, and Gentlemen,

" I have received your Commands of the 28th ultimo, and now transmit you a List of the Jaghyres resumed since the Agreement made by the Honble. the Governor General with his Excellency the Vizier, at Chunar, in September 1781, as furnished me by Hyder Beg Cawn. The List
 I had formerly the Honour to forward to your Honble. Board, was the Sum proposed to be allowed to the Proprietors in Lieu of the Income of their Jaghyres, and not the actual Amount. My ascertaining these Particulars has occasioned the Delay in my replying to your Orders.

" I have only to observe, in regard to the Situation of the Jaghyredars, that very few of them have received any Part of their Allowance; and they are all in Distress.

" Copy of Mr. Bristow's Answer to the Begum.

" I have been honoured with your friendly Letter, accompanying an Inventory of Bullocks, &c. with their Prices, and understand the Contents. The Nabob consents to take the Ruths, Bullocks, Elephants, and Camels, at their real Value. I represented to the Nabob, and Mokter ul Dowlah, what you wrote me concerning the Broad Cloth, at the Price of 4 Lacks of Rupees. The Nabob replied, I have not received the Broad Cloth and Linens; such of those Articles as were out, her Highness carried within the Mohal. As the Nabob is desirous of paying your Highness the greatest Respect, and has agreed to take the Broad Cloth and Linens; if your Highness will deliver them, and let them be appraised by a creditable Ameen; Auka Heem has been here a long Time in Expectation of such Employ. Your Attendants, who related to you the Circumstance concerning the stopping your Provisions, were undoubtedly the Inventors of it themselves; it never proceeded from the Nabob, for he never acted in this Manner, and it is contrary to the Disposition, as well as to the Inclination, of the Nabob Azoph ul Dowlah. Some evil-disposed and malicious Persons have misrepresented Matters to your Highness, and sown the Seeds of Diffension. It is incumbent on your Highness to give no Heed to the Representations of insidious Men, but to regard the Advice of well-disposed Persons, and settle this Affair on an eligible Footing. With regard to what you write me, concerning the Compensation for the Houle at Garukpore, I shall undoubtedly take the necessary Measures in this Affair, if you comply with the Terms of the Consultation. It would not be proper or becoming, that your Highness should not give your Assent to my Representations, as, by denying it, Disgrace is brought on the English Chiefs. I have therefore given a full and particular Account of every Transaction to the Governor and Council, and whatever Directions I may receive from them, I shall carry into Execution. With respect to your Highness's Jaghiers, the Nabob agrees to one Method, which is, that you give them up entirely, and instead thereof, receive a Monthly Stipend, through the Channel of any Person you chuse to fix on; for the Nabob observed to me, that Two Rulers were too much for one Country. By this Proposal, the Nabob is desirous of promoting your Highness's Quiet, Tranquillity, and Satisfaction. The Nabob says, that in this Case, you will have no Vexation, and will constantly receive your Stipend without Trouble. (a)

(b) “ The following Letter from the Governor General, received on the 2d instant, is now recorded :

“ Gentlemen,

“ 3dly. The Engagements concluded on the 19th September with the Nabob of Oude, I did hope, that on his Return to his Capital, which I had urged for that Purpose, he would immediately have entered upon the Execution of the Measures necessary for the Accomplishment of the Plan which we had mutually agreed upon, and particularly the Resumption of the Jagheers; an Act equally necessary to the Restoration of the Peace of his Country, and to the Discharge of his Debt to the Company.

“ After having long waited with much Impatience for this Effect, I was apprised by the Resident's Letters, that the Nabob, from what Cause I know not, had shewn a great Reluctance to enter on this Business, notwithstanding the Warmth with which he himself originally solicited my Acquiescence in it; that he at length did resolve to carry it into Execution, and accordingly appointed an Aumil to take Possession of the sequestered Jagheers; but that a powerful Opposition had been prepared by the Begums, which had obliged him to apply for the Assistance of our Troops; and that the Resident had accordingly written to Colonel Morgan to send a Regiment of Sepoys for that Service. As the Resident at the same Time expressed to me his Opinion, that a larger Force would be requisite to surmount the intended Opposition, I judged it improper to expose a Service of such Importance, either to the Hazard of a Defeat, or to the Chance of a Delay, and therefore immediately issued Orders, of which you have already been advised, for the March of Colonel Sir John Cumming, with his entire Detachment, for the Performance of it, advising the Resident of it. He in Reply expressed an Apprehension, that the Nabob Vizier would object to the Movement of so large a Force into the Heart of his Dominions, without what he would deem an adequate Occasion for it, and ascribe it to other Motives, which might be productive of Consequences hurtful to our Connection with him, and intreated that the Order might be revoked, assuring me, that there was no pressing Occasion for it.

“ I accordingly ordered it to be suspended. In the mean Time, as I had conceived some Alarm from the Delays and Difficulties which had attended this Business, which did not appear to me of a Nature susceptible of them, I wrote to the Resident, requesting him solemnly to declare to me whether, with the Powers with which he had been invested, he was competent to carry into Execution this and the other Measures directed in my Instructions; that if he were not, I would myself proceed to Lucknow, and afford the Nabob my personal Assistance for carrying them into Execution; but that if in his Answer he should assure me that he was capable of accomplishing this Service, I would leave the Charge and Responsibility of it to him, and depart for the Presidency. I wrote a Letter to the Nabob in similar Terms. I received the Resident's Answer on the 2d of January; it contained a Declaration that my Presence was in no Shape necessary in that Quarter, and that he was fully competent to undertake and to effect the Accomplishment of all the Measures required by my Instructions, and that he should immediately march with the Nabob to Fyzabad for the Purpose of enforcing his Claims on the Begums.

" On the Receipt of this Letter, concluding that the Nabob's Answer would be to the same Effect, and that I should be sufficiently warranted by them to leave the Business in their Hands, I prepared for my Departure, allowing a sufficient Time only for the Receipt of the Nabob's Letter, which I expected at the latest to receive on the 7th. On that Day I left Benaris, but proceeded only to a short Distance below the Town. At the same Time I caused an Intimation to be given to the Nabob, that although, to prevent a further Loss of Time, I had thought it proper to begin my Journey towards Bengal, yet I should proceed by short Stages, and suspend my final Resolution until I had received his Letter in answer to mine, still retaining the Resolution of conforming to the Contents of it. If these should require me to proceed to his Presence, according to the Tenor of the Proffer, and that if I did not receive it before my Arrival at Patna, I would wait for it there. It was not till my Arrival at Patna, which was on the 19th instant, that I did receive his Answer, a Translation of which shall accompany this. As it contained only a complimentary Invitation, accompanied with an Assurance similar to that given me by the Resident, in Relation to the impending Business, I considered it as intended to leave me the free Option either to accept of his Invitation on the Footing he had expressed it, or to return to the Presidency. After much Hesitation, and I will confess with some Reluctance, I have resolved on the latter. I dread the Imbecility and Irresolution which too much prevail in the Nabob's Council, and must influence in some Degree both the Conduct of the Resident and the Ministers; and I consider the impending Measure of too much Consequence to be exposed to the Risk of a Disappointment; yet the pressing Letters which I have written to the Nabob, the strong Injunctions which I have repeated to the Resident, and the positive Assurances which I have received from both, afford me every Reason to hope that they will be carried into Execution, without further Difficulty or Delay; and I am further confirmed in this Conclusion, by the subsequent Advices which I have received since my Departure: These amount to the following Substance—that the Nabob Vizier arrived at Fyzabad on the 8th, the Resident accompanying him; that on the 12th he found it necessary to employ a Military Force to take Possession of the Kellah, which was effected without any Effusion of Blood. The Two Eunuchs, Bahar and Jowarhur Ally Cawn, who were the prime Movers of the late Troubles, and the active Leaders of the present Opposition, were taken into Custody, and their Followers, amounting to about Three or Four Thousand armed Men, expelled from the Town and dispersed. I think it proper to transmit to you a Copy of the Resident's Letter, and to refer you to it for the Particulars of this Event.

" It may be necessary in this Place to inform you, that in Addition to the former Resolution of resuming the Begum's Jagheers, the Nabob had declared his Resolution of reclaiming all the Treasures of his Family, which were in their Possession, and to which, by the Mahometan Laws, he was entitled. This Resolution I have strenuously encouraged and supported, not so much for the Reasons assigned by the Nabob, as because I think it equally unjust and impolitic that they should be allowed to retain the Means of which they have already made so pernicious a Use, by exciting Disturbances in the Country, and a Revolt against the Nabob, their Sovereign. I am not sanguine in my Expectations of the Result of these Proceedings, but have required and received the Nabob's Promise that whatever Acquisitions shall be obtained from the Issue of them, it shall be primarily * applied to the Discharge of the Balance actually due from him to the Company.

* Sic in Orig.

" Notwithstanding the Resolution which I have taken to return to the Presidency, I yet foresee that many Events may happen which may again require my personal Attendance in this Quarter, but even these will require that I should first concert with you the Plan of my future Conduct respecting them. Though the Powers which I possess are ample and sufficient for every Purpose which may occur, yet as they were granted in a very different State of Affairs, it is become absolutely necessary that I should avail myself of a free and full Communication with you upon every probable Contingency, which may proceed from the Effects of the late Changes, before I can venture again if it shall be at all necessary to interfere with my own Authority, in any of the Affairs of this Quarter.

" I have made such a Provision for this Event that I shall at any Time have it in my Power to arrive at Lucknow within at least Three Weeks from my Departure from the Presidency, and there is little Cause to apprehend any material Change of Affairs in the short Interval which must necessarily precede my Arrival there.

“ To the Honble. Warren Hastings, Governor General, &c. and Members of the Supreme Council at Fort William.

“ Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

“ In replying to my First Division of the Charge, Non-execution of the Treaty and Instructions that accompanied it, I shall best avoid Confusion, and shorten what I wish to urge, by taking up unitedly the Treaty and Instructions, and briefly stating in the opposite Column what was done upon them, premising to lead the Attention of the Board, that the grand Object was to liquidate the Nabob's Debt of accumulating Balance to the Company, which the Governor General's Recollection will confirm. To obtain this Liquidation, the Nabob was persuaded to agree to sundry Arrangements in his Government and Finance, without which it was deemed impracticable to provide adequate Resources to accomplish it within the Year 1189, which, although unexpressed, was understood to be the Period for the Attainment of this grand Object ; nor could it possibly be expected to take less, because the Regulations of a Land Revenue (other Resources there are not in Oude) can scarcely operate within the Period of a Year.

“ For a clear Understanding of my Conduct, it may not be unnecessary to advert to the Situation and Power of a Resident at the Court of Oude, that his Success or Failure in the Services expected from him, may be measured by the Means he shall appear to possess, the only just Criterion.

“ The Resident from his Appointment is the sole Agent from an Ally to the Court he resides in, with Two obvious and peculiar Lines of Duty—One is the political Correspondence for Information of our Government, and the Preservation of a good Understanding between the Allied Parties. In Addition to this, within these few Years, another Object of very material publick Concern has become an Appendage of his Office—the receiving the Current Claims and Balances due to the Company.

“ To effect this last Object, he is competent to no positive Act of his own Authority, but is limited to obtain what Success he may, from his Influence over the Nabob's Chief Minister.

“ The Current Annual Claims varied from 70 to 130 Lacks of Rupees, which the Revenues of the Country, as will appear by Reference to former Accounts never answered to, seldom yielding to the Resident's Treasury beyond from 60 to 80 Lacks, the Consequence of which was, that the Balance was annually accumulating, instead of decreasing, by the annual Receipts. “ From the Nabob Vizier to the Resident.

“ I have received your Letter, covering Copies of Letters from my Mother to yourself—recapitulated * the Contents.—She says her Jagheers were not granted by me. At the Time of the late Nabob's Death, these Mahls were under the Charge of Jowaur Ally Khan, on the Footing of other Aumils, inasmuch that the Accounts, &c. were lodged in the Dewan's Office; these Accounts, as they were delivered into the Dewan's Office to the Date of the Nabob's Death, are forthcoming. After his Death, I, as a dutiful Son, made over these Mahls to her in Jagheer, that it could not be said I left my Mother unprovided. The Business and Mahls of the Khalla suffer considerably, and are much prejudiced by the Authority and Conduct of the Aumils of these Jagheers, Mahls, as also from the Insolence of the Household Khajahs; witness the Conduct of Bhar Ally Khan's Naibat Tondah. My Life, Estate, and Dominions originate from the Friendship of the English Government. Yet what Knavery have not these Household Khajahs been guilty of. As therefore it is not prudent that these Mahls should be continued in the Charge of my Mother, or Household Khajahs, I have appointed my own Aumils—receive the Amount arising from these Mahls, and pay it to my Mother, after deducting the Charges of Collections, &c. absolute Charges. I am ready to acquiesce in any Thing for my Mother. As for the other Parts of her Letters, I trust in God they are dictated by the Household Khajahs; and that I have not caused Shame to myself from my Conduct to God or my Mother. After the Death of my Father, whatever was due from him to the Company, also to the Troops, I took upon myself: but whatever Effects there were remained with my Mother. Some Time since she gave some Part to me, but it went no Way in the Discharge of the Claims of the Company or Troops. For these many Years I have endured much Inconvenience and Trouble for the Discharge of these; yet Half is not made good, and I am in daily Anxiety on this Account, from a Desire to discharge all just Dues to the Company. It is my Intention to proceed to Fyzabad in Ten Days, the Mohrum being over, when I mean to request of my Mother the Whole of my Father's Estate, to enable me to pay off all Debts to the Company. Agreeable to the Laws of God, all my Father's Effects are my Right, that I may make good all Claims on him. If my Mother, from Affection, consents, I shall be happy; if not, in whatever Manner she may render it, I shall pay it towards the Adjustment of the Balance due to the Company. With respect to the Household Khajahs, I shall confine and punish them, for the Knavery and Means they have used towards effecting a Breach between my Mother and myself. You will in Friendship cause this Letter to be translated into English, and send it immediately to the Governor, desiring him not to listen to any one, or what my Mother may write, neither adopt her Opinion, but direct me to receive Money from her, towards the Payment of the Company's Demands. I am ready to defray and allow her for her Expences—with respect to the Amount Collections of her Jagheers, after deducting all necessary Charges of Collection; you may receive and transmit it to her. “ From the Vizier to the Governor.

“ Your Letter of the 16th Mohurram arrived on the 25th of that Month. I am greatly obliged by your friendly Advice.

“ I have not, to my Knowledge, been deficient in any Thing; nor will I be deficient. Whatever I agree to do, and whatever Mr. Middleton shall advise, for the Advantage of my Affairs, I will do. I have, to confirm and encrease our Friendship, even done that which was not thought of or resolved on. You will be informed of the whole by the Letters of Mr. Middleton. I wish much to see you and Mrs. Hastings; and have come * to complain, that you have allowed so much Time to elapse at Benares, without coming here, notwithstanding I had requested you so to do, refusing to consider my House as yours, as is apparent from your not coming: I had Cause to complain of your Want of Friendship. " Honourable Sir,

" In Addition to what I have urged in my Address of this Date to the Board, I hope I shall meet with your Excuse for representing some further Circumstances relative to the Begum.

" I have experienced great Embarrassment in treating with her, for, as the Mother of the Vizier, the People look up to her with Respect; and any harsh Measures practised against Women of her high Rank create Discontent, and affect our national Character. Her Conduct in withholding his Excellency's Patrimony, and during the Troubles at Benares, justly lost her that Attention and Regard to which she would have been otherwise entitled: Still she is the Mother of the Prince of the Country; and the religious Prejudices of Mussulmen prevail too strongly in their Minds for them to forget her Situation. Superior Wisdom will guide your Measures, and I shall willingly execute every Order I may receive; but I think it my Duty, and a Tribute I owe to the Confidence you have placed in me, freely and candidly to offer my Sentiments on such Subjects, as, from a near View, may present Difficulties that would not occur to Persons at a Distance ]

" I would recommend every persuasive Argument might be urged to the Begum to induce her to fulfil her Engagements. I would even endeavour to convince her, that it was intended to renew the Restraints upon her; but I really think it not advisable to carry them into Execution.

" I have the Honour to be, with the greatest Respect,

" Lucknow,

TH E Lords being in their Places, the House resumed, the usual Proclamations made, and the Defendant appearing at the Bar, the Lord Chancellor acquainted the Counsel for the Defendant they might proceed in his Defence.

The Managers for the Commons stated, that they apprehended an Error had crept into the Minutes in Page 1921, where the Managers for the Commons are made to insist, " That they had a Right to stop their Examination, and to call the Witness again for the Purpose of Cross-examining him fully whenever they pleased ;" as they by no Means intended to lay down the Proposition to that Extent. Being heard in Explanation of the same,

The Managers for the Commons were informed by the House, that the proper Mode would be to deliver in, in Writing, the precise Terms of the Proposition they meant to insist upon.

The Counsel for the Defendant desired Mr. Hudson might be called in.

Mr. ROBERT HUDSON was accordingly again called in, and produced a Book, intituled, " Bengal Letters, received 11th November 1786 to 17th May 1787," and marked " 521 ;" and the same was delivered in.

Read, the following Extract of a Letter from the Governor General to the Court of Directors, dated the 16th November 1786.

" The Honble. the Court of Directors of the Honble. United Company of Merchants of England, trading to the East Indies.

" Honble. Sirs,

" 9. Many of the principal Persons connected with this Government, have anxiously desired Leave to visit Calcutta since my Arrival. The Vizier proposed to come in Person, but pressed in the strongest Manner for Leave to send his Minister Hyder Beg Khan. With the latter Request I thought proper to comply. This Minister is described to me as a Man of uncommon Abilities, and he, no Doubt, exercises at present the whole Power of the Vizier's Government. The particular Object on their Part of his Mission has not yet been signified to me, and I will not venture positively to predict what Advantages we may derive from it; but I shall be at Pains to impress Hyder Beg Khan with a Conviction that we have no Design but that of promoting the real Interests of the Vizier, which we look upon as inseparable from our own, and that while he conducts his Administration upon that Principle, he may depend upon the Protection and Support of this Government. I have had the most unfavourable Representations of the Management of the Finances, and of the State of the Courts of Justice in the Country of Oude. It will be a principal Object with me to endeavour to obtain a Promise from Hyder Beg Khan, to use his utmost Exertions to correct the Abuses in both.

" My Lord,

" Par. 1. In Conformity to my Letter of Yesterday, I now do myself the Honour of informing your Public Dept.

Friday.

your Lordship of the Particulars of the Conversation I held with Nawaub Vizier, in Consequence of Hyder Beg Khawn's Death.

" 2d. After some Time passed in the usual Compliments of Condolence, I told him that though it might be thought a very improper Time for Business, yet I deemed myself bound, both by my public Duty, and my Zeal for his Excellency, to be thus early in speaking a few Words to him on a very interesting Subject. I reminded him that the Agreement, acceded to by your Lordship, had been settled through Hyder Beg Khawn, and that it was on your Knowledge of his Excellency's having reposed his Confidence in him as the efficient Minister, that your Lordship had confirmed them; for which Reason, I conceived, now that this Source of your Lordship's Confidence was at an End, his Excellency would deem it a proper Mark of Attention to defer forming any permanent Arrangements in consequence of the Minister's Decease, until Letters on the Subject should be received from the Presidency. The Vizier replied, that he had no Idea of making any Alterations whatever; that he meant to continue Hussein Reza Khawn in his Post of Prime Minister, and Rajah Tickait Roy at the Head of the Revenue Department; at the same Time however, conferring on Hyder Beg Khawn's Son, who was a mere Child (he seems to be about Seventeen or Eighteen Years of Age) the nominal Title of Hussein Reza Khawn's Naib, holden by his late Father; that this was the Plan he was determined to adopt, and he could not think of listening to any other. I replied, that it was by no Means my Wish to dispute the Propriety of the proposed Arrangement; that I would write to your Lordship any Thing on the Subject his Excellency might desire; but that my Object was to represent that whatever System should be adopted (whether the Appointment of a new Person in Hyder Beg's Room, or the Continuance of what remained of the old Administration), it should be professedly a temporary System only; and I added, that though his Excellency might agree in consequence of my Recommendation to wait till the Sentiments of our Government should be known, yet I did not wish him to assign that to the World as his Motive for the Delay; it being sufficient for him to give out simply that he deferred a permanent Arrangement until he should have had Time to weigh well a Matter of such Importance.

" 3d. I found that the Nawaub had fully made up his Mind on the Subject, and that he would have been much better pleased to give the official Khellauts immediately, and to settle the whole Business permanently without any Reference; and it seems not improbable, that if I had neglected to make him a very early Visit, he would have been precipitate enough (as I feared, from my Knowledge of his Temper, might be the Case) to commit himself beyond the Power of retracting without Discredit. After a good deal of Conversation, however, in which I found it no easy Task to keep his Excellency from flying from the Question, he consented, with apparent good Humour, to my Proposal: But he desired me to obtain an Answer as soon as possible, and to inform your Lordship most fully, that the Arrangement he had mentioned was the only One which could be adopted, and which could merit the Confidence of your Lordship, as well as of himself; and he told me that were any other proposed to him, he would prefer relinquishing his Country to consenting to it.

" 4th. Having now given your Lordship the Substance of the Vizier's Conversations, it may perhaps be thought incumbent on me to say something regarding the Arrangement he has proposed.

" 5th. To the Character of Hussein Reza Cawn your Lordship is no Stranger, mild, polite, and humane in his Manners and Conduct, of a pleasing Address, respectable Character, and good Sense; he is generally liked, though, I believe, he has never yet been thought a Man of Business. Indeed his Ignorance of Letters appears to be an insuperable Obstacle to his acting as an efficient Minister in Revenue Matters, or in such other Business as requires an accurate Investigation of Papers. It must, however, be observed, that though he does not read, yet he speaks the Persian Language, and is sufficiently Master of it to understand it when read to him. Perhaps the Exercise of a Degree of Patronage in the Revenue Department, the interfering with his Excellency in Matters wherein the Interests of Foreign States are concerned, the giving him Advice for the Regulation of his Expences of his Caprices, and of his ill Humours, might be not disadvantageously entrusted to Hussein Reza Khawn. But to have any Influence over the Nawaub in such Matters, he must be known to possess the full Support of our Government; for hitherto he has been as frequently and (bating that he has not been disgraced or dishonoured) merely as much outraged by the Vizier's Caprice, as any other of his Excellency's Dependants in more humble Stations. Supposing, however, that he could be prevailed upon, by the Consciousness of the Support of our Government, to stand forth on such Occasions with Spirit, and that the Nawaub be made equally sensible of his having such Support, I know no Person more likely to persuade him to do what is right, and to avoid what is wrong, than Hussein Reza Cawn.

" 6th. In regard to Rajah Tickait Roy, he has been for many Years the principal Person employed under Hyder Beg Khawn in the Revenue Department; all the Papers have passed through his Hands, and he is understood to have had the full Confidence of the late Minister, with whom, therefore, I conceive he must share in no inconsiderable Degree, the Merits and Demerits of that Part of his Administration. Your Lordship knows that Rajah Tickait Roy was left in Charge of the Revenue Department, when Hyder Khawn went down to Calcutta. But I have great Doubts whether there be a sufficient Degree of Respectability attached to the Rajah's Character to command that that Deference from the Aumils, &c. which may be thought in some Degree necessary in a Country where personal Considerations have no little Weight to enforce due Subordination, and prompt Obedience to the Orders of Government. Possibly, however, this Surmise of mine may be unfounded, or a more elevated Station, or rather a more confirmed Authority, might call forth those Qualities which may not have appeared in an inferior Situation.

" 7th. I ought to have added to the above Account of my Conversation with the Vizier, that notwithstanding his Excellency's Promise to defer the final Arrangement, I thought it highly proper to apprise Hussein Reza Khawn of what had passed, to the End that he might be induced to discourage any Overtures which the Nawaub might inconsiderately make, for coming to a permanent Settlement. I sent to him therefore, very early this Morning, before he went to the Darbar, and informed him of the Whole; and I have the Satisfaction to find, that his Sentiments on the Subject seem to agree most perfectly with mine; and that without being sure of the Support of our Government, to secure him against the Effects of his Excellency's Caprices, and to give Weight to the Advice he might find it necessary to offer him, he professes that he would by no Means accept of the Trust from his Excellency. I call it "accepting a Trust," because though the Nawaub only mentioned Hussein Reza Khawn's continuing in the Office he has long since nominally holden, yet it was evident he meant me to understand that an additional Degree of Influence and Responsibility was intended to be given him.

" 8th. Some Apprehensions having been for several Weeks past entertained of the Event which has now occurred, I had frequently during that Period turned my Thoughts to the Consideration of what Arrangement it might be most for the mutual Interest of the Vizier and the Company to adopt; but I acknowledge that I had never been able to make up my Mind on the Subject.

" 9th. There are Two Persons who, from the Circumstance of Hyder Beg Khawn's having been supposed to dread them as his Rivals, might be considered as likely to become Competitors for the vacant Office. These are Almaufs Ally Khawn and Rajah Juggumaut, of whom therefore it may be thought proper for me to say something on this Occasion. It is necessary however for me to premise that, a strict Adherence to your Lordship's positive and repeated Instructions to avoid as well the Appearance as the Reality of a Wish to interfere in the internal Government of his Excellency's Country, has deprived * of such Opportunities of getting acquainted with the real Character of People of this Class, as must have been formerly enjoyed by Gentlemen now in Calcutta, who were in Station here at a Time when the Nature of our Connection with the Vizier rendered it the Duty of the Resident to superintend, and in a great Measure to controul, the whole Administration: • See in O. ig.

" 10th. Rajah Juggumaut was the Son-in-law of the late Rajah Soorub Sing, who was Dervaur under the Nawaub Sujah Dowlah; the Duties of that Office were also executed by Rajah Juggumaut himself for a long Time in the present Nawaub's Time; and during a considerable Part of that Period, his Power over the Aumils was exceedingly extensive, and he received a Ruffoom (or Commission) on the Revenues of Two per Cent. At Length however, as the Influence of Hyder Beg Khaun increased, the Office of Dewan became merely nominal, till in the End he was deprived entirely of it. I have myself never seen Juggumaut, for he has for about these Five Years been confined under a Guard to his House, on Account, or at least under Pretence of some outstanding Balances incurred during the Time he was Farmer of Rohilcund, in which Place he had succeeded his Father-in-law Soorut Sing, who had holden it for the Two Years preceding his Death, in Amauny (that is as accountable for the Collections), and had, it is supposed, been given the Appointment by Hyder Beg Khawn, merely for the Purpose of getting him out of the Way.

" 11th. In regard to Almaufs Ally Khawn, your Lordship is, I am sure, so well acquainted with his Character, that it can only be necessary for me to add, that in my late Excursion to Agra, in which the greatest Part of my Route lay through his Districts, I found the Country in general in a fine State of Cultivation. For its Police, I fear there is no great Room for Commendation. Almaufs is equally ignorant of Letters, as Hussein Reza, though the Extent of his Memory, and his intimate Knowledge of the Revenues are such, as to counter-balance this Disadvantage. Whether his Character as a Minister would equal his Abilities as a Farmer, may, perhaps, be reasonably doubted. My Ideas indeed, of the Qualifications necessary for a Successor to Hyder Beg Khawn, are so totally foreign from every Thing I have seen of any Person I am acquainted with here, that I should have no Hope of being able to fill the Office to my own Satisfaction, had I the Choice from among the Whole of the Inhabitants of his Excellency's Territories, for in no One of them, do I believe, are, to be found united, an intimate Knowledge of the Revenues of the Country, Diligence in Business, Moderation in his Desires of accumulating Wealth, an Ambition to restore the Country to Order, if not by the Introduction of a complete System, at least by the enforcing of a general Adherence to the Principles of Justice, and by the Abolition of that lawless Oppression and systematic Plunder, which but too generally prevail, a Knowledge of the Means to revive Manufactures and Commerce, with a Resolution to pursue them through every Difficulty; and, in a Word, a Wish and Determination (with Knowledge and Abilities equal to the Undertaking) to render the Country permanently flourishing, without being for the Purpose of private Emolument, or for the Gratification of his Excellency's Caprices, diverted by the Temptation of raising occasional Supplies of Money, either by anticipating the Revenues by borrowing at an exorbitant Interest, or by any such ruinous Methods.

" 12th. Were it fortunately in my Power to point out a Man with these Qualifications, I should not hesitate a Moment; but despairing as I do, of any such being to be found among the Natives of Oude, I see nothing but the Choice of Evils; and I am far from having sufficient Confidence of the Success of any Expedient I could devise for continuing the present System, to justify my taking the Liberty of recommending to your Lordship, unless it should appear proper to you on other Accounts, an Opposition to his Excellency's Plan, which seems to me to be, upon the Whole, as liable to as few Objections as any other that I can think of. A Change of System, by which the Company's Servants should be entrusted with the effectual Administration (for I conceive a partial Change would probably be attended with more Evil than Good) and charged with Responsibility, I conceive to be totally out of the Question.

" 13th. From the Tenor of the Nawaub's Conversation of Yesterday, I am led to hope and believe, that he has no Intention of doing any Thing to the Prejudice of Hyder Beg Khawn's Family, although he might plead but too many Precedents for seizing on the Property of such Persons as die in the Service of the Prince. I have, however, thought it best, by Way of Precaution, to desire Hussim Reza Khawn to give me the earliest Notice if any Thing of the Kind should happen, that I may consider how far it may be proper for me to interfere in the Matter. Hyder Beg Khawn has left Eight Sons, the Two eldest of whom, Ackbar Ally and Hussim Ally, are by his Wife, and the remaining Six by other Women. He has left also Four Nephews (Sons of his eldest Brother Noor Beg), the eldest is Serfrauz Beg, then Auzim Beg, Muckdoom Bucksh, and Rujib Beg. Serfrauz Beg and Muckdoom Bucksh are married to Two of Hyder Beg's Daughters; the Wife of the latter being born of his favourite Woman. Muckdoom Bucksh is of a very haughty turbulent Disposition, and has several Times given his Uncle much Trouble. This slight Sketch of Hyder Beg Khawn's Family, I hope, will not be thought foreign to the Subject.

" 14th. I must not conclude this Letter without adverting to the Balance due from his Excellency to the Company, and the Arrears in which the Troops now are, both which Subjects, as it is impossible for me to find Time at present to write fully upon them, in a Manner more applicable to the present State of Affairs, will be best elucidated by my sending the Letters, which I had written to your Lordship Yesterday and the Day before on these Points, but which the late Event (that renders indeed a great Part of that of the 4th superfluous) prevented my dispatching last Night. I have not yet had Time to discover whether I may hope for the Liquidation of any Part of the Balance, before the Establishment of a permanent System, but I shall use my Endeavours for that Purpose, and inform your Lordship of the Result.

" 15th. May I be now allowed to take the Liberty of observing, that it was not without some Diffidence that I decided in my own Mind, uninstructed as I was for the Occasion, what Line of Conduct it was my Duty to pursue, that I flatter myself I shall have the Satisfaction of finding that the Line which appeared to me, after the most mature Deliberation, to be the most proper, has been approved of, and that the Firmness with which I have already pursued what I judged to be my Duty, and in which I am determined to persevere, will be also honoured with Approbation.

" My Lord,

" Par. 1. Hussain Reza Khan brought the late Minister's two eldest Sons, Ackbar Ally and Hussain Ally, to my House this Morning to introduce them to me. Rajah Tickait Roy came with them, and after some Time passed in the usual Compliments on such Occasions he took the Opportunity of repeating the greatest Part of what they had jointly sent me Word the other Day, as mentioned in my Letter of the 8th instant.

" 2d. The Rajah said, that all the Demands of every Kind against the Nawaub could not be much less than a Crore of Rupees. That an Account of the Huslabood of the Country was nearly prepared, which he would shew to me as soon as finished; that it was absolutely necessary some System should be adopted, and not departed from, by which his Excellency should so limit his Expences as to secure a Provision, First, for the regular Discharge of the Company's Subsidy; Secondly, for defraying the necessary Expences of Government; and Thirdly, for a gradual Liquidation (which he was ready to admit could not be done in the Course of One Year) of the Claims above mentioned—but he added, repeatedly, that though they were conscious that in wishing for such a Plan they were actuated by an ardent Zeal for his Excellency's real Interests, yet they were but too well convinced it could not be effected without the active Support of our Government. I replied, that I was as fully sensible as they could be of the absolute Necessity of such a System taking Place by some Means or other, but that with respect to the Rest I had written to your Lordship fully on the Subject, and could say nothing further but by your Directions.

" 3d. How far it may be proper to interfere in respect to these Matters, your Lordship is the best Judge. My Letter of the 4th instant will shew the Difficulties I had to encounter, even during the late Minister's Life, in regard to the Realization of the Company's Subsidy; and that it had not always that Preference to his Excellency's Demands of Cash which its superior Degree of Importance required. Indeed I have never concealed from your Lordship how much I conceived the Advantages resulting from Hyder Beg Khan's Abilities, and undoubted Attachment to the English Government, were counterbalanced by his extreme Timidity in regard to opposing the Vizier's inconsiderate Conduct, and by those inveterate Habits of Procrastination in every Matter, however important, or however trivial, from which nothing could rouse him. And my Letter of the 24th of February will evince that long before any Apprehensions were entertained of the Minister's Death, I was alarmed at the apparent State of his Excellency's Finances, and at the consequent Probability of the Subsidy's falling very considerably in Arrear, unless some effectual Measures should be taken to excite the Minister to uncommon Exertions.

" 4th. Though by no Means material, I think it proper to observe, that I find from Hossien Reza Khan that Hyder Beg has left Twelve Sons instead of Eight, as mentioned in my Letter of the 6th instant.

Read, the following Extract, beginning at Paragraph Twelve of the same.

" N° 43.

" The Honble. Court of Directors for Affairs of the Honourable United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East Indies.

" Honble. Sirs,

" 12th. The Accounts of the Death of Hyder Beg Khan had reached me at Madras, and although it has been a general Maxim with me to avoid as much as possible all interference in the Details of the Vizier's Government, I was glad to find upon my Arrival here, that his Excellency had been persuaded to shew his Respect for this Government, by making only a temporary Appointment of Ministers to conduct his Affairs, until he could consult with me on a proper permanent Successor to his late Minister.

" 13th. Having long clearly seen that Hyder Beg's Talents for Business were much superior to those of most Men of his Religion in this Country, (who are in general indolent and dissipated), and having had Reason to believe that he was sincerely desirous to cement the Connection between his Excellency and the Company, his Death gave me great Concern; and I regretted him the more, as I do not know any Person that I could have with Propriety recommended to the Vizier to succeed him, who is nearly equal to him in Abilities.

" 14th. You are not acquainted that Hossien Reza Khan has for many Years past borne the Appellation of the Vizier's first Minister, without being employed in any Duty of Importance; and that Rajah Ticket Roy has acted for a considerable Period, as a subordinate Minister under Hyder Beg in the Revenue Department.

" 15th. His Excellency had made a temporary Nomination of Hussein Reza Khan, to act as the efficient Minister, and of Rajah Ticket Roy to continue in the Management of the Revenue Department; and although Hussein Reza does not possess all the Qualifications that I could wish for a Minister, yet as I have an exceedingly good Opinion both of his Principles and of his Disposition to promote Cordiality between his Master and the Company, and I have great Confidence in the Experience and Ability of the Rajah in the Line in which he was employed, I did not see that a better Choice could be made, and accordingly I signified to the Vizier my entire Approbation of their being permanently appointed.

Read, from Book 82, already delivered in, the following Extract of the Appendix to a Consultation of the 12th June 1782, beginning at Page 256 of the same.

" To the Honourable Warren Hastings, Governor General, &c.

" Sir,

" Inclosed I have the Honour to forward your Addresses from his Excellency the Vizier and his Ministers.

" In Justice to the latter, it is incumbent upon me to inform you, that during the Progress of the Business at Fayzabad, I received from them the most willing and zealous Support; and that to their Exertions I consider myself greatly indebted for the complete Success which attended that Business, as well as for the Fruits of it being solely applied to the Liquidation of the Nabob's Debts to the Honourable Company.

" Under these Circumstances, it would afford me great Satisfaction, and, I conceive, tend to promote the public Service, were they honoured with some Testimony of your Approbation and Favour, which would be particularly acceptable to them at this Period, as their Conduct in the Transactions at Fayzabad, and in the Resumption of the Jagheers, has excited the inveterate Resentment of the Begum, and many Persons of the first Consequence about the Court, whose Interests have been affected by the latter Measure, and created a far more powerful Combination against them, than they have ever before had to oppose. In short, Sir, they are considered, not only by this Party, but by the Nabob himself, as the actual Dependants of the English Government; which they certainly are, and it is by its declared and most obvious Support alone, that they can maintain the Authority and Influence, which is indispensably necessary to enable them to discharge the Trust reposed in them, either with Credit to themselves or Advantage to the Public.

" I have the Honour to be, &c. &c.

firm the Orders we gave in our Letters of the 19th February and 17th May 1766, That no Company's Servant, free Merchant, or an European, shall, in any Mode or Shape whatsoever, either by themselves or Agents, directly or indirectly, trade in, or be concerned in carrying on an Inland Trade, in Salt, Beetle Nut, Tobacco, or in any other Articles produced and consumed in the Country: And such Trade is hereby absolutely abolished, and put a final End to, agreeable to our before mentioned Orders. And further, if any of the before described Persons shall directly or indirectly carry on, or be concerned in such Inland Trade, or in farming the Calaries, or making Salt, if a Company's Servant, he is to be immediately dismissed the Company's Service, and from all others the Company's Protection is to be forthwith withdrawn.

" Our President and Council at Fort William in Bengal.

" Par. 105. As the Trade of our Servants is to be confined to the Articles of Import and Export only, in which they will be considerably affected by the great Demands for extending the Company's Investments; and considering the great Increase of Business in which our principal Servants are necessarily engaged, and which demand their utmost Care and Attention; we are come to a Resolution to give them a reasonable Encouragement to exert themselves with Zeal and Alacrity in their several Departments, but which they are to look upon as a free Gift from the Hand of their Employers, offered to them annually, so long as the present Revenues shall remain with the Company, and their Behaviour shall continue to merit such a Reward. We therefore hereby order and direct,

" 106. That you draw out an annual Account of the Sums received from the Dewannee, deducting thereout the stipulated Payments to the King and the Nabob, and the Allowance to the Nabob's Ministers; also the Revenues of the Provinces of Burdwan, Midnapore, Chittagong, and the Calcutta Purgunnahs, from which are to be deducted Lord Clive's Jaghire, and the ordinary Charges of Collection.

" 107. Upon the Amount of the said Nett Revenues you are hereby indulged to draw a Commission of Two and an Half per Cent.

" 108. The Sum which shall be the Produce of the said  $2\frac{1}{2}$  per Cent. is to be divided into One hundred Parts or Shares; which Parts or Shares are to be appropriated in the following Manner; viz.

|                                                                | Shares                  |

| The Rest of the Council, not having a Chiefship, each          | 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ Shares. |

" 109. For it is our Meaning and Directions that the Chiefs of Cossimbuzar, Patna, Dacca, and Chittagong, are not to have any Proportion of the said Shares.

" 110. Being convinced that the Employes of the Resident at the Durbar and Chief of Cossimbuzar cannot, from the Importance and Extent of the Business of each Department, be properly executed by One Person; we therefore direct that they be from this Time forward separated, and that some other Member of the Council be appointed to the said Chiefship.—We do not make this Regulation from any Failure of Attention on the Part of Mr. Sykes, with whose Conduct we are perfectly satisfied.

" 111. And in Consideration of the extraordinary Trouble and Attention which the Resident at the Durbar must necessarily have in the due Execution of that important Post, we direct that he be allowed Four Shares and an Half; but this is to be understood to be in full, and instead of such such Shares as are assigned as above mentioned to his Rank in Council, or as a Member of the Select Committee.

" 112. The large Proportion allotted to the Governor in the before mentioned Commission of 2½ per Cent. is in Consideration of his relinquishing, and not being concerned in any Trade whatever, even in Articles of Import and Export, and all Presents or other Gratifications, as expressed in the Deed of Renunciation in your Proceedings of the 22d September 176 * which we approve and confirm, and direct that all Governors do execute the like Instrument on their entering into their Office. Our Inducement for annexing so great an Appointment to the Station of President and Governor, is in full Expectation of his giving up his whole Time and Attention to the faithful Discharge of his Duty, and that being excluded from all Trade himself, he may, and we accordingly depend that he be vigilant in watching and detecting all Abuses committed by others. - 1st. The Order of the Court of Directors to appoint a proper Person to the Office of Minister and Guardian to the Nabob, in the Place of Mahomed Reza Cawn.
- 2d. The Nature of that Office, as it had been held by Mahomed Reza Cawn.

Though we have not a Doubt, but that by the Exertion of your Abilities, and the Care and Assiduity of our Servants in the Superintendency of the Revenues, the Collections will be conducted with more Advantage to the Company, and Ease to the Natives, than by Means of a Naib Dewan; we are fully sensible of the Expediency of supporting some ostensible Minister in the Company's Interest at the Nabob's Court, to transact the Political Affairs of the Circar, and interpose between the Company and the Subjects of any European Power, in all Cases wherein they may thwart our Interest, or encroach on our Authority. And as Mahomed Reza Cawn can no longer be considered by us as one to whom such a Power can safely be committed, we trust to your local Knowledge the Selection of some Person well qualified for the Affairs of Government, and of whose Attachment to the Company you shall be well assured. Such Person you will recommend to the Nabob to succeed Mahomed Reza Cawn, as Minister of the Government, and Guardian of the Nabob's Minority; and we persuade ourselves, that the Nabob will pay Much Regard to your Recommendation, as to invest him with the necessary Power and Authority.

Opinion.

“ The Committee are fully sensible of the Expediency, remarked by the Honourable Court of Directors, of holding out the Authority of the Country Government to the European Powers in all Cases wherein their Interests may interfere with those of the Company ; but we humbly conceive that when they are acquainted with all the Circumstances which the Opportunity of present and local Information have offered to our Notice, they will judge with us that it is neither necessary for that Purpose, nor adviseable for other Reasons, to delegate an extraordinary permanent Authority to any single Minister of the Nabob, since any Man, of what Rank soever, may be occasionally commissioned to treat on the commercial Concerns of the European Nations, settled in these Provinces, according to the Custom which has been invariably observed in such Cases with all the European Companies, the English alone within these Fifteen Years excepted. They were never allowed a personal Intercourse with the Nabob but as a special Favour, nor even with his Minister ; but transacted all Affairs by their Vakeels with the Muttasuddies of the Durbar in Matters respecting the Government and Peace of the Country in which foreign Nations may be concerned. The Nabob's Mandate under his Seal will be a sufficient Indication of his Pleasure ; and the Officers acting by his Authority in consequence will receive the usual Warrants, in his Name, without any apparent Intervention of either the Controul or Influence of the Company : The Appointment therefore of a Naib Soubah for such Purposes we judge unnecessary ; nor is it allowable to suppose that our Honble. Masters would approve of our putting them to the Charge of an annual Salary of Three Lacks of Rupees to such an Officer, merely for the Sake of giving Eclat to the Negotiation, or authenticating the Privileges of their Rivals in Trade, if the Ends of an ostensible Minister can be equally answered by other Means that shall not encroach in so great a Degree on the public Treasure, or lessen the Consequence of our own Administration : But it is not only unnecessary ; it may be liable to much present Inconvenience, and to future Danger.

“ The Office of Naib Soubah, according to its original Constitution, comprehends the Superintendency of the Nabob's Education ; the Management of his Household ; the Regulation of his Expences ; the Representation of his Person ; the chief Administration of Justice ; the issuing of all Orders, and Direction of all Measures, which respect the Government and Police of the Provinces ; the Conduct of all public Negotiations, and Execution of Treaties ; in a Word, every Branch of executive Government. We do not mention the Military Command, that having been by Treaty ceded to the Company ; but even this great Charge cannot be wholly alienated from the Naib Soubah if there is one, since, by virtue of his Office, it is his Name which must authorize every Act of Compulsion with regard to the European Companies. By the Exercise of such extensive Powers, united in the same Person, the Rights and Perogatives of the ancient Government will still be preserved, and the Minds of the People, instead of being familiarized to the Authority of the Company, will be taught to look forward to the Time when the Nabob shall resume the Sovereignty and State of his Predecessors, from which his present Youth excludes him.

“ We are not informed what Line our Superiors mean to pursue on the Conclusion of the Nabob's Minority : We can plainly see that whatever Faith may be due to Treaties, subsisting on Grounds of very controvertible Authority, a divided Government cannot last, but must be productive of continual Contests, and end at length in a Scene of Bloodshed like that which we have once already experienced. For these Reasons it is our Duty to suppose the Possibility of a total Change of Government by Degrees taking Place, which shall substitute the real Power which protects this Country in the Place of that which claims Possession of it by a Right it is unable to assert or support, and to provide for the gradual Completion of it by such Means as can be regularly and justifiably exerted. The Nabob's Minority incontestably affords us such Means, since whatever Share of Authority we should leave in his Hands, or whatever Portion of the Public Revenue we should allow for his Use, would prove of no Benefit to him ; the former would be usurped to gratify the Purposes of private Ambition, and employed perhaps to his Destruction ; the latter would be dissipated by the Minions of his Court :—In whose Hands can both rest with such Propriety as in those to which they naturally belong ? And if at the Expiration of the Term which shall be fixed to his Minority, it shall then be resolved to resign to him the Authority which his Rank and Station may claim, such a Cession will have so much the more Merit, as the Temptation and Means of withholding are the greater.—Whatever therefore may be the future Determination, it is our Duty to take such Measures as may insure to our Superiors the Option of acting according to their own Ideas of Justice and Propriety ; that is, to retain openly, and in our own Hands, the whole Conduct of Government for the present ; to accustom the People to the Sovereignty of the British Nation; to divide the Offices of the Nizamut; and to suffer no Person to share in the Management of the Nabob's domestic Affairs, who, from Birth, Rank, personal Consideration, or from actual Trust, may have it in his Power to assist his Master with the Means, or even to inspire him with the Hopes, of future Independence.

✍️ [“ On these Grounds we are of Opinion, that the Office of Naib Soubah be totally abolished; that a Person not liable to the above Objections be appointed Guardian to the Nabob, and entrusted with the Care and Rule of his Family, and that a Dewan be also nominated, subject to the Controul of the former, who shall regulate and pay the Salaries of the Nabob's Servants, and keep the Account of his Expences, to be monthly transmitted to the Board, according to the Orders of the Honble. Court of Directors.

“ Of the Magistracy we shall speak in another Place.—We know no Person so fit for the Trust of Guardian to the Nabob, as the Widow of the late Nabob Jaffer Ally Cawn, Minnee Begum. Her Rank may give her a Claim to this Pre-eminence without Hazard to our own Policy; nor will it be found incompatible with the Rules prescribed to her Sex by the Laws and Manners of her Country, as her Authority will be confined to the Walls of the Nabob's Palace, and the Dewan will act, of Course, in all Cases in which she cannot personally appear. Great Abilities are not to be expected in a Zenana; but in these she is very far from being deficient; nor is any extraordinary Reach of Understanding requisite for so limited an Employ. She is said to have acquired a great Ascendant over the Spirit of the Nabob, being the only Person of whom he stands in any Kind of Awe, a Circumstance highly necessary for fulfilling the chief Part of her Duty in directing his Education and Conduct, which appear to have been hitherto much neglected.

“ Resolved therefore, that it be recommended to the Board to appoint Minnee Begum to the Guardianship of the Nabob, and superintending of his Household.]

Resolution.

✍️ [“ The President proposes Rajah Goordass, the Son of Maha Rajah Nundcomar, for the Office of Dewan to the Nabob's Household. The inveterate and rooted Enmity which has long subsisted between Mahomed Reza Cawn and Nundcomar, and the Necessity of employing the Vigilance and Activity of so penetrating a Rival to counteract the Designs of Mahomed Reza Cawn, and to eradicate that Influence which he still retains in the Government of this Province, and more especially in the Family of the Nabob, are the sole Motives for this Recommendation. The Honble. Company, in their Letter by the Lapwing, order that both ‘ Mahomed Reza Cawn, and every Person employed by or in Conjunction with him, or acting under his Influence, shall be divested of any further Charge or Influence in the Collections.’ And they further direct that a strict Scrutiny be made into his Conduct in the Exercise of his Office of Naib Soubah, from the Suspicion of his having been ‘ equally unfaithful in the Discharge of that Trust.’

Rajah Goordass proposed for Dewan.

President's Minute.

“ It is very evident from these Orders that it was the Intention of the Court of Directors to make an entire Reformation in the Government of these Provinces, and to begin with the Abolition of that Authority which had been established in it during the Course of the last Seven Years. Indeed if this had not been expressed, it must necessarily have been implied in their Commands, since it was not to be expected that a new Plan of Government could effectually take place while the Influence of the former subsisted. The same Man till lately had the Charge of the Nabob's Household, the sole Application of his vast Stipend, the Administration of Justice, and the Collection of the Revenues of the Province; in a Word, every Branch of the Administration was centered in the Person of Mahomed Reza Cawn.

* Sic in Orig.

“ It is true that his Authority was much diminished in the Collections by the Institution of the Supervisors, but he still retained an Influence in most Parts of the Province; and on some his secret Power was even superior to that of the Supervisor. In the Direction of the Nabob's Household he acted without Check or Controul: The Nabob's Servants were all of his Appointment,—his Creatures and Dependants. These still continue in Charge of the Nabob's Person, and in Possession of his Mind, which they may be naturally supposed to bend to such Inclinations and Purposes as may best suit the Views and Interests of their Patron.

“ These Reasons will justify the Nomination of a Man to supply the Place of the late Naib Soubah who is known to be his most violent Opponent, and most capable of opposing him. It is not pretended that these Ends are to be obtained merely from the Abilities of Rajah Goordass, his Youth and Inexperience render him, although unexceptionable in other Respects, inadequate to the real Purposes of his Appointment; but his Father hath all the Abilities, Perseverance, and Temper requisite for such Ends in a Degree perhaps exceeding any Man in Bengal: These Talents heretofore made him obnoxious to Government itself, and therefore it might be thought unsafe to trust him with an Authority so near the Nabob, whom he might inspire with his own Ambition, and assist with the Means of carrying it to the most dangerous Extremes: It is possible that this might be the Case, were he immediately and formally entrusted with the Charge in Question, and therefore it is proposed to confer it upon his Son, who is of himself incapable of making a very bad use of it, and to allow of his acting under the Influence and Instruction of his Father, who, holding no Office under the Nabob, and being a Subject of our Government, may be removed without Eclat, or the least Appearance of Violence, whenever he shall be proved, or even suspected, to abuse his Trust, and apply it to Designs hurtful to the Interests of the Honble. Company.

or

“ Warren Hastings.

Mr. Middleton's Minute.

“ Mr. Middleton delivers in the following Minute.

“ For the Reasons which have been so properly and powerfully urged by the President, I entirely approve of the Choice he has made in the Person of Rajah Goordas, as a Man the most eligible to superintend the Affairs of the Nabob's Household, and at the same Time to complete the Reformation which the Company have thought necessary to be made in the Government of this Country.—Young and inexperienced himself, without that Temper of Mind which denotes Ambition, no Apprehensions need be entertained of his making an improper Use of the Authority with which he is invested; yet directed by the Counsel of his Father, whose Abilities and Inveteracy to the late Naib Soobah are well known, he not only must be deemed capable of discharging all the Functions of his Office with Applause, but must appear particularly calculated to answer those Ends the Honourable Company have in View, by the total Suppression of that Influence which has hitherto been placed in the Person of Mahomed Reza Cawn; and this without any Danger that Schemes of Ambition will be formed by the Father himself; or if formed, without a Possibility of executing them, seeing that the Power, from which his Consequence is only reflected, will be so circumscribed, and wholly unable to screen him, on the least Breach of Confidence, from the just Repentment of those to whom he is indebted for the Degree of Consideration he holds.

“ Samuel Middleton.

Messrs. Dacres, Lawrell, and Graham, dissent.

“ Messrs Dacres, Lawrell, and Graham, object to the Proposition of appointing Rajah Goordas Dewan to the Nabob, and will assign their Reasons at a future Meeting.

“ Agreed, that the following circular Letter be written to the Collectors of Dinagepoor.

Circular Letter to the Collectors.

“ To Mr. William Marriott, Collector of Dinagepoor.

“ Sir,

“ As we judge it expedient to have before us several Papers relating to your District for our better Determination on the Business of the Settlement, you are desired, as soon as possible, to prepare and state, in the clearest and most intelligible Manner, and transmit to us here the following Accounts.

- “ 1. Account of the Huftabood for last Year.
- “ 2. Account of the Jumma Wafil Baky for D<sup>o</sup>.
- “ 3. General Treasury Account.
- “ 4. Account of Sudder and Mofuffil Charges.
- “ 5. Account of the Chakeran Lands, as required in the 20th Article of the Regulations.
- “ 6. Account of the Zemindarry Ghauts, and their Annual Revenue.
- “ 7. Accounts of the Bazee Jumma and Haldary, or Tax on Marriages.
- “ 8. Account of Cauzees and Intefaub's Fees on D<sup>o</sup>.

“ These you will accompany with such a Representation as you may have prepared for the Inspection of the Committee, respecting the present State of your District, and the Expectations to be entertained from settling the Revenue on the intended Plan. We shall be glad to have your Sentiments on the Administration of Justice, and the Number and Nature of the several Officers necessary to be employed in that Branch in your District; and to be informed whether any Proposals have hitherto been delivered in to you for farming their Lands.

* “ As Three Months of the present Bengal Year are now elapsed, and the Period of the First Harvest is near at Hand, the Produce of which, in many Districts, contributes to answer a large Proportion of the Government's Revenue; moreover, as the Attention of this Committee will still be occupied a considerable Time longer in the Regulations and Arrangements they have to establish at this Station, which must, of Course, delay the Progress of their Circuit, we, for all these Reasons, judge it necessary, in Addition to the Orders you have already received for securing the new Year's Collections, to recommend this Object to your most assiduous Attention. If you esteem it essential for this Purpose to hold the Pooneah in the Pergunnahs, you have our Permission to do so, and in making the Collections, you are to conform to the Kistbundy of last Year. If the present Farmers should decline rendering themselves responsible for their Rents, you must, of Necessity, appoint Sheikdars to collect them; but as the greater Confidence and Reliance to be placed in the Care and good Management of the Farmers is so very obvious, we enjoin you to employ your best Endeavours to continue to hold their Farms, and discharge their Rents, according to their late Agreements, until the Committee can arrive on the Spot to finish the Settlement.

“ We are well aware, that whilst the new Settlement thus remains in suspense, Opportunity is offered for withholding the Revenue, and occasioning Deficiencies. It is to prevent Effects of this Nature that we now give you these Orders, and we depend on your attending so strictly to the Business of Collections, as that none such will ensue.

" Your Remittances you will continue to dispatch as usual to the Chief and Council of Revenue at Moorshedabad.

the 11th July 1772.

" The same was written with the following additional Paragraph inserted at the Mark *.

" We have further to require of you, to advise us whether the Talookdarry Lands of your District have ever had their Value ascertained by a Hushabood; and if they have not, we desire you will immediately appoint proper Persons to make such a Valuation, as without this it will be impossible to make a proper Settlement of the Revenue, or determine on the Rights and Privileges of the Talookdars.

" Mr. Middleton gives in the following Representation on the Subject of the Accounts which he is to prepare by Desire of the Committee.

" Since our Meeting of the 7th I have employed myself in taking the necessary Measures for supplying the Committee with the several Accounts they have required in the Extract delivered to me of their Proceedings; but as some Obstacles have occurred in the Execution of such Part of the Resolutions as are contained in the First and Second Paragraphs, arising from Circumstances peculiar to the Huzzoor Zillahs, which I imagine must have escaped the Notice of the Committee, I think it necessary before I proceed farther to lay before them the following Representation.

Mr. Middleton's Representation on Huzzoor Talooks.

" From Time immemorial it has been customary for the Zemindars, on falling in Arrear in the Payment of their Rents, to raise a Sum of Money for that Purpose by disposing of Part of their Lands, either voluntarily or by Compulsion of the Government. These Lands sometimes are entirely alienated, and become dependent only on the Khalsah, or they are annexed to the Domains of another Landholder who purchases them, or they are allowed to continue Mulcoory, that is, under the Jurisdiction of their former Zemindar, paying only the Tukfemy Revenue, with the Rate of Taxes imposed on the Rest of the Province; but in this Case they often afterwards find Means, either by Complaints or by the Interposition of powerful Interest, to procure an Order from the Government for their Dismemberment, authorizing them at the same Time to remit their Rents immediately to the Khalsah.

" From these several Methods of transferring Land, Alterations have incessantly taken Place in the Zemindaries, which, for Want of explicit and accurate Records, it would be now difficult to trace back to any particular Period, without relying in a great Measure for our Information on the Zemindars and Talookdars themselves.

" Extensive Zemindaries have in the Course of Time been dismembered into a Number of inconsiderable and independant Talooks; others, which now rank in the First Class, have been formed by uniting together several small Portions of Land obtained from different Zemindars; Silburris affords an Instance of the First Position, Rokunpoor of the Second. Silburris formerly paid a Revenue of upwards of a Lack and Fifty thousand Rupees; by successive Alterations it is now reduced to less than 50,000 Rupees. If the Measure in Agitation should take Place, and the Mahalls which have been separated from the greater Zemindaries should be re-annexed, Silburris will receive back Lands to the Amount of about 60,000 Rupees collected from the Presence; and as Impartiality requires that if the Huzzoor Zillahs are deprived of the Benefit of their Purchase and re-annexed, so those also which are absorbed into other Zemindaries should be restored to their original Proprietor: If so, Rokunpoor must not only yield up to Silburris its Acquisitions of about 80,000 Rupees; but being wholly composed of Lands obtained from other Zemindars, it must by this Plan of Restitution be totally annihilated.

" The Khas Talooks comprehend an infinite Number of small Portions of Land, which the Nabob, Sujah ul Dowlah, Jaffer Cawn, and Surfrauz Cawn, selected from several Zemindaries, to which they in general still pay the Rate of Land Rent originally settled. These being under the immediate Inspection and Care of Government, have, by the Establishment of Gunges and other salutary Measures, greatly improved, and now yield a Revenue much exceeding what they would have produced had they continued under the Zemindars; and were they now to be re-annexed, in all Probability a considerable Loss would ensue in the Decrease of their Value.

" Besides a Number of other Instances which might be produced, many of the Villages which originally pertained to Bherde, Mehbind, Coolberreah, &c. some of the Divisions of Cuttubpoor, Barbeck Sing, Fattypore, and which are each separate Zemindaries, have, by Purchase, Ulurpa-tion, or other Means, become included in Rajeshaky. The Lands thus separated being long considered by the Possessor in the same Light as his own original Districts, little Care has been taken to mark their respective Boundaries, and in many Places it will now be found difficult to distinguish them, at least to effect it with Precision; to ascertain the Cause and Manner of each Disinemberment, and to arrange the Accounts afterwards in a new Form, will, I am apprehensive, retard too long the important Operations of this Committee.

" These Remarks I have thought it necessary to submit to the Consideration of the Committee, and shall be ready to follow such Instructions as they may in consequence think proper to give me.

Lies for Consideration.

" Honble. Sirs,

" Par. 13. The Appointments which have been thought indispensable upon the Abolition of the Office of Naib Soubah, are as follows:—A Guardian to the young Nabob, a Dewan of his Household and for the Business of the Collections, a Dewan of the Khalsa. The Persons named to these Trusts are Munny Begum, (the Relict of the late Nabob Jaffier Ally Khan) Guardian Rajah Goordafs, the Son of Maha Rajah Nundcomar Dewan, and Rajah Rajebullub, the Son of the late Maha Raja Dullubram, Dewan of the Khalsa.

" 14. The Nomination of Munny Begum to the Superintendence of the Household and Guardianship of the Person of the Nabob, is a Measure from which we expect the happiest Consequences: Her known Aversion to Mahomed Reza Cawn, and Opposition of Interests to his, renders her the fittest Person to eradicate his Influence in the Household, and her high Rank and Abilities equally qualify her to represent the Dignity of the Family, without any Danger to the Company from such Pretensions as might be apprehended from any Male Relation of Jaffier Ally Cawn, or from the Ambition of any other Man of Consideration to whom such a Trust might be delegated.

We can say little of the Nabob himself, he seems to betray a Mind more neglected than really deficient at the Bottom. To shew, that a regular Communication was made at the Time to the Court of Directors by the Board, as to the Execution of the Order with respect to the Appointment to take Place on the Removal of Mahomed Reza Khan,

Read, from Book 180, the following Letter from the Governor General to the Secret Committee of the Court of Directors, dated at Cossimbuzar, the 1st September 1772.

" Cossimbuzar, 1st September 1772.

" To the Secret Committee of the Honble. Court of Directors for the Affairs of the Honble. United East India Company.

" Gentlemen,

" 1. This accompanies a Duplicate of my Letter of the 24th April last.

" 2. Since that Date I have duly received the Duplicate and Triplicate of your Commands of the 28th August 1771.

" 3. The immediate Departure of the Colbrooke, which sailed (as I recollect) the Day after my Letter of the 24th April had reached her, prevented my giving you further Intelligence of the Issue of the Measures which I had taken for the Arrest of Mahmud Rezza Cawn. As your Commands were peremptory, and addressed to myself alone, I carefully concealed them from every Person, except Mr. Middleton, whose Assistance was necessary for their Execution, until I was informed by him that Mahmud Rezza Cawn was actually in Arrest, and on his Way to Calcutta. To have consulted the Board on a Point on which your authoritative Commands had left me without a Choice, or to have desired their Assistance when I had sufficient Power to act without it, would have been equally improper:—But I will confess that there were other cogent Reasons for this Reserve. I was yet but a Stranger to the Characters and Dispositions of the Members of your Administration.—I knew that Mahmud Rezza Cawn had enjoyed the Sovereignty of this Province for Seven Years past, had possessed an allowed annual Stipend of Nine Lacks of Rupees, the uncontroled Disposal of 32 Lacks entrusted to him for the Use of the Nabob, the absolute Command of every Branch of the Nizamut, and the Chief Authority in the Dewanee; to speak more plainly, he was in every Thing but the Name the Nazim of the Province, and in real Authority more than the Nazim. I could not suppose him so inattentive to his own Security, nor so ill versed in the Maxims of Eastern Policy, as to have neglected the Means of establishing an Interest with such of the Company's Agents as, by actual Authority or by Representation to the Honourable Company, might be able to promote or obstruct his Views;—I chose therefore, to avoid the Risk of an Opposition, to put the Matter beyond Dispute, and then to record what I had done. The same Reflections occurred to me when I proposed to entrust Mr. Middleton with the Execution of your Commands, which might with more Certainty have been effected by an Order to the Commanding Officer of the Brigade stationed at Burrampoor; but this would have been productive of much Disturbance. I was convinced that I might securely rely on Mr. Middleton, and his Behaviour justified that Confidence: Indeed I am bound in Justice to bear the same Testimony to his faithful Attention to your Interests in many other Instances which I have had Occasion to experience of his subsequent Conduct, in which he has shewn shewn himself a zealous Asserter of your Rights, and a Supporter of the Authority of your Government.

• Sic in Orig.

“ Your public Records will inform you, that Mahmud Rezza Cawn was brought, without Delay, to Calcutta, where he has been detained ever since in an easy Confinement: That it was judged adviseable and consistent with the Tenor of your Commands, that Rajah Shiteb Roy should be arrested and brought likewise to Calcutta. For the Particulars of these Transactions, and the Debates concerning them, I beg Leave to refer you to the Proceedings themselves, which will better explain, than I can, the Motives which influenced the Resolutions of the Board, and the Opinions of the different Members upon them. Something more may be necessary to be said concerning my own Conduct, which, as it was grounded solely on the secret Instructions which you had been pleased to give me for my Guidance, become a proper Subject of this Address.

“ It may, at first Sight, appear extraordinary, that Mahmud Rezza Cawn and Rajah Shiteb Roy have been so long detained in Confinement, without any Proof having been obtained of their Guilt, or Measures taken to bring them to a Trial. Very valid Reasons for this Delay have been assigned in our Minutes. I beg Leave to call to your Recollection, that by a strange Concurrence of unforeseen Causes, your Administration had, at this Time, every Object that could engage the Care of Government, War only excepted; all demanding their instant Attention,—the Settlement of the Revenue of Bengal; the Dismission of the Naib Dewan and Naib Subah of the Provinces; the Enquiry into his Conduct for a Course of Years preceding the Dismission of the Naib Dewan of Bahar, and Enquiry into his Conduct; the Establishment of the Dewannee on the Plan directed by the Honourable Company; the Arrangement of the Nabob's Household; the Reduction of his Allowance and Expences; the Establishment of a regular Administration of Justice throughout the Province; the Inspection and Reformation of the Offices at the Presidency; and independent of all these, the ordinary Duties of the Presidency, which, from the amazing Growth of your Affairs, were of themselves sufficient to occupy the whole Time and Application which we could bestow upon them, and even more than we could bestow, from the Want of a regular System, the natural Consequence of the Rapidity with which these Affairs have accumulated. So circumstanced, we were under an absolute Necessity to leave many Affairs suspended, that we might give due Dispatch to the Rest. The First in immediate Consequence claimed our immediate Regard. This was the Settlement of the Revenue. It was late in the Season; the Lands had suffered unheard of Depopulation by the Famine and Mortality of 1769. The Collections violently kept up to their former Standard had added to the Distress of the Country, and threatened a general Decay of the Revenue, unless immediate Remedies were applied to prevent it. The Farming System for a Course of Years, subjected to proper Checks and Regulations, seemed the most likely to afford Relief to the Country, and both to ascertain and produce the real Value of the Lands, without Violence to the Riats. It was therefore resolved, that this Business should first take Place; and it was deemed necessary for this Purpose, that a Committee composed of the Members of the Council should be appointed to carry it into Execution. The Arrangement of the Dewannee, and the Regulation of the Nabob's Household, were added to the Charge of the Committee; and as these comprehended the most valuable Parts of your Concerns, it was thought proper that I, as President, should be joined with it. This rendered it necessary to suspend the Trials of Mahmud Rizza Cawn and Rajah Shiteb Roy; and this Reason is assigned for it in our Minutes. Neither Mahmud Rizza Cawn, nor Rajah Shiteb Roy, complain of the Delay as a Hardship. Perhaps all Parties, as is usual in most Cases of a public Concern, had their secret Views, which, on this Occasion, though opposite in their Direction; fortunately concurred in the same Point. These had conceived Hopes of a Relaxation of the Company's Orders. Mahmud Rizza Cawn had even buoyed himself up with the Hopes of a Restoration to his former Authority by the Interest of his Friends, and a Change in the Direction; and his Letters, and the Letters of his Dewan to the City, declared these Expectations. I pretend not to enter into the Views of others. My own were these. Mahmud Rizza Cawn's Influence still prevailed generally throughout the Country. In the Nabob's Household, and at the Capital, it was scarce affected by his present Disgrace. His Favour was still courted, and his Anger dreaded. Who, under such Discouragements, would give Information or Evidence against him? His Agents and Creatures filled every Office of the Nizamut and Dewannee. How was the Truth of his Conduct to be investigated by these? It would be superfluous to add other Arguments to shew the Necessity of prefacing the Enquiry, by breaking his Influence, removing his Dependants, and putting the Direction of all the Affairs which had been committed to his Care, into the Hands of the most powerful or active of his Enemies. With this View too, the Institution of the new Dewannee * obviously coincided. These were my real Motives for postponing the Enquiry. Whether my Precautions will have their Effect, is yet a Question of Doubt.

“ 6. The same Principles guided me, though not uninfluenced by other Arguments of great Force, in the Choice of Munny Begum, the Widow of the Nabob Meer Jaffier, and of Rajah Goordas, the Son of Mahrajah Nund Comar; the former for the Chief Administration, the latter for the Dewannee of the Nabob's Household,—both the declared Enemies of Mahmud Rizza Cawn. To the latter indeed I was principally inclined by your Commands, and I hope it will appear that I have adopted almost the only Expedient in which they could be exactly fulfilled. You directed that: If the Assistance and Information of Nund Comar should be serviceable to me in

in my investigating the Conduct of Mahmud Rizza Cawn, I should yield him such Encouragement and Reward as his Trouble and the Extent of his Services may deserve.' There is no Doubt that Nund Comar is capable of affording me great Service by his Information and Advice; but it is on his Abilities, and on the Activity of his Ambition and Hatred to Mahmud Rizza Cawn, that I depend for investigating the Conduct of the latter; and, by eradicating his Influence, for confirming the Authority which you have assumed in the Administration of the Affairs of this Country. The Reward which has been assigned him will put it fully in his Power to answer these Expectations, and will be an Encouragement to him to exert all his Abilities for the Accomplishment of them. Had I not been guarded by the Caution which you have been pleased to enjoin me, yet my own Knowledge of the Character of Nund Comar would have restrained me from yielding him any Trust or Authority which could prove detrimental to the Company's Interest; he himself has no Trust or Authority but in the Ascendancy which he naturally possesses over his Son. An Attempt to abuse the Favour which has been shewn him cannot escape unnoticed, and if detected may ruin all his Hopes. The Son is of a Disposition very unlike his Father—placid, gentle, and without Disguise; from him there can be no Danger.

" 7. You will perceive, by the Records, that this Appointment has not taken Place without Opposition from a Majority of the Gentlemen who form the Committee now at this Place. I know not whether you will approve or disapprove of the Silence which I have observed with respect to your Orders in the Arguments which I have used in Support of my Recommendation: My Reason was, that I thought the Measure in itself so proper, that I did not doubt of its receiving the Confirmation of the Board at large; and unless some material Advantage could be gained by it, I did not think myself at Liberty to divulge your Secret Commands. I am at this Time most firmly persuaded that no other Measure whatever would have been likely to prove so effectual, either for promoting the Enquiry which you have directed, or giving Strength and Duration to the new System.

" 8. I hope I shall not appear to assume too much Importance, in speaking thus much of myself in Justification of the Motives which led me to this Recommendation; that I had no Connection with Nund Comar, or his Family, prior to the Receipt of your Letter by the Lapwing; that on the contrary, from the Year 1759 to the Time when I left Bengal in 1764, I was engaged in a continued Opposition to the Interests and Designs of that Man, because I judged them to be adverse to the Welfare of my Employers; and in the Course of this Contention I received sufficient Indications of his Ill-will to have made me his irreconcilable Enemy, if I could suffer my Passions to supersede the Duty which I owe to the Company. My Support of Nund Comar on the present Occasion could not therefore proceed from Partiality:—It will be as obvious that my Preference of him to other Competitors could not arise from interested Motives. I may be charged with Inconsistency, but the Reasons which I have urged in the Minutes of the Committee in Support of this Measure will, I trust, acquit me to my Honourable Employers; and if my Conduct shall stand the Test of their Judgement, it is a Point of Duty to bear with the Reproaches of the uninformed Part of the World. To the Service of the Company, and to your Commands, I have sacrificed my own Feelings (pardon the Presumption of this Repetition); and I have combated those of others joined with me in the Administration of your Affairs. I claim your Approbation of what I have done, not as a Recompence of Integrity, but as the Confirmation of the Authority which you have been pleased to confide in me, and of your own which is involved in it.

" 9. I, with Pleasure, do Justice to the Committee, in declaring, that, strenuously as they opposed the Measure while it was a Point of Debate, it had no sooner received the Sanction of your Council, than they all concurred with me in supporting both that and the other Resolutions which were connected with it, as steadily as if they had never dissented from it.

" 10. The Appointment of Munnee Begum, I believe, will require no Apology: It was unanimously approved, and if I can be a Judge of the public Opinion, it is a Measure of general Satisfaction.

" 11. The only Man who could pretend to such a Trust was the Nabob Yeterám o'Dowla, the Brother of Meer Jaffier, a Man indeed of no dangerous Abilities nor apparent Ambition, but the Father of a numerous Family; who, by his being brought so nigh to the Musnud, would have acquired a Right of Inheritance to the Subahship, and if only One of his Sons, who are all in the Prime of Life, should have raised his Hopes to the Succession, it would have been in his Power at any Time to remove the single Obstacle which the Nabob's Life opposed to the Advancement of the Family; the Guardian, at least, would have been the Nazim while the Minority lasted, and all the Advantages which the Company may hope to derive from it in the Confirmation of their Power, would have been lost, or could only have been maintained by a Contention hurtful to their Rights, or by a Violence yet more exceptionable. The Case would be much the same, were any other Man placed in that Station. The Truth is, that the Affairs of the Company stand at present on a Footing which can neither last as it is, nor be maintained on the rigid Principles of private Justice. You must establish your own Power, or you must hold it dependant on a Superior, which I deem to be impossible.]

" 12. The Begum, as a Woman, is incapable of passing the Bounds assigned her; her Ambition cannot aspire to higher Dignity; she has no Children to provide for, or mislead her Fidelity; her her actual Authority rests on the Nabob's Life, and therefore cannot endanger it; it must cease with his Minority, when she must depend absolutely on the Company for Support against her Ward and Pupil, who will then become her Master; of Course her Interest must lead her to concur with all the Designs of the Company, and to solicit their Patronage. I have the Pleasure to add, that in the Exercise of her Office, she has already shewn herself amply qualified for it, by her Discernment, Economy, and a patient Attention to Affairs.

" 13. In the Execution of your Commands of the 8th May 1771, I hope I shall not appear to you to have been guilty of Remissness. The Enquiry therein directed, I have been obliged to entrust to the previous Consideration of a Committee, the many weightier Affairs of your Government rendering it absolutely impossible for me to enter on a Scrutiny of that Nature myself, which, however, I mean to take up as soon as I conveniently can, after my Return to the Presidency.

" I have the Honour to be,
Gentlemen,

Your most obedient and faithful Servant,

" Warren Hastings."

To shew that the Court of Directors approved of all the above Arrangements, and in particular of the Appointment of Munnee Begum,

Read, from Book 176, the following Letter from the Court of Directors to the Governor General, dated 16th April 1773.

" Warren Hastings Esquire, our President and Governor of Bengal.

" 1. We have received, by the Nottingham, your Letter addressed to our Secret Committee, dated at Cossimbuzar the 1st September 1772, informing us of the Measures you had adopted for carrying into Execution the Orders of the Secret Committee, dated 28th August 1771, and of the Arrangements and Regulations which you deemed necessary for the Public Peace and Welfare of the Provinces; and although the Public Records to which you refer us are not come to hand, we assure you, that so far as we are enabled to judge of your Proceedings by your own Letter, and by that * our Council, received by the same Conveyance, they appear to us in the most favourable Light, the Steps you have taken judicious, and, indeed, the whole of your Conduct seems to have fully justified the Choice of the Secret Committee who entrusted to your Management the Execution of a Plan of the utmost Importance.

" 2. We have been long sensible of the utter Impropriety of lodging an absolute Power in the Hands of Mahomed Reza Cawn, but the Remedy was not without its Difficulties; we trust the Evil is on the Point of being eradicated. Inconveniencies generally attend great and sudden Alterations, but we dare * that your Agency will render them as few, as temporary, and as light as possible.

" 3. Although you will observe that sundry Changes have lately taken place in the Direction of the Company's Affairs at Home, those Changes will not in the least affect the Measures in which you are engaged; on the contrary, we take this early Opportunity, not only for testifying our entire Approbation of your Conduct, but of assuring you of our firmest Support in accomplishing the Work you have so successfully commenced; and we doubt not but it will issue in the Deliverance of Bengal from Oppression; in the Establishment of our Credit, Influence, and Interest in India; and consequently in every Advantage which the Company or the Nation may justly expect from so important a Transaction.

" 4. As you have distinctly marked in your Letter those Objects of Enquiry and Regulation which we should otherwise have pointed out to you, we assure ourselves that you will prosecute your Enquiries with Steadiness, Impartiality, and to full Effect, notwithstanding the many Difficulties and Temptations which we are sensible may be thrown in the Way of Persons engaged in Enquiries of this Nature, in order to weaken their Zeal for the Public Good, and to render their Endeavours ineffectual for the great Purposes of Reformation.

" 5. Your Attention to the Settlement of the Revenues as a primary Object has our entire Approbation; and it is with the utmost Satisfaction we observe that the farming System will be generally adopted, more especially as the Researches and Discoveries made in the Two preceding Years must have nearly ascertained the Value and Produce of the Lands, so that Impositions on the Part of the Farmers respecting the Value of the Lands, and Oppression of the Tenants, may, we hope, be easily avoided.

" 6. The Extirpation of Mahmud Reza Khan's Influence was absolutely necessary, and the Apprehending of Shitabroy equally so, as the latter had been too long connected with Mahmud Reza Khan to be independant of him; but if that had not been the Case, it would have been absurd to continue a Naib Dewan in the Province of Bahar after abolishing that Office in Bengal: And as to any Hopes which Mahmud Reza Khan may entertain of profiting by Changes in the Court of Directors, those Hopes must speedily vanish; for however different their Sentiments may be in some Particulars, they heartily concur in the Propriety and Necessity of setting him aside, and of putting the Administration of the Company's Affairs in the Hands of Persons who may be rendered responsible in England for their Conduct in India.

and

" 7. Your Choice of the Begum for Guardian to the Nabob we entirely approve. The Use you intend making of Nundcomar is very proper; and it affords us great Satisfaction to find that you could at once determine to suppress all personal Resentment when the public Welfare seemed to clash with your private Sentiments relative to Nundcomar.

" 8. We observe with great Pleasure the Testimonial given by you of Mr. Middleton; you will assure him of our entire Approbation of his Conduct on this Occasion; and as the Committee have concurred heartily in supporting a Measure which in the Course of Debate the Majority had strenuously opposed, we cannot be dissatisfied with their Conduct, unless the Perusal of their Debates should oblige us to alter our Opinion respecting them.

" 9. As the Shortness of our Time will not permit us to be more particular, we can only repeat to you our Assurances of Protection and Support in carrying into full Execution the Arrangements you have so happily begun; and as we desire particularly that you will distinguish and encourage Merit wherever you find it, so do we most strictly conjure you not to suffer Rank, Station, or any Connexion or Consideration whatever, to deter you from bringing every Oppression to Light, and every Offender, Native or European, to condign Punishment.

" 10. If the Abolition of the Office of Naib Dewan, and stepping forth as Principals, should in any Degree alarm your European Neighbours, we rely on your Prudence for removing every improper Jealousy that may be entertained on this Account.

" 11. Notwithstanding this Letter is signed by us, the Court of Directors, we mean it as a Secret, and transmit it confidentially to you only; and we leave it to your Discretion to lay the Contents, or any Part thereof, before the Council, if Circumstances should in your Opinion render it necessary, or if you should judge it for our Interest so to do, and not otherwise.

" We are,

Your loving Friends,

Answer by the Preſident.

“ To Muñee Begum.

“ Some Time ago I received by the Hands of Raja Goordafs a Paper containing the following Requiſitions:

“ 1ſt. That ſeveral Officers make a Stand at the Settlement of their Accounts to the Loſs of the Sircar.

“ 2dly. That a few Servants whom you know nothing of receive their Salaries through each other, which is the Cauſe of a Loſs.

“ 3dly. That the Diſmiſſion of the Officers of the Sheriſhta Nizamut be under your Direction.

“ 4thly. That, as formerly, the Khafs Talucks and the Fouzedarry of the City be attached to the Nizamut, and the Malguzary made through you.

“ 5thly. That Complaints againſt the Dependants of the Sheriſhta Nizamut and Bhaleer be not heard by the Council Adalut; but that the ſettling of the Affairs of Plaintiff and Defendant may reſt with you.

“ And to these Requisitions you desire that the Gentlemen of the Committee may affix their Signatures.

“ I have consulted with the Committee upon these Articles, and I request that you will receive this as a Reply to them, in their Names and my own.

“ You are undoubtedly the Mistress to confirm, dismiss, and appoint whomever you shall think fit in the Service and Offices of the Nizamut; they are accountable to you alone for their Conduct, and no one shall interfere between you and them. Although I know that you in this Point have no View or Desire but what is entirely consistent with the Regard which you bear the Company, and the Continuance of that cordial Union and Connection of Interests which prevail between the House of the Nabob and the Company, which, by the Blessing of God, have taken stronger Root than ever since the Administration of the Affairs of the Nizamut hath been happily placed in your Hands; yet in a Writing of this Kind it is necessary that every Thing be clearly expressed, and therefore I beg Leave to remark, that as the Dewan and Pashker have received their Offices at the immediate Instance and Recommendation of the Company, it will be a Diminution of their Credit, and bear the Appearance of a Difference of Interest between us, if these Officers are removed but by the Concurrence of this Government. (a)]

“ With respect to the Khafs Talucks and the Foujdarry, the Emoluments of the Mahals have hitherto principally arisen from Fines and other Articles of the Bazy Jumma, which have been always complained of as a Source of great Oppression to the People;—for their Ease the Company have thought proper to abolish these Collections. In Conformity to their Sentiments therefore what remains of the Khafs Taluck was let out to farm a considerable Time before your Desire in that Particular was known; and the judicial Office of the Foujdarry has been annexed by a new Bundabust to the Court of Adaulut, so that nothing now remains of it but the Name; which, according to your Intimation, will continue to Meer Easif Allah Cawn; and in Lieu of the Profits annexed to the Office, I have proposed the Addition of 600 Rupees per Month to 400 which he already receives from the Nizamut, in the List of the Shigherdispecha which has been prepared and submitted to you for Confirmation.

“ As Two Courts of Adaulut have been formed at the City of Moorhedabad, for the Decision of all Disputes of Property, and for the Punishment of all Offenders; and as the Welfare and Dignity of every Governor depend on a due and equal Administration of Justice, without Distinction of Rank or Patronage, I hope you will consent that the Servants of the Sircar shall be so far amenable to these Courts, that they shall, when summoned, be made to appear before them, and to submit to a legal Examination; that if they shall be found innocent of the Charge alledged against them, they may be forthwith discharged; but if guilty, they may be sent to you with a Copy of the Sentence and Judgement of the Court, and the Execution thereof referred to your Orders.

“ By this Accommodation the Authority of the Courts will be maintained, and the Dignity of the Nizamut suffer no Diminution.

“ I shall be happy if the Determination of the Company upon the above Matters shall meet with your Approbation: I have been guided in them entirely by the Desire to support the Dignity and Interests of both the Sircar of the Nabob and of the Company, which are so mutually blended that they cannot be separated. I beg to be favoured with your further Sentiments upon them.

“ A true Copy.

“ Agreed, we address the following Letter to the Council of Calcutta.

“ To William Aldersey Esquire, &c. Gentlemen of Council, at Fort William.

“ Gentlemen,

“ It is with great Satisfaction we can now acquaint you, that we have finished the Business assigned to us at this Place. You have been duly advised, from Time to Time, of the general Line of our Proceedings; and the various Minutes transmitted to your Approbation upon the occasional Business of the Committee, leave no further Intelligence immediately wanting on these Heads. What is chiefly left for your Information at this Day, is the Settlement of the Revenues, for which we beg Leave to refer you to our Proceedings at large, which our Secretary will lay before you in a few Days: In the mean Time it may suffice to inform you, that we have concluded the Settlement of the Western Division of Rajeshahee and the other Huzzoor Zelas, and also of the Eastern Division of Rajeshahee, upon the best Footing that Times and Circumstances would admit of, and as such they will be submitted to your Approval.

" We have also to advise you, that for rendering more compleat the Establishment of the new Collectorships, and for affording Mr. Middleton the proper Assistance in the Departments committed to his Charge, we have thought fit, under your Confirmation, to make the following Appointments.

" List of Assistants in Proceeding of the 5th instant.
" List of Dewans in D<sup>o</sup> — 7th D<sup>o</sup>.

" It is further, with no small Satisfaction, that we can inform you of our having compleated the arduous and disagreeable Task of a Reduction of the Nabob's Expences, and new Arrangement of his Household. In this we have endeavoured to proceed on a Plan of Equity and Economy, which we flatter ourselves will have the most happy Effect. The Particulars of the Establishments will be found in our Proceedings. We will only for the present say, that Lists of Servants, Officers, and Dependants of each Office of the Nizamut, have been fixed, and the Number and Charge reduced considerably within the Bounds of the Nabob's present annual Stipend. A Monthly Sum has also been settled for the Expences of each Department, which is, on no Account, to be exceeded.

" With respect to the Allowance of the Begum and the Dewan, we thought we could not be guided by a better Rule than that which our Honourable Masters have been pleased to prescribe on the Subject of the ostensible Minister which they mention for the Nabob's Affairs; as, in Fact, the Begum, the Dewan, and the Roy Royan of the Khalfah, stand in the Room of this Minister, we thought the Sum of Three Lacks allowed for him, would be properly divided among the Three; and we have settled it in the following Proportions :

|-----------------------------------------------------|---|-----------------|
| " To the Munnee Begum                               | — | Rupees 1,40,000 |
| " To Rajah Goordals Dewan, for himself and Officers | — | 1,00,000        |
| " To Rajah Rajobullub, Roy Royan of the Khalfah     | — | 60,000          |
|                                                     |   | <hr/>           |
|                                                     |   | Rupees 3,00,000 |

" As to the last we have to remark, that in his Share we had an Eye to his own Pretensions from the Company, independent of the Office. We should have esteemed a smaller Salary a competent Allowance for the Office of Roy Royan; but when we considered the great Claims he has in his Father's Services to the Company, the high Rank he has to support, the numerous Family that depend for Subsistence upon him, and the prodigious Reduction his Income has sustained in the falling in of his Father's Pension, we judged this a fit Occasion to shew the Generosity of the Company in the Division of the Three Lacks, without drawing it into a Precedent, or loading them with additional Expences *

Then the Counsel for the Defendant informed the House, that the Managers for the Commons having stated (a) as a negative Presumption of Fraud in the Defendant, that " he never informed the Directors in the whole Course of his Correspondence that the Nabob Mobarik ul Dowlah had a Mother existing," they begged Leave to refer to a Letter from Mahomed Reza Cawn, which states the Existence of the Mother of the Nabob; and also to a Letter from the Begum Bebu herself; both already given in Evidence (b) by the Managers for the Commons: And they would next examine Mr. Hudson to prove that the above-mentioned Letters were transmitted to the Court of Directors.

Then the Witness was asked,

Q. At what Time was the Letter from Mahomed Reza Cawn of May 22d 1771, and the Letter from the Begum Bebu of June 15th 1771, both which Letters appear upon the printed Minutes of Evidence, Page 977, transmitted to the Court of Directors?

But the Book not being at Hand, the Counsel for the Defendant informed the House they would postpone the said Examination for the present.

(a) Vide supra, Page 977.

(b) Vide supra, ibid.

The Counsel for the Defendant stated they would next proceed to shew on what Grounds the Salary of Mr. Croftes was encreased on the Motion of Mr. Barwell ; for which Purpose they would read a Consultation of the 6th December 1776, of which the Managers for the Commons had given an Extract only in Evidence, tending to shew only the Fact of the Increase of Salary, and omitting the Rest of the Consultation which sets forth the Reasons for making such Increase.

Read, from Book 187, already delivered in, the following Revenue Consultation of the 6th December 1776, beginning at Page 203 of the same Book.

“ Fort William, the 6th December 1776.

“ At a Council ; Present,

The Honble. Warren Hastings Esquire, Governor General, President ;

Richard Barwell Esquire.

Lieutenant General Clavering indisposed.

Mr. Francis indisposed.

[“ (a) Reconsidered Mr. Charles Croftes's Letter of the 23d December 1774, and entered on the Proceedings of the 15th August 1775.]

“ Mr. Barwell.—Mr. Croftes having been appointed by the Court of Directors Assistant to the Controuling Council of Revenue at Moorshedabad, and recommended by them as a proper Person to have Charge of the Accounts, he was appointed to that Council, and remained there till it was dissolved in 1772, when he received the following Recommendation from them to the Governor and Council in Calcutta.

“ Extract of a Letter from the Chief and Council of Revenue at Moorshedabad to the Honble. the President and Council of Fort William, dated the 8th September 1772.

“ The Regularity and unwearied Attention which has constantly been displayed by Mr. Croftes in his Office of Accountant to the Dewannee, as well as in modelling the General Books, which have been established in that Department, upon an uniform clear and comprehensive Plan, as in expediting the Business of Accounts appertaining to the Revenue Branch in all its subordinate Articles have ever yielded us the utmost Satisfaction ; in Justice, therefore, to his Abilities, and a Conduct so truly deserving of Commendation and Applause, we cannot omit this public Testimony of our Approbation, not doubting but the same Motives which influenced us thus particularly to point him out to your Notice, will operate equally forcibly in his Favour with you, and induce you to bestow upon him that Countenance and Protection which we have ever considered due to his distinguished Merit.”

“ Having fulfilled the Duties of his former Station to the Satisfaction of his Superiors, it was thought proper, when the Revenue Department was removed to Calcutta, to appoint him Accountant General to this Department, as appears from the following Extract from the General Plan for establishing the Khalsa in Calcutta :

“ That it be recommended to the Board to confer this Office on Mr. Charles Croftes, the present Accountant of the Board of Revenue, whose Diligence and Practice in that Business, and the particular Instructions of the Honourable the Court of Directors, justly entitle him to that important Charge.”

“ After he had remained in this Employment for some Time the Governor and Council were pleased to honour him with the following Recommendation to the Court of Directors.

“ Extract of the General Letter from the Honble. the President and Council of Revenue at Fort William, to the Honble. the Court of Directors, dated the 5th January, 1773.

“ In this Place we beg Leave to refer you to the particular Recommendation made by the late Council of Revenue at Moorshedabad, in their Proceeding of the 8th September last in Favour of Mr. Charles Croftes, the Accountant to that Department, who is now employed as our Accountant General to the Dewannee, and from whose Services and diligent Attention to his Business, we hope to have the Accounts of your Revenues perfectly balanced in an uniform and regular Manner at the Expiration of every Season.

“ He continued in this Station till his Health was so much impaired that he was no longer able to attend the Duties of so laborious an Office, and a Change of Air became absolutely necessary. There was at that Time no other Appointment at the Subordinate vacant, except that of Accountant to the Burdwan Council, to which he was in Expectation of succeeding to a Seat in that Council on the first Vacancy ; but his Health amending he was induced to solicit the Permission of the Board to remain in his Station at the Presidency. He received this Permission as appears from the following Minute.

"The President begs Leave to acquaint the Board, that Mr. Charles Croftes, at the Time he solicited and obtained the Appointment of Accomptant to the Burdwan Provincial Division, laboured under a very severe Fit of an Indisposition, of which he had before had repeated Attacks; that this Circumstance in a Manner incapacitating him for Business, rendered him anxious to procure a Change of Air and Situation; but that having since perfectly recovered his Health, he is now desirous, with the Board's Approbation, of continuing to execute those Offices at the Presidency which they did him so much Honour in appointing him to at so early a Period of his Service. From the great Regularity and Assiduity which Mr. Croftes has hitherto testified in the Discharge of his Duty, the President doubts not the Board will readily consent to indulge Mr. Croftes in the Request which he makes."

"Agreed, that Mr. Croftes be permitted to continue in his present Offices, and that Mr. Fleetwood be appointed Accomptant at Burdwan."

"In 1774, Mr. Croftes had the Satisfaction to see his Labours noticed in a very distinguished Manner with the Approbation of the Court of Directors, in their General Letter of the 30th March 1774.

"Extract from General Letter from the Court of Directors, dated 30th March, 1774.

"The great Importance of our Revenue Accounts, and the Expediency of the most accurate Information that can be transmitted to us relative thereto, are Matters that we have so frequently dwelt upon, that it is with singular Pleasure we find the last Advices from your Presidency have furnished us with a clearer State of the Revenues of the Bengal Province than had been hitherto sent us, and we are glad to give this Testimony to the Ability and Assiduity of Mr. Charles Croftes, who has so well exerted himself in this Department.

"On inspecting the several Books that contain the Transactions of that Part of our Revenues, the several Accounts seem to be arranged with great Propriety and Perspicuity in the general State thereof, set forth in the Muxadavad Journal and Ledger, ending April 1772, received per Prince of Wales, and which are accompanied by the separate Accounts received from the Supervisors, which state, with great Precision, the several Charges;—we therefore, with Pleasure, express our Approbation of the Punctuality of Mr. Croftes in forwarding these last to us, as we are sensible the Adjustment of these must have been attended with considerable Trouble, and as they are the first Accounts of the Kind that we have received from any of the Districts.

"The Abstract of the Settlement of the Revenues of the Bengal Province for the Year 1773, and the Settlement of Demands, Receipts, and Balances of the same, received per Hector, exhibit in a clear and concise Manner the State of these Revenues, and appear to be drawn up with that Perspicuity and Accuracy that merit the Commendation we have already given Mr. Croftes, as a careful and able Accomptant; we therefore, in a particular Manner, recommend him to your favorable Attention."

"These Honourable Marks of the Approbation of the Court of Directors, and the strong Terms in which they have been pleased to recommend him to the Notice of the Governor General and Council, gave him every Reason to hope that they would be attended with some Advantages to him. He wished not to ask for any Thing but what he conceived he had Pretensions to. His Salary was in no Shape adequate either to the Importance, Responsibility, or Labour of his Offices. He conceived that a Request to grant him an Increase thereto, would not be deemed unreasonable, and with the Consent of the Members of the Administration, he addressed the Board in December 1774.

"Upon these Grounds [(a) I move, that the Office of Accomptant General be put on the same Footing as the Superintendent of the Khalsa Records, and that Mr. Croftes be allowed to draw henceforward the same Salary and House Rent as is drawn by the Superintendent of the Khalsa. Governor General.—I agree.

"Resolved, That the Office of Accomptant General be put on the same Footing as the Superintendent of the Khalsa Records, and that Mr. Croftes be allowed to draw henceforward the same Salary and House Rent as is drawn by the Superintendent.]

"[(b) Governor General.—Among the different Materials which will come before the Board for their Guidance in forming the ensuing Settlement, the accurate and distinct Accounts which are kept in the Office of the Accomptant General to the Revenue will form a considerable Part. These will require to be compared and elucidated with the Accounts which may be procured from the Districts. In this Branch of the Business, I am desirous of obviating the Inconveniencies of frequent and formal Applications for Papers to the Accountant's Office. I wish also to benefit by the Abilities and Knowledge of Mr. Croftes, which have been honoured with repeated Testimonies of the Company's Approbation, and from which, since the Removal of the Khalsa, I have derived essential Assistance; and I therefore propose that the Accomptant General to the Revenue Department be joined to the Gentlemen already appointed to prepare and arrange the Materials for a new Settlement, for the special Purpose of assisting in forming such Accounts as have a Reference to the Offices now under his Charge, and for the general Conduct of the Detail of the New Office, so far as his other Duties will permit.

(Signed) "Warren Hastings."

"Agreed, That the Accomptant General be accordingly joined to Messrs. Anderson and Bogle for the Purposes mentioned in the Governor General's Minute.

"The General delivers in the following Minute on the Resolution of the Board the 6th Instant to encrease the Salary of the Accountant General of this Department.

"It is always an invidious Task for a Member of the Council who is desirous of strictly discharging the Duties of his Station, to be under the Necessity of refusing his Assent to Propositions which are made to the Board for the Benefit of any of the Servants of the Company for whom he may entertain a Regard. The Proposal for augmenting Mr. Croftes's Salary to 1,200 Rupees per Month stands with respect to me in that Predicament. I must either depart from an Opinion which I have given on a similar Case, or incur the Odium of refusing to do Justice to the Merit of a Person which I should be glad to acknowledge in any Way that is not inconsistent with the Principles I have laid down for the Guidance of my Public Conduct. Had the Company been pleased to have left nothing to my Discretion on this Subject, I should have considered my Situation as more eligible, but compelled to decide I cannot give my Vote against my Opinion. I do not approve, nor do I think the Company will do it, of fixing Salaries by the Mode of comparing Employments held by Servants in the first Rank with others which are filled by Servants that are in the lowest Ranks.

General
Clavering.

"It appears from Mr. Barwell's Minute of 28th December 1774, that he approved of giving Mr. Elliot 1,200 Rupees per Month, because the Office that was intended for him was as important as any of the Chiefs of the Subordinates.

"Having fixed the Salary of that Office very high, he now thinks that the Accountant General should be put on the same Footing in every Respect.

"We ought to consider that the Salary of 1,200 Rupees per Month enjoyed by the Chiefs of Subordinates was even made a Standard by the Court of Directors for fixing the Salaries of the late Members of the Council who were Chiefs of Subordinates. Is then no Difference to be made between those who were at that Time the first in this Government and a Servant who is only a Factor? I believe Mr. Croftes is yet no more than a Factor any more than Mr. Bogle who has obtained the same Salary.

"It is therefore neither with a View to depreciate from the Merits of Mr. Croftes, nor to under-rate the Importance of his Employment, that I do not agree to augment his Salary to the Amount of 1,200 Rupees per Month, but to be consistent with myself. When the Office of Superintendent of the Khalsa Records was proposed, understanding from the Governor General's Introductory Minute that it was intended to be given to a Senior Merchant, I consented to the Allowance of 1,200 Rupees, but afterwards I objected to that Sum when I understood that the Office was to be held by a very Junior Servant, although I was as well inclined towards Mr. Elliot as any Member of the Board was, yet I would not allow my Inclinations to bias my Judgement, or give Room to the Court of Directors to think that the Post was expressly created for the Man.

"On the Appointment which has been lately made of Messrs. Anderson and Bogle, with Salaries of 1,200 Rupees per Month, by only the Governor General's casting Vote, it is worthy of Remark, how much the Governor General's Scruples are overcome since the Period of Mr. Elliot's Appointment, in respect to the Responsibility with which he thought himself charged for making so large an Allowance at that Time to any inferior Office, the Question whether Mr. Elliot was to have that Salary having been carried in the Affirmative by Colonel Monson concurring in it because he alledged that it was recommended from the Chair. The Governor General alarmed with this Acquiescence to his own Proposition desired Leave to have the Subject reconsidered: The Reasons he gave were, he thought the Amount of all Salaries or Emoluments to new-erected Offices ought, if possible, to pass with the unanimous Concurrence of the Board. Mr. Bogle and Mr. Anderson's Appointments have have however, as I said before, been carried by his double Vote without any Scruples at all, as well as that of Gunga Govind Sing, their Chief, 1,700 Rupees per Month.

Letter from
Mr. Croftes.

" To the Honble. Warren Hastings Esq. Governor General, and Council of Fort William.

" Honble. Sir and Gentlemen,

" I have been honoured with your Commands through your Secretary, informing me of the Increase you have been pleased to grant in my Salary, to putting my Office upon the same Footing as that of the Superintendant of the Khalsa Records. This Mark of your Favour, and Approbation of my Services, is more pleasing in the Honour, than Profit I acquire by it, and claims my warmest and sincerest Acknowledgement.

" If at the same Time I am testifying my Gratitude for one Benefit, I request a further Extension of your Favour, I hope it will not be deemed an Intrusion upon your Benevolence, but rather a Reference to your Candour and Justice in deciding upon the Indulgence I solicit for,—Arrears since the Month of December 1774.

" The Reason that then urged me to ask this Favour, was because the small Stipend I drew was in no Shape adequate to the Expences of residing at the Presidency.

" Although my Charges have by far exceeded my Allowances, and thereby considerably encroached upon my private Fortune, I deemed it highly improper to importune your Honorable Board by reminding you of my Request, convinced that if your more weighty Considerations made you postpone the Decision of it, you would not suffer me to be a Loser by the Delay, and I hope you will not think it unreasonable to allow me Half Pay from the above Date of December 1774 to the present Time; flattering myself, that the same Motives which have now induced you to grant me an Encrease, must have subsisted in equal Force at the Period of my first Application.

" I have the Honour to be,

Accompt. Gen. to the Rev. Department."

" Governor General's Opinion.

" The Governor General is of Opinion, that Mr. Croftes's Request for Arrears should be granted. The frequent Recommendations that have been sent Home of Mr. Croftes from hence, the favourable Reception those Recommendations have met with from the Court of Directors, and the strong Manner which they have pointed him out to the Attention of this Government, justly entitle him to a Reward for his past Services. The very small Salary he has hitherto enjoyed for discharging the Duties of a very laborious Office has certainly been in no Shape adequate to the Expence every Person may necessarily incur for a Subsistence in this Country. The Court of Directors have, in more Instances than one, given a negative Approbation to Rewards conferred on those who have distinguished themselves in their Service. The Formalities which are necessary in the Grants of Pensions and Allowances from Home, may possibly have prevented the Court of Directors from giving their direct Sanction to an Encrease of Mr. Croftes's Appointments, and induced them to recommend him to this Board, in almost the same Terms as those in which Mr. Croftes had before been recommended to them; they have themselves pointed out the Difficulty they labour under in this Respect in the Eighty-seventh Paragraph of their General Letter of the 3d of March 1775, where they mention a Bye Law which restrains them from granting a larger Salary than One Hundred Pounds per Annum.

" It

" It therefore rests with the Board to make Mr. Croftes some Amends for his past Labours, and this in Effect is required by the Court of Directors in their General Letter of the 30th March 1774, who have so particularly recommended him as a Person worthy of Encouragement, which cannot mean that he should be taken out of an Office in which his Services have been found so useful for one less suited to his Abilities but more profitable; it can therefore only intend that the Office itself should be made more profitable to him by Addition to its Emoluments.

" For the above Reasons, the Governor General gives it as his Opinion, that he should receive his Arrears at the Rate of Sicca Rupees Six hundred and twelve per Month from the Time of his first Application, the 4th December 1774, to the 6th December 1776, the Day he received the Increase; that is to say, that the Difference between his late Pay and Allowances, and the Allowances lately granted be made good to him for the following Periods:

|                                                  |                                            |   |                                      |
|--------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|---|--------------------------------------|
| " His last Allowance was as follows:             |                                            |   |                                      |

And that a conditional Bond for the Amount of his Arrears be granted to him from 6th December 1776, bearing Interest at the Rate of 5 per Cent. per Annum, payable on the 1st Day of August 1778, in case the Payment of it should not be forbidden before that Time by the Court of Directors.

" Mr. Francis—I acquiesce in the Governor's Motion.

" General Clavering—Upon the Principles on which I objected to the Increase of Mr. Croftes's Salary, to the Amount of the Superintendant of the Khalsa Records; I am sorry to be obliged to object to the Propositions now made.

“ To the Honourable Warren Hastings, Governor General, &c. Council of Revenue.

“ Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

“ I should think myself very deficient in Gratitude, were I not to express to you the high Sense I entertain of the distinguished Honour the Honble. the Court of Directors have been pleased to confer upon me in their Letter of the 30th March 1774, an Extract of which hath been communicated to me by your Orders. The Court of Directors have been pleased to make much more favourable mention of my Services than they deserve. It was nothing more than my Duty to exert myself in the Department in which I have been employed, and the Task was rendered less arduous under the Controul and Direction of so able and active a Superintendance. The distinguished Approbation of my Conduct from the Honourable the Court of Directors must be the greatest Encouragement to me to continue to exert myself in their Service, and the Length of Time that I have been employed as their Accomptant in the Revenue Department, makes me flatter myself that I should be able to acquit myself more to their Satisfaction in that Capacity than in any other. I shall therefore with Pleasure and Alacrity devote my whole Time and Attention to this Branch of their Affairs, and look for the Reward of my Endeavours in Prospect, when Time and Circumstances will admit of my being promoted to a Station of higher Importance and Advantage. But as the Court of Directors have been pleased to recommend me to your favourable Attention, I hope, Gentlemen, it will not be thought unbecoming in me, to represent to you in the Interim the heavy Expence I must indispensably incur by being obliged to reside at the Presidency, and that in Spite of the most rigid Economy my present Pay and Gratuity are in no Sense adequate thereto; my whole Time being taken up with public Business, I have little or none left to attend to other Concerns, which to others make a Residence at the Presidency less heavy and burthen-some.

“ I therefore humbly request that you will be pleased to allow my Case your favourable Consideration, and in lieu of my present Pay and Gratuity, to appoint me a Salary more adequate to my unavoidable Expences, and to the known Labour of a Post not attended with a single lucrative Emolument.

“ I have the Honour, &c.

The Counsel for the Defendant stated, they would next proceed to prove that 1,000 Rupees per Day were allowed by the Company to the Nabob of Bengal, during his Residence at Calcutta, for Entertainments; for which Purpose they desired Mr. Wright might be again called in.

Accordingly Mr. WRIGHT was again called in, and produced a Book, intituled, " Bengal Cash Accounts for the Year 1768," and was examined as follows:

Then the Witness produced another Book, intituled, " Bengal Cash Account for the Year 1769;" and proceeded to state as follows:

" 26th October 1769. By Durbar Charges paid to the Nabob Syf ul Dowlah, for his Expences from the 27th September to the 31st October, 35 Days, at 1,000 Sicca Rupees per Diem, is 35,000 Sicca Rupees.—Current Rupees 40,600.

" 8th November 1769. By Durbar Charges paid to the Nabob Syf ul Dowlah, for his Expences from the 1st to the 25th October, 25 Days, at 1,000 Sicca Rupees per Diem.—25,000 Sicca Rupees, or 29,000 Current Rupees.

Then the Witness produced another Book, intituled, " Bengal Journal, February 1770."

The Witness stated from Page 193 of the same, as follows:

" By Durbar Charges paid to the Nabob Syf ul ul Dowlah, for his Expences from the 1st to the 12th January, at Sicca Rupees 1,000 per Diem.—Current Rupees 13,920.

Q. Who was Governor in the Years 1768 and 1769?

A. Mr. Verelst in the Year 1768 and 1769, and signed the Cash Accounts, except for December 1769, which is signed by Mr. Cartier.

Q. Do you find in any of these Entries, any Allowances made by the Nabob to any English Governor, to Governor Verelst, or to any other English Governor?

A. I have not examined the Accounts with a View to ascertain that Circumstance; speaking from Recollection, I think there is no such Thing.

Q. Whether this was at a Period of Time in which Covenants were made, that the Company's Servants should not take any Emolument from any of the Country Powers, above a certain Sum?

A. I believe it was.

Q. Do you find any Orders against giving to the Country Powers any Money?

A. I do not recollect whether there are any such Orders, or not.

Q. Whether a Governor, from the best Observations of this Book, who received Money which he was not allowed by his Covenant, must not have received it fraudulently?

The Question was objected to by the Counsel for the Defendant.

Q. Whether or not all fair and open Receipts of a Governor are not entered upon that Book,—whether allowable Receipts are not entered upon that Book?

The Question was objected to by the Counsel for the Defendant.

Q. The Question is, as to the allowable Receipts from the Country Powers?

The Question was objected to.

Q. (by a Lord). What is the Nature of the Book you have in your Hands?

A. The Two first Books are the Cash Accounts kept by the Governor for the Time being, who was also Cash-keeper—the last Book, the Bengal Journal, is framed by the Accountant of Bengal, from the Disbursements and Receipts of every Officer who has a Cash Account with the Company.

Q. (by Managers). Is there not an Article called Durbar Charges in that Account?

A. The Entries I have read are under that Head.

Q. What is the Meaning of the Words, “Charges Durbar.”

A. I do not think myself quite able to describe the Meaning; but from the Observations that I have made, I suppose it to be the Expences of the Governor in regard to the Native Princes and some others.

Q. Ought not the Receipts on the Part of the Governor, as well as his Payments, to be there entered?

The Question was objected to.

Q. Is that the Book in which his Receipts are entered?

A. Certainly.

Q. What Receipts?

A. To enable the Governor to make these Disbursements of the Charges Durbar, and others, made by him as Cash-keeper, the one Side states the monthly Receipts by the Governor for those Purposes.

Q. Do you find in that Receipt, any Entry of a Receipt by the Governor for his Expences at any foreign Court—at the Court of any of the Country Powers?

A. There is no such Entry in these Books.

Q. Do you know of any other Accounts, in any other Period before the Government of Mr. Hastings, in which there is such an Entry?

A. I do not remember any Receipts of that Kind brought to Account.

Q. (Re-examined). Whether any Receipts of the Governor at that Period, except such as are immediately from the Company's Treasury, are in those Accounts?

A. The Whole of the Receipts, with an Exception of One or Two small Instances, are from the Company's Treasury.

The Witness was directed to withdraw.

To shew, that the Court of Directors, with the Approbation of the Board of Control, ordered the Rohilla Prize Money to be distributed, the Army in Bengal which was employed in the late Rohilla Expedition, we observe that on the 24th February 1784, you resolved that the Sum of Lucknow Sicca Rupees 10,50,000, which is included in the Estimate of Claims upon his Excellency the Vizier, to the End of the Fuzulee Year 1191, for the Army Donation, should be charged in the Account Current of the next Month to the Nabob's Debit as before; and that such a Proportion of the Sums monthly received on Account of the Assignment taken for the Amount of those Claims, as its Amount bears to the Whole of that Estimate, should be Monthly carried to the Credit of the Claimants of the said Donation. We approve of this Arrangement; and as it appears by your Account, Quick Stock, dated 30th April last, that nearly the Whole of this Sum had been received into the Treasury, we direct that you pay the same to the several Claimants or their legal Representatives, according to the Statement of the Distribution thereof, which is entered on your Consultation of the 1st of June 1778, and not otherwise.

" To

To Samuel Middleton Esquire.

" Sir,

" By the Lapwing's Packet, which arrived last Night, I received a Letter from the Secret Committee of the Honble. Court of Directors, in which they direct and enjoin me, immediately on the Receipt of the said Letter, to issue my private Orders for securing the Person of Mahomed Reza Cawn, and to bring him down to Calcutta.

" Their Commands are peremptory, and require immediate Execution; neither will the Urgency of the Occasion admit of Delay. Many Considerations induce me to delegate this Trust to you: Your Station and Authority point you out as the fittest Person for it, as the particular Confidence which I repose in your Integrity and Fidelity to our Common Masters, is a Pledge to me for your punctual and instant Discharge of it.

" This therefore is to require of you, that, upon the Receipt hereof, you do immediately arrest the Person of Mahomed Reza Cawn, and send him, under a sufficient Guard, to Calcutta, allowing him only the Time necessary for furnishing himself with such Conveniencies as he may want on his Way.

" Your own Disposition will make it needless to recommend that every Mark of Tendernefs and Respect be shewn him, consistent with the literal Performance of this Service; but it will be best to avoid a personal Meeting with him. I advise, but do not insist on this, leaving it to your Discretion.

" You will be pleased to keep a Guard on the House of Mahomed Reza Cawn, and suffer nothing to be removed from it until you receive further Instructions on this Subject, either from myself or the Select Committee.

" I must desire also that you will cause Rajah Aumert Sing, the Dewan of Mahomed Reza Cawn, to be seized and sent down to Calcutta.

" It is unnecessary to recommend to you the greatest Caution and Secrecy in the Conduct of this Business, that it may be the Cause of no Alarms or Disturbance.

" Fort William,
24th April 1772.

" I am, with much Esteem, &c.
(Signed) Warren Hastings."

" To the Honourable Warren Hastings Esquire.

" Sir,

" In Obedience to your Commands, signified to me in your Letter of the 24th instant, I have the Satisfaction to acquaint you, that I have this Morning seized the Persons of Mahomed Reza Cawn, and his Dewan, Aumrut Sing, and placed proper Guards upon their Houses and Effects.

" As you were pleased to intimate your Wish, that I should avoid a personal Interview with the Nabob, I deputed Mr. Anderson, One of my Assistants, to wait upon him with a Letter from me, and to communicate the disagreeable Orders I had received regarding him; at the same Time an Officer, with Eight Companies of Sepoys, was detached from the Brigade, to expedite the Execution of these Orders, and to guard against any evil Consequences which might have ensued in the City. Apprehending that this Alarm would occasion some Disturbance, I went myself with a Part of this Force, joined to some Companies of Pergunnah Sepoys, to the Kellah, with a View to explain the Matter to the young Nabob, and to obviate any Consternation or Surprise which might have seized him, from an Event thus sudden and unexpected, and at the same Time to prevent any Irregularities which, at this critical Juncture, the Nizemut Seapoys, or the Nabob's own Servants, might have been tempted to commit; but I had the Satisfaction to find, that however prudent Circumstances might have made these Measures appear, there was in Fact no absolute Necessity for their Adoption, for I did not discover the least Tendency to Tumult or Disorder throughout his Excellency's Dependants; and so little Inclination did Mahomed Reza Cawn shew to oppose or impede the immediate Execution of your Orders, that he was no sooner acquainted with the Purport of them, than he made a voluntary Resignation of himself and Effects to the Officer * to the Officer who was deputed to take him into Custody. And here I should not do Justice to the calm Submission with which he met his unhappy Fate, was I not to notice the Readiness he manifested to comply with your Orders in their fullest Extent; and so far from wishing to protract the Period of his Departure from hence, I can venture to assure you, you cannot be more impatient for his Arrival in Calcutta than he appears to be; and he accordingly proceeds on his Journey To-night, under an Escort of Two Companies of Sepoys, commanded by Lieutenant Lucas.

" He proposes embarking at Mirzapore, and will require Three Budgerows and Fifteen Baggage Boats for himself and his Dewan; these, with a small Addition to the Number of Boats for the Service of the Sepoys, I am to request may be dispatched from the Presidency with all possible Expedition.

" As

" As the Purpose of the Secret Committee in their private Commands has been fulfilled, and as the Conduct of Mahomed Reza Cawn hath been referred by the Court of Directors to the Examination of the Board at large, the President thinks it necessary, as well for their Satisfaction, as to enable them more clearly to understand the Meaning of the Court of Directors, in the Restraint which they have thought proper to order on the Person of Mahomed Reza Cawn, to lay before the Board an Extract of such Part of the Orders of the Secret Committee as respect this particular Subject, which he desires may be recorded.

The President lays before the Board Extract of the Orders received from the Secret Committee.

" Extract of a Letter from the Secret Committee to the President, dated the 28th August 1771.

" In order therefore to make him amenable to a due Course of Justice, and to prevent the ill Consequences that might result from the Resentment and Revenge which he may conceive on the Knowledge of our Intentions, we hereby direct and enjoin you, immediately on the Receipt of this Letter, to issue your private Orders for securing the Person of Mahomed Reza Cawn, together with his whole Family and his known Partizans and Adherents, and to make use of such Measures as your Prudence shall suggest for bringing them down to Calcutta; and it is our Pleasure and Command that they be by no Means suffered to quit the Place, until Mahomed Reza Cawn shall have exculpated himself from the Crimes of which he now stands charged or suspected, or shall have duly accounted for the Revenues collected by him in the Chuckla of Dacca, and have made Restitution of all Sums which he may have appropriated to his own Use, either from the Dewanny Revenues or the Nabob's Stipends, and until also he shall have satisfied the Claims of all such Persons as may have suffered by any Act of Injustice or Oppression committed by him in the Office of Naib Dewan."

" The Board taking into Consideration the Company's Orders, as expressed in their Letter to the President, the Object it has in View, and the Measures that have consequently been pursued, and having received Information of the Nabob Mahomed Reza Cawn's near Approach to the Presidency, judge it * necessary to come to an immediate Determination in what Manner he shall be received; and having viewed the Subject in all its different Lights, have agreed in the following Resolution.

Board's Resolution in Consequence.

* Sic in Orig.

" Resolved, That they cannot, consistently with the Orders of the Company, and his present Situation, receive him with the Honours which were usually paid him on the Occasion of his former Visits to Calcutta.

" The Majority of the Board, however, considering the Rank of his Excellency Mahomed Reza Cawn, the Station he has filled, and the Character and Consequence he has held in the Empire of Hindostan by the Honours and Dignities conferred on him by the King, at the particular Instigation of Lord Clive and his Council on the Part of the Honourable Company, judge it proper that One of its Members be sent to intimate to him the Cause of his Seizure, and to inform his Excellency of the Points on which the Honourable Company express their Displeasure, and that they look to us to obtain Satisfaction from him, for the Injuries which they conceive their Affairs to have sustained by his Mismanagement and corrupt Administration.

" Resolved in consequence, That Mr. Graham be appointed to wait upon his Excellency on his Arrival at Chitpore; and upon that Gentleman's Motion for particular Instructions to regulate his Conduct in the Discharge of so irksome a Duty,

" The Board is of Opinion, he should be furnished with a Letter from the Governor to the following Purport.

" Copy of a Letter from the Governor to the Nabob Mahomed Reza Cawn.

" I have already, in a former Letter, acquainted you in Part with the Orders which I have received from the Company: The particular Causes which have induced the Company to require your Presence in Calcutta you will be informed of verbally by Mr. Graham, whom I have deputed for that Purpose to meet you, and to give you such Assurances of the equitable Intentions of the Company, as the Occasion may require."

" And that he further inform the Nabob, in general Terms, of the Heads of the Accusations laid to his Charge, which will afterwards be properly digested and delivered to him in Writing. He is also to acquaint his Excellency, that it is left at his Option, either to remain at Chitpore, or proceed to his House in Calcutta: And should he find the Nabob under any Apprehension or Alarm for the Safety of his Person, he is to remove such wrong Impressions, by giving him full Assurance of his personal Safety: And further, to dissipate all groundless Fears, it becomes necessary he should give his Excellency a competent Idea of the Honourable Company's Intention in his Seizure, which is merely to render him amenable to a due Course of Justice.

" The President, Mr. Aldersey, Mr. Harris, and Mr. Goodwin, beg Leave to enter their Dissents to the last Resolution.

" I think that deputing a Member of the Council to meet Mahomed Reza Cawn at Chitpore, though not meant as a Mark of Respect by the Board, must have that Appearance in the Eyes of People in general; and I apprehend the Company will also deem it as such, which I take to be the Conclusions which he must necessarily form with regard to himself, may put it in his Power to elude any Enquiry into his Conduct, either by private Collusions with his Agent, or by Flight;

The Counsel for the Defendant informed the House that the Managers for the Commons having stated in Page 1105 of the printed Minutes, " that they would falsify the Letter of the Defendant to the Court of Directors of the 29th November 1780, in all its Parts;" they would next proceed to prove that the Present from Sadanund was received by Mr. Hastings at the Time and for the Purposes by him stated in the above-mentioned Letter of the 29th November 1780.

Governor
General.

" The Members of the Board have been furnished with Copies of the Letters which have been written to Moodajee Boosla and his Dewan, to Benarem Pundit their Vakeel or Minister at this Government, containing in a very long Detail the Motives and Views of the Government of Berar. These I think improper to be entered on our Records, but I recommend them to the Attention of the Board, in their Consideration of the Conduct which we are to observe towards that Government.

" From the Declarations made in these Letters, and from other Advice, it appears, that urged by the Demands of the Administration at Poonah, and the Menaces of the Nabob Nizam ul Mullock, the Rajah hath levied a considerable Force, said to consist of 50,000 Horse, ostensibly destined to co operate with the Peshwa, by invading Bengal and the Dominions of our Ally the Nabob of Oude; that one Division of 30,000 Horse, commanded by Chimnajee Boosla, the Rajah's Second Son, has been accordingly dispatched to our Frontier by the Road of Cuttack, and has been some Time since arrived in the Neighbourhood of that City, where it is proposed that he shall canton during the Rainy Season.

" The Rajah and his Dewan both profess the most steady Attachment to the Company, and a Resolution to preserve the Peace and good Understanding which have subsisted between that Government and the English since the Period in which the latter first obtained a Share in the Political Concerns of these Provinces.

" These Professions have been repeated in all their Letters, and sanctified by the most solemn Attestations. However suspicious such voluntary Protestations may generally appear, there can be no valid Reason for refusing a certain Degree of Credit to them on the present Occasion, as they are perfectly consistent with what we know to be the Interest of the Boosla Family, and with the Conduct which it has invariably observed towards the Government of Bengal, from the Accession of Jannoojee to the present Time. Its natural Enemies are the Chiefs whose Dominions border immediately upon the Districts of Berar, and lie in many Places intermixed with them; that is to say, the Peshwa, Nizam Ally Cawn, and Mahadajee Scindia. The Company cannot be regarded in the same Light, because the Line of Country which joins their Possessions to Berar is so wild and uncultivated that no Cause of Competition can arise respecting it; and the Territories of each, in these Parts, yield little Advantage to the Proprietors. The Claim of the Berar Government to the Chout of these Provinces is so antiquated, that though it might be revived as a Pretext, it could never operate as an Inducement to invade them, on any other Principles than those which are the Grounds of original Conquest, nor could such an Enterprize be formed without great and certain Hazards, a Length of Hostilities, and a proportionate Expence to which the Resources of Berar are inadequate, and the Exposure of its own internal Possessions to the Ambition and Rapacity of its Neighbours.

" The Habits of a long Intercourse of Friendship, and the Benefits which are mutually and equally derived by both Governments from a Continuance of the same Degree of Union, may likewise likewise be assumed as Arguments of the favourable Disposition of that Government towards this, even under the present Appearances; yet the contrary, notwithstanding the strong Grounds which appear for this Conclusion, may be the Case, and even with the best Intentions the Steps through which the Berar Government, in the Accommodation of an ostensible Plan to its own secret Wishes, may be insensibly led, may terminate in Hostilities against us.

" From the Whole of this Review, it appears to be the proper Policy of this Government to consider and treat that of Berar in the Character which it professes, but to guard against the Possibility of its becoming hostile to us.

" This Policy at the same Time fortunately coincides with the present Views of that Government, and may be made to promote them. The Rajah and his Minister have from the Beginning expressed the strongest Desire to become the Mediators of Peace between us and the Marattas; and this Desire is more strenuously urged in their last, than in any of their former Letters, which may be accounted for on good Grounds, for it is certainly their Interest to be the Instruments of bringing the War to a Termination, by Means which must enhance their Consequence and relieve them from certain Difficulties and Expence. The Rajah informs us, that he has written to the Peishwa, and offered his Intercession to accommodate Matters with us, confiding in the Assurances given him by this Government of its Willingness to agree to Peace through his Mediation, and to his Guarantee for the Maintenance of it, and has proposed that his Dewan shall come to Balasore or Benares, with Credentials and full Powers from the Peishwa to negotiate and conclude a Treaty of Peace.—Let us avail ourselves of this favourable Disposition.—Let his Mediation be accepted, and his Dewan invited to come for that Purpose to Calcutta. I am firmly of Opinion that Peace can only be accomplished by this or some other Mode that shall put the Negotiations for it within the Reach and immediate Controul of this Government. The Seat of War is not the Soil adapted by Nature for the Growth of Peace; yet, while every Means are employed to promote this End, we must not slacken in those which may give us an Advantage in the War, if our Hopes of a speedy Termination of it should be frustrated. On the contrary, this * Season and these Hopes require a redoubled Exertion on our Part in the Prosecution of the War, as a necessary Concurrence with the Measures which we may take for the Conclusion of it. For this Reason, I recommend that the Orders lately passed for the Reduction of Captain Popham's Detachment be suspended; that the Sepoys of the Detachment be immediately formed into Three regular Battalions, and added to the Detachment allotted to Major Camac. Let it be given in Instructions to Major Camac, if he should find it practicable to march his Detachment, in Conjunction with the Forces which the Rannee by Treaty will be obliged in such a Case to furnish, directly to Oogee, the Capital of the Territory dependant on Madajee Scindia. This cannot fail to divert him from the War in the Guzzerat, and by bringing it Home to his own Interests, which have hitherto been wholly exempt from it, induce him to be an equal Solicitor for Peace, to which at this Time he appears to be the only Impediment. In Effect, all Advices confirm the Information contained in the Berar Letters of the Opposition of Scindia's Wishes, to those of the Minister in this particular Instance. The only Obstacle to this Design is, the Force which the Maratta Government actually possesses at Calpee and Bundelcund. A discretionary Power should be given to Major Camac to remove this by any Means, either by Negotiation or Force, which he shall judge necessary, and which shall not be likely to detain him from his main Object. From all the Intelligence which has been lately received from that Quarter, this appears to be no difficult Work, as the Maratta Power in that Country is not in itself very considerable, and those who possess it are disaffected to the Government on which they depend. The Purpose of undertaking this Expedition and its Motives may be communicated to Moodajee Boosla. He cannot disapprove it; nor is it likely to give such Offence to the Minister of Poona, whose Jealousy to Madajee Scindia is well known, as to excite in his Mind any new Objection to Pacification.

" By the proposed Plan of Operations the Subsidy which we have hitherto received from the Ranna of Gohud will cease; all that we can require of him will be to join our Forces with the Quota of his Troops stipulated by the Treaty. It will therefore become necessary to provide a Military Fund for the Payment of this Detachment. I propose to the Board, as the Season is now approaching in which our Demands upon Rajah Cheit Sing, for the Payment of his annual Contribution towards the Expence of the War, should be made, we do immediately instruct our Resident at Benares to apply to him for the Sum of Five Lacks of Rupees; which Sum I propose shall be appropriated solely to the Payment of Major Camac's Detachment.

" If the Board agree to this Plan, it will be necessary to make some Alterations in our late Orders, and these I shall reduce to distinct Propositions.

" 1st. That the Order for the Return of Captain Popham's Detachment be countermanded.

" 2d. That the Sepoy Drafts of that Detachment be immediately formed into Three Regular Battalions.

" 3d. That the Three Senior Captains now with the Detachment be appointed to the Command of these Battalions, and that the Commander in Chief be requested to issue the necessary Orders for completing them with Subaltern and Native Officers.

" 4th. That to complete these Battalions with their Proportion of Ordnance, Two 6 Pounders be added to the Guns now with Captain Popham's Detachment.

" 5th. That these Battalions be added to the Detachment already ordered to be put under the Command of Major Camac, and the whole formed into a separate Corps during the Continuance of the present Service.

" 6th. That in Addition to the Guns attached by the Regulation to each Battalion of Sepoys upon Service, Two Twelve Pounders, the Howitzer now with Captain Popham's Detachment, and Two Cohorns, be ordered to join Major Camac's Detachment.

" 7th. That the Board of Ordnance be requested to issue Orders for supplying Major Camac's Detachment with the above-mentioned Ordnance, and the Proportion of Ammunition and Stores agreeable to the Establishment, either from Cawnpore or either of the Military Stations contiguous to it.

" 8th. That a Brigade Major and an Aid de Camp be added to the Staff of Major Camac's Detachment in consequence of the additional Strength of it.

" 9th. That the Secretary be directed to draw out Instructions for Major Camac from the preceding Minute.

" I entreat the Board to give me their Support in the Prosecution of this Plan. If they have been from its Commencement averse to the War, let them join with me in prosecuting it with Vigour to its speedy Termination. If they consider themselves as free from the Responsibility of it, let them allow me to acquit myself of mine. I wish I could venture my Life upon the Consequences. I know the Man who is to conduct it, and am certain that if the Design is practicable, he will execute it to its fullest Effect, nor am I fearful of the Inference which this Declaration may draw upon me for the future Event of it. " Convinced as we are of the indispensable Necessity of bringing the present War, if possible, to a speedy Conclusion, we shall heartily join in the Support of every Measure which appears to have Peace for its Object, and which carries with it any reasonable Prospect of Success. On this Principle we agree with the Governor General, that it may be advisable to avail ourselves of the favourable Disposition of the Berar Government, and to invite the Rajah's Dewan to come for that Purpose to Calcutta. The Motives assigned for his late Conduct, and for the March of a Body of his Troops to Cuttac are plausible at least, and appear to be confirmed by the Delays with which it has been attended, and by their present Inactivity. The Desire he professes of becoming the Mediator of Peace between us and the Marattas, seems likely to be sincere; because we believe it to be founded in the Consideration of his own Interest, and because it is conformable to the Language which he has uniformly held to us: We do not mean to say that Evidence of this Nature is to be implicitly depended on; but it is now so essentially our Interest to secure the Friendship of Moodajee Boosla, or at least to prevent his acting against us, that we should think it imprudent to discover any Doubt of his Sincerity. It cannot be very difficult to maintain the Appearances of the most perfect Confidence in his good Faith, without suffering it to mislead us, or neglecting any of those Precautions which our Situation dictates, and which are never more necessary perhaps than in the midst of Security. We therefore agree with the Governor General in this Part of his Minute; but we find with extreme Concern that it is impossible for us to give our Assent to the subsequent Proposition. The Reasons for which we object to it shall be stated briefly, without reviving former Arguments or reflecting on any Thing that is past. Taking our Situation as it stands, we declare it to be our most deliberate Opinion, that a Peace is indispensably necessary to save the India Company, and every Interest connected with theirs, from the greatest Distress, if not from certain Ruin; and that at whatever Distance this Object may be, it is not practicable for us to continue the War on any Terms without a very considerable Reduction in the Expence of conducting it. In the former of these Opinions we have never varied, in the latter we are sure of the Governor General's Concurrence. On this general Ground we object to the proposed Measure.

" 1st. Because it reverses a Resolution very lately past with the unanimous Approbation of the Board, for recalling and reducing Captain Popham's Detachment; the extra Expence of which, beyond our regular Establishment, amounting to Current Rupees 91,332 a Month, would be saved, and their Place supplied by Four regular Battalions.

" 2d. Because by the proposed Plan of Operations, the Subsidy to be paid by the Rana of Gohud, and of which we believe no Part has hitherto been received, is to cease, and our Resources to far forth diminished.

" 3d. Because at a Time when it is admitted that the War cannot be continued without a very considerable Expence, we cannot consistently with that Principle engage in a Measure which supposes the contrary to be true, and which in our Judgment leads to an Addition of Expence, which we cannot limit when once it is begun, and which we are very sure this Government is not in a Condition to support. We have seen into what enormous Charges we have been drawn by the Detachment under General Goddard, the Strength of which does not exceed that proposed to be placed under Major Camac. We have seen the Expences of a Detachment of only Two thousand Drafts, under Captain Popham, swelled to more than Ninety-one thousand Rupees a Month; and we firmly believe it to be an Evil inseparable from distant Military Operations in this Country, that the Charge of them can neither be limited nor controuled. We do not mean to dispute the Propriety of the Governor's personal Confidence in Major Camac, but in our Minds such implicit Confidence cannot exist without Experience, much less in Opposition to that with which the Conduct of similar Expeditions has already furnished us: In this Observation we allude only to the Expence that attends them.

" 4th. Because the proposed Anticipation of the Demand of Five Lacks of Rupees from the Rajah of Benares, and the sole Appropriation of it to this Service, is no Relief of Expence or Increase of Resource, since the above Five Lacks make Part of our general Estimate of Resources for the Service of the current Year, and if applied to any Service not provided for in the same Estimate, will leave a Deficiency which must be made good out of some other Fund.

" 5th. Because it appeared to us, that the State of our Treasury is not in any Degree equal to the existing and encreasing Demands which press upon this Government. The apparent Balance on Monday last, including the Deposit in the New Fort (without which we should consider ourselves as totally unprovided for Measures of immediate Defence, if such should become necessary,) amounted to no more than Current Rupees 42,09,453. Deduct the Deposit in the New Fort, and let the Account be stated as it will then stand, and as it ought to stand.

| Dr.                            | C. Rs.    |                                |

| Amount of Orders unpaid -      | 20,86,949 | Sum in the New Fort            |
| Bills drawn by General Goddard |           | Balance or actual Debt against |
| unpaid - - - }                 | 1,73,999  | the Treasury                   |
|                                | <hr/>     |                                |
|                                | 37,48,906 | <hr/>                          |
|                                |           | 37,48,906                      |

" This View of our Situation undoubtedly leads to other important Conclusions. That to which we mean to confine it at present is, that we are in no Condition to undertake new Expences, nor, if our Treasury were better supplied than it is, should we think it prudent to expose ourselves to the Demands of another Expedition, in the Plan of which we see no essential Difference from that which still exists under General Goddard.

" 6th. Because admitting that all the preceding Objections on the Head of Expence could be answered or removed, we are not satisfied that the Plan itself would either end where it professes to be directed, or that this is the Season in which it ought to be attempted on its own avowed Principles. The declared Purpose of the Expedition is to invade Madajee Scindia's Country, and to attack his Capital Ugein, in order to divert him from the War in Guzerat to the Defence of his own Territories. We understand and admit the Force of this Argument, though in our Judgment over-balanced by other Considerations, independent of which we should only object to the Time chosen for the Expedition, and to the unnecessary Charge of keeping up Captain Popham's Detachment. If it be meant to withdraw Madajee Scindia from the War in Guzerat, and to distract his Force and Attention from that Country to his own, it seems to us that the Attempt should be made as soon as possible after October, when General Goddard might be at Liberty to co-operate with it and to favour its Success by a similar Diversion on his Side, not in the midst of the Rains when General Goddard's Army is in Quarters and unable to take the Field. The manifest Advantage of having the Two Armies acting in Concert and dividing the Attention of the Enemy between them would be lost, if they were not both in the Field at the same Time. But this and every other Objection to the Measure, is in Fact removed by the Instructions which immediately follow it, and which in our Opinion are wholly inconsistent with the first proposed Object. Major Camac is to be intrusted with a discretionary Power to remove the Force which the Maratta Government possesses in Culpce or Bundelcund (and which is said to be the only Obstacle to the main Design) by any Means, either by Negotiation or by Force. If it be true, as we are sure it is, ' That the Maratta Power in that Country is not very considerable, and that they who possess it are disaffected to the Government on which they depend, such a Power can form no Obstacle to the Execution Execution of the main Design, nor can we ever admit of the Validity of such a Pretence for invading Bundelcund, which we conclude would be the first, if not the only Effect of the Expedition. At all Events the Latitude given to Major Camac leaves him at Liberty to pursue whatever Plan he thinks proper. But if instead of proceeding towards Madajee Scindia, the March of this Detachment should once be directed by the opposite Route to the Capital of Bundelcund, he will naturally conclude that the Possession of this Country is our true and only Object; of Course he will have no Apprehension of the Safety of his own.

For these Reasons we are of Opinion, that the Resolution of the Board of the 29th May, for the Recall and Reduction of Captain Popham's Detachment, &c. should not be suspended.

" Instructions to Major Camac.

Governor General's proposed Instructions to Major Camac.

" 1st. Having appointed you to the Command of a Detachment ordered to be formed of Four Battalions of Sepoys, Three of which are to be furnished from the Army stationed at Cawnpore, and the 4th Battalion of Light Infantry commanded by Captain James Brown; we direct you to proceed to Cawnpore, or to the Station of that Detachment, wherever it may be, and to conduct it without Loss of Time into the Dominions of the Rana of Gohud, there to relieve the Corps now under the Command of Captain Popham in that Quarter.

" 2d. The Rana of Gohud having in virtue of a Treaty, concluded between him and this Government, required the Aid of a Military Force on the Part of this Government for the Defence of his Country against the Marattas, who had invaded it; Captain Popham was appointed to this Service, and to this you now succeed: We therefore direct that you comply with such Requisition as shall be made to you by the Rana for this, and for such other Conditions as he is entitled to demand by the Treaty, and shall be practicable with the Force under your Command.

" 3d. Whenever the Rana shall have no further Service for the Detachment, and shall dismiss it in the Manner prescribed by the Treaty, and no Occasion shall present itself for the Employment of the Detachment in promoting the general Success of the War in which we are engaged with the Maratta State, you are forthwith to return with it into the Dominions of the Nabob of Oude and there wait for further Orders; and if, before your March into Gohud, you shall receive an Intimation from him in Writing, that he shall not require the Assistance of your Detachment, you will in like Manner suspend your March and wait for further Orders.

" 4th. But as the first Design of this Government in the Alliance lately formed with the Rana of Gohud, was to distress the Maratta State by a Diminution of their Power, Revenue, and Influence, and by uniting with other Powers in Enmity with them to divert and weaken their Operations, tions; and as the Maratta Dominions, which lie contiguous to Gohud, appertain to Madajee Seindia, and Tuccooje Holkar, the Two principal Rulers of that State, and the Leaders of the Army employed to oppose General Goddard, we authorize and instruct you, in case you shall deem it practicable and expedient, to carry the War immediately into that Quarter, requiring from the Rana the Proportion of Cavalry stipulated by the Treaty to be furnished by him for such a Service; or, in case of his Inability, whether from the Season of the Year or from whatever other Cause to fulfil this Condition in its complete Extent, to require and accept from him such other Aid in furnishing Provisions and forming Magazines of Grain and other Means of Subsistence and Communication, as you shall judge equivalent to it.

" 5th. For your Guidance in maintaining the Relation of your Command to the Rana of Gohud, we herewith deliver you a Copy of the Treaty executed with him, and we require and enjoin you to conform to it with the most scrupulous and literal Exactness.

" 6th. If any Case shall occur for which we have not provided by these Instructions, and which shall not be contrary to them, we empower you to act therein according to your own Judgement; in all others, these Instructions are positive, and must be implicitly obeyed.

" Ordered, that these Instructions lie for Consideration.

" Read the following Minute from Messrs. Francis and Wheler, in Reply to the Propositions made by the Governor General, and entered in the last Consultation, containing Instructions to Major Camac.

" Minute from Messrs. Francis and Wheler.

" The First, Second, and Third Paragraphs of the proposed Instructions to Major Camac, being conformable to the Treaty concluded with the Rana of Gohud, we acquiesce therein; but we think it should be added that, before our Troops depart from the Rana's Country, the full Amount of the Subsidy due for their Pay should be demanded and received. But we cannot consent to vest Major Camac with the Powers mentioned in the 4th Par. viz. ' To carry the War immediately into the Dominions of Tuccajee and Scindia, if he shall judge it practicable and expedient, and to accept of such other Aid from the Rana of Gohud as he shall judge equivalent to the Body of Ten thousand Horse, which the Rana is obliged by Treaty to furnish.' The Latitude given in the First Article, leaves it in effect to Major Camac to carry the Company's Arms wherever he thinks proper. The Second impowers him to annul the most important and apparently the most useful Article of the Treaty. In both Instances, the Government relinquishes its Controul over a Measure which may lead us much further than we are aware of, and be attended with the most serious Consequences. We have already observed, that an Attempt to invade Scindia's Country, if adviseable, should be made at a Time when General Goddard can co-operate with it and support it; this cannot be done till towards the Conclusion of the Rains. There is Time sufficient to concert a Plan with the Rana of Gohud, and to ascertain what Assistance may be depended on from him.

" The Board will then have proper Materials before themselves to judge how far it may be safe or expedient to embark in the Measure, supposing that a Peace, which is our first Object, should not be effected in the Interim. For these Reasons we cannot assent to the Propositions contained in the Fourth Paragraph.

" We acquiesce in the 5th.

" The Powers mentioned in the 6th seem to fall under the same Observations which have occurred to us on those contained in the 4th.

Edward Wheler Esquire.

Lieutenant General Sir Eyre Coote, absent on a Visit to the different Stations of the Army.

Major Camac's Instructions.

“ The Instructions being agreed to by Messrs. Francis and Wheler, they were copied fair, signed, and dispatched, as follow:

“ To Major Camac.

“ Sir,

“ Our Secretary has already notified to you, your Appointment to the Command of a Detachment ordered on Service with the Rana of Gohud. This Detachment is to be formed by Three Battalions of Sepoys from the Second Brigade stationed at Cawnpore, the Battalion of Light Infantry, commanded by Captain James Brown, and a Party of Artillery, to consist of Half a Company of Europeans, and Half a Battalion of Lascars.

“ In Addition to the Guns attached to the above Battalions by the Regulations of the Army, we have ordered that your Detachment shall be supplied with Two Twelve Pounders, a Howitzer, Two Cohorns, and a proper Quantity of Ammunition and Stores.

“ We direct that you immediately proceed to Cawnpore, or to the Station of your Detachment wherever it may be, and forthwith conduct it into the Dominion of the Rana of Gohud, there to relieve the Corps under the Command of Captain Popham in that Quarter.

“ The Rana of Gohud having in virtue of a Treaty lately concluded between him and this Government, required the Aid of a Military Force on our Part for the Defence of his Country against the Marattas, who had invaded it, Captain Popham was appointed to this Service, and to this you now succeed. We therefore direct that you comply with such Requisitions as shall be made to you by the Rana for this, and for such other Conditions, as he is intitled to demand by the Treaty, and you shall deem practicable with the Force under your Command.

“ Whenever the Rana shall notify to you that he has no further Service for the Detachment under your Command, and shall dismiss it in the Manner prescribed by Treaty, and no Occasion shall present itself for the Employment of it, in promoting the General Success of the War in which we are engaged with the Maratta State, you are to signify to him in Writing your Intention to depart from his Country, demanding the full Amount of the Subsidy that may be due; which having received, you will immediately return with your Detachment into the Territories of the Nabob of Oude, and there wait for further Orders; but in case of a Refusal on his Part to discharge the Subsidy agreeable to the Terms of the Treaty, we desire that you immediately signify the same to him, and not depart until you receive our Answer.

“ If before your March into Gohud you shall receive any Information from the Rana that he shall not require the Assistance of your Detachment, you will in like Manner suspend your March, and wait our Instructions.

“ For your Guidance in maintaining the Relation of your Command to the Rana of Gohud, we herewith deliver to you a Copy of the Treaty executed with him, and we require and enjoin you to conform to it with the most scrupulous and literal Exactness.

“ The Commissary General having drawn out an Establishment for your Detachment, which meets with our Approbation, we transmit it to you, desiring at the same Time that you do not, on any Account, suffer the smallest Alteration or Deviation to be made in it.” (a)

“ At a Council; Present,
The Honourable Warren Hastings, Governor General; President;
Philip Francis, } Esquires.
Edward Wheler, }

Lieutenant General Sir Eyre Coote, absent on a Visit to the different Stations of the Army.

“ The Governor General lays before the Board the following Minute.

Governor General.

“ Governor General.—Two Minutes have been lately delivered by Messrs. Francis and Wheler, bearing their joint Signatures, in Answer to Propositions made by me to the Board.

" It is not my Intention to follow these Minutes through every Assertion of Facts, and every Deduction of Argument. I shall only reply to such Points as have a Relation to my present Purpose, which is still to insist on the Necessity of carrying on the War into the Districts appertaining to Madajee Scindia; and to this I entreat the Board to give me their Attention.

" Except the Article of Expence, I can scarcely collect the Objections which are made to it.

" It never was my Intention to employ Major Camac in an Invasion of Bundecund, nor suffer, if it were attempted on the Ground of his Instructions, such a Waste of the Time required for the First and essential Objects of its Operations.

" The Ends proposed by this Expedition are Two immediate; First, to divide the Maratta Strength, and divert it from General Goddard; Second, to make the principal Agent of the War, the principal Sufferer by it; and One ultimately, Peace. To this it is objected that ' the manifest Advantage of having Two Armies acting in Concert, and dividing the Attention of the Enemy between them, would be lost if they were not both in the Field at the same Time.' This is by no Means a fair Conclusion, because it supposes the Enemy to keep the Field, and our principal Army to be inactive—The Reverse is the most probable—And my Purpose will be equally answered, whether both remain in Quarters, and Major Camac be suffered to prosecute the Plan assigned him without Opposition, or whether the whole Force of the Enemy be directed against him, and General Goddard left at Liberty to act in the Prosecution of his. The rainy Season is no Impediment to our Troops, but a great One to the Maratta, which consist only of Cavalry; and if the Measure which I have proposed be even now agreed to, I should hope to bound it with that Season, or to effect every material Purpose within the Rains.

" The Design of the proposed Instructions to Major Camac has been misunderstood, and the intended Sense of it inverted. It is not meant ' to give Major Camac a Latitude to carry the Company's Arms wherever he thinks proper,' but to order him to carry the Company's Arms to a prescribed Scene of Action, unless he thinks it improper.

" The Objection made to the Expence is a material one, but a vigorous Exertion cannot be made without Expence, nor can the War be concluded honourably, or prosecuted successfully, without such an Exertion. Feeble Measures and Advances for Peace will but yield to the Strength and Presumption of our Adversaries, discourage our Friends, and perhaps induce them to become Parties against us.

" The Resources of this Government exhausted as they are, and withheld from it by its internal Imbecility, are yet equal to every probable Contingency of the present War, if it is conducted on a consistent Plan, and that not varied by desultory Votes of Council on every Measure required for its Prosecution.

" I must here take Notice that the Expence of Captain Popham's Detachment has been greatly over-rated. It is asserted that the Expence of a Detachment of only 2,000 Drafts under Captain Popham, has been swelled to more than 91,000 Rupees per Month, and in another Place this Sum is stated as a fixed Amount.

" The Truth is, that the Expence of this Detachment has exceeded its due Bounds, yet not in the Degree imputed to it, which would be indeed enormous. The Detachment besides the 2,000 Drafts, (they are in Fact 2400) consists of Artillery and Cavalry: The monthly Expence of the Whole was on a Medium about 82,000 Rupees; of this Sum the

|                       |   |                 |
|-----------------------|---|-----------------|
| Cavalry alone produce | — | 12,811; and the |
| Artillery             | — | 8,300           |

Making together — 21,111 and this Sum deducted from the Total leaves 61,000 Rupees for the Drafts, including the Staff and Contingencies of Four Battalions into which they were formed, though the Number was equal only to Three.

" The Part which this Government has hitherto borne in the War is mine, and has been made exclusively mine; the other Members having repeatedly disclaimed their Share in the Responsibility attending it. It is hard, that while they load me with the Weight of such a Charge, they should bind my Hands and deny me the Means of supporting it.

" If Mr. Francis (I am compelled to speak thus plainly) thinks that he can better or more effectually conduct the War to the Termination we both profess to aim at, and that he can in Honour deprive me of the Right which I claim to dictate the Means of accomplishing it, let him avowedly take the Lead; but if I am to be charged with the Consequences of it, or if the Right which I claim be justly mine, let him allow me to possess and exercise it.

" It is impossible to combine the Principles of Enterprize and Inaction in the same general Measure, and as impossible for his Sentiments and mine to be brought into Agreement on the Subject of the Maratta War. I have in vain laboured to accommodate them by a studied Attention to his Opinions in every Measure which I have ventured to propose in the Course of the last Fifteen Months, and have restrained myself from urging others, which, however proper and necessary for the Occasion, exclusively considered, were inconsistent with the actual State and Temper of this Government.

" I now revert to my Proposition, and request the Board to re-consider their Objections to the Instructions which I have proposed to be given to Major Camac. I have not the Presumption to expect that they will be influenced by any Reasoning which I have used, having had too much Experience Experience of the Insufficiency of official Argument to overcome a decided, much less a Confederate Opposition. But as the Expence which will attend the Measure which I have recommended is the only formal Objection made to it, I hope I may be allowed to remove it by offering to exonerate the Company from it, and to take it upon myself. That this Proposition may not be misunderstood, and that I may not bind myself by Engagements which may exceed my Power to fulfil them, I will explain myself.

" The regular Pay and Batta of the Troops which are to form Major Camac's Detachment, constitute no Part of the Expence of it, since these would be the same in their Amount altho' the Battalions remained in their original Quarters; neither ought the Suspension of the Subsidy to be charged to the Expedition, since it is probable, and I regard it as certain, that the Rana having no further Call for our Aid within his Country for the sole Defence of it, will be glad to be relieved from the Expence attending it, and because it is proposed in the last of the Minutes of Messrs. Francis and Wheler to withdraw it.

" The Contingencies of the Detachment are therefore the only Expence that can be reasonably charged to the Expedition; these I rate far below Two Lacks of Rupees; that Sum I offer to contribute to this Disbursement. I have already deposited it within a small Amount in the Hands of the Sub Treasurer, and I beg that the Board will permit it to be accepted for that Service. (a)

Lieutenant General Sir Eyre Coote, absent on a Visit to the different Stations of the Army.

" The Minute which follows, having been sent to the Secretary on the 27th instant, it was immediately forwarded to the Governor General.

" Minute from Messrs. Francis and Wheler.

" After an attentive Consideration of the Governor General's Minute delivered in to the Board yesterday, we adhere to the Reasons which have induced us to withhold our Consent to the proposed Expedition into Malva. To this, for the present, we shall only add the following short Remarks, in Reply to some Assertions in the Governor General's Minute, which appear to us to be gratuitous.

" 1st. The actual Expence of Captain Popham's Detachment for the Months of November, December, and January last, is stated by the Commissary General at Current Rupees 2,73,996, (vide his Letter, recorded on the 1st of May); and we have no Reason to think that the Expence has decreased since the Detachment has been on Service.

" 2d. We know not to what Passage in either of our Minutes the Governor General alludes when he says, 'That it is proposed in the last of the Minutes of Messrs. Francis and Wheler, to withdraw the Aid granted to the Rana of Gohud.' Notwithstanding our original Disapprobation of the Treaty, and though none of the good Effects which were promised from it, appear to us to have been accomplished, we have not proposed to depart from the Conditions by which this Government has been bound to the Rana. All we insist on is, that the Subsidy should be paid; the Governor General has not informed us whether any Part of it has been discharged.

" 3d. It is said, that the Rainy Season is no Impediment to our Troops, though a great one to the Marattas. The same Opinion was insisted on at the Time when Col. Leslie marched, and when the Governor's Confidence in him was not inferior to that which he now reposes in Major Camac, and which we do not mean to say is ill-founded; but Colonel Leslie's Letters contain repeated Declarations of the Impossibility of marching amidst the Torrents of Rain with which the Country was deluged. On this Point, our Conviction remains unaltered. They who have not seen the Rains of India, can have no Idea of their Violence, nor how entirely the Surface of the Country is changed by them. In a few Days, we mean to record our Sentiments more at large on the Remainder of the Governor's Minute, and on the general Situation of this Government.

(a) Vide Appendix, N° CCCLXVIII.

“ We could have wished, indeed, that the Governor’s Plan had been more completely before us than it is, that we might have been able to compare the whole Object with the whole of the Means. Peace, he declares, is his ultimate Object ; but he has not given us even a general Idea of the Terms on which he would make it. He has not intimated to us what would be the final Extent of his Demands on the Marattas, or what Concessions he would make to them. Before this Point is fixed, we have no solid Basis, either for Action or Deliberation. The First may be indefinite and unconnected, as it hitherto has been ; the Second must be guided from Day to Day by Events. In this Uncertainty, we cannot presume to decide, whether his Object be or be not attainable, but we promise to enter into the Consideration of it with the utmost Candour, and with all the Attention which such a Subject deserves, when it is laid before us. “ In our Minute of the 27th, we meant only to give an immediate Answer to the Propositions before us. We shall now enter more particularly into the Reasonings and Assertions with which it was introduced. The Terms and Tendency of the Governor General’s Minute make this Task, however painful it may be, essentially necessary for the Information of those who are to judge of our Conduct, and of course to our own Reputation and Safety.

“ The Governor General says, that ‘ except the Article of Expence he can scarcely collect the ‘ Objection made to the Measure,’ and again that ‘ the Expence is the only formal Objection ‘ made to it.’ Yet some Pains are taken to answer another, which attacks the Measure upon its own Principles, and which undoubtedly must have been felt by the Governor General, or he would not have attempted to remove it, by supposing a Fact so material to the Question, as that our principal Army is not in Cantonments and inactive, and that it must not continue so till the End of the Rains. The Truth is, that General Goddard’s Army, or the major Part of it, is actually in Cantonments at Surat, and we hear that he himself is at Bombay. Last Year he did not take the Field until December, perhaps he might now move a Month sooner, but we are satisfied as well by his own Letters as by every Information we have been able to obtain, that it is impossible for him to act before November. That the Rains would be no Impediment to our Infantry incumbered with Baggage, Tents, Stores, Ammunition and a Train of Artillery, but that it would be a great one to a Body of Maratta Cavalry, seems to us a most extraordinary Proposition. Hitherto it has been contradicted by Experience, and we find no Arguments advanced to support it. If one of the Objects of the Expedition be to divide the Maratta Strength, and to divert it from General Goddard’s, it is essential to that Object, that General Goddard’s Army should be at the same Time in the Field, otherwise the Maratta Force is not divided ; nor can there be a Division on one Side, unless some Operations exist on the other, in Favour of which the Diversion is to be made ; but we say that General Goddard’s Army is in Cantonments and must remain inactive till November, consequently the undivided Force and Strength of the Marattas, if they think it necessary, may be turned entirely to Major Camac.

“ The Second Object is said to be ‘ to make Madajee Scindia, the principal Agent of the War, ‘ the principal Sufferer by it.’ Hitherto we have been told that Nana Furnese was the Chief most attached to the French Interest, and most hostile to ours, and that Scindia was disposed to cultivate our Friendship ; and it must be confessed he gave us a Proof of it, which ought not to be forgotten, when he suffered the Bombay Army to retire from Wargaum. that we ought now to consider Scindia as our principal Opponent, it does not follow that this Expedition, in the Way it is planned, will be the Cause of much Distress to him, if any; in our Opinion, we are much more likely to suffer by it than he is. If every material Purpose of it is to be effected within the Rains, what can they be but a hasty Incursion into his Country, to plunder it, and to leave it. If General Goddard were in Motion at the same Time, we see a Possibility, in Speculation at least, that Scindia might be distracted between them, and prevented from turning his whole Force, or the principal Part of it, to the Defence of his Dominions. As this is not the Case, Major Camac must act, without the Support of a Division on the other Side, against whatever Force Scindia may think fit to bring against him. They who are unacquainted with the Geography of India, can know nothing even of the Distance from our Frontier to Eugene, the Capital of Malva, much less of the Difficulties that are likely to attend such a March. The Distance however is evidently so great, that, in Case of a Check, we see no Likelihood of securing a Retreat; but if, whether with or without an immediate Repulse, the Retreat of the Detachment should be cut off, we know what the Consequences must be: Another Body of Troops will be called for, and the Necessity of sending them insisted on, to support the first Measure, or to discharge us from the Effects of it. No Man can say to what Distress and Difficulties a Series of such Steps may finally lead us. It may happen that, while we are stripping Bengal of the Force which ought to be reserved for its Defence, while we are sending our best Troops and our best Officers on these distant Expeditions, these Provinces may be invaded from different Quarters, and our Establishment hazarded where it ought to be our principal Care to render it secure. In our Opinion, nothing essential to the Interests of the Company and of the Nation in India can be lost as long as Bengal is safe; but if this Country should once be in Danger, or if by the Loss or Waste of its Resources, it should no longer be able to support itself, and to return a regular Tribute to Great Britain, no Conquest or Acquisitions in any other Part of India will ever compensate in the smallest Degree for the Distress to which Bengal may be reduced, and for the Consequences that must attend it at home. The Supposition of such a Case will not appear wild and unwarrantable to those who have a perfect View of our Situation. We are much afraid that it is little known, and less understood, in England.

“ The War with the Marattas, at more than two Years after its Commencement, and after every Rupee we had reserved in our Treasury, or have since been able to collect, has been spent in the Support of it, is at this Day as far from a Conclusion as ever. New Expeditions are proposed to answer the same Effects which were promised from former Measures of the same Nature, and as it appears to us, with no better Prospect of Success; of such Success at least as would be likely to make any further Efforts unnecessary.

“ The Governor General talks of Friends who may be discouraged, and who perhaps may be induced to become Parties against us. We wish that the Names of those Friends had been mentioned. We do not know that this Government has a single Friend or Ally in India, in the true Sense of Friendship and Alliance, which supposes the Power of giving Assistance and a Disposition to give it.

“ The Condition to which we have reduced the Vizier's Country makes that Connection rather a Burthen than an Advantage to this State. We have now to defend the extended Frontier of a ruined Country which at present barely pays the Troops that defend it; and which, according to all Appearance, will not do even that much longer. As for the Vizier himself, he is a Cypher, and has no Choice.

“ The Rana of Gohud, is too inconsiderable to be mentioned; and if he were more powerful than he is, it is plain enough that either his original Purpose is answered, or, that he has other Reasons for being weary of the Presence of our Army. Though the Board have not heard from Captain Popham, we conjecture, from what the Governor General has let fall, that the Rana intends to dismiss Captain Popham; and that he will not require Major Camac to come into his Country.

“ On the other Hand, we see the principal Powers of India either armed, or ready to arm against us.

“ The Marattas have united, as we foresaw they would do, in the common Defence of their Country.—Hyder Ally, their natural Enemy, has concluded an Alliance with them; the Effects of which, though hitherto suspended, are not averted. We know by many Proofs what his Disposition is towards us; and we ought to conclude, since it is a Case against which we ought to be provided, that he means to act against us at the first favourable Moment; that is, when our Arms may have suffered another Check, or when our Strength and Resources may be exhausted by a Continuance of the present War.

“ It is true, our Endeavours have hitherto succeeded in preventing the Nizam from taking an open Part with our Enemies: It depends on the Gentlemen at Madras, whether the Concession we have made to him shall take Effect or not; if it should, we have still no positive Security that he will be contented with it, or that his other Claims upon the Company will not furnish him with a Pretence for joining our Enemies whenever he sees an Opportunity of doing it to Advantage. This Disposition towards us, and the Confidence he reposes in his own Strength, may be plainly collected from his Declarations to Mr. Holland.

" The Rajah of Berar seems lately if not originally to have adopted that Sort of Policy which leaves it open to him to be guided by Events, and to pursue any Course he thinks proper. We have no Security that it will be favourable to this Government. He professes to wish for an Accommodation between us and the Paishwa; he offers his Mediation, and, apparently to support his Offer, he sends a considerable Army to the Frontier of these Provinces. The Strength of his Army is unknown to the Board; various Reports state it from 20 to 30,000 Horse; against their future Operations we ought to be as carefully provided, as if we had no Dependence on their Friendship. We ought to treat them as Friends, and we ought to be prepared against them as Enemies.

" In this Situation we can never admit that the Resources of this Government, exhausted as they are, and withheld from it by its internal Imbecility, are yet equal to every probable Contingency of the present War. On the contrary, we think that the present War, in whatever Manner it may be conducted, is liable to Contingencies to which all our Resources, if they were yet unimpaired, would not be equal, and that in our present Circumstances we have no Choice.

" We deny that this War has hitherto been conducted on a consistent Plan, or any Plan at all, of which we need not give a more decisive and striking Proof, than the Expedition under Colonel Goddard did not co-operate with that from Bombay against Poona; that the Authority formerly given to the Presidency of Bombay over that Army, was withdrawn in favour of another Measure, of which they had no Information; and that General Goddard's final March to Surat was merely Matter of Accident, and absolutely contrary to the Governor General's Wishes and Intentions. On the 4th March 1779 he declared, ' He wished equally with Mr. Francis for the ' Return of the Detachment to Berar, and equally dreaded to hear of its proceeding to the other Coast.'

" But if the Reverse were true, and if the War had really been conducted on a consistent Plan, we deny that it has been varied by desultory Votes of Council on every Measure required for its Prosecution. We do not know or believe that there is a single Instance of any Question concerning the War, being carried against the Opinion of the Governor General, except that now immediately before us, and even this we presume was not in Contemplation with the Governor a Month ago, when the Resolution was taken of recalling and reducing Captain Popham's Detachment with common Consent, and, as we thought, the Governor's entire Satisfaction.

" It is not denied, ' That feeble Measures and Advances for Peace may give Strength and ' Presumption to our Adversaries, and discourage our Friends, or that the Principles of Enterprize ' and Inaction are not to be combined in the same general Measure.' But we do not admit that these general Propositions are applicable to our Situation. Our Opinion is, that we are in no Condition to continue the War on any Terms, which suppose the Continuance of the present Expence, or even with a considerable Diminution of it. Whether our Resources be exhausted, or whether they be withheld from us, it is equally true, that there is no Money in our Treasury. We hope that in such critical Circumstances, it will not be proposed to take the Deposit out of the New Fort. We know not how near we are to the Extremity for which it was provided. But even supposing our immediate Wants were relieved by that little Supply, let us consider where it would leave us. After discharging the instant Demands upon the Treasury, our former Statements shew, what a very inconsiderable Portion of it would remain in our Hands, while the Credit and Advantage of possessing such a Reserve in Specie against an extraordinary Emergency would be lost. In effect we should publickly avow, that the Distress against which the Deposit was reserved had actually fallen upon us.

" We never meant to propose feeble Measures, which necessarily defeat themselves; nor yet do we approve of vigorous Measures in the Sense in which Vigour has been hitherto understood, because we are convinced that this Government is unable to support them; and if they could be supported a short Time longer, they would not bring us nearer to our Object.

" Before the Commencement of the War, we foresaw and foretold the principal Consequences that would attend it; we now judge of it by its Effects, which we hope will be considered, though every other Sort of Argument should continue to be disregarded. We have seen the Event of Two Years Military Operations, and of a Succession of Enterprizes, which, in Point of Effort and Expence, were as vigorous as any Thing we could now undertake.

" The Expedition to Poona ended in a Disgrace, which, but for the Generosity or forbearance of the Marattas, might have left Bombay defenceless.

" We know not the Expence of this Measure, but we believe the Company will find it enormous.

" The March of the Army under Colonel Leslie had had all the Appearance of an active and vigorous Resolution, and had produced as much Success as could reasonably be expected. It has conquered an open Country, which at some future Day, and if ever the promised Collections from it should be made, is to return Thirty Lacks a Year to the Company. Against this Acquisition the permanent Expence of an Increase of Establishment to regulate and defend it must be placed, and the Value of the Remainder compared with the Charge of the Expedition; the Company will then know at what Price they have acquired a new Territory on the Malabar Coast. At the End of February last, the Sums remitted to this Detachment alone amounted to almost Seventy-six Lacks of of Current Rupees; and we are convinced that we are much within Bounds in computing that a Crore of Rupees will not clear it to the End of October.

" The March of a Detachment from the Coast, and another from Bombay, to strengthen General Goddard, has yet produced no Effect that we know of, but to raise their Pay to a Level with that of the Bengal Troops, which, of itself, is no slight Inconvenience.

" The Detachment under Major Camac which was ordered about the Beginning of last Year to join Colonel Goddard, after costing the Company Current Rupees 4,36,793, returned without Effect.

" Many Advantages were promised from the Treaty with the Rana of Gohud; particularly that of dividing the Strength and Attention of the Marattas:—If it has really produced that or any other Effect that deserves the Name of Advantage, or that can be placed in Comparison with the Expence of the Measure, we wish to see it stated.

" We are informed by the Commissary General, that the total Expence of Captain Popham's Detachment to the End of April last, amounted to C<sup>t</sup> R<sup>s</sup> 5,55,953; at this Rate the present Expence must amount to C<sup>t</sup> R<sup>s</sup> 7,41,271.

" With these discouraging Experiments in our View, we are called upon to embark in another Enterprize for the avowed Purpose of supporting that of General Goddard; yet the Governor's Expectation of Success from this new Effort, cannot be greater than those which he professed to entertain of the former. Even after the Delay in Bundelcund, he always considered Colonel Leslie's Detachment as capable of accomplishing the Ends of its Formation, and professed the strongest Conviction, that, under a proper Conduct, the Effects would still answer his most sanguine Hopes.

" It is true that the Part which this Government has hitherto borne in the War, belongs to the Governor, and that we have no Share in the Responsibility attending it; but it is equally true, that in the future Measures of this Government we must take our Part. We cannot transfer the Responsibility, though we might relinquish the Powers incident to our Station. In many Cases, we may find ourselves compelled not to interrupt the Operation of Acts already resolved on against our Opinion, especially when the Government, or its Representatives, are once engaged in the Execution of them. In such Circumstances we have no Choice. But a Defence of this Sort will not apply to new Measures or new Plans, which cannot be resolved on without our Consent. For these and their Consequences, we must, of Necessity, be answerable jointly with the Governor, therefore cannot divest ourselves of the Right of judging of both. If on the present Occasion we are mistaken in our Judgement, it will not add to the Load with which the Governor General may be charged: We rather think he derives a visible Advantage from the Part we are forced to take in this Question. There is no Difficulty in displaying the possible Benefits which might have resulted from a Measure untried, while the Burthen of proving that such Benefits were unattainable, together with the ideal Loss of them, will be thrown upon the opposite Party.

" We have as little Faith as the Governor can have in the Sufficiency of official Argument, to overcome decided Opinions. What we have said is meant to stand for our Vindication at Home. We heartily wish it might have more Weight than we fear it will have in this Place. We wish to co-operate heartily and sincerely with the Governor General, in effecting a Peace on reasonable Terms. Means of Negotiation are in his Power, which are not within ours. To accomplish a Peace ourselves against his Inclination, we know to be impossible. Till very lately, our Hopes nearly amounted to Conviction that we were all agreed on this Point, and that the Season of the Rains in which Hostilities must cease on both Sides, would have been employed in effecting a Pacification. On this Principle we consented to the Proposition for accepting the Mediation of Moodajee Boosla. We wish to know if any, and what Steps have been taken in consequence. As this Measure has no Connection with the proposed Expedition, we hope it will not be deserted. Without making improper Advances to the Marattas, other Means might be taken to the same End; but we are perfectly sensible that none can succeed, in which the Governor General will not take an active Part. If after all a formal Peace is not to be obtained, we do not think it follows, that an offensive War must necessarily be continued. A general Outline of the Plan we allude to has been suggested to the Governor General. We do not think it advisable to enter it in this Place, but we are ready to submit our Thoughts to him on the Subject, whenever he thinks proper.

" Mr. Francis.—I beg Leave to add a few Words to the preceding Minute, in Reply to the personal Appeal made to me by the Governor General. I persuade myself he would not propose an Alternative to me which he thought I could not accept of with Honour; but as I understand it, there is no Point of Honour in the Question. I think it belongs to the Governor to propose and recommend such Measures as he thinks fit, to the Approbation of the Board; and circumstanced as we now are, it must be some very essential Consideration that can induce me to oppose him. I would neither attempt to take that Lead out of his Hands, nor yet engage implicitly to submit to his Opinions. Every View to my own Ease and Happiness would incline me to wish that the Constitution of the Government permitted him to dictate, or to resolve and act without me.

me. But I am vested with a Publick Trust, from the Duties of which I cannot be exempted while I hold the Station that creates it.

" I believe the Governor General yielded to my Opinion, in resolving to recall and reduce Captain Popham's Detachment, but this was a Concession to which he did not long adhere.

" That he should have 'laboured to accommodate his Sentiments to mine, by a studied Attention to my Opinions, in every Measure which he had ventured to propose in the Course of 'the last Fifteen Months,' is a Fact with which I declare most solemnly I was utterly unacquainted (a).

" Read the following Letter from Brigadier General Goddard.

" Gentlemen,

" I had the Honour to address you the 27th ult. acquainting you with the Enemies Forces having desisted from further Attempts to make any Impression upon the Guzerat Province, and that from every Intelligence I could learn, it was Scindia's Intention to relinquish the Country altogether, and march either towards Eugene or the Decan. A few Days subsequent to the Date of that Letter, my Mircarrahs brought me Accounts of Scindia's having moved with his whole Army towards Ugein. These Reports have been since confirmed, and it is now generally and confidently believed that he has laid aside the Design it was supposed he had formed, of visiting the Decan, and proposes to pass the Rainy Season at Ugein. Holker has accompanied him, and will reside at Indore, a principal City in the Neighbourhood of Eugene, and the chief Residence of his Family.

" In consequence of the Departure of Scindia from the Neighbourhood of Guzerat, and the near Approach of the Rains, which did not admit of any Delay, I re-crossed the Narbuddee, and directed my March to Surat, where I arrived with the greatest Part of the Army the 8th instant. (b)

" The following Instructions were resolved on the 25th instant, and sent to Colonel Muir.

" To Colonel Grainger Muir.

" Sir,

" As you have been ordered by Col. Morgan to proceed from the Station at Futtygur with a Detachment of the Company's Troops, consisting of Two Regiments of Cavalry, Three of Sepoys, and a Company of Artillery, to the Assistance of Lieutenant Colonel Camac, on Application made by the latter for that Purpose; we have supposed, that before this Period, the Forces under your Command must have joined those heretofore commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Camac, and under such Supposition we directed you on the 2d instant to take the Command of that Detachment, at the same Time ordering Lieutenant Colonel Camac to deliver it up to you.

" As the collected Force of Infantry and Cavalry of the Two Detachments when joined must greatly exceed the Service remaining to employ them, and the Artillery certainly so beyond all Proportion, we direct that you dismiss such Part of your Force in Infantry and Artillery as the actual or probable Exigency may not require you to retain, and order their return to the Douab. We direct also, that you dismiss the 2d Regiment of Cavalry, retaining the 3d.

“ We direct, that you make it your Object to obtain Possession of Ugein and its Dependencies, and for this Purpose we order you to proceed thither, demanding the Assistance of such a Body of the Rana's Troops as you may think requisite, and the Rana's Presence with them.

“ If the Rana should refuse or evade Compliance with the Requisition made of him, you are to deliver to him in Writing, a Protest against his Conduct, declaring him Guilty of an Infraction of his Treaty with this Government, of which a Copy is enclosed.

“ In the Course of your March you will take such Advantage of the Enemy as Opportunities may offer to you, but for the Sake of such Advantage you must not be diverted from the Object which we have prescribed, but keep it invariably in Prospect until you have accomplished it.

“ Our Instructions to you are intended to be general, and rather to mark the Objects which we wish to attain by the Operations of the Troops under your Command, than to fix the Means of their Accomplishment. These Means we leave to your own Judgment and to the Exigency of Circumstances, of which we cannot be aware or advised in sufficient Time to instruct you particularly on them; and we have so great Reliance on your Activity and Experience that we cannot suffer ourselves to hesitate in leaving this Power in your Hands, convinced that you will never adopt a Measure, without a full Consideration of its probable Consequences, nor abate from the Prosecution of it when once undertaken, unless compelled by urgent and evident Necessity.

“ We think it necessary to recommend to you in the strongest Manner to keep your Force entire, making no Detachments from it but such as are absolutely necessary and unavoidable; and in order to give Effect to this Instruction, and to remove the Necessity of your establishing Garrisons for the Places which may either surrender to your Arms or require our Protection, we direct and empower you to assign them to the Charge or absolute Possession of such of the neighbouring Zemindars as are best qualified to receive them, either by natural Right or by Situation, added to that of Service and approved Attachment; excepting only such as lie contiguous to the Dominions of the Rana of Gohud, and appertain to him in virtue of the Treaty.

“ With these Explanations we give you a full Discretion for Disposal of all conquered Places and Territories in your Route, hoping that you will be able to make such Stipulations with the Proprietors as may obtain either a present Aid in Money for the Relief of the Expence of the Expedition, or a future and permanent Income in the Way of Tribute.

The same was delivered in.

Read, the following Extract of a Consultation of the 12th May 1781, beginning at Page 290 of the same Book.

“ Extract of a Letter from Colonel Camac to Mr. Malet, dated near Holaries, 29th March 1781.

“ In respect to my Operations, I had penetrated into Malva as far as the Town of Seronge, when being disappointed in the Assistance I had Reason to expect from the Nabob of Bhopaul and the neighbouring Rajahs, being unable for Want of Cavalry to prevent the Desolation of the Country, and Scindia's Army with a Train of Artillery, Field and Battering, arriving at the same Time, I found my Stock of Provisions soon exhausted, and having taken the Opinion of my principal Officers, determined on a Retreat. The Enemy had cannonaded us for Seven Days; thereby attempting to draw us from the Town, which was our only Resource for Provisions. It was on the 7th at Midnight that we moved off, and with so much Secrecy that the Enemy did not come up with us till near Day Break. They then attacked us from all Quarters, but were as often repulsed. They pursued their Attack on the Second Day, and on the Third I reached a Town called Mahaulpore, which I forced to supply me, and then marched out, and in vain attempted to bring on an Engagement. We halted there several Days to refresh our People and relieve our wounded, of which we had a great number. The orderly Retreat, that was made before so able a General as Scindia and so numerous an Army, does the highest Credit to the Troops; they behaved like Heroes. On arriving at this Place, finding that the Enemy encamped within Three Cofs, and kept their Baggage Seven Cofs in the Rear, I determined to beat up their Quarters on the Night of the 24th. We accordingly succeeded to Admiration, surprized and routed their first Camp where Scindia was, pursued them to their Second, drove them Three Cofs further, and across the Sind, where we overtook their Artillery, and by Nine o'Clock were Masters of Ten Pieces of Cannon, all their Tumbrils, Two Elephants, and the greatest Part of their Stores, and Ammunition and Baggage; we took the Guns yoked, otherwise we could not have brought them off. The Enemy are in the utmost Disorder, and I trust that this Success will have the best Influence on our Concerns in every Part, but particularly on your Side of the Continent.

and

To prove that the Effect produced by the Malva Expedition, was such as Mr. Hastings had uniformly predicted, viz. to withdraw Madajee Scindia from the War in Guzerat to the Defence of his own Country, to detach him from the Maratta Confederacy, and to accelerate the Conclusion of the Maratta War in India,

Read, the following Extract from the Appendix to the printed Evidence, beginning at Page 259 of the same.

" It is observable, notwithstanding what has so often been said respecting the Generosity of Scindia, in the Affair of Worgaum, and his early Desire to cultivate our Friendship, that our Government does not appear to have manifested any strong Sense of Obligations to that Chief, or Inclination to meet his Wishes, till the Time when he negotiated the Treaty at present subsisting between us and the Maratta State. Prior to this Period, he was perhaps of all his Countrymen the one who suffered most from our Arms, during the Course of the War; he it was who was chiefly harraised by the Operations of General Goddard's Army, and Colonel Camac's Detachment was especially destined against his Country.

" Our present Connection with Scindia is one of the Fruits of this last Measure, which it was foreseen would certainly disengage him from the War in Guzerat. It was also, or at least might have been foreseen, that it was no less calculated to bring about a Peace between us and the Marattas. The Operations of our Troops in Malva convinced Scindia that there was no Safety for him but in a speedy Accommodation, and fortunately he possessed the Power, as well as the Inclination, to accomplish an Object that could not be less desirable or necessary to him than it was to us." (a)

The Counsel for the Defendant informed the House, that the Managers for the Commons having stated that there was a regular, established, known Fine, which was taken in all Cases as a Peshcush, and that the Sum taken from Kellaran and Cullian Sing could not be considered as such, and having produced in Evidence only a Peshcush paid on the Renewal of a Sunnud; they would next proceed to shew, that in the Case of Lands granted or leased de novo, the Peshcush taken was not fixed or certain, but in Proportion to the Value of the Land.

The Pergunnah Atteah 4/16 was the Zemindary of Shaw Nowaze, who died without Child, or Brother or Sister; upon his Death one Alyar took Possession of the Zemindary without any legal Title thereto, or being authorized by Government; and in this Manner continues to possels it. If your Honble. Board will grant me the Zemindary of these Pergunnahs, I agree to pay Twenty-seven thousand Rupees Nuzzerana, upon receiving the customary Sunnuds; I will also yearly pay the Public Revenues agreeable to the present Year's Bundbust, under the Condition that, upon my paying the full Revenue of One Year, the Settlement on the same Terms and Conditions will be renewed with me for the Year ensuing, and so on from Year to Year. With regard to the Salt in said Mehals, I shall obey whatever Orders or Regulations shall be issued by the Government.

"The Zemindary of Habillee Penjirah having suffered so much during the Farm of Rajah Deby Sing, that the present Year's Revenue could not be realized without selling Part of the Lands, my Son Radanut, by my Advice and Concurrence, and by the Advice of and Concurrence of Jankiram Duan, sold Purgunnah Salbarre, &c. and the Price was paid to Government as Revenue by Rada Govind Ghose my Sister's Son; I therefore pray your Honble. Board will be pleased to order a Zemindary Sunnud, in the Name of Rada Gobind Ghose, for the above mentioned Mahl; and that, if the above named Ghose shall apply to have the said Mahl separated from the Zemindary his Request may be granted.

"Whereas Pergunnah Salbarree, &c. in Sircar Tajepoor, in Chuckla Goragaur, a Khalfa Mehal is registered in the Toomay Rent Roll at 53,755 2 7 3, and composes a Part of my Pergunnah Havalee Penjirah: And whereas the Mehals are annually suffering from the Desertion of the Ryotts, to so great a Degree, as to render all my Efforts to keep the Lands in Cultivation ineffectual; and as in consequence of this a great Deficiency has arisen in this Revenue, I Maha Rajah Radanut, who am Zemindar of Havalee Penjirah, &c. of my own free Will and Accord, and without Compulsion or Restraint, have sold all the Mehal and Sayr, the Hasiel and Putteet Lands, the Jungles and Bunker, the Julkers and Bunker, the Garden, Tanks, and Trees of every Kind belonging to or contained in the said Mehals as particularized below, exclusive of the Deweter, Bermooter, Perun, Fuckeraun, &c. Bazee Zeemin, to Rada Govind Ghose, the Son of Bubram Ghose, and Grandson of Nawnit Ghose, in Consideration of the Sum of 53,755 Sicca of good and lawful Money, being at this Time the full Value of the above Mehals; moreover, I have received the above Sum in ready Money from the above mentioned Persons, and paid it into the Government's Treasury in Discharge of the Balance of my Zemindary.

"I therefore by this Deed agree, that the above mentioned Persons do take Possession of these Mehals, which shall be separated from the Tahud of my Zemindary; and that after causing them to be registered at the Sudder as their own Talhooks, they pay the full Revenues thereof to Government; they may dispose of them to their Heirs from Generation to Generation, or alienate them by Deed of Sale, or in any other Manner they may think proper.

"From this Time neither I nor my Heirs have any Claims to, or Concern in these Mehals: In Confirmation of which I have executed this Bill of Sale, that it may be produced when Occasion shall require.

The Counsel for the Defendant informed the House, that the Book being now at Hand, they would proceed to examine Mr. Hudson, touching the Transmission to the Court of Directors of the Letters in page 977 of the Printed Minutes.

Then the following Question was put to the Witness :

Q. At what Period were the Letters from Mahomed Reza Cawn, and from the Begum Bobu, which appear in the Printed Minutes of the Evidence, P. 977, transmitted to the Company ?

Then the Witness produced Book 199, intituled, " 1770, 1771, Bengal Country Correspondence received," and said,

A. These Letters are dated in the Year 1770, and not in the Year 1771; there is no Date of the Correspondence of 1770 marked upon the Book, but that of the Year 1771, bound in the same Book, appears to have been received on the 16th of July 1772.

Q. Do you know whether the Mother of Moberick ul Dowlah was not living at this Hour, and receiving a Pension from the Company ?

A. At this Hour I cannot answer.

Q. When the last Accounts came in ?

A. It appears already from the Evidence that she has a Pension.

Q. Do you not know that that Pension has been in Fact paid many Years subsequent to the Appointment of Munny Begum in 1772 ?

A. It appears so from the List of Pensions paid out of the Nabob's Stipend.

Cross-examined by the Managers for the Commons.

Q. Whether the Court of Directors always of course upon every Dispatch read the Country Correspondence—Is it the usual Practice ?

A. I believe not.

Q. Are you not of Opinion that a great Number of Matters may lie in the Country Correspondence without coming to Light and being read by the Court of Directors ?

A. I do not know whether it was so formerly or not, but I know it would not be so now; I mean in a Matter of Importance.

Q. Speak to the best Extent of your Memory, whether or no some Years ago a Matter may not have lain in the Country Correspondence a considerable Time, without coming to the Notice of the Court of Directors ?

A. I cannot tell what it might do in the Year 1772, for I was not in the Service.

Q. In your own Memory ?

A. I believe it might before the Appointment of the Board of Controul.

To shew the Nature of the Office held by Mr. Larkins in the Company's Service,

Read, from Book 58, already delivered in, the following Extract of a General Letter from the Court of Directors to the Governor General and Council at Bengal, dated 15th December 1775, beginning at Page 665, of the same Book.

" Our Governor General and Council at Fort William in Bengal.

" Par. 22. We observe by your Letter of the 24th February last; that you had appointed Mr. William Larkins to fill the Post of Sub-Accountant upon Mr. Livius's declining it; which Post, by our Letter of the 12th April following, we had directed to be occupied by Mr. Leonard Collings. Although we are sensible of the Abilities of Mr. Larkins for the Office of Sub-Accountant, yet as we cannot consent to any Person being appointed thereto, but upon the Express Terms on which Mr. Collings was appointed; and as we suppose Mr. Larkins will not chuse to hold that Office upon those Terms, it is therefore our Pleasure, if he should refuse to continue in it, that you in such Case appoint Mr. Collings your Sub-Accountant immediately upon Receipt hereof; but if Mr. Larkins should think proper to remain therein, we then direct that Mr. Collings do succeed to the Office of Sub-Accountant upon the first Vacancy."

Read also, further Extract from the same Letter, beginning at Page 711 of the same Book.

We were on the Point of nominating the Sub-Accountant, Mr. William Larkins, to the Vacancy occasioned by the Resignation of Mr. Darell, when we received your Orders of the 12th April 1775, containing the Appointment of Mr. Collings to this Succession immediately after Mr. Livius. This Gentleman having, as we before informed you, declined the Office of Sub-Accountant, Mr. Collings of Course came directly into Mr. Darell's Place, and has taken Charge accordingly. Mr. Larkins feeling a Disappointment at being deprived of an Office, which from the Sense we entertain of his Industry and Abilities, we had intended to grant him, has addressed us on the Subject; we beg Leave to point out his Letter for your Observation, and to repeat the Recommendation we gave of his Merits in our General Letter of the 16th May last.—— He expresses a Readiness to continue to act with the same Assiduity, under the present Arrangement, that he hath hitherto shewn in the Accountant's Office.

Your General Letter, lately received by the Talbot, informs us of your having, agreeably to our Orders of the 12th April 1775, appointed Mr. Leonard Collings to the Post of Accountant at your Presidency, on its being vacated by Mr. Darell's Resignation; and you also tell us, that Mr. Larkins feels a Disappointment at being deprived of an Office, you, from his Industry and Abilities, intended to grant him. Now, as we consider the Sentiments of Mr. Larkins upon this Occasion, as expressed in his Letter, entered on your Consultations 11th March, deserving our favourable Notice, and as we think that the Post of Accountant should be filled by a Person who has regularly been initiated in the Duty of that Office, by serving as Sub-Accountant, you are hereby directed, upon the Receipt hereof, to signify to Mr. Larkins, that he has the Option of being appointed Accountant, according to the Permission granted him in our Letter of the 15th December last, (Par. 22 and 30), and upon the express Terms upon which the Office of Accountant was originally instituted, that he should continue first as younger Junior Merchant, without rising to a superior Rank in our Service.

“ Par. 36. Deeming the Duty of preparing the monthly Audit of the Accounts of the Revenue Department, for the Member of the Council Auditor of the Week, by Mr. Croftes, our Accountant General in this Department, incompatible with his Office as a Member of the Committee of Revenue, we have delegated this Trust to Mr. Larkins, Accountant General to our General Department, so far as respects the Examination of the Treasury Account of that Committee, with Directions to lay before us a monthly Report for the Audit of it. For the more particular Nature of this new Office, and the Motives which induced us to grant Mr. Larkins, as a Reward for the present and former Services which he has rendered the Company, the Compensation minuted on our Proceedings, we beg Leave to refer you to them, as noted in the Margin, and doubt not of their meeting your Approbation.”

“ To the Honble. the Court of Directors for Affairs of the Honble. United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East Indies.

“ Par. 8. We have received a Letter from Mr. Larkins, our Accountant General, soliciting to be replaced in his former Rank on the List of Company's Servants next below Mr. Thomas Calvert, and immediately above Mr. John Taylor, as the Gentlemen on the List of that Season, by rising to the Rank of Senior Merchants, will supercede Mr. Larkins, who by your express Appointment was fixed to remain the youngest Senior Merchant on this Establishment.

“ 9. This Appointment, when granted to Mr. Larkins, was intended to give him Precedence on the List of Company's Servants; but as it can no longer be attended with that Effect, it would be an Injury and Degradation to him to continue it, as his Assistants in Time would rise to a Rank above him. Mr. Larkins's Merits entitle him to every Indulgence which can be shown him, we therefore venture with Confidence to recommend his Letter, with our Minutes upon it, which make a Number in the Packet, to your Perusal, and his Case to your favourable Consideration.

Read, from Book 523, already delivered in, the following Extract of a Public Letter from the Governor General and Council at Bengal, dated 6th March 1788, beginning at Paragraph 63 of the same Letter.

“ Par. 63. The Accountant General having represented to us the Peculiarity of his Situation, while his Salary has been restricted to the Amount prescribed by your Orders of the 11th April 1785, and having solicited that upon the Grounds stated in a Letter which he has addressed to us, he may receive the Difference between what has been drawn by the Accountant General to the Revenue Department and himself, during that Period; we have readily complied with his Request, so far as to transmit a Copy of his Letter, a Number in the Packet; and we beg Leave to recommend his Case and Situation to your most favourable Consideration.

Read, from Book 672, already delivered in, the following Extract of a Letter from the Governor General and Council at Bengal, in the Secret and Separate Department, and dated 14th January 1789, beginning at Paragraph 173 of the same Letter.

“ Par. 173. We must also beg Leave to avail ourselves of the same Occasion of recommending the Salary of your Accountant General to your Re-consideration, as the Union of Three Offices in One must necessarily have encreased the Duties of his general Superintendance, though we are sensible, in the Case of Mr. Larkins, it cannot have added to the individual Share of Labour he has, at all Times, given to the Performance of his Duty. The Correspondence which you appear to have studied in the Salary last assigned to the Accountant General, with those of your Secretaries, when the Duties of that Department were separated, induce us to recommend, that a proportional proportional Increase may take Place in the Consolidation of the Offices, and that the Allowances may be made equal to those now assigned to the Secretary of the Government.

Read, from Book 666, the following Extract of a Letter from the Governor General and Council at Bengal to the Court of Directors, dated 31st July 1790, beginning at Paragraph 41 of the same Letter.

“ Par. 41. The Regulations which we have made for conducting the Issue of Promissory Notes were recommended by your Accountant General, whose Zeal for the Preservation of your Credit, and whose constant Attention to those Engagements within the Limits of his Official Care, we have frequently had Occasion to commend. A Copy of the Regulations will make a Number in the Packet. The Notes, of which One is also sent, are at present prepared under the immediate Charge and Inspection of our Secretary, from Plates that have been engraved for the Purpose; but to obtain a better Security against Frauds, we request that your Honble. Court will either send out annually from England by different Ships, a certain Number of Blank Promissory Notes of the New Form, on Paper bearing the Company's Water Mark, sufficient according to Mr. Larkins's Calculation for the Expenditure of Two Years, as well for the sake of insuring the Arrival of an ample Supply in Case of Accidents to your Ships, as to provide against any Want if the Issue should exceed the Estimate; or that you will furnish us with a sufficient Quantity of Blank Paper of the proper Size, bearing the Company's Water Mark, and with it a few Copper Plates and Presses.

“ 42. In the Event of your adopting the latter expedient, which, however we hope will yield to the other as in all Respects we think more advisable, we would further recommend that you would appoint to Bengal one or two Persons to whom the Duty of keeping the Plates in Repair and taking off the Impressions may be assigned, under Covenants to serve a certain Number of Years and with Security for their good Conduct, as it is a Matter of Doubt whether Engravers will always be found in this Country who can undertake to execute such a Trust.

Read,

this, I had become obnoxious and suspected; having no Remedy, I found it absolutely necessary for me to assent to the Plan; and, in consequence of that, to raise 30,000 new Horsemen. It is now Fourteen Months that we have laboured under inexpressible Distress, and been loaded with an Expence of Crores of Rupees for the Pay of these Troops; but without endangering the Friendship and Alliance of the English Gentlemen, I was desirous to negotiate a Reconciliation at any Rate between them and Pundit Purdhaun, in such a Manner as to ensure the Perpetuity of the antient Alliance of this Quarter with both Sides. During these Fourteen Months, I have therefore continually informed you of all Matters and have cheerfully submitted to all Difficulties and Distresses, but when, the first Opportunity having been lost, a Treaty is at last received, even in that, the Concerns of Ragonaut Row are expressed in a doubtful and ambiguous Manner; besides which, in the Affairs of Gwalior, Futty Sing, Guicawar, and the Ranna of Gohud, there is great Room for Disputes. The Particulars of all these Points are treated at large in the Persian Letter, and are long and too tedious to be repeated here. There is a Distance of 900 Cois between us, and a considerable Time in sending Letters and receiving the Answers is lost. From unlucky Events and Circumstances, I have been compelled to send an Army under the Command of Rajah Chimnaje Behadre; but how long am I to labour under the Difficulties and Distresses for the Pay of the Soldiers which is immense? Though Two or Three Lacks of Rupees have been received, of what Assistance can that be, or how does that relieve us from the Weight of the Ar-rears? We have entered into Engagements with Pundit Purdhaun, and the Nabob Nizam ul Dowlah, but that has not tended to the diminishing our Difficulties, nor can they be removed till Pundit Purdhaun and the English Gentlemen are reconciled. The Maha Rajah has accordingly exerted and employed his utmost Abilities for this Purpose, and has written to you on the Subject; but the Event has not turned out as he wished or hoped for; and now that the Treaty is arrived, even in that there is great Room for Alterations. We are without Resource and Remedy, God knows and is Witness whether I am the Friend or the Enemy of the English; but the Earth is hard, and the Heavens are far removed. The Nabob Amdul Dowlah is prudent and foreseeing, and all the Difficulties of every Measure are well known to him; at any Rate he will not blame me. I am without the smallest Resource, and can see no Remedy. Had the English Army under General Goddard never arrived at Hoshangabad, what was then done would not have given Umbrage to the Decan People, and we should not have been compelled to send an Army to Cuttack, and to submit to such a Weight of Expence, but we should have been free and at Liberty in all Points, nor would any Difficulty have come upon us. From a Period of Twenty Years our Friendship has been daily encreasing, but from the Plan determined on by the Nabob Nizam ul Dowlah, which has occasioned all these Distresses, I am fallen into great Embarrassment. Had Peace been concluded between Pundit Paudhaun and the English, I was in Hopes that from the Friendship of the Nabob I might have requested some small Assistance, on which Subject I accordingly wrote before, and the Nabob has kindly granted us Three Lacks of Rupees. I also hoped that Pundit Paudhaun would likewise have given some Share, and that the Nabob Nizam ul Dowlah would have contributed his Share, while we ourselves would have repaid the Rest out of the Country of Hyder Naig; but on the contrary this Prospect has not been realized, and the Negotiations are extended to an unforeseen Length. The Will of God is superior to every Thing. As yet, what Advantage has accrued to this Quarter from the Name which the Maha Rajah has adopted, and from all the Pains and Exertions which I have taken during the last 14 Months, and from the many Letters I have written, in which I continually stile myself the firm Friend, the Friend, the Friend. Fourteen Months have now elapsed since we raised 30,000 Horsemen. If there were only paid 300 Rupees, what a large Sum it would make; but the Allowances established in this Country are 4 or 500 Rupees for each Horseman, and some have even more than that; besides which, there are large Allowances to the Jemadars and other Officers. Consider then well how great the Expence of the whole must be. Having fully understood this Matter you must explain it to the Nabob; for 14 Months we have supported ourselves, and how much longer must we wait in Expectation.” (a)

“ You write that the Governor, after expressing many Doubts and Objections about supplying the Expences of the Troops, which arrived at Cuttack, and after you had satisfied him, said, ‘ The Gentlemen of the Council will not agree; for my own Part I approve of it; for the present I will give thus much Money; but the Troops at this Place are going to Madras, let near 3,000 Horse of the Troops which are at Cuttack accompany them, so that they may arrive in Safety at the Place of their Destination; but let nothing be said of the Chout of Bengal, for this would draw great Discredit on me with the Council and the English; and where Advantages of Crores and Lacks are in Contemplation, it is improper to look to such inconsiderable Ob-jects; some Compensation will be found for it.’ (b)

“ As the Friendship of the English is, at all Events, the First and most necessary Consideration, I will therefore exert myself in establishing Peace; for the Power of making Peace with all is the best Object: To this all other Measures are subservient; and this will certainly be done by them (the English).” (a)

“ Par. 22. Whatever I and Bissumber Pundit together represented to the Rajah and Appe Sahib, will have been made known to you by the Pundit, who has been dispatched from hence. Colonel Pearse has had Permission to march; and strict Orders have been given to the Beuffaries to furnish him with Provisions; and having sent an Agent from us with him, he has been forwarded to the Southward from the Neighbourhood of Cuttack. Bissumber Pundit, at the Time of his Departure, petitioned from the Presence, that they would not leave Cuttack till he should address an Arzee to them after his Arrival at Calcutta. The Troops here complain greatly that they came in the Hopes of enriching themselves in the Country of Bengal, and that to this Time they had neglected all those Hopes of acquiring Money and Goods; that they had now, for the Sake of Friendship, given free Passage to Colonel Pearse, and they must now either give them Intelligence where to get their Money, or else suffer them to shew their Courage and Activity. How long are these Discourses to last? We are anxiously expecting Letters from your Quarter. We have performed the Duties of Friendship. To this Time you and I have, in all Cases and Seasons, exerted ourselves in representing all Matters, and pointing out the Opportunities. The Execution of every Thing depends upon the Nabob; he will do whatever is right.

Read, also, from Book 29, already delivered in, the following Extract of a Letter from the Governor General and Council at Bengal to the Court of Directors, dated the 27th April 1781, beginning at Page 381 of the same Book.

“ To the Honble. Court of Directors for Affairs of the Honble. United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East Indies.

“ Par. 19. You were informed, in our Letter of the 29th November, of the Resolution which we had taken to detach over Land towards Madras a Company of European Artillery, and a Body of Six Battalions of Native Infantry, under the Command of Lieutenant Colonel Pearse, to aid the Operations of our Troops on the Coast. This Detachment having been collected near Narainghur, in Midnapore, marched from the Place of Rendezvous on the 21st Janry, and crossed the Soubenzeka River on the 9th February.

“ 20th. Although the low State of the Country through which its Route lay, the long Continuance of the Rains, and the uncommon Difficulties which, after the Exertions made to furnish our first Aids to Fort St. George, presented themselves in the Equipment of this Force, were sufficient Impediments to an earlier Movement of it; we had besides a political Motive for not urging it sooner, in the Desire of waiting for Replies from the Government of Berar, to the Dispatches which we had sent thither in September with our Offers of Peace to the Mahratta State, lest, by a precipitate March of the Detachment into the Borders of Cuttack, before Time had been allowed to the Commanding Officer of the Bera Troops which lay there, and in its destined Passage we might expose them to mutual Hostilities, and defeat the Ends of our Negotiation with that Government; but when the expected Replies arrived, and contained a total Rejection of our Proposals, founded, as we had every Reason to believe, on an Opinion that our Affairs were reduced to so desperate a State, as might render it too hazardous for them to take a decided Part in our Favour, and afforded them no Hope of Success in the Mediation which had been prescribed to them; we then deemed it incumbent upon us equally on the Principle of maintaining the Credit of our Power, and on the substantial Grounds on which the Expedition had been originally planned, to order its instant Commencement. Orders to this Effect were accordingly and immediately issued; but that we might at the same Time provide for the unmolested March of the Detachment through the Province of Orissa, and mark that Attention which was due to the Relation in which we had till that Time stood with the Government of Berar, we chose to depute a confidential Person to Raja Chimnaje Boosla, the Chief of the Berar Army, who should notify to him the Order which we had given to Colonel Pearse, to request him, in our Name, to cause such of his Troops as might yet be in the Road through which the Detachment was to pass, to remove at such a Distance from it as might prevent Individuals on either Side from engaging in mutual Broils; and, if the Rajah should be disposed to take a more decided Part in our Favour, to solicit the Aid of a Body of Cavalry, to accompany Colonel Pearse, and to act under his Command. Mr. David Anderson was appointed to this Service.

" 21st. The Instructions which we gave to Colonel Pearse were consonant to those given to Mr. Anderson; and at the same Time that they cautioned him in the strongest Manner to prevent, to the utmost of his Power, any Acts, or the Permission of any Acts, on the Part of his Detachment or its Followers, which could lead to Hostilities with the Government of Cuttac or the Berar Army, they directed him in the Event of his Progress being obstructed to make his Way against all Opposition. The Event has fully answered our Expectations as will be shewn in the Sequel.

" 22d. Mr. Anderson missing Rajah Chimnajee Boosla, who was engaged in a remote Expedition, and the Communication being stopped, was ordered to return at the Solicitation of the Maratta Chief. He was a Second Time deputed to him, and soon after returned, bringing with him Rajah Ram Pundit, the Naib of Cuttack; with whom an Engagement was formerly concluded in the Name of his Master Raja Chimnajee, by which it was stipulated, that a Body of 2,000 effective Horse should be detached from the Army at Cuttac, and placed under the Command of Colonel Pearse, their Pay to be issued by our Paymaster, at the Rate of One Lack of Rupees per Month; and that a Party of the Company's Forces should assist the Government of Berar, in asserting its Pretensions to the District of Gurra Mundela, a small Territory lying on the Banks of the Nerbudda, and under the actual Possession of the Peishwa. Major William Popham, a most deserving Officer in your Service, whom we have before had the Pleasure to distinguish to you for his spirited and gallant Conduct in the Capture of the Fort of Gwalior, as well as on other Occasions of Military Duty, has been accordingly ordered on this Service with the Regiment of Native Infantry, and the other Troops which had been in Gwalior to garrison that Fortress.

" 23d. It was at the same Time resolved, that a Gratuity of 13 Lacks of Rupees, being the Remainder of the Sum of 16 Lacks of Rupees proposed as a Contribution for the Relief of the Forces in the Province of Cuttac, in the Event of the Acquiescence of the Government of Berar in the Proposals which were transmitted in October last to them, should be granted and delivered to Rajah Ram Pundit, in the Behalf of Chimnajee, for the Relief of the Army, represented to be in the greatest Distress; and as an Acknowledgement for the past and seasonable Instances afforded of the Friendship of that Government, it was also resolved, that a Loan of Ten Lacks, requested for the same Purpose, should be granted to Chimnajee, on the Part of the Government of Berar, on the Security of Rajah Ram Pundit for Payment.

" 24th. As the Detail of this Negotiation contains many Particulars which are improper to be entered in the Body of our Consultations, we have therefore judged it expedient to form a detached Narrative of it, and to transmit it, in a separate Copy, to the Secret Committee of your Honourable Court.

" 25th. We shall briefly observe, that we have laboured, and we think with a Success now decided, to detach the most powerful Member of the Maratta State, and in its Relation to Bengal, the most capable of any in India to do it either Service or Hurt, from the general Confederacy which has been formed against us, and have converted it, ostensibly at least, into a Party to our Cause. The Event will shortly prove the Truth of our Conclusions.

" 26th. During the Course of this Transaction, the Detachment under the Command of Colonel Pearse proceeded by a quiet and unmolested Progress to Ganjain, where it arrived on the 17th ult. accompanied to the Borders of that District by a Person of Rank, deputed by the Order of Raja Chimnajee, and abundantly supplied with Provisions, and every other Aid and Accommodation it required. Some of the Plunderers of Chimnajee's Army made an Incursion on our Frontier, which he severely reformed, instantly causing the Offenders to be seized and punished in a public and exemplary Manner. This is the only Instance in which our Provinces have suffered any real Injury from the suspicious Situation of the Berar Army, during so long a Time in our Neighbourhood. It is now on its Return to Naypore.

" Fort William,
27th of April 1781.

(Signed at the End of the Letter)

" Warren Hastings,
E. Wheler.

Then the Witness produced a Book numbered 566.

The same was delivered in and read as follows :

" To the Honble. the Committee of Secrecy of the Honble. Court of Directors for Affairs of the Honble. United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East Indies.

" Honble. Sirs,

" In our General Letter to the Honble. Court of Directors, bearing Date the 27th instant, we have acquainted them with our Intention of transmitting to you, in a separate Address, an Account or Narrative of our Proceedings with respect to the Berar Government, and the Army of of the Berar Rajah, stationed for a long Time in the Province of Orissa, which contained Matter of too secret a Nature to appear on the Face of our Records, and we have now the Honor of communicating the same to you.

To render the Subject of the Narrative clear and intelligible, it will be necessary to revert to some Circumstances which happened a few Months ago, and to unfold the Dispositions and Views of some of the principal Powers of Hindostan.

In the Month of September 1780, Advices were received here from the Governor and Council of Madras, of the melancholy Fate of Colonel Baillie's Detachment, the Retreat of the Army under General Munro, and the desperate State of our Affairs on the Coast of Coromandel. It was immediately resolved, that the most vigorous Measures should be taken to assist the Presidency of Madras with Men and Money from Bengal. Accordingly Transports were fitted out with all Expedition, and General Sir Eyre Coote was sent round by Sea with a Supply of 15 Laaks of Rupees, and a strong Detachment of European Infantry and Artillery, the Flower of our Army; and it was agreed that a further Reinforcement of Five Thousand Sepoys should be assembled at Midnapore, and sent afterwards by Land under the Command of Col. Pearse.

At this important Period we were engaged in a War with the Marattah Government at Poonah, which had lasted for some Years. Much Expence had already been incurred; and notwithstanding a constant Train of Success which had attended all the Operations of our Army under the Command of General Goddard, we had still no immediate Prospect of terminating the War.

It was at this Time known that Moodajee Bhoosla the Rajah of the Maratta state of Berar, and Nizam Ally Cawn the Soubah of the Decan, had united in a Plan of Confederacy against the English, with Hyder Ally the Nabob of Mysore, and the Ministers of the Peshwa's Government at Poonah. Moodajee was to invade Bengal, and the Nizam was to enter the Company's Circuit of Cicacole, whilst Hyder was to pass the Gauts and lay waste the Carnatic. The Government of Poonah, pressed in their own Territories, could only contribute to this Plan of offensive War by Grants of Lands to its Allies.

The Rajah of Berar had nevertheless, on many Occasions, given the most evincing Proofs of his pacific Disposition towards the English, and had even given us early Intimation of this Confederacy; alleging that he had been compelled to enter into it from a Dread of the Retalment of his Associates; and assuring us, that whatever Appearances he might be constrained to assume, he would not involve the Berar Government in a decided Enmity with the English. In conformity to this Plan of Policy, Moodajee had sent from 30 to 40,000 Horse under the Command of his Second Son Chimnaje Baboo. They received their Dismission on the Day of the Dusserah, or the 11th of August 1779. The Plan of Operations prescribed to them by the Confederates was, to march into Behar, which they might have reached in two Months; but instead of following this Plan, they took a different Road, and by studied Delays had only reached Cuttack in the Month of May following, being about the Time when the periodical Rains usually set in that Province; which of course served them as a Pretext for deferring the Prosecution of their professed Design, and they were at this Time still laying at Cuttack.

The Nizam had committed no open Hostilities against us; though there is every Reason to suppose (and he has even himself avowed it) that he was the Projector of the Confederacy, and had secretly supplied the other Powers with Money to carry on their Operations against us.

The Advices from Madras proved but too fully the Activity and Spirit with which Hyder had begun to perform his Part in this alarming Confederacy.

Such was the Posture in which we stood, with respect to the Powers of this Country; our Advices regarding our European Enemies were uncertain. It was, however, firmly believed, that an Expedition would be attempted by the French in the Course of the Season against some of the Company's Settlements in India, though it was impossible to foresee whether it would fall on Bengal, Madras, or Bombay, though the latter was most probable.

Under these Circumstances, it became expedient to contract as much as possible, the Sphere of our Military Operations, so that, without endangering the Safety of our own Possessions in Bengal, we might be able to act with more Force and Efficacy in our Endeavours to recover the Carnatic, and to revenge the Injury which the English had sustained from Hyder Ally Cawn. The Government at Poonah had long borne an inveterate and avowed Enmity against Hyder, and though temporary Policy had now united them in one Cause, yet his great and unexpected Successes might naturally revive their former Jealousy, and alarm the Ministers of Poonah with Apprehensions for the future Safety of their own Territories. The Opportunity therefore seemed favorable for proposing to them Terms of Reconciliation from this Government; and as Moodajee Bhoosla had always professed the strongest Desire of effecting a Pacification betwixt us and the Maratta States, it was thought necessary to engage him as a Mediator in the intended Negotiation. With these Views a Treaty was drawn out by us, and sent to Naugpore, and Moodajee was desired to get it executed by the Peshwah and his Ministers, and to sign it himself as the Guarantee, for the punctual Observance of it on both Sides.

Vide Consultation of 2d
Oct. 1780.

Whilst this Negotiation was in suspense, it was agreed to postpone the March of the Detachment destined by Land for Madras, because its Route lay through the Territories of Moodajee Bhoosla, and it must necessarily pass by that Part of his Army which was laying at Cuttack under the Command of Chimnaje; Circumstances which, without having obtained the previous Concurrence of Moodajee, might, in the unsettled State of our Connection with that Prince, not only expose the Detachment to Difficulties and Opposition in its March, but lead it into Operations very different from the Intention of its Equipment, and draw on us the decided Enmity of Moodajee, whose Power, when exerted against us, would prove an important Acquisition to the Strength of Hyder and the Ministers of Poonah. The great Exertions which had already been made by this Government, required also some Time before the necessary Arrangement could be made for fitting out a new Detachment which was to perform so long a March, and be employed in Service of so much Importance.

Vide Appendix, No. 1,
2, 3, & 4.

On the 9th January 1781, Answers were, at length, received from the Rajah of Berar and his Ministers, which contained, however, so many Objections to the proposed Treaty, that little Room was left to hope for an immediate Accommodation with the Government of Poonah: And besides the Points which came into Discussion from their immediate Connection with the Treaty, these Letters contained a Variety of Claims and Propositions asserted by Moodajee on his own Account, which, though they were not wholly new, were recapitulated in a Style that impressed us with Doubts regarding the Sincerity of Moodajee's former Professions and Assurances.

The Season for Action was now far advanced, Col. Pearce's Detachment was almost ready, and the State of our Affairs on the Coast would not admit of longer Delay. It was evident also from the Answers which had been received from Moodajee, that he conceived that our Affairs were reduced to a State more desperate than they really were. To remove therefore this Impression, as well as to afford the most speedy Assistance to the Presidency of Madras, it was resolved that the Detachment should immediately proceed and make its Way through the Province of Orissa against all Opposition. To reconcile Moodajee however to this Measure by every Mark of Attention in our Power, and to prevent if possible a Rupture from the Meeting of the two Armies, it was agreed to depute a Gentleman from this Government to Chimnaje Baboo at Cuttack. Mr. Anderson was selected for this Service, and the following Instructions were given to him:

Sec<sup>y</sup> Dept.

" To Mr. David Anderson.

" Sir,

" We hereby appoint you our Special Minister to Rajah Chimnaje Bhoosla, the Commander of the Army of the Government of Berar, now in the Province of Cuttack, and we direct you to proceed thither with all possible Expedition for the following Purposes.

" First, You will produce to the Rajah your Credentials, and deliver to him and to the Dewan Bowanny Punt Appa the introductory Letters which you will receive from the Governor General.

" Secondly, You will notify to them in Form that Orders have been given to Lieutenant Colonel Pearse, the Commander of the Army lately formed at Midnapore, to march into the Carnatic by the Way of Cuttack, its only practicable Route; apprizing them that this Information is given them in consideration of the ancient Friendship which has subsisted between our Forces in the Carnatic and the Government of Naugpore, and for the Prevention of any Cause which might eventually disturb it. For this Reason we have instructed you to request them in our Name to cause such of their Troops as may yet be in the Road through which our Army must pass, to remove at such a Distance from it as may prevent the Individuals on either Side, and particularly the Followers of the Camps, whose Licentiousness is the most difficult to be restrained, from engaging in mutual Broils, which might imperceptibly lead to serious and alarming Consequences, affecting the Union of the two States; and to acquaint them, that the strictest Orders have from the same Motives been issued to the Commander of the English Army, who is a Man of Understanding and Prudence, to observe all the Duties of Friendship with the Rajah and his People, and to avoid whatever may tend to create a Misunderstanding with either: That the Force has been some Time since assembled and ready to march, but Letters having been before sent to Naugpore containing the Substance of a Treaty proposed for the Guarantee of Rajah Moodajee Bhoosla, and the Acceptance and Ratification of the Ministers of the Peshwa, with other Subjects, tending to draw the two Governments of Berar and Bengal into a closer and firmer Connection of Friendship and Interest, the March of the Army was therefore withheld till an Answer should be received from Naugpore: That an Answer has been received, but not conclusive, many Points remaining for Adjustment, which may be the Work of Time: That we are assured of the inflexible Determination of the Rajah to maintain the ancient Friendship of the Bhoosla Family with this Government, and to unite with it in one common Cause, whenever the Terms and Objects of it can be settled to our mutual Satisfaction; but that we cannot suffer the necessary Plans and Measures of Government to remain suspended in the Expectation of this Conclusion, nor our Armies to lose the Season of Action, while those of our Enemies are employing it against us; and that having acquitted ourselves of the Obligation imposed upon us by our Sense of the Relation subsisting between the two Governments, the Rest remains with them, and they must be answerable for the Consequences, if they do not conform to our Example. You will be careful to make them understand that the Orders to Colonel Pearse are positive to prosecute his March, and make his Way against all Opposition.

" Thirdly, If you find the Rajah and his Dewan disposed to take a more decided Part in our Favor, of which indeed we have no Expectation, we desire that you will solicit the Aid of 2000 effective and chosen Horse, or any less Number which they may be willing to contribute, to accompany Colonel Pearse, and to act under his Command, and receive their Pay from the Company through their Paymaster; the Mode and Rate of which we empower you to settle by written Stipulation.

"Fourthly, We expect that this Application will draw from them other Demands; but these we direct you to transmit to us, and wait our Answers to them, not judging it either necessary or expedient to give you more positive Orders upon other Points.

"It is our Order that you correspond with Lieutenant Colonel Pearse, transmitting to him speedy and regular Information of all Matters proper for his Knowledge.

"Fort William,
the 14th January 1781.

We are, &c."

Mr. Anderson having received these Instructions, proceeded on his Journey towards Cuttack: On his Arrival at Ballafore, he found that Chimnajee had marched with his Army against the Fort of Dhekanall, which is situated among the Hills; and that it would be impossible at that Time to penetrate through the Passes which were in the Possession of the Mountaineers. Mr. Anderson communicated this Difficulty to the Governor General in the following Letters:

"To the Honble. Warren Hastings, Esquire.

"Honble. Sir,

"I arrived here this Morning. The Maratta Army is, I find, engaged in the Siege of Dhekanal, which lays amongst the Hills a considerable Distance to the Westward of the Cuttack Road. The Communication is, I am told, almost entirely stopped, as there is a thick Jungle of near 17 Coss in Length betwixt the Road and Dhekanale, which is so much infested by the People of the rebellious Rajahs, that some Days ago a considerable Body of Horse, which attempted to penetrate to the Army with some Supplies from Cuttack, were obliged to return.

"I foresee therefore a great Difficulty in reaching Chimnajee's Camp in Time to carry on any Negotiation before the Arrival of Colonel Pearse's Detachment; and what will, I fear, considerably augment it, is the Absence of the Phoufadar of this Place, for whom I brought a Letter from Beny Ram Pundit. I have delivered the Letter to his Naib; but having no previous Notice, he seems undermined • how to act until he shall receive Directions from the Subahdar at Cuttack. This • Sicia Crig. would require a Delay of four or five Days; but you may be assured I shall endeavour to find Means of proceeding sooner.

"Whilst I regret extremely this Delay, it is with some Pleasure that I remark that the same Circumstance which is the Cause of it, renders the Object of my Deputation less important than it would have been had the Army of the Marattas been unemployed, and on the high Road to Cuttack.

"If I can get the Naib Phoufadar's Permission, and a few of his Servants for my Protection; (which I find from Experience is absolutely necessary,) I shall set out To-morrow for Cuttack, and there wait until I can hear from Chimnajee, or until I can get an Escort to conduct me through the Hills.

"Ballafore,
22d January 1781.

I have the Honor to be, with much Respect,
Honble. Sir,
Your, &c."

"Honble. Sir,

"I had the Honor to write you Yesterday. I have now determined to set out for Cuttack To-morrow Morning at all Events. The Naib Phoufadar has promised to send two or three of his Sepoys along with me, which will, I hope, prevent any Delay from my being stopped by the Chowkedars on the Road. Bissumber Pundit is, I find, with Rajah Ram Pundit at Cuttack. I shall consult with him about my future Operations; and if the Road to Chimnajee's Camp is impracticable, I shall wait at Cuttack until I shall receive your Orders, or until I can find Means to convey a Letter and receive an Answer from Chimnajee. I do not understand that there are many Troops in this Part of the Country; they are mostly gone with Chimnajee into the Dhekanale country. The few that are left, are, I believe, under the Command of Rajah Ram Pundit, who is a Man of high Rank, and much respected amongst the Marattas. I think it is probable, that the chief Object of my Deputation may be answered by an Interview with him; I mean the Declaration which you have enjoined me to make with respect to the March of Colonel Pearse. But if you should think it at all Events necessary that I should find Means of waiting on Chimnajee to pursue the remaining Objects of my Commission, viz. to persuade him to take an active Part and join us, or to enter into some Engagement to remain passive, it will be necessary to send me more particular Instructions, because these Propositions will, as you have observed, lead to Demand on his Part that I shall be unable to answer, until I can write to the Board and receive their Orders, which (hemmed in as Chimnajee is at present by the rebellious Rajahs) would be very difficult, and if effected, would be attended with so much Delay, as to render my Negotiations with the Marattas, either regarding a Junction or remaining passive, of no Use with respect to Colonel Pearse's Detachment. I beg Leave to submit these Circumstances to your Consideration, and and to request your Orders, which, as far as I can judge at present, may reach me before it will be in my Power to leave Cuttack.

" I have the Honor to be with the utmost Respect,

" Balasore,
23d January 1781.

Honble. Sir,

Your faithful, &c."

The Governor General laid these Letters before the Board, and as there appeared so little Probability of Mr. Anderson's being able to effect an Interview with Chimnaje, and that Gentleman's Presence was wanted at the Presidency for the Duties of a very important Station to which we had lately appointed him, we agreed to direct him to return to the Presidency, and to leave the Subject of his Commission with Rajah Ram Pundit the Naib of Cuttack. The following Letter was accordingly written to him by the Secretary :

" Mr. David Anderson,

" Sir,

" I am directed to convey to you the Orders of the Honble. Governor General and Council, that you immediately return to the Presidency, delivering the Subject of your Commission to Rajah Ram Pundit the Naib of Cuttack, to be by him communicated to Chimnaje Baboo.

" Fort William,
Council Chamber,
the 29th January 1781.

I am, Sir,

Your most obedient humble Servant,

(Signed)

Edward Hay,

Acting Secretary."

Mr. Anderson, in the mean time, proceeded on to Cuttack, and during his Stay there wrote the following Letters to the Board :

" To the Honble. Warren Hastings, Esq. Governor General, &c. Council, Fort William.

" Honble. Sir and Sirs,

" On my Arrival here three Days ago, I was informed that the Rajah Chimnaje was encamped with his whole Army amongst the Hills, about twenty-four Cols from this Place ; that the Mountainers were, in general, up in Arms against the Maratta Government ; that they had for some Time entirely cut off the Communication betwixt this Place and the Rajah's Camp ; but that it was then again, in some Measure, opened by the Reduction of the Rajah of Dheckanale, who had been one of the principal and most active Leaders in the Rebellion. I immediately dispatched Letters to Rajah Chimnaje and his Dewan Bhowanny Pundit, informing them of my Deputation from you, and of my Arrival here, and requesting to know if it would be agreeable to them that I should wait upon them in Camp. It is with Concern I am obliged to acquaint you, that the Hircarrahs who carried the Letters, have now returned and informed me, that it is utterly impossible to pass through the Hills, even considerable Bodies of Horse, who have attempted to join the main Army, being obliged to return. This Information is confirmed by the Voice of all those with whom I have had an Opportunity of conversing.

" As there has been no Intercourse whatever betwixt this Place and the Camp for some Days, it is impossible to say where the Army is at present. All the Inhabitants here concluded, from a Variety of Circumstances, that it is in motion. But different Opinions and Reports prevail regarding its Destination ; some alledge, that it was Chimnaje's Intention to march against the Rajah of Sumbelpore, who had refused to submit to the heavy Exactions imposed by the Maratta Government ; whilst others conjecture, that he is now actually on his March towards the Western Passes of Bengal. Though this is merely Conjecture, yet the well-known Distresses and Importunities of Chimnaje's Army, and Impossibility of finding any further Resources in this exhausted Country, give it an Appearance of Probability that will not allow me wholly to reject it.

" I think it necessary to inform you, that there are few or no Troops at present in this Part of the Country.

" I am this Evening to have a Conference with Manoojee the Dewan of Rajah Chimnaje's Duftur, and Hurdy Ram the Dewan of Cuttack, which will probably determine me regarding the Measures which are now left for me to pursue.

" Cuttack,
31st January 1781.

" I am, &c."

" Honble. Sir and Sirs,

" I had Yesterday Evening the Honor to receive your Secretary's Letter of the 29th Ultimo.

" Raja Ram Pudit being at present with Chimnaje Baboo, and it appearing the Intention of your Order that I should communicate the Subject of my Commission to the Persons who, for the Time being, might be considered as the Representatives of the Maratta Government at Cuttack, I this Morning waited on Manoojee Pundit and Hurdy Ram, the former of whom, as Phurnoveesse, possesses great Weight in the Councils of the Berar State ; and the latter, as Dewan of Cuttack, holds the Executive Authority of this Soubah in the Absence of Rajah Ram Pundit.

I

I had

I had, at a former Interview, opened to them the Intention of my Deputation, and this Morning entered on the Subject more fully, explaining it to them nearly in the Words of my Instructions. During the Course of our Conversation, Manoojee and Hurdy Ram at first expressed some Apprehensions from the Resentment which the Peshwa and his Ministers would entertain at their Master's suffering Colonel Pearse's Detachment to pass. They enlarged much on the steady Attachment shewn by Moodajee to the English, even whilst all the other Nations were at Enmity with us; and observed, that he had sent his Son to command the Troops, who, notwithstanding the pressing Instances of the Peshwa and his Ministers, had thus long avoided an Invasion of our Territories, and had even now, under Pretence of reducing some petty Rajahs, removed his Army to a considerable Distance, on Purpose that our Troops might the more easily pass. This was a Proof of Friendship which had not occurred to them at our first Interview. I was, however, * to find it adduced, and readily admitted it. I pursued the favourable Disposition which it discovered, and I have the Pleasure to inform you, that Manoojee and Hurdy Ram promised that Orders should be sent to all the Tanadars and Officers on the Road, not only to avoid doing any Thing which might be productive of Disputes, but to assist as far as possible in supplying the Detachment with Provisions in their Route. The Performance of this Promise must, however, I am sensible, depend on the Intentions of the Maratta Government, and the Orders which may be received from Chimnagjee. At the Request of Manoojee and Hurdy Ram, I delivered to them the Letters of Introduction which I received from the Governor General for Chimnagjee, and some Dispatches which I had brought from Beny Ram Pundit to his Brother, and they promised that they would immediately forward them to Camp under a strong Escort, together with a Letter from themselves to Rajah Chimnagjee, informing him of the Subject of my Commission.

* Sic in Orig.

"I learned from Manoojee and Hurdy Ram, that Chimnagjee, with almost the Whole of his Army, was at a Place called Khond, on the Boundaries of the Conjer Country, about thirty-five Cofs from hence. It lays, I am informed, nearly N. W. from Cuttack; and no Inference can be drawn regarding Chimnagjee's Intentions from the supposed Situation of the Army, as it is said to be almost equally convenient for marching to any of the Places for which Report variously destines it—to Sumbelpore, to Great Naugpore, on to the Western Frontiers of Bengal.

"In obedience to your Orders of the 29th Ultimo, I shall set out To-morrow on my Return to Bengal.

"5th February 1781.

I am, &c."

Mr. Anderson afterwards left Cuttack, and set out on his Return to the Residency. On his Arrival at Ballasore, he overtook Bissumber Pundit, a Vakeel whom Chimnagjee Baboo had sent through the Hills, under a strong Escort, with Dispatches to the Governor General. Mr. Anderson agreed to travel in Company with Bissumber Pundit to Calcutta; but, before he left Balasore, he heard that Chimnagjee, with all his Army, was come down into the open Country, which was confirmed by a Letter which he received from Chimnagjee's Minister, Bowanny Pundit, expressing a great Desire to see him, and requesting him to return from Balasore to Chimnagjee's Camp, which was then in the Neighbourhood of Jaagepore. But as the Order of the Board of the 29th January was positive, and Mr. Anderson knew not on what Grounds it was issued, he thought he could not take upon himself to deviate from it; he excused himself therefore to Bowanny Pundit in the best Manner he could; and having written all the Circumstances to the Governor General, he proceeded by slow Journeys towards Calcutta, expecting to receive on the Road further Orders for his Conduct. The Governor General accordingly did write to him three Letters, directing him to comply with Bowanny Pundit's Desire; but as they were sent by one Road, and Mr. Anderson proceeded by another, they did not reach him till after his Arrival at Calcutta.

In the meantime Colonel Pearse's Detachment entered the Maratta Territories; and Chimnagjee Baboo, whose Army was now within a few Miles of the Road, not only suffered him to pass without Opposition, but directed one of his principal Officers to attend the Colonel, and supply the Detachment with whatever they might want. The Colonel's Letters afforded daily Testimonies of the Care with which the Officer executed his Instructions; and the Detachment, during the Whole of the March through Orissa, had the most plentiful Supplies of Grain and every Kind of Provisions.

Repeated Dispatches were about this Time received from Chimnagjee and his Ministers, (vide Appendix, No 5, 6, 7. 80.) professing their friendly Disposition towards the English, and declaring their Resolution to afford Colonel Pearse every Assistance during his March through Orissa, but all of them complaining at the same Time of the Hardships which their Friendship for the English had brought upon them, and the English had brought upon them †, and the Difficulty which they found in pacifying their Troops, who complained of their Want of Pay, and loudly called out to be led to plunder. A Letter was likewise about this Time received from Bowanny Pundit, the Moonshiee of Rajah Moodajee Bhosila, addressed to Beny Ram Pundit, the Berar Vakeel at Calcutta, which throws some Light on the Views and Policy of the Court of Berar.

† Sic in Orig.

Vide Appendix, No 10.

The Message which Bissumber Pundit conveyed from Rajah Chimnagjee Baboo, contained several Propositions of great Importance; and as the Rajah had expressed some Chagrin at not seeing Mr. Anderson on his first Deputation, we agreed to send that Gentleman back to him. The Governor General also sent Bissumber Pundit back at the same Time with Answers to the Rajah's Propositions. As it became necessary to inform Mr. Anderson of the Propositions conveyed by Bissumber Pundit and to direct him to sound the Dispositions of the Rajah and his Minister regarding several Objects of a secret Nature, it was thought advisable to issue his Instructions from the Governor General only, without minuting the Particulars of them on the usual Records of the Council. The following is a Copy of the Letter, which, being agreed on by the Board, was written to him :

To David
Anderson,
Esq.

" Sir,

" For the better Accomplishment of the Views of this Government in the general Commission with which you have been charged, I think it proper to furnish you with the following Materials of Information and Instructions for their occasional Application.

" The immediate and professed Design of your Deputation is, as it originally was, to reconcile the Government of Naugpore to the Passage of Colonel Pearle's Detachment through the Province of Orissa, and to afford it the most public Mark of Attention and Respect. It may, however, be productive of other Consequences ; and these I proceed to explain.

" The Cause assigned by the Government of Naugpore for sending so large a Force to our Frontier is, the Necessity in which it found itself of complying ostensibly with the sudden Requisitions which were made to it by the ruling Administration of Poonah and the Nabob Nizam Ally Caun, and the Danger to which a Refusal would have exposed it from the Power of the Confederacy in which they had recently engaged. This Intention was early notified to us with solemn Professions of Friendship, and a fixed Resolution to maintain it. Hitherto I have no Reason to doubt these Assurances, for they have been verified by Facts. Chimnajee received his Dismission, and is said to have begun his March on the Dufferra, on the 11th of August of the Year 1779. He proceeded by studied Deviations and Delays, and instead of entering Bahar, which was the prescribed Scene of his Operations, he kept the Road of Cuttack, where he arrived in May last, and has confined himself to that Province, though greatly distressed ever since. In the Month of October I secretly furnished him with three Laak of Rupees to relieve the pressing Wants of his Army, and gave him Expectations of a larger Supply, if the Answer to the Letters then dispatched to Naugpore were such as I required ; that is, if Moodajee accepted the Guarantee of our Treaty offered to the Peishwa, and issued Orders either for the Junction of the Army under Chimnajee with our's, or its Recall. He has done neither, but captiously objected to every Article of the Treaty, proposing such Amendments and Additions as he must have known would be rejected, and declined to send the Orders required to his Son, but still professing an inviolable Attachment. It is possible that these Declarations were made only to save Appearances, as the barren Expedition against Dakkanaul, at the precise Instant in which Colonel Pearce was preparing to march into Orissa, can only be reconciled with any Principle of rational Policy, by the Supposition that it was calculated to remove it from the Line of his Route. He has been permitted to pass without Interruption, an Officer of that Government appointed to conduct him, and he has to this Time been plentifully supplied with Provisions, either by the Command or the Connivance of the Rajah. You will be yourself a competent Judge whether the consequent Conduct of the Rajah is answerable to the Conclusion which I have stated of the Authority which has prescribed it.

* Sic in Orig.

" It can only be ascribed to two Motives; one, that which I have supposed; the other, to profit by the Departure of so considerable a Part of our Force, and to invade the * of Province of Bahar with less Hazard of Resistance. I have no Suspicion of the latter, because it is inconsistent with my Belief of the Policy of that State, and with the Season of the Year, which is already too far spent for such an Undertaking.

" The Object of this temporizing System is to obtain the Acknowledgement of the Claim of the Government of Berar to the Chout of Bengal; and I have no Doubt that this Concession alone would instantly purchase their Alliance and their decided and open Declaration in our Favour. I know that is their Object, although it has never yet been declared in Form: Possibly you will be questioned upon the Subject. If Chimnajee has Authority to treat upon this or any other Subject, receive his Proposals, and transmit them to the Board. If he has not, you will with Propriety refer him back to his Principal, with whom it ought to originate, since he must ratify whatever is concluded respecting it. Profess yourself unqualified to talk upon any Point not included in your Instructions, but hear and report whatever the Rajah or his Minister may say to you, and rather encourage than check any Hope which they may entertain of our Compliance with their Pretensions, endeavouring to learn from them what Advantage they are disposed to offer for so important a Concession; whether they will engage to unite with us in the Prosecution of the War against Hyder to his final Extermination? whether they will accept an Equivalent, or even more than an Equivalent, in any other Quarter for the Chout, either the Portion acquired by General Goddard of Guzeraut and Concan, or such Conquests as may be made by Colonel Camac in Malva or Khandesh, or any other which they may suggest? Be careful not to put Questions to them directly by which they may construe a yielding Disposition in this Government, or an Eagerness to court their Friendship by too great Sacrifices; but rather endeavour to lead them to the Information which you may want, by Questions of Explanation, and by such Observation and even Misapprehensions as may be most likely to produce the Discovery of their real Sentiments and Expectations. In the mean Time it is possible that some Advantage may be made of the particular and personal Views of the young Rajah himself. As the immediate Heir of his Father he has Pretensions to the Succession of the sovereign Authority of the Maratta State, and it seems to be † only Provision which can be made for him to secure his future Independency; without this, his Father's Death will leave him at the Mercy of his Brother, and without a Resource; for it is not likely that his Brother should expend the Wealth, or hazard the Power the Power* of his own State, to promote his Interest, and raise him to a Dignity superior to his own. Neither is it improbable that Moodahjee would be glad to see the * Re-accomplishment of such an Establishment for both his Sons. The Policy of the Dewan is, as I am told, more directed to the Elevation of the Family and Government than to the Establishment of any individual Interest in it, except perhaps that of Rajoojee, the eldest Son by Blood of Moodajee, but the Son and Successor of Janoojee by Adoption. Benram and Bissumber Pundit are properly his Servants, and strongly attached to him. Bowanny Pundit is in the same Interest, and was chosen to his present Trust by Dewagur Pundit. These * there Persons would take Alarm at any Suggestion of a separate Interest of Chimnajee, and on this Account, you will cautiously avoid touching on any Subject tending to it with them. But I recommend that you seek an Opportunity to sound Chimnajee himself upon it. I am told, that though young and unexperienced, he does not want Understanding; that he is ambitious, spirited, and impatient of Controul. Seek an Opportunity of conversing with him alone; he will perhaps afford you one without any Contrivance on your Part, and this will be better. Avail yourself of it to inspire him with Hopes of the Rajee. Ask him what is his present Object in the Command assigned him? Is it the Attainment of any Settlement in Bengal? This, if accomplished, whatever it be, will become the Portion of his Brother, and his own Dependance more confirmed by it; and to effect it, he may lose the Friendship of the English, by which it may be in his Power to raise himself to a Condition of higher State and Splendor than any that his Family have yet known. There is no Power in the Maratta State which can oppose his Pretensions, if immediately asserted. If deferred beyond the present Crisis, it may be too late. This, his own precarious Situation and future Vassalage, and the Prudence of endeavouring to obtain some Provision during his Father's Life, are Arguments which may likewise be suggested with Effect. The Subject is delicate; break it to him warily; first try his Disposition, proceed as you find him affected by what you have said, but do not go beyond the Encouragement which he may give you. The Effect will at least be to gain Time, and to render him less solicitous for the Prosecution of any Measures which may involve him in a decided Enmity with the English; and if you should be able to make such an Impression on his Mind as to induce him to become a Party with his Father for our Cause, it is as much as I can expect from it, unless he should at once resolve to anticipate his Father's Concurrence, and join a Part of his Forces to Colonel Pearce's Detachment.

"Bissumber Pundit has received his Dismission from me, and will immediately return with Answers to the four Propositions which he brought from Chimnajee Baboo.

"These you already know; I shall therefore only state them in short Heads, which will be sufficient to mark the Relation of my Answer to each.

"Preliminary: Moonseefee. This Word, which Bissumber Pundit has constantly repeated by itself as comprizing the Whole of the Rajah's Meaning, I do not very satisfactorily understand; but supposing it to require my Advice for his future Conduct, I have given it in the following Terms: The Government of Berar has already afforded so many and so public Instances of its Disposition to favour ours, that it can no longer answer any useful Purpose to temporize; and why should it temporize? The Reply to this Question is for their Imaun, that is, for the Credit of their Faith. To this I have answered, that the Faith of the Confederacy, if ever binding on them, having been originally imposed by Violence, has been long since dissolved by every other Party composing it. 1st, By Hyder Ally Cawn, in soliciting and obtaining from the King, a Firmaun for the Subadarry of Deccan, to the total Exclusion of the Rights of the Nazim, and to the Injury of the Peishwa himself, who possesses a Part of the Territory which is included in the Grant; nor is the Guilt of the Act extenuated by the Inefficacy of the Patent, the Disposition being equally manifested by it.

"2dly. By Nizam Ally Cawn, who promised to support the projected Invasion of Bengal by a similar Attempt on the Circars of Seccacole, &c. as soon as Chimnajee's Army was on its March, which Promise he has neither performed, nor has ever made the least Movement towards it.

"3dly and 4thly, By the Peishwa himself, or the Minister acting for him. First, in ordering Beesajee to take possession of the District of Gurrah Mundelah, which but a few Months before had been granted in Jaghæer to Moodajee, as one of the Conditions for his engaging in the Confederacy: And secondly, In failing to send the stipulated Supplies of Money for the Expenses of the Detachment destined for the Service in Bengal. A Breach of Faith in any one of the confederated Powers in any one of the Instances which I have enumerated, except the last, which may be justified, is a virtual Dissolution of the original Engagement with the offending Party, if not with the whole; but in these the Forfeiture is complete on all Sides, except that of Moodajee, who is therefore to chuse what Line of Policy or Connection may henceforth best suit his own Interests. As to his personal Attachment to the Peishwa, let him retain it. We bear no personal Enmity to the Peishwa, nor seek for any Object in the War with him but the Means of bringing it to an honourable Conclusion. Our Wish is, to establish a firm and lasting Friendship with the Maratta State, and to unite with it in destroying our common Enemy Hyder Ally. He is equally the Enemy, and should he (which God forbid) prove successful in the War with the English, would become a fatal one to all his present Associates. Let the Government of Berar declare itself in our Favor; its Influence will not fail to draw after it the Peshwa's Administration, which subsists only by the Powers of its Allies and nominal Dependants, for it has neither Wealth nor Resources left, having yielded a Territory of Eighty Laaks to Hyder, the Province of Candesh to Sindia, Aurungabad (if I mistake not) to Nizam Ally, and lost both Guzerat and Concan to the English. Moodajee has frequently declared that he will not suffer the Rauge, which is his Patrimony, to be ruined; let him now stand forth to save it, and assert his own Right to the Possession of it; he has no Competitor, for even the Title is Vacant; nor be* is he likely to meet with an Opponent. He may command our Assistance, and in his Name, and under the Sanction of his Family, the Maratta State and the British Nation may be united for ever. One* these Grounds, my Advice is, that Chimnajee look only to such a Conclusion as I have described, and either wait the Issue of it, if his Orders restrain him from acting openly in our Cause, or if he may do it, join our Detachment against Hyder Ally. The Interest which I have in offering this Advice does not lessen the Propriety of it, if it is reasonable in itself; and for that let him estimate it by the Truth of the Facts and Reasonings on which I ground it.

* Sic in Orig.

"I proceed to the Propositions.

† Sic in Orig.

"1st, Expence of the Troops. You may engage† supply with them with twelve Laaks of Rupees, the Sum which I formerly promised my Interest with this Government to grant to them in the Event of the Rajah's Compliance with the Requisition made to him in October last, and which, added to the former Supply, will make fifteen Laaks. He must not accept more; and for this he must solemnly promise either to return with his Army to Naugpore, or not to employ it against us. The Money shall be either paid to his Order, or sent to Balasore by Sea.

"2d, Ragonaut Row. This Question can only be properly treated with his Father; but as such a Reference might imply a Hesitation which would be dishonourable, I have plainly told Bissumber Pundit that, in no State of our Affairs, will I ever consent to surrender Ragonaut Row to any Power or Person upon Earth, although I should think it allowable to break off all Connection with him if that should be required as the Condition of any future Engagement whether with the Government of Berar or Poonah.

"3d, To retreat by the Way of Gya, and burn a few Villages, for a Pretext or Shew of Hostility, in the Way. This I have treated as a Subject of Ridicule, not of Argument. Besides I have said that it is too late to temporize. The Line once passed, it would be difficult, perhaps impossible, to stop or retreat; and the Road to Bahar is at this Time impracticable, unless he would force the Passes of which our Troops have Possession, and I will never disgrace our Arms by ordering them to give Way to him.

"4th, Chout. This is a Subject upon which I can make no Reply but to his Principal, if he shall ever exact it. Bene Ram urges it with uncommon Earnestness as the Point which must decide the Union of the Boosla Family with Bengal, and proposes that it be granted as the Condition of their Alliance and Fealty under any Title that may express the Tenure by which it is to be so held, and efface the Odium of the present Name. I have rather discouraged than countenanced this Idea, but not so as wholly to preclude it from future Discussion; and I now mention it, that, connecting it with what I have before written upon the general Subject, you may accommodate your Language to mine upon it.

"I recollect nothing further to add. You will regulate the Time of our Continuance with Chimnajee by your own Discretion, provided he shall solicit it. But should he not, or should you see no good Reason for staying, I shall wish you to return early, as your Presence will be much wanted for the Business of the approaching Settlement.

"I am with great Esteem,

"Sir,

"Your affectionate Friend."

Letter from the Governor General.

"Dear Sir,

"Barasset, 1st March 1781.

"I now send you my private Instructions; they are such as could not properly or prudently be given in public Orders, and exposed, as of Course these would be, to our official Records.* Mr. Wheeler approves them, and authorizes me to declare his Approbation of them. They appear rather longer than the Matter of mere Conversation needs to be; but I should have made them still longer, had they been addressed to a Person less informed, or less capable of drawing the Conclusions from known or supposed Facts, than you are, for I think much will depend on the Temper and Inclinations of the young Rajah, and therefore I have been so particular in stating the Points which are most likely to influence his Mind, and even to prescribe the Manner in which you may most successfully urge them.

"I recommend to you to take Minutes of every Conversation with him; they will be useful not only for Reference, but by connecting the Sentiments of the Rajah expressed at different Times, they will afford you a better Clue to his real Views and Intentions.

"Respecting the Connexion of the Government of Berar with Nizam Ally Cawn, I would rather refer you to Bissumber Pundit, who can give the fullest Information concerning it. I will only say in a few Words, that I consider them as natural Enemies, although they are on Terms of outward Friendship. I can perceive that Moodajee (or rather his Dewan, whose Dictates the Rajah implicitly follows in all political Measures) stands in some Awe of Nizam Ally, and I have sometimes intimated the Possibility of our being driven to the Necessity of courting his Alliance in the Manner in which I have hitherto sought that of the Government of Berar, if the latter should continue to procrastinate. He was the Projector of the present Confederacy, and is said to be at this Time detached from it by the Report of Hyder's having obtained a Grant from the King of his Dominions. The Report is certainly true.

"Do not fail to make my Acknowledgements to Chimnagjee for the liberal Manner in which he has acted to Colonel Pearse, of which the Colonel writes his daily Testimony. He has a Claim to a grateful Return, and on that Footing I would yield him Advantages, which should be withheld from him for ever if he employed the Means of Hostility or Menace to obtain them.

"Rajah Ram Pundit has been very useful to us by his Influence and Counsels. Let him know that I know it, and am sensible of it. If you shall judge it necessary to ensure either his or Bowanny Pundit's Friendship by Gifts of Money, or to make similar Presents to others, you have my Authority to draw on me for any Sums, and to distribute them according to your Discretion.

"If any Thing that I have said should require further Explanation, and such as can only be conveyed effectually by Conversation, as I shall of course return to Town for a Day, in a Day or two hence, let me know, and I will go earlier to see you.

"I am, dear Sir,

"Yours affectionately."

Mr. Anderson having expressed some Doubts regarding the Intention of some Parts of the preceding Instructions, the Governor General thought it necessary to explain them more fully in the following Letters.

"Dear Sir,

"Barrafut, 2d March 1781.

"To remove every Ambiguity in the Construction of the Paragraph concerning which you have expressed your Doubts, I desire you will read it with the following Correction:

"You may engage to supply them with twelve Lacks of Rupees. This is the Sum which I formerly promised my Interest with this Government to grant them, in the Event of the Rajah's (that * this Moodajee's) Compliance with the Requisition made to him in October last."

* Sicin Orig.

"This Requisition was, that he should execute the Treaty which was proposed to him, and order his Troops at Cuttack either to return or to join us. The Requisition has not been complied with; I now offer the same Sum to Chimnagjee Baboo, with the Condition only that he will return, or solemnly promise not to employ the Forces under his Command against us. I limit the Condition to no Time, but to the Forces which are actually under the Command of Chimnagjee Baboo. These must never be employed against us.

"Here I think it necessary to distinguish between the Motive of this Business on the Condition for which it is granted, and the Condition on which it is granted; and I desire that you will mark the Distinction in all your Discourses upon the Subject. It is this; I consider the Government of Berar as a Sufferer by the many Instances which it has given of its Attachment to ours, and therefore entitled to some Retribution from us. To the World the Appearance of its Forces so near to our Borders, and their professed Destination against our Provinces, will be construed an Hostility. To me, who know the Compulsion under which this Measure was undertaken, and the Pretexts which have been used to elude the Purpose for which it was professedly formed, to whom both its professed Destination and the intended Evasion of it were early notified, and the latter verified by the slow Progress of the Army, its Inactivity, its Distresses; and, above all, by its Forbearance with an English Army passing in their Route, and through their own Territory; it is an Evidence of the pacific Disposition of the Government of Berar, and its Attachment to ours, equal even to the Hospitality shewn by it to General Goddard's Detachment. We cannot repay the Expence which they have incurred by so long an Employment of so large a Body of Cavalry in Inaction, and in a remote and destitute Country; but I deem it incumbent upon our Government to relieve its present Wants, and to afford it the Means of a Retreat. It is a Debt of Honor, Justice, and even of Policy; for I doubt whether the Rajah could return with them unless he could either Discharge a Part of their Arrears, or lead them to plunder. It is therefore as a Compensation for Losses sustained on our Account, as an Acknowledgement and Return for past Kindness, not the Purchase of future Forbearance, that we consent to grant them the Aid which you are intrusted to tender to them. At the same Time we have thought it proper to give it with the obvious Precaution that it be not employed to our own Hurt, nor the Right forfeited on which it was granted, by future Hostilities.

"You must not exceed the Sum of two Lacks in private Distributions; even that you will doubtless consider an Excess unless some very substantial Benefit can be purchased by it.

"I am, dear Sir,

"Yours affectionately.

" P. S. I am not yet satisfied with the preceding Explanations, complete as they may appear; they want their direct and positive Application, which I now add : If Chimnagee, in his Acceptance of the Sum proffered to him, shall insist on any Reservation of the Right to employ his Forces against us in the next Season, or at any Period before their Return to Naugpore, you must declare to him, that his Claim to this Supply will become forfeit by such a Reservation, and that it will put it out of our Power to grant it; in a Word, that we will not grant it."

With these Instructions Mr. Anderson proceeded to the Maratta Camp, where he held several long Conferences with the Rajah and his Ministers. The Subject of these Conferences will best appear from the following Papers, which were sent by Mr. Anderson to the Governor General. They were originally intended by that Gentleman to have been considered only as private Information, previous to his finding Leisure to deliver in a regular Report of his Proceedings to the Board; but as these Papers were written almost at the Moment in which the several Conferences related in them actually passed, they will afford the best Insight into the Views of the Parties, and probably be more acceptable than a Relation more leisurely and methodically digested.

" Honble. Sir,

" Camp, 13th March 1781.

" On my Arrival Yesterday Evening, I was received in Camp with every Mark of Attention and Respect. I was introduced to the Rajah and all his principal Officers assembled. I delivered to him and his Dewan Bhowanny Pundit, the Letters which I received from you. I took Occasion at this Interview to inform the Rajah, that you had sent him some Presents of Silks, which, together with all my own Baggage, had been left at Beercool, the Coolies who carried them having run away terrified at the Reports of the Depredations committed by a Body of Maratta Horse which had entered the Province of Tellafore. The Rajah assured me that these Outrages on our Territories were committed in Opposition to his Orders, and that the Moment he had heard of them, he had sent to recal the plundering Party, and to punish the Persons who composed it. I deemed it necessary to obtain this Assurance before I entered on the Subject of my Commission.

" This Morning I again waited on the Rajah by Appointment, and had a very long Conference with him, or rather with the Dewan Bhowanny Pundit, in his Presence. Having produced my Credentials, I explained the professed Objects of my former and of my present Deputation. Our Conversation afterwards turned on the Propositions which had been made to you through Bissumber Pundit. I was called on for the Answers, as Bissumber Pundit had referred them to me, and had affected an Ignorance of your Sentiments, even on those Points which you have replied to in the clearest Terms. The Dewan, in discussing the Preliminary Article of these Propositions, endeavoured to involve under it the Nature of our Situation with respect to the Peshwah; and it was with some Difficulty that I could confine the Question to the Point of View in which you had considered it, and which, at the Time of stating it, was certainly the Point of View in which it was intended you should consider it, being an Appeal from the Rajah to your Justice. I went through all the Arguments which you have so fully laid down in my Instructions; and as the Dewan seemed inclined to combat every one of them, the Conversation was carried on to a great Length. The Dewan at last in some Measure concurred in the Propriety of the Advice which you had given to the Rajah; but he rested every Thing on your Compliance with his Expectations respecting the first Article of the Propositions, namely, the Expence of the Troops. I then proceeded to inform the Rajah of the Offer which you had empowered me to make him, of the Motives which induced you to grant him that Supply, and of the Promise which you had directed me to exact from him. The Rajah, his Dewan, Rajah Ram Pundit, one or two of the Ministers who were present, and even Bissumber Pundit, affected much Surprise at the Smallness of the Sum: They observed, that near two Crores of Rupees had been expended on Account of their Attachment to the English; they expatiated on their present Distresses, and remarked that the Sum which you had tendered was scarcely adequate to discharge the Arrears of a single Jemauldar, and insinuated the Consequences to which they might be driven by Hunger, Disappointment, and Despair. I acknowledged, in the fullest Degree, the Sense you entertained of their Attachment, and admitted the Reality of their Distresses. I requested, however, that they would consider also the Situation of our Government; that we were engaged in Wars with several powerful States; that although we had indeed latterly been successful, yet that these Successes had been obtained at a vast Expence of Treasure, and that much more might still be necessary; that as these Troops had not come thus far at our Request, nor ever been employed in our Service, it was not to be expected that we could defray the whole of their Expence: All that could be looked for was, that we should assist in relieving them from their present Distresses, of which their Attachment to our Government had partly been the Occasion; and this, I assured them, you had attended to in as full a Degree as our own Situation could possibly admit. In short, much Argument passed on the Subject; and as the Dewan seemed to reject the Offer with a Kind of Slight, which I deemed inconsistent with the Connection which has subsisted betwixt the two Governments of Berar and Bengal, I thought it my Duty to turn to the Rajah, and ask whether this was a positive and final Answer, or whether it would be agreeable to him, before he gave me my Dismission, to take some Days to weigh all that I had said in his own Mind, and then give me an Answer.

" I proceeded to communicate your Answers regarding the remaining three Propositions. I was permitted to go through those which relate to Rogonaut Raw, and the Passage of the Troops through Goyah, without being interrupted, or *recovering a Reply. When I came to the last Article, and when I questioned whether the Rajah was authorized to treat upon it, the Dewan informed me that he was; and on my telling him that I should in that Case hear and transmit to you whatever he might say, he replied, that too much Delay had taken place on that Subject already. He ran through the whole Story of the Manner in which the Chout had been acquired; said, that the Exaction of it had been suspended on Account of the Troubles which had happened in the Berar State, but that the Right still remained, and that the Troops who had acquired it were still the same. I satisfied myself with replying, that the Troops of Aliverdy Cawn and those of the English were different; and we soon afterwards imperceptibly passed from this Article without my having an Opportunity of fully sounding their Disposition in the Manner which you have enjoined. The Article of the Expences seemed to engross the Whole of their Thoughts. They said they† willing to engage hereafter in any of our † Sic in Orig. Views, particularly to unite with us against Hyder Ally, if he had actually solicited Sunnuds for the Deckan; but the Arrears of their Troops must first be paid, without which it was impossible for them to do any Thing; that it was with the utmost Difficulty they could now prevent them from mutinying, by buoying up their Hopes with Promises of Relief from Bengal; and that if a Mutiny should happen, it might prove very fatal to the Rajah and them all; that their Distresses and Apprehensions were now such, that if I went away without fulfilling the Expectations of the Troops, the Rajah must go also, from Necessity, and throw himself upon you for Relief at Calcutta. On the whole, you will not imagine that I had much Reason to be satisfied with the Expectations shewn by the Dewan in this Day's Conversation. I am not, however, entirely discouraged, as I scribe it chiefly to the Idea with which Bissumber Pundit has impressed them of my being possessed with full Powers to settle any Sum which I may think fit; and it is natural for them to try every Method of raising it as high as possible. I am endeavouring to remove this Idea; and I would fain hope, that when this is effected, the Dewan will change his Opinion regarding the Offer which you have made to the Rajah. You will observe, from the Manner in which this Conversation has been carried on, that I have little to expect from an Attention to the particular Disposition of the young Rajah. He shewed a Kind of complacent Indifference during the whole Time, and it was in vain that I endeavoured to engage him in the Discussion by frequent Appeals to him on Points where the Dewan and I differed. I am again to visit him To-morrow Evening, to deliver your Presents, which, I understand, are arrived at Balasore. I shall then confine our Conversation to Subjects of less Importance, and endeavour to obtain a more thorough Insight into his Temper and Character, and to acquire his Good-will and favourable Opinion. I shall be in no Haste to leave his Camp, whilst there remains the smallest Hope of my Stay being productive of any Good. Rajah Ram Pundit, who has frequently visited me since my Arrival, has particularly implored me to represent to you their Distresses, and entreat you to prevent them by a more considerable Supply. It is in vain that I have repeated to him, and indeed to all the rest who have spoken to me, that you have fixt a Sum, and that I was certain that you would on no Account exceed it. Under the present Appearances, I have thought it would be to no Purpose, and premature, to try the Mode which you have authorized of private Distributions. Notwithstanding the Length of this Letter, I have been obliged to omit many Things which I could wish to have mentioned. I must make an Apology for the hasty and inaccurate Manner in which I have written, and request that you will consider it as a private Letter, addressed to yourself only.

" I am, &c.

" Postscript, 14th in the Morning.

" Bissumber Pundit has just now been with me with a Message from the Rajah. He has shewn me your Letters to him, to evince that I have a discretionary Power to increase the Sum tendered as I may think fit. I have explained to him, that although you have referred the Rajah to me, yet you have communicated to me your utmost Intentions, and I must abide by them. He desired, in the Rajah's Name, to know whether he should march forwards To-day, and whether he should give me my Dismission. I have told him, that I wish him to weigh well the Views which I had suggested Yesterday, and to act accordingly; that it is not my Desire to leave him so soon; that, on the contrary, it is my Wish to stay some Time with him, that I may obtain a Knowledge of all his Sentiments and Wishes, so that on my Return I may be enabled to explain them to you; but that on both the above Points it must rest with him to determine; that I could not give him any Expectations whatever of a larger Sum. I do not imagine he will give me my Dismission, though possibly he may make a Shew of marching. I am to visit Bhowanny Pundit this Morning.

" On a further Consideration of my Instructions, some Doubts arise in my Mind, which, as they may still have their Application, I beg Leave to state in short Questions:

" 1st, Shall the Rajah's Promise to return, or not employ his Troops against us, be in Writing; or will a verbal Promise be enough?

" 2d, Shall it either in Writing or verbally be required to be on Oath?

“ 3d, Shall the Word never be positively expressed, or will it be enough if the general Tenor of the Rajah's Discourse shews no Inclination ever to employ his Troops against us; and in his formal Promise will the Word not, instead of never, be in such Case sufficient?

“ If you think any of these Points of Consequence, I beg you will be pleased to send me Answers to them, as they are not particularly expressed in my Instructions, and I wish to adhere closely to your Inclinations in every Thing.”

“ Minutes of several Conferences on the 14th and 15th March.

“ 14th. I received several cursory Visits in the Course of the Day from Bissumber Pundit, and Rajah Ram Pundit; but as little passed, excepting Expressions of the Apprehensions which they entertained of the Consequences which would accrue to both Parties from our not being able to come to an Agreement on the present Occasion, I forbear to minute at full Length the Particulars of our Conversation.

“ In the Evening I went with them to pay a Visit to the Dewan. The Conversation was begun by his asking me if I had considered the Particulars of Yesterday's Conference, and what Advice I had to offer. I replied, that my Advice, in conformity to that of the Governor, was for them to accept of the Sum which in regard to their Attachment had been proffered for the Relief of their present Distresses, and either resolve to join us when Circumstances would admit in carrying on the War against Hyder, or in prosecuting the Object which I had pointed out to them, of acquiring the Rauje of the Marattah State for the Bhoislah Family. The Dewan replied, that Supplies were necessary. To this I answered, that when they should resolve to join in the former Object, the Terms of our Union would necessarily be settled; but that if they should embrace the latter Proposal, the Object would be more for their Benefit than for ours, and that I imagined it could be effected without their incurring much Expence; that our Troops alone had already reduced the Government of Poonah to the greatest Extremity; but that, when joined with theirs, or supported with the Sanction of their Name, they could not fail of Success; that the Rauje was now vacant, in so much that even the Name of it was scarcely preserved; that (as they themselves must be sensible) it was their known hereditary Right; that there was probably no Power would be inclined, and none, I was certain, would be capable to oppose their Pretensions; and that on the Whole, therefore, I thought the Acquisition would be easy and infallible. The Dewan replied, that their engaging in this Object was a Matter which must depend on the Councils at Naugpore; that this therefore would require some Delay, and that in the mean Time what were they to do to relieve the Distresses of their Troops which had come thus far, and which had for Sixteen Months depended on their Expectations from our Government. I replied, that for this Purpose the Sum was now tendered them. He answered, that the Sum tendered was scarcely a Mouthful; that the Rajah had remarked to him, that the Governor had stiled him in his Letters Yeazaz-az-jaan, Dearer than Life; was this a Proof it? Was this all that he would do for one who was so dear to him? It would appear that he regarded Money as more dear. I informed him that I had not had an Opportunity of knowing the Subject of all the Conferences which had passed betwixt the Governor and Benyram Pundit and Bissumber Pundit, or of all the Letters which had been written to and from Naugpore, but that I never had understood that any more than what was now proffered had ever been required or promised; that I had seen one Letter from Dewagur Pundit which, though it mentioned high Expectations in case of a Junction against Hyder Ally, yet it implied no higher Expectations for the Relief of the Troops sent to Cuttack. I asked him if any higher Promise had ever been made. He acknowledged that no express Promise had ever been made of a larger Sum, but that the Governor had always promised him his Friendship, and in promising that, had given them Reason to expect a Supply adequate to their Necessity. Rajah Ram Pundit observed, that the Letter to which I alluded from Dewagur Pundit, related to a particular Occasion, when the Supply wanted was only for one or two Months. I think it here necessary to remark, that Rajah Ram Pundit Yesterday observed at the Conference held in Presence of the Rajah, that the Sum now tendered was only equal to what was in Agitation at the End of the Rains, when the Treaty was first offered to the Poonah Government, and that eight Months Expences had since been incurred. I then replied, that the subsequent Delay could not be ascribed to us, but to their own Government, which had returned the Treaty with Propositions which could not easily be acceded to.—To return to the Conference of To-day: The Dewan asked what mighty Matter it would have been if the Governor, considering their hereditary Claims on Bengal, and from a Regard to his Friendship to Chimnaje, as well as to prevent the Consequences which may arise to our own Territories from their Distress and Despair, had made each of the Zemindars contribute to raise a Sum to relieve Chimnaje, and enable him to return to Naugpore. He laid so much Stress upon this Method of raising a Supply, that I thought it necessary to inform him that Money paid by a Contribution by our Zemindars, or Money paid from our Treasury, was to us much the same Thing, or if there was any Difference, the latter was preferable.

“ Bissumber Pundit having declared to them that he knew not the Extent of the Governor's Intentions; that he had only told him that he would assist them with a Supply in Proportion to his Abilities, and that he had deputed me with full Powers for this Purpose; I thought it necessary to repeat to them again and again, that the Intention of my Deputation was chiefly to afford a public Testimony of the Acknowledgments of our Government for the Friendship shewn by Chimnajeé in regard to Colonel Pearse's Detachment: That the Governor had, however, for my Information, communicated to me the Answers which he had delivered to Bissumber Pundit, to the Propositions conveyed to him from the Rajah; and had instructed me, in conformity to his Answer regarding the Expences, to engage to supply the particular Sum which he had expressed; that it was not in my Power to deviate from it: That however, if they chose, I should certainly write to the Governor, and communicate to him all that had passed; but that I could give them no Hopes that this would be productive of a larger Supply. They did not require me to write, but left it to me to do as I pleased. We afterwards mutually regretted the Interruption which, from present Appearances, was likely to take place in the Friendship which had subsisted betwixt the English and Berar Government; and which, if preserved, we agreed, might have tended to the mutual Benefit of both States. This is almost Word for Word all that passed at this Interview. I studiously avoided Argument, because I had observed a Captiousness in the Dewan, which, notwithstanding frequent Professions of Friendship, gave our Yesterday's Conference more the Appearance of Dispute than I thought consistent with calm and friendly Discussion. Nothing, however, of this Nature passed at this Interview: Every thing was said in a cool and deliberate Tone; and due Attention was paid by each to whatever was said by the other. I afterwards went and paid a Visit to the Rajah, and delivered to him the Governor's Presents, which he accepted with much seeming Complacency. Nothing passed at this Interview relating to Business. I endeavoured to engage the Rajah in ordinary * Troips of Conversation; but either owing to a natural Shyness of Disposition, or to the Diffidence of a young Man unaccustomed to converse with Strangers, or, perhaps, to the Restraint imposed upon him by his Ministers, he shewed little Inclination to enter into any Discourse. His Answers were always short, and his Questions very few; but his Silence shewed no Want of Affability. Bissumber Pundit came to me afterwards, and informed me that Rajah Ram Pundit would shortly come to me with a Message from the Rajah, to ask me whether he should march on To-morrow. The Effect of his March, we both agreed, would be the letting loose all those plundering Parties who had hitherto with so much Difficulty been restrained; and Bissumber Pundit acknowledged, that when a Fire was once kindled, it was not easy afterwards to extinguish it. Bissumber Pundit said, that the Rajah's Expectation were about fifty Laaks; he has since talked of thirty, or twenty-five. About ten at Night, Bissumber Pundit came again, and informed me that Rajah Ram Pundit was coming to ask me about the March of the Troops: I desired he would tell Rajah Ram Pundit beforehand, that I had no Right to object to the Rajah's marching to any Part of his Territories; but the Manner in which this March was proposed, immediately after our Conferences, would to all the World carry the Appearance of a Threat, as it really was; and that, as I was instructed to offer a Supply from Motives of Gratitude and not from Motives of Fear, I should not, if the Rajah marched, think myself authorized to repeat the offer which I had made to him: That I had now done every Thing in a public Capacity that lay in my Power, to prevent a Rupture; but that there was, indeed, one Thing of a private Nature, which I could take upon myself to do; and that was, to make Presents to the Amount of one Lakh, or one and an Half, or thereabout, to Bowanny Pundit, Rajah Ram Pundit, or any of the Rajah's Ministers; and this he might mention to Rajah Ram Pundit.

" The same Night, about Half past Eleven, Bissumber and Rajah Ram Pundit came to me: Rajah Ram Pundit said, that Bissumber Pundit had mentioned to him all that I had told him. I observed, that in settling Farms of Purgunnahs, or Business of such a Nature, Presents to the Sutduddies employed, were usual and proper; but that this was a Matter in which the Lives and Happiness of Thousands were eventually concerned; and that in such a Negotiation, such Presents could have no Place. I excused myself to him: I reminded him that the Idea had been suggested by himself the Evening before, when he had insinuated to me, that if my Object was to obtain any Thing for myself, the House of Bhosilah could easily give it. I repeated to him what I had said to Bissumber Pundit about the March of the Troops, and the Impossibility of my continuing after it the Governor's Offer. He then drew so strong a Picture of the Distresses which the English would thus entail on their Provinces, that considering it as a Kind of Menace, I begged he would desist from such Discourse; that it was, perhaps, improper for me to answer it, as I was sent only on the Idea of their pacific Disposition; but that I would, once for all, repeat to them, that Fear for our own Territories had no Part in the Governor's Intention in sending me: That our Troops were in Possession of all the Gauts, and that we had a Body in the Field, which the Whole of the Mahratta Army could not face: That all that could happen to us (independent of the Loss of distant political Views), would be the spreading Terror amongst the Inhabitants of Midnapore, Jellapore, and perhaps Part of Burdwan. Rajah Ram Pundit then told me, that as I could not be brought to alter my Offer, a Thought had occurred to him, which was, for the Army to go on to Ramchunderpore, and for him and Bissumber Pundit and me to go to the Governor at Calcutta, to see and prevail on him to give a larger Supply; but that I must must promise to use my Endeavors in persuading the Governor; and that we should, in the meantime, leave Mr. Redfearn with the Rajah.

"I objected to leave Mr. Redfearn after I should go myself; but I said that I would send Mr. Redfearn with them, and stay with the Rajah myself; that their going however would, I was certain, be to no Purpose, if the Army moved any nearer our Provinces after what had passed, as the Governor would not afterwards confer on the Subject; that as to my persuading the Governor, Bissumber Pundit could tell him that the Governor did every Thing from himself; that his Reason and Judgment were much superior to mine; that it was my Duty to regulate mine by his, and not to attempt to influence his; that I could not even promise to advise; that I wished to preserve Peace, and had a Regard for the Rajah; but all that I could engage was, to represent all that I had seen and heard; and concluded with telling him, that I could give him no further Assurances or Expectations of better Success with you.

"It was agreed by Rajah Ram Pundit and Bissumber Pundit to represent what had passed to the Rajah.

"15th. Early in the Morning Bissumber Pundit came to me, and told me that the Rajah had approved of **Rajah had approved of* Rajah Ram Pundit's going with Bissumber Pundit, Mr. Redfearn, and me, to the Governor; and that the Rajah had desired him to apologize to me for any Want of Affability which he might have shewn Yesterday: That I must make Allowance for his Feelings as a Soldier, hurt at being stopped in his March, from what I had said in the Morning. Rajah Ram Pundit said that he was hurt at something that passed betwixt him and some of his Jemautdars."

"Sir,

Fort William, 11th March 1781.

"A Letter is received from Major M'Pherson, which reports, that on the 7th Instant a large Party of Marattas crossed the Soobaureeka, and came so near to Fort Knox, that the Officer stationed there fired upon them, and that they moved off, as he supposed, in search of Plunder. He adds, that Dumdareca with a considerable Force was expected in the same Quarter, on that Evening, or the next Morning.

"I desire, that you will remonstrate with Chimnagee Baboo on the Impropriety of this Conduct, and require his instant Orders for the Retreat of his Troops from our Neighbourhood; declaring, that we shall consider their passing our Frontier Line, and, even their Continuance near it, as a decided Hostility, since neither can be attributed to any other Design. It is also my Order, that you forbear to make the Tender to Chimnagee Baboo directed in my Instructions; or if you have made it, that you formally retract it until he shall have recalled all his Forces of every Denomination to a Man, to the southward of Ballasore.

"Mr. Wheeler authorizes me to notify his Concurrence in these Orders, which you will therefore regard as equivalent to those of the Board delivered in the customary Form.

"I am, Sir,

"Your most obedient Servant.

"P. S. A Letter since received from Mr. Pearse confirms the Intelligence of Major M'Pherson. I herewith send you a Copy of it, by which you will see the Consequences which this indiscreet Act, if it hath not received the Authority of the Rajah, is likely to produce."

"I visited afterwards the Rajah, and communicated to him the Purport of the Governor's Letter. He desired me to assure the Governor that he had already issued the Orders which the Governor required. I shall minute the Particulars of this Interview hereafter: Suffice it for the present to say, that the Rajah dismissed me pleased with the Marks of Attention which he shewed to me, and with the good Inclinations which he discovered towards our Government."

"Honble. Sir,

"As I have not Leisure to send you a regular Detail of my Proceedings in the Form of an Address, I have taken the Liberty to send you inclosed a Copy of the Minutes which I have taken, agreeable to your Direction, of every Thing that has passed since my last Letter. They are incorrect; but will perhaps communicate to you a more clear Idea of the State of Opinions here, than I could possibly convey to you in a studied and regular Address.

"It is now settled that Rajah Ram Pundit, Bissumber Pundit, and I and Mr. Redfearn, are immediately to proceed to Calcutta, and that in the meantime the Army is not to move from this Place. I am sensible that Rajah Ram Pundit's Visit, and the Representation which he will make to you of the Distresses of this Army, will put † to your Feelings as an Individual to a severe Trial. But considered in a political Light, Rajah Ram Pundit's Proposal of visiting you seemed so much to our Advantage, that I could not possibly object to it. It will transfer the Appearance of a submissive Disposition from us to them: It will prevent an immediate Rupture if there was any Danger of it, and will so long protract Negotiation, that you will have the Power to dictate Terms, without Regard to any other Consideration but those of present Commission or Gratitude, and a View to future Advantages from an Alliance between the two States. This Army will then depend almost entirely tirely on your Mercy; for the Season will be too far spent for them afterwards to be able to do any Mischief: A Consideration which I doubt not must have its Weight with you, though I have constantly and invariably in all my Conferences maintained the contrary. It is probable, I think, that Rajah Ram Pundit will be instructed to converse with you on the more important Views which I have suggested of a Junction against Hyder, or the Acquisition of the Rauje. Their Faith towards the Peshwa, or their Connection with Hyder, has scarcely been mentioned; and I have no Doubt but something of Importance would be struck out betwixt you and Rajah Ram Pundit, if the present Emergency could be got over.

"I am thoroughly convinced that nothing but Distress will ever induce the Rajah or his Ministers to break with the English. Whatever has passed of a different Tendency since my Arrival here has proceeded from the mistaken Notion that it might work on me to augment the Supply that I had proffered. The young Rajah, who received me To-day without Restraint, has desired me to implore you to take him and his Army under your Protection, to consider them as much your own as General Goddard's Detachment, to enable them to return to Naugpore, and to command their Services afterwards as you may think fit. We shall travel by daily Journeys to Naraingur, and from thence I have desired Mr. Pearce to relay Bearers to Colbareah. I have written to my Correspondent at Calcutta to send down a sufficient Number of Boats and Budge-rows to Colbareah, so that there will be no Occasion for you to take any Trouble about our Journey: But I beg Leave to suggest to you the Propriety of sending down some Gentleman of your Family to meet Rajah Ram Pundit. This will be a Mark of Respect, to which his Rank, and still more his Attachment to the English, entitles him; and it will be only a Return for a similar Mark of Respect which was shewn to me.

"I have the Honour to be,

"With the most unfeigned Respect,

"Honble. Sir,

"Your, &c. &c.

"Marratta Camp, near Ballasore,
15th March 1781.

"I expect to be at Colbareah in five Days.

"P. S. The Rajah has expressed so much Anxiety for my speedy Return to you, that I have been obliged to receive my Dismission without finding the Opportunity I wished for of speaking to him in private. It would have given much Suspicion if I had desired that his Ministers and Bissumber Pundit should withdraw, and he has always been surrounded by them."

On receiving the two first of these Letters the Governor General wrote the following Answer to Mr. Anderson:

"David Anderson, Esq.

"Sir,

"Fort William, 18th March 1781.

"I have received your Letters of the 10th and 11th.

"Inform the Rajah that the Offer which you have been authorized to make him was purely gratuitous, not intended for Negotiation but Acceptance, and decline any further Discourse upon it as improper.

"The Rajah's Promise to return, or not to employ his Troops against us, may be expressed either in Writing or verbally; but the Requisition must be verbal, and not in Writing.

"It is indifferent whether the Word not be used, or never."

"I am perfectly satisfied with the Care which the Rajah has taken to repress the licentious Spirit of his People, and to publish his Disapprobation of the late Instance of it; of which I desire you will give him an Assurance.

"I am, with Esteem, Sir

"Your most affectionate Friend."

Whilst Mr. Anderson was at Ballasore, Letters were received from Dewagur Pundit, the Minister of Moodajee Bhooslah, repeating the Circumstances of the Embarrassments under which his Connection with the English had drawn him, and strongly urging the Necessity of our supplying the Troops under Chimnagoe with Money.

Vide Appendix, N<sup>o</sup> 11.

Mr. Anderson, on his Return, delivered to the Governor General the following Letter:

"Honble. Sir,

"In the Minutes which I had the Honor to send you from Ballasore, I had only Leisure to mention in a few Words my last Interview with Rajah Chimnagoe. I shall now beg Leave to mention it now circumstantially: The Rajah early in the Morning sent me a Message that he wished Mr. Redfearn and I would come and dine in his Tent before our Departure; and we accordingly accordingly went, and found the Rajah sitting with little Ceremony amongst a few of his Officers. He received us with a frank and cheerful Air. All that cold Reserve, that affected Indifference which I had remarked at our former Meetings, was now changed into an open and animated Behaviour. We talked of indifferent Subjects, such as the Customs of Europe and Asia, with much good Humor; and his Officers, who had at our former Interviews preserved a formal and respectful Silence, now mixed in our Conversation with easy Familiarity. At length our Discourse turned on my Departure for Calcutta; the Rajah then changed his Mien, his Distresses rushed full into his Mind, and he described them with a Degree of Energy that excited Compassion; then taking hold of my Hand, he in a Tone of Supplication begged that as I had been an Eye Witness of his Distresses, I would represent them to you in their real Colors; that I would put you in Mind that they were drawn upon him by his Desire of preserving a Friendship with the English; and that I would in his Name implore you to take himself and his Army under your Protection; to consider them as much your own as Colonel Goddard's Army, to make as great Exertions for their Relief, and to enable them only to return to Naugpore, and afterwards command them as you please. He insisted more than once on my promising to represent all those Matters in the strongest Manner, and earnestly entreated me to become his Advocate with you. I could only repeat to him that I should faithfully report every Thing to you.

"When the Servants informed us that the Dinner, which the Rajah had ordered to be prepared for Mr. Redfearn and me, was ready, we retired to a separate Tent; the Rajah however soon afterwards followed, and standing at a Distance, pressed us to eat in a Manner that shewed the strongest Desire of pleasing. I mention this Circumstance, though apparently trivial, because it was a Kind of Condescension which to me marked the Disposition of the Rajah's Mind more strongly than the most exaggerated Professions.

"We afterwards returned to the Rajah's Tent, and passed more than an Hour with him; before he would consent to give us our Dismission. Bowanny Pundit in the mean Time joined us, but he took little Part in the Conversation, being chiefly employed in dictating to the Moonsee Answers to the Letters which I had brought from you.

"Before we received our Dismission, the Rajah insisted on our accepting of a Horse, a Turban, and a few Pieces of Cloth; and then having repeated his Request that I would join Rajah Ram Pundit and intercede in his Behalf with you, he took Leave of us with a Degree of Warmth and Emotion that shewed both how much he was desirous of my representing his Conduct in a favourable Light, and how much he considered his future Welfare as dependant on your Determination.

"I have the Honor to be with the greatest Respect,

"Honble. Sir,

"Fort William,
26th March 1781.

"Your most faithful and Obedient humble Servant."

Rajah Ram Pundit arrived at Calcutta on the 25th March, and the next Day waited on the Governor General.

During the first two Visits Rajah Ram Pundit drew a strong Picture of the Distresses of Chimnaghee's Army; and to prove how incumbent it was on us to relieve them, he expatiated on the Friendship which had been shewn by the Berar Government towards the English. He enumerated a Variety of Instances; their Conduct towards General Goddard's Detachment at Hoshungabad; their delivering up Mons. Chevalier who had taken Refuge in their Country; their forbearing to invade our Territories notwithstanding the Remonstrances of all their Allies; and lastly, the Assistance which they had afforded to Colonel Pearse on his March through Orissa. He discussed with great Ability the Interests of the Maratta States; and shewed that he was very sensible how much it would be for the mutual Advantage of the English and Moodajee Bhosla to unite cordially in a close Alliance; still however his Observations were general, and he seemed to avoid any clear or particular Propositions: It was agreed therefore, for the Purpose of bringing the Negotiation to a speedy Conclusion, that the following Propositions should be stated in Writing, and communicated to Rajah Ram Pundit by Mr. Anderson:

"That as a Return for the Proofs of Attachment shewn by the Berar Government to the English, and to relieve the Troops from the Distresses which they at present suffered, and which were in some Measure occasioned by their amicable Inclinations towards this Government, we would give them 12 Lacks to complete the Sum which we had formerly promised to them."

"That we desired to know what was afterwards necessary to be done to effect the desired Union of the two States? Would Chimnaghee resolve immediately to send 3000 or even 1500 of his best Horse to join Colonel Pearse, and act with him against Hyder? would he return with the Rest of his Army to Naugpore? and would he promise to Interest himself with his Father to engage in Alliance with us, and to send a Person from Naugpore to settle finally the Terms of a Treaty? That the following might be the Grounds of the Plan:—That we should engage to assist them with a Part of our Troops in taking possession of the Forts of Burhampore and Assur, and the Country of Khandeish, which had been lately assigned by the Peshwa as an
"Annexation"

“ Annexation to the Jagheer already possessed by Madajee Scindia ; that if it should be advisable “ to pursue further Conquests, we would assist on a Plan of Participation ; and that they on their “ Parts should engage to unite with us in effecting the total Extirpation of Hyder Ally Caun.
 “ But that if such a Plan could not be settled, we desired to know clearly what they would do
 “ on their Parts to merit any further Assistance from us.”

The next Day Rajah Ram Pundit returned an Answer to the following Purport : “ The De“ mands of Chimnajee’s Army amount to two Crores of Rupees, in Part thereof, fifty Laaks “ have already been paid. Let the English pay fifty Laaks more ; the Troops will then have “ received one Half of their Pay, with which it will be in Chimnajee’s Power in some Measure
 “ to satisfy them, and in this Case he will send 3000 Men along with Colonel Pearle, and will “ march the Rest to Naugpore. If it is desired that a more close Connection should take place, “ let a trusty Person be sent from hence to Naugpore, and a Treaty may there be concerted and “ settled for the Establishment of a permanent Alliance betwixt the English and the Marattas,
 “ and the Extirpation of Hyder Naig ; or the * let Mr. Anderson be sent immediately with 50 <sup>• Sic in Orig.</sup>
 “ Laaks to Chimnajee to satisfy the Troops, and bring Rowanny Pundit to meet the Governor at
 “ the Subunrecka, or in either of the English Camps at Dantoon or Narraingur, to settle with him
 “ a Treaty containing the Terms of an Alliance. If this is approved, the Sum of 50 Laaks must “ be sent immediately, because it will not be in Chimnajee’s Power to leave the Troops until he “ has satisfied them : If the Governor will give some Assurances that these Propositions will be “ shortly taken into Consideration, Rajah Ram Pundit will accept of the twelve Laaks tendered
 “ for the present as a Part of a Treaty, and will cause the Army immediately to march to a “ greater Distance from Bengal : But unless some Assurances of the Kind are given, he must decline “ receiving the twelve Laaks, will repay the Sum of three Laaks which was formerly sent to “ Chimnajee, and desires to receive his Dismission immediately.”

These Propositions seemed so highly unreasonable, that the Governor General immediately sent
 Mr. Anderson to Rajah Ram Pundit with a Message ; the Substance of which was as follows :
 “ That he would send the 12 Laaks, if Rajah Ram Pundit would accept of that Sum in the “ Name of Chimnajee ; that no more would be given : That the Rajah, on the Acceptance of “ this Sum, must return to Naugpore, and not stay any longer at Cuttack : That if he would “ send 2000 Horse with Colonel Pearle, their Charge should be defrayed by us : That the Go“ vernor General must decline a Meeting with the Rajah, unless the Grounds on which they are to “ meet are previously settled, as he cannot possibly think of meeting to treat about Money : That “ Rajah Ram Pundit may stay here if he pleases ; but that he need not stay in Expectation of “ more Money, as that Subject must now be dropped.”

This Message being accordingly communicated to Rajah Ram Pundit, he desired Mr. Anderson would return to the Governor General with the following Answer : “ He consents to send “ 2000 Horse with Colonel Pearle, who may receive the Pay which shall be agreed on. He “ accepts the Supply now offered as a Return of Kindness ; but to prevent a Mutiny of the Troops, “ requests that a Loan of a further Sum of 25 Laaks may be given, so that he may be enabled to “ quiet them. It does not signify, although a Delay of 12 or 15 Days should take place in pro“ curing the Loan, if it is only agreed to by the Governor ; he will immediately send off the “ Twelve Laaks, and cause the Troops to remove towards Naugpore ; he proposes that the “ Loan should be obtained either in his Name, or in that of Syna Bahader (Chimnajee) from “ Merchants, and that the Company should be Security. It may afterwards be repaid by means “ of Conquests of Countries on a Plan which may be settled. It is requested from Necessity, be“ cause Syna Bahader has no Means of satisfying his Troops. He desires that this may be accepted
 “ as an Apology for his repeating with so much Importunity the Subject of Money ; he begs that
 “ the Governor General will take Syna Bahader under his Protection, and relieve him in his present “ Distress. If this Loan is not acceded to, Rajah Ram Pundit wishes to be dismissed as soon as “ the Governor General pleases ; and in that Case nothing can be settled, as the Sum tendered “ cannot be accepted, and a Mutiny must be the Consequence amongst the Troops in “ Areffa.”

The above Propositions being laid before † the following Resolution was passed : “ It is neces- <sup>† Sic in Orig.</sup>
 “ sary to bring this Negotiation to a Conclusion. We cannot comply with either of the Propo“ sitions made by Rajah Ram Pundit. We cannot advance the Money required. We cannot “ give our Security to the Loan, because we know it to be impracticable at the Rate of Interest “ allowed by our Bonds, and to allow a higher Rate will destroy our own Credit, besides that “ such a Security will be construed and will be in Effect a Payment. If the Government of “ Naugpore is willing to concur with our Views for its Aggrandizement and a Connection of “ Interests in the Manner which has been held out to it, we are ready to assist it with our Forces ;
 “ we will endeavour to give them the Possession of Burhampore and of Assur, which will “ yield a Revenue of 80 Laaks, and of Gurrah Mundela, of which the Amount is unknown, but “ valuable. If the Government of Naugpore looks only to the Acquisition of ready Money,
 “ we have it not to give, nor will their Friendship be an Object to us on such a Footing. Let
 “ this be understood to be our final Answer.”

Rajah Ram Pundit, on being informed of the above Resolution, returned a new Sett of Propositions, the Substance of which was as follows:

“ That the Sum formerly tendered to the Governor of Naugpore was 16 Laaks, and that only three have yet been paid; that he will accept of the remaining thirteen Laaks, which he will dispatch to Syna Bauder for the Relief of his Army; that he will cause the Army to march immediately to Dhekanaul on the Way to Gurrah Mandelah; that he himself will stay here for some Time longer, on this Government's giving him Assurances that they will afterwards assist him in procuring a Loan of ten or fifteen Laaks, to be repaid in two Years from the Money to be acquired from the Conquest of Gurrah Mundelah, and for which he, as Naib of Cuttack, will be Security. That he will, for the present, engage * of send 2000 Horse to join Colonel Pearse, and to assist in the War against Hyder Ally; and that Dewagur Pundit will afterwards come from Naugpore and settle more fully the Terms of an Alliance betwixt the two States.”

* Sic in Orig.

These Propositions were declared to be final. The Point on which our Negotiations hinged was now reduced to an Object which appeared of little Magnitude when compared with the vast Importance of turning the Scale of the Powers of Hindostan, by detaching the Berar Government from the Confederacy formed against us, and engaging it on our Side. When the Propositions, therefore, were laid before the Board, it was immediately resolved to accede to them. Accordingly the Sum of 13 Laaks was advanced to Rajah Ram Pundit; and, on the 2d of April, he attended us in Council, and laid before us the following Articles of Agreement, which he desired to be considered as Preliminary to a Definitive Treaty betwixt the English and Berar Government.

“ Account of the Monthly Expence of the Troops to be sent along with Colonel Pearse, 2000 Suars or Horse, at 50,000 Rupees per Month for each 1000, making altogether one Laak of Rupees per Month.

“ Dated 8th Ribbee ul Sane, in the 22d Year of the Reign.

“ The said Allowance shall commence from the Time of the Troops leaving Cuttack; and when they shall have finished the Service, and (having received their Dismission from the Commander of the English Troops) they shall return to their own Country, their Pay shall be continued according to the Number of Munzels, or Days Journeys, which there may be from the Place of their Dismission to the City of Cuttack.

“ Whereas a Friendship is firmly established betwixt Maha Rajah Moodajee Bhosila and the English, the following Articles are accordingly settled by Syna Behader through Rajah Ram Pundit:

“ 1st, That Rajah Syna Bheader shall send 2000 good and effective Horse along with Colonel Pearse, to assist the English in the War against Hyder Naig; that the Officer commanding them shall act under the Orders of the said Colonel, or the Officer who shall command the Bengal Troops in the Carnatic; and that they shall receive from the Officer who shall command the Bengal Troops in the Carnatic, an Allowance for their Support at the Rate which hath been settled in a separate Paper by the Governor General and Council and Rajah Ram Pundit, Month by Month, in the same Proportion as the English Troops shall receive their Pay.

“ 2d, That the Army of Rajah Syna Behader will immediately leave Orissa, and march on an Expedition against Gurrah Mundelah: Let the Governor General and Council of the English, from a Regard to the Friendship which subsists betwixt the Family of Bhosila and the English, give Orders that an English Officer, with a Body of the Troops now stationed in Hindostan, may march from that Quarter to assist the Rajah in the above-mentioned Expedition; and having reduced Gurrah Mundelah, establish immediately the Rajah's Garrisons there.

“ 3d, That in order that the Friendship betwixt the Family of Maha Rajah Moodajee Bhoselah and the English may daily be strengthened and augmented, let the Governor General and Council, for the present, send a trusty Person to Naugpore, and hereafter the Dewan Dewagur Pundit will come from that Place and have an Interview with the Governor General, when, with their mutual Advice and Approbation, the Desires and Demands of both Parties will be adjusted and settled.

“ 4th, That if it should happen from particular Circumstances, that an Interview betwixt Dewagur Pundit and the Governor General cannot take place, in that Case, the Desires and Demands of both Parties may be settled at Naugpore by the Intervention of a trusty Person, and the Bounds of Friendship shall be so firmly established betwixt the Family of Bhosilah and the English, that no Infraction or Injury can ever, by any Means, happen to them.”

These Papers being signed by us and Rajah Ram Pundit, with the Testimony of Beny Ram Pundit the Vakeel of Moodajee Bhoselah, Copies of them were mutually interchanged. An Order has since been issued by us to the Sub-Treasurer, to advance such Sums, on Account of the intended Loan of ten Laaks, as the State of our Treasury will admit; and Rajah Ram Pundit has delivered to us an Engagement to the following Purpose:

“ Whereas

" Whereas the Governor General and Council of the English have promised, that in order to assist in supplying the Expences of the Troops of Maha Rajah Moodajee Bhoosla, which are arrived with the Rajah Syna Behader in Orissa, they will procure the Sum of ten Laaks of Sicca Rupees from Merchants of the Province of Bengal, and deliver it as a Loan through the Hands of Beny Ram Pundit; and accordingly an Order has been delivered to the said Pundit for the said Sum on the English Treasurer; in consideration thereof it is stipulated and written on Behalf of the aforesaid Rajah Syna Behader by Rajah Ram Pundit, that he will discharge the said Sum within the Term of two Years, and will pay Interest at the Rate of 8 per Cent. per Annum; to be calculated from the Dates of the several Payments, which will be ascertained from the Receipts of Beny Ram Pundit. In case the said Loan and Interest should not be punctually repaid by Maha Rajah Moodajee Bhooslah and Rajah Syna Behader, Rajah Ram Pundit, who is Naib of the Province of Orissa, engages on his own Part, that he will pay, in the Term above limited, the said Sum with Interest at the Rate above-mentioned, either from his own private Fortune or from the Revenues of the Province of Orissa.

" Written the 6th April 1781, or 11th of Rebbec ul Sane, 1170 of the Hegyra."

Rajah Ram Pundit has since taken his Leave, and is gone to Chimnaje's Camp to make the necessary Arrangements for the March of the 2000 Horse which are to join Colonel Pearse.

We have thus fully given a Narrative of this Negotiation, because we think the Issue of it may be productive of an important Change in the political State of Hindostan. We shall now beg leave to close with a few Observations. By acceding to Rajah Ram Pundit's Propositions, we have effectually detached one of the most powerful States from the general Confederacy against us, into which it had apparently entered; we shall by this Measure add therefore to ourselves in Proportion as we diminish that of the Confederacy. The Separation of the Berar Government will doubtless excite Distrust amongst the remaining Powers, and probably the Example will be followed. The Nizam, who has not yet entered into open Hostilities against us, and the Ministers of Poonah, who already tremble for their own Existence, seeing the Confederacy begin to dissolve, will naturally be desirous of securing themselves by an early Peace. The mere Fame of an Alliance betwixt the English and the Government of Berar will have a great Effect. We shall no longer be considered as sinking under the united Weight of every State in Hindostan; the Scale of Power is evidently turned in our Favour; and this is of more Importance than could be well imagined in Europe, where the Policy of Nations is regulated by Principles the very reverse of those which prevail in Asia. There, in Contests betwixt Nations, the weaker is held up by the Support of its Neighbours, who know how much their own Safety depends on the Preservation of a proper Balance. But in Asia, the Desire of partaking of the Spoils of a falling Nation, and the Dread of incurring the Resentment of the stronger Party, are the immediate Motives of Policy; and every State wishes to associate itself with that Power which has a decided Superiority.

It is true the Alliance which is held out in Rajah Ram Pundit's Propositions apparently relates to Objects of a very limited Nature. But it is not to be doubted that when once the Marattas of Naugpore are fairly involved with us in the Prosecution of these Objects, it will not long rest with them to set Bounds to our Connection. The Assistance which is to be given to us in the War with Hyder, is as full a Declaration of Hostility against that Prince as if they had lent their whole Army. And their employing our Forces to assist them in recovering Gurrah Mundelah from a Tributary of the Peshwah, will probably lead to a complete Junction of their Strength and ours against the Government of Poonah, or reduce the latter to the Necessity of becoming a Party with them and us.

We will now consider what would have been the Alternative if we had refused to accede to Propositions which were evidently so desirable. Whatever might have been the real Inclination of Chimnaje, or the Dictates of his Father Moodajee Bhooslah, his unpaid Troops had long been kept quiet only by the Hopes which were held out to them of acquiring Wealth from the Plunder of Bengal. And if no Supply had been granted to them, it is probable that extreme Distress would have compelled them to seek for Support by an Invasion of our Frontiers. It would be little Consolation to us to know that their own Destruction would be the certain Effect of such a Measure. We know that before they could have been totally destroyed, or even expelled, much Mischief would have been done in the Provinces of Burdwan and Midnapore by their Depredations, and still more by the Alarm which they would have excited amongst the Inhabitants. The Revenues and Investments must have been put to a Stop from the Desertion of the Royets and Manufacturers. The immediate Loss would have considerably exceeded the Sum now requested; and the fatal Consequences of such an Irruption would have been felt throughout these Provinces, and particularly in the Manufactures for many succeeding Years. We can mention on the best Information, that the Desertion of the Manufactures for only three Days from the Aurung of Radnagur alone, would have occasioned a Loss of Four Laaks of Rupees, as the Silk Worms must have been wholly destroyed, and their Loss could not have been recovered for many Years. If the Troops of Chimnaje had been driven to this Extremity, a War must inevitably have ensued with the Government of Berar, more dangerous to our Possessions in Bengal than any in which we have ever been engaged since our Acquisition of the Dewanny.

Nor are the Advantages to be derived from the present Agreement merely speculative or negative. The great and almost the only Defect of the Detachment sent under the Command of Colonel Pearse to the Relief of the Carnatic is, the Want of a Body of Cavalry. The present Offer of 2000 of Chimnajee's Horse will amply supply this Defect. They will be fully sufficient to prevent the Detachment from being harrassed on the March, or suffering from Want of Provisions, and though little can be expected in the Field of Battle from the Discipline of Maratta Horse, yet as much may be expected from them as from the Horse which will be opposed to them by Hyder Ally. The Junction of this Body will prove therefore of real and immediate Service.

We are aware that Men who are inclined to object will not fail to employ the most specious Arguments to draw Censure on this Negotiation. They will avail themselves of Maxims which have already obtained the popular Opinion; they will, without Hesitation, ascribe our Conduct in supplying Chimnajee with Money to Weakness or Want of Foresight; and they will declaim that the History of all Ages, from the remotest Period down to the present Century, shews, that to Purchase the Forbearance of invading Enemies serves only to tempt them to return with increased Numbers. It is in vain to attempt to answer every Objection which Ingenuity may devise. We must rely on your Candour to impute our Conduct to more honorable and judicious Motives. It cannot escape your Attention that the Negotiation for Money began at a Time when we could have little to apprehend, though much to hope, from the Government of Naugpore; that it was held out as an Inducement to obtain their Assistance in effecting an Accommodation with the Government of Poonah, and that the professed Object of it was a Retribution for the heavy Expence which they had incurred from their Desire of preserving Peace with the English: When their Answers from Naugpore affected a higher Style, and indicated a Change of Disposition, Mr. Anderson was sent to Cuttack without any Authority to treat on Money, Colonel Pearse was ordered to proceed through Orissa in Defiance of all Opposition, and an Army was assembled under the Command of Colonel Ironside for the Defence of our Frontiers of Burdwan and Midnapore. During all this Time the Negotiation for Money was dropped, nor was it renewed until Colonel Pearse had passed without Opposition close to the Maratta Army, and until new Proofs were given us of an amicable Disposition. The Governor General's Letter of the 2d March to Mr. Anderson will fully explain to you that though we thought it in Prudence necessary to stipulate the Return of Chimnajee's Army as a Condition on granting the Supply, yet the Motives or the Conditions for which we were willing to grant it, were different; and the Governor General's Letters of the 11th and 18th March will shew that, when Motives of Gratitude ceased, and Hostilities were expected, we instantly directed Mr. Anderson to retract our Offer and to decline any further Discourse on the Subject of the Money. At length the affecting Manner in which the Rajah opened his Distresses to Mr. Anderson at his last Interview, and threw himself on our Mercy for Relief, induced us to resume the Subject with Rajah Ram Pundit. These Circumstances have not escaped the Attention of the Marattas themselves; and we are satisfied that they, in whose Opinion the Public is perhaps most interested, have not mistaken the Motives of our Conduct. Nor need we apprehend that the Supply which they have received will ever tempt them to return to their Provinces. They best know the extreme Distresses which they have suffered, the heavy Expences which they have incurred, and the Misery which they have entailed by this Expedition on their Province of Orissa; and it is not to be supposed that they will ever again attempt to fit out an Army of 30,000 Horse, at an unavoidable Expence of more than a Crore of Rupees, to march a thousand Miles through a hilly Country, in the Expectation of acquiring a Supply of 12 Lacks of Rupees. On the whole, whatever the designing or uninformed Part of the World may say, we flatter ourselves that you, in whose Approbation we are most particularly interested, having all these Circumstances fully before you, will be pleased not only to approve of the Motives which have influenced us in these Negotiations, but also of the favourable Issue to which we have happily brought it.

It remains only for us to observe, that Letters have lately been received from Chimnajee confirming every Thing that has been settled by Rajah Ram Pundit; and we have the Pleasure to think that he has now engaged sincerely and cordially on our Side.

Fort William,
the 30th April, 1781.

We are, &c.

From Moodajee Boosla, dated the 16th Zehedja.

Received the 9th January 1781.

" Your agreeable Letter acquainting me that the Sincerity of my Attachment and Friendship, and of my Advice and Proposals was fully known to you, after you had understood, from the Representations of Beneram Pundit and the English Translation, the Contents of my friendly Letters; and that you had, in consequence of your knowing the Necessity of the Times and Circumstances, settled all Matters in the most prudent and advisable Manner with Row Pundit Purdhaun on this Condition, that I should become Guarantee to the Durability of the Treaty on both Sides: That you had therefore sent three Copies of a Treaty for my Ratification, and after recounting the Articles you mention, that I must first put my Seal on them as Guarantee, together nder with the Seal and Signature of my confidential Minister; and then having informed you and the Council of it, must send them to Poopah; that when the Rulers and Chiefs of that Place shall in the same Manner, have put their Seals and Signatures to them, they are to keep one of the Copies, and to send the other two to the Governor of Bombay and General Goddard, that every * may be amicably settled, and the War entirely stopped. You further mention, particularly of Hyder Ally Khan, and his Friendship and Alliance with the French, the confirmed Enemies of the English, that your sole Attention was taken up with preparing for repelling and punishing him in a proper Manner; that this Enmity to Row Pundit Purdhaun is of long and ancient standing; and that if he encrease his Power and Strength in this Manner, he will by Degrees destroy their Kingdom; that it is therefore most advisable for them to station a considerable Force under a Commander of Experience and Trust with the English Army, by which Means the Pride and Presumption of Hyder will be reduced, and whatever Treasures or Country may be taken from him, shall be divided equally between both Parties: That the suffering so considerable an Enemy to acquire Strength, without any Attempts to depress him, would most certainly give rise to great Losses and Disputes. This Letter arrived in a lucky Hour; and by removing my former Anxiety and Expectations, gave me inexpressible Pleasure, and added considerably † Friendship. The Advances which you have made are highly commendable among Persons who have great and important Objects in View, and are calculated to ensure the Peace and Satisfaction of the People, and put an End to the Labors and Distresses of the Soldiers; and the taking the Resolution of sending the Treaty, is a complete Proof of your Friendship and Sincerity. From the first down to the present Time, the present Hostilities and Disputes were not from your Inclination or Wish; but whatever was done, originated from the Governor of Bombay; and in that Case, there being no other Remedy, you were compelled to exert yourself for the remedying it, and for the Preservation of your Possessions, and the Defence of every Thing dear. By the Blessing of God, your good Intentions are well known to the whole World. As, before the Arrival of the Treaty, I had received repeated Intelligence by the successive Letters from that Quarter of your Intentions for Peace on the Part of the Company, and that the Treaty would be sent afterwards, my Desire was, that as soon as the Treaty should arrive, I should send my Minister Dewagur Pundit for the Purpose of settling this Matter, that every Article might be determined agreeable to my Wishes, and at no future Time any Disagreement about a single Letter might arise. But when I had perused the Treaty, and had reflected on the several Articles of it with the most attentive Consideration, I discovered some Points which were contrary to the Treaty of Colonel Upton in so considerable Degree, that the Poonah Amilars will never give their Assent to them; for if there are some few Things in it which I cannot approve of, how can they ever be expected to consent? and what I myself do not comprehend, how should I explain to another? I have therefore delayed affixing my Seal and Signature to it, but have carefully kept it with me. To the Variation of the Times and the Revolutions of the Heavens it is entirely owing, that although you were sincere and approved of Peace and Friendship on every Condition, yet such Delays and Obstructions have arisen in the Matter, that the Business of To-day has been put off till To-morrow, and what was approaching to a Conclusion, has been delayed to a future Time; but where there is Steadfastness, Faith, and Sincerity, there is no Room for any Prevarication, but that of the Times and Circumstances, to raise such Obstructions, as it is impossible to prevent. Thus, from the Distance of the Road, three Months have elapsed entirely in the coming and going of the Coffers; otherwise the Refusal and Assent of all the Articles of the Treaty on your Part, through the Mediation of this Government, would not have met with these Delays, and every Thing would have been settled in the best Manner. As it does not seem to me advisable that the War should be suffered to extend on every Side, and as my friendly Heart has, on all Occasions and in all Situations, wished to perform the Duties and Obligations of Friendship, I have therefore, in Answer to every Article of the Treaty which you have sent, wrote fully and explicitly in such a Manner as was proper, and as my Friendship, Faith, and Regard to Treaties required; so that the Intents of former Treaties might not be frustrated, and that I might not seem partial to either Side, these Answers having been prepared in my Presence, are written on a detached Paper, from which you will gain compleat Information. Nothing in that is new or innovating, but all conformable to former Agreements.

"In case of a Peace, it is necessary for both Parties to give up all Places, agreeable to ancient Treaties, whether acquired before or in the present War. When you shall have done what is requisite, the other Side will likewise perform their Part agreeable to their Engagements. In answer to what you write respecting Ragonaut Row, Futteh Sing Guiewar, and Ranna of Gohed, it is certainly incumbent on all Persons, who have any Regard for their Word, their Honour, or Reputation, to exert themselves in all Cases for the Assistance of any one who takes refuge under the Shadow of their Protection, that it may be known to the whole World, that whoever throws himself on the Protection of the English Gentlemen will, through their Aid, attain the Corruption of his Views; and that whatever distressed Person they will take by the Hand, they will place safely on the Shore from the troubled Sea of War. This is without Doubt the Usage of the World; but where the Standard of Treaties and Engagements has been erected, and a Person has been placed upon for Guarantee, and entrusted with the equal balancing of Interests, it then becomes incumbent bent on that Guarantee to do nothing that is not consistent with his Faith and Word, or that may seem partial to either Party; but to remove all Suspicions and Doubts, to keep firm to the Truth, by saying and writing nothing but the Truth, and by exerting himself in settling the Arguments of both Sides. Why therefore should we make * in the delivering up Ragonaut Row to the Poonah Ministers agreeable to former Treaties, under Pretence of his being the Master where he chose to reside, since it is much more advisable to put an End to all Disputes, and since the Ministers of Poonah will never fail in the smallest Point of Respect, Attention, and careful Treatment to one of their illustrious Family? Futty Sing Guiewar is likewise a Branch of the Rauje, and is besides protected by you; his Concerns will therefore certainly be attended to equally with those of a Brother; and as to the Ranna of Gohed, conformable to what you write, no Spark of Enmity against him will remain in their Minds. Why should you therefore take any Trouble in their Affairs? Let it be written in the Treaty, that on this Condition it is binding, otherwise that it is void. Enter therefore on this Matter with the greatest Sincerity, and do not put any more Refusals in it, but prepare and send me a Treaty agreeable to the enclosed separate Sheets, in which there is a full Discussion and a Plan for a Treaty at the Foot of each Article: You will thus remove the Responsibility from yourself to me; and if the Poonah Minister should not then agree and assent to it, you will not be blamed. What is to happen, will happen. The short of it is this: That I have at all Times and in all Situations been resolved to observe and attend to your Wishes, even above those of the Council and of the Chiefs stationed in the other Presidencies. God is Witness that I am in no Instance partial or inclined to the other Side. You will, from the Friendship and Knowledge of Events and Circumstances, approve of what I have written.

* Sic in Orig. " The Treaty which you have sent me I have kept with the greatest Care and Caution, and will soon return it, together with my Answers to all your Kareetahs. Further Particulars you will learn from the Representations of Beneram Pundit.

" Postscript. As to what you have written from the Excess of your Friendship, that a considerable Army has been sent to Madras under the Command of General Coote, and that it is necessary I should write to Kimdojee Bhosla, directing him to join 2 or 3000 Horse with the General, which would be a great Addition of Strength; or should it not be convenient to spare this Force, that in such Case I ought to recall the Army which is arrived at Cuttack; the Fact is this: Of the State of all Matters, and of the full Particulars of this Quarter, not one Article is unknown to you; and I myself have so often written them to you, that they cannot be secret to you. Till Peace shall have been settled and the Treaty finally ratified, I cannot adopt either of these Proposals; but when I shall have assembled there an Army of 50,000 Horse, with all Stores and Necessaries, I may then send an Army to join General Coote, or recall it altogether from thence. This Matter will be more fully explained to you by Beneram Pundit. Be convinced, that in all Circumstances and Situations, I shall be your steadfast Friend.

" Till Peace is finally settled, it is absolutely necessary for me to act in the above Manner."

" The Answer to the first Article.

" All the Forts, Towns, and Places belonging to Pundit Peishwah which may have been taken, or shall be taken by the English Army, from the Beginning of the War till the Ratification of the Treaty, shall be delivered over to the Peshwah, except the Fort of Ahmedabad, and the Share of the Country of Guzeraut, which shall remain in the Possession of Futty Sing Guieware, and the Fort of Gwalior, which shall remain in the Possession of the Ranna of Gohed, and no one shall oppose it.

" This requires some Consideration, and I request you will reflect with Justice on what I say. When a Town and Fort has been from Time immemorial in the Possession of the Family and Chiefs of Pundit Perdhau, and Futty Sing is one of the ancient Dependants of the Family of the Rauje, what Connection can we have with the English Gentlemen? The Nature of his Connection was this,—that when General Goddard arrived in the Province of Guzeraut with a respectable Army, Futty Sing with his whole Family was in Bedodah; but having no Power or Strength to oppose his Enemies, or defend his Property, he being remediless joined himself with General Goddard; and at this Time has sent several Letters to Poonah, that having no Resource at that Time, except the Protection and Assistance of the English, he had therefore united himself with them. Before this, respecting the Reconciliation of the two Brothers, who had begun Disputes and Hostilities about the Division of their Talooks, I wrote in the Articles of the Memorandum, that, as Futty Sing had taken Part with you, it would be necessary for both Sides to exert themselves for the Reconciliation of the two Brothers, when their Talooks might remain to both of them in Security. You must therefore write respecting them in the Treaty, that Futty Sing is a Chief and Dependant of the other Party, and had joined you solely from the Necessities of the Times; that as Peace and Alliance has taken place between the two Parties, it is incumbent on Friendship to forget all the past; and that the two Brothers, having been reconciled, must be made to remain peaceable and quiet as before on their Shares of Jaghiers, which will be greatly to your Satisfaction and to the Completion of your Wishes. The same must be written respecting the Rannah of Gohed, who has always been a Dependant and Expectant on the Peshwah, and who has now, by the Assistance of the the English, got Possession of the Fort of Gwalior, which is of such Strength, that the Ministers of Poonah can never permit or suffer it to remain quietly in his Hands. Therefore, towards procuring Peace, it is necessary that both Sides, for the maintaining of former Articles, restore all the Places which they may have taken, of whatever Strength they may be; and let it be mentioned, that on the Subject of the Rannah, no further Misunderstandings shall remain, since the Friends of one Side are likewise the Friends of the other Party.

“ The second Article.

“ Towards the Support and strengthening the Peace and the Interests of both Sides, that on future Occasion no Disputes or Misunderstandings may arise, it is agreed, that in case the Fort of Bassein shall have been taken by the English Army before the final Ratification of the Treaty, should Pundit Purdhaun chuse to exchange it for the Mahals, which have been given up to the Company, and are in their Possession agreeable to the 3d and 7th Articles of the Treaty of Poorunder, conformable to the former Treaty entered into by the Governor and Council of Bombay with Futty Sing Guiewar; but should Pundit Purdhaun not chuse to exchange, we will then, agreeable to your first Article of this Treaty, deliver up the Fort of Bassein to Pundit Purdhaun, and the Country delivered up to us by the Treaty of Poorunder shall remain in our Possession.

“ The Case is this; that I frequently have seen the Treaty of Colonel Upton, and have often wrote the Particulars of it, but never yet heard that the Treaty of Poorunder was made conformable to a former Treaty entered into by the Governor and Council of Bombay with Futty Sing Guiewar, that it should now be mentioned. What has the Treaty of Futty Sing to do with the Treaty of the Peshwa? or what Connection can Dirt have with a Person of Distinction? Futty Sing is one of the Dependents and Chiefs of the Rauje; if he chuses to deliver over by Writing to any one the Towns and Forts belonging to the Rauje; how can it be agreed to, or what Authority and Voucher is that, that it will be assented to? Whatever the Owner and Possessor of the Country gives in Writing, that alone is binding. In this Case therefore it is necessary that all Mahals and Places in the Province of Guzeraut, Conkin, and other Parts which formerly belonged to Pundit Purdhaun, and which have been taken in the present War, should all be delivered up; and besides, if the Fort of Bassein should be taken, that also must be restored to the People of Pundit Purdhaun. But do not insist upon these Points, which are difficult to be assented to; for these being with them a Breach of former Treaties, and can never be agreed to.* Abide entirely by the Engagements of Colonel Upton, and restore every Thing which has been taken in this War, or may be taken before the final Ratification of the Treaty, that the Tree of Friendship may blossom with the Flowers of Sincerity, and that the Thorn of Enmity may be removed. It is not wise to add a little to a large Treasure.

“ Third Article. .

“ After saying that Ragonaut Row shall be allowed for his Expences during his Life according to the former Agreement, you write, that what was settled in the former Treaty respecting the Place of his Residence shall be void; that he shall reside wherever he may chuse, except in Bombay and Surat; that you will never assist him in any Claim on the Maratta Government, unless all the Chiefs who sign the Treaty should agree to it and desire it.

“ The Case is this: When he had been taken Prisoner in the Bombay War, at that Time no Neglect or Deficiency was found in the Respect, Attention, and good Treatment of him. As * present, that he comes under the Protection of so great a Chief, what Refusal can they make to supply his necessary Expences, but giving him Power to reside wherever he likes, which would be certainly attended with Losses and Damage to all Quarters, can never be admitted of; and in what Light can your Letters on this Subject be considered? At the Time of making Peace and Treaties the Door of Disagreements is closed and not left open. How can the former Treaty be rendered void?—From his having this Liberty, great Damage may be expected; for should he ever, under the Protection of Hyder Naig, join himself with a French Army, it would be attended with great Inconveniences to both Sides; the greatest Circumspection is requisite. Nothing more need to be mentioned respecting Ragonaut Row, except the Delivery † him up to the Poonah Ministers, agreeable to the former Treaty. The Article relating to the Assistance of him, in case all the Chiefs who may sign the Treaty should desire it, is likewise unnecessary. † Sic in Orig.

“ The fourth Article.

“ Pundit Peshwa, and the other Maratta Chiefs, shall enter into an Alliance with the English, and shall, in conjunction with their Army, attack Hyder Ally Khaun, both for the Protection of their own Country, and for the Conquest of his. They shall invade his Country with the English Army, and shall mutually join for his Destruction. Whatever Portion of Country may be conquered from him shall be equally shared in such a Manner that they shall take what borders on their Country; and the English shall possess what lies near theirs and the Nabob Wallah Jah's.

" The Answer to this is as follows:—When, after the Bombay War, Ragonaut Row had been taken Prisoner, and had been delivered in Charge to Madajee Row Sindia, who sent him under Care of a confidential Servant of his to Achen, in the Way to which Place he found an Opportunity, and escaping to Surat, was a second Time taken under the Protection and Assistance of the English; at that Time my Minister Dewagur Pundit, who was at Poonah, was asked by the Ministers of the Peshwa his Advice; that for many Years Hyder Naig had not paid the smallest Part of the Peshwa's due to them, and had besides possessed himself of some of their Mahals: That after the End of the Bombay War, there being some Prospect of Tranquillity and Peace by Ragonaut Row's brought to them, they had resolved to send an Army of great strength against Hyder Naig, and to reduce his Violence; but that when General Goddard had arrived at Surat, and Ragonaut Row had returned to him, and was preparing to renew the War, at that Time, how could they hope to be able to oppose two such powerful Enemies, and maintain themselves against two such violent Attacks? The Pundit told them in Answer, that they should enter into a friendly Correspondence and Connection with the one who was an English Chief, supreme over all the Possessions of the English, and who was unequalled in his Prudence, Foresight, Faith, Sincerity, and Observance of Treaties, (namely, the Nabob Amud ul Dowlah,) and then engage in vigorous Measures against the other, (Hyder Naig,) and either entirely destroy him, or take from him the Money, Talooks, which they want. The Ministers agreeing to this Advice, sent Letters and confidential Persons to General Goddard successively on the Subject of Peace and Alliance: And at that Time Letters from the General were likewise received, full of Expressions and Promises of Friendship, and saying, that they ought to ascribe Ragonaut Row's being admitted to reside with him to no other Reason but his (the General's) Friendship for them, to prevent Ragonaut's applying to any other Quarter; that if they wished it, he would come in Person to meet them, and settle every Thing in a personal Conference. At that Time, certainly, this Matter would have been settled to mutual Advantage, and many Points of Consequence would have been properly adjusted by personal Agreements and Consultations: But of every Thing which the General had written, not one came to pass; for neither did he find Leisure to come himself to Poonah, nor did he enter into Negotiation with the confidential Agents sent to him, nor did he pay any Attention to the Letters of Dewagur Pundit. In short, Affairs at last ended in open War and Hostilities, and it became necessary for them, having lost so sincere a Friend, to unite themselves with their old and established Enemy; and they, after mature Consideration, agreed to this desperate Remedy, and having entered into friendly Connections with him, settled every Matter agreeable to his Plan and Proposals. As the Opportunity, which is once suffered to escape, can never be recovered, it is Matter of great Sorrow, that now, when Peace might be made with the English, an Army cannot be sent into the Possessions of Hyder in Company with the English without being treacherous to him, and without being guilty of such a Breach of Faith and Engagements as to deter any other in future from trusting to or believing their most solemn Promise. This, however, can never be admitted by the House of Pundit Purdhaun, nor will it ever be admitted. As the Disposition of Hyder Naig is bent on Treachery and Disputes, there is no Doubt but that in a short Time, he will be guilty of some Breach of Treaty, such as uniting himself with the French, or conceiving some hostile Schemes, when immediately, in consequence of such Breach, they may join in the destroying him; but till he takes off the Mask and discovers such Disposition, they cannot think of any Thing contrary to their Engagements. Leave this therefore to Time, and do not mention it in the Treaty, but wait to see when it may happen.

" The fifth Article.

" Should Pundit Peshwa not agree to form an Alliance against Hyder Naig, nevertheless Peace shall be made on this Condition, that both Sides shall remain in Possession of what they have got, and a Cessation of Hostilities shall take place for one Year from the Date of this Treaty, during which Time Peace may be settled on such Terms as to ensure its perpetual Stability.

" In Answer to this, what I learn from it is, that at any Rate Peace and Friendship is your Wish. This is very proper and satisfactory; but a Cessation of Hostilities without a final Completion of Peace, is not the Custom of this Country. The Practice of Europe is this, that two Kings will sit down on the same Carpet and will play at Chess together, and their Armies will remain peaceably together, while they receive continual Accounts of each other's Intentions; and if they should put an End to all Hostilities they agree to a Cessation for a certain Number of Years, after which they renew their Attacks and Hostilities: But this is not the Method in Decan, for whatever Engagements are entered into, these are lasting and perpetual; you must therefore write this much, that if they will join their Army with that of the English, it is well; and if not, it will make no Difference; that you will with your single Force attack the Enemies, but that at any Rate you are desirous of Peace with the Poonah State.

" The sixth Article.

" As Peace is made with Pundit Purdhaun at the Intercession of Moodajee Bhooslah, it is necessary that he become Guarantee to it. The Treaty is therefore first sent to him, that he may certify it under the most solemn Oaths of his Religion with his own Seal, and the Signature of his confidential Minister, that he approves of the Treaty, and agrees to be Guarantee to it; that no Breach shall ever happen in it; that as long as both Sides abide by it, he will be the Friend of both; and whoever shall break it, he will be his Enemy till he shall atone for such Breach.

" The State is this; that I am, without Doubt, the firm Friend of your Quarter, and likewise am a Well-wisher of Pundit Purdhaun, in conformity to my Attachment due to the Family of the Rauje, and have taken upon me this Trouble and Exertion merely for the Ease of the People, and from my Regard to Truth and Sincerity, and my Knowledge of the Rights and Properties of every one. I likewise hoped that, upon the taking place of the Peace and Alliance, I should attain the Completion of my Views, and should, by the Assistance of both Parties, be relieved from the Difficulties incurred by the Expences of the new-raised Sepoys: I therefore agreed to become Guarantee and Security to both Sides, and whichever should have failed in his Part of the Obligation, I should first attempt to make him sensible of his Fault; and if that failed, I should then to the utmost of my Abilities punish him for it, and not be reconciled to him till such Time as he returned to his Duty. But what you have written in the Treaty, that you have agreed to this Peace to give me Satisfaction, is by no Means necessary. This only need be mentioned, that I am Guarantee and Security of this Treaty to both Parties; and that, whichever Side shall be guilty of any Breach of it, I shall continue his Enemy till he has made Atonement for it, and has remedied such Breach of Treaty.

" The seventh Article.

" Three Copies of this Treaty are sent after they shall arrive at Poonah. Ballajee Row Purnavees and the other Chiefs having affixed their Seals and Signatures on them, shall keep one of them, and shall send the second to the Governor of Bombay, and the third to General Goddard, that the War and Hostilities may immediately cease, and every Matter be finally settled. Should this Peace be finished and the Treaty agreed to within five Months from the Date of it, it is well; otherwise it shall be altogether void.

" In Answer to this—The Distance from Calcutta to Poonah is 900 Corse; and besides the Discussion and Explanation, Assent and Denial of the important Articles in the Treaty are in Hand: Why therefore should the Dates and Times be circumscribed? and why is this Clause mentioned, that, if it is concluded within such particular Time, it is binding, otherwise that it will be void? I have kept the Treaties by me with the greatest Caution, and have sent off these Letters to you. After the Receipt of your explicit Answers, the Treaties shall be sent to that Quarter. Set your Mind at rest. In short I have, with the greatest Attention and Care, made myself thoroughly acquainted with all the Articles, and have understood all the good and bad of them; and have written whatever was consistent with my Regard to the Rights and Obligations of both Sides, what might prevent the Interests from preponderating, might perpetuate the Verdure of the Garden of Friendship, and keep off the Blast of the nipping Winds. This you must read and consider with Justice, and not think me in the smallest Degree partial to the Interests of Pundit Purdhaun, for a faithful Guarantee must always have Regard to his Oaths and Engagements, and in all Cases consider the Interests and Advantage of both Sides. You will therefore, agreeable to these separate Sheets, prepare and send a Treaty, without any Addition or Diminution, that my Minister Dewagur Pundit may be sent to Poonah, and settle every Point agreeable to your Desire; when, from the Opportunities of the Times, and the friendly Connection between us, many and great Advantages will be derived."

From Dewagur Pundit.

" I received your Letter in a lucky Hour, in which you write that, &c. (the same Recapitulation as the one in the Maha Rajah's Letter). The Instant that I saw it my Heart felt an immediate and surprizing Satisfaction, from the Hopes and Prospect of a secure and peaceable Future for the People; for by the speedy End to all the Cruelties and Oppressions of the Armies, the Repose which the Chiefs would find from their former continual Occupations, the Attachment of many and great Advantages to both Sides by the Connection between them, the raising your Reputation among all the other Chiefs of the Council, and the English Gentlemen, and even in the Sight of the powerful King of England, and the Hopes of a perpetual and lasting Friendship and Connection between Pundit Peishwa, the Rajah my Master, and the English Gentlemen, by an equal Balance of Interests: I immediately conceived the Desire of departing instantly Express, that, having opened the Papers on the Road, I might arrive in ten Days at Poonah, and deliver the Treaty with my own Hands, and settle the Basis of it with the Ministers of Poonah in such solid Manner, that on no Occasion any Alteration or Defect might ever happen; and after I should have adjusted those important Points agreeable to your Intentions, I might get my Dismissal to go to Calcutta, where, being honoured with an Interview with you, I might inform you of every Thing which from a long Time has been upon my Mind respecting the true political Measures.

" But afterwards reflecting that it was not advisable for me to be in such Haste before I had fully understood all the Contents of the Papers, I opened them in the Presence of the Maha Raja, when all the Kharetas, Letters, Copies, and Treaties, were perused with the greatest Attention and Care: First, they convinced us of your great Truth and Sincerity, and that you never, from the Beginning to this Time, were inclined to the present Disputes and Hostilities; and next, that you have not included in the Articles of the Treaty any of your Wishes or Inclinations; and in short, the Garden of the Treaty appeared to us in all its Parts green and flourishing; but though the Fruit of it was excellent, yet they appeared different from those of Colonel Upton's Treaty, (the Particulars of which I have frequently written to you,) and upon tasting them proved to be better, and very different when compared to the former Articles. How can any of the old and established Obligations be omitted, and new Matters agreed to, which it is plain that they will produce and damage? Some Points which you have mentioned under the Plea of the Faith and Observance of Treaties are of such a Nature, that the Poonah Ministers can never assent to them. In all Engagements and important Transactions in which the Words, But, and Although, and Besides, and Whereas, and Why, and other such Words of Doubt, are introduced, it gives an Opening to Disputes and Misunderstandings. A Treaty is meant for the entire Removal of all Differences, not for the Increase of them. My Departure to Poonah has therefore been delayed, and the Rajah, my Master, likewise having put off the affixing his Seal, said, that although he was determined to sign the Treaty as Guarantee, agreeable to your Letters, yet he could not suffer that after his Seal should have been affixed, it should be rejected by the others; that he must therefore consider maturely before he signs the Treaty, that no one may afterwards make Objections to any Part of it; and after having laboured to explain it to them, to satisfy them and bring them over, they should in any Manner not comprehend it, or join in it, we may then make use of that as a sufficient Reason to act against them. But before we can be able to answer all their Questions and Doubts, we must first comprehend thoroughly ourselves. Although these Lines which you have written in your Kharetas with the greatest Truth and Sincerity, that such Haste was not your Question; but that from certain Circumstances you have, agreeable to the Advice of this Quarter, dispatched a Treaty with all Expedition, in which you have restored every Thing taken in this War, and placed all Matters on the same Footing they were before the War, are very proper and friendly, and entirely conforming to the Articles of Colonel Upton's Treaty, inconsistent with present Interest and future Advantages, and will ensure the Perpetuity of Friendship, and render the Guarantee of my Master the Maha Rajah more secure; yet there is no Remedy for the Variations of the Times, which always produce a Hundred successive Events of the same Kind, and in the Settlement of all Affairs causes so many as to endanger the Peace of the People, and the Security of the Property and Possessions of both Sides. Time does every Thing which he chuses, and there is not the smallest Controul over him. But your Prudence and Wisdom has undertaken this Matter with a thorough Knowledge of the Influence of Circumstances. I entertain great Hopes that you will on all future Occasions attend to every Thing which your old and sincere Friends may write to you from the Sincerity and Friendship of their Heart, and without the smallest Partiality to the other Side; and by the Blessing of God our Alliance and Intimacy will go on increasing. But the great Distance of 800 Corse from Calcutta to Naigpore, and from Naigpore to Poonah, which makes two Months, and to Poonah three Months, necessary for the going and returning of Cosids, cannot be remedied—What can I do? I am a Man, and have neither Feathers nor Wings, the Ground is hard and the Heavens are far off; I am unluckily far removed from the Presence; had I been near you, I should before this have informed you of every Particular relating to this Business, and have adjusted every Thing to your Satisfaction; the Treaty would have been prepared in the best Manner, and great and many Advantages would have been derived from it, and I should have acquired universal Praise: Even at present I am exerting myself to the utmost of my Power in promising what is incumbent on my Attachment, and am desirous of speedily bringing to a Settlement whatever Pundit Purdhaun may propose conducive to a thorough Reconciliation. I have therefore kept the Treaty with the greatest Care and Caution in my Possession, and having taken a Copy of it, I have added to each Article another, which appeared to me proper and advisable, and without any Loss or Disadvantage to the English, or any Thing more in favour of the Pundit Purdhaun, than what was contained in the former Treaties. This I have sent to you, and hope that you will prepare and send a Treaty conformable to that, without any Besides, or If, or Why, or But, and Whereas, that as soon as it arrives, I may depart for Poonah; and having united with me Row Madajee Scindiah, and having brought over the Nabob Nizam ul Dowlah to this Business, I may settle and adjust all Matters which are in this bad Situation Situation. As soon as I have received my Dismission from thence, I would set off for Calcutta, and represent to you every Thing which for a long While I have had on my Mind; and by this Transaction erect to the View of all the World the Standard of the Greatness and Goodness of the English, and of my Masters, and extinguish the Flames of War with the Waters of Friendship. The compassing all these Advantages and happy Prospects depends entirely upon your Will and Consent, and the Power of bringing them to an Issue is in your Hands alone. Further Particulars you will learn from my Letter to Beneram Pundit."

*Sic in Orig.

Postscript the same as the one to the Rajah's Letter.

Translation of a Letter from Maha Rajah Modajee Bhojila to Beneram Pundit, dated the 16th Zehudja.

"I have lately received eight Arzies from you; the first two which arrived informed me that the Nabob had told you he resolved to enter into a Treaty with Pundit Purdhaun under my Guarantee and Security; but that the Articles which you had proposed did not meet with his Assent: That Dewan Dewagur Pundit need not take the Trouble of coming to Calcutta, and that you were at Liberty to come or go as you might chuse. After this, one or two Letters arrived, acquainting me that the Nabob Amaud ul Dowlah had held a Council, at which he told you that he was determined on Peace. Three other Letters I received with the Treaty. As you had at first written that you were greatly affected by that Conversation, and wished to retire to Benares, I wrote in consequence of that to Hyderabad, to Poonah, and to Cuttack. About ten Days afterwards I received your Letters, informing me that Peace had been determined on, and all Doubts removed; and I learnt the Contents of the Treaty from the Persian Copy of it. In the first Place, what regards Ragonaut Row is written in an insincere Manner. Where Friendship is wished for, and is under Discussion, no Word admitting of Doubt or Insincerity ought to be used, and every Article ought to be written without the smallest Obscurity. I have therefore not thought it advisable to send my Minister Dewan Dewagur Pundit to Poonah with the Treaty: But if every Article of the Treaty had been plain and free from Doubts, the Dewan would certainly have been sent to Poonah to employ himself for the Completion of Peace. This could not however be done; and the Length of Time which, from the great Distance of the Way, is requisite, for the arriving of Letters and the receiving the Answers cannot be remedied. But God is Witness of the Friendship and Affection which from my Heart I entertain for the Nabob; yet there is now no Remedy except the Execution of the Plan which the Nabob Nizam ul Dowlah and Pundit Purdhaun has settled. For these last fourteen Months I have continually written every Occurrence and Transaction without omitting the smallest Circumstance; and in the Kareetah which I have now written to the Nabob, I have mentioned every Thing which was incumbent on my Friendship, and have also included all the Particulars of the Treaty. All other Matters you will learn from the Letters of Dewan Dewagur Pundit, who has written more fully to you."

(N° 4.)

Translation of a Letter from Dewan Dewagur Pundit to Beneram Pundit, dated the 16th Zehudja, 13th December 1780.

"I have received your successive Letters, dated the 17th, 19th, 22d, 24th, and 29th of Ramfaun, and the 1st, 7th, 21st, and 23d Shawal, and the 22d of Zekaidia.—First, two Letters arrived to the following Purport: That the Nabob Amaud-ul-Dowlah had told you that he was desirous of concluding a Treaty of Peace and Alliance with the Chiefs of Poonah under the Guarantee of the Maha Rajah, but that he could not assent to the Conditions proposed by us: That he had forbid my coming to Calcutta, and had told you were at Liberty either to stay or go; that you had accordingly for the Departure prepared. After that another Letter was received, in which you wrote, that the Nabob having held a Council, told you that he was resolved to make Peace; and having called you into the Council, held a Consultation with you on all Matters, and afterwards said to you in private, that as the Maha Rajah had, from his great Friendship, written to him Letters containing all his private Secrets, which were more sacred to him than his own Life, it was therefore incumbent on him to exert himself for the Completion of Peace, and that he had accordingly prepared a Treaty with Pundit Purdhaun, under the Guarantee of the Maha Rajah, which he was dispatching, together with Kareetahs from himself. Three Kareetahs and Letters accordingly arrived, and were fully understood; and we learnt from them that Money had been sent to Rajah Chimnaje Bahadre, with many other Particulars. As we first received Letters from you, acquainting us of the Treaty and Conditions not being approved of, and expressive of your Desire to go to Benares, conformably to them we wrote to the Nabob Nizam

Nizam Ally Khan, to Poonah, &c. Ten Days afterwards other Letters were received. In them you wrote, that the Nabob Amaud-ul-Dowlah, from his great Favor, shewed you much Attention, and told you that he was settling a Peace with Pundit Purdhaun under the Guarantee of the Maha Rajah; that he would restore Bassein and the Guicowar, and Gojerat, and the Talooks of Kulean, but that they must unite with him for an Invasion into the Country of Hyder Naig, and for his Reduction. All this we perfectly understood; and you besides wrote, that in two or four Days the Treaty will be prepared and dispatched. Accordingly, four Days after we received the Treaty, with three Letters.—This Treaty was written on one Side of the Paper in English, and on the other Side in Persian; and *one of these Treaties there was a Seal; the other two were Copies without Seals.—After them arrived three more Copies of the same Treaty, and three Kareetahs addressed to this Quarter to Pundit Purdhaun and to Sindia.

* Sic in Orig.

“ The Contents of the Treaty we learnt from the Persian Side of it, and were fully comprehended by us. The Answers to every one of the Articles have accordingly been written to the Nabob Amaud ul Dowlah. Where Peace is really and sincerely wished for, it is proper to write every Article without Obscurity: Had this Treaty been plain and sincere, and without Doubts in all its Parts, I should then have instantly set off for Poonah, where I should have explained and satisfied them on every Point.—First, the Opportunity was suffered to escape, namely, when I went to Poonah, and wrote myself to General Goddard and received his Answers. Had at that Time an Interview taken place between the General and Nanna Purnavees, all Misunderstandings would have been cleared up, and by this Time Hyder Naig would have been so entirely ruined, that neither his Name, nor any Time of his having existed, would have remained; and Pundit Purdhaun and the Nabob would have been one Soulin two Bodies: That Opportunity was lost, and as Matters were referred to the Decision of Arms, Pundit Purdhaun readily consenting to his own Disadvantages, entered into Alliance with Hyder Naig on this Agreement, that they should carry Ruin and Desolation into the Country of the English; and the Nabob Nizam ul Dowlah wrote to Pundit Purdhaun, and having with him settled a Plan, brought us into this Distress against our Inclination and Wishes. Had I not agreed to this, I should have been blamed for the Misfortunes of the Raje; and I, who am a Well-wisher and faithful Servant of the Raje, should have suffered every Reproach and Accusation. As General Goddard had arrived at Hoshungabad, and Mr. Weatherstone had come to Naigpore, and they had been supplied from this Quarter with Bullocks for their Artillery, and all other Duties of Friendship had been performed, this was made use of as an Argument for blaming and accusing us; and Pundit Purdhaun openly affirmed to me, that we had a close Alliance and Friendship with the English Gentlemen; and at the same Time Mons. Chevalier the French Chief, having escaped from Calcutta, had come to Cuttack in Hopes of Protection; and Mr. Elliot, who was coming to this Quarter, having arrived at Cuttack, requested him, notwithstanding that in political Affairs it is very Blame-worthy to forsake a Person who has claimed Refuge with you, yet, in consequence of our Friendship, we delivered him up. And although all the Inhabitants of this Country were displeased and blamed me, yet I considered solely my Friendship, and by this I had become obnoxious and suspected. Having no Remedy, I found it absolutely necessary for me to assent to the Plan, and in consequence of that to raise 30,000 new Horsemen. It is now fourteen Months that we have laboured under inexpressible Distress, and been loaded with an Expence of Crores of Rupees for the Pay of these Troops, but without endangering the Friendship and Alliance of the English Gentlemen. I was desirous to negotiate a Reconciliation at any Rate between them and Pundit Purdhaun, in such a Manner as to ensure the Perpetuity of the ancient Alliance of this Quarter with both Sides. During these fourteen Months, I have therefore continually informed you of all Matters, and have cheerfully submitted to all Difficulties and Distresses. But when the first Opportunity having been lost, a Treaty is at last received, even in that the Concerns of Ragonaut Row are expressed in a doubtful and ambiguous Manner; besides which, in the Affairs of Gwalior, Futty Sing Guicowar, and the Ranna of Gohed, there is great Room for Disputes. The Particulars of all these Points are hinted at large in the Persian Letter, and are too long and tedious to be repeated here. There is a Distance of nine hundred Corse between us, and a considerable Time is lost in sending Letters and receiving the Answers. From unlucky Events and Circumstances I have been compelled to send an Army under the Command of Rajah Chimnaje Bahadre; but how long am I to labor under the Difficulties and Distresses for the Pay of the Soldiers, which is immense? Though two or three Lacks of Rupees have been received, of what Assistance can that be, or how does that relieve us from the Weight of the Arrears? We have entered into Engagements with Pundit Purdhaun and the Nabob Nizam ul Dowlah; but that has not tended to the diminishing our Difficulties, nor can they be removed till Pundit Purdhaun and the English Gentlemen are reconciled. The Maha Rajah has accordingly exerted and employed his utmost Abilities for this Purpose, and has written to you on the Subject; but the Event has not turned out as he wished and hoped for; and now that the Treaty is arrived, even in that there is great Room for Alterations. We are without Resource and Remedy. God knows, and is Witness, whether I am the Friend or the Enemy of the English; but the Earth is hard, and the Heavens are far removed. The Nabob Amaud ul Dowlah is prudent and foreseeing, and all the Difficulties of every Nation are well known to him: At any Rate he will not blame me. I am without the smallest Resource.

and can see no Remedy. Had the English Army under General Goddard never arrived at Hoshungabad, what was then done would not have given Umbrage to the Decan People, and we should not have been compelled to send an Army to Cuttack, and to submit to such a Weight of Expence; but we should have been free and at Liberty in all Points, nor would any Difficulty have come upon us. From a Period of twenty Years our Friendship has been daily encreasing; but from the Plan determined on by the Nabob Nizam ul Dowlah, which has occasioned all these Distresses, I am fallen into great Embarrassment. Had Peace been concluded between the English and Pundit Purdhaun, I was in Hopes that, from the Friendship of the Nabob, I might have requested some small Assistance (on which Subject I accordingly wrote before, and the Nabob has kindly granted us three Lacks of Rupees). I also hoped that Pundit Purdhaun would likewise have given some Share, and that the Nabob Nizam ul Dowlah would certainly have contributed his Proportion, while we ourselves would have consented to suffer one Part of the Loss, and would have repaid the Rest out of the Country of Hyder Naig. But, on the contrary, this Prospect has not been realized, and the Negotiations are extended to an unforeseen Length. The Will of God is superior to every Thing. As yet, what Advantage has accrued to this Quarter from the Name which the Maha Raja has adopted, and from all the Pains and Exertions which I have taken during these last fourteen Months, and from the many Letters I have written, in which I continually style myself the firm Friend, the Friend, the Friend? Fourteen Months have now elapsed since we raised 30,000 Horsemen. If there were only paid three hundred Rupees, what a large Sum it would make? But the established Allowances of this Country are 400 and 500 Rupees for each Horseman, and some have even more than that; besides which there are large Allowances to the Jemadars and other Officers: Consider then well how great the Expence of the Whole must be. Having fully understood this Matter, you must explain it to the Nabob: For fourteen Months we have supported ourselves, and how much longer must we wait in Expectation? It is incumbent on me to do any Thing that may promise a Relief from these Distresses; and if I am neglectful and dilatory in executing it, the whole State will be brought into Danger. I have never been guilty of the smallest Neglect, and yet I am without Reason blamed and accused, and I have continually written all Particulars; but the Will of God is superior to every Thing. The Nabob must read with Attention every Syllable of the Persian Letter which I have written to him, and must write back his Intentions. At this Time it is not advisable to send the Army into Cantonments, and still more imprudent to recall it, as nothing but Losses can be expected from acting contrary to the Plan which was determined on: Something must therefore be done. Should the Nabob think me inexcusable for writing in one Manner, and acting in a different Manner, Distress for Money is my Excuse, and for that I have no Remedy:—But if I was escaped from this Whirlpool, and was able to keep myself alive, my sole Attention and Endeavors would certainly be employed in cultivating the Friendship of the Nabob, which I hope never to lose; or should the Nabob, forgetting this, give me the Name of Enemy, it is my Misfortune, nor can I remedy it; but still I never give up my Friendship for him. The Expences of the Army have rendered me without Resource. War and Hostilities are going on in two or three different Quarters; from one of these it is necessary to be free, and at the same Time Faith and Truth are to be observed. All these Particulars you must fully explain. Like the common Story of the Villager, ‘If I mention it, my Mother dies; if I conceal it, my Father will eat an *emilan Dog.’ Both Cases are difficult: In the same Kind of Dilemma, which I could not foresee, am I fallen; and this the Nabob, who is unequalled in Wisdom and Prudence, must reflect upon with Justice. I write from the Dictates of my Friendship; and should the Nabob conceive different Ideas of what I write, I am remediless. Had the Treaty been written without Ambiguity, there would have been no Occasion for all this. But it can never be consented that Ragonaut Row should remain in full Liberty to act as he pleases: For this Reason—that Madho Row Peshwah, at the Time of his Death, putting the Hand of his Brother Narain Row into the Hand of Maha Rajah Janoojee Bhosla, made them swear eternal Friendship; and that they would by all Means in their Power prevent the Connection from being broken: And Maha Rajah Janoojee Bhosla procured the Release of Ragonaut Row, who was at that Time in Confinement. The treacherous Conduct which Ragonaut afterwards observed towards Narain Row, who had a thousand Rights vested in himself, is well known. After the Murder of Narain Row, the Maha Rajah entered into new Engagements, that though he could not act in any hostile Way against Ragonaut Row, yet he would never suffer him to be at Liberty to act as he should please. This, therefore, never can nor will be agreed to; and as it was not possible to be Security for such an Article, the Treaty has therefore not been sent to Poonah, but has with Letters been carefully kept here, and shall be dispatched on the Receipt of your Answer. How can Pundit Purdhaun at this Time act inimically against Hyder Naig? if he should, no one in the whole World would ever again confide in him: But in the Family of the Peshwa there is no Want of Faith, that they should break their Engagements with a Person who solicited their Friendship. Besides, at this Time Hyder Naig has, in consequence of his Connection with the Peshwa, exerted all his Abilities: They must wait till Hyder is guilty of some Infringement of his his Engagements, which at present he faithfully observes. The Opportunity of this Attack, which I informed you of in the Month of Cautick, upwards of fourteen Months ago, and which perhaps you recollect, or have Letters respecting it, was suffered to escape. If the Plan had been executed agreeable to my Information, by this Time no Mark of him would have remained; but at present, that to maintain their Friendship he has exerted himself in this Manner, how can they act with Enmity against him? All this has proceeded from the War, and no Advantage has been derived from it. The Chief of Bombay gave Rise to these Hostilities and Enmity, and has brought Matters to this Pass. No Fault laid in the Nabob. The Nabob was compelled to protect the Honor and Reputation of the English; and had he not attended to that, it would have given Occasion to unlucky Events. All the present Circumstances are owing solely to his Wish to maintain his Honor. If all these Misunderstandings can be removed through the Mediation of the Nabob Nizam ul Dowlah or Scindiah, it makes no Difference. I am certain that Nabob Amaud ul Dowlah will now not write me any Letter; for this Reason, because Rajah Chimnaje is on the Borders of Bengal, and perhaps some Damages have been done by him, and which have given the Nabob some Displeasure. Let the Nabob think what he pleases, I am still his sincere Friend; but Misfortunes have no Remedy."

In the Hand Writing of the Dewan.

"God knows what Distress I have suffered, and how great have been the Expences of 25,000 Men, which we have raised within these fourteen Months. I am now within Remedy, and am in Embarrassment from two Quarters. On one Side there are Treaties and Engagements, and on the other a long and established Connection of Friendship. I know not what to do. The Nabob is wise, and is well convinced of the Variation and Fickleness of Times and Circumstances."

Postscript written in Persian.

"You write in your Letters of the 22d and 30th of Ramzan, regarding "A Negotiation taking place for Peace, the Conferences with the Council, and that after much Displeasure the Governor had approved, and come into a favorable Disposition to make a Treaty, to abide by the Engagements entered into by Colonel Upton, to withdraw entirely from Guzerat, the Dependencies of Surat, Conkan, and the other Places which have lately been taken possession of, and until a Treaty can be effected, to stop all Operations." All this is extremely right and laudable, and tends to perpetual Advantages. The Answer which you gave in the Conference with the Council, and to the Governor, was extremely proper—A hundred and a hundred Praises. The Wishes of my Heart to establish Truth and Sincerity, and what tends to evince my Desire of promoting the Welfare of the English, have been strongly demonstrated, and will continue to be so in your Measures and Observations, which were equally prudent and wise.

* Sic in Orig. True it is, that * Expenditure is the Touchstone which discovereth the Value of a Man. All is very proper, provided that the Treaty from that Quarter is concluded with Candor and Truth, and with regard to former Treaties; and that the Places which have been taken possession of be given up, great and small; that Favor be not shewn to Ragoonaut Row, and that he be delivered up to the Row Pundit Purdhan. I have the fullest Confidence that the Governor, without further Stickling or Debate regarding any of these Articles, will pay a Regard to the future, and consulting true Wisdom, will send a Treaty concluded with a sincere Disposition; so that I may have no Doubts or Difficulties in speaking or writing to the Pundit Purdhan and his Ministers, that I may take a determinate Part in enforcing their Acquiescence, and that I may dispose the Nabob Nizam ul Dowlah and Scindiah with Unanimity, both in Terms and in Meaning, to join in promoting these Measures. But it is above all Things necessary that Letters should be sent to me, addressed to the Nabob Nizam ul Dowlah, and also to Scindiah, the Pundit Purdhan, and Balajee Row Jemardar. And it is highly requisite that the Satisfaction of Nizam ul Dowlah, and the settling of his just Pretensions, should be effected through the Channel of this Court; so that with the Assistance of the said Nabob and Scindiah, I may take Measures to lay a proper Foundation for a Treaty with Pundit Purdhan. It must not depend entirely on the Negotiation of Mr. John Hollond; for if that Gentleman is employed, it will not be in our Power here to make sure of the Assistance of the above-mentioned Nabob; he will be drawn another Way; and this will be the Means of interrupting the whole Business. As that Gentleman will write in one Style to Calcutta, and I in another hence, a Difference will arise which will occasion Doubts and Suspicions. It is particularly necessary to be careful to prevent this; for the Nabob is the first and most distinguished of the Chiefs of the Dekan; and he is in some Measure satisfied with the English Gentlemen on the Restoration of Murtoznagur. It is therefore very advisable that he should be conciliated by Civilities and Professions, and the Settlement of his just Pretensions, and thereby brought over to co-operate in promoting the desired Objects. You write, that the Governor,

Governor, after expressing many Doubts and Objections about supplying the Expences of the Troops which are arrived at Cuttack, and after you had satisfied him, said, "The Gentlemen of the Council will not agree; for my own Part, I approve of it. For the present I will give thus much Money; but the Troops of this Place are going to Madras: Let near 3000 Horse of the Troops which are at Cuttack accompany them, so that they may arrive in safety at the Place of their Destination; but let nothing be said of the Chout of Bengal; for this would draw great Discredit on me with the Council and the English; and where Advantages of Crores and Lacks are in Contemplation, it is improper to look to such inconsiderable Objects. Some Compensation will be found for it." The Case is this: In all the Correspondence which has passed during two Years, not a Word has slipped from my Pen that has had the least Relation to Avarice or Self Interest: But I am embarrassed on account of the Troops which are arrived at Cuttack, from my Friendship to both Sides; namely, the Pundit Purdhan and the English. They are prevented from ravaging any of the English Territories from a Regard to the latter; and they are prevented from returning from returning* from a Regard to the Plan which has been laid down by the Pundit Purdhan. I am perplexed, therefore, betwixt a Regard to my Friend-ship: I had no other Motive in what I wrote. But two positive Conditions are proposed by the Governor before he will agree: The one is, to relinquish the Chout of Bengal, out of the Friendship to the English: The second is, to send 3000 Horse along with the Officer who has been detached to Madras. The Case is this: The Exertions which were made by the late Rajah to obtain the Chout, the Labors he went through, and the Valor he displayed, are as apparent as the Sun. In these Wars, Worlds were overturned, Multitudes were trampled under the Feet of Horse—the Treasures and Goods of Merchants, Bankers, and Inhabitants of that Country, were plundered and destroyed; and two-and-twenty of the most distinguished Chiefs of this Country, together with many of their Companions and Friends, from the Treachery of the Soubah of Bengal, fell in the Service of their Master; till at length, our hereditary Right and Property of the Chout was fully established and confirmed. Although an Union with the English, the greatest Advantages can be obtained, yet how can we relinquish these Rights and Intentions which commemorate the Fame of our Ancestors, without forfeiting at the same Time our Dignity and Rank as Princes? In the same Manner as the Governor says Discredit would be drawn upon him with the Council, so would this draw upon us the Contempt of all our Neighbours. What therefore is written regarding the Relinquishment of the Chout of Bengal, is no ways proper. * It is advisable that our Name should be preserved in that Soubah; but except this, mention any other Difficulties which occur, so that they may be obviated. In preserving the Name of our Chout, great Advantages will be derived to the English. Every one will be afraid to invade their Country: This will be a great Advantage. If Troops were to be put along with the Officer of the English, Intelligence thereof would doubtless be carried to the Peshwa and Nizam ul Dowlah; and they will say with Certainty, that Bhoolah and the English have in their Hearts been secretly united, and now it is discovered. He is in fact, therefore, one of the English, and we must concert Measures and provide against him. All that has then been written to Poonah and to the Nabob, regarding Peace and the Treaty which is coming from Calcutta, will be rendered ineffectual, and a War will be occasioned with the Chiefs of the Dekan. Then at least 50,000 Horse, besides the necessary Stores and Ammunition, must be got ready before any thing can be done. By the Blessing of God whenever my Letters arrive, as many Troops as are wanted can be procured, but I am without Money. As the Courage and Bravery of the Family of Bhoolah is well known, great Revenues would be necessary. Although with the Spirit and Ability of the English, the Assistance of Crores and Lacks is not so very great a Matter; and Men who accumulate Treasure, accumulate it for such Days as these: Yet when so many Objections are made to assist in paying the Expences of the Troops at Cuttack, how can I place my Expectations in obtaining larger Heaps?—If so much Spirit be shewn from that Quarter, I am ready; and I know well that this will not be done by the Council. As the Friendship of the English is at all Events the first and most necessary Consideration, I will therefore exert myself in establishing Peace: For the Power of making Peace with all is the best Object. To this, all other Measures are subservient; and this will certainly be done by them (the English). You write, that after having laid the Foundation of Peace with the Pundit Purdhan, it is requisite that some Troops should be put along with General Coote against Hyder Naig, and take Possession of his Country, when all these Engagements and Proposals may be assented to. My Reason is confounded in discussing this Suggestion. At a Time when Hyder Naig is in every Respect in Alliance with the Peshwa, and has assisted with his Soul and Life to repel the English, for us to unite our Troops with those of the Enemy, and endeavour to extirpate him, would not this fix the Stamp of Infamy upon us for ever? Would any Prince, for Generations to come, ever after assist or unite with the Peshwa? Be yourself the Judge; and whether such a Conduct would become a Prince or not? Why then do you mention it? Why do you write it? The Case is as follows: At first there was the utmost Enmity betwixt Hyder Naig and the Pundit Purdhan, and there was the fullest Intention of sending Troops into Hyder Naig's Country; and after the the Conclusion of the War with Bombay, and the Capture of Ragonaut Row, it was firmly resolved to send Troops into that Quarter, and a Reliance was placed in the Treaty which was entered into by the Gentlemen of Bombay before the War; but when Ragonaut Row again went to them, and General Goddard was ready to commence Hostilities—when no Regard was paid to the friendly Proposals made by us and the Pundit Peshwa—when they desisted from coming to Poonah agreeable to their Promise, and a categorical Answer was given to the Deputies from Poonah, the Ministers of Poonah then consulted amongst themselves, and having advised with the Nabob Nizam ul Dowlah, they considered, that as Enemies were appearing on both Sides, and it would be difficult to cope with both, what was to be done? Peace must be made with one of them; and War must be carried on with the other. They wished above all Things in their Hearts to make Peace with the English Gentlemen, and unite with them to punish Hyder Naig. But these Gentlemen had plainly refused to enter into any Terms of Reconciliation; it was therefore advisable to accommodate Matters with Hyder Naig: Although he had long been an Enemy, what else could be done? Having nothing else left for it, they were compelled to enter into an Union with Hyder: But as the innate Disposition of that Prince is composed of Ingratitude and Infidelity, and he can never cease to err, it is certain that he will violate the Treaty, and yield a Pretence that will render it advisable for us, in Conjunction with the English, to take Vengeance without incurring the Imputation of a Breach of Treaties. We must therefore wait for an Opportunity when he shall commit some Fault, and doubtless he will commit one; but the Time and Opportunity are still to come; and this is the Way: After the Treaty, formed with Sincerity and Candor, arrives from your Quarter, I will set out for Poonah to conclude these important Matters, and will accomplish every Thing as wished for; I will unite Sindiah with me, and I will satisfy the Nabob Nizam ul Dowlah; and as the utmost Disgust subsists in the Hearts of the Ministers and Nizam ul Dowlah against Hyder, yet, for the Sake of Appearances, as some Pretence is necessary, we must consult together—find out some Accusation against him. We must fix all our Thoughts on this. But some little Delay is necessary to effect all these Objects. This you will well understand; and be not impatient. Things which at first can easily and speedily be accomplished, from the Vicissitude of Affairs, may afterwards be difficult. At present the Establishment of Peace between the English Gentlemen, the Pundit Purdaan, and the Nabob Nizam ul Dowlah, is highly expedient; and, as I formerly wrote, the Loss which each Party has sustained from keeping up their Armies, may be indemnified from some Operations carried on by them in Conjunction. This is certainly true. In former Times it might have been done immediately: If now a Delay of some Days must take place, it does not signify. What comes slowly comes well. The Root and Existence of Hyder Naig will in Progress of Time be extirpated. To conclude—Formerly a long Correspondence of this Kind took place with Lord Clive, which arose from a cordial Friendship on both Sides. After that no Correspondence was kept up, till knowing the distinguished Character of the present Governor, and finding that he was capable of comprehending all these Objects, an Intercourse and confidential Communication has been established. God, who seeth the Inside of all Hearts, is a Witness whether this proceeds from Interestedness or from the sincerest Friendship. The Event will infallibly evince, that it would be difficult to find throughout the whole Extent of the Deckan, and of India, a Friend so truly attached as the Rajah my Master.

“ Postscript.

“ To the Letter which you wrote to Bowanny Pundit to this Effect—that if Pundit Purdaan should not be satisfied with the Treaty, on account of the News of Hyder Naig, it is proper that you should not be satisfied with the Treaty, on account of the News of Hyder Naig*, it is proper that you should cultivate the Friendship of the English, because many Advantages may arise from it, and the Governor reckons you his firm Friend. I hope that all these Advantages, agreeably to my Inclinations, will be brought about. This is the Answer: That after the Arrival of the true and undissembling Treaty from Calcutta to this Effect, to forsake Ragonaut Row, and to deliver him up to Pundit Purdhaun, and to restore all the Places in the Konkun and Guzerat, and the Talooks of Hind, I will go to Poonah, and will get it confirmed in Person, and will get a Treaty on his (the Peshwa's) Part; and whatever is in my Heart, I shall get established in the Treaty. But if the Peshwa does not agree to this equitable Treaty, and peremptorily refuses it, I will write to you (agreeably to your Letter) whatever is proper to be written. To keep an Army, much Money is required; but I shall in no Respect be neglectful in preserving Friendship with the English; and withdrawing from all others, will adhere to them.”

Translation

Translation of a Letter from Rajah Seena Bahadre, to Beneram Pundit, dated the 23d Suffer, and a Duplicate to the same Purport. Received the 26th February.

" Having committed many Particulars verbally to Bissumber Pundit, I dispatched him to your Quarter. All those Particulars you will have understood, as also the Letters which have since been written to you. From the Friendship of the Nabob Amaud ud Doulah, we are loaded with the Reproaches of Pundit Purdhaun, and Nizaum Ally Khaun; and out of Regard to the Friendship of the Nabob, no Objection or Opposition has been made to the March of Colonel Pearse. But how will the Event of this appear? The Maha Rajah formerly wrote to me; that he was at a great Distance, but that the Nabob was near me; and that whatever was proper, I should write to the Nabob, and act agreeable to his Advice. Accordingly, to this Time, I have acted in that Manner; and it is therefore incumbent and necessary for the Nabob, in consideration of his Friendship, to think of and settle some Plan for the Relief of our Distresses. You must now explain fully to the Nabob this Letter, and satisfy him, and inform me of its Success. After the Distresses of the Army shall have been removed, and the Foundations of our Friendship strengthened, great Advantages will accrue, to this Time. From an Attention to my Friendship, I have readily submitted to these Expences and Reproaches which have been thrown upon us by Pundit Purdhaun, and Nizaum Ally Khaun. The Nabob Amaud ud Dowlah is wise; it is necessary that he pay Regard not to the Money, but to the Friendship of the Maha Rajah, and that he perform what ought to be done. This Friendship will be of great Utility. I dispatch this Letter under Charge of two Coffids. Return them with an Answer speedily."

In the Rajah's Hand. " I have said to Bissumber Shu Bheder, whatever was proper to be said. He will have made every Point known to you. Send him back hither soon, and return a speedy Answer."

( N° 6. )

. From Bowanny Pundit Appa to the same, 23d Suffer.

" Having committed several Points of Negotiation to Bissumber Pundit, I have dispatched him to your Quarter; and afterwards other Letters were sent, which you will have received, and understood the Contents: You will now learn all Particulars from the Letter of the Rajah. From the Friendship of the Nabob, great Expences and Distresses have come upon us, and Serement Row Pundit. Purdhaun, and the Nabob Nizam Ally Khaun, have reviled and reproached us. It is therefore incumbent on the Nabob, not to pay any Attention to the Money, but to the Friendship of the Maha Rajah. You are a Well-wisher to both Sides, and must explain this in a proper Manner, and send a speedy Answer."

In the Pundit's Hand. " Mr. Anderson arrived; but no Opportunity offered for an Interview. He has sent the Letter which was with him, and which I understand. We have done what the Nabob requested, and the Nabob must now keep his Eyes on the Friendship of the Maha Rajah. It is incumbent on his Friendship to give us Relief on the Article of the Pay to the Army. By so doing, the Nabob would insure great Advantages to himself."

( N° 7. )

From Rajah Ram Pundit to the same, 23d Suffer.

" I have before this written to you all Particulars, which you will have understood. Bissumber Pundit having obtained Permission from the Presence, sent for me from Cuttack. When I arrived at the Army, by the Advice of the Pundit, and agreeable to your former Letters received at Cuttack, I explained every Particular in a proper Manner to Appa Sahib, and represented them likewise to the Rajah. I also spoke, at Bissumber Pundit's Desire, respecting the March and Stations of the Army; and got it settled that Colonel Pearse should march, without any Molestation, with his Army, such Days Journeys as he may chuse. Accordingly all the Requests of Bissumber were agreed to, and the Pundit has been dispatched to the Nabob and to you. Do you now execute whatever Plan may bring Things to an issue. I am the least of the Servants of the Sirkar. Out of regard to the Friendship of the Nabob, we, for ten Months, to prevent the smallest Injury being done, detained the Army in Cuttack; and to the Extents of our Abilities to bear, brought into these Distresses, not only ourselves, but our Relations, Friends, and Allies, and attempted to defray those Expences. Bissumber Pundit is well acquainted with the Sentiments, Views, and Wishes of this Quarter, and will have explained them to you. I have, to complete the Point you proposed to me, spoken to the Appa Sahib, and by procuring a free Passage for the the Battalions, have, with my Eyes open, submitted to a heavy Reproach; and leaving only the Propriety of this Matter to you, I have executed it, as this was for the Interest and Advantages of both Governments: But how long is this Friendship to be maintained through the Intervention of others?—The Nabob, from his Wisdom and Prudence, having conquered the whole Country, has for these twenty Years sent to Europe large Sums of Money; and it is well known that for these twenty Years the Maha Rajah has never once sent an Army towards this Country; and as he for ten Years did not think the Friendship of the Nabob advisable, the Nabob remained in Peace, attending to the Management of his Country, and to raising his Glory. If I was to make an Account of the Chout, to how much would it not amount?—But Fear of God is necessary. For a whole Year an Army of 30,000 Horse has remained with their Eyes towards that Quarter, and continued within their own Limits, and did not commit the smallest Injury in the Country of Bengal, to the Damage of even a dry Leaf. * Much Money will be received; but it is difficult for this Season, and the Advantages of Friendship, to be attained. I am now released from this; the Blame of it belongs to the Nabob. I performed the same friendly Offices at Hoshungabad, and enabled them to go on in Safety to Surat; and in this Place what could be my Motive for delivering up the Frenchman to the Nabob? God is Witness that it was to give Pleasure to the Nabob. It is now universally known, that I procured a Passage for the Battalions: Should the Nabob at this Time alter his Sentiments, God will bear Witness. This Time is distressing: The Soldiers pray that they may be led to Battle and Plunder; and daily and nightly make this Request. You will explain all these Particulars to the Nabob in a proper Manner; and having settled it, write the Intelligence of it. The Season of Opportunity is gone; this may be of great Consequence and Advantage. If he is inclined to maintain and Support his Greatness, let him remain firm in his Friendship for the Nabob: Reflect on this maturely. As I am satisfied as to the Pay of the Army, I will do every Thing which may be for the Interests of the Nabob. Having settled this speedily, inform me of it."

From Hurry Hurr Maha Deo, 26th Saffur.

"Your Letter, dated in Suffer, was received the last Day of that Month. According to your Desire, I am going with Munajee Pundit to the Army; after my Arrival there I will represent all Particulars to you. I have heard that Bissember Pundit being arrived at Balasore, is remaining there in Expectation of seeing Mr. Anderson; before this, he is doubtless arrived in Calcutta. Colonel Pearce is arrived with his Army at Balasore, and Burgerunt Row Nanna has had an Interview with him. At this Time, Letters are received from Rajah Seenah Bahader and Rajah Ram Pundit to Dewan Huderam, and Munjoo Chowdry, to this Purport; that between the Nabob Amaud ud Dowlah and the Maha Rajah, the firmest Friendship exists; that Colonel Pearce is going with an Army to oppose Hyder Naig; that I must therefore come immediately to Gunness Nagur Ghaur, and prepare the Ferry-boats, for the Army to cross as soon as they may arrive there; and that Munjoo Chowdry, and Namdar Khaun, must accompany them to the Limits of Ganjam; that I must quiet the Inhabitants of the Town, and prevent their conceiving any Apprehensions that the Battalions are going to Madras, and will do no Injury; and that I must give positive Orders to the same Effect to Shabeg Khaun and Nabur Khaun, &c. who, on the other Side of the River

A Second Letter from Rajah Ram Pundit to Beneram.

"Whatever I and Bissember Pundit together represented to the Rajah and Appah Sahib, will have been made known to you by the Pundit who has been dispatched from hence. Colonel Pearce has had Permission to march, and strict Orders have been given to the Beoparies to furnish him with Provisions; and having sent an Agent from us with him, he has been forwarded to the Southward from the Neighbourhood of Cuttack. Bissember Pundit at the Time of his Departure, petitioned from the Presence, that they would not leave Cuttack till he should address an Azie to them after his Arrival at Calcutta. The Troops here complain greatly that they came in the Hopes of enriching themselves in the Country of Bengal; and that to this Time they had neglected all those Hopes of acquiring Money and Goods; that they had now, for the Sake of Friendship, given a free Passage to Colonel Pearce; that they must now either give them Intelligence where to get their Money, or else suffer them to shew their Courage and Activity. How long are these Discourses to last? We are anxiously expecting Letters from your Quarter: We have performed the Duties of Friendship. To this Time, you and I have, in all Cases and Seasons, exerted ourselves in representing all Matters, and pointing out the Opportunities. The Execution of every Thing depends upon the Nabob. He will do whatever is right.

From

From Bowanny Pundit Moonshy to Modajee Bhooslah; to Beneram Pundit: Dated 20th Mohurrem, and received in Calcutta the 22d Suffer, 21st February.

" Your Letter, dated the 6th Zeheidja, arrived on the 9th Mohurrem, under Charge of the Coffids of Teekchunder Meerdha, together with Hindostanny Letters addressed to the Maha Rajah my Master and the Dewan, and the Receipt of it made me acquainted with all Particulars, and gave me the greatest Satisfaction. You write, that at first you could not agree in any Point of your Conversations, till after the Arrival of the Letters from the Presence, and from Dada Sahib, when, on the contrary, every thing was unanimously assented to; and the Paper of Advice and Requests, and all the other Points were approved of agreeable to what they had written. That upon these Particulars being determined on, Kareetahs and Letters from the Nabob, with a Treaty under the Seal and Signatures of the Council, written in English and Persian, and with Letters from you, were dispatched by the Way of Benares, and by that of Cuttack, and that the Letters from hence were returned by the same Conveyance; that as yet no Answer had arrived to any one of them, which Circumstance had thrown you into the greatest Terror and Apprehensions, lest these Papers, containing Secrets of such Importance, should not have arrived safe at the Presence, but should have been lost in the many Dangers of the Road. That you request the Receipt of them may be acknowledged as speedily as possible, in order to restore Tranquillity to your Mind. That you have, agreeable to the Contents of the Letters from the Presence and Dada Sahib, dated the 20th of Ramzaun, represented to the Nabob the Means of supporting the War on all four Sides, which requires the Presence of an English Army in every Quarter, and will be attended with a considerable Expence; and that you enquired of him, in case he should not adopt this Plan, and should not chuse to incur so great an Expence of Money, in that Case, what Advice and Resolution he would take, and what he would determine on for us; and if he does not act in that Manner, what other Plan he has adopted. That the Nabob is accordingly meditating on the above-mentioned Points, and has begun to settle about the Money, which would be entirely adjusted after the Arrival of the Answers from hence. That the Nabob declares, that he has given up the assisting of Ragonaut Row solely out of Friendship for the Maha Rajah, for, that otherwise, there are many Chiefs and Ministers in Decan who are ambitious, and who would give Money and Treasure for Assistance. That at this Time Keeso Butt, a trusty Servant of Ragonaut Row, is come for this very Purpose, on the Part of several Persons of Credit and Distinction, and promises Money on Condition of Ragonaut's being placed on the Throne; but that he pays no Attention to such Promises, being resolved to maintain the Friendship of the Maha Rajah, and never to assist Ragonaut Row; and that now he has sent the Treaty, he can never think of giving any Assistance; and that he is anxious for the Receipt of the Answers from hence. That you said in Answer, that the Maha Rajah also was, in every Situation, attentive to his Friendship, and would, without Doubt, act agreeable to what the Nabob had written. That it is advisable to send an Answer as speedily as possible, because, in short, to this Time, every Conversation and Negotiation has been founded on a Desire for Friendship and Alliance; but what is learnt from the Letters of Bowanny Pundit Bukshy being of a contrary Nature, and Rajah Chimnaje Baboo * of a contrary Nature, and Rajah Chimnaje Baboo having left his Cantonments and encamped, and intending to enter the English Dominions, Colonel Pearse, an English Chief, has been ordered to march with eight Battalions by Land: That they are waiting in Expectation of the Answers from hence; if these arrive soon, it is well; if not, they will not long remain patient, but will march forwards and begin Hostilities; and the Valour and Courage of the English, which is universally known and extolled, will give a bad Issue to the Matter, the Receipt of the Money will be prevented, and Plunder and Rapine must be expected in the Room of it. That it is therefore most advisable to remain on friendly Terms with the English, and to enter into Alliance and intimate Connection with them, and at all Events to effect a Reconciliation between them and Pundit Purdhaun. That you have, agreeable to the former Letters from hence, set on Foot a Negotiation respecting the Money, of which there are required several Lacks, and that you will inform us of whatever may be determined after the Arrival of the Answers from hence. What you write conformably to the Letter from hence, dated the 2d Zekaida, that although the Favors which the Nabob shews to you encrease daily, and although he has a sincere Affection for you, yet, if it is the Pleasure of the Presence that you should remain, you must be informed of it, otherwise you will go to Benares. All these Particulars are perfectly understood; and from the Newspapers of the Royal Durbar the Manner and Method of all the Affairs at the Durbar, and the open and undistinguished Proceedings in transacting all the Concerns of the Sultanut and Country, were likewise fully learnt; and the Paper containing the Preparations of the English in collecting Troops at Benares, Illahabad, Fizeabad, the Neighbourhood of Gwalior, and in the Carnatic, was perused, and the full Particulars of your Letter, together with the Abstract and Abridgement of several secret and important Points, were, in a proper and complete Manner, explained to the Maha Rajah and his Ministers, and the informing us of all Occurrences, and of the Situation of Affairs, which you, at this Distance, send continually and repeatedly, the explaining the concealed Parts of all Matters, the Discovering the Whole of our Views and Wishes, the foreseeing the End of every Thing at the very Commence-

* Sic in Orig.

Commencement of it, the holding fast in your Hand the Chain of Caution and Circumspection for the Interests and Advantage of your Master ; the being from your Heart and Soul employed in maintaining Truth and Faith, and in observing the Duties of Gratitude ; your keeping up at the Durbar of the English, a Distinction and Superiority above all the Rest, have gained you the Favor and Affection of the Maha Rajah and his Minister ; and the Advantages to result from that will, by the Blessing of God, shortly appear to the utmost of your Wishes. Knowing it to be incumbent on my Friendship to give you the earliest Intelligence of this lucky Event, I have written it to you.

The Kareetahs and Treaties which were sent in Duplicate by the Way of Benares, are all safe arrived, and Letters from you were received accompanying them, besides a separate Letter conformable to what you wrote ; but, by the Way of Cuttack, no Kareetah or Letter was received. In Answer to these, Kareetahs and Letters were dispatched at two different Times, under Charge of the Coffids which came from your Quarter, accompanied by others from hence, first, from Ram Teer the 15th Zeheidja, and afterwards from Naigpore the 2d Mohurrem. Doubtless, they have arrived in successive Order, and have made you acquainted with all the Contents. You need not be under any Apprehension respecting the Arrival of the Letters of the Nabob and Nizam Ally Khan, which you sent back, as they were safely received at the same Time as the Letter for Zuffar ud Dowlah ; but two Papers of News, written by Kishin Row Billal remain with you ; those likewise you will without Doubt send. The Letter which I wrote to you under Date the 6th Mohurrem, and dispatched under Charge of Coffids belonging to the Sirkar, was written conformably to the Orders of the Maha Raja, and the Directions of the Dewan, and was free from all Obscurity and Disguise ; was full of Truth and Sincerity, and had not the smallest Degree of Doubt, Excuse, or Dissimulation : And at this Time also, whatever I heard from the Maha Rajah my Master, and from his Minister, I have written in the fullest Manner : It is as follows ; that what the Nabob has said, namely, that notwithstanding the English Forces are stationed in all Quarters from Benares and Allahabad as far as Gualior, and from Cokun to the Carnatic, for the Settlement of the War, and Disputes from the four Quarters, and for the Recovery of their Military Reputation, and for supplying the Expences required by these Measures ; and that notwithstanding that many of the Chiefs and Ministers are inclined towards Ragonaut Row, and promise to supply large Sums of Money in case of his being restored to the Throne ; yet he has, solely with a View to please the Maha Rajah, sent of himself a Treaty, and has desisted from all Assistance of Ragonaut Row, for that otherwise, to this Time, he had no Inclination to enter into Peace and Alliance with them ; that he is anxiously expecting the Answer of the Maha Rajah. The Case is this, that in the Commencement of War, the Event of it, which must be either Defeat or Victory, is known only to God, who sees the Inward as well as Outward. It is first necessary to quit the Guard of one's own Country before one can carry Fire into the Dominions of another ; and while the other does not commit any Breach of his Engagements, to bind on without Cause the Girdle of Enmity, and to act in Opposition to all Faith and Treaties, is contrary to the Opinion of all wise Men, and is the Height of Infidelity ; besides this, General Goddard's being at Hoshungabad was considered and pointed at through all Parts of Decan, as a Proof of the Friendship and Alliance between these two Countries : For this Reason, in the Letters from hence, it was advised and requested conformable to our Friendship and good Wishes, that Peace and Reconciliation be effected ; and, in consequence of that not being approved of, a Kareetah was sent to you containing the Means of supporting this arduous War. In Answer to this, the Nabob wrote, that he had dropped that Intention, and wished for nothing but Friendship. From this you must reflect, that if the Letters from this Quarter to that Quarter had had any Weight, out of those two Proposals, one would certainly have met with his Approbation. Enough of this. When after the Bombay Defeat the Dewan went to Poonah, and Hyder Naig had no other Kind of Connection with Pundit Peishwa, except the sending an Army into his Country, and General Goddard from himself had proposed Peace and Friendship ; and when his declining to assist Ragonaut Row, and his promising to come to Poonah, was solely for the Purpose of a Reconciliation ; at that Time, although the Dewan in Person exerted and employed the most powerful Arguments for this Purpose, yet they had no Effect. Having no other Resource, the People of Poonah entered into an Alliance with Hyder Naig ; and whatever was to be done in consequence has been done, and is still doing. At that Time why did not the General act for the Maha Rajah's Satisfaction ? It is now become absolutely necessary for us to approve the Plan and Scheme, and to raise an Army, and send it into Orissa ; otherwise we should never have had Occasion to send an Army, or to submit to an Expence of Lacks and Crores of Rupees. All this has been the Consequence of General Goddard's coming to Hoshungabad, and our Wish to maintain the Friendship of the English. You must be just, and consider well from what have proceeded the Difficulties of this War, and the present Alarms. Afterwards, when the Dewan returned to Naigpore, the Army which is arrived at Cuttack was put into Cantonments, solely for the Friendship of the English Gentlemen. Kareetahs and Letters were sent from hence, containing many political and friendly Sentiments, and advising that, as Peace was a thousand Times preferable to War, and as Observance of Treaties and Engagements was the Standard of Faith,
Peace

Peace should be effected; or that if this was not agreed to, then the Prosecution of War on the four Quarters, the stationing of English Battalions on all Sides, and the providing Money for the Expences, must be thought of. When Letters from hence to this Purport were repeatedly received in that Quarter, yet the Nabob, rejecting all the Rights of Friendship and Affection, said to you, that we were partial to Pundit Purdhaun, and wished for his Friendship and Alliance; that he would decline our Alliance—that it was of no Use for you to remain with him, but that you might return Home. Reflect, what Wish to give Satisfaction to this Quarter was there in such Expressions? It would have been right in him to have said that he had not the smallest Intention of making Peace with Pundit Purdhaun. That we are his Friends, and are pointed at by all the People of Dekan on account of our Friendship with him, who are not amicably inclined towards us, and wish to see no other Intercourse between us than that of Disputes: That we have therefore sent an Army into Orissa, and that it was necessary for us to unite ourselves with him; by which Means the Army at Cuttack would become his: That as for the opposing his Enemies, a large Force was requisite. It was therefore necessary for him to collect Troops; and that for that Purpose he would give us such a Sum of Money, and would pay us **so much a Sum, and would* • Sicin Orig. pay us so much for the Support of the Army of Cuttack. If he had spoken in this Manner it would have set our Minds at Ease, and we should, in Hopes of Assistance from him, have determined on Plans and Measures to be pursued. But he rejecting these Words, which would have been consistent with the Advice required by the Circumstances, said to you only this, That you might return Home. At that Time where was his Wish to give us Satisfaction, which he now writes has alone prompted him to make Peace, and to send the Treaty? As in Friendship and Alliance such a Dispute is not proper nor becoming, we have therefore assented and approved that he makes Peace †merely to please us, but only in Case the Treaty is made conformable to the former Engagements. † Sicin Orig. This will be an Obligation conferred on his Friends, and will restore Tranquillity to the Inhabitants, will extinguish the Flames of War, and will establish the Reputation of our true Friend the Nabob Amaud ul Dowlah. But when we have assumed the Name of Amaud ul Dowlah, why should he render it abortive and of no Effect, on account of these Expressions about our Satisfaction? What we do for him we do for ourselves, but only on Condition that the Treaty be plain and undisguised, and conformably to former established Engagements. When the Articles of it had been maturely considered, in the Point of Ragonaut Row's being at Liberty to reside wherever he may think proper, in that of the Fort of Ahmedabad and the Share of Gujerat being and maintained in the Possession of Futty Sing Guicowar agreeable to your Engagements; and in the like Article securing Gwalior to the Ranna of Gohed, there appeared a Variation from former Treaties, and a Necessity for an Alteration, besides the Article engaging to attack and ruin Hyder Naig in Concert; all which Articles, as we knew, could never be assented to by the Poonah Minister: We therefore wrote in Answer whatever was right, and was required by Faith and Observance of Treaties, with the greatest Sincerity and Truth, and dispatched the Kareetahs and Letters to your Quarter, where I have no Doubt but they are safe arrived. If Truth, and Faith, and Observance of Treaties, and Peace, and Reconciliation should be their Wish, they will then give their Assent to every Thing which has been written from this Quarter, and will consider it to have been dictated by Friendship. Whatever they may have determined upon will be best; but I swear by the Almighty and by my holy Religion, that the Maha Rajah my Master and the Dewan, notwithstanding their Plans and Counsels above written, have not availed or been approved of, have no other Thoughts or Views but the Interests and Advantages of the English Gentlemen, and the Glory of the Nabob Amaud ul Dowlah; and how great and of what a long Standing must their Friendship be, which, notwithstanding repeated Denials and Contradictions, has received no Injury; this will by Degrees be tried and plainly seen by the Nabob. At present many Things veil it and keep it under Darkness, as a Cloud does the Sun; but at last the Light of the Sun breaks forth by its own Vigor. As the illustrious and noble Family of Bhosla are famed for their Observance of Faith and Sincerity, and have been brought into the Plan and Measures of Pundit Purdhaun, they are therefore without Remedy and Resource, and are wishing to extricate themselves from their Engagements with the Poonah Rulers. The Maha Rajah had, for this Purpose, imagined and settled a Scheme which he explained to me himself, and ordered me to write it to you in my Letter of the 6th Mohurrem; from which Letter you will have thoroughly comprehended it. In this Case, if the Dependencies of the English have suffered from the Army at Cuttack; or if, from the Dread of the English Battalion, the Provinces of Orissa have received any Damage; or even if any small Hostility has happened between them, it makes no Difference; because wherever the Hearts are sincerely unanimous, no outward Appearance of Misunderstanding can be of any Effect: From that a Plea may be procured for separating ourselves from the Connection with Pundit Purdhaun, but it must not be looked upon as an Act of Enmity. This you must explain to the Nabob, and convince him that the sole End proposed from this Measure is, to separate ourselves from Pundit Peishwa; and that after extricating ourselves from our Engagements to him, and from this distressing Plan of his, every Measure will be settled with the Assistance and Advice of the English Gentlemen. But the Means of supporting the Expences of the Pay to the Army at Cuttack, and to the new Troops which this Plan will require to be raised, depend altogether on the Assistance of the Nabob Amaud ud Dowlah. Having settled this Point in a binding Manner, you must write us so.

“ The Reason of determining on this Plan is as follows: When Copies of the Treaty had been sent to the Poonah Ministers after two Months; when Bassein had been lost, and War had commenced in Boreghaut with the English, they sent Answers to this Purport: That they could place no Kind of Dependence on the Promises and Engagements of the English, who had repeatedly entered into Treaties, and as often broke them: That we ought to examine what Want of Faith they had ever shewn, that the English should commence such Hostilities against them, and should employ themselves for the Assistance of Ragonaut Row, and then say that any Breach of Treaty which happened was committed by the Chief of Bombay; but after the Defeat of the Bombay Army, from what Side have the present Hostilities and Devastations arisen? That the present Treaty therefore can be no more relied on; that it is therefore necessary for the Army at Cuttack to lose no more Time in useless Delays, but to enter the English Dependencies. The Maha Raja therefore, to extricate himself from these Measures, has of himself imagined this Plan, and has made me write it to you, that you might represent it in a proper Manner.

“ Postscript. While this important Plan is under Discussion, it is adviseable and necessary that you remain with the Nabob, who, doubtless, will willingly and with Pleasure retain you. Why do you therefore mention any Thing respecting your coming to Benares? You must exert yourself in the Service of your Master, and in your Attachment to the Nabob, for the prosecuting the Points now in Consideration, and the other important Concerns, to the promoting the Friendship between the Nabob and the Maha Rajah, that it may derive inwardly Advantage from these seeming outward Contradictions. To write more to you who are wise, would be useless.

“ Postscript. This is the Season to fix ultimately the Plan proposed, that from the four Quarters, Armies be sent to the English Dependencies, and War be commenced; and should Peace be thought adviseable, let it be by the Intervention and Knowledge of every one; namely, the Nabob Nizam Ally Khan, Pundit Peishwa, and the Maha Rajah; and, at this Time, in consequence of his Connection with Pundit Purdhaun, Hyder Ally Khan has entered himself into this Negotiation, and like the Elephant at Chess, has claimed this Plan on the four Sides; that one of them without the others cannot act in the Measure: But this Connection, and the Conditions of the Engagements between Hyder Ally Khan and Pundit Peishwa were entered into without the Knowledge of the Nabob Nizam Ally Khan, for which Reason he has conceived Displeasure and Enmity against Hyder; and Hyder, from the Pride of having a large Army, and a considerable Treasure of seeing his Country in Security, and of having effected a small Part of his Scheme in an Attack on some English Battalions, conceived Thoughts very far distant from his Situation and Rank; and sent a Vakeel to the Presence, to the Vizier Nejif Khan, and represented that as he had shewn such Courage and Conduct in the War against the English, he hoped from the Royal Favor, that he might receive as a Reward the Sunnuds for the Soubahs of Dican; and that if he obtained such his Desire, he would lay at his Majesty's Feet every Thing which his Loyalty and Obedience could require. Accordingly the Vakeel was admitted to his Majesty's Presence and to an Interview with the Vizier; and a Firmaun containing the Praises and Virtues of Hyder, and promising him his Request, together with a Turban from his Majesty's Head, and a Khellaat from his Wardrobe, were sent to Hyder. We shall soon see what more his Negotiations there will effect. As this same News must have been contained in the Papers sent to your Quarters, any more on this Subject would be superfluous. In short, the Nabob Nizam ul Dowlah being enraged at these Transactions, is watching for an Opportunity to revenge himself. It is therefore most advisable for the Nabob Amaud ud Dowlah to exert himself by all Means to give Satisfaction to the Nabob Nizam ud Dowlah and not to refuse sending him Presents and Gifts, but at any Rate to gain, thro' Mr. Hollond, the Friendship of so great a Chief, who is the Support of the Throne and is possessed of such Armies and Resources: And when this shall have been firmly settled, and this powerful Chief has been gained over, besides the Maha Rajah and the Nabob Zuffor ud Dowlah, who are sincerely attached to the English, and likewise united with Nizam ul Dowlah both in Schemes and Counsels, and in the Management of War and Hostilities, what Power or Ability would then remain to the Chiefs and Rulers of Poonah to act Hostility against the English Gentlemen, without the Permission of the Nabob and Maha Rajah? On the contrary they would certainly be reconciled, and would act in every Thing by the Directions of the Nabob and Maha Rajah; and at that Time, Treaties and Engagements, such as are wished for, will be effected.

The Abstract of this long Letter is that, by this prudent Management and Conduct, the Iron Chain, which is strongly bound on the Feet of the Elephant, will be removed; and what remains, which is only the Chain from Hyder's Foot, must be separated by the Strength of the Sword, and he must be destroyed by the combined Force of the others, and his Country shared according to Agreements which will then be made; and being relieved from all Dangers by the Guarantee of the Nabob and the Maha Rajah, they will then remain in Peace and Security at Home.

You will therefore this* in a proper Manner, represent the above written Particulars to the Nabob Amaud ud Dowlah; but till this important Point can be adjusted and finally effected, you must write to us in an explicit Manner from Calcutta. Till that Time the seeming Preparations on both Sides to enter each other's Dominions, some small Hostilities, and even a Degree of plundering on both Sides, is to be recommended as advisable, and as a Veil over the Plan. This must be considered as sweet to the Taste, and must not be looked upon as better, as a bitter Medicine is of the most Service to the Body; you will therefore exert your utmost Abilities to effect this Plan, and will at any rate satisfy and convince the Nabob that all what I have written are Secrets entrusted to me by the Maha Rajah and his Minister, and I take God to witness that it is true: You must consider this as a Secret more precious than your own Life, and must tear the Letter, as it would be of the greatest Detriment should any one else be acquainted with it. For the keeping of this Secret, you are bound by your most binding of all Oaths, your Duty to your Master. I need write no more, the rest depends on your Management and Conduct.

Translation of a Letter from Dewan Dewagur Pundit to Beneram Pundit, dated the 20th Mohurram —Received the 8th March.

" Your Letter has been received, and the Contents understood. You write that the Nabob Amaud ud Dowlah has dispatched a Treaty, full of Oaths and Engagements, with separate Kareetahs, addressed to Row Pundit Purdhaun, to Nanna Purnavees, to the Maha Rajah, to the Nabob Zuffer ud Dowlah, and to me; but that as yet no Answer has been received to any one of them, which he is anxiously looking for. You further mention that a Kareetah has been sent from Calcutta to the Nabob Nizam ud Dowlah, which, with other Contents of your Letter, is understood; and the Treaty and Kareetahs have been carefully and attentively perused; and agreeable to what the Nabob Amaud ud Dowlah wrote, we have kept with us the original Treaties and Kareetahs, and have written the Particulars and Contents of them to Pundit Purdhaun. What was written respecting the Oath to prevent any Deviation from the Treaty, that it should be neither encreased nor diminished, has been fully comprehended; the Case is this: That in the first Place the chief Article for Pundit Purdhaun, namely Ragonaut Row, is not written in a plain Manner, neither are the Articles respecting Gualier, Gujerat, the Guiewar, and the Forts, and many other Points which ought to have been rendered satisfactory, written with any Plainness; otherwise I should have gone in Person, and exerted myself to adjust every Point. I have therefore not sent the Treaty, but have kept it carefully in my Possession. At the Beginning the Opportunity was suffered to escape; that is to say, the Time when I was at Poonah, when I wrote Letters to General Goddard, and Answers were received, if at that Time an Interview had taken place between Pundit Purdhaun and General Goddard, all Misunderstanding would have been cleared up and reconciled, and the English and Pundit Purdhaun would have become of one Mind and one Soul, and would have ruined Hyder Naig, and conquered his Country. But this did not take place, and the General and Sindia prepared for War; and Pundit Purdhaun entered into Alliance with Hyder Naig, and gave him a Country of 80 Lacks of Rupees on the other Side of the Keshna, with this View, that he might carry Desolation into the Country belonging to the English. Engagements were entered into; agreeable to which the Nabob Nizam ud Dowlah settled a Plan, and, having written to Pundit Purdhaun, forced me into these Difficulties. Had I not agreed to the Plan, it would have caused Injuries to the Rauje and great Damage to me, who am united with the Rauje. It being therefore necessary for me to assent to the Plan proposed, I was compelled to raise 30,000 Men, and to send them under the Command of Rajah Cheemnajee Sahib towards Bengal. A Year and a Half have nearly elapsed; during which these Troops have brought us under a Load of Expences, amounting to 1½ Crore, and have remained all the Time on our Confines without acting in any Manner. My earnest Wish is, that at any rate Peace and Friendship may be effected between the Nabob Amaud ud Dowlah and Pundit Purdhaun, and that our Friendship to both Parties may remain entire. With this View I have taken all these Pains; and the Maha Rajah has adopted the Name of Amaud ud Dowlah, and has continually written that he is the Friend, the Friend, the Friend, and he has determined to effect and compass the Point. But Rajah Cheemna Sahib is in great Distress for the Expences of his Army. My Wish was, that in case of Peace taking place, Pundit Purdhaun would contribute something, that some Part might be procured from the Nabob Nizam ud Dowlah, and another Share from the Nabob Amaud ud Dowlah, which we should have submitted to bear the Remainder, by which Means all our Difficulties would have been removed. I had great Dependence on this; but Peace does not take place between the Nabob Amaud ud Dowlah and Pundit Purdhaun. How long am I to wait in Expectation? Great Difficulty is come upon me from the Plan which had been settled; and Rajah Chemnajee Bahadre from the same Plan is fallen under great Distress; so that we must do whatever appears likely to remove these Difficulties. I am a sincere Friend, and never omit any Duties towards him with whom I enter into Friendship. From the Want of Reconciliation between the Nabob Amaud ud Dowlah and Pundit Purdhaun, am I fallen into this Dilemma. Be convinced that this is true. I have, to preserve my Friendship with the Nabob Amaud ud Dowlah, been backward in the Prosecution of the Peace which had been settled. I have readily submitted to whatever is come upon me, and solely from my Desire to effect a Reconciliation between the Nabob and Pundit Purdhaun have these Difficulties arisen: Yet notwithstanding all this, he is not my Friend. I am fallen into the Dilemma of that Plan, and have no Remedy. The Nabob Amaud ud Dowlah is just, and will reflect on this with Justice: How long must I repeat the same Thing? What has happened must necessarily have happened from that Plan, and we must submit to it. The Maha Rajah is connected by Treaties with Pundit Purdhaun, and the Family of Bhosla is known for their Faith and Oblivance of Engagement; they never did nor never will vary a Hair's Breadth from any Treaty. Many Powers have attempted to injure them, but their Government has remained firm, and gains daily Strength, solely from their exalted Faith and remarkable Fidelity. The Nabob Amaud ud Dowlah is wise, and will be convinced that to this Time I have never been guilty of any Neglect in the Duties of my Friendship, in which it is necessary to explain every Thing sincerely and plainly, and to avoid all Appearance of Distinction."

to

In the Dewan's own Hand:

"I am convinced and sensible of the great Zeal and Conduct which you have shewn in the Maha Rajah's Service, and in promoting the Friendship and Alliance of the English. I have accordingly before written to you in Persian on that Subject; and now the Moonshy will inform you of every Thing which the Maha Rajah said respecting it. You will represent to the Nabob that his Possessions and those of Maha Rajah are one, and have no Kind of Distinction; but there is a Treaty and Engagement which circumscribes us, and from which it is necessary we should be released. This alone distresses us; for there is no other Cause. There is already one Crore of Rupees due to the Army, and it is daily increasing. The Cause of all these Difficulties is the Arrival of General Goddard at Hoshungabad, and our performing the Duties of Friendship and Hospitality to him, which it is unnecessary to write or represent; by this we are become the Mark to every one to point at, and by this, Affairs are brought into this State. The Nabob Amaud ud Dowlah is wise, and is thoroughly convinced that we have never been forgetful or negligent. There is no Remedy against the Necessity of the Times. In future no Variations shall ever happen in our Friendship, in which we are firm and steadfast."

Govind Sing.

“ Mr. Francis.—He has acknowledged the having deducted 23,379 Rupees from the Advances made to Cumul al Dien on Account of the Salt Farms. Admitting that this Money was applied to make good a former Balance due on Account of Rent from Cumal al Dien Cawn for a Land Farm (which I by no means believe to be the Case), still I conceive that his with-holding any Part of the Advances was unauthorized, and must be highly prejudicial to the Company's Interest, as it tends to destroy the Source of future Production of Revenue ; and I see no Relation between Cumul al Dien's Engagements as a Salt Contractor, and his Lease as a Land Farmer ; the Rents should have been exacted as the Monthly Kists became due.

“ Mr. Barwell.—The Land Revenue and Salt is different at Hidgilee from any other of Bengal, and have been united for Ages. Whether the Government obliges a Man to pay its Dues by compelling it out of his Hands, or by stopping a Payment to be made to such a Debtor, I can conceive it is the same, and that no Interests can be sacrificed by it. The Claims are mutual ; one demands on one Account, the other on another ; and if the Revenue run behind Hand, as it appears that it has done, I conceive Gunga Govind Sing fully acquitted of any Charge against him on this Account. But I do not understand the Petition before the Board in the Light of a Charge against Gunga Govind Sing—It is brought before us against the Intention of the Petitioner, of the Person whose Name is annexed to it, and his declared Opposition to its being carried before the Board. To enter into any Enquiry, or to take up Complaints that are dropt, in my Opinion, must needlessly engage the Time and Attention of the Board, as well as carry with it an Appearance of some partial Aim. The Board, by adopting the Petition in the Manner they have, make it in fact their own, and they are equally the Prosecutors and Deciders upon the Point ; for the Man, whose Name is written at the Foot of the Petition, has positively averred he has no Complaint to make, nor did he ever authorize the Presentation of the Petition to the Board.

“ Mr. Monson.—Gunga Govind Sing acknowledges he has withheld upwards of 23,000 Rupees, for Advances due to Cumal al Dien Cawn on his Tuka Collieries, which Sum he says was due to the Company from the Farmer of his Malguzany Rent.—By his having transferred the Company's Property in this Manner from one Account to the other, in order to make the Balances appear less on the Revenue Department, and to increase them on the Salt Farms, is subjecting the Company to a certain Loss ; for unless the Advances are regularly made to the Salt Farm, it is impossible for the Farmer to deliver the Quantity of Salt which he has contracted for, by which means a considerable Deficiency is made in his Deliveries, on which the Company are considerable Losers, and the Balances are irrecoverable ; as is now the Case with the Renter being in Arrear to Government on his Salt Farm, upwards of 1,47,000 Rupees, as appears by the Account sent in by the Calcutta Committee. I think this Proceeding of Gunga Govind Sing deserves Reprehension and Censure. With regard to the Petitions now before us, by which this Transaction is made known, I think they come in a regular Method before the Board. Cumul al Dien Cawn delivered them to the Person who sent them to the Board, with the Intention that they should come to the Knowledge of Government, as appears from the Evidence of Radachurn, to whom he delivered them. The Motives that induced him to retract these Petitions are best known to himself ; but I have Reason to believe his Intentions were altered by having more flattering Prospects held out to him, than the Recovery of so inconsiderable Sum from Gunga Govind Sing.

“ General Clavering.—I must confess I am very much distressed in forming my Judgment on the Petition before us, and the Answer to it. The Petitioner Cumul ul Dien Cawn is a Man of desperate Fortune, whose Declaration before this Board has already been contradicted by Three positive Witnesses upon Oath. From the Accusations which he has separately brought against several Persons, and for some of which he is now bound over to prosecute at the next Assizes, it appears that he has changed his Profession, from being a Salt Farmer to that of a more lucrative one, of becoming a public Accuser. With regard to what he has advanced against Gunga Govind Sing, I can therefore only admit it as far as it is confessed by the other Party ; and as this Practice of deducting from the Advances of the Salt Farmers, to benefit Persons in high Stations in this Government, has been admitted, and proved by more than one Instance, I am rather inclinable to give him Credit for what he has therein said. The most profligate Liars may sometimes speak the Truth. His Intention of presenting this Petition to the Board has been confirmed by the Evidence of Radachurn, and indeed it could not have been given to him for any other Purpose: On these Grounds I am of Opinion, that Gonga Govind Sing is guilty of that Charge brought against him.

" Governor General.—I do not understand that the Matter of the Petition in Question has undergone such an Investigation as can enable the Board to pass any Judgment on the Charges contained in it.

✶ " Mr. Francis.—[I move that Gonga Govind Sing be dismissed from his Employment in the Company's Service.

" I pay little regard to the Evidence of Cumul a Dien Cawn. The Confession made by Gonga Govind Sing convicts him of a specific Offence, for which, in my Opinion, he ought to be dismissed from his Employment. His general Character, as I am well informed, is infamous in an uncommon Degree. That Reason alone, independent of any particular Charge, would induce me to exclude him from any Office of Trust in the Company's Service.

• Sic in Orig. " Mr. Barwell.—During my long Residence in this Country, this is the first Time that I have heard * the Character of Gonga Govind Sing being infamous. No Information I ever received, though I have heard many People speak ill of him, ever pointed to any particular Act of Infamy committed by Gonga Govind Sing. I have no intimate Knowledge of Gonga Govind Sing. What I understand of his Character has been from Natives as well as Europeans. I am against his Dismissal.

" Mr. Monson.—Cumul ul Dien Cawn I understand to be a Man of an equivocal Character; I therefore should not regard his Charge against Gonga Govind Sing, if I had not heard, since my short Residence in this Country, that Gonga Govind Sing is a Man of a most rapacious Disposition; which Character, I think is confirmed by the Wealth and Affluence he now enjoys, being esteemed one of the most wealthy Inhabitants of Calcutta. I think a Person of an avaricious Disposition and high Ambition is not proper to be intrusted in the Company's Service, especially with that Degree of Influence which I am told he possesses over the Minds of many principal People in this Country; I therefore think he should be removed from his present Employment.

" General Clavering.—The Causes of the Decrease of the Revenue, and the great Increase of the Balances, I have endeavoured to account for, in my Minute on the Petition of the Rajah of Rajshaby. I should be wanting in the Performance of that Trust and Confidence which the Legislature placed in me, when it appointed me one of the Council of Bengal, if I did not use my best Endeavours to remove those Causes to which the Company are to attribute the Loss they have sustained in the Revenue; a corrupt Duan of the Province is the great Channel through which all those Evils have passed of which I have spoken; and I think it incumbent on me to declare, that in this Instance, and every other where I have Proof or Suspicion that a Duan is corrupt, I will give my Vote to remove him.—On the Evidence therefore before me, I think Gonga Govind Sing should be removed from his Place of Duan of the Calcutta Provincial Council.

" Governor General.—I am against the Question, because I know of no Fault that he has committed, and have very good Reason to believe that he by no Means merits the Character which has been reported of him to Mr. Francis.—He had many Enemies at the Time that he was proposed to be employed in the Company's Service, and not one Advocate among the Natives, who had immediate Access to myself; I think, therefore, if his Character had been such as has been described, the Knowledge of it could hardly have failed to have been ascertained to me by specific Facts. I have heard him loaded, as I have many others, with general Reproaches, but have never heard any one express a Doubt of his Abilities.

" Resolved he be dismissed from his Station of Naib Duan to the Provincial Council of Calcutta; and the Council advised accordingly (a).]

✶ " Mr. Francis.—I beg Leave to recommend Roy Ramchunder Sein to fill the Office of Naib Duan. He is a Man of whose Talents and Character I have heard a good Account, and I have been particular in my Enquiries; at the same Time I will not pretend to answer for him, or any other Black Man.—If, upon Trial, he should be found to follow the Steps of his Predecessors, I shall be the first to move for his Dismissal. I do not in general think, that the Appointment or Dismissal of the Black Officers in the Civil Company's Service is a Matter about which we need be over and above delicate. The Character of the Natives of Bengal in general, especially of those who have been employed under Government, is not such as obliges us to consider any Thing in their Appointment or Dismissal, but the immediate Service of the Company. If there be Objections to this Man, I am not aware of them.

" Mr. Barwell.—I can have no Objection to a Man I am unacquainted with. I think, however, that the Recommendation would with greater Propriety have proceeded from the Chair.

• Sic in Orig. " Mr. Monson.—I am not acquainted with the Person recommended by Mr. Francis. I have heard him spoke of as a Man of Abilities, and think that * I have been told that he has filled several Offices in Government; but if he should prove unworthy of the Charge to which he has been recommended, I shall readily second the Proposition made by Mr. Francis for his Dismissal. I therefore agree to the Motion.

" General Clavering.—The Person of Roy Ramchunder Sein is unknown to me, to the best of my Knowledge, but I have heard him spoke of as a Man of Talents. In regard to the Integrity of all those who have been in Employment in Bengal since the English Influence prevailed, I am almost afraid to say, that there is little Choice amongst them. We must depend ultimately upon the Virtue of the Provincial Councils; and hoping that they will follow the Example which has been set them by this Administration, I am willing to flatter myself, in a Course of Time, many of the Black Officers may be formed to a Practice of Virtue. At all Events I will contribute my Endeavours to change this Man, or any other whom I may have voted into Office, as soon as I hear that he has been guilty of corrupt Practices.

" Governor General.—I object to this Appointment, not having been left an Option in it.—I know not the Man, and therefore cannot give my Consent to his Appointment.

" Resolved, that Ram Chunder Sien be appointed the Naib Duan to the Provincial Council of Calcutta; and that the following Letter be written to them.

" To Mr. Henry Cottrell, President, &c. Revenue Council of Calcutta.

" Gentlemen,

" Having thought proper to remove Gonga Goving Sing from his Office of Naib Duan to your Board, we have appointed Ram Chunder Sein to succeed him therein.

" We are, &c.

The Counsel for the Defendant informed the House they should next read an Extract from a Plan of Mr. Francis respecting the Collection of the Revenues, the Administration of Justice, and the Rights of the Zemindars or Landholders, dated Fort William, 22d January 1776, being Part of Paragraph 64 of the same.

Then the Witness produced a Book endorsed, " Plan of Governor General, Mr. Barwell, and Mr. Francis, relative to the System to be adopted in letting or disposing of the Lands in Bengal."

The same was delivered in, and an Extract read from the same, as follows:

" With respect to the present Provincial Councils, I am of Opinion that the Institution was fundamentally wrong. There should be but one deliberative Council in the State. The Powers delegated by that Authority should be purely ministerial. It seems contrary to all Principle to unite Execution with Debate. It looks like forcing Two Powers, moving on Principles diametrically opposite in their Nature, to keep Pace with each other. A Government so constituted will neither deliberate nor dispatch. Setting aside the obvious Consideration of an inevitable Slowness of Proceeding, tedious Disputes, and voluminous Consultations, one great and fatal Objection to Provincial Councils is generally felt and acknowledged by themselves. Their local Situation makes them unable from their own Knowledge to judge of the State of the distant Districts, or to hear Complaints, or to yield timely Redress, or in short to enter into the Detail of Government. The Counsel for the Defendant informed the House they would next proceed to shew, that Application was made to the Court of Directors in the Year 1772, with respect to the Allowance made to Colonel Ironside as Mr. Hastings's Military Secretary.

“ The President represents to the Board, that he has found it necessary to appoint a Military and Civil Secretary to assist him in conducting the immediate Business of his Department; that he has chosen Lieutenant Colonel Ironside for the former, and Mr. Stewart to act for him in the latter, until the Station assigned to him by the Directors shall become vacant; that he cannot find any Precedent or Rule established for the Salary or Allowances of the Governor's Secretaries, which have been variable under different Governors; and he believes have depended as much on private Advantages as upon the public Allowances. He finds the only public Appointments which appear to be the Military Secretary's are Captain's Pay and Batta, with the Advantage of an Apartment in the Government House; the latter he has it not in his Power to afford him, having only that House. As he thinks Captain's Pay and Batta disproportionate to the Station Lieut. Colonel Ironside holds in the Service, the Allowance he would propose for him is Pay and Batta according to his Rank, together with House Rent; but, as this may be deemed an Innovation, and as he knows not how far the Directors may approve it, he begs Leave to submit the Propriety of it to them, and in the mean Time he will continue to make this Allowance to him until their Orders shall be received concerning it.

“ With respect to Mr. Stewart, he proposes Captain's Pay and Batta for him as his Civil Secretary, and makes the same Reference to the Court of Directors.

“ The Governor General delivers in the following Minute on the Subject of his Staff.

“ The Governor General.—It is with great Reluctance that I call upon the Board for Assistance in a Matter which may be considered as of a private Nature, although inseparable from the Station of every Member of this Government, and more especially from that of the Chief Magistrate. The Object which I allude to is, that of Patronage in the Military Line, which the Members of the Board can only exercise the Privilege of collectively, and that not in many Instances, or individually by their Influence with the Commander in Chief, in Proportion to the Degree of Cordiality which may subsist between them. I do not mean to censure an Institution which has been judged expedient by our Superiors; I shall only request the Attention of the Board to my own Situation. Called upon continually by Persons of high Rank and Station, both in the national and in the Company's Councils, to protect and prefer their Friends in the Army, and by the Merits and Services which have come under my personal Knowledge and Observation, I suffer both Pain and Humiliation at the Want of Power to reward the Meritorious, or to shew a proper Attention to the Wishes of my Superiors, without having Recourse to Means which must be considered as incompatible with the Dignity of my Station.

“ The slender Relief which I intreat of the Board from this State of Mortification, is the Authority to augment the Number of my Staff, which will enable me to shew a marked and particular Attention in Circumstances such as above stated, and will be no considerable Burthen to the Company. This Power I am willing to flatter myself, that the Board will not think me inclined to abuse, and it is my Intention to confine it within as narrow Limits as possible.

“ Agreed, that the Governor General be allowed to augment his Staff, in such Manner as he may think proper.

The Counsel for the Defendant informed the House, they would next produce a Minute of Mr. Hastings, touching the Establishment and Maintenance of the Pundits.

Read, from Book 670, the following Extract of a Consultation of 18th April 1781, beginning at Page 34 of the same Book.

“ At a Council; Present,
The Honble. Warren Hastings, Governor General, President;
Edw<sup>d</sup> Wheler Esquire.
Lieutenant General Sir Eyre Coote K. B. absent on Command at the Presidency of Fort St. George.

“ The Governor General lays before the Board the following Minute.

“ Governor General.—In the Month of September 1780, a Petition was presented to me by a considerable Number of Musselmen of Credit and Learning, who attended in a Body for that Purpose, praying that I would use my Influence with a Stranger of the Name of Muced O'den, who was then lately arrived at the Presidency, to persuade him to remain there for the Instruction of young Students in the Mahometan Law, and in such other Sciences as are taught in the Mahometan Schools, for which he was represented to be uncommonly qualified. They represented that this was a favourable Occasion to establish a Madrassa or College, and Muced O'den the fittest Person to form and preside in it. That Calcutta was already become the Seat of a great Empire, and the Resort of Persons from all Parts of Hindostan and Decan: That it had been the Pride of every polished Court, and the Wisdom of every well regulated Government, both in India and in Persia, to promote by such Institutions the Growth and Extension of liberal Knowledge: That in India only the Traces of them now remain, the Decline of Learning having accompanied that of the Mogul Empire: That the numerous Offices of our Government which required Men of improved Abilities to fill them, and the Care which had been occasionally observed to select Men of the first Eminence in the Science of Jurisprudence to officiate as Judges in the Criminal, and Assisors in the Civil Courts of Judicature; and (I hope this Addition will not be imputed to me as Ostentation, on an Occasion in which the Sincerity of what I shall hereafter propose for the public Patronage, will be best evident by my own Example), the Belief which generally prevailed that Men so accomplished usually met with a distinguished Reception from myself, afforded them particular Encouragement to hope that a Proposal of this Nature would prove acceptable to the actual Government.

" This was the Substance of the Petition, which I can only repeat from my Memory, having mislaid the Original.

" I dismissed them with a Promise of complying with their Wishes to the utmost of my Power. I sent for the Man on whom they bestowed such Encomiums, and prevailed upon him to accept of the Office designed for him. He opened his School about the Beginning of October, and has bestowed an unremitting Attention on it to this Time, with a Success and Reputation which have justified the Expectations which had been formed of it. Many Students have already finished their Education under his Instructions, and have received their Dismissal in Form; and many dismissed unknown to me, the Master supposing himself limited to a fixed monthly Sum, which would not admit a larger Number. Besides Day Scholars, he has at this Time Forty Boarders, mostly Natives of this Province, but some Sojourners from other Parts of India; among them I had the Satisfaction of seeing, on the last New Year's Day, some who had come from the Districts of Coshmeer, Guzarat, and One from the Carnatic.

" I am assured that the Want of suitable Accommodation alone prevents an Increase of the Number, for this Reason I have lately made a Purchase of a convenient Piece of Ground near the Beita Connah, in a Quarter of the Town called Pudpoker, and have laid the Foundation of a square Building for a Madrisa, constructed on the Plan of similar Edifices in other Parts of India.

" Thus far I have prosecuted the Undertaking on my own Means, and with no very liberal Supplies: I am now constrained to recommend it to the Board, and through that Channel to the Honble. Court of Directors, for a more adequate and permanent Endowment.

" By an Estimate of the Building, which with a Plan and Elevation of it shall accompany this Minute, the whole Cost of it would be 51,000 Arcot Rupees; to which I shall beg Leave to add the Price of the Ground, being 6,280 Sicca Rupees; the Amount of both is 57,745 Arcot Rupees. It shall be my Care to prevent an Excess of this Sum, which I request may be placed to the Company's Account, and a Bond allowed me for the Amount; and that I may be enabled, by the Sanction of the Board, to execute this Work.

" I must likewise propose that a Parcel of Land may be assigned for the growing Charge of this Foundation.

" The present Expence is as follows:

|                                                 |   |   |   |                   |     |
|-------------------------------------------------|---|---|---|-------------------|-----|
| The Preceptor, $\frac{1}{2}$ Month              | — | — | — | —                 | 300 |
| 40 Scholars, from 7 to 5 R. $\frac{1}{2}$ Month | — | — | — | —                 | 222 |
| A Sweeper                                       | — | — | — | —                 | 3   |
| House Rent                                      | — | — | — | —                 | 100 |

" The Day Scholars pay nothing in the Proportion of the above Expence. An Establishment of 100 Scholars may be estimated at 1,000 Rupees per Month, at the utmost. I would recommend that the Rents of One or more Mawfas or Villages in the Neighbourhood of the Place be assigned for the Monthly Expence of the proposed Madrisa, and that it be referred to the Committee of Revenue to provide and make the Endowment, and to regulate the Mode of Collection and Payment, in such a Manner as to fix and ascertain the Amount and Periods of both, and prevent any future Abuses of one, or Misapplication of the other. For the present, an Assignment of Half the estimated Sum will be sufficient.

" Ordered, That the Estimate inclosed in the above Minute be entered after the Consultation.

" Agreed to the Governor General's Request, and ordered accordingly.

" Ordered, That Copies of the above Minute, and its Enclosure, together with the Plan and Elevation of the Building therein mentioned, be transmitted to the Honble. Court of Directors by the

The Foundation has appeared to us, though yet only in its Infant State, so well calculated to promote the Growth and Extension of liberal Knowledge, and to be so much required in a Settlement like this, already become the Seat of a great Empire, and the Resort of Persons from all Parts of Hindostan, that we have readily and cheerfully given it our Sanction, by complying with the Requests made by the Governor General respecting it; and we beg Leave to recommend the Undertaking to you for a more adequate and permanent Endowment than we have yet been able to give to it. “ The Governor General delivers in the following Minute and Accounts respecting the Madriffa or Charity School.

“ As upon Enquiry I find that the Committee of Revenue have not yet been directed to assign the Rent of One or more Mowfahs or Villages in the Neighbourhood of the Spot upon which the Madriffa has been erected, for the monthly Expence thereof, as resolved upon by the Board on the 18th April 1781, and as the monthly Expence of that Institution has been since that Time defrayed by me, I request that the Committee of Revenue may be furnished with the Directions recommended by my Minute of the 18th April, and ordered to repay me the Amount which I have since that Time paid on this Account, amounting, agreeable to the accompanying Account, to C<sup>t</sup> Rupees 15,251 12 3.

“ On comparing the Statement of the monthly Expence of this Institution, contained in my Minute of the 18th April, with the Sums which I have monthly disbursed on the Account, the former of which was taken from the Representations of my Moonshy, who does not seem to have been apprized of its actual Expence, I find that I have in that Minute somewhat under-rated the Sum required for its monthly Support; I therefore request that the Board will be pleased to direct the Committee of Revenue to assign the Rent of One or more Mowfahs, producing a monthly Revenue of Twelve hundred Sicca Rupees per Month, to be applied to this Purpose, and to commence on the First of this Month.

“ I find that I have been misinformed as to the Cost of the Ground upon which the Building has been erected, which was in that Minute stated at 6,280 S<sup>r</sup> R<sup>r</sup>, but which amounts to no more than S<sup>r</sup> R<sup>r</sup> 5641, agreeable to the accompanying Account of the Kowallcahs taken from the Persons of whom the several Parcels of Land were purchased, which Kowallcahs accompany this Minute.

(a) Vide Appendix, N<sup>o</sup> CCCLXXVIII.

" I request that the Board will be pleased to order the Sub-Treasurer to make a Transfer of the Amount which I have advanced on this Account in the Treasury Account of the present Month, charging the same to the Madriffa; and crediting Money, borrowed at Interest, for the Sums advanced by me; for which I request he may be directed to prepare Bonds in my Name with Interest, to commence from the Dates upon which the Sums were severally advanced, agreeable to the accompanying Account thereof.

" I request that the Committee of Revenue may be directed to receive Charge of Kowallcahs, from the Secretary to the Board, and to preserve them with the Records of their Office.

" Ordered, that the necessary Orders be accordingly issued to the Committee of Revenue and the Sub-Treasurer."

Read, from Book 20, the following Extract of a Letter from the Governor General and Council at Bengal to the Court of Directors, dated 15th July 1782, beginning at Paragraph 20 of the same Letter.

" To the Honble. Court of Directors for Affairs of the Honble. United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East Indies.

" Par. 20. The Madrisa, or College for the Promotion of Oriental Learning, which was established by our Resolution of 18th April 1781, having been placed upon a proper and regular Footing, and the Buildings for that Purpose completed, we have assigned the Revenues of certain Villages in the Neighbourhood, amounting to Rupees 1200 per Month, to its Support, and have no Doubt that it will be found fully to answer the End of its Institution.

" Warren Hastings,
John Macpherlon."

The Counsel for the Defendant informed the House, that before they proceeded to the next Subject they would add one other Document to the Evidence respecting the Expences of the Aids de Camp.

Read, from Book 739, intituled, " Bengal Board of Inspection, 24th September to 31st December 1778," the following Extract of a Consultation of the 12th November 1778, beginning at Page 330 of the same Book.

Thursday.

" The Honble. Warren Hastings Esquire, Governor General, President;

Philip Francis,

and

Edward Wheler,

Mr. Barwell absent.

} Esquires.

" Governor General.

" It is always with Reluctance that I subject the Company to any Expence for my personal Convenience, or for that of the Gentlemen of my Family in Public Stations; but I hope the Board will think the Situation of my Aids de Camp, with respect to House Rent, deserving of their Attention and Relief. The Allowance is only Ninety Rupees per Month, a Sum totally inadequate to any decent Accommodation. I have for Two Years past provided them a House at the Rent of Six hundred Rupees per Month, an Expence which I cannot any longer support, and from which I hope the Board will relieve me by increasing the Allowance for House Rent to Two hundred Rupees a Month for each Aid de Camp.

Governor General's Proposal for increasing the Allowance for House Rent to his Aids de Camp.

" Mr. Wheler.—I agree to the Governor General's Request.

Opinions thereon, and

" Mr. Francis.—I acquiesce.

" Resolved, that the Allowance for House Rent to the Aids de Camp of the Governor General be increased to Two hundred Rupees per Month for each Aid de Camp. Resolution

" Warren Hastings,
P. Francis,
Edw<sup>d</sup> Wheler."

The Counsel for the Defendant stated, they would next proceed to give in Evidence certain Documents touching the Budgerows which Mr. Hastings provided for the Company.

Read, from Book 181, the following Extract of a Consultation 7th March 1785, beginning at Page 611 of the same Book.

“ At a Council ; Present,
“ The Honble. John Macpherson, Governor General President ; John Stables Esquire,
and
The Honble. Charles Stuart.

“ It having been reported to the Governor General that the Furniture of the State Budgerow called the Soonamookey, and of Mrs. Hastings's Pinnace called the Mary, is the private Property of the late Governor General, and actually going to be sold with the Rest of his Effects;

“ Resolved, that the Master Attendant be directed to put a Value upon the Furniture necessary for the above-mentioned Vessels, and that the Marine Paymaster be ordered to pay the Amount to Mr. Hastings's Attorney, charging the same to the Company, whose Property the Vessels are; and that they be accordingly entered in his Books, and kept upon the lowest possible Establishment.

“ Ordered, that the Marine Paymaster be called upon for an Estimate of the Establishment that is absolutely necessary for each.

“ At a Council ; Present,
The Honble. John Macpherson Esquire, Governor General ;
John Stables,
and
The Honble. Ch' Stuart.

“ Read, the following Letter from the Contractor for Yachts.

“ Honble. Sir, and Gentlemen,

“ The Mary Yacht being in Fact in Place of the James as a Vessel of Accommodation, she must always be kept ready for instant Service; and having been examined, and a List of her Stores and Furniture sent to the Honble. Board, with the Stores wanted and the Repairs necessary to put her into a good State and Condition, which being allowed, if it shall please them to give her to me on the Establishment of 500 Arcot Rupees per Month, I will engage to keep her in constant Repair and full manned. The Expence of Tow Boats attending her when on Service either to the Members of the Honble. Board, or any other private Gentlemen, to be paid separately for by them.

“ The Sonar Moorkey Budgerow is more a Vessel of State, and probably will not always be wanted for instant Service. A List of her Stores and Furniture also is sent, with a List of her Stores and Articles which require to be repaired and made, for to put her in good Condition; which if the Honble. Board approve of, I will also as Yacht Contractor engage to keep her in Repair and in Safety when unemployed, at 250 Arcot Rupees per Month; and when she is employed, the actual Encrease of Expence, during such Time only, to be paid for by a separate Bill, begging Leave to observe that when it shall please the Honble. Governor General to have the Budgerow painted and gilded in the Manner she is now done, the actual Expence of doing that to be at the Company's Expence; and the Establishment of Unemployment to take Place from the First February, as the Wages to the Crews of these Vessels and other Expences incurred have already been paid since that Period.

“ The very low Establishments which I have proposed taking these Vessels at, makes me hope the Honble. Board will confirm them to me on Contract, for the remaining Period which the James Yacht was to have run, to the 31st October 1788.

“ I have the Honour to be, &c.

“ Fort William,
15th March 1785.

(Signed)

Yacht Contractor.”

“ Resolved,

“ Resolved, that the Yacht Contractor be allowed 500 Arcot Rupees per Month, for keeping the Mary in constant Repair, and fully manned, to be ready for Service at the shortest Notice, and that 250 A<sup>r</sup> be allowed for keeping up the Soonamookey or State Budgerow in the same Manner, and that any additional Expence that may be required for Tow Boats when employed, shall be defrayed by the Gentlemen who may make use of those Vessels.

“ Ordered, that the Estimate do commence from the 1st February, when the Contractor received Charge of the above Vessels.

Read, from the same Book, the following Extract of a Consultation of the 11th April 1785, beginning at Page 288 of the same Book.

“ Read a Letter from the Marine Storekeeper, as follows.

“ Honble. Sir, and Gentlemen,

“ Agreeable to the Honble. Board's Order of the 7th March, I send a List of the Furniture and Articles on Board the Soonamookey Budgerow and Mary Yacht, with the Valuation as appraised by Mr. Bondfield, the Auctioneer, at which Mr. Thornhill, the Master Attendant, assisted me. I beg Leave to mention, that the Pinnace, in her present State, will require about 150 Rupees Expence to repair and paint her, and the Pulevar about 100 Rupees, and then they will be both good and cheap Boats. We had the Master Carpenters present when they were examined, before our Valuation of them.

“ I am to request the Honble. Board's Order on the Treasury, for the Amount Valuation and Repairs to Boats, S<sup>r</sup> R<sup>r</sup> 1,826, to enable me to pay Mr. Larkins, and the Repairs.

“ Fort William,
Naval Store Office,
28th March 1785.

“ I have the Honour to be, &c.

(Signed)

Naval Storekeeper.”

“ Approved the Appraisement of the Marine Storekeeper and Master Attendant, to the Inventory, enclosed in the above, of Mr. Hastings's Furniture, on Board the State Budgerow and Mary Yacht; and “ Ordered, That the Marine Paymaster be authorized to pay the Amount, S<sup>r</sup> R<sup>r</sup> 1,487, to Mr. Hastings's Attorney, and to include the same in his Abstracts.

(Signed at the End of the Consultation)

John Stables,
Charles Stuart.”

Then Mr. Hudson was asked,

Q. Does it appear from the Consultations that Mr. Cartier ever took the Restrictive Oath proposed by Lord Clive?

A. It does not appear that he did take it.

Q. Does it appear that Sir John Macpherson or Lord Cornwallis ever took that Oath?

A. It does not.

Cross-examined by the Managers for the Commons.

Q. Whether or no the Restrictive Oath, or something of that Kind, was not taken somewhere or other by this Gentleman?

A. It appears, as I recollect, from the Consultations, that Mr. Cartier took the Oath when he took his Seat at the Board; and it has just now been in Evidence To-day, that Sir John Macpherson and Lord Cornwallis took an Oath when they took their Seat at the Board.

Q. The Question means, the Restrictive Oath against taking Presents?

A. What the Words of the Oath were I cannot tell; for they do not appear.

Q. What are the Words of the Record?

A. As well as I recollect, “ they took the Oath of Office;” I recollect in Lord Cornwallis's Case it is said, “ He took the Oath of Office of Governor General, of Allegiance, and I think another Oath.”

Q. The Question is not, what Oath Sir John Macpherson took, or, what Oath Lord Cornwallis took; but what Oaths were taken prior to Mr. Hastings's Government, by Governor Cartier, Verelst, and Lord Clive;—the Question is confined entirely to them?

A. I believe it appears already in Evidence, that Mr. Verelst when he took the Chair took the Oath of Office; and that afterwards he took the Restrictive Oath proposed by Lord Clive, about Six Weeks after.

Q. What

Q. What Oath did Mr. Cartier take?

A. I believe it is in Evidence that he took an Oath when he took the Chair; but what the Words of the Oath were does not appear.

Q. (Re-examined). Except the Oath which Governor Cartier appears to have taken at the Council Board, and which is called the Oath of Office, does it appear that he ever took any other Oath at the Town Hall?

A. I have examined the Consultations from the Day that Governor Cartier took the Chair till the Middle of the Year 1771, Page by Page, and I have examined the remaining Part—not so carefully as the former, but I do not find that he took any Oath, after the Oath taken when he succeeded to the Chair.

Q. (by Managers). Did he take any other Oath preceding his taking the Chair?

Question objected to.

Q. Whether you find upon the Records, that Mr. Hastings is stated there to have taken any Oath in the Manner in which it is stated that Governor Cartier took it?

A. I believe I have said already, that when Mr. Hastings took his Seat as Governor and President of the Council, it does not appear that he took any Oath, from the Proceedings.

Q. (by Counsel). Does it appear, that he had Six Weeks before that Time taken the usual Oaths, when he took his Seat as Second in Council, and to succeed to the Government?

A. That I believe is already in Evidence.

Q. (by Managers). Whether the Oath taken by Governor Cartier is not supposed by you to be taken not by the First or Second in Council, but by virtue of the Office of being President of the Council or Governor?

A. Certainly, I should suppose so.

The Witness was directed to withdraw.

The Counsel for the Defendant desired Mr. Auriol might be called in.

Mr. AURIOL was accordingly again called in.

Then the Counsel for the Defendant informed the House, that there were One or Two Points in the printed Minutes of Mr. Auriol's former Evidence, which he wished to correct.

Then the Witness said,

In Page 2006 of the printed Evidence, the last Line but one, there are these Words, ' And the Disaffection of the Begums, and the Assistance offered by them to the Endeavours of Cheit Sing: ' I could not know any Thing myself of the Assistance ' offered,' but I believe I said, the Assistance ' afforded.' The other is a Mistake of my own, in confounding Two Interviews which I had with Sir Eyre Coote, and making them appear but One. It is in the same Page.

The Managers for the Commons objected to the Witness being permitted to explain his Testimony, after the Evidence on that Article had been closed and summed up by the Counsel.

The Counsel for the Defendant were heard in Answer to the same Objection.

The House informed the Managers for the Commons, that the Witness might be permitted to explain the Matter in Question.

Then the Witness said,

A. It is immaterial to the Case; but, upon better Recollection, I have confounded Two Interviews with Sir Eyre Coote as One. It makes a Difference as to the Time. I have said, ' I went down in the Lively Packet, I believe it was in April or May 1781, and visited Sir Eyre Coote, who was then in Command of the Army at Cuddalore; that he told me the Army ' had then only Three Days Provisions; ' after which I will beg Leave to add these Words, ' but the Success Galley, an armed Ship, arrived about this Time with a fresh Supply from Madras. I sailed in her to the Southward to meet the Fleet then in its Way to Bombay, and was received by Sir Richard King, on Board the Exeter, in which Ship I came back to Cuddalore. The Fleet anchored off the Station of the Army, and assisted in moving the heavy Artillery and Stores to Madras: At that Time I had a Second Interview with Sir Eyre Coote: ' Then should follow the Words, ' He marched out, I believe, the next Day or the Day following, and gave Battle to Hyder Ally.'

Q. From what Time to what Time was you Secretary to the Board at Calcutta?

A. From August 1775 to December 1783.

Q. Is

Q. Is it usual to enter the Oaths taken by the Governor General and the Members of the Council in any particular Book ?

A. In the Secretary's Office there is a Book of Oaths; that is to say, there is a Book containing the Form of the official Oaths; which Book is not sent home to the Court of Directors, because it contains nothing else; but upon the Accession of any Governor or Member of the Board, the Oaths are invariably, I believe, administered to them, and they sign the Book with the Day, on which they take them.

Q. What are the usual Oaths ?

A. The Oath of Allegiance, of Office, the Oath of Secrecy, and, I believe, it was formerly the Practice to administer the Oath of a Justice of Peace.

Q. Was the Book ever in your Possession, containing the Entry of the Oaths at the Time that Mr. Hastings succeeded Mr. Cartier ?

A. It was the same Book, and remained in the Secretary's Office both before my Appointment as Secretary and afterwards.

Q. Are you able to say, from your Recollection, whether or not it appears from that Book that Mr. Hastings took the usual Oaths upon succeeding to Mr. Cartier ?

A. As well as I can recollect a Circumstance, at so great a Distance of Time, which I did not particularly note for future Attestation, I think he certainly did.

The Managers for the Commons objected to the Evidence.

Q. (by a Lord.) Have you any distinct Recollection of it ?

A. I have. I was in the Office of Secretary from the Year 1770. I do not speak from the Recollection about the Time, but from a posterior Recollection. There were not many Names signed to the Governor's Oath, and I have a pretty certain Recollection of seeing the Name of Mr. Hastings upon his Accession to the Presidency.

Q. (by Managers.) In what Office in the Secretary's Office was you at that Time ?

A. I was appointed an Assistant in the Secretary's Office soon after my Arrival in India in July 1770.

Q. Whether or no you do not know, that it is the Course of the Service, that whatever passes in Council should be entered upon the Consultation ?

A. Undoubtedly.

Q. Was not the Oath taken in Council ?

A. Invariably : And if not minuted, it must have been from the Neglect of the Assistant's Secretary who drew up the Consultation.

Q. Do you believe that such Neglect took Place in the present Instance ?

A. I have not seen the Consultation, and therefore cannot tell.

Q. It is not in the Consultation.

A. Then I should presume it was from Neglect ; I am pretty certain that the Book of Oaths was signed with the Date of Mr. Hastings's Accession to the Chair.

Q. (by a Lord.) Do you mean to state your Recollection of the Fact that you saw the Oath taken ?

A. No ; I was not present.

Q. (by Counsel.) Are you acquainted with the Nature of the Governor General's Office ?

A. Yes.

Q. Do you know what is the Business usually transacted in that Office ?

A. There is a great Variety of Business.

Q. The Examination is, of the Nature of the Business of that Office, of the Charges incurred in which, an Account (a) is sent in Mr. Hastings's Letter to the Court of Directors of the 21st February 1784 ; is it of a public or of a private Nature ?

A. It is of a public Nature undoubtedly ; the Business transacted, I believe, was chiefly copying the Minutes and Papers, either for the Board or for the Court of Directors ; and for copying other necessary Papers, dependant on the executive Officers of Government.

Q. Do you know that a considerable Number of Persons were employed in that Office during the Government of Mr. Hastings ?

A. There were a considerable Number of Persons so employed.

---

(a) Vide supra, Page 1120-1 and 1129.

Q. Can you state any of their Names?

Then a List was shewn to the Witness; and he said,

A. Mr. Henry Griffiths, Mr. Bird, Mr. Brian Glover, Mr. Pleydel, Mr. Peter Bowers, Mr. Thomson, and there are several other Names that I do not know; but I was not acquainted with the inferior European and Native Clerks, employed in the Governor's Office, though I have often seen them.

Q. Were there a Number of Persons employed in that Office besides those whose Names you can at present recollect?

A. I have mentioned that there were.

Q. Have you examined the Account of the Charges incurred in that Office, made out by Mr. Larkins, and transmitted to the Court of Directors; and, considering the Nature of the Business done in that Office, as it consists with your Knowledge, do those Charges appear to be reasonable and just?

A. I have looked over the Account, and do not think the Charges excessive.

Q. Do you remember whether Colonel Ironside acted as Military Secretary to Mr. Hastings?

A. I remember Colonel Ironside's Appointment as Military Secretary to Mr. Hastings, which took place soon after his Accession to the Government in April 1772; and I believe he continued so about a Twelvemonth.

Q. What Rank did Lieut. Colonel Ironside then hold?

A. He was a Lieut. Colonel in the Company's Service.

Q. What at that Time was the Pay and Batta of a Captain in the Company's Service?

A. It varied according to the different Situations of the Army; I cannot at this Moment say precisely what it was.

Q. From the Year 1778 to the Year 1783, did the Aids de Camp to the Governor General reside in the Government House, or in separate Houses hired for them?

A. In separate Houses—there was no room for them in the Government House. I remember Two different Houses which were hired for them, One of which was hired from my Predecessor in Office, Mr. Stewart.

Q. Do you know any Thing of any Pundits having been maintained and employed in Calcutta in compiling a Code of Hindoo Laws?

A. I know that there were Pundits employed in compiling a Code of Hindoo Laws, which were translated into English by Mr. Halhed, and it is now in Print.

Q. Can you state how long those Persons continued in Calcutta, or nearly how long, in the Course of that Employment?

A. I know it took some Years from the Commencement of the Measure to its Conclusion, but I cannot exactly say how long.

Q. Do you know whether any Professors of the Mahometan Law were employed in the same Manner, in translating, from the Arabic into the Persian, the Hedaya?

A. I believe there were, but I am not certain upon that Point.

Q. Do you recollect the Establishment of an Academy for the Study of the different Branches of the Sciences taught in the Mahometan Schools?

A. I recollect the Establishment of the Madrisa, or Mahometan School.

Q. Was that during the Administration of Mr. Hastings?

A. It was established by Mr. Hastings himself during his Administration.

Q. Does it still subsist at the Public Charge?

A. I believe it does.

Q. Are Charges necessarily incurred by the Governor General, in the Execution of his Office, for Boats and Budgerows made use of upon different Public Occasions?

A. To complete the Answer to the last Question—There was an Order of the Board that the Expences should be borne by the Company, while I was Secretary.

The Witness desired the Question might be read. The same was accordingly read as follows:

Q. Are Charges necessarily incurred by the Governor General, in the Execution of his Office, for Boats and Budgerows made use of upon different Public Occasions?

A. Certainly whenever he had Occasion to move from the Presidency.

Q. Do you know whether Mr. Hastings had any Budgerow which belonged to himself?

A. I recollect Two Budgerows, one which Mr. Hastings bought, and another which was built for him by Captain Cumming, and coppered.

Q. Do

Q. Do you know whether the Budgerows which belonged to Mr. Hastings were left by him for the Public Use, on his Departure from Calcutta?

A. I left Bengal before Mr. Hastings, but I understood that to be his Intention, to leave them for the public Use; and I believe he did so.

Q. Did you at any Time in the Year 1782 receive a Letter from Mr. Larkins for the Purpose of being put into the Packet of the Lively, to be by that Vessel conveyed to England?

A. I remember perfectly well, while I was in the Council Chamber superintending the Arrangement of the Papers that were to be sent Home to the Court of Directors by the Lively, early in December 1782, that a Packet, addressed to the Secret Committee of the Court of Directors, was delivered to me by a Servant of Mr. Larkins, with a Desire that it might be included among the Papers to be sent to the Court of Directors by that Vessel: It was a sealed Packet, and conceiving it to be from an Officer, or some Individual Person in the Company's Service, I returned it to Mr. Larkins, with a Note acquainting him that it was contrary to Rule to admit sealed Packets to the Court of Directors to go Home in the Company's Dispatches; because it was usual for every Company's Servant, addressing the Court of Directors, to leave their Addresses open for the Remarks and Explanations of the Board; and conceiving this Packet to have come within that Description, I sent it back to him.—Had I known that it was from the Governor General, I should have admitted it of Course, because it was usual for the Governor General to send sealed Dispatches in that Way.—I heard nothing more of the Matter till some Time afterwards, when Mr. Larkins told me it was from the Governor General, and that being too late for the Packet, he had sent it Home to England in a private Letter.

Cross-examined by the Managers for the Commons.

Q. Whether it is not the Practice for the Governor General to enter his public Charges periodically in the public Accounts, monthly, quarterly, or annually?—whether it is not the Custom of the Service?

A. It is the Custom of the Service for the Governor General to enter his Accounts of Expences periodically; but I believe no Man was ever less attentive to his own personal Expences in India than Mr. Hastings. I always thought that most of the Charges mentioned had been paid by the Company as they occurred—I now believe they were paid by Mr. Hastings's Sircars by his Orders, and charged to him.

Q. The Question is not, what Mr. Hastings's private Economy was, but the Line of the Enquiry is concerning public Expences,—and therefore say distinctly, whether or no Mr. Hastings was in the Practice conformably to the Rule of the Service, and entered his public Expences periodically, or not?

A. The Expences of the Governor General were usually kept in the Cash or Durbar Accounts, but a long Period of Time passed, when those Accounts, I believe, were not regularly kept and delivered in—I mean a Period in which the Assistant, whose Duty it was to keep them, was not upon very good Terms with Mr. Hastings.

Q. Who was the Assistant?

A. Mr. Richard Johnson.

Q. Whether it is the Course of the Service, that when a Governor General has some particular Displeasure with the Secretary of the Council, or the Assistant Secretary to the Council, it is the Custom of the Service for him to change his public Account into a private Account?

A. I believe not;—but I beg Leave to add, I have expressed that the Governor General was inattentive to the Circumstances of his private Expences, meaning to say, that his Time was wholly engrossed by his public Duty. As his Secretary I attended him almost daily, Sundays as well as other Days, and know that he had very little Time to look into Accounts—into private Accounts; and I have often received his Directions upon public Duty from a sick Bed.

Q. Why did you call those Expences public Expences a while ago, and now call them private?

A. I call them private now, in as much as I believe them to have been paid by Mr. Hastings's Sircars, and not by any public Officer.—I did not mean that the Nature of the Expences was, in my Opinion, altered.

Q. Do you not conceive that Mr. Hastings entered them in his public Accounts?

A. I thought that they had been paid by the Civil and Military Paymasters, in consequence of Mr. Hastings's Counter Signature of the Officers Bills.

Q. Then you do not know whether they were so paid, or not, of your own Knowledge?

A. I do not.

Q. Then how do you know that they were paid at all by the Sircars?

A. I think I have said, or meant to say, I concluded they were.

Q. You do not know it?

A. I certainly do not know, either one way or the other, of my own Knowledge.

Q. Whether

Q. Whether several of those Persons whom you mention, as being upon the List, were Persons who received monthly Salaries from Government?

A. They received monthly Salaries, but I now believe those Salaries were paid by Mr. Hastings.

Q. Why do you believe so?

A. From seeing the Charges for them in the Account.

Q. In whose Account?

A. Mr. Hastings's Account.

Q. (by Counsel.) You mean the Accounts made out by Mr. Larkins?

A. Yes.

Q. (by Managers.) How do you know it? Do you know it any otherwise than from some Ground furnished to you by Mr. Hastings, or his Agent?

A. I do not know that the Account was made out by Mr. Larkins. I never saw it till it appeared here.

Q. Then you do not know, of your own Knowledge, that Mr. Hastings made any Part of that Expenditure?

A. I know that the Expenditure must have been made either by the Public or Mr. Hastings; I did not know which till lately.

Q. By what Means is it that you know by which now?

A. By seeing the Accounts prepared by Mr. Larkins, and concluding that Mr. Hastings would not have charged it again, if it had been before paid by the Company.

Q. Then you know it no otherwise than by a Conclusion of your own Reasoning upon Mr. Hastings's Character?

A. Certainly not.

Q. Then, was you acquainted at Calcutta with Mr. Larkins's being employed to keep Mr. Hastings's private Accounts, as his Sircar?

A. Mr. Larkins was not Mr. Hastings's Sircar.—His Sircar was a Person of the Name of Cantoo Baboo, but I know that Mr. Hastings did intrust the keeping his private Accounts to Mr. Larkins.

Q. Are you to be understood that Mr. Larkins was concerned in a joint Commission with Cantoo Baboo, to keep the Governor General's private Accounts?

A. By no means.

Q. Then in what Way are you to be understood?

A. I meant that the Sircar, of course, reported his Expenditure to Mr. Larkins, probably by the Governor's Orders.

Q. Then, you are to be understood, that Mr. Larkins acted as Auditor of Cantoo Baboo's Accounts of Mr. Hastings's private Affairs?

A. I have stated in what Manner he acted—I did not consider him as Auditor.

Q. In what Light did you consider him as concerned in Mr. Hastings's private Transactions?

A. I considered him as a Friend of Mr. Hastings; taking that Trouble off his Hands which he had no Time to attend to himself.

Q. Pray is not Mr. Larkins himself a public Officer in the Treasury?

A. No; he is Accountant General.

Q. Is not that an Office of a pretty good Deal of Employment?

A. It is.

Q. Is it not an Office of a very great Deal of Employment?

A. It is a very laborious Office.

Q. Whether there was not another Person concerned in Mr. Hastings's private Receipts and Expenditures, besides Cantoo Baboo—another Native?

A. Upon my Word I cannot say.

Q. Whether his Persian Moonshy was not?

A. I really do not know.

Q. Do you recollect the Name of the Moonshy?

A. I do not.

Q. When Mr. Larkins kept these Accounts now referred to, did he keep them in his Character of Accountant General to the Company, or that of Auditor, or in some other Capacity superintending Mr. Hastings's private Affairs?

A. I have mentioned that he kept them as a Friend of Mr. Hastings, employed by him for that Purpose.

Q. Which

Q. Which, the public Expences or private ?

A. I believe all Mr. Hastings's private Accounts.

Q. Did he keep them as the private Accountant, or private Auditor of Accounts of all Mr. Hastings's Expences with Relation to the Public, such as you just now called public Expences and Expenditures ?

A. He certainly did not keep Mr. Hastings's private Accounts in his official Capacity of Accountant General, but in the Manner I have mentioned before—whether he considered them as a private or public Expence, I cannot say.

Q. You know the Course of Service : What is your Opinion of the Consequence of the Accountant General of the Company keeping the public and private Accounts of the Governor General, and transferring them from public to private, at his Pleasure ?

A. The Accountant General certainly had no such Authority, and could not have done it had he been so inclined ; for he could not charge to the Company that which had not been paid by the Company, and it could not be paid but by a public Order.

Q. How do you know that ?

A. Because I believe no Money was paid from the Treasury, but by the public Order.

Q. How do you know it ?

A. Because I issued all the Orders on the Treasury myself.

Q. How do you know that no Money was ever paid or received as accounted for, but by Order of the Board ?

A. I do not understand the latter Part of that Question.

The Question was read by the Clerk.

The Managers for the Commons said, that instead of the Word ' received,' the Question should have been ' entered' as accounted for.

A. I really do not understand the Question.

Q. Mr. Larkins was the Accountant General. Whether you know enough of Mr. Larkins's Transactions, to be certain that no Money could ever be entered as accounted for by him, that was not issued by an Order from the Council ?

A. No public Money passed through Mr. Larkins's Hands as Accountant General. Mr. Larkins's Duty was only to receive the Accounts from the Treasury and other public Offices, and to enter them in the General Account Books.

Q. Do you know, from your Knowledge of the Office, whether or no, if Mr. Hastings had desired him to enter those as public Charges, he would or would not have done it ?

A. I cannot conceive that he could have entered those as public Charges which were not so ; because the Books would not have corresponded with the official Documents.

Q. Were there not Times when Mr. Hastings was sole in Council ?

A. I believe not.

Q. Do you know who was in the Council when Mr. Hastings proposed the Payment of the Charges of the Mahometan School ?

A. The Consultation will tell ; but I think Mr. Wheeler and Mr. McPherson were at the Presidency ; whether they attended the Board or not, I cannot say : I am not certain whether Mr. Stables was there at that Time.

Q. When Mr. Hastings proposed to the Board to enter One of those Articles upon the public Accounts, and to give him a Bond for his Expenditure upon that Occasion, how came he afterwards to enter it in his private Accounts, and after that, to attempt to re-establish it in a public Account ?

A. I really cannot answer that Question, I know nothing about it, I remember an Application for a Bond.

Q. Whether he did not call for that Bond as for a public Service ?

A. I understood the Bond to be applied for in consequence of Money paid into the Treasury.

Q. Whether you did not consider the Madriffa as a public Expence for which he demanded a Bond, as you have said ?

A. Mr. Hastings incurred the Expence of his own Authority, and upon its being approved and adopted by the Board, it became a public Matter ; and Mr. Hastings was to be reimbursed the Expence he had incurred, and I think he did apply for a Bond for it, but I am not sure.

Q. When Mr. Hastings applied at that Time to the Council for a Bond, or other Payment of this Money, it was not considered as a public Expence ?

A. I have stated it became so.

Q. The Question is, whether or no, when Mr. Hastings applied for it, he did not consider it as for a public Service?

A. It was incurred privately, and it would not have been a public Service unless it had been approved of by the Board.

Q. Then you are of Opinion, that no private Service becomes of a public Nature until it is approved of by the Board?

A. I believe that goes rather beyond my Meaning.

The Question was read by the Clerk.

A. I think an Officer in the Command of a Detachment, may fail in his Operations from Misconduct, which would not be approved of by the Board, and yet would be a public Measure.

Q. The Question is, whether the Foundation of a College is, or is not, a public or a private foundation at the Pleasure of the Board?

A. It is private when instituted by an Individual, and becomes public when taken off his Hands by the Government.

Q. Then the Expence laid out upon it, previous to its being taken off his Hands by the Government, is a private Expence?

A. I conceive the Board, in adopting the Undertaking, meant to relieve Mr. Hastings from all the Expence of it.

Q. How came it then into Mr. Hastings's private Accounts again?

A. I cannot tell that.

Q. Whether you have not stated it to be One of the Articles kept as a private Account by Mr. Larkins, or controuled as a private Account by him?

A. It appeared in the Account kept by Mr. Larkins.

Q. As Accomptant General, or as a private Accomptant of Mr. Hastings?

A. As acting for Mr. Hastings.

Q. Then upon what Principle was it brought forward again, as a public Account, or as a public Charge?

A. Because I believe Mr. Hastings thought himself intitled to a Reimbursement of it.

Q. Had he not demanded a Reimbursement of it before?

A. Not that I know of, except in recommending the Undertaking to be at the public Expence.

Q. Are you perfectly sure that Mr. Hastings did not demand Payment for it from the Company previous to the Appearance of Mr. Larkins's Account?

A. What I am sure of I will state.—Mr. Hastings mentioned to the Board in a Minute his Establishment of the Madrasa, and I believe he proposed it should be patronized and supported by the Public as a public Undertaking, and that he should be reimbursed the Expences he had laid out upon it. This, as well as I can recollect, was the Purport of his Minute, and the Board by adopting the Measure and resolving that he should be reimbursed, took all the Disbursements upon the Company, and if he was not repaid the Whole of the Money laid out by him in the first Instance, he certainly had a subsequent Claim.

Q. The Question is not as to the Justice or Injustice of the Claim, but whether you know that the very same Account, of which Mr. Hastings demanded public Payment at a preceding Period, came to be demanded again a Second Time as a private Expenditure?

A. I do not know whether that Sum in Question was expended previous or subsequent to the First Demand; if previous, the Omission then might be rectified afterwards; if subsequent, it could not be included in the First Demand.

Q. Then you know nothing of this but hypothetically?

A. I have stated all I know.

Q. As it has been stated that Mr. Hastings did make a Demand publicly of the Court to be reimbursed the Expence of this School, and afterwards enters it as a private Expenditure of his own, and then comes to the Court of Directors to be allowed for it as a Second Account—How do you reconcile these Two Things?

A. I consider the Second Demand to be for an Expence not included in the First Demand, but originating from the same Establishment.

Q. How do you know that?

A. Because it is stated to be laid out upon the Madrasa.

Q. Whether, from your Knowledge of the Practice of the Service, you have Reason to suppose the Salary to the Monthly Writers employed by Mr. Hastings, would at once have ceased to be paid from the Public Treasury, for the Purpose of being reimbursed out of Mr. Hastings's private Purse?

A. I have stated they must either have been paid by the Public Paymaster or by Mr. Hastings.

Q. That

Q. That is no Answer ?

A. Then I really do not know how to answer the Question.

Q. Whether of Course those Salaries did cease which were paid by the Company when Mr. Hastings privately employed those Writers ?

A. They were not Persons in the Company's Service, they had no Salaries of any Kind before he employed them.

Q. All of them ?

A. I believe all the Names I have mentioned.

Q. Do you know de facto that they never did receive any Monthly Salary from the Company before they were employed by Mr. Hastings ?

Then the List was again shewn to the Witness, and he said,

A. Mr. Griffiths was not in the Service ; Mr. Bird was not ; Mr. Glover was not ; Mr. Pleydell was not ; Mr. Bowers was not ; I believe none of them were in the Company's Service at that Time.

Q. Whether you are quite sure they did not receive Monthly Salaries upon the Company's Account ?

A. I believe they had no public Salaries, but what they received from the Governor General.

Q. Did you know any Thing of Mr. Hastings's private Receipts, as well as his private Expenditures ?

A. No.

Q. Did you know of One of 58,000 Rupees given to Mr. Hastings by a Person commonly called Nundoolol, in 1781 ?

A. I know nothing of it.

Q. Do you know who Nundoolol was ?

A. I have heard the Name frequently in India, but I do not recollect the Person.

Q. You do not know he had any Farm of Lands ?

A. I am not certain who he was, or whether he had a Farm.

Q. Do you know any Thing of Two Lacks of Rupees given by Sadanund, Cheit Sing's Buxey, to Mr. Hastings in 1781 ?

A. I do not know directly of that, but indirectly from the Minute of Mr. Hastings which has been delivered in Evidence.

Q. Then you have no Knowledge of your own upon the Subject ?

A. None at all.

Q. What Minute did you know it from ?

A. The Minute which I believe has been read or alluded to.

Q. Whether in that Paper to which you allude there is any Mention of the Persons you state.

The Question was objected to.

Then the Question was read by the Clerk.

The Question was altered by the Managers for the Commons as follows :

Q. Whether in that Paper to which you allude there is any Mention of Sadanund ?

The Question was still objected to.

Q. Do you know of any Sum paid from Nudca privately to Gunga Govind Sing, or to any other Person for the Use of Mr. Hastings ?

A. No, I do not.

Q. Whether you know of 100,000l. given by the Vizier to Mr. Hastings in the latter End of the Year 1781, or in the Beginning of 1782 ?

A. No.

Q. Do you know of any Bills or Jaydaads for 100,000l. sent down from the Vizier to Mr. Hastings in 1782 ?

The Counsel for the Defendant objected to the Question.

A. I do not know of any Jaydaads.

Q. Do you know in 1784 of a Sum of Money privately given to Mr. Hastings by a Person commonly called Rajah Nobkissen ?

A. I left India in 1783, and I do not.

Q. Did

Q. Did you hear any Rumours of a Present from Kelloram to Mr. Hastings?

A. I do not recollect to have heard such a Rumour.

Q. Did you not in June 1780 hear mentioned in Council, when Mr. Hastings was there, of a Present which Kelloram was authorized to make to Mr. Hastings, for a Farm a Part of Bahar to Cullian Sing, on the Part of himself and Kelloram, or one of them?

A. I do not think I did.

Q. Then do you remember any Proceedings in the Council General, respecting Mr. Bright, a Member of the Patna Committee in June 1780?

A. I was ill Part of June 1780, but I remember something of an extraordinary Letter from Mr. Bright, which was spoken of, I believe, about that Time; I do not know the Purport of the Letter now.

Q. Was not Mr. Bright dismissed for bringing Charges of Corruption against Mr. Hastings?

The Counsel for the Defendant objected to the Question.

The Question was read by the Clerk.

The Counsel for the Defendant persisted in their Objection.

The Managers for the Commons were heard in Answer to the Objection.

The Witnesses said,

A. I believe Mr. Bright was dismissed the Service for writing that extraordinary Letter; but whether the Proceedings upon it took Place in the Revenue Department, where I had no Business, or at the Council General, I cannot say positively.

Q. Whether you do not know that Mr. Bright was dismissed, among other Things, for stating that particular Fact about Kelloram?

The Question was objected to.

Then the former Answer was read by the Clerk.

The Witnesses desired to add at the End of it, the following Words:

At this Distance of Time.

Q. Have you not heard at that Time that there was an express Charge against Mr. Hastings by Mr. Bright for this very Act?

The former Question and Answer were again read by the Clerk:

And the Witnesses added to his Answer, as follows:

Nor do I know or recollect the Contents of that Letter.

Q. Whether you know of any Peshcush from Dinagapore in 1779, 1780, and 1781, otherwise than what was publicly paid by the young Rajah, and entered upon the Consultations?

A. These Consultations were in the Revenue Department, and did not come within my Cognizance.—I know nothing of this Peshcush.

Q. Whether you know, whether it was in the Revenue Department, or in any Department?

A. I conclude so from the Subject of it, if it was in any Department.

Q. Whether you know or have heard any Thing of a Peshcush from Dinagapore in 1779, 1780, or 1781, otherwise than what was publicly paid by the young Rajah, and entered upon the Consultations.

The Managers for the Commons were informed that the Witnesses had answered the Question both Ways, that he had said, that as to the Consultation, it was not in his Department, and, in the next Place, that he knew nothing of the Fact.

Q. Then do you say, upon your Oath, that you have not heard of any such Peshcush privately paid from Dinagapore in 1779, 1780, or 1781.—Whether you have heard of any such Peshcush privately received by Mr. Hastings in those Years?

A. I never heard of any Peshcush privately received by Mr. Hastings from Dinagapore while I was in India.

Q. Have you heard of it in England?

A. I have attended during the Course of this Trial, and have heard of all the Presents Mr. Hastings is alledged to have taken.

Q. Do you not know it was in a Letter of Mr. Larkins, concerning whose Accounts you have been examined?

A. I cannot say positively?

Q. (by Counsel.) Whether the Sailing of the Lively was not protracted from Time to Time by various Causes from July to the Month of December 1782?

A. The Lively was a Packet which was kept in Readiness from June 1782, and I think a Letter was written to go by her in the Middle of July 1782, but she was not ultimately dispatched from Bengal till December.

Q. When you received the Letter from Mr. Larkins by his Jemmadar, was not Mr. Larkins then absent from Calcutta on account of ill Health?

A. I believe Mr. Larkins was ill, and made a Trip upon the River for the Benefit of his Health.

Q. Was it about that Time you received the Letter?

A. I believe it was about that Time. I think it was done on the Eve of his Departure; I cannot speak positively.

Q. (by Managers.) Whether you recollect the Day on which the Packet was brought to you from Mr. Larkins, the sealed Packet?

A. I believe the public Dispatches were dated about the 9th of December, and this Letter was brought to me while the Dispatches were preparing to be made up; they generally take a Day or two, as there are so many Papers.

Q. How soon after did you return an Answer to Mr. Larkins with the Letter?

A. I returned it immediately by his own Servant.

Q. With the Message you mentioned?

A. With the Message I mentioned.

Q. How soon after did Mr. Larkins disabuse you of the Mistake relative to that Letter?

A. I believe it was some Months after.

Q. But you are quite sure Mr. Larkins did not inform you it was a Mistake before?

A. No, he was absent at that Time; he informed me personally after his Return.

Q. When was your first Conversation with Mr. Larkins upon that Subject?

A. It was after Mr. Larkins's Return; but I cannot say how soon.

Q. You said some Months?

A. Yes, I think it was; I beg Pardon; I believe Mr. Larkins afterwards made a Voyage to Bombay.

Q. How soon before he went to Bombay?

A. I really do not recollect exactly when it was, but some Time after the Circumstance.

Q. Was it before or after the Sailing of the Packet?

A. Certainly after the Sailing of the Packet.

Q. (by Counsel.) Have you any Recollection of the precise Time when this Letter was delivered to you from Mr. Larkins, except that, as you have stated, it was about the Time that Mr. Larkins was taken ill, and that he sent you the Letter on the Eve of his Departure from Calcutta?

A. What marks it to me most particularly is, that I recollect I was making up or preparing the Dispatches of the Lively, which generally takes a Day or two, and therefore I suppose it was about the Date of the Letter, or a very little Time before it.

Q. (by a Lord.) If an immediate Answer had been returned by Mr. Larkins to the Message sent by you, and the Mistake had been explained, and Mr. Hastings's Packet returned, whether it would or not have come in Time to go by the Lively?

A. Undoubtedly it might have come in Time to go by the Lively, if Mr. Larkins had not actually left Calcutta.

Q. Do you know of any Order or Letter from the Court of Directors that dispenses, or did dispense, with the President and Council that were there taking the Restrictive Oath proposed by Lord Clive?

A. No; I do not know of any such Order; I believe the Oath was obsolete before I came into Office.

The Witness was directed to withdraw.

Then JOHN WOODMAN Esquire was called in, and, being sworn, was examined as follows:

Q. The Managers have given in Evidence an Account of Remittances made by Mr. Hastings, between the Years 1772 and 1786, by Bills and by Diamonds, to the Gross Amount of 238,000*l.* and a Fraction; have you seen that Account?

A. I have seen that Account.

Q. Did you, during the Period between the Years 1772, and 1786 or 1785, act as Attorney to Mr. Hastings in England?

A. I did.

Q. Was you in that Character jointly with Sir Francis Sykes and other Gentlemen in the Receipt of all the Remittances made by Mr. Hastings in that Period, to the best of your Knowledge and Belief?

A. Sir Francis Sykes was not the whole Time; Mr. Waller, another Gentleman, was with me first, and after him Sir Francis Sykes.

Q. How much of this gross Amount of 238,757 l. was remitted on the Account of other Persons than Mr. Hastings?

A. There were Forty odd thousand Pounds more, I believe, by the Bills I examined at the India House. I do not know the Sums, I did not take them down.

Then an Account was shewn to the Witnesses, and he was asked,

Q. Is that the Account?

A. Yes; this is the Account; here is 66,422 l. 14 s. 9 d. There is another Charge made to Mr. Hastings of 14,880 l. which there were no Vouchers for, nor nothing that I saw at the India House relative to it, and another Sum of 2,500 l.

Q. You are understood, therefore, to deduct those Sums of 66,422 l. 14 s. 9 d. 14,880 l. and 2,500 l. from the Sums belonging to Mr. Hastings during the Time you acted as his Attorney?

A. Those Sums never came into our Hands.

Q. What was the Balance, beginning in the Year 1778, and so down to the Period of Mr. Hastings's Arrival in England, in each successive Year?

A. At the End of every Year we sent out a Statement and Account of Mr. Hastings's Receipts and Disbursements upon a Sheet of Paper, and that was marked Number 1; we had another Piece of Paper marked Number 2, by which we sent an Account of the whole Property in our Hands, signed by the Three Attornies. On the 18th December 1778, 67,774 l. was the Balance of the Property in our Hands; the 16th of May 1780, 72,657 l.; the 12th of February 1781, 73,285 l.; the 4th of February 1783, 65,890 l.; the 25th February 1784, 64,513 l.; and the 25th of June 1785, the Time of Mr. Hastings's Return, the Account delivered to him was 72,463 l.; I have not mentioned the odd Shillings; and at the End of the Year 1785, or January 1786, the Sum of 65,322 l.

Q. Do you know of any other Remittances during that Time made by Mr. Hastings, or for his Use, than what formed a Part of some one of the several Accounts made out in the successive Years respecting which you have already given Evidence?

A. I do not know of any.

Q. Do you know of any other Person who, during this Period, acted as Attorney for Mr. Hastings in any of his pecuniary Affairs?

A. I do not.

Q. Are you a Relation of Mr. Hastings?

A. By Marriage.

The Managers for the Commons stated, that they had no Questions to ask this Witnesses.

The Witnesses was directed to withdraw.

Then Mr. HALHED was again called in, and examined as follows:

Q. Have you examined the Account given in Evidence of the Sums disbursed by the Governor General for the Diet and Charges of the Pundits employed in composing the Code of the Hindoo Laws, and of the Salaries of the Persons employed in translating Books of the Mahomedan Laws, and the other Charges incidental to the same; and the Wages and other Expences of the Madrisa or Mahomedan Academy; have you examined that Account?

A. I have.

Q. Did such Payments, as in that Account are stated to have passed through your Hands, in Fact so pass?

A. They did.

Q. Have you any Reason to know or believe that the other Sums charged in that Account as having been paid to other Persons upon similar Accounts were in Fact paid and disbursed?

A. I presume they were paid.

Q. Were the Charges therein stated, reasonable Charges for the Purposes on Account of which they purport to be paid?

A. I conceive them to have been reasonable.

Q. According

Q. According to the best of your Judgment ?

A. It is.

Cross-examined by the Managers.

Q. Do you know who it was that gave you the Money to pay those People ?

A. I only paid a Part of them, such as are stated in that Account ; for that Purpose I received the Money of Mr. Larkins.

Q. As Mr. Hastings's Money ?

A. As Mr. Hastings's Money.

Q. Then Mr. Larkins appeared to you to be the Person that paid Money for Mr. Hastings ?

A. When I had received Permission of Mr. Hastings to charge the Account to him, I went directly to Mr. Larkins.

The Witness was directed to withdraw.

Then Mr. WRIGHT was again called in and examined as follows :

Q. Have you seen the Account of the Expences in the Office of the Governor General, inclosed in the Letter of the 21st of February 1784, from Mr. Hastings to the Court of Directors ?

A. I have.

Q. Are the Expences therein stated as having been incurred in that Office charged any where to the Company except in that Account ?

A. I do not find they are.

Q. Have there been any Charges made to the Company of a similar Nature, that have occurred in the same Office, by Lord Cornwallis ?

A. A considerable Charge of that Kind has been made for Writers assisting the Governor General during Lord Cornwallis's Government, at least as far as the Particulars of the Accounts are received.

Q. Do those Charges upon an Average appear to be more or less each Month than those made by Mr. Hastings ?

A. More.

Q. How much more ?

A. The Expences of a private Secretary, and Writers charged on Account of Mr. Hastings from April 1772, to December 1783 inclusive, independent of the Charge in the Account accompanying the Letter of February 1784, is 97,025 Current Rupees, which for the whole Period, being 141 Months, is at the Rate of 688 Current Rupees per Month; the Amount charged in the Account before mentioned in the printed Evidence, is 149,871 Rupees, or 1,063 upon the Average per Month. Those Two amount to 1,751 Rupees a Month. Expences of the private Secretary and Writers for Lord Cornwallis, from September 1786 to April 1790, being the latest Period to which the Particulars of the Durbar Account is received, amount to 95,983 Rupees, or at the Rate of 2,182 Rupees a Month.

Cross-examined by the Managers.

Q. Have you an Account of Lord Cornwallis's Charges compared with Mr. Hastings's for Houses for his Aid de Camps ?

A. No I have not.

Q. Whether Lord Cornwallis's public Charges do not appear in his periodical Accounts monthly or otherwise ?

A. I believe all the Charges made by Lord Cornwallis will appear either in his Durbar Accounts, or those for his Military Secretary in the Military Paymaster's Accounts.

Q. Did they appear in his monthly Disbursements ?

A. Certainly.

Q. Are those remitted to the Court of Directors in such a Manner as that they may exercise their Judgment upon them ?

A. Certainly, for the Period I mentioned ; that is, to April 1790.

The Counsel for the Defendant informed the House they had now closed their Evidence on the Defence to the 6th Article, and to those Parts of the Seventh and of the Fourteenth Articles upon which the Managers for the Commons had relied.

The Counsel for the Defendant stated, they would now, in Conformity to the Communication made to the House by the Defendant when the House last met, immediately proceed to give Evidence in his Defence to the Fourth Article of Charge respecting respecting Contracts, without opening the same; as to the Eleven first Paragraphs of which they should not trouble the House with any Evidence at all, the same containing no Matter of Accusation: That the Two next Paragraphs related to the Subject of the Opium Contract, as to which the first Evidence produced on the Part of the Prosecution was a Part only of a Consultation of the 23d of November 1773, in Page 1303 of the printed Minutes, beginning in the Middle of a Sentence, and leaving out all that preceded it;

They should proceed therefore to supply the Defect, and to shew, that inasmuch as the Monopoly of Opium was to exist, Mr. Hastings only transferred the Benefit of it from Individuals to the Company.

The Subject of the Opium
Trade resumed.

Mr. Vansittart's Minute.

“ Resuming the Consideration of the Governor's Letter, entered in Consultation of the 15th October, regarding the Ophium Trade in the Province of Bahar, Mr. Vansittart delivers in the following Minute:

“ Ever since the Establishment of our Influence in Bengal by the Battle of Plassay, almost the whole Opium Trade of the Bahar Province has been in the Hands of the Gentlemen residing at Patna. Through different Gomastahs being employed, frequent Disputes arose, and sometimes Lives were lost in the Frays which happened between them, as has already appeared upon the Company's Records. Since the Year 1765, it has been uninterruptedly carried on as a joint Concern under the Charge of a single Gomastah. I believe the Quantity received in the Year of the Famine, inclusive of what was delivered to the Dutch, was less than 800 Chefts; it increased the next Year to near 1,400, and the Year after to upward of 1,800, although Perwannahs were each Year circulated through the Province, and enforced with all possible Attention, that no Ryot should be obliged to cultivate the Poppy against his Will, whether he had formerly cultivated it or not. I mention this Circumstance as a Proof that the Mode of carrying on the Trade was not oppressive to the Ryots:—Indeed the Price which is now paid them is more than they used to receive before the Establishment of the English Influence in the Country. It does not appear to me that, in the present Situation of Things, an Attempt to lay the Trade open, would be either advantageous to them, or beneficial to the Commerce of the Province.—Had every Merchant free Liberty to make them Advances, they would receive Money in Abundance, they would dissipate a Part of it, they would be unable to manufacture Ophium sufficient to complete their Engagements; at the Season of Delivery every Merchant would be anxious to secure the Quantity for which he contracted; Battles would be fought, as was the Case before the Year 1765; the Ryots would be seized and imprisoned; and each Farmer would discourage the Cultivation, to prevent his District from being a Scene of Disturbances:—By this Means the Produce would be diminished; moreover the Ryots would adulterate their Ophium to compensate for their Deficiencies, and both these Circumstances would materially injure this Country, by having an immediate Tendency to the Destruction of an advantageous Branch of its Foreign Commerce.—Were Advances prohibited, none would have the Power to make them but the Gentleman at Patna, or the Farmers themselves, who are immediately under their Authority, and the Trade would in consequence continue on nearly the same Footing as it is at present; or were it possible to take effectual Measures to enforce the Prohibition of Advances, the Cultivation of the Poppy would be almost entirely prevented, and the Ryots have not Subtance sufficient to undertake it at their own Expence.

“ G. Vansittart.

“ The Board having fully debated and considered the Subject, are unanimously of Opinion, That the Trade could not be laid open at this Juncture without being productive of evil Consequences to the Ryots and to the Country, and if it be continued a Monopoly, they think it had better be so avowedly, and for the Advantage of the Company, than in a clandestine Manner for the Benefit of a single a single Factory. It is therefore ~~it~~ [resolved, That an exclusive Privilege be given to Meer Manneer, the Successor of Meer Ashraf, for providing Ophium in the Bahar Province: That he shall engage to deliver in Calcutta all which may be produced in the Bahar Province at 320 Sicca Rupees, and what he may procure from Garypore, or any other District of the Nabob Shuja ul Dowlah, at 350, agreeably to the annexed Writing, which shall be sent to Patna for him to execute; that he shall deliver to the Dutch the usual Quantity with which they have been supplied, at the customary Price; that Half the Money shall be advanced immediately, and Half on the Delivery of the Ophium; that the Quantity delivered to the Company shall be sold on their Account by publick Auction, and that what may be required for the Settlement of Balamgangan shall be reserved for it, and invoiced at the medium Price of the Sales at the Auction.—The Board are induced to give this exclusive Privilege to Meer Manneer in Preference to any One else, because, being the Person who has for some Years been employed by the Gentlemen of Patna in this Business, he is the best acquainted with the proper Mode for managing it, and will account with them for any Advances which they may have already made.—As the Success of the Ophium Trade depends much upon its Quality, and the Exportation of any which is bad renders the Malays suspicious of the Whole, and thereby diminishes the Demand for it, and is injurious to this Branch of the Commerce of Bengal, the Agent shall be required to be particularly attentive to this Object; and as considerable Quantities of a bad Quality have of late been imported from Neinpar, and other Parts of the Nabob Shuja ul Dowla's Country, it is resolved, That as a Discouragement to such Importation, and the manufacturing of bad Ophium, an additional Duty of One Sicca Rupee per Seer be levied upon all Ophium not provided by the aforelaid Agent, and that Orders be in due Time issued accordingly] (a) ~~to~~ to the Custom Houses.

Resolution thereupon.

“ Be it known to the Mutsiddies, Canoongoes, and Zemindars of the Soubah of Behar.—Whereas the Management of all the Ophium in that Soubah is settled on Meer Manneer and Ramchund Pundit, Account the Year 1181 Fussyli: It is therefore ordered, That you do assist them in the Management of that Business, and on no Account suffer any other Person to interfere in it; and they, on their Parts, will make their Purchases of Ophium to the Satisfaction of the Cultivators, and by no Means be guilty of any Oppression. 4th December 1773, answering to the 22d of Augun 1180 Bengal.

Sunned settling the Management of Ophium on Meer Manneer and Ramchund Pundit.

“ The Honble. President and Council of Fort William having granted an exclusive Privilege for manufacturing Ophium in the Bahar Province, we do hereby engage to deliver to them at Calcutta, at 320 Sicca Rupees ~~per~~ Chest, all the Ophium which may be produced in the Bahar Province.—We further engage to deliver to the Honble. President and Council before mentioned, all the Ophium which we or our Agents may procure from Gazypore, or any other Districts belonging to the Nabob Shuja ul Dowla, at the Rate of Three hundred and fifty Sicca Rupees ~~per~~ Chest: The Risque and Charges of transporting the Ophium to Calcutta shall be on our Account; and we also will be answerable for the Payment of the Government's and Company's Duties as at present established. Half the Advances for the Ophium which we may be able to provide for the said Honble. President and Council shall be made us immediately, and the other Half on the Delivery of the Ophium at Calcutta. We will be particularly attentive to the Quality of the Ophium, and will engage that it shall all be good and merchantable; should any of it be suspected to be otherwise, it shall be determined by Arbitrators, Two to be chosen by us, and Two by the Honble. President and Council; and should they adjudge it not to be good and merchantable, we will pay to the Honble. President and Council whatever the said Arbitrators may adjudge to be the Difference of its Value, according to the Market Price at Calcutta.—We further bind ourselves, under the Penalty of a Lack of Sicca Rupees, that we will not directly or indirectly dispose of any Ophium to any other Person besides the Honble. East India Company, excepting that we will deliver to the Dutch Factory at Patna the Quantities with which we have usually supplied them.

Agreement accompanying the Board's Resolution.

“ We do further engage, That we will carry on this Business to the Satisfaction of the Ryots, and will not attempt to force any One to cultivate the Poppy against his Inclination.

“ This is to give Notice to all Europeans, Natives, and others residing under the Honble. Company's Protection in Bengal and Bahar, That the Honble. President and Council of Revenue at Fort William, have granted to Meer Muneer and Ramchurn Pundit the exclusive Privilege for manufacturing Ophium in the Bahar Province on Account of the Honble. Company; and all other Persons residing under the Honble. Company's Protection, are hereby prohibited from purchasing Ophium in the Province of Bahar under the Penalty of Confiscation.

Advertisement regarding Ophium.

“ The Honble. President and Council of Revenue do also give Notice, That they have ordered an additional Duty of One Sicca Rupee ~~per~~ Seer to be levied upon the Ophium not provided by the afore-mentioned Meer Muneer and Ramchurn Pundit, which may be imported from Gazypore, Goorockpore, or any other Part of the Nabob Shuja Dowla's Dominions.

“ Gentlemen,
“ Having come to a Resolution that all the Ophium produced in the Bahar Province, should be purchased on Account of the Honble. Company; and understanding from Coofhaut Chund, the Vakeel of Meer Muneer, that his Master and Ramchurn Pundit, as Agents for the Family of Meer Ashraf, are desirous of undertaking the Provision of it, we have thought proper to prepare for them a Sunned for the exclusive Privilege of manufacturing that Article; and we have also drawn out an Agreement to be executed by them. We herewith enclose you both the Agreement and the Sunned, and direct that you will call them before you, and deliver them the Sunnud as soon as they have executed the Agreement, which you will return to us. We also enclose you an Advertisement, which you will cause to be published at Patna, prohibiting all other Persons under the Company's Protection, under the Penalty of Confiscation, from purchasing Ophium in the Bahar Province. And we have further resolved, That an additional Duty of One Sicca Rupee  $\frac{3}{4}$  Seer be levied upon the Ophium, not provided by Meer Muneer and Ramchurn Pundit, which may be imported from Gazypore or Goorooockpore, or any other Part of the Nabob Shujah Dowla's Dominions. } Esquires,

“ The Honble. the President delivers in the following Letter to William Aldersey, &c. Council of Revenue.

“ Gentlemen,

“ The Competitions which had begun to take Place for Purchase of Opium in the Province of Bahar, induced me to make some Enquiries concerning the State of the Trade, and the Mode of conducting it. I learn, that from the First Introduction of the Culture of Opium into Bahar, or at least for a long Series of Years, it has always been a Monopoly, and of Course always in the Possession of Power or Influence: This is the Footing on which it now stands. You are already informed, that Meer Monhier contracted to furnish the Quantity required for the Company's Use, which is 800 Chests.

“ In Effect he is in Possession of the whole exclusive Trade, in virtue of the Powers granted to him by the Chief and Council at Patna; besides the Quantity delivered to the Company, the Dutch Factory is allowed about 400 Chests annually, and the French Resident puts in his Claim for 100 more. These may both be considered as Indulgences, as it is optional in the Gentlemen of the Factory to permit or disallow them.

“ Many Individuals also among the English, who either hold Employments in that Province, but do not belong to the Factory, or who reside there on the Footing of mere Adventurers, allured by the Profits of this Trade, have attempted to participate in it, and the Opposition which they have met with from the Power of the Contractor, Meer Monhier, has been exclaimed against as a grievous Oppression, every one conceiving himself to be equally entitled to Benefits of a Trade from which they are not excluded by any authentic Act of Government.

“ It is with Reluctance that I introduce any Subject which the Prejudices of the Times may convert to the Injury or Disreputation of the Servants of the Company. I see such a Tendency in that which I now submit to your Consideration; therefore, to obviate its Effect, it is my Duty, in Truth, to add, that this Practice is in no wise imputable to the present Members of the Council of Patna; they only tread the Path which has been beaten for them by their Predecessors for a long Course of Years. I have a personal Knowledge of its having existed so long ago as the Year 1761. I believe the Gentlemen who are now in Possession of this Privilege exercise it with the greatest Moderation.

“ The only Alternatives which occur to me for the Regulation of this Commerce, are the following, viz.

“ 1st. To authorize and declare an exclusive Property in it, on such Conditions as shall be deemed a proper Compensation to the Company for foregoing the Advantages which it might yield them, if possessed by themselves.

“ 2d. To take it into the Hands of Government for the whole Emolument of the Company.

“ 3d. To free it from all Restrictions, and lay it open to all Men indiscriminately.

“ By the First Plan the Company would receive an annual Income, as a Consideration for the Grant, and a cheap Rate for the Provision of the Quantity required for their own Use; it would not be considered by the Ryotts as a Hardship, because they have been long accustomed to it, and the Rates are fixed; neither could it be attended with Oppression, if proper Care were taken by the Chief and Council, that the Ryotts were not compelled to cultivate the Poppy any longer than when they find their Account in it. I am assured that Purwannahs have been repeatedly issued by the Chief of Patna, strictly forbidding the Practice, and declaring the Inhabitants free to employ their Lands in whatever Culture they thought proper. This Liberty affords them an easy and effectual Remedy against new Exactions, and makes it the Interest of the Merchant to satisfy the Ryott, as an opposite Conduct would lessen the Quantity of the Produce, by forcing the People to apply their Lands to other Uses.

“ The Objections of this Mode are those which occur against Monopolies in general, that it prevents the Increase of this Production, and that it prevents its obtaining its due Value which would prove a Benefit to the Circulation of the Country; besides the Detestation in which the Word itself is universally held, even by those who do not understand the Meaning of it.

“ The Second Plan would be attended with a certain immediate Profit to the Company. It is liable to the same Objections with the First as a Monopoly; it is also to be feared that the Profits would soon fall to Nothing, as the Company's Agents would not give the same Attention to it when it was the Property of the Company as the present Proprietors do; because it is their own, and of Course it would be adulterated, and in Time grow wholly unfit for the foreign Markets.

“ In Support of the Third Plan, it may be argued, that it would increase the Produce (as has been before observed), that the Multitude of Competitors would raise the Price and bring Money into the Country, which would ultimately find its Way through the Land Revenue or Customs into the public Treasury; that it would contribute to the general Benefit of Trade, which always languishes under Confinement, and that it is conformable both to the Commands of our Honourable Masters, and the Spirit of all our late Regulations for the Liberty of Trade in every other Instance.

“ On the other Hand it may be urged, that the Increase of any Production not necessary to Life is not an Advantage, if some other Commodity equally valuable must be given up to make Room for it; that it is not a Necessary of Life, but a pernicious Article of Luxury, which ought not to be permitted but for the Purposes of foreign Commerce only, and which the Wisdom of Government should carefully restrain from internal Consumption; that the foreign Commerce will take off but a certain Quantity, not much exceeding perhaps the present Exportation, and the Surplus must of Course either find a Sale at Home, (which ought not to be permitted) or would lower the Price of the Whole, which would defeat the principal End of this Regulation; that the immediate Effect would be an Increase of the Price, which would raise the Price of that provided for the Company, and be an immediate Loss to them, which may be placed against the Advantages of an increased Circulation; that this would last but for a short Time, and as the Quantity increased, the Price would fall in Proportion; that the Extension of this single Article of Trade would not prove a Benefit to Trade in general, with which it has no Connection, but in Effect only take the Profits of it from those few, who now solely possess it, and divide it amongst as many as may chuse to share it; that neither the Commands of our Honourable Masters, nor our own Institutions will be more hurt by a Monopoly of Opium, than by an exclusive Manufacture of Salt Petre, or by the Farms of Salt, which have no Influence on the Production, Manufactures, Purchase, or Sale of any other Articles of Commerce, because they have no mutual Connection with them; that the Multitude of Competitors, while the Trade continues an Object of Competition, will create numberless Disorders in the Country, which it is much to be feared will occasion a dangerous Abuse of the Courts of Justice, since it will be difficult to devise any Form for them in which the Members of the Factory shall not possess a principal Authority, and will thereby become Judges in their own Causes.

“ I must add my own firm Persuasion, that it is not in the Power of this Government, constituted as it now is, to abolish the Monopoly altogether, but that it will subsist by secret Influence; the Effects of which will be much more than those of an allowed Monopoly under proper Regulations.

“ I leave the Subject at large for the Deliberation of the Board, declaring, that whatever Way my Opinion may seem to incline, I reserve it free and unbiassed to be guided by the Reasons which a fuller Discussion may produce. The Subject is not of much Importance in itself, but it may prove of great Importance to our own Characters in the Decision which shall be passed upon it, which must be my Excuse for the Length to which I have drawn it.

“ I am, &c.

The Counsel for the Defendant stated, that the next Subject of the Article was the Contract made with Mr. Sullivan in the Year 1781, which is stated to have been ‘ upon Terms glaringly extravagant and wantonly profuse, for the Purpose of creating an instant Fortune to Mr. Sullivan, at the Expence of the East India Company.’ They should therefore proceed to shew, that the Contract made with Mr. Sullivan was made upon precisely the same Terms, and those the best that had ever been made with any Person antecedent to that Period.

“ Read, the following Letter from the Provincial Council at Patna.

“ Honble. Sir and Sirs,

“ In Compliance with your Orders to transmit to you our Opinions what Mode it will be most adviseable to adopt for the future Provision of the Ophium; we take the Liberty of requesting your Attention to the following Remarks, which we flatter ourselves contain every requisite Information.

“ We shall begin with observing that we by no Means think it an eligible Plan to oblige the Farmer to deliver his Ophium in Kind, as Part of his Rents. In the first Place, we should find a great Difficulty in prevailing on him to advance so large a Sum of his own (would his Circumstances admit of it, which is seldom the Case) for the Purpose of manuring the Grounds, which is absolutely necessary, and this would arise from his Apprehension of an inclement Season, that never fails to destroy the Plant, and frustrate all Hopes of any Advantage he expected to reap from its coming to Maturity; but, should he waive this Objection, and cultivate the Poppy, what Security can be had for his delivering in the Produce of it, when so much greater Advantages would result to him from selling it clandestinely, whereby the Company’s Revenue would be endangered, and the Profits of the Ophium lost likewise; besides, we esteem the Trust already lodged in the Renters of the Revenue sufficient without this Addition of Trouble and Risk.

“ Throwing the Trade open, we conceive, will be productive of still more dangerous Consequences, as tending to involve the Country in continual Disorders from the Disputes that will inevitably arise among the Number of Purchasers of this Article, and be a strong Inducement to the Farmer to adulterate it with a View of enlarging the Quantity, which must of Course lessen the Estimation of it at the foreign Markets, and occasion a great Reduction in the Price, which will ultimately operate to the Prejudice of the Country and the Revenues.

“ The Advances are made by the Contractor from the Beginning of October to the End of January, in order to enable the Cultivators to prepare the Ground, which is done at great Expence, and the Opium collected in from the Beginning of March to the End of May.

“ The Ryott or Cultivator pays to the Farmer from Six to Ten Rupees per Begah for the Land, according to its Richness, and delivers his Opium to the Manufacturer at the Rate of from 60 to 65 Rupees per Maund for the inferior Sort, and from 70 to 75 for the best, and the Difference in Quality is entirely owing to the Soil in which it is produced. The Additions to the original Price given by the Contractor are very considerable; he receives the Opium in its moist State, as it is drawn from the Head of the Poppy, and it must undergo a Preparation of Six Months

Months before it is merchantable. The Process consists chiefly in drying it in the Air, whereby it incurs a great Expence, as well from the constant Attention that must be given to it, as the Number of People employed in the overseeing it. It sustains likewise a considerable Loss in Weight from being thus exposed generally about One-fifth, so that before it is made into Cakes and chested, we may presume it stands the Contractor from 90 to 110 Rupees per Maund, after which are to be paid the Charges of Transportation and Duties. The Gauzipore Opium is collected in at a still greater Expence, and stands the Contractor about Fifteen Rupees per Maund more than what is produced in this Province; to this we must add, that the Contractor is liable to Losses from the Bankruptcies and Villainies of the Farmers and Ryotts, who often abscond with the Money advanced, or dispose of the Opium surreptitiously, which is a Practice they are much given to, and is encouraged by the Number of European Interlopers who are settled here; he is also subject to a Loss of his Advances by a Failure in the Season and Deficiency in the Produce.

" These Observations are the Result of the strictest Inquiries, and there are many Gentlemen in Calcutta, who can do Justice to the Candour we have manifested on the Occasion. We shall now proceed to tell you in what Manner we think it will be most advantageous to provide the Ophium in the ensuing Year; and, we hope, you will favour us so far as to suppose we are divested of all Views of any private Advantage to ourselves in what we are going to propose.

" The palpable Impropriety of receiving it in Kind from the Farmers has already been shewn, as well as the ill Consequences that, we apprehend, will arise from laying the Trade open. What we have now to offer is in Favour of a Monopoly of the Whole for the Company; and to secure that, we will * promise, that the Custom-Master be invested with Authority to search all Budge-rows and Boats of whatever Kind going to Calcutta; as it is notorious that great Quantities have been smuggled down by Europeans of all Denominations for Want of such a Licence; that we have full and absolute Power to seize Ophium wherever we find it, that shall turn out, upon Enquiry, to belong to Individuals; to confiscate the same; and to punish the Pykars and Assamies detected in the Sale.

* Sic in Orig.

" These Conditions obtained, we have not the least Doubt but it will be in our Power to secure annually to the Amount of 3,300 Chests of genuine unadulterated Ophium, provided the French, who received this Year 100 Chests, and the Dutch 450, are excluded from the Trade.

" Supposing that it can be contracted for here at the Rate of 230 or 240 Rupees per Chest, we need not mention what a prodigious Advantage would accrue to the Company, by withholding the Sale of it in Calcutta, and exposing the Whole on their Account as a Supply to China. The foreign Merchants would soon find the Difference between that and the spurious Stuff they have so long been accustomed to meet with, and consequently buy it all up annually at a Price inconceivably beyond what has been hitherto given for that Commodity, when every Grain of it was probably mixed by the Purchasers, and confounded with some other Substance. Before we conclude we will just mention that the least Mixture of any other Article with the Ophium debases the Whole; and this we are induced to think has not been sufficiently attended to by the Manufacturers, from the bad Accounts that have been lately received from China, though in future it should be our Business to see that no such Practices are adopted.

" We shall not presume to determine what Effect, continuing this Article of Monopoly, will have on the Revenues; but it is certain that laying the Trade open will in a short Course of Time diminish the Price of it, and render the Ophium Lands considerably of less Value than what they are at present.

Read, also, a further Extract from the same Consultation, beginning at Page 540 of the same Book.

" The Governor General recommends, that the whole Produce of Opium manufactured in the Province of Bahar be appropriated to the Company's Use.

" That the Chief and Council of Patna be ordered to provide it on the Account of the Company by making Advances to the Ryotts and Cultivators, receiving it from them and manufacturing it in the Manner now done by the Contractor: That the Custom Master have a Power to seize all Opium wherever he can find it, either on the Water or on its Passage by Land, and to punish the Pykars and Assignees detected in the Sale of it, and that he be allowed one Half of all the Opium thus seized and confiscated.

" That as an Incitement to the Council to attend to the due Preparation of this Article, and to the Improvement of it, a Commission of * per Cent. be allowed them on the Quantity delivered by them, calculated by the medium Rate of the Outcry Price in Calcutta, after deducting the medium Rate of Costs and Charges.

* Sic in Orig.

" If this Proposition should be objected to as throwing partial Advantages into the Hands of the Council of Patna in which the Members of the other Provincial Councils cannot participate, and it shall be judged more adviseable to give the Provision of this Article in Charge to a single Agent appointed for the Purpose, the same Principle may be applied to this Agent's Allowance and a per Centage granted him in like Manner on the Profits of the Sales, in Lieu of Salary and all other Emoluments.

" It is evident that the Amount of Commission will depend equally on the Improvement of the Quality, the Increase of the Quantity, and the Reduction of the Charges; and this appears to be the best Security that can be devised for the Diligence and Integrity of the Agent, whether this Trust be reposed in the Collective Members in the Provincial Board of Patna, or in an Individual; with this Difference, that more Confidence can be reposed in the Integrity of the former than in the Diligence of the latter.

" As the Extent and Improvement of the Poppy Cultivation solely depends on the Measures adopted by the Contractor, it is unquestionably his Interest (when his Engagements are for a long Term) to conduct himself with that Justice and Lenity which is the only Mode of conciliating the good Opinion and Confidence of the Riotts, and thereby encouraging them to pay their Whole and unremitted Attention to the Produce of their Lands : They will then, and not till then, heartily join with the Contractor in extending the Cultivation, and readily adopt any Mode which he may point out for the Improvement thereof. These happy Effects can never be experienced while the Engagements are limited to One Year; the Contractor having no future Object finds it necessary to exact his utmost Dues from the Riott, who, as he expects a new Master, his whole Attention is consequently bent on taking Advantage of the Ignorance and divided Authority of the new and old Contractors, whose Views and Interests being directly contrary most constantly clash with and oppose each other; for the Contractor who makes Advances from September 'till the Month of March following is not able to collect in the Whole of his Opium 'till the Beginning of the next Year, at which Time he must unavoidably have several Sums outstanding from different Ryotts who have not completed their Engagements. The old Contractor will insist upon collecting these Balances, in consequence of which the Ryott either absconds or pays him the Advances which he has just received from the new Contractor to prepare his Land for the ensuing Crop; in either Case, not only the Cultivation but the Revenue of the Country must considerably suffer.

↳ [" The Manufacture of Opium is an Art which requires long Experience, joined with the most minute Attention, to become Master of. I had made it an Object of my particular Enquiries long before I undertook my Contract, and am convinced that great Improvements may be made on the present Mode; this, however, cannot be hoped for but by the continued Study and Observation of the same Contractor.] (a) The Manufacturers, accustomed to one established (though perhaps erroneous) Mode, will never of themselves change it; and though it is the Contractor's Interest to improve the Quality, yet this cannot be accomplished without many Experiments. A new Contractor takes Charge of his Business totally ignorant of the Nature and Process of it; and before he has Time to become sufficiently acquainted with it his Contract expires, which absolutely precludes all Possibility of Improvement in this Branch.

" If the Consideration of these Circumstances should induce you to extend my Contract to a longer Time, I shall make it my whole Study to realize the Expectations of Government, by a considerable Improvement in the Quality and Increase in the Quantity of the Opium.

" I am, with the greatest Respect,

Honble. Sir, and Sirs,

Your most obedient humble Servant,

(Signed) Richard Griffith."

Mr. Wilton, tractor.

" To the Honble. Warren Hastings Esquire, Governor General, and the Council of Revenue.

" Honble. Sir, and Sirs,

" The Season was so far advanced last Year before the Contract for the Rungpore, &c. Opium was signed, that my People did not arrive at the different Places where it is produced 'till many Months after the Advances ought to have been made. This Circumstance will not only considerably affect the Quantity of Opium, but will subject me to great Loss, from the Preparations I made for fulfilling my Engagements with the Company. I sent out an Establishment for manufacturing 1000 or 1200 Chests, but the Lateness of the Season would not permit me to get Half that Quantity; when this extra Expence therefore comes to be added to the reduced Quantity, it will greatly enhance the Price: Besides all this, I run the Risk of still greater Loss by outstanding Balances, unless you shall be pleased to afford me Assistance.

" I have spared no Expence of any Kind, but fear that still it will be impossible for me to procure a Quantity in any Manner adequate to my Expectations when I gave in Proposals for the Contract; at the same Time I am still persuaded that the Quantity proposed, or even a greater, may be procured, if it shall please you to extend the Terms of the Contract for Three Years longer.

" This is the proper Season for making the Advances to any Advantage; my Contract does not expire till the 31st of December, and if a new Contract is entered into, and new People sent up, the Confusion and Loss to all Parties will be endless; but it will fall chiefly on the Company, in the unavoidable Distress and Ruin of the Ryotts.

" This is so well set forth in a Letter from a Person on the Spot, that I hope you will pardon my taking the Liberty of enclosing a Copy. Every Inconvenience will be avoided by the proposed Prolongation; and the Board may rest secured that every Chittack which I can procure shall be most faithfully delivered to the Company.

" I have the Honour to be, with the utmost Respect,

" Calcutta,

May 10th, 1776.

Honble. Sir, and Sirs,

Your most obedient and most humble Servant,

(Signed) " J. Wilton."

“ Extract of a Letter from Mr. Pagan at Purnea.

“ I have already written you regarding the next Year's Contract. I have there said that this is the Season for making the Advances if the Quantity is to be encreased; and that it may be encreased to any Amount. I must now observe, that in the Advantages arising to Government in this Encrease, is to be considered not only the Profits they receive from the Sales, but also the additional Revenue they receive from the Lands, as the Malgazary paid on Opium Grounds is in most Places upwards of Four Times more than that paid on any other Lands.

Enclosed in the foregoing Letter.

Should Government be desirous of encreasing the Quantity of Opium, they must grant the Contract for a Term of Years, so that the Contractor may be able to make Advances with an Eye to Improvement, and he will find his Advantage in encouraging and protecting the Riotts; whereas a yearly Contractor will endeavour to make the most of it without any View to Futurity, and as he must inevitably have outstanding Balances, which his Successor may not chuse to take off, the Ryotts of Course must be distressed to pay them; whereas, had he the Contract for a Term of Years, what they could not pay the First Season they might work off the next, which would prevent the Hardship and even Ruin of those Affamies from whom Balances are collected in ready Money. Authority ought also to be given the Contractor to protect the Riotts from Oppression, to which nothing would contribute so much as allowing him to collect the Revenue on the Opium Grounds at the Rate at which it now stands in the Company's Books. As the Riotts have nothing to pay the Revenues with but what they receive from the Contractor, his deducting the Amount of the Revenue from the Price of their Goods, and paying it to the Officers of Government, would be a much easier and simpler Method of collecting it than the present; besides the immense Advantages the Riotts would receive, in being freed from the Oppression of every petty Zemindar, Mutsuddy, &c. of Government, who collect under the Name of Dustours, &c. a considerable Amount above the real Mulgarraree; and who, the Instant they take a Pique against any of the Contractor's People, confine the Affamies under Pretence of collecting the Revenues, to the utter Ruin of their Crops, and of Course the Loss of the Contractor's Advances; should the Contractor's People interfere, any Deficiency in the Collections is then imputed to this Interposition.”

“ Resolved, That the Application of the Opium Contractors is premature; that the Board will resolve on the Propriety of prolonging of the Contracts when they shall have had Experience of the Punctuality with which they have fulfilled their actual Engagements.

The Counsel for the Defendant stated, that upon the 3d September 1776, at a Consultation, in which there were present the Defendant, General Clavering, Mr. Barwell, and Mr. Francis, the Contract was renewed with the same Gentlemen for one Year more, upon the same Terms, without any fresh Advertisement; but the Book containing the Consultation not being at Hand, they would prove it by a Letter written to the Court of Directors on the 20th September 1776, signed by those Gentlemen.

“ 124. The Board of Trade, in their Letter of the 23d May, thought it necessary to remonstrate against our Acceptance of Mr. Mackenzie's Proposals for the Reasons therein stated; but as it was not without having duly and attentively weighed the Order that had been received from you, respecting the Provision of that Article, that we granted it by Contract to Mr. Mackenzie for the Space of Three Years, and as your Orders, under Date the 15th December 1775, were issued in consequence of a Reference formerly made to you upon this Subject, in which all the Arguments on both Sides of the Question were minutely detailed, we cannot suppose that a Decision so formally passed is likely to be repealed by you by the Effect of a Recapitulation of their Pretensions, and did not think it necessary, therefore, on such Grounds, to insert the Clause which they propose, that the Continuance of it should depend on your Orders.

The Counsel for the Defendant stated, that the Contract made with Mr. Mackenzie in the Year 1777 for Three Years, ended in 1780: That in the Interim, namely, in the Year 1779, a Letter had been received from the Court of Directors, and which had been adduced (d) on the Part of the Prosecution, to criminate the Contract with

Mr. Sullivan, because subsequent to the Receipt of the same: they should therefore shew, that immediately after the Receipt of that Letter, Mr. Mackenzie's Contract was again renewed for a Year by the Board, consisting of Mr. Hastings, Mr. Francis, and Mr. Wheler.

" Honble. Sirs,

" Par. 30. In consequence of an Application made to us by Mr. Mackenzie, in the Month of April last, we thought proper to prolong the Contract held by him for the Provision of the Opium produced in the Provinces of Bengal and Bahar for another Year, from the 1st of September 1780, on the same Terms as the Three preceding Years. Rev. Dept.
Conf. 11th
April.

" 31. We soon after received a Proposal from the Provincial Council at Patna, for the future Provision of Bahar Opium; but as we had granted Mr. Mackenzie a Continuance of his Contract, we could not consistently with that Engagement, and without Injustice to him, enter into the Consideration of their Proposal. Conf. 12th
May.

" 32. Upon a Representation from the Contractor, for the Inconvenience and Loss with which the packing and dispatching of the Opium by the Commercial Chief at Patna had been attended for the last Two Years, and a Request that the Management of this Part of the Business might, for the future, be committed to him; we were of Opinion, that as it was the Contractor's Interest the Opium should be brought early to the Presidency, and that it might yield the greatest possible Advantage in the Sale of it, he was the fittest Person to be entrusted with that Charge: We therefore gave Orders accordingly, and directed the Contractor to consign the Opium to the Superintendent of the Khalsa Records, whom we instructed to advertise it immediately for public Sale, after its Arrival. Conf. 16th
May.

" 33. The Board of Trade thought proper to remonstrate against the latter Part of this Resolution, conceiving themselves deprived by it of a Privilege which, upon a Reference to you of our former Difference concerning the Management of the Opium Business, you had been pleased to vest in them; but as they proposed at the same Time, that if we still declined leaving the Sale of the Opium to them, the Proceeds might be applied to the Use of the Investment, we readily acquiesced in their Request, and directed the Superintendent of the Khalsa Records, to pay them immediately as they were received, to their Order, in Part of their stipulated annual Supply; which Arrangement, we conceive, will completely answer your Intention, as well as that of the Board of Trade. Conf. 6th June.

" 34. The Letter from the Board of Trade, with our Reply in which the Reasons are fully assigned for reserving the Sale of the Opium under our own Charge, are recorded in the Proceedings noted in the Margin. Conf. 6th

“ Gentlemen,

“ This serves to advise you, that we have thought proper to prolong the Contract held by Mr. Mackenzie, for the Provision of the Opium produced in the Province of Bahar, which expires on the First of next September, for another Year from that Time, on the same Terms as the present.

The Counsel for the Defendant stated, they should next proceed to shew, that Mr. Hastings had no Reason to believe the Terms of Mr. Sullivan's Contract were not such as were fair and reasonable to be made with an Individual; for which Purpose, they should first produce a Consultation of the 23d May 1775, containing the Sentiments of Three of Mr. Hastings's Opponents upon that Subject.

I do not doubt that they might provide the Opium on cheaper Terms than any private Contractor could do; but as I am convinced that such Terms can only be made good at the Expence of the Ryot and the Farmer, I should think it unadvisable to engage on very low Terms with any Contractor, and particularly with Persons who have the Power in their Hands to indemnify themselves at any Rate; and from whom the Ryots and Farmers would in Fact have no Appeal.

“ 11. Upon the whole, I am of Opinion, that if it be not thought advisable to lay the Trade open, the best Method, both for the Company and the Country, will be to contract with some native Merchants of known Credit and Character, upon such fair Terms as may enable them to make a reasonable Profit, without squeezing the Farmers or Ryots, who cultivate the Lands. The Counsel for the Defendant stated, they would next refer the House to the Terms of the Contract itself, in the Appendix to the printed Minutes Page 951, and also to the First Contract given in Evidence, Page 1303-4, to shew the Reduction that took place in the Price of the Chests between the Year 1773 and 1781; and also, to the Opinion of the Patna Council, given in Evidence this Day, (b) ‘ that 230 or 240 Rupees per Chest would be the proper Price, if it could be obtained.’

Then, Mr. EWAN LAW was called in, and, being sworn, was examined as follows :

---

(a) Vide supra, Appendix, N<sup>o</sup> CCCLXXX.

(b) Vide supra, Page 2221, Extract from Consultation 3d May 1775.

Q. Were you a Member of the Patna Council in 1773; and antecedent to that Period?

A. I was.

Q. What Price per Chest did you and the other Members of the Council, who had Occasion to purchase Opium upon the Spot at Bahar, pay for it?

A. To the best of my Recollection, the Price we used to pay for Opium at that Time, was about 200 Rupees per Chest.

Q. For the Bahar Opium?

A. Yes; for the Bahar Opium.

Q. Do you know what was the Difference between that and the other Opium procured from Bengal or Gauzipore?

A. With the Price of the Purnea and the other Opium procured in Bengal, I am not acquainted; the Price of the Gauzipore Opium was higher than that of the Bahar Opium I think, but I do not recollect what was the Difference.

Cross-examined by the Managers for the Commons.

Q. When did you quit the Council at Patna?

A. I left Patna in the Month of September 1779.

Q. Do you know who had the Profit of the Opium in Indostan?

A. Till the Contract was made for the Benefit of the Company, the Profit of the Contract was received by the Council of Patna, and other Members of the Factory.

Q. Whether, while the Council held it, they managed it by themselves, or by their immediate own Agents; or whether they sold it for the same Money to any other Person?

A. The Purchase was managed by their immediate Agents; the Quantity procured was divided among the several Persons holding Shares in that Concern, and we disposed of them, each as he thought best for his own particular Advantage.

Q. Whether your Opinion is, that if you had sold it for any given Time of Contract, you could have got £40,000 for the Purchase for Three Years?

A. I should imagine a great deal more.

Q. Do you know whether the Person who took it so, could have undertaken to sell it again if he had paid 40,000?

A. I have already said, that the Person could have afforded to have given a great deal more than 40,000l. for it.—The Difference between that and what he would have got for the Opium, the Price varying in different Years, would have been his Profit.

Q. What was the Price per Chest at which they sold the Bahar Opium?

A. I had a Concern in the Bahar Opium for a great many Years; the Price varied almost every Year; the highest I think I have known it sell for, was something under Five hundred Rupees per Chest.

Q. What was the current medium Price?

A. The medium Price might be about Four hundred.

Q. And if the Company had put up the Contract to the highest Bidder, would he not have bid for it more than 40,000l. at the first Hand?

A. I really do not know for what Time the Question goes to?

Q. A Period of Three or Four Years.

A. The Question does not state what the Price was to be that the Company was to have paid the Contractor; without knowing that, I cannot say what he could afford to give.

Q. Have you heard of the Particulars of the Price of the Contract in Question?—Mr. Sullivan's?

A. I really do not know it.

Q. Recollect it.

A. I cannot recollect it; I do not know I ever heard it.

Q. At 190 Rupees per Chest, and to supply a Quantity of Three thousand six hundred and sixty Maunds, to be yearly produced and made in the Province of Bahar, at the Price or Sum of Ninety-five Sicca Rupees per Maund for every Maund thereof; and also a further Sum of Two Rupees and an Half  $\frac{1}{2}$  Cent. on the net Proceeds of such Opium, at the Medium of the Sales thereof in Calcutta; and also, with an Advance to him of the Sum of Fifty Sicca Rupees for each and every Chest or Two Maunds of Opium, which should be produced and delivered to the Company, above the Quantity of Three thousand six hundred and sixty Maunds, as a Premium, and exclusive of and over and above the said Price or Sum of Ninety-five Sicca Rupees  $\frac{1}{2}$  Maund, and Two Rupees and an Half  $\frac{1}{2}$  Cent. herein-before mentioned. Upon those Terms of that Contract, which has been shewn you, could any one have afforded to give a greater Fine?

A. This Contract is for Opium procured, not only in Bahar, about which I know something, but in every other Place, about which I can give no Answer at all.

Re-examined

Re-examined by Counsel.

Q. You were asked a Question about 40,000 l. ? Whether you speak of the Difference between 200 Rupees per Chest, and the Price at which it was sold, which you have said was sometimes 500 and 400 Rupees a Chest ?

A. I certainly meant that the Purchaser should buy on the best Terms he could, and sell for his own Profit in the Manner as stated by the Council.

Q. (by Managers.) What Advances did the Company make to you to enable you to carry on the Buzinets when you was in the Council ?

A. The Company made no Advance to the Patna Council ; it was a private Concern of their own, which Mr. Hastings deemed a proper Source of Revenue to the Company, and deprived them of.

Q. Was you in the Country when Mr. Hastings made that Contract with Mr. Sullivan ?

A. I was not.

The Witness was directed to withdraw.

The Counsel for the Defendant stated, that with respect to the Contract in Question, Three Circumstances were stated, from whence an Inference of Partiality to Mr. Sullivan had been drawn, and that he was enabled to defraud the Company with Impunity ; First, from the Reduction of the Penalties ; Secondly, from the Board of Inspection being abolished ; and Thirdly, from the Omission of the Clause, making the same liable to be determined by the Orders of the Company.

With respect to the First, they should refer to the Extract of a Consultation of the 22d May 1781, already in Evidence (a), for the Reasons there assigned ; and that with respect to the Second, they should shew that Inspectors were substituted at the Place of the Delivery, instead of at the Place of the Manufacture of the Article.

THE Lords being in their Places, the House resumed, the usual Proclamations made, and the Defendant appearing at the Bar, the Lord Chancellor said;

“ Gentlemen, you who are of Counsel for the Defendant, may proceed in his Defence, and the Lords will be pleased to give Attention.”

The Counsel for the Defendant stated, that the Subject upon which they were giving Evidence, on the last Day of the Trial, was the Contract with Mr. Sullivan for Opium; and that the particular Allegation of the Article to which they were addressing their Evidence, was that which accused Mr. Hastings with having “ taken away “ sundry Restrictions usually and providently imposed upon the Contractor in Contracts of that Nature, and among other Things, that he did abolish the Office of “ Inspector into the Quality of the Opium.” That, in Addition to the Evidence offered on the last Day of the Trial, to shew that the Plan of Inspectors at the Place of Delivery, instead of at the Place of Manufacture, was better calculated as a Check upon the Purity of the Manufacture; they should refer to the Testimony given by Two of the Witnesses who were examined upon this Subject on the Part of the Prosecution, namely, to the Testimony given by Mr. Young in the printed Minutes of Evidence, Page 1325-6; to the Evidence of Mr. Benn, Page 1320, and also to the printed Evidence, Page 1315-16, for an Instance adduced on the Part of the Prosecution, to prove that every one of the Inspectors approved of the Practicability of the Plan substituted by Mr. Hastings.

The Counsel further stated, that they would next shew, that the supposed general Clause rendering the Contract determinable at the Pleasure of the Court of Directors, was not inserted in the preceding Contract, but that the Contract was ‘ for Three Years certain, unless the Directors should determine to relinquish their Monopoly, and to set the Trade free;’ for which Purpose they would refer to the Board’s Letter to the Court of Directors, dated 18th November 1777, already given in Evidence by the Managers for the Commons, Page 1305.

To shew, that such general Clause as before stated was rejected, when proposed by the Board of Trade,

Read, from Book 400, the following Extract from the Letter above referred to, from the Governor General and Council in Bengal to the Court of Directors, of the 18th November 1777, beginning at Page 883 of the same Book.

“ Honourable Sirs,

“ Par. 124. The Board of Trade, in their Letter of the 23d May, thought it necessary to remonstrate against our Acceptance of Mr. Mackenzie’s Proposals, for the Reasons therein stated; but as it was not without having duly and attentively weighed the Order that had been received from you respecting the Provision of that Article, that we granted it by Contract to Mr. Mackenzie for the Space of Three Years; and as your Orders, under Date the 15th December 1775, were issued in consequence of a Reference formerly made to you upon this Subject, in which all the Arguments on both Sides of the Question were minutely detailed, we cannot suppose that a Decision so formally passed is likely to be repealed by you by the Effect of a Recapitulation of their Pretensions, and did not think it necessary therefore, on such Grounds, to insert the Clause which they propose, that the Continuance of it should depend on your Orders. To shew, that such qualified Clause as did exist in the preceding Contract, was become unnecessary, by the Court of Directors having expressed their Opinion of the Necessity there would probably be for the Continuation of this Monopoly of the Article of Opium,

Read, from Book 221, the following Extract of a Letter from the Court of Directors to the Governor General and Council at Bengal, dated 23d December 1778, beginning at Paragraph 86 of the same Letter.

Opium Contract.

“ Par. 86. In the 77th Paragraph of our Letter, dated the 24th of December 1776, we authorised you to abolish the Monopoly of Opium, in case you should be of Opinion it would contribute in any great Degree to the Relief of the Natives; and in such Case you were to reserve a reasonable Duty thereon to the Company.

• See General Clavering's Minutes on Revenue Consultations, 3d September 1776, Fol. 867, and 16 May 1777, Fol. 593.

“ Par. 87. Concerning the Contract granted to Mr. Mackenzie for the Provision of Opium for Three Years, (unless the Company shall, within that Time, relinquish their exclusive Property in the Trade), we remark generally, that if any Means could be devised to prevent the Monopoly of Opium, and at the same Time to secure a proper Revenue to the Company from that Article, we still prefer the opening of the Trade; but we find it repeatedly urged on your Proceedings, that a Monopoly of Opium cannot be * prevented, that it will exist, in Spite of every Effort of Government to abolish it; and, if this be true, we must of Necessity consider it as an Evil to which no adequate Remedy can be applied, and acquiesce in giving the Company a Preference which may be less oppressive in their Hands than in those of Individuals. The Honourable Charles Stuart.
The Governor General indisposed.

Gov. General's Minute. Preparing Publications to be made for a new Opium Contract.

“ Having fully examined the Two former Modes, the last is to be explained, viz. a Monopoly of the first Purchase of the Opium from the Ryotts, as is now practised. I entertained my Share of the general Prejudices which prevail at Home against every System that bears the Appearance of Monopoly.—Much has been said against the Monopoly of the Opium; nor does the immediate apparent Gain upon it as a Monopoly, appear of Magnitude enough as an Inducement to persist in it. But the Value of the Commodity to these Provinces is a different Consideration, and I very much believe that it never was and never can be secured to this Country on any Footing but that of a Monopoly of some Kind or other; such are the Dispositions and Habits of the Natives, and the peculiar Customs of the Country.

“ It is a Mistake to imagine that Monopolies were not practised under the old Country Government—they always did exist in various Degrees. It is well known that the Salt Collaries of Bengal were actually farmed out to a few substantial Merchants, who, on agreeing for the Rents and to pay a certain Duty at the Custom Houses, had the entire Salt Trade in their own Hands; and the whole Opium and Salt Petre at Bahar was held for many Years by a Merchant named Fokir ul Toojdar, who had the exclusive Privilege of supplying the different European Companies with those Articles, for which he paid an Annual Peshcush or Rent to Government.

“ Monopolies were of the earliest Date in this Country, and a principal Means of raising the Revenue long before it came into the Company's Possession.—It was upon the Principle of Monopolies that Foreign Companies were first admitted in these Provinces and protected in particular Branches of Trade. The farming of the Revenue to particular Zemindars and Renters was a Part of this System, and I fear that it will be found in the End that it is only by some Species of Monopoly that the Opium can be made any certain Source of productive Revenue. If this Doctrine is admitted and followed, Government must reserve to themselves the first Purchase of the Opium from the Ryotts, and then manufacture it on the Footing of a Contract or Agency in its own Hands. The former Method has been followed for these Thirteen Years past, and with evident Success. The Improvement of the Quality of the Commodity is established by the ready Sale it always meets with; the Price has progressively risen at the Company's Sales from Year to Year, while the Quantity has almost doubled: An evident Proof that it is either become an Article of more general Consumption than formerly, or that new Markets have been opened for it.

“ An Opinion has prevailed that the Cultivation of the Poppy is oppressive to the Ryot, who would rather cultivate any other Article. I have endeavoured to ascertain the Truth of this Opinion, and I find it is ill founded. Every Ryot is glad to grow Opium, because a Degree of Protection is derived from it against undue and unauthorized Exactions, but too frequently made on them in the Rents of their other Lands. It is the Interest of the Opium Contractor or Agent to support the Ryot and represent their Grievances, which must excite the Jealousy of the Collectors of the Revenue. The Ryot who cultivates Opium does not apply himself to that Article alone; perhaps for One Begah (or Third of an Acre) of Opium he sows Ten with other Articles. Originally indeed it was the peculiar Occupation of a particular Cast of People, called Quiries, but so beneficial has it been found of late that even Rajepoots and Bramins now apply themselves to it, which may be considered as the principal Cause of the great Increase of the Quantity. The whole Quantity of Land sown with the Poppy is after all but inconsiderable; for the last Four Years, it has not exceeded Forty thousand Begas, the Rent of which varies from Four to Ten Rupees a Begah, according to the Quality of the Soil, to which the Produce bears a Proportion. The same Lands usually produce another Harvest of Grain, during the Rains, for which no additional Rent is paid. One Pergunnah has been mentioned to me as an Example to shew how far the Cultivation of the Poppy can be supposed beneficial or oppressive to the Ryot. The following is given to me as an exact Detail.

“ In Pergunnah Foolwarry in Behar, the First Year of the present Opium Contract, 1895 Begahs (or Thirds of an Acre) were cultivated, the Produce was 324 Maunds of 80 Sicca Weight, for which the Contractor paid 29,297 : 8 Rupees; the Second Year 1856 Begahs, the Produce was 379 Maunds, which cost Rupees 37,183 : 15; the last Year the Quantity of Land cultivated was 1287 Begahs, which produced Maunds 352, for which 34,131 : 8 were paid. The whole Pergunnah is computed to contain 30,000 square Begahs of Land, very little of which is uncultivated. The Revenue paid to Government for the same Period has been about 34,000 Rupees at a Medium; and it will appear from this Statement, that the Ryots receive for the Article of Opium alone a Sum of Money equal almost to the Whole Revenue of the Pergunnah.

“ If the Board are of Opinion the Company ought to reserve the Cultivation of the Poppy and preparing the Opium in their own Hands, for the Purpose of realizing a Publick Revenue, there are but Two Modes of conducting the Business; an Agency or a Contract: Whichever Mode is adopted it ought to continue under One Management for more than One Year. This is essentially necessary in order to give the Managers Weight and Consequence in the Country, and to secure the Consequence of the Ryots, on which the Success of the Business depends. If a Contract is preferred, it ought to be for a Term of not less than Four Years; for as the Competition to obtain it will probably cause the Propositions to be very low, it would not be worth while for any Man of Substance, or a Company of Merchants, to undertake it for a single Year. Governor
General's Minute.

(Signed at the End of the Consultation)

Read, from Book 560, the following Extract of a Letter from the Court of Directors to the Governor General and Council at Bengal, dated 27th March 1787, beginning at Paragraph 198 of the same Letter.

“ Par. 198. By your Revenue Letter of the 15th October 1785, we were advised of the Conclusion of the Opium Contract for Four Years, with Messrs. Young and Heatley, with the Prospect of a considerable Profit to the Company beyond the former Contract, and which increased Profit, by your subsequent Proceedings in your Inspection Department of the 8th November following, is stated at the specific Sum of Current Rupees 3,80,002, Three Lac Eighty thousand and two per Annum.

“ 199. In our Letter of the 12th July 1782, we expressed a Wish that this Monopoly might be abolished, and the Article of Opium left upon the same Footing with every other Produce of the Country. But, for the Reasons stated by Sir John Macpherson, in his Minute upon this Subject, as entered upon your Revenue Consultations of the 11th July 1785, we are inclined to think with him, that this Branch of our Revenue must be conducted by a Monopoly in some Shape or other. Relying therefore upon the Assurance in your Inspection Letter of the 29th April 1785, that the Opium must be manufactured on the Footing of a Monopoly, or the Revenue fail; we hereby confirm the Contract you have made with Messrs. Young and Heatley, the same having been concluded according to the Rules repeatedly laid down for your Guidance respecting Contracts in general, and they being the lowest Bidders.

“ Par. 200. But although we have adopted your Opinion relative to the general Principle of conducting this Branch of Revenue by a Monopoly, and notwithstanding we are unwilling to disturb the present Contract (which appears to have been made in the most fair and open Manner) so long as the Terms of it are adhered to on the Part of the Contractors, we nevertheless coincide in Opinion with Sir John Macpherson, as expressed in the Minute before mentioned, that an Agency, if ably conducted, would be the most eligible Mode by which this Monopoly can be managed. For in the First Instance, by appointing a Person to the Agency possessed of full and complete Knowledge in this Branch, the Company would be eased of an Annual Expence of Current Rupees 42,800, which they now pay to the Supervisor; and by allowing the Agent a certain Commission on the Sale at Calcutta, he would be interested both in the Quantity and Quality of the Opium, and ultimately the Profit which is now enjoyed by the Contractor, would remain in the Company's Treasury.

“ We are strengthened in this Opinion by a Perusal of the several Proposals by Messrs. Davidson, Wodsworth, and Brooke, entered upon your Revenue Consultations of the 19th August 1785. The First states, that in conducting this Business by Agency, a Saving might be made in Four Years, being the Term of the Contract, of Six Lacks of Rupees, and upwards. The Second estimates a Saving in the same Period of at least 50,000 l. And the last asserts, that this Article is capable of producing greater Advantages to the Company by an Agency, than they can possibly derive from it in any other Mode; that the Company have not yet reaped all the Benefit which this Trade is capable of yielding, nor under the present System, can its real Value, and the Benefit which ought to be derived from it, be ascertained.

“ 201. We have from Time to Time expressed a general Disapprobation of Agencies, and of the high per Centage at which the same have been managed, and have been uniform in our Instructions that such Parts of the Company's Business as could be managed by a Contract, should be so managed. However, particular Cases may require Deviation, and it is impossible for us not to pay due Attention to the Opinions of those, who, by their local Knowledge and Experience, may be supposed to have good Grounds for what they have asserted. And, although we still enforce our former Directions as to Contracts for a general Rule of Proceeding, there seems Cause to doubt its Expediency in the Instance now before us. Suspending, therefore, our final Judgment, we direct that you take the Subject into your particular Consideration, and after forming your own Opinions, from the best Information you can possibly procure, you will report to us the best Mode which, in your Judgment, ought to be adopted for the future Management of the Opium Farms, that you may receive our final Instructions thereon before the Expiration of the subsisting Contract in 1789. In this Enquiry, present Advantage to the Company is not to be the only Object of your Consideration; you must extend your Views to the Prosperity of the Country as connected with the Ease and Happiness of the Ryotts who are the Cultivators of the Poppy, and who, according to Sir John Macpherson's before-mentioned Minute, have a Property in the Crop, and are therefore jealous of their established Rights and suspicious of Innovation. In the mean Time, due Attention must be paid to the Quality of the Opium upon which the Success of this Branch of our Revenue so much depends, and for preventing every Species of Adulteration. It will likewise be expedient to consider the Right of the Company to assume this Trade, to the Exclusion of all other European Nations, as well as the probable Effects either of continuing or laying it open to the internal Prosperity and Foreign Trade of the British Provinces; and any Evidence tending to prove that it was not a free and open Trade, under the actual Government of the Mahomedan Princes, should be entered upon your Consultations, to be employed as Arguments to defend our Rights, in any Discussions which may arise in Europe, in case it should be determined to retain the exclusive Trade to the Company.

“ 202. Thu

" 202. Thus far we have considered Opium as an Article of Internal Revenue. We shall now view it as an Article of Foreign Commerce, and we know not how it can be so beneficially applied as in the Aid of our China Trade.

" 203. We have very attentively perused all your Proceedings upon this Subject since 1782, and various are the Methods which have been suggested for that Purpose. With respect to the Quantity of Opium manufactured, we do not find that in any one Year it ever exceeded 4,000 Chests. Sir John Macpherson, in his Minute upon this Subject, of the 9th April 1785, states the Annual Produce, upon an Average of Five Years, at no more than 3,500 Chests, and he supposes that the Dutch at Batavia would annually take off 1,000 Chests, that 1,000 may be annually disposed of at Tringana, and that a Vend for 1,200 more would be found at Macoa and China.

" 204. With respect to the probable Consumption of this Article in China, Colonel Watson in his Proposal entered on your Consultations of the 16th November 1785, states it as an undoubted Fact that the Inhabitants of the Southern Provinces are in the increasing Habit of using Opium, and that they may require a Supply of 1,500 or 2,000 Chests annually.

" 205. Having already given our Opinion that this Article is undoubtedly a proper Object of Encouragement for foreign Commerce, and remaining of the Opinion contained in our Letter to you of the 12th July 1782, that the Company cannot on any Account engage directly in an illicit Traffic in it to China where it is prohibited; it remains to be considered in what Manner, consistent with those Opinions, this Produce of our Provinces can be most beneficially converted to the Purposes of foreign Commerce, and particularly of a Supply to our Treasury at Canton.

" 206. Of the Three Modes proposed by Sir John Macpherson in his Minute of the 9th April 1785, for the future Disposal of Opium, viz. 1st. By a Society of Merchants; 2dly. Under the Management of our own Servants on the Company's Account, and 3dly. To be disposed of at public Sale; we have endeavoured to form an Opinion. The specific Advantages of the first, which has for its Object the annual Payment in an encreasing Proportion of from 400,000 to 800,000 Spanish Dollars, into the Treasury at Canton, appears at first Sight to be very flattering; but from the Proposals which were afterwards made to you, in consequence of your own Advertisements, we doubt whether as to the Rate of Exchange of Spanish Dollars, 41½ (Forty-one and a Half) for 100 current Rupees, the same would be altogether practicable; the Proposals being in general at 40, and you yourselves having acquiesced in Spanish Dollars 41 per 100, (Forty-one per One hundred) current Rupees.

" 207. The Quantity proposed to be annually exported is at least 3,500 Chests. If no better Terms could be obtained, we should feel great Satisfaction at parting with the same at the medium Price of current Rupees 477 : 6 per Chest, to be paid for at Canton, at the usual Rate of Spanish Dollars 41 per 100 current Rupees, which would furnish a most seasonable Supply to our China Treasury of Spanish Dollars, 685,033 (Six hundred and eighty-five thousand and thirty-three) without any Risk to the Company.

" 208. The Second Proposal is liable to the Objection already stated, as it engages the Company in an illicit Trade with the Inhabitants of China, which on no Account would we wish to be concerned in. Were we once possessed of a firm Establishment to the Eastward, there would be little Doubt of the Success of the Undertaking, we might therefore meet with a Market for the whole Produce of our Opium Farms, to be paid for in Dollars, or in Tin and Pepper, and in such other Articles as might be very profitably disposed of at Canton; and whatsoever Opium might be in Demand by the Chinese, the Quantity would readily find its Way thither without the Company being exposed to the Disgrace of engaging in an illicit Commerce.

" 209. We observe by a Letter from Bencoolen, entered on your General Consultations of the 2d June 1784, that great Advantages might be derived to the Company by making Fort Marlbro' a Mart for the Sale of Opium to the Malays. It is therein asserted that, before the Capture of the Betty, it sold at 1,300 Rix Dollars per Chest, and that under proper Restrictions 500 might at least be easily got for it; we therefore direct that from One to Two Hundred Chests be annually sent to Bencoolen, on the Company's Account, the Proceeds of which to be appropriated to the Provision of Pepper.

" 210. The 3d Proposal appears to us more consistent with the general Freedom of Commerce than the other Two; and if, as we have already observed, you can ensure to us the annual Amount before mentioned to be paid into the Canton Treasury, we should not hesitate to direct you to continue the Sale of the Opium in that Manner.

" 211. Having thus given you our general Ideas upon this Subject, and having acquiesced in the Principle that the Proceeds, except in the Instance before mentioned, should be applied exclusively to the Benefit of the China Trade; we hereby give you a Latitude to adopt such a Plan as in your Estimation will best answer that desirable Purpose, and at the same Time be most advantageous to the Company in other Respects.

" 212. We cannot conclude this Subject without expressing our Approbation of your Conduct in the several Steps you have taken for putting the Opium Trade upon a beneficial Footing for the Company, and towards supplying our Supracargoes with Specie, exclusive of your annual Remittance, without draining the Provinces; and we are pleased to find by your Letter of the 31st

31st December 1785, that you have been so far successful as to engage for the Payment at Canton in Dollars, for the Value of Opium delivered to the Amount of 8½ Lacks of Current Rupees.

Read, the following Extract of a Revenue Letter from the Governor General and Council at Bengal, to the Court of Directors, dated 10th August 1789, beginning at Paragraph 40 of the same Letter.

Rev. Dept.
Opium.

“ Honble. Sirs,

“ Par. 40. The Contract concluded with Messrs. Young and Heatly, for the Provision of the Opium in Bengal and Bahar, expiring on the 31st of this Month, we took early Steps for obtaining such Information as might enable us to adopt such Measures for the future Provision of that Article, as might prove equally advantageous to Government, and the Cultivation of the Poppy.

“ 41. With this View, so early as April 1788, we stated sundry Questions to the several Collectors, and also to the Resident at Benares, whose Replies, together with the Opinion of the Board of Revenue on the Subject, are recorded on the Proceedings referred to in the Margin.

“ 42. Before we proceeded to the Discussion of the Two Systems of Provision by Agency or Contract, we thought it necessary to consider a Third Question, viz. Whether it would be expedient to relinquish the Provision of the Opium altogether, and to throw open the Trade in that Article.

“ 43. Although we cannot, upon general Principles, but disapprove of all Monopolies, especially when in the Hands of Government, many Considerations induced us to reject the Abolition of the Monopoly in Question: Of these the following are the principal.

“ 1st. Were the Trade to be laid open, we are of Opinion, that the Quality of the Opium would soon be so much debased, as to destroy the Reputation of the Commodity in the Eastern Markets, and thereby lessen the Demand for it, which might ultimately affect the Cultivation of it in Bengal and Bahar, to the Detriment of the Revenues.

“ 2d. The Relinquishment of the Monopoly would occasion an immediate Defalcation in your Resources, equal to the Amount of the Profits now derived from it, nor could the Loss be made up by any other Means; but a very small Part of it could be recovered by imposing an Increase of Rent upon the Poppy Lands, without oppressing the Cultivators, who would, in consequence, relinquish the Cultivation altogether; and the late Arrangements made in the Customs, render the imposing any Duties on the Exportation of it less practicable than heretofore.

“ 3d. The Opium now serves as a Remittance to China, to answer the Bills drawn on Canton for the Provision of your Investment. Were the Trade to be laid open, it is probable that this Resource might, in some Measure, fail, and occasion the Exportation of large Sums in Silver from this Country, already too much drained of its circulating Specie.

“ 44. These Considerations may, in a Course of Time, have less Weight; but in the present State of your Affairs, they appeared to us of sufficient Importance to induce us to give up all Thoughts of relinquishing the Monopoly, more especially as we had little Doubt, but that by increasing the Price to be paid to the Cultivators, abolishing the Losses imposed upon them by former Contractors, and defining the Rights of the Ryotts, and limiting the Authority of the Contractor, the Cultivation of the Poppy would be rendered equally advantageous to the Ryotts, as any other Article of Produce.

“ 45. The next Question to be determined, regarding the Opium, was the Mode in which it should in future be provided, whether by Contract or by Agency. After duly considering the several Papers and Information before us, we determined in Favour of the Former; our Reasons for which are recorded on the Proceedings referred to in the Margin.

“ 46. You will observe also, that we have extended the Principle to the Zemindary of Benares, the Opium in which, for the Year 1787-8 and the Current Year 1788-9, has been provided with much Success, under the immediate Superintendence of the Resident. From his Letter recorded on our Proceedings above referred to, you will perceive that the Cultivation of the Poppy has been greatly extended, in consequence of his good Management. Could we always be certain of the Services of a Person possessing equal Zeal and Ability with Mr. Duncan, we might possibly have have preferred the Mode of Provision hitherto observed in Benares; but as this cannot be expected, we, upon the Whole, thought it preferable to provide it by Contract, taking Advantage of Mr. Duncan's Presence upon the Spot, and his intimate Knowledge of the Business, to define and fix the Rights of the Ryots and the Contractor, and to adopt such Measures as might effectually prevent any future Encroachment or Deviation by either Party. Read, from Book 714, the following Extract of a Letter from the Governor General and Council to the Court of Directors, dated 29th April 1785, beginning at Paragraph 1, of the same Letter.

" Honble. Sir, and Sirs,

" Since our Address to your Honble. Court of 25th March, in the Secret Department of Inspection and Retrenchments, a Copy of which is sent a Number in this Packet, our Attention has been principally engaged in endeavouring to form Arrangements for the permanent Support of your Trade and Credit at Canton, and to establish such a System on the solid Principles of Commerce as would ultimately relieve you from the heavy Burthen of your Bonded Debt, at your different Presidencies in India, retain the Current Specie in these Provinces, and secure to the Parent State lasting Advantages from the Trade of Asia.

" 2d. In considering the best Means of maintaining and improving your Trade with the Chinese, we have supposed that the Measures which were lately adopted in England for the Reduction of Duties upon Tea, will inevitably lead to the Increase of your Sales in that Branch of Commerce, and that you will of Course destine a greater Number of your Ships than usual to the Port of Canton; and it follows, as a natural Consequence, that your Credit in China will demand a more enlarged Support, nor is there any Quarter from which that Support can be had more obviously than from your Government of Bengal.

" 3. Your Supra Cargoes at Canton have only made to us a general Representation of their Wants. We understand from private Information, that the Native Merchants in that City are in Advance to them in no less a Sum than 290,000l. Sterling. It is therefore essential for your Interest that the Credit of the Company should be maintained completely in the Estimation of the Chinese Merchants. A further Exportation of Specie from these Provinces can on no Account be attempted, nor can any of your other Presidencies afford to send the Aid of Commercial Supplies to your Factory at Canton; and we have Reason to apprehend that private Remittances, which have hitherto furnished a very considerable Fund for the Support of your China Trade, have of late been very insufficient for that Purpose.

" 4th. Having taken all the Circumstances into our particular Consideration, and being sincerely anxious to enable you to realize your Expectations from your Commerce with China, and with a view to preventing heavy Drafts upon your Treasury in Europe, we have issued a Publication, and circulated it through all your Settlements, offering the Opium of November next for Cash paid into your Treasury at Canton, to supply the Cargoes for your China Ships of the approaching Season.

" 5th. How far this Proposal, and the Encouragement which it holds out, will be productive of the Relief intended by them, we cannot yet venture to pronounce; but we are determined, in case you shall approve the Measure, to apply the Proceeds of the Opium Manufacture, in future, to the exclusive Benefit of your China Trade.

" 6th. We have the Honour to enclose a Copy of a Minute, which your Governor General has delivered on this Subject, with Copies of the Plans inclosed in it, and to recommend them to your particular Attention. Our Opinions on them will attend you with the next Dispatch.

" 7th. The next Object that has claimed our Attention, and been already mentioned in the First Part of this Address, is the Establishment of such a System on the solid Principles of Commerce, as would ultimately relieve you from the heavy Burthen of your bonded Debts at your different Presidencies in India, retain the Current Specie in these Provinces, and secure to the Parent State lasting Advantages from the Trade of Asia.

" 8th. We are clearly of Opinion, that by funding all these bonded Debts, if the Bond Holders will agree to this Measure, and by applying the Amount of the Interest, with a Part of the Principal annually, for the Purchase of an Investment of Goods properly selected, and provided at the cheapest Rates, the whole Debt may be gradually liquidated in Europe on a reduced Interest, and with infinite and equal Advantage to Great Britain and this Country.

" 9th. You will find this important Subject fully discussed in a Second Minute, which is enclosed from your Governor General, and which we shall take into our early Consideration.

" 10th. On Plans of such Importance, it is necessary to proceed with Caution, to collect the best commercial Information, and to weigh the Disadvantages, together with the proposed Advantages of the several Parts. The Principle of each Plan is evidently good, yet the Obstructions which will of Course arise in carrying them into Execution, are but too manifest, but the best Prospect for overcoming those Obstructions, is presented by the absolute political Necessity that presses for the Adoption of decided Measures, to connect the Maintenance of your Credit, with the Extension and Improvement of your Commerce.

" 11th. In regard to the Opium Plan, the Objections that will naturally be made to it as a Plan of Monopoly, are Objections which can never be obviated, while any considerable Revenue is desired to be derived from it. The Opium, like the Salt, must be manufactured in these Provinces on a Footing of a Monopoly, or the Revenue must fail. It will be observed that the Sale of the Opium might be exempted from the unfavourable Checks of a Monopoly System, and left open for every Bidder at the Calcutta Market. Had we possessed a Port to the Eastward, to which Opium, sold by public Sale to the Bengal Merchants, might be carried, and securely disposed of, to the trading Inhabitants of the Eastern Islands, it would certainly be more consonant to the Advantages of an open Trade, than the Opium, if even, manufactured by Contract, should be sold to the highest Bidder at Calcutta, but the Want of some safe and certain Establishment to the Eastward, as an Emporium to the Merchants of the Place, exposes every private Adventurer in the Article of Opium, to the greatest Risques, and renders it necessary to concentrate a general Interest, to give as much Security as possible to the Success of our Opium Sales in the Eastern Seas.

" 12th. The Risque to which private Adventurers in Opium are so much exposed, oblige them to export, secretly, a considerable Quantity of Specie, together with their Opium, to make good, at all Events, their Engagements to pay Money in China.—This is an Evil which we wish to obviate, in every Degree—Indeed we consider the further Exportation of Specie from these Provinces, as public Credit now stands, in so alarming a Point of View, that we imagine it would be more for your Interest to transfer the Opium intirely to the Dutch, on the Condition of paying its Value, in Money, into your Treasury at Canton, than to have it on its present uncertain Footing.

" 13th. We shall endeavor to concert Measures with the Governor General and Council of Batavia, for the Security of the Opium Trade—In considering this Subject, we are induced to express our Wish, that it were possible to exchange Negapatnam for the Fort of Malacca. A secure Establishment, in so favorable a Position, would give a real Vigour to our Eastern Trade, and throw within the Command of Bengal, a regular Supply to your Treasury at Canton, with every Advantage to this Government, while it would procure to the Company a permanent Superiority, in Europe, in the China Commerce.

" 14th. The Exchange of Negapatnam for the Fort of Malacca can be effected only by Negotiation, and by the Authority of his Majesty's Ministers. The Object is important, and we earnestly recommend it to your serious and immediate Consideration. We think it necessary at the same time to hint, that if the Exchange be not effected speedily, and before the States General are fully informed of the Consequences it might have relative to their Eastern Trade, Difficulties would probably encrease to prevent their according to the Measure: They consider Negapatnam of much greater Importance to them than Malacca; but their Possession of Negapatnam could be of little Detriment to our Interests upon the Coast, and the Fort and Town of Malacca would be a most important Acquisition to Bengal.

" In regard to the Second Plan, that relative to your Bonded Debts in India, it may be justly considered as intimately connected with the Plan for supporting the Trade with China. It will give new Life to the valuable Part of your Commerce from the Coasts of Coromandel and Orissa, it will furnish Supplies for the Mocha, Surat, and Malabar Returns, and secure some valuable Cargoes from the Coast of Sumatra. But the whole Success of it depends upon the Integrity and judicious Selection with which the Goods for the increased Investment and a proper Attention to the Employment and Destination of your Charter Party Ships, for receiving Goods in India, and transporting them to England in proper Seasons.

" In 1781-2, when this Government found it necessary to draw Bills upon the Company, to purchase what has been called the Subscription Investment; the evident Necessity which appeared for making the Produce of that Investment in England equal, amidst all the Risques of War, to the full Amount of the Bills drawn, produced that Reduction in the prime Costs of the Goods of that Investment which has so justly merited your Approbation, may be deemed a most valuable Saving to the Company; a similar Necessity will produce similar and improved Effects, and we trust that such precautionary Measures may be adopted for lowering the Prime Cost, and improving the Quality of an increased Bonded Debt Investment (to describe it by a particular Name) as will answer the most sanguine Expectations than can be founded upon the Plan.

" It will naturally occur to you, that almost all your your Servants, and every British Subject connected with the Company, have a general Interest in the Success of this Undertaking, and ought to be watchful of every Step leading to that Success. We shall say no more upon the Subject at present, but submit the Whole to your Discussion and Determination; we doubt not but his Majesty's Ministers will pay every liberal Attention to Propositions which, on the clearest Grounds of Public and Commercial Advantages, open so favourable a Prospect to the State at large, and to the local Prosperity of these Settlements.

The Counsel for the Defendant informed the House, that it having been stated that this Contract was made in Time of War, they should next shew, that it never had been deemed advisable, even in a State of Tranquillity, to confine it to a single Year: That Eight Years had elapsed since the Expiration of Mr. Sullivan's Contract, which had been divided into Two Contracts, of Four Years each.

For which Purpose they would first refer to the before mentioned Minute of Mr. Macpherson, on the Consultation of 11th July 1785, given in Evidence this Day; (a) and,

Read, from Book, intituled, 'Bengal Letters received, 10th August 1789, to 16th April 1790,' (No Number), the following Extract of a Letter from Lord Cornwallis to the Court of Directors, dated August 2d 1789, beginning at Paragraph 23 of the same Letter.

"Honble. Sirs,

"Par. 23. As the Opium Contract terminated this Season, Proposals for a new Contract for the Term of Four Years, as before, have been called for by public Advertisement: (b)

"Cornwallis."

To shew that the Assignment of Mr. Sullivan's Contract to Messrs. Benn and Young was made without the Privity of the Defendant, and that he had no Concern in it; the Counsel stated, that they should refer to the Evidence given on the Part of the Prosecution, namely, Mr. Benn's Evidence in the printed Minutes, Page 1317, 1318, and to that of Mr. Young, in the printed Evidence, Page 1325.

The Counsel for the Defendant further stated, that the next Allegation in the Charge respected a supposed smuggling Adventure to China, and also to a Loan of Money in the latter End of the Year 1781, and charged to be 'in Order to favour certain Individuals;' a List of whom inclosed in a Letter from Mr. Hastings, from Banares, dated 22d October 1781, having been given in Evidence by the Managers for the Commons in Page 1330 of the Printed Minutes, they should shew that the Loan was publicly advertised for in the Month of July preceding, and that it was general for all the Servants of the Company, Civil and Military, who were willing to partake of the Remittance; for which Purpose they should rely upon the Consultation of the 30th July 1781, already given in Evidence in the printed Minutes, Pages 1330 and 1331, in Addition to which they should read the Rest of that Consultation which applied as well to the Adventure as to the Loan.

The Honble. Governor General absent on a Visit to the Northern Provinces.

Lieut. General Sir Eyre Coote, absent on Service at Fort St. George.

"Read, the following Letter from Mr. Cudbert Thornhill.

"Honble. Sir, and Sirs,

"Understanding that it is your Intention to export the Honble. Company's Opium now on Hand, I humbly beg Leave to submit to your Consideration a Plan of a Voyage to the Eastward, and China; and should it meet with your Approbation, I beg Leave to make a Tender of my Ship the Betsey (sent to Bombay for the Purpose of being sheathed with Copper, and expected here next Month) to carry the Opium, and to recommend the present Commander of that Ship, Captain Geddes, as a proper Person to be entrusted with the Navigation of the Ship, and the Sale of the Opium. I engage that the Betsey shall carry 22 Guns 6 Pounders, and 100 Men, 20 Europeans, if to be had, besides the Officers, and 80 Lascars. I take the Liberty to propose to your Honble. Board, that the Ship should first go to Rio, and dispose of 700 Chests of Opium, taking in the Quantity of Tin, Pepper, and Dollars, specified in the Plan now submitted; and should she not be able to dispose of that Number of Chests at Rio, or not be able to complete her Cargo of Tin, Pepper, and Dollars, to proceed to Tringany, where she will, no doubt, be able to effect the Whole; which done, to proceed to China with remaining 700 Chests, and her Cargo of Tin, Pepper, and Dollars, all of which to be disposed of at Canton, and the net Proceeds of the 1490 Chests to be paid into the Hands of the Supercargoes of the Honble. Company at that Place.—Should your Honble. Board be pleased to approve of the General Outlines of the Plan, and to order the 1490 Chests of Opium to be delivered to me at the proper Time, I will, if it should meet with your Approbation, ship them in all next Month on Board the Betsey, draw up the necessary Instructions for the Captain to be submitted to your Consideration, and in general to take upon me, under your Orders, the Management of the Detail of the Voyage, and, upon the Receipt of the Opium, execute whatever Papers may be necessary for the due Execution of the Trust reposed in me.

“ If your Honble. Board should wish to adopt the same Plan of Exportation for 1500 Chests of the Opium which is expected in December next, I beg Leave to offer you my Services to take Charge of it myself, and go with it on any Ship that may be found fit for the Purpose, in the Month of January next, on the same Voyage as proposed for the Betsey: By following her at the Ports she may touch at, I shall be able to finish whatever may be left unsettled of her Cargo, and by proceeding to China after her, I shall be able to settle every Account respecting both Ships, see that the whole Proceeds of both Cargoes have been duly paid into the Hands of the Supercargoes, and, in short, settle every Part of the Voyage to Canton in a Manner that I hope will give Satisfaction to your Honble. Board.

“ Ordered, That the Enclosure in the above Letter be entered after the Consultation.

“ Mr. Wheler.—The above Letter and Plan offer Two Points to the Consideration of the Board; viz’.

“ The Disposal of the Company’s Opium, and the Means of remitting a considerable Sum to the Supercargo in China. With respect to the First, there is little Prospect of selling the Opium here at a reasonable Price: the Endeavours of the Board to dispose of it even so low as at 400 Rupees have been in vain; no Purchasers have offered, and there is little Prospect of any offering. Opium is purchased by Individuals for the Purpose of exporting it to Batavia, the Eastern Islands, and China. The War which has lately broke out with the Dutch puts a Stop to the Exportation to Batavia, and the Voyages which are undertaken in small Vessels with Opium to the Eastern Islands, are become, from the same Circumstance, so very dangerous, that few or no Individuals will engage in them.

“ These Two Channels of Export being stopped, it is but natural to suppose that the Price of Opium will fall, from the Demand being lessened.

As to the Second Point which Mr. Thornhill’s Plan offers to the Consideration of the Board, the Supply for China, it appears to be a very advantageous one. The usual Supply has been by a Remittance of Bullion to China. The great Aids that this Government has afforded to the other Presidencies have already been a very considerable Drain to this Country of its ready Money; it therefore becomes an Object of the first Consequence with the Board to put a Stop, as far as they are able, to a Method of Supply so ruinous to these Provinces. It is evident that it is much easier for this Country to export its own Manufactures than its Specie, and when practicable, it should always be done when Supplies are to be sent to the other Presidencies. Upon the Whole, it appears that Mr. Thornhill’s Plan furnishes the only Means that can be thought of for disposing of the Company’s Opium to Advantage, and of sending a Supply to China that will be less felt by this Country than the usual Remittance in Bullion. With respect to the Exportation of a Second Quantity of Opium in January next, the Board do not think it necessary to determine therefore for the present.

“ Resolved, That Mr. Thornhill’s Proposals for the Exportation of 1490 Chests of Opium, in the Betsey, be accepted, and that the Management of the Detail of the Voyage be left to him; but that he submit to the Board the Letter of Instructions for the Captain, and that he do not give any Directions respecting the Voyage or Disposals of the Opium, without first submitting them to the Board for their Approbation.

“ Ordered, That the necessary Papers be prepared for Mr. Thornhill to execute; that the Committee of Revenue be directed to deliver the 1490 Chests of Opium to him when the Ship shall be ready to take them in; and when shipped, that Mr. Thornhill do deliver the Bills of Lading to the Secretary.

☞ [“ Ordered, That the Treasury be opened for the Receipt of C<sup>rs</sup> 10,00,000, to be taken up on the above Remittance to China, and on the Terms mentioned in the following Advertisement. “ to the Remit-

tance to Chi-

“ The Honourable the Governor General and Council having resolved to export the Opium now in their Warehouses to China, to serve in lieu of the usual Remittance in Bullion, they hereby give publis

public Notice, that they will open their Treasury for the Receipt of Current Rupees 10,00,000; from the Civil and Military Servants of the Company, the Representatives of those relieved from the Service and gone to Europe, or the Administrations to the Estates of deceased Persons. Certificates will be granted by the Honourable the Governor General and Council, which will entitle those who pay in Money to exchange them for Bills to be drawn by the Supra Cargoes at Canton, for the Proceeds of the above Opium, on the Court of Directors in Leadenhall Street, at the Rate of Sicca Rupees 214 and 4 Pice  $\frac{3}{4}$  100 Spanish Dollars, and the Dollar to be rated at whatever may be the Exchange fixed by the Supra Cargoes for the Season in which the Bills shall be drawn. Subscriptions will be received at the Secretary's Office from all Servants of the Company, Civil or Military, who are willing to partake of this Remittance, provided they be delivered in before the 25th of next Month; a Distribution will then be made of the Remittance; the Shares to be regulated by the Rank which the Subscribers hold in the Service; which Distribution will be lodged at the Treasury, and the Amount allotted to each Subscriber to be paid into the Treasury on or before the 10th of September, after which the Treasury will be closed.

" The Risk of the Voyage to be on Account of the Company, and should any Accident happen to prevent the safe Arrival of the Ship on which the Opium is to be laden in China, the Money subscribed will be repaid at the Treasury in Fort William, with an Interest of 8  $\frac{3}{4}$  Cent.; or should the Ship not carry Funds to China equal to the Amount subscribed, the Supra Cargoes will curtail from the Drafts allotted to each Subscriber on the Court of Directors a Sum equal to the General Deficiency on the whole Remittance; and whatever Sum may be so curtailed will be repaid at the Treasury in Calcutta, with an Interest of 8  $\frac{3}{4}$  Cent. a Voucher being produced from the Supra Cargoes that such Deductions were made.

" Ordered, That the above Advertisement be immediately published, and a Copy sent to the Sub-treasurer, with Directions to receive the Amount subscribed, whenever the different Shares shall be determined agreeable to the Terms inserted therein.] (a)

To shew, that the above mentioned List of Subscribers was in consequence of the public Advertisement 30th of July 1781, and sent down in consequence of there being a considerable Balance of the Fund subscribed for unpaid, in order to make up the Deficiency, the Counsel stated that they should rely upon the Consultation of the 5th November 1781, in the printed Minutes of Evidence, Page 1332.

They should next shew, that after those Names had been received upon the 5th of November 1781, there was a Necessity for a fresh Advertisement for a fresh Loan for 10 Lacks of Rupees more, which Advertisement invited all Persons to subscribe to the same, and for this Purpose they would rely upon the Consultation of the 22d of November 1781, in the printed Minutes of Evidence, Page 1331.

The Counsel for the Defendant stated, that in Answer to the Allegation of the Charge, that the above Loan was for the Purpose of advancing Money to the Contractor, no Evidence having been given on the Part of the Prosecution, in Proof of the same, they should rely upon the Evidence adduced this Day, to shew that the Treasury was at that Time, which was a Period of Distress, open to receive a Loan for the general Exigency of the State.

The Counsel for the Defendant then stated, that as to the next Article of the Charge, viz. the Adventure to China and the Eastern Islands, the same took Place in the latter End of the Year 1781, in the Absence of Mr. Hastings, and was executed by Two Ships, the Nonsuch and the Betsey; as to which they should first proceed to shew, that the Loss charged by the Article arose upon that Part of the Adventure in which the Betsey was concerned, and was owing to the accidental Capture of her by the Dutch; that otherwise the Company would have reaped considerable Advantage from it; for which Purpose they should refer to that Part of a Letter from the Supra Cargoes of Canton, dated 28th December 1782, which had been given in Evidence by the Managers for the Commons, in the printed Minutes, Page 1333.

To shew, the Account given by the Captain of the Betsey of the Capture, of the Sale he had made antecedent to it, and the favourable Prospect he had if that Accident had not taken Place,

" Fort William, 3d March 1783.

Public Dept.

" At a Council; Present,

The Honourable Warren Hastings, Governor General, President;
Lieut. General Sir Eyre Coote,
Edward Wheler,
John Macpherson,
John Stables.

" The Governor General lays before the Board the following Papers which he has received from Captain Thornhill, who is just returned from China, concerning the Capture of the Betsey, with her Cargoe of Opium, at Rhio.

" Sir,

" In my last by the St Cruz, I acquainted you that we had got the Ship Betsey into the River Rhio, where I imagined she was very safe from any Attempts of an Enemy, this being a neutral Port; but I am truly sorry to acquaint you now, that it has proved otherwise, owing entirely to the treacherous Behaviour of the Mallays towards us.

" On the Morning of the 1st of March, Four Vessels made their Appearance in the Offing, and came into the Roads the same Day. They proved to be a Dutch Ship of Forty Guns, a French Ship of Eighteen Guns, and a Dutch Snow and Sloop armed Vessels of Ten Guns each. On the Morning of the Second I found the French Ship was warping into the River; I immediately moved the Betsey further up close to the Mallay Fort, where they hove a Boom across the River, and sent to the King repeatedly for Leave to pass and carry the Ship up to the Town; but he put us off from Time to Time with evasive Answers, and at last told us positively we could not pass. This was what I never knew refused to an English Ship before: I had also proposed to Rajor Ally, the Person who bought the Three Hundred Chests, to land a Quantity of the Opium into his Godowns, to lighten the Ship, in order to carry her up the River with more Ease. This he had consented to, and promised to send his Prows for it in the Night; but this the King thought * for proper likewise to prevent. By this Time, being the Afternoon of the Second, the French Ship had got into the River, and almost within Gun Shot of us; and finding that the Snow and Sloop also were coming in, I went ashore myself to the King, who was at his Fort, and acquainted him of this Circumstance; at the same Time told him, that as he would not let us pass the Boom, I intended to go along Side of the French Ship, and engage her (this we could easily have done, being then just high Water), that I thought we could not expect to do * from all the Three. His Answer was, that I must by no Means do so, for if I did, he would look upon me as the Aggressor in his Port, and turn his Guns upon me accordingly, and at the same Time assured me he would do the same by the French and the Dutch, should they fire first. This, indeed, both him and many of the principal People of the Place had told me before, and that they would by no Means suffer the Ship to be taken in their Port. All this I thought appeared very reasonable, had they only been as good as their Words. They had by this Time got all the Guns in the Fort loaded and ready, and not less than Fifteen hundred armed Men in it, besides about Fifteen Prows with Two great Guns each. All these Preparations and Assurances led me to believe that they were in earnest. I had then no Remedy but to moor the Ship to the best Advantage where she was (which I did across the River, within a Stones Throw of their Fort) and trust to their promised Assistance, which I think they had in their Power to give us very effectually.

* Sic in Orig.

" In this Situation, we continued until the Morning of the Fourth, by which Time, the Ship, Snow and Sloop were moored in a Line a-breast of us within Gun-shot, (I mean their Gun-shot, the French Ships being Nine and Twelve Pounders, and the Snow and Sloop was supplied with Two Eighteen Pounders each and Men also from the Dutch Ship, which continued in the Roads). They being thus prepared, the French Ship began to fire, which we immediately returned, and continued Four or Five Broadsides, but finding that none of our Shot reached them, being mostly Four Pounders, whilst their's either struck our Ship or went over her, (though they luckily did not kill any of our People); and finding that the Mallays did not offer to fire a Gun or give us the least Assistance as they had promised, I ordered our Firing to cease, it being of no Use at the Distance they had chose to engage us, and called the Officers, &c. upon Deck and asked their Opinion, which coincided with my own, and was, that we had it not in our Power to injure the Enemy. The Ship was moored with Four Anchors down, and could not be moved in the Face of their Fire; indeed, had there been no Enemy, it would have been difficult, it being then low Water and the River so narrow that Two of our Anchors were high and dry in the Mud, One on each Side the River. We thought it therefore expedient to strike our Colours to save the Lives of the People, many of which must have been lost had we perished, * without a Probability of the Loss of a Man on their Side, and it was evident that we must give up the Ship at last to so superior a Force; and it would be but a poor Consolation, after throwing away the Lives of a Number of People to no purpose, to have had the Vanity to say we fought them so long. In short, to have held out longer at such a Disadvantage, I presume, by the thinking Part of Mankind, to have been next to Madness. The Behaviour of the Officers, Europeans, and People in general was such, that I have great Reason to believe, (had there been a Prospect, even a very distant one, of Success,) would have done their Duty to the very last before they would have given her up. All these Circumstances considered, the superior Force against us, and the perfidious Behaviour of the Mallays towards us, &c. will, I hope, induce my Honourable Employers and yourself not to censure my Conduct for giving up the Ship; and you may rest assured, it would not have been the Case had there been a Probability of saving her; and, if I may presume to give my Opinion, with due Submission to their and your superior Judgment, I think the Honourable Company may with the greatest Propriety demand Restitution of the Port of Rhio for all the Damages sustained by the Loss of the Ship Betley and Cargo, for they undoubtedly had it in their Power to have saved her from the following Circumstances, which we have learnt since the Capture. In the first place, had we been permitted to pass the Boom, they would not have attempted to follow us nor attack us even where we were, or come into the River at all, had the King only said he did not choose they should. We find there was a Conference carried on between them from the Time of their first Arrival, and that there was a Promise made to the King of a certain Share of the Prize for his Neutrality, if not Assistance. I have likewise procured a Copy of the Letter sent to the King, signed by the French and Dutch Captains after the taking the Ship, wherein they return him Thanks in the Name of the Dutch Company for his giving them Permission to take the Ship in his Port, assuring him that they would not have attempted to do it without; and that the Dutch Company will reward him accordingly; also One of my Officers who went on board the French Ship to endeavour to procure us some of our Linen, &c. in discoursing with the Second Mate of her, asked him their Reason for being so long in the River before they attacked us, his Answer was, that the King had not given them Leave before, and that he had then sent to acquaint them that he was now ready, and that the English Ship could not now escape, so that they might attack her. From this I really believe all his Preparation was to assist them (not us) had we been likely to extricate ourselves.

* Sic in Orig.

" Having sold Three Hundred Chests of the Honourable Company's Ophium to the Mallays here, which is not yet paid for, I thought it expedient after giving up the Ship, to leave her with as many of the People as our Boats would carry, and trust ourselves in the Hands of the Mallays at the Risque of our Lives, in order to save the Honourable Company's Property which was still in their Hands; and should no English Ship arrive in Time, I propose endeavouring either to sell the Produce to, or freight it on some of the Portuguese Ships to China; at any Rate I shall endeavour to get it out of their Hands as soon as possible in the best Manner I can.

" I do assure you that this Misfortune has given me infinite Concern; for I had the Prospect of making a very great Voyage for the Honourable Company, having sold and delivered Three hundred Chests at a very great Price, and agreed for Two hundred more; and I am certain would have sold not less than One thousand Chests at this Port alone, and have paid for the Whole in due Time for China this Season. It is needless for me to say more to you on this Subject until I have the Pleasure of seeing you, from what I have already said, you will readily conceive the Advantages that must have accrued to the Honourable Company had we succeeded, as we had Reason to expect.

" Rhio, March 15th 1782.

" I am Sir, &c.

The Counsel for the Defendant stated, that as to the next Allegation of the Charge, viz. that it was a mere Pretence that there was little Demand for the Commodity; or, that no Purchasers had offered; or, that there was little Prospect of any offering;—and that the Defendant made no Attempt to sell it, although in Point of Fact there were Persons in Calcutta who had Authority to bid for the Whole, or the greatest Part of the Opium; they should, as to the latter Assertion, that there were Persons authorised to bid for the Whole of the Opium, rely upon there being no Evidence on the Part of the Prosecution in Support of it; and, in Answer to the rest, refer to the Minute of Mr. Wheler, entered upon the Consultation of the 30th July 1781, (b) already given in Evidence this Day for another Purpose; and then read an Extract of a Letter from the Board at Bengal, dated the 5th of April 1783, to the Court of Directors.

“ The Governor General.—Next to the necessary Payment of our Troops at the different Presidencies, the Object in which the Company's Interest, and the Relief of their Distresses in Europe, are most concerned, is the Supply of the Funds in China, for loading the Homeward-bound Ships of the Season with Cargoes for the Sales in London; this great Object is forwarded in Two Ways, either by direct Remittances in Bills, Goods, or Bullion, to the Supracargoes at Canton, or by such Arrangements as will tend to give them an effectual Credit with the Native Merchants of China.

“ If it were possible to send even a few Lacks in Specie to Canton this Season, we ought to attempt such a Remittance at every Risque, for it would operate not only as a Supply, but as a Support of the Credit of the Supracargoes. (a)

To shew the Circumstances which prevented a more beneficial Sale of the Opium, and the Representations of the Supracargoes at China upon that Subject, and that notwithstanding those Circumstances, there was still no Loss, but a Gain, upon this Part of the Adventure,

The Counsel stated, they should refer to a Letter of the Supracargoes upon the Subject, dated 28th of December 1782, in the printed Minutes of Evidence, Page 1332, and particularly to Paragraph 49, in Page 1334.

To shew what was the Result of the Adventure of the above Two Vessels, the Counsel for the Defendant desired Mr. Wright might be called in.

MR. WRIGHT was accordingly again called in, and examined as follows :

Q. How much Money was paid into the Company's Treasury at Canton in consequence of the Adventure to China and to the Eastern Islands in 1781, on Account of the Opium sent from Calcutta?

A. The Sum paid into the Canton Treasury, on Account of the Opium by the Two Vessels, was 368,883 Dollars.

Q. State the Amount of that Sum in Pounds sterling, reckoning the Dollars at 5s. 6d. which the Supercargoes have stated to be the Exchange?

A. 101,443 l.

Q. That is the total Produce of the Two Ships?

A. Yes.

Q. Captain Geddes having stated in the Letter given in Evidence, that he had sold 100 Chests at 350 Dollars per Chest, 200 at 350, and that he could have sold Seven hundred more; what would the Amount of the 700 more have been, supposing them sold at the lowest Sum that he had actually sold any for, or agreed to sell any for, namely, 350 per Chest?

A. 354,000 Dollars.

Q. If the Remainder of the Betsey's Cargo had been sold at the Price which the Cargo of the Nonfuch sold for, namely, at 210 Dollars, what would the Amount have been in Dollars?

A. 97,860 Dollars.

Q. Reduce that into Pounds sterling at the same Rate of 5s. 6d. a Dollar.

A. The Two last Sums would be 124,261 l.

Q. That is the Result of the 1466 Chests of the Betsey?

A. That is the Result of the 1466 Chests.

Q. How much does this exceed that which was received at Canton on Account of the Opium by the Betsey?

A. 107,871 l.

Q. Had the Sales been so made, what would have been the total Receipts paid into the Canton Treasury of the Opium sent in both the Ships, the Nonfuch and the Betsey?

A. 209,314 l.

Q. Having been examined on the Part of the Prosecution, to prove that the total Charges upon these Ships amounted to 115,434 l. what would have been the Profit, admitting that to be the total Amount of the Charges incurred, upon the Data stated?

A. 93,880 l.

Q. What was the Gain or Loss by the Adventure of the Nonfuch considered alone, after deducting the Prime Cost and Charges?

A. The Gain was 19,000 l.

Q. Do you find, from the Accounts of the East India Company, that any pecuniary Advantage was derived to the Company from the Monopoly of Opium prior to the Government of Mr. Hastings?

A. Except the Duties, it does not appear upon the Books of Account received from thence that any Advantage was derived from Opium before the Year 1773.

Q. What is the total Amount of the Gain derived to the Company from this Monopoly since Mr. Hastings proposed, and the Board at his Instance resolved, to transfer the Management of it from the Patna Council to the East India Company, down to the present Time?

A. From 1773-4 to 1790-1, which is the latest Period to which the Accounts are received, it is 1,277,000 l.

Q. Does any Part of the Adventure spoken of respecting the Nonfuch and Betsey, apply at all to any of the Opium delivered by Mr. Sullivan, or under his Contract?

A. None at all.

Q. What was the total Amount of the Profit or Loss to the Company upon the Opium during the Four Years of Mr. Sullivan's Contract, from the Year 1781 to 1785?

A. 211,000 l. Profit to the Company, reckoning the Current Rupee at Two Shillings?

Q. Does this Commodity still continue to be managed under a Monopoly?

A. It does.

Q. Do you find upon the Consultations any Instance of this Commodity being granted subsequent to the Year 1775, upon a Contract for a single Year—for One Year only?

A. I believe Mr. M'Kenzie had another Year given to his Original Contract for Three Years.

Q. Independant of that, is there any other Instance?

A. No other Instance.

Cross-examined by the Managers for the Commons.

Q. Have you in your Account of the Charges of Opium included the Value of the Interest of the Money borrowed to make Advances to the Contractors?

A. I don't recollect, except as to the Adventure of the Betsey; there was an Interest paid on the Certificates returned on that Account.

Q. Do you recollect that a Sum of Money was borrowed upon Interest, in order to make an Advance to the Contractor for the Supply of Opium?

A. I do not recollect the Circumstance.

Q. Do you not recollect 200,000 l. or thereabouts, was borrowed, Part of which was so applied?

A. I think the Sum of Ten Lacks was raised in Bengal upon each of the Adventures, for One of which Sums of Ten Lacks, Bills were drawn from Canton on the Court of Directors.

Q. Have you calculated, in the Charges upon the Opium, the Interest of the Money so borrowed, so far as it was advanced to the Contractors?

A. No, I have not.

Q. Have you calculated the 2  $\frac{1}{2}$  per Cent. Allowance made to the Contractors?

A. I have.

Q. Have you included in the Charges, the Allowance that was made to the Sales-Master on having the Sale of Opium taken out of his Hands?

A. I have. I presume it is meant on the Adventure to China.

Q. The Question means on the Adventure to China?

A. The Allowance made to the Vendue Master is included.

Q. Whether, in the hypothetical Profits of the Adventure, you have included the Insurance?

A. No Allowance of that Kind is made.

Q. Do you know that in Fact any such Insurance was made?

A. I do not know if it was, or not.

Q. Have you calculated in the Charges the Armament of these Vessels that was made at Madras?

A. No.

Q. Do you know what that Opium might have been sold for at Calcutta, free of those Charges and Risks?

A. I cannot state that from Recollection.

Q. Do you recollect what Reasons were given for taking the Sale out of the Hands of the old Salesmaster, so as to occasion his Demand of a Profit for the Loss of what he might have had upon the Sale?

A. I think the Ground of the Vendue Master's Application was in Consequence of the Opium being sent to the Eastward and to China: I speak only from Recollection.

Q. The Question is not what the Salesmaster's Reasons were, but what Reasons were given for taking it out of the Hands of the Vendue Master?

A. I do not recollect any other than the sending of it to China.

Q. Can you ascertain what Time this Opium was brought to the Advantage of the Company,—what Year?

A. In the Course of the Year 1782 or 1783; I think the Sales in Canton were made in the latter End of the Year 1782.

Q. Do

Q. Do you recollect what Time Mr. Hastings came to the Presidency of the Council at Madras?

A. No, I do not.

Q. Was it not about the Year 1772.—The Question means the Bengal Presidency?

A. In April 1772.

Q. Do you recollect, on looking over the East India Company's Accounts, any Reasons assigned why this was not brought to the Profit of the Company from 1772 to 1782?

A. The Profit I have been speaking of, is that on the Opium sent by the Nonfuch in 1781,—I imagine that is what is alluded to by the Question.

Q. Do you know at what Period it happened that this Business of Opium was brought to the Company's Advantage, and taken out of the Hands of the Council at Patna, for whose Advantage it had been before employed?

A. In the Year 1773-4.

Q. What was the Profit on that Year?

A. About 47,000l. but that Profit was taken in part upon some Chests of Opium sent to the new Settlement of Balambangan;—the Produce of it there I am not able to ascertain.

Q. Then, the Opium began to be profitable to the Company in that Year?

A. Yes, in the Year 1773-4.

Q. What was the Profit in the next Year?

A. 42,800l.

Q. In the Year 1775?

A. 13,767l.

Q. The next Year, 1776?

A. 21,000l.

Q. The next Year?

A. 1777-8, 18,000l. 1778-9, 34,000l. 1779-80, a Loss of 23,460l. owing to the Capture of the Ship.

Q. The Years after?

A. In 1780-1, it was 44,000l. 1781-2, 45,000l. all Profit.

Q. Whether Mr. Hastings was not President or Governor during the Whole of that Period of Time?

A. Certainly.

Q. What was the Profit the first Year of Mr. Sullivan's Contract?

A. The last Sum mentioned was 45,000l. in 1782-3, 62,000l. 1783-4, 59,695l. 1784-5, 44,405l.—that ended Mr. Sullivan's Contract.

Q. During the Period of Mr. Sullivan's Contract, is that a clear Profit over and above all the Charges that have just now been mentioned?

A. The prime Cost, and the Charges of every Kind, except Insurance and Interest of Money, which have been mentioned, are deducted from the Sales to produce the Profit I have stated.

Q. Then, at what Period of Time did Mr. Hastings's Government expire?

A. I think it was the latter End of January 1785.

Q. What was the Produce of the Profit of Opium to the Company, after the Expiration of Mr. Sullivan's Contract and of Mr. Hastings's Government, in each Year?

A. In 1785-6, 118,380l. in 1786-7, 132,670l. in 1787-8, 135,216l. 1788-9, 148,173l. 1789-90, 154,461l. 1790-91, the last Year, 159,100l.

Q. Have you calculated the Profits upon an equal Number of Years during the Time Mr. Hastings continued Governor, with that which has happened since Mr. Hastings ceased to be Governor?

A. I have made no such Calculation.

Q. Whether the Contracts subsequent to Mr. Sullivan's Time have had all of them the same Clauses as Mr. Sullivan's had?

A. I really don't recollect ever reading the Contracts.

Q. Whether, or no, Mr. Sullivan's Contract had ever been publicly advertised before it was given to Mr. Sullivan?

A. I think it appears upon the Proceedings it was not.

Witness re-examined by the Counsel.

Q. Whether any Opium from another Country has been brought under the Management of the Company in the latter Years you have spoken of, and added to what was before?

A. In the Year 1786, there was a certain Quantity contracted for from Banares; I believe about 500 Chests a Year.

Q. Did that form a Part of the Supply of the preceding Years?

A. Not that I know of; the Two Descriptions of Opium usually furnished before that Period were the Bahar and the Bengal.

Q. You have spoken of a Sum of 23,000*l.* lost in one of the Years, at how much do you calculate the Dollar in ascertaining that Loss?

A. This Calculation is made from the Bengal Accounts, in Current Rupees, without any Reference to that.

Q. (by Managers) What Time was it that the new Contract for the Banares Opium was made?

A. Some Time, I believe, in 1785 or 1786.

Q. Is it included in the general Contract, or not?

A. I think it was a separate Contract.

Q. Is it included in the Sum of the Profits of the Opium you have stated?

A. It is in the Profits I have stated.

Q. Do you know how the Banares Opium was disposed of, previous to the Contract in 1785 or 1786?

A. I do not know.

Q. Do you know whether it was in any way brought to the public Service?

A. I think not.

Q. Whether Mr. Hastings did not regulate the Banares Opium in the Year 1781?

A. I take it it appears upon the Records, Mr. Hastings did make some Regulations in 1781 about it.

Q. Do you recollect whether this Opium formed any Part of those Regulations as brought to the Profit of the Company or the new Rajah, Mehipnarain?

A. I don't remember at all; it is some Time since I looked into the Proceedings.

Q. Then, you know nothing at all of what became of the Quantity of Opium estimated at 500 Chests, during the Government of Mr. Hastings?

A. No, I do not.

Q. How much had the Contract ad idem been since that, comprehending the same Articles of Sullivan's Contract,—whether or no you recollect what that was Net since that Period, independent of the Banares Opium?

A. I have not the Accounts here to shew—this is only a general Profit upon the whole of the Opium sold.

Q. Do you know what Rate or Proportion of Goodness the Banares Opium bears to the Patna Opium?

A. I do not.

Q. Are you quite sure that Mr. Sullivan had nothing to do with any Dealing in the Banares Opium?

A. I do not know any otherwise, than as it appears from the Company's Books, that Bahar and Bengal Opium were the only Sorts.

Q. Do you know whether or no Mr. Sullivan was the Person that did supply it?

A. It is said on the Books to be supplied by him.

Q. Does it appear, upon the Company's Books and Correspondence, that Mr. Sullivan did in fact so supply the Opium?

The Question was ordered to be read by the Clerk.

Then the House adjourned to the Chamber of Parliament.

The Lords being in their Places, the House resumed, the usual Proclamations made, and the Defendant appearing at the Bar, the Lord Chancellor said,

“ Gentlemen, Managers for the House of Commons, and you Gentlemen who are of Counsel for the Defendant, I am commanded by the House to acquaint you, that it is not competent for the Managers for the Commons to ask the Witnefs, “ Whether it appears on the Company’s Books and Correspondence that Mr. Sullivan did in fact so supply the Opium ?”

The Witnefs was directed to withdraw.

Read, from Book 211, the following Extract of a Letter from the Court of Directors to the Board at Calcutta, dated the 16th March 1784.

“ We desire you will especially attend to the Means of making such Remittances to China as may, as far as possible, prevent any Drafts from thence. We are well aware that there is some Difficulty herein, which must be obviated according to Circumstances on the Spot, and by Means, which cannot be directed from hence, but we trust that with the Advantage of the Trade in Opium, and other Commodities of India to the Eastern Islands, you will find it very practicable to accomplish this desirable Purpose, without any great or constant Drain of Specie from Bengal, which ought, as far as possible, in all Cases to be avoided.

The Counsel for the Defendant stated, That the next Subject of the Article was, the Contract made for the Supply of Bullocks for the Army in the Year 1779; the First Point of which was, ‘ that the old Contract was dissolved without any Complaint upon the Part of the Army of its Inadequacy to the regular Supply.’

To prove therefore directly the contrary, they should proceed to shew, that a Complaint was made, namely, by the Commander in Chief, of the total Inadequacy of the former Contract :

For which Purpose they should first refer to a Consultation of the 15th of July 1779, in the printed Minutes of Evidence, Page 1345; and also to a Letter from the Court of Directors to the Board at Bengal, dated 11th April 1781, in the printed Minutes of Evidence, Page 1372, both referring to a Letter from General Stibbert of the 22d August 1778. That the Purpose of the above References was to shew that, from the Blank left for it, though it was not inserted on the Consultation, the last mentioned Letter of the 22d of August 1778, probably did exist: But as it was not to be found at the India House, they should offer the next best Evidence of it, namely, a Copy.

The Managers for the Commons objected to the Evidence.

The Counsel for the Defendant were heard in Answer to the Objection.

The Managers for the Commons waived their Objection.

Read, by Consent, from a Copy printed by the House of Commons, the following Paper.

“ Extract of a Letter from Brigadier General Stibbert, to the Honourable Governor General and Council, dated 22d August 1778.

“ With respect to the Bullocks of the Army, I am afraid it is impossible that the Company should ever be furnished with such as are fit for the Service, at the very low Rates that are now given for them; which it is well known are not sufficient for the Contractor to provide good ones, and feed them properly, without being a considerable Loser by his Contract: The Consequence is, that the Army is always supplied with bad Cattle, (at least not with such as the Importance of the Service they are entertained for requires), which are as badly fed; and this must always continue to be the Case, till Government is pleased to take the Matter into Consideration, and allow something more for the Provision of them, and till the Contractors are tied up by such Penalties and Forfeitures as will oblige them to fulfil the Articles of their Contracts.—Another Reason why the Company have for some Years past been so ill served in the Bullock Contract, has been giving it away at the Expiration of every Twelvemonth, for the Term of one Year only, which is too short a Time for any Contractor to hold it, so as to do Justice to his Engagements. Accordingly, instead of taking the necessary Measures for procuring Supplies of good Cattle, and for laying in Magazines of Grain for their Support, from the Countries where they could be best or cheapest had (which it cannot be expected any Contractor will do, when he is liable to lose his Contract in a few Months, and does not know that his Successor will take them off his Hands), it has been too much the Practice to trust to getting both from the Bazars, and Districts where they have been immediately wanted. The Disadvantages, and often Distresses, which this must occasion to the Service, are too evident.—The Cause of these may however be said to be now removed, by the present Contract being granted for Three Years; but that alone, I am persuaded, will be found not sufficient to remedy our having bad Bullocks, which nothing can effectually do but encreasing the Rates given for them. The Executor of the deceased Contractor, I am told, though I have no Authority to say it from himself, is so sensible of the Disadvantages and Trouble of this Part of his late Brother's Contract, that he would readily give it up to any Person who would take it off his Hands; in which Case, I think it would be very proper to have it separated from the Victualling Contract, and given to some active Person who has Time and Leisure to attend to the proper Management of it.

“ Should the Board, from what I have here represented, think it expedient to allow an higher Sum for the Provision of the Bullocks, I would advise that a Standard should be fixed for the Size of them, under which none should be admitted, and that were not strong and bony, free from Defects, and in all Respects fitting for the Service; that none also should be admitted under or above a prescribed Age; and that, previous to their being received and mustered at the Stations where they are required, they shall be examined by the Commanding Officer, the Officer commanding the Artillery, the Assistant Quarter Master General, and Commissary of Musters, and all such as do not answer to those Particulars rejected.—That those received into the Service shall, at the Time of Examination, have the Company's Mark put upon them; and that the Contractor shall incur a Penalty for marking any Bullock, or any Person doing it for him, for the Use of the Army, without Authority.—That a Survey shall be taken regularly every Three Months of the State of all the Bullocks, at the different Stations of the Army, by the same Officers, and all that may be found unfit for Service discharged.—That Reports of these Surveys, and of the Inspection of all that are received and marked for the Service, shall be transmitted to the Commander in Chief, and a Copy of the same to the Quarter Master General, to be lodged in his Office.—These Measures adopted, I think will secure the Provision of strong and able Bullocks for the Service; at least, I know of no other so likely to do it.

“ That they may always be well fed, and in good Condition to perform the Services required of them, the Contractor should be obliged by his Contract to give the Draft Cattle Two Seers and an Half, and the Carriage Two Seers of Grain each per Day; and when Grass and Forage is scarce, such a further Quantity, not exceeding Three Seers and an Half to the Draft and Three Seers to the Carriage, as it may be found necessary for the Commanding Officer of the Station where they are kept to direct. At present the Allowance given by the Contractor to the Draft Cattle is Two Seers, and to the Carriage One Seer; which, when Grass and Forage are very plenty, and they are not worked, might be sufficient; but at other Times, and when they are wrought, it is evidently not so; and if the Bullocks are once allowed to fall off in Flesh, and get poor, from a Shortness of Food, it takes some Months to recover them, and the Service must on such Occasions, when they are wanted, suffer from it. But this would not be felt so much as what it is at particular Seasons, were the Cattle to get regularly the Quantity of Grain the Contractors have made it a Rule to fix as their daily Allowance; which, from the plundering of the Banians and their Underlings, all of whom must have a Feeling out of them, it is very certain they do not. By the Contractors being obliged by the Articles of their Contracts to give the Draft Bullocks as far as Three and an Half Seers, and the Carriage as far as Three Seers, of Grain per Day each, whenever they fall off in Flesh, and it may be found necessary for the Commanding Officer of the Troops to order it, to keep them in good Condition, it will become their immediate Interest, when they know they are liable to suffer from not doing it, to look better after their People than they now do, and see that the Cattle are taken proper Care of, and not defrauded of their due Allowance. Indeed this Business is too much left at present to Banians, who, Nobody I believe can doubt, will make every Advantage of it that their Arts can contrive, and point out to them, and that lies in their Power. But besides the Interest which the Contractor is hereby made to have in taking Care that the Cattle are properly looked after and fed, it will be necessary that the Company should allow 20 or 25 Rupees per Month to a good Serjeant of each of the Brigades to oversee them, under the Direction of the Commanding Officer of Artillery, where there are Artillery Corps.

Corps. This or some adequate Allowance not being made to these Men, for their Trouble, they will take it from the Banians; which must entirely destroy the Intent of their Appointment.

" I have thought it necessary to make these Observations to the Board respecting the Bullocks, which, as no Movement of the Forces can ever be made without them, claim, in my Opinion, a very serious Attention.

" To the Honble. Warren Hastings Esquire, Governor General, &c. Members of the Board of Inspection.

" Gentlemen,

" In my Letter of the 20th February, I informed the Board of the bad Condition of the Draught and Carriage Bullocks, allotted for the Service of the Train and Magazine, at this Station. Upon the Orders of Government arriving with me for the Troops to quit their Cantonments, and move into the Field, I ordered them to be surveyed, and a Report made to me of their exact State. A Copy of this Survey Report, No. 3, the Board will receive herewith, and readily see the Necessity of coming to some speedy Resolution for having the Army better supplied with these Cattle. In the mean Time, that the Service may not suffer, I have directed the Contractor's Agent here to purchase immediately as many good Bullocks as he can, to exchange the bad Ones with; but as this is not a Part of the Country to provide them in, and as they are very dear here, I am afraid it may be some Time before he can complete this this Buſineſs. I have further to acquaint the Board, that in order to have them as fit for Service as poſſible, I have directed each Bullock to have Two Seer and a Half of Grain per Diem, while the Troops lay ſtill, and Three Seer in Caſe of marching.

(No Signature at the End of the Consultation.)

The Counsel for the Defendant stated, that in Answer to the next Matter of the Charge, viz. that the Number and Rate of the Bullocks was improper, and exceeded that which the Commander in Chief had declared sufficient for the whole Army, they should proceed to shew, that the Number of Bullocks contracted for was that which the Commander in Chief stated to be necessary; for which Purpose they would first refer to the Regulations contained in the Document last read N<sup>o</sup> 1 and 15.

To shew, that the above-mentioned Regulations had received the joint Recommendation, of the Provincial Commander in Chief, and of the Commanding Officer of Artillery; the Counsel for the Defendant stated, they should refer to the Consultation of the 15th July 1779, in the printed Minutes of Evidence, Page 1346; and as to the Rate of Payment, they should refer to the same Regulations to shew, that it was in all Respects conformable to what the several Officers above-mentioned had determined to be necessary for the Good of the Service.

Then the Counsel for the Defendant requested, that so much of the Evidence of Colonel Duff, adduced on the Part of the Prosecution, as related to the Article of the Bullock Contract, together with the Evidence given by him on the Cross-Examination, might be here entered.

The same is as follows:

' Q. (b) Whether it did fall peculiarly within your Department as an Artillery Officer to observe the Cattle, the Bullocks that were employed in drawing the Artillery?

' A. It did.

' Q. Was you in that Service during the Period of Mr. Croft's Contract in the Year 1779?

' A. I was during the greatest Part of it, but not the Whole; I cannot say exactly, but I know I was during the greatest Part of it.

' Q. Did you see the Bullocks that were supplied under that Contract by the Contractor?

' A. I did, I mustered them, as it was my Duty, every Month.

' Q. Have you read that Contract, and the Regulations introduced into it?

' A. I have often.

' Q. Whether, from your own Knowledge upon this Subject, and your Experience, those Regulations are adapted to promote the Good of the Service, or otherwise?

' A. The Regulations I think are calculated to promote the Good of the Artillery Service, and I think further, that they had that Effect by producing better Cattle for the public Service than ever I saw before or since that Period.

(a) Vide supra, Appendix, N<sup>o</sup> CXC.

(b) Vide supra, Page 1972.

' Q. Do

Q. Do you remember the Number proposed to be furnished by that Contract?

A. Not exactly, I cannot carry it in my Mind.

Q. The Number was 6,700?

A. I believe it was thereabout, but I cannot charge my Memory.

Q. Whether, considering the Nature of the Service, and the Period at which that Contract was made, that was an excessive Number, or a proper Number?

A. I considered it to be of such essential Service to the Operations of an Army, that it was highly proper and incumbent upon Government to supply a proper Quantity of proper Cattle to answer any Contingency that might happen.

Q. Do you conceive that Number to have been too great, taking into your Consideration the Circumstances you have stated?

A. I believe that those who argue upon a Certainty of Peace, or upon Principles of strict Economy, may suppose that the Number was too large; but I, who have often seen the great Distress that the Army has been put to for Want of a sufficient Supply of Cattle, do not think that the Number was more than in many Cases must be employed.

Q. What Number of Cattle had Lord Cornwallis in his Army in the Course of the last War?

A. It is impossible for me to answer particularly, I know he had considerably above 25,000 at some Times.

Q. (a) At the Period when he had 25,000 Cattle, what Number of Men were necessary?

A. I suppose between 15 and 20,000 Men; I mean King's and Company's Troops—But I cannot be supposed to be particular, for I do not know exactly, not having an Opportunity to see the Returns; and if I had seen them, I might not remember.

Q. Is it necessary for the Good of this Service to have a regular Establishment of Bullocks trained and exercised, and fit for immediate Service at a Moment's Warning?

A. Most certainly it is.

Q. What Sort of Cattle were furnished in Point of Size and Strength under Mr. Croft's Contract?

A. The Cattle were all large, and good Cattle; there was a Standard, I believe, of Forty-two Inches, I cannot be certain; but I know it was a very high Standard, and none were received that were not above that Standard, and fixed by the Contract?

Q. Were the Checks that were imposed by the Terms of the Contract strictly enforced upon the Contractor?

A. They were.

Q. From what Country must Cattle of that Size stipulated by the Contract be furnished?

A. The Cattle of that Sort are generally brought from Poona, or Toroot, there being none of that Size, or near that Size, in any other Country in India.

Q. These Places are in the Bengal Dominions?

A. Yes; on the Right of the Ganges, up the Country.

Q. Is the Contractor in this Article during the Period of War exposed to considerable Risk?

A. Very great Risk certainly.

Q. State the Nature of those Risks?

A. From Disorders among the Cattle; from their being killed in Battle, or carried away by the Enemy; epidemical Disorders get very often among the Cattle.

Q. Have you remembered Instances of great Numbers of Cattle being destroyed by Slaughter in Battle, or by epidemical Diseases?

A. I have; I have known many Hundreds of Cattle die in One Day.

Q. Is it of Importance to have Cattle ready to supply that Loss immediately?

A. Certainly it is.

Q. Can the Army be supplied from the Country, if they have not a regular Establishment of Bullocks?

A. At all Times they cannot; if they are very near large Cities, they may have the Opportunity of being supplied with Cattle from the Draft Cattle that are generally employed there.

Q. Do you recollect any Loss happening from the Want of a proper Supply of Bullocks in Lord Cornwallis's Army?

A. Many very heavy Losses; One of them was a Loss of our whole battering Train at Seringapatam.

‘ Q. What Number of Drivers is it proper, in your Judgment, to have to the Bullocks, in Proportion to their Number?

‘ A. Not less than Two Drivers to Three Bullocks.

‘ Q. Have you considered it necessary for the Good of the Service that there should be at least One Driver to a Pair of Bullocks, and a Surdar to every Six Drivers?

‘ A. One Driver to Two Bullocks is certainly necessary, and the Surdar is also useful himself.

‘ Q. Have you known Instances of the Artillery suffering for Want of a sufficient Number of Drivers?

‘ A. Often.

‘ Q. Was you with Lord Cornwallis when he experienced great Loss upon that Account?

‘ A. I was.

‘ Q. Whether this Contract could be well served, consistently with the Good of the Service, upon an annual Contract, and an Advertisement for the lowest Bidder?

‘ A. I do not think it can, nor do I think the Contract ought to be given to the lowest Bidder, and that only those ought to have it, who are known to be able to fulfil their Engagements. I likewise consider that all Contractors should have an Allowance sufficient to enable them to do so, and that it is better for the Service that they should receive a little more, than that the Service should be obstructed by a Want of Cattle from their not being able to supply them at the Rates which they may offer.

‘ Q. (a) Whether it is necessary for the Contractor to establish Granaries, and to have a necessary Stock of Cattle, in order to carry on the Contract with Benefit to the Service?

‘ A. I think it is necessary he should do so.

‘ Q. Is it necessary for him to advance Money to the Farmer?

‘ A. I do not positively know whether it is necessary or not.

‘ Q. Were the Regulations adopted in the Year 1779, in the Instance of Mr. Croft's Contract, such as met with the Approbation of all the Officers of the Army at that Time?

‘ A. I cannot answer that Question; I do not know their Judgment, but I know the Cattle met with their Approbation that was furnished by the Contract.

‘ Q. Was the Size of the Cattle furnished under Mr. Croft's Contract higher than that under the late Contract?

‘ A. I have answered before that I thought the Cattle better, and in general they were larger, I think.

‘ Q. Whether there was a greater Number in Proportion of Cattle to Men in the Army at the Period of Mr. Croft's Contract, than there was at the Period you have spoken of under Lord Cornwallis?

‘ A. Nothing like it.

‘ Q. Nothing like so many?

‘ A. Nothing like so many, certainly.

‘ Q. Was the Quantity of Food for the Bullocks to keep them in Heart for Service, sufficient for that Purpose under Mr. Croft's Contract?

‘ A. It was, in my Opinion, fully so.

‘ Q. As you have been Thirty Years in India, and been in England since the Commencement of the present Trial, and returned to India, you have had Opportunities of consulting and collecting the Sentiments of the People in India at different Periods; in what Estimation is the Character of Mr. Hastings in India?

‘ A. Mr. Hastings's Character always stood very high in India, and still continues so since they knew of his being tried; and they consider him, as I do at this Moment, as a very good and a very injured Man.

‘ Q. Do you speak of the Sentiments of both Europeans and Natives?

‘ A. I speak of both Europeans and Natives.

‘ Q. Is this Testimony you have given of Mr. Hastings the Result of any private Obligations to Mr. Hastings?

‘ A. No, it is not;—I even thought myself hurt by Mr. Hastings's Conduct when in India, but that did not hinder me from joining, in a strong Letter, with all the Rest of my Brother Officers, acknowledging the Sense we had of Mr. Hastings's Conduct.—I still continue of the same Way of Thinking.

‘ Crofts-examined by the Managers for the Commons.

(a) ‘ Q. Where did you command, when the Contract for Bullocks with Mr. Croftes was made in 1779?

‘ A. I believe that was the Year I came down to Calcutta, to command the Artillery; but I cannot tell where I was.

‘ Q. Do you know the Terms of the Contract made by Mr. Croftes?

‘ A. I do not know what Contract is meant.

‘ Q. Whether you do not know of more than One Contract for Bullocks?

‘ A. I have known of a great many Contracts, but I do not recollect any One of Mr. Croftes's but One; may be there might be Twenty.

‘ Q. Have you not heard that the Contract of Mr. Johnson came into the Hands of Mr. Croftes in the Year 1778?

‘ A. I do not know exactly—there might have been some Connection between them—they were Partners, but I cannot tell which of them carried on the Contract.

‘ Q. Do you know the Terms of that Contract in which Mr. Johnson and Mr. Croftes were Partners?

‘ A. Not particularly, I do not.

‘ Q. Do you know any Thing of the Execution of it?

‘ A. I have had Occasion to muster the Bullocks upon all the Contracts, for many Years—I know nothing further than that.

‘ Q. Do you know whether that Contract was not dissolved, before the Expiration of the Term, by Mr. Hastings?

‘ A. It might or might not: I do not know; I do not remember.

‘ Q. Do you know whether any Bullocks furnished under that Contract, were transferred to the new Contract?

‘ A. I suppose they were, because it was the general Practice.

‘ Q. Do you know what the Terms of the new Contract were—do you know why the old Contract was broke, and a new One made with the same Person, for a longer Term?

‘ A. I did not know the Contract had been broken, nor the Reason why—I know One was made in December.

‘ Q. Do you know the Difference between the Terms of the Two Contracts?

‘ A. No, I do not.

‘ Q. Have you seen the Requisition of the Commander in Chief, for the Bullocks for that Service?

‘ A. I understood that the Contract of Mr. Croftes was made with the Approbation of Sir Eyre Coote, the Commander in Chief of India, as well as with the Consent of General Stibbert, Provincial Commander in Chief of Bengal.

‘ Q. Whether you do not think the Terms of that Contract, and the Mode by Contract, to be the best Method of furnishing Bullocks for the Army?

‘ A. I do not think that Contract was the best Method; I mean to say a general Contract of that Kind.

‘ Q. Do you know why Mr. Hastings chose that Method, after having had Experience of a Contract before?

‘ A. I do not know; I was not consulted upon that Occasion.

‘ Q. Do you think it right to renew a Contract, which you did not think a beneficial Mode of furnishing Bullocks for the Service, for a longer Time than the One that was near expiring?

‘ A. I would not renew any Contract I did not think right.

‘ Q. Do you not think it both more expensive and more mischievous to the Service than the Mode by Commission?

‘ A. I cannot answer; I do not think there is much Difference between them.

‘ Q. Could you assure the Company, and recommend in the most earnest Manner, a Provision for Draft Bullocks for the Service of Bengal, by Agency, with a limited Responsibility and liberal Confidence, rather than by Contract; and can you say, upon the most decided Experience, that nothing (a) can be more injurious to the Service than the latter, nor more extravagant than the lowest Rates, at which it had to that Time been undertaken?

‘ A. I cannot answer the Question, I do not know any Thing about it.

(a) Vide supra, Page 1976.

(b) Vide supra, Page 1977.

- ‘ The Managers desired the last Question might be read.
- ‘ The same was accordingly read by the Clerk.
- ‘ Q. If you had heard the Governor General had asserted such a Proposition, would you have acceded to it?
- ‘ A. If I had understood the Proposition, I could have replied to it, but I do not.
- ‘ Q. You have said it was best to employ a Man of Responsibility on such a Business rather than a Person who bids lowest?
- ‘ A. That is my Opinion.
- ‘ Q. What was Mr. Croftes’ Fortune and Responsibility, to your Knowledge?
- ‘ A. I cannot say: I always understood him to be a Man of immense Fortune, but I believe I was mistaken in that; but I thought so.
- ‘ Q. What was his Employment?
- ‘ A. He was, I believe, Treasurer at that Time; I am not sure.
- ‘ Q. Had he ever been conversant in the Traffick of Cattle in the upper Country?
- ‘ A. Not to my Knowledge.
- ‘ Q. But his Office was in the Treasury at Bengal?
- ‘ A. I believe he was in many Offices.
- ‘ Q. But at that Time?
- ‘ A. I think it was.
- ‘ Q. Did you ever hear of his being concerned in any Way whatsoever relative to the furnishing of Cattle before?
- ‘ A. No.
- ‘ Q. When you speak of the Cattle being sufficiently furnished, whether you mean the whole 6,700, or only speak of those which came within your own Knowledge?
- ‘ A. During the Time of that Contract, I was in every Part of the Country where Bullocks were employed, except where some small Detachments went to, very insignificant ones indeed, may be under a Subaltern’s Command.
- ‘ Q. Then you are understood that the Whole of those Bullocks contracted for in 1778 and 1779, on Mr. Croftes Two Contracts, and his Agency, were employed chiefly if not wholly within the Company’s Provinces and their Dependencies?
- ‘ A. No, I do not think so, but I had the examining of the greatest Part of the Bullocks before they were sent out of the Provinces.
- ‘ Q. How many were sent out; what Proportion in that Period?
- ‘ A. I cannot say.
- ‘ Q. Was there any very great Proportion?
- ‘ A. There was a very considerable Detachment went into the Mahratta Country under Colonel Camac.
- ‘ Q. Do you know what Number that Detachment amounted to, and what Artillery, Military Stores, and other Military Baggage, were taken with that Detachment?
- ‘ A. I do not know exactly.
- ‘ Q. Whether the Service upon the Coast did not require a far larger Number of Bullocks than any internal Service you were acquainted with in Bengal?
- ‘ A. A great deal more.
- ‘ Q. Was not the Proportion of all Sorts of Artillery in the Service beyond all Comparison greater?
- ‘ A. I believe the Field Artillery were nearly the same; the battering Train was nearly the same.
- ‘ Q. Whether the Military Stores of all Sorts were not greater in Quantity than that for the internal Service of Bengal?
- ‘ A. Certainly they were.
- ‘ Q. Whether the Cattle upon the Coast are so large and strong as those furnished in the Provinces of Pornea and Toroot?
- ‘ A. Nothing like it; not Half the Size.
- ‘ Q. Was there not a Necessity of carrying with the Army of Lord Cornwallis a great Quantity of its Provisions?
- ‘ A. Yes; all of them.

‘ Q. (a) Do you think that any Mode of providing these Bullocks, whether by Contract or Agency, could have saved Lord Cornwallis from the Loss he sustained of the heavy Artillery by the Want of Cattle ?

‘ A. I think not.

‘ Q. Whether the Country through which Lord Cornwallis marched was not, in its own Nature, such as to waste and consume a greater Quantity of Cattle, and subject them to more Diseases than the Current Service in Bengal ?

‘ A. Our Marches were seldom so long as I had marched before, but the Cattle being confined within the Limits of our own Camp were often distressed for Provisions, and we had besides that, a great deal of bad Weather, heavy Rain, and very cold.

To confirm the above, the Counsel for the Defendant stated, they should first refer to the Consultation of the 14th of May 1783, in the printed Minutes, Page 1376, to shew, that, prior to November 1782, there had been a Necessity of employing 1384 extra Bullocks over and above the Number contained in the Contract ; and next, to the Representation made to the Board on the 3d of February 1784, in the printed Minutes, Page 1382, to shew, that, during the War, 6700 Bullocks were not always sufficient ; extra ones having been required at Times.

To shew the Number of Bullocks employed under Colonel Pearce, “ Extract of a Letter from Colonel Pearse, dated Vizanagram, the 11th April 1781.

“ To this Day I have not received a single Line from the Presidency ; I cannot account for it. I have written for Maps and Guides, and for an Account of Provisions, and the Places where laid up, if any were, that when I arrive at the Kistna I may take my Measures accordingly. Our Expences daily are 700 Maunds. If there are none laid up on the Route, I really do not see how it will be possible to subsist on the Road, as I hear Hyder has detached a Force to lay waste the Country. To carry 700 Maunds, 200 Bullocks are requisite ; to carry Food for these Bullocks 21 :—Therefore to carry One Day's Provisions 221 Bullocks. Admitting therefore, Obstructions included, Thirty Days from the Kistna to Madras, we must set out with 6,630 Bullocks loaded with Provisions. In all the Route they will not get a Bundle of Straw, and hardly a Blade of Grass ; therefore must inevitably live on Grain only ;—but this is not all ; their Drivers must be had also, and their Provisions and those of the Bullocks will require 25 a Day more—750 for the March ; therefore we ought to set out with 7,380 Bullocks for Provisions only. I take the Liberty to submit all this to you, that I may be honoured with your Commands, or, that Measures may be taken to furnish Supplies by other Means.

“ In consequence of your Request, made in a Letter from your Secretary, under Date the 7th instant, I do myself the Honour of transmitting you the Return (copied) of the Bullocks and Camels present with the Brigade on the 4th ultimo; and the Reasons I have to assign for my ordering the Contractor to entertain extra Cattle are, that the Assistant Quarter Master General in his Estimate, required Twelve extra Camels for the Carriage of the Bell Tents.

“ The Commissary of Ordnance, in his Estimate, also required for the Carriage of the Magazine 467 extra Bullocks, and the commanding Officer of Artillery 82 extra Draft Bullocks for the Train.

“ I doubt not but the above Reasons will appear to you sufficient to justify my Orders.

“ The 82 extra Draft Bullocks have been lately discharged in consequence of the Commander in Chief's Orders for some Ordnance to be sent to Futty Ghur. (c) remarking, that it being more than the full Complement contracted for, he cannot admit of the extra Sum, until the express Authority of the Board or of the Commander in Chief, for having exceeded the Establishment, shall have been produced.

“ By my Contract I was obliged to furnish the Bullocks at such Places as might be pointed out by the Commander in Chief, so that all the Establishments might be complete within Six Months from the Commencement of it. I received the Orders of the Commander in Chief on this Subject, and stationed the Bullocks in the Manner directed by him. In doing this he made no Mention whatever of the Bullocks with Captain Popham's Detachment, they were drafted before my Contract commenced; and as they were not included in the Order I received for stationing the Bullocks of the Establishment, I completed those of Cawnpore and Futtygur, without making Allowance for the Bullocks with Captain Popham, which I considered as extra ones to be dismissed as soon as the Service was performed, until I received your Orders 1st May 1780, which told me that they were to be Part of the Establishment. I desired my Agent at Cawnpore to take particular Care not to draw for more Bullocks than were allowed by the Establishment, and that those with Captain Popham were to be considered as a Part of it, and that of course the Number at Cawnpore and Futtygur must be reduced. I was acquainted by him, that the Commanding Officers of those Stations would not allow the Number with them to be reduced without a public Order, which did not arrive till late in July, when a Letter was received, dated 20th of that Month, from the Commanding Officer at Cawnpore, which explained the Matter; and then 445 (the same Number as with Captain Popham) were struck off from the Station at Cawnpore. The Excess arises from this Misunderstanding respecting the Bullocks with Captain Popham, and from my Agent's completing the general Stations as directed by the Commander in Chief, without making Allowance for some small Detachments with Captain Brown, Captain Crabb, the Rangers, &c. This Irregularity was occasioned by my Agent's Desire to complete the Bullocks at each Station; for which, if your Honourable Board think proper not to make me some Consideration, I must suffer. But I hope you will view the Excess occasioned by the Bullocks with Captain Popham in a different Light, more especially as I was in a Manner compelled to keep them, and the Stations at Cawnpore and Futtygur complete also, from the 1st May to the End of July, from the Commanding Officer not allowing the Bullocks at those Stations to be reduced.

“ The whole Excess stands thus :

“ I hope the Honble. Board will think proper to make me some Consideration for the extra Cattle employed with the Detachments under Captain Crabb, Captain Browne, the Rangers, &c. which form a Part of the Excess; but should you deem that unreasonable, I humbly hope you will will permit me to draw for the Bullocks with Captain Popham for the Months of June and July, that is, till the Day they were allowed to be struck off by the Commanding Officer at Cawnpore;

“ The Retrenchments would then amount to Current Rupees 6,029 7

“ But as the Bullocks were actually employed, and the Excess was occasioned merely by my Eagerness to comply with my Engagements, I hope you will admit of the Charge. (a)

“ To the Honble. Warren Hastings Esquire, Governor General, and Council, Fort William.

“ Honble. Sir, and Gentlemen,

“ By my latest Advices from Madras, my Agent had, at the Requisition of the Commander in Chief, supplied 800 Draft and Carriage Bullocks, which were all he had till then been able to procure; with the Detachment under Colonel Pearle, there are 1,160 more, including 300 extra ones; so when it joins, I shall have at least 1,960, with the Bengal Troops on the Coast. I find that the Charges of feeding these, and the Proportion of Pay to the Drivers and Sirdars, amount actually to A. R. 2 : 2 more per Month, on every Head of Cattle, than I am allowed by Contract.

“ I beg Leave to assure the Honble. Board, that these Representations do not proceed from a Desire of gaining by the Business. I am willing to run every Risk which I ought to run, and incur Losses which happen by Ways or other Accidents to which I ought to be subjected. All I ask is, that the Loss I may have sustained by victualling the Madras Detachment, and by Charges on their Embarkation here, occasioned by my furnishing such Provisions, &c. as I was not obliged to do by my Contract, may be reimbursed me; and I beg that the heavy Losses which I am sustaining by the Bullocks with these Coast Detachments may be alleviated in such Manner or Degree as the Honble. Board may be pleased to think reasonable. (c)

“ Resolved, that the Commissary General be informed that the Contractor for the Army is not to supply any Camels from 1st July next, without a Special Order from the Board. When the Exigency of the Service requires any Extra Cattle, the Officer indenting for them is to write to the Board immediately, assigning his Reasons for ordering these Extra Cattle, and to express in the Indent they are ordered on Emergency. The Contractor not to furnish them without such an Indent. This Order to extend only to Troops beyond the Province of Bengal, and of the Dominions of the Nabob of Oude within the Provinces. The Contractor to be directed to conform to the Number fixed by the Contract, or to confine himself to such Orders as he shall receive from the Board, or from the Commander in Chief, when the Extra Cattle required are for the Service of the Troops under his immediate Command beyond the Provinces. The Order of the 20th April 1780, stands unrepealed; and the Board desire the Commissary General to consider it as a standing Rule, that no Order of the Board is ever to be construed to be repealed by Implication from other Orders, but only in express Terms.

The Counsel for the Defendant stated, that it having been proved by the Managers for the Commons, that in May 1783, the Number of Bullocks was reduced to 4,074, they should next shew that after such Reduction had taken Place, the Commander in Chief represented to the Board, that that Number would be inadequate even at the then Period of Peace.

“ To the Honble. Warren Hastings Esquire, Governor General, &c. Members of the Board of Inspection.

“ Gentlemen,

“ You have been pleased to direct, through your Secretary, that the Establishment of Bullocks be reduced to 4074, the Number ordered to be retained for the Service of Bengal and its Dependencies, by the Court of Directors, which Instructions I shall cause to be carried into Execution with as little Delay as possible.

“ But previous thereto I must request to be informed if it be your Intention that this Number shall be the Establishment of Draught and Carriage Bullocks, exclusive of the Beastly Bullocks attached to the several Corps, which till the Commencement of the present Contract were entirely distinct from, and not included in, the Establishment of Bullocks for the Army; and must take the Liberty of offering it as my Opinion, that the Bullocks employed in that Department of the Service should again be kept separate, as the present reduced Number of Draft and Carriage Cattle will not during the War allow of their being furnished out of the fixed Complement, without subjecting some Parts of the Service to probable Inconveniencies. “ To the Honble. Warren Hastings Esquire, Governor General, and Council, Fort William.

“ Honble. Sir, and Gentlemen,

“ The Commissary General, in auditing the Accounts of the Detachment in the Carnatic, from its Arrival there in November 1780, has disallowed all the extra Bullocks that were furnished by my Agent, subsequent to the 30th June 1781, and 1,600 of those furnished for the Troops embarked with Sir Eyre Coote. I directed my Agent to use every possible Exertion in furnishing such Cattle as might be required, which he accordingly did, by complying with the Indents of the Quarter Masters to the Infantry and Artillery Corps, countersigned by the respective Commanding Officers.

“ I cannot entertain the least Doubt, but that when your Honble. Board shall call to Mind the Situation of the Army in the Carnatic, with respect to Bullocks, from November 1780 to the present Time, you will readily admit that I ought to be paid for these extra ones, even if some Informalities should appear to have been committed in the Mode of Demand or Supply; it being notorious, that without these extra Bullocks furnished by my Agent, the Army could not have taken the Field, and that the Presidency of Madras could not provide one more than they did.

“ I therefore humbly request that all Cattle, which it shall appear by Colonel Elliott's Certificates, and by others of the same Nature, were supplied by my Agent for the public Service, should be passed.

“ Calcutta,
27th August 1783.

“ John Fergusson,

“ On the 27th August, I addressed your Honble. Board on the Subject of my Accounts for the Detachments in the Carnatic, which remain unaudited until you shall be pleased to take that Letter under Consideration. I most humbly request that it may be done as soon as convenient, because Mr. Tierney, the late Paymaster to the Detachment, being dead, and Mr. Ramsay, who has been my Agent in the Carnatic during the whole War, being about to depart from Madras to China, it will be a particular Hardship on me afterwards, if any Retrenchments are made, as it will then be entirely out of my Power to obtain any Satisfaction or Redress whatever, which Circumstances will, I hope, plead my Apology for troubling you with this Address.

“ Agreed, that the Commissary General be directed to pass Mr. Fergusson's Bills for extra Cattle supplied by him for the Use of the Army serving in the Carnatic, upon his producing Certificates from Colonel Elliott, that the Cattle charged for were actually received.

The Necessity of hiring extra Coolies for the Bell Tents does not therefore at present appear; nor has Colonel Muir supported the Measure by assigning his Reasons; but he may perhaps be able to satisfy the Board on that Head, if they shall think proper to desire him. The Counsel for the Defendant stated, That One of the Data of the Calculations relied upon on the Part of the Prosecution, having been ‘ that the Number of Drivers contracted for was too great, amounting to Six Drivers and One Over-looker to Twelve Cattle;’ they should refer to the Evidence of Colonel Duff, in Page 1973 of the printed Minutes, to shew, that in his Judgment, there ought not to be less than Eight Drivers to Twelve Bullocks.

“ The following Letter received from Major General Stibbert, is now recorded.

(a) Vide supra Appendix, N° CCCXCIV.

“ To the Honble Warren Hastings Esquire, Governor General, &c. Members of the Supreme Council, Public Department.

“ Gentlemen,

“ I beg Leave to lay before you a Letter, which has been addressed to me by Lieutenant Colonel Duff, Commander of the Artillery, representing the Deficiency of Drivers allowed by the late Regulations for Draft Bullocks.

“ On my Perusal of the Regulations for the Agent, it was obvious to me that One Driver to Six Bullocks was insufficient; but I refrained from noticing it to the Board until the Matter should be represented to me by the proper Officers. Had my Opinion been asked before the Board entered into the new Engagement, I should have given them such Information as might have prevented them from falling into this Mistake, and also have pointed out to them some other Omissions.

“ By the late Contract, as well as by those preceding it, there were allowed to every Twelve Bullocks, One Sirdar and Six Drivers, and I am convinced from my own Experience, that less will not suffice to manage Draft Bullocks, whether employed or not; since if unemployed they must be constantly practised, which they cannot be without a proper Number of Drivers. The Number of Drivers allotted may, as Colonel Duff says, answer for Carriage Bullocks, but there should even to a certain Number of those be allowed a Sirdar, at least One to every Six Drivers. The Beastie Bullocks require no Drivers, as the Beastie takes Care of the Bullocks.

“ In the Resolutions of the Board, transferring the Feeding of the Cattle from the Contractor to the Agent, no Mention is made of the Manner in which the Casualties among the Bullocks are to be replaced; if by the Agent, the Terms on which he is to provide them ought to be specified, as well as the Size, Age, and Quality of the Cattle to be admitted into the Company's Employ, which should, I think, correspond with the Rules prescribed in the late Contract; Extracts of which on these Points I enclose for your easy Reference, as well as the Articles relating to the Drivers.

“ I must conclude this Letter with observing, that if great Care is not taken in providing Bullocks, as well to supply Casualties as to be received in Exchange for such as are above the Age fit for working, which by the last Contract was fixed at Twelve Years, the Cattle cannot be depended upon, and the Service must eventually suffer. “ Gentlemen,

“ You will, I am fully persuaded, use every Exertion in your Power to provide us amply with Cattle; and I must recommend that those which have been procured to the Southward of the Coleroon may be brought to the Presidency as soon as possible, to be employed in transporting Grain and other Articles that we may want from thence; and I must particularly request that no Pains be spared to engage the greatest possible Number of Drivers to attend them, as it is to the Deficiencies in that Class of People in the Army, that our late Losses of Cattle are principally to be attributed. * (b)

The Counsel for the Defendant stated, that there being no Evidence on the Part of the Prosecution to shew that, considering the Terms of the new System, and all the Obligations imposed on the Contractor by it, the Rate of Payment was higher than it ought to have been; and they having shewn, that it was stated by the Commanding Officers to be necessary, they did not propose to adduce any further Evidence upon that Subject.

The Counsel for the Defendant then stated, that, in Answer to the Allegation in the Article 'that this Contract was more advantageous to the Contractor and more injurious to the Company than the former', they should shew that the Court of Directors, though they disapproved it in Part, yet allowed the System for the Provision of Cattle to have been excellent :

For this Purpose they should refer, First, to the 60th Paragraph of a Letter from the Court of Directors of the 11th of April 1781, given in Evidence by the Managers for the Commons; Secondly, printed Evidence, Page 1373; and to the Evidence of Colonel Duff, (a) not only to shew that the System was good, but that it had the Effect of enabling the Company to be served with better Bullocks than ever had been employed before this Contract or since, (a) during a Period of Thirty Years.

The Counsel for the Defendant further stated, that as to the Duration of the Contract not being confined to One Year, they would shew the Opinion of the Court of Directors to have been, that if the Terms of the Contract were reasonable, it might not be for the Good of the Service in Time of War to renew the Bullock Contract every Year. For this Purpose they should refer to the last-mentioned Letter of the Court of Directors in the printed Evidence, Page 1373, and also to prove that they allowed in future that the Contract for Bullocks might be extended for Three Years.

The Counsel for the Defendant then stated, that in Answer to the Allegation 'that this Contract was granted to Charles Croftes, the confidential Friend of Mr. Hastings;' they would next shew, that that Circumstance did not operate in the least upon Mr. Hastings in settling the Terms of the Contract, because they were settled before Mr. Croftes had any Thing to do with it; for which Purpose they should refer to a Consultation of the 9th of August 1779, in the printed Evidence Page 1347, to shew both that the Plan of the new Contract was recommended by the Commander in Chief, and that an Offer of it was made to the then Contractor.

The Counsel for the Defendant then stated, that in Answer to the Neglect imputed to Mr. Hastings in not having given Notice of the Intention to put an End to this Contract at the Period prescribed, they should give no Evidence; but merely refer to the Evidence already produced by the Managers for the Commons, to prove it an accidental Neglect of all the Board in common with Mr. Hastings.

For this Purpose they would refer to the printed Evidence, Page 1377.

The Counsel for the Defendant then stated, that, as touching the next Subject, the Agency of Sir Charles Blunt for the Provision of Bullocks for the Army, stated to be a Mode of conducting the Business condemned by the Court of Directors, they should proceed to shew Mr. Hastings to have been justified in putting this Business upon the Footing of Agency; for which Purpose they would first refer to a Letter, which had been given in Evidence on the Part of the Prosecution, from Mr. Hastings to the Court of Directors, since his Arrival in England, in the printed Minutes of Evidence, Page 1385.

To confirm the Opinion of Mr. Hastings in this Particular,

" Mr. Wheeler.—I have said less upon the Subject of the Bullock Contract, because my Sentiments were so fully recorded upon its Institution. I am nevertheless under the Necessity of observing, that however improvident the original Engagement may have appeared to me, I have the Satisfaction of seeing it closed with an Advantage to the Company of, at least, One Lack and a Half of Rupees; which Advantage results from the Difference between the Sum paid as an Indemnification to the Contractor, and the Monies he would have received had the Contract been continued till its intended Period. In respect to the Orders of the Court of Directors of advertising for sealed Proposals, the Experiment has already been tried with much Inconvenience to the Company, and Loss to the Party contracting. This requires no further Elucidation, it being perfectly well known to the Members of Government at the Time the Contract so entered into expired; and whether the Deduction from the present Contract of Sicca Rupees 8 12 to S<sup>r</sup> R<sup>s</sup> 4 6 <sup>per</sup> Month, will justify the Board in their Deviation from the strict Orders of the Company, must be determined by our Superiors, and can be as easily ascertained by many Individuals now residing in England, as it is already proved to my Satisfaction; and for the above Reasons I should think I did an Act of great Injustice to the Company, were I to withhold my Consent to the Redemption of the present Contract whenever the War with the different Powers of Hindostan shall be determined, and the principal Detachments re-united to the Army; it will then be proper to consider whether to continue the Agency now established, or to enter into a more permanent Engagement, by supplying the Army with Bullocks upon Contract for the Period recommended by the Court of Directors; and I therefore agree to the Appointment of Sir Charles Blunt." " Honble. Sir, and Sirs,

" The Governor General informs the Board, that he had it in Contemplation to propose some Reform in the Bullock and Gunpowder Agencies, and that he wished to have ascertained whether, by publishing for Proposals for the Execution of these Duties, agreeably to the general Tenor of the Company's Commands, they might not be managed at a less Expence, and with greater Benefit to the Company's Interest; but as both these Branches of the Service are materially connected with the Army, and as an apparent Advantage gained by converting those Agencies into Contracts on lower Terms, might be in Reality attended with great Loss to the Company, the Governor General requests that the Commander in Chief will be pleased to look over the Papers relative to these Agencies, and propose to the Board any Plans for conducting the Duties of them, which may at once be favourable to public Economy, and the real Good of the Service.

" To the Honble. John Macpherson Esquire, Governor General, and Council, Fort William.

" Honble. Sir, and Sirs,

" I humbly request the Honble. Board will be pleased to allow me, with the utmost Respect, to offer my Reasons, why the Alteration Mr. McIntosh's Offer aims to effect, of converting the Agency now under my Charge into a Contract, should not take place; for although the Honble. Court of Directors saw Reason to pass severe Censure on the Terms of the late Bullock Contract, and, on a Supposition of the Business continuing to be conducted in the Way of a Contract, thought proper to direct that and others to be put up to the lowest Bidder, it does by no Means follow, that they will see Cause to object to the moderate, fair, safe, and reduced Terms of the present Agency; and it will but be giving Credit to the Wisdom of that Honble. Court, to suppose they will see the Inexpediency of fixing one certain Rate of Expence, by a Contract, in a Matter subject throughout the World, but more particularly in Bengal, to such Fluctuation as the Price of Grain is liable to by the Failure of Crops and dry Seasons, as must ever render the State of a Contractor for this Service precarious and dangerous. A Contractor who engages on reasonable Terms To-day, may be utterly ruined a Twelve Month hence. This is precisely the Case at present, as appears by a Calculation I have just caused to be made, of the Loss the Contractor would have suffered by feeding the Bullocks alone last Year, at the Rate the present Proposal to the Honble. Board offers to undertake it at, which, on the lowest Computation, amounts to Sixca Rupees 76,575. Is there Reason and Policy? Is there Justice and Humanity in such a Plan? By the best Information I have been able to obtain, I cannot find the Orders of the Honble. Court of Directors have been at any Time precise and special, restraining the Governor General and Council of Bengal from considering of and adopting a more eligible Mode of supplying the Army with Cattle, if such could be found, than that of the former Contract, and that therefore the Honble. Board were fully authorized to adopt that of the present Agency. The Honble. Court of Directors, I humbly beg Leave to suggest, did no more in their Orders respecting the Bullock Contract, than direct that that Contract (supposing it to continue to a Period, and approved of being renewed) should be advertised and given to the lowest Bidder.

" But, Honourable Sirs, that Contract no longer existing, and the Cattle having become the Property of the Company, of which Alteration the Sense of the Honourable Court of Directors has not yet been received, it becomes now worthy the Attention of the Honourable Board, that they shall be taken the best possible Care of, attended with the least Expence, which, I humbly conceive to have been shewn in my former Letter to the Board, will happen under an Agency.

" That the Conduct of the Company's Business by Agency is not disapproved by the Honourable Court of Directors, may be collected from the very considerable Branches of the Company's Business at this Time conducted ably and honourably under that Mode, not without the Knowledge, and therefore concluded to be with their Approbation; and there does not appear in the Honourable Court of Directors, or in the Honourable Board, the least Intention, Motive, or Probability of their being suppressed, to the Ruin of the Company's Servants employed in them, and the great Joy of all Persons out of Employ and out of the Service. We have from Time to Time expressed a general Disapprobation of Agencies, and of the high per Centage at which the same have been managed, and have been uniform in our Instructions that such Parts of the Company's Business as could be managed by Contract should be so managed. However, particular Cases may require Deviation, and it is impossible for us not to pay due Attention to the Opinions of those, who, by their local Knowledge and Experience, may be supposed to have good Grounds for what they have asserted; and although we still enforce our former Directions as to Contracts for a general Rule of Proceeding, there seems Cause to doubt its Expediency in the Instance now before us. ditor General, “ Par. 1. Observing by the Returns of the Elephants and Bullocks for the Service of the Army for the Month of September last, that Nineteen Elephants, and One hundred and eighty-four Bullocks are reported deficient of the Establishment for the Station of Cawnpore, I take the Liberty of noticing the Circumstance to your Lordship as deserving your Attention.

“ My Lord,

“ 2d. Any Penalty which might be recoverable from a Contractor for Failure in the Performance of Agreement, either with respect to Numbers or Condition of the Cattle for the Service of the Troops, or through their not being kept at their proper Stations, would be a slender Consolation for Disappointment in the Movements of any Part of the Army through any such Failure.

“ 3d. The Deficiency in the established Number of Bullocks, if those detached to the Carnatic be considered as Part of the ordinary Establishment, is not considerable, as your Lordship will perceive from the accompanying Comparative Statement of the Establishment, with the Numbers mustered for August, which is the last Month for which all the Returns excepting one have reached this Office; but, though the Deficiency of the Establishment of Bullocks is not great upon the Whole, your Lordship will observe, that, according to the present Establishment and Returns, there are considerable Deficiencies at the Frontier Stations of Cawnpore and Futty Gur, where the Complement for Service ought to be most carefully kept up; and a Surplus at any other Stations will not make Amends for Deficiencies where the Cattle ought to be.

“ 4th. I know that your Lordship deems it highly important that the necessary authorized Establishments should be kept in constant Readiness in their proper Places, and in the best Condition for active Service; and therefore, without meaning the slightest Reflection on any Individual, but merely to second your Lordship's Wishes, and to render the Obligation of the Contracts for Elephants, Camels, and Bullocks more effectual, I beg Leave to submit to your Lordship the Propriety of notifying in General Orders that, if it should at any Time happen that the Movements of any Body of Troops should be impeded by the Unfitness, scanty Feeding, or ill Condition of the Cattle, or by the present Establishment not being constantly kept complete at their proper Stations, their respective commanding Officers shall be held personally responsible for the Consequences, unless every such Circumstance of Deficiency, or Unfitness, shall have been duly reported to the Commander in Chief; and, in order the better to impress a Sense of the Importance of the Duty, Commanding Officers might be required to certify monthly to the Commander in Chief, by Letter to the Adjutant General, that the Establishment of Cattle, and Drivers, for their respective Stations or Divisions of the Army, mentioned in their muster Returns, are, in Point of Number, Strength, and Condition, as well as in every other Respect, fit and equipt for immediate Service; or, if there happen to be Deficiencies of Numbers, or Defects in the Quality of the Cattle, &c. these should be particularly stated; and with these Letters the Adjutant General should lay before the Commander in Chief monthly Comparative Abstracts of the Establishment, with the Number of Cattle of every Description, mustered according to the Form of the enclosed Statement; or on any better Plan that may be devised.

“ 5th. Relative to the Practicability of supplying good strong Bullocks for the Service, I beg Leave to inform your Lordship that I have Reason to believe that excellent Cattle may be procured in abundance from the Countries of Gohud, Nagore, Tyrhoot, Durbungah, and Purneah, if adequate Prices be paid for them.

“ 6th. Although Colonel Eyre has returned 19 Elephants and 184 Bullocks deficient of the Establishment for the Station at Cawnpore, as mentioned in the first Paragraph hereof, it is proper to observe to your Lordship, that the Colonel considers the Distribution of the Cattle which was published in General Orders, on the 3d October 1788, as the Establishment still in Force because none other has been since published; but there being fewer Corps now at that Station than in 1788, the Establishment should be calculated for the Corps now there, and this may induce your Lordship to order a New Distribution to be published, which perhaps will be best done by specifying the Number of Cattle of each Description for the Service of every Corps, because by this Means, upon the Movement of any Corps, Variation of the Establishment of Cattle would be known without the Trouble of publishing occasional Distributions. Bullock Contract renewed for Three Years.

" Par. 22. As the late Government have renewed the Contract concluded in the Administration of Sir Archibald Campbell for the Provision of Draft and Carriage Bullocks, there will be sufficient Time before the Expiration for us to receive your Report on the Manner in which the Contract in its extended State shall have been executed; and whether it be really necessary to continue an Establishment in Time of Peace of Two thousand Draft and Carriage Bullocks at the considerable Expence of Pagodas, 3,452  $\frac{3}{4}$  Month. We expect a very early Communication of your Opinion herein, that you may receive our further Directions before the Expiration of the Term agreed upon.

" 23. It is stated in the Letter from the Contractor of the 29th January 1787, which accompanied their original Proposal, that the above monthly Expence of Pagodas 3,452 would be nearly a Third less than the same Establishment would have cost at the Rates then paid by the Company, and in the Time of War that the Saving would be immense. Admitting the Fact, it was certainly a great Neglect on the Part of the late Government to suffer the Contract to expire without taking Measures for ascertaining (when they knew they were upon the Eve of a War) whether better Terms could not have been procured, or whether the Provision of the Bullocks necessary for the Army upon the Agency System as in 1782, would not have been preferable; but as it was the 12th February before they came to any Resolution herein, perhaps, under all Circumstances, the renewing the Agreement with the former Contractors (who were Gentlemen of known Reputation) at that critical Period was the likeliest Mode that could then be adopted for ensuring the necessary Supply of Bullocks; not that we mean to sanction a Departure from the Rule that has been repeatedly laid down for advertizing for Proposals, except upon Occasions of the most evident Necessity, or upon the most substantial Reasons being assigned for so doing.

" Fort Saint George, 2d August 1791.

" Sir Charles Oakley Baronet, Acting President, and Council.

" Gentlemen,

" I have received your Letters, dated the 12th and 16th instant, with the Copies of Mr. Cockburne's Letters enclosed in the latter.

" The Account of the Money that you have ordered to be sent to Vellore is very satisfactory, and will enable me to fulfil my Engagements to our Allies.

" I shall not enter into a Detail of the Defects in the general Principles of the Bullock Contract, but only mention that One of the most striking is, that it never has either in Peace or War (and in my Opinion it is impossible in War) been performed by the Contractors themselves, but by Maistries, who, I have found, have always been the Proprietors of the Bullocks, and by that Means without the Consent or Knowledge of Government, and without being bound to a direct Responsibility to the Public for the Performance of their Engagements; those Maistries are the real Contractors, whilst the nominal Contractors in Fact only act in the Capacity of Agents.

" But in pointing out the Defects of the System, it was by no Means my Intention to cast any Reflection upon the Characters of the Gentlemen who hold the Contract, and I think it in particular a Justice due to Mr. Cockburne to declare that I entertain so high an Opinion of his Zeal and Ability, that if it was possible to execute the Business of the Bullock Department by Contract, he would, I believe, be the Person most likely to accomplish it.

" The late Exertions that you have been forced to make to collect the Number of Bullocks that will be necessary on the present Occasion, must be considered as evident Proofs that the above Remarks are well founded; for I cannot admit, that the Contractors have a Right to claim a Merit for the Production of Cattle, which have been procured by the direct Influence of Government, and I do not think that Cattle thus obtained should be allowed to become a Source of Emolument to those Contractors. I am likewise convinced that, under the Contract System, there there would be no Chance that such Responsibility would be imposed upon the real Owners of the Cattle, as would in any Degree secure the Public Service from the most mortifying and ruinous Disappointments; but as I am persuaded that the Contractors have made great Exertions, it is by no Means my Wish to distress them; and I therefore entirely approve of your not pressing them for Payment of the Bills drawn upon them in favour of the Revenue Treasury for Money advanced by the Company's Collectors for the Purchase of Cattle.

" The Two small but disadvantageous Contracts which I entered into, the Agencies that I established in the Beginning of June, and the Purchases that I ordered to be made on account of the Public since that Period, which Measures Mr. Cockburne in his Letter of the 12th instant calls Counteractions of the Contract, were not Acts of Choice, but of absolute Necessity.

" At that Time, our Distress for Cattle was so pressing, that most of the Field Pieces were drawn, and a considerable Part of the Camp Equipage was carried, by the Troops, and a large Proportion of the Commissary's Stores were conveyed upon the Heads of Lascars.

" The Sickness which the Change of Season, added to this extraordinary Fatigue, occasioned in the Army, called for the Application of immediate Remedies; for, after one March, no less than Forty Lascars were sent to the Hospital.

" Those Remedies could only be found by the Means that I adopted; for I am sorry to be obliged to say, that there was a greater Inattention to the Performance of the Contract on that critical Occasion than I had ever before observed; as, to my Knowledge, Bullocks were obtained daily from the Mahratta Camp at reasonable Rates, both on the public Account and by private Officers, whilst the Contractors Agent in Camp did not, during that Period of Difficulty, procure a single Bullock for the public Service; to which I must add, that the Exertions which I was obliged to make in the Manner that I have stated, ought not to have been considered by the Contractors as Counteractions of the Contract, because no Infringement was made on the Part of the Public on any of its Conditions; and I then declared to one of the Contractors in Camp, and to the Agent for the Contractors, that I expected they would do every Thing in their Power, both at that Time and in future, to provide the utmost possible Number of Bullocks for the public Service on the Terms of the Contract.

" We have no Reason to complain of the Desertion of the Dooley Bearers, and I believe they will go on very well upon the present Footing; but the Bullock Drivers who are delayed much longer on a March, and who must afterwards fetch Forage for their Cattle, as well as look out for Provisions for themselves, are no doubt in a different Predicament; and on that Account I will, as an Encouragement for them to engage with you, agree to furnish them with Two Seers of Grain per Week at a moderate Price, from the Time the Army shall proceed again from Bangalore towards the Enemy's Capital.

" It may at the same Time be explained to them, that there is very little Probability that any of the Followers of the Army will be again exposed to the same Distress which they experienced on our last March to Seringapatam, as there is every Reason to expect that they will constantly find a sufficient Supply of the coarser Grain from the Mahratta Bazar. " My Lord,

" The present Rates (as fixed by the late Board of Ordnance) for furnishing the Field Carriages of this Establishment being high, and admitting of Retrenchment, I beg Leave to lay a State of them before your Lordship, specifying at what they are now charged, and at what Price they may be furnished in future, by which it will be seen that a considerable Saving may be made to the Company in the future Supply of that Article.

" The high Rates at which the Gun Carriages now stand is chiefly owing to the Dearth of the Materials during the late War, when their Prices were fixed. The Experience of my Predecessor and self, in the Manner of conducting the Business, has likewise assisted in reducing the Prices, and enabling me to offer to make them in future on so much lower Terms. " Par. 30. In our Military Dispatch of the 4th August last, we expressed great Doubts as to the existing Contract for providing the Army with Draft and Carriage Bullocks, and directed it to be revised. We now find from your late Correspondence with Lord Cornwallis, that it is totally insufficient both in its Principles and Formation for answering its intended Purposes. His Lordship has therefore shewn great Zeal for the Service, in his Endeavours to procure the necessary Supply for the Use of the Army by other Means. We observe that his Lordship's Objections are not merely confined to Defects in the Contract itself, but convey a direct Opinion of the utter Impossibility of executing the Business of the Bullock Department by Contract. Such being his Lordship's Opinion, we hope he will have had sufficient Leisure to form and recommend to our Consideration such a Plan for the future Management of this Department, as may be better calculated to promote the Good of the Service.

Further Proof to justify Transfer of this Business from a Contract to an Agency.

Read, from Book 749, the following Extract of a Letter from the President and Council at Fort St. George, dated 19th September 1791, to the Court of Directors, beginning at Paragraph 24 of the same Letter.

" Honourable Sirs,

" Par. 24. Your Honourable Court will have observed by the last Dispatches, that our Exertions to procure Draft and Carriage Bullocks for the Army had been attended with the most complete Success; and that we had collected the Number which had been stated by Lord Cornwallis to be necessary for the Prosecution of the War. We have now to acquaint you that his Lordship has informed us, that he deemed it necessary to put the Cattle procured by the Exertions of Government under the Management of a Public Agent; as he was sorry to say from Experience, that the Bullock Contract had been a Delusion of a most dangerous Nature to a Commander in Chief of an Army.

" 25. We expressed to Lord Cornwallis our sincere Concern at the Disappointment he had suffered with respect to the Bullock Contract. We assured him that whatever Plan he might think most advisable for the future Conduct of this essential Part of the Service, would have our fullest Concurrence; and we requested to be furnished with such Information as he might think necessary to afford us, with regard to the Defaults of the Contractors.

" 26. Having communicated to Mr. Cockburne, one of the Contractors, the Opinion entertained by Lord Cornwallis of the Contract, and the consequent Arrangement which had been made, he addressed us on the Subject, stating the Situations in which the Contractors feel themselves, owing to the Dissatisfaction which his Lordship had expressed, and the heavy Loss they must sustain if some Relief were not afforded them; and shewing, that the Failure of the Cattle during the March of the Army to Seringapatam did not proceed from any Inattention on the Part of the Contractors, but to Causes that could not be provided against, viz. the Want of Forage, the Severity of the Service, and the Inclemency of the Weather.

" 27. We transmitted to Lord Cornwallis Copies of Mr. Cockburne's Letters, and observed that we should be wanting in Justice to that Gentleman if we omitted to notice, that the Zeal and Activity which he had manifested in Aid of our Exertions to procure Bullocks for the Army, were deserving particular Approbation. We informed his Lordship at the same Time, that, as the Supply of Bullocks now preparing was to be considered the Company's Property, we should discharge the Sums which the Contractors had advanced, or were to be answerable for, on that Account.

" 28. We beg Leave to refer your Honourable Court to our Proceedings of the 2d ult. for Lord Cornwallis's further Observations regarding the Defect in the general Principles of the Bullock Contract; but before we close the Subject, it will be right to mention, that his Lordship observed it was not by any Means his Intention, in pointing out the Defects of the System, to cast any Reflection on the Characters of the Gentlemen who held the Contract; and that he thought it in particular a Justice due to Mr. Cockburne to declare he entertained so high an Opinion of his Zeal and Ability, that if it were possible to execute the Business of the Bullock Department by Contract, he (Mr. Cockburn) would be the Person most likely to accomplish it.

Read, also, from Book 700, the following Extract of a public Letter from the Governor General and Council at Bengal to the Court of Directors, dated the 12th August 1791, beginning at Paragraph 144 of the same Letter.

" Honble. Sirs,

" 144. We need scarcely observe to your Honourable Court, after the Detail we have entered into in the former Part of this Address on the Subject of certain Contractors, under the Heads of Canton, Fort St. George, and Bombay, that the Subject of Contracts in general, and Contracts which are from their Nature connected with Military Operations in particular, have, from late Occurrences, commanded our Attention with more than common Force. The Subject is indeed of the highest Importance in all its Branches to the Prosperity of the Company, but the Consequences to be apprehended from an unexpected Failure at the most critical Period, in Contracts intended for the Supply of the Armies, were they to take Place in their possible, and by no Means improbable Extent, may be fatal to the Security of its Dominions in India.

" 145. It would be superfluous to enter more fully on this important Subject in this Place, further than to recommend to your most serious and deliberate Attention, Two Statements of existing Contracts, which, in consequence of our Orders, were laid before us on the 29th July; our Observations upon them, and upon the Contract System in general, as it applies to the Operations of War, and to the Occasions of pressing Necessity, with which a State of Hostility must ever be attended. We have the Honour to forward these Papers, Numbers in the Packet. (a) “ Minute of the Board.

“ The Board taking the preceding Statements into Consideration, think proper to record in this Place the following Observations upon them.

“ Waiving for the present the Discussion of the general Question relative to the Excellence of the Contract System (which under suitable Circumstances cannot be denied to possess the Advantages contended for by its Advocates), the Board will content themselves with pointing out its Operations so far only as the Supply of the Army during a War, or the Relief of our other Settlements, on Occasions of pressing Necessity is concerned.

“ Of the Contracts enumerated in the Statement before the Board, it is obvious that several are of a Nature, a Failure in which could only be productive of Loss or Inconvenience in a certain determinate Extent; even the China Remittance negotiated by Mr. Cotton, whatever the Event of it may be, and considerable as the Amount of it is, falls under this Description. The Case however is widely different in regard to Contracts, upon the punctual Performance of which the Fate of an Army, or the Preservation of a Settlement, may most materially depend.” (a)

Read, a further Extract from the same Consultation, beginning at Page 641 of the same Book.

“ The Contract System derives the Excellence or Advantages which it possesses from a different State of Mercantile Credit. It may be a safe and proper Mode of effecting an economical and unobtrusive Expenditure of public Money in England, but it is always hazardous, and often mischievous in India. Here either the lowest Offer must be accepted or rejected at the Peril of Government, who will always reluctantly exercise their Discretion upon such rigorous Terms, however aware they may be that (generally speaking) the lowest Proposer the worst Performer. The Sufficiency of the Security alone is to be considered; but by what Standard is a Point of such Delicacy to be ascertained. A Man may be generally reputed responsible, and may be deemed so by the Board collectively and individually, yet the Event may suddenly prove him to be a Bankrupt; or if his Competency should be privately doubted, how is private Knowledge or Suspicion to be made a Ground of public Proceedings: These are not imaginary Difficulties; they have occurred but too often.

Minute
and Resolutions of the Board continued.

“ But admitting the Penalty to be realizable in every Case; admitting that by pressing the Securities at the Hazard of overthrowing, or at least of shaking it to its Foundation, the whole Fabric of Mercantile Credit (and thereby perhaps multiplying the Risks of the Company) no actual pecuniary Loss be incurred, how will the Account ultimately stand. The Advances issued for the Erection of an Hospital, or the Repair of a Road, may be recovered; the Penalty annexed to a Failure in such Engagements may be exacted and received. It may happen, even that a Contractor may gain more by paying this Penalty, than by performing his Covenant. Disappointment in these Cases is followed in a certain Degree by Compensation: but what Punishment, what Forfeiture, what Money can compensate for a Country depopulated by Famine, or for an Army lost, or an Expedition frustrated, by the Avarice of a Bullock, a Grain, a Victualling, or a Ship Contractor.

“ Failure however, it ought to be observed, may not always proceed from absolute Avarice or Rapacity in a Contractor. His Engagements were perhaps concluded in the midst of a profound Peace, and his Calculations framed accordingly. If under such a Circumstance a War breaks out, he may possibly be reduced to the Alternative of ruining either himself or the Service. This is surely a Situation in which no Man ought to be placed; this is a Foundation on which certainly no important public Interests should rest.

“ It is not the Intention of the Board to contrast with the enormous Evils liable to arise from an Adherence in this Country to the Contract System, the Advantages derivable in certain Circumstances from a well regulated Agency. They will be satisfied if the preceding Reflections (which are the Result of Experience and the pure Tribute of Public Duty) should have the Effect of attracting the serious Attention of their Superiors at home, who doubtless, whenever the present Question shall become the Subject of their Deliberation, will not be unmindful of the Benefit which has accrued from the Measures of providing the Investment by Agency, instead of Contract, and which, joined to other Instances in other Departments of well managed Agency, would appear to prove that the Interests of the Company are, after all, better understood and better attended to by Men whose sole or principal Dependence is upon their Service and Patronage, than by Persons who unconnected with the former are almost wholly precluded from the latter. " Gentlemen,

(a) Vide Appendix, N° CCCCIV.

" My former Letters acquaint you of the Scarcity of Provisions; our Distresses on that Score have increased daily. It is now Fifteen Days since the Europeans of my Army have had a fresh Meal Day, that is, since the Day I marched from Cantonments here has not been any One Day enough of Rice for the Sepoys, indeed for the first 30 Hours there was not a Grain in the Bazar. I have therefore been under the Necessity of having Recourse to the Garrison Store; this I confess I do with Reluctance: As yet no Supplies have come from the North, nor any more from your Quarter since my Arrival. There is not at present a Maund of Grain to be purchased in the Settlement; so that our Cavalry, Draught and Carriage Bullocks, are now fed on what little Paddy can be got. The Draught and Carriage Bullocks are still very deficient; and even in the short March from Chorilly Plain to the Mount, gave too striking a Proof of their Inability to go through a Campaign, by the Difficulty with which they drew our Artillery: Experiencing these Difficulties, I may say at our own Door, I leave it to yourselves to judge what might be our Situation, were I immediately to proceed to a greater Distance. “ Read the following Letter from Fort St. George.

“ Honble. Sir, and Sirs,

“ The Army having been entirely supplied with Provision from hence, and the Consumption of this Settlement so encreased by the Fugitives from the Cruelties of Hyder, we now, notwithstanding the great Importations of Grain from Bengal and the Circars, have not 1000 Bags in Store; there are about 18,000 Bags in divers Vessels in the Road. From the List you sent us of Ships said to be bound from Calcutta with Grain for the Account of Company and Individuals, there remains 70,000 Bags of Rice to arrive yet here; but by a Calculation of the Consumption of that Article, restrained as it has been by the high Price it bore, and by Regulations in the Vent of it, it is evident that nothing less than a Supply of 150,000 Bags will prevent, before the End of the Year, a Famine here, of the Approach of which there appears already some most affecting Symptoms. Our Letters from the Circars, though they mention Abundance of Grain, declare also, the Impossibility of sending it to us through Want of Tonnage. We have indeed taken up the few Ships that could be had here to bring us Provisions from thence, but the Whole is inconsiderable, comparatively to the Prospect of our Wants, and it is from your Hands, whose Liberality in furnishing us Troops, Money, and Provisions, we have so long and so much experienced, that we must expect our chief Support.

“ We must observe, that we had no Assistance of any Kind from the Southern Parts of this Coast; many of the Ports are in Possession of our European or Indian Enemies, which has greatly interrupted the Communication; and the Seizure, by some of his Majesty's Squadron, of Vessels laden with Grain for this Market, as belonging to Black People residing under the Protection of the Dutch, is thought to have deterred many others in their Neighbourhood from venturing out with Supplies for us.

“ To the Continuance of these Evils we are not yet able to foresee a Termination; for though the Bravery and Discipline of our Troops, and the Ability and Experience of Sir Eyre Coote, have been attended with repeated Victories, yet such are the Difficulties that obstruct his Progress, such is the Facility the Enemy possesses of overrunning and desolating the Country, that the General entertains but little Hope of enabling us to draw any Supply of Food or Treasure from it. He has not been able hitherto to penetrate far into the Country, either to the Relief of our remote Garrisons, or to the Attack of the principal Forts held by Hyder.

“ As the whole Conduct of the War has been entrusted to him, in consequence of a Resolution of the late Administration here, we have applied to him for a Communication of his Intentions, absolutely necessary to be known to us now, though hitherto we have contented ourselves either with exerting our Authority in the Manner he desired, or transferring it to him for the Purpose of forwarding his Measures. He is now engaged in an Attempt to relieve the Garrison of Vellore, and possibly to attack Arcot, of which the Event will no Doubt determine his future Plans; on which, and on the Necessity of our Situation, the Resolutions of this Presidency will be founded. If the Enemy should still continue his Depredations in the Carnatic, thereby depriving us in Fact entirely of the Benefit of it, we must, with regard to all effectual Resource, consider ourselves as immured within the Walls of Fort St. George; and were even the Enemy to withdraw from our Neighbourhood, so effectually have all Traces of Cultivation disappeared, so destroyed are the Villages, so ruined and dispersed are the Individuals who were employed in Tillage, that the Inhabitants of the Towns can, during Part of next Year, as well as in the End of the present, be by no other Means preserved from Famine than by external Resource, mostly from your Government. " Received the following Letter from the Agent for Supplies.

" Gentlemen,

" Such probably would have been the Case with the Contract, which the Presidency of Bombay informed the Honble. Court of Directors they could have concluded for Rice, deliverable at Bombay at Rupees 5 : 3 P. Bag, at the Time when my Consignment to them was so much higher; at least it is clear the Contractor would have been a considerable Loser by such a Bargain, for only the Freight to Madras, which is less than Half the Distance, was 4 Rupees per Bag, and the Price of Grain thereabout 9 Rupees per Bag. I very much doubt whether the Contract which was entered into afterwards by the Presidency of Bombay, and advised of in their Letter of 17th August 1781, for 50,000 Bags of Rice was ever fulfilled by the Contractor. Indeed I have good Reason to believe it was not; but the only fair Way of drawing a Comparison is, from the current and relative Prices at each Place at the same Point of Time. I wish I could say with Precision what was the Price of Grain at Bombay, when the Consignments from hence arrived there. At Madras I am sure there was always a Profit upon them, and sometimes a high one; I mean the Difference between the Invoice and the Market Price which I stated particularly in my Letter of the 21st January 1782, and which is since greatly increased.

" If the Presidency of Bombay have it in their Power to make Contracts so much cheaper than the Supplies which they receive from this Government, I must confess it appears extraordinary to me that they should have lately indented to you for 40,000 Bags of Rice. It is proper also to take Notice that my Accounts are in Current Rupees, those of Bombay in Rupees of a much higher Denomination. (a)

" Gentlemen,

" It is well known that the Stores and other Necessaries required by the different Presidencies from Bengal were formerly provided and sent from the Buxey's Office, but Complaints were too frequently received of the Badness of their Quality, especially from the Island of St. Helena. No such Complaints I trust will be made against the Articles furnished by me, as I have taken particular Care to procure the best, and at the most favourable Markets; yet by comparing the Invoices sent by me to Saint Helena, and those dispatched in former Years, it will be found that the Rate of Charges on the latter, though the Amount be small, exceed mine very considerably, and it must be allowed that the actual Price of every Thing is greatly increased within these few Years; to elucidate my Assertion I need only refer to the Invoice Book in the Accountant General's Office. I could draw a Comparison also between the Price of Articles furnished; but as this must depend upon the Quality of the Goods and the fluctuating State of the Markets no exact Criterion can be fixed.

" The Stores required of late Years by the Presidency of Fort Marlbro', have been purchased by their own immediate Agents, in order to obviate the Inconveniencies of being furnished with Assortments of inferior Kinds; but the Contracts entered into by the Settlement for Freight, and the other Engagements which they have concluded for obtaining their Supplies (I have Reason to think, though I cannot ascertain it) will be found more expensive and uncertain than the Mode now adopted. Thursday, “ Mr. Francis.—The several Checks which have been established by the Board of Ordnance upon the Provision, Issue, and Expenditure of Military Stores, and which did not exist before the Institution of that Board, make it impossible, in my Opinion, for any Fraud, Overcharge, or Embezzlement, to happen in the Storekeeper's Department, without being liable to immediate Detection; in other Respects I think it will be greatly for the Benefit of the Service, and cheaper to the Company, than any Mode yet adopted, that the Storekeeper should provide the Stores at the Price fixed in the Book of Rates, and be allowed a Commission as Agent for his Risk and Trouble. It is to be observed, that he can deliver no Stores, but according to Indents first passed and approved by the Board of Ordnance; that that Board are to judge of the Quality of the Stores, in case of Dispute, and oblige him to take back such as they disapprove; that the Custody and Expenditure of the Stores are now committed to the Commissary of Stores; and, what I consider as an Argument of principal Weight, that the Storekeeper is responsible with his Office for Misconduct in any Branch of it. It is therefore my Opinion, that the Storekeeper's Proposal be accepted for One Year.

Mr. Francis
Opinion on Proposals for the Supply of the Military Stores.

“ Mr. Barwell—I concur in Opinion with Mr. Francis.

“ Colonel Monson—I am of the same Opinion with Mr. Francis, that the Storekeeper's Proposal be accepted for One Year.

“ General Clavering—I am of the same Opinion with Mr. Francis, that the Storekeeper's Proposal should be accepted for One Year.

“ Governor General.—It has always been my Opinion, and frequently declared, that the Heads of Offices are the fittest, and (other Circumstances equal) the best qualified by their Offices for supplying the Stores wanted for their Offices, whether by Agency with a fixed Commission, or by a reasonable Contract, is immaterial, with the Exception of those Offices in which the same Stores are provided and expended. The Military Storekeeper has only the Provision and nominal Charge of the Stores, but not the actual Charge nor Expenditure. The Commissary of Stores is an immediate Check upon him and the Colonels of Brigades, with every Officer holding a separate Command; every Commissary and Quarter Master in the Army are so many subordinate Checks upon both. For these Reasons I approve of Mr. Livius's Proposal, that is, I approve of his being appointed the Agent for the Supply of all Military Stores at the Rates which are fixed by Colonel Dow's Book of Rates, with a Commission of 15 per Cent. But as this in Effect will be the same as a Contract, he should be made liable to a Penalty for Deficiencies, and for that Penalty I recommend the Mode fixed upon in the Advertizements published by the Board of Ordnance.

“ Agreed, That it be an Article in the several Contracts for supplying the Stores, that the Penalty on deficient Deliveries shall be equal to the Contract Price of the Articles which the Contractor shall fail to supply, to be deducted from the Amount of his monthly Bills.

“ Agreed, That the above be communicated to Mr. Adams, and that he be called upon to mention his Securities.

“ Reconsidered the Letter from Mr. David Cummings, recorded the 10th instant.

“ Mr. Barwell.—I move that the Services of Captain David Cummings, as Agent Victualler, and Agent for Supplies for Marine Stores to the armed Vessels, under the Command of Commodore Richardson, be accepted ; and that he be accordingly appointed Agent Victualler and Agent of Supplies for Marine Stores, and that in lieu of all Charges of Salary, &c. to be allowed a Salary of 15 per Cent. on his Purchases of Stores, agreeably to the Rates fixed for such Stores.

“ Governor General.—I propose as an Amendment, that the Terms ‘ and Agent of Supplies for ‘ Marine Stores’ be omitted, as the Provision of these properly and officially appertain to Mr. Keble the Naval Storekeeper.

“ Mr. Barwell.—I did not understand that the Marine was supplied from any of the fixed Store-houses, it was only with Intention that the Issues of Stores for the Service of the Marine might proceed from some fixed Office, and proceed from some regular Office, that I proposed giving the Supplies to Mr. Cummings, agreeably to the Offer he made the Board of his Services. I agree entirely with the Governor General, that the Naval Storekeeper ought to supply such Stores as may be required for the Marine. I agree to the Amendment.

“ Mr. Wheler.—I agree to the Motion as it now stands with the Governor General’s Amendment.

“ Mr. Francis.—I have no Objection to the Appointment of Mr. Cummings Agent Victualler, provided the Prices of the several Articles, which he is to furnish, and by which the Allowance to him is to be regulated, is first ascertained : I think that the Board should also be informed in what Manner he proposes to conduct this Service.

“ Governor General.—I agree to the Motion : It is probable that the List of Victualling Stores, provided by Mr. Belli, which is the only Table of established Rates, may not contain all the Articles required for the Marine, it will be proper therefore to draw up a complete Table ; taking this with the Rates of Stores comprized in it, and adding such others as the Marine Service may require, with the Current Prices affixed to them. This the Secretary may perform, taking the Assistance of Mr. Richardson, for the Articles of victualling Stores required. Mr. Francis very properly remarks, that the Board should be informed by what Means Mr. Cummings proposes to conduct this Service.

“ Read the following Letter from Mr. David Cumming.

“ Honble. Sir, and Sirs,

“ I beg Leave to represent to you, that when I had the Honour to lay my Proposals before you to supply the Fleet with Stores and Provisions, the furnishing the former was my principal Object, or I should have been more particular with regard to the latter.

“ It is necessary to observe that One Year's Provisions should be at all Times held in Readiness for the Fleet, and that the only Time for providing the principal Part of the Articles is during the cold Months; also, that they are every one of them from their Nature perishable. For my Trouble I am to draw a Commission of 15 per Cent. but I don't apprehend it to be a Part of my Engagement to replace the Stores that may perish, as such a Commission would never compensate for the certain Loss that must arise on the Decay of a Year's Provision, laid in at one Time, before it could possibly be expended.

“ These Considerations I beg Leave to submit to your Honourable Board, and, conceiving that you may wish to have the Branch of the Marine Charge ascertained, I beg Leave to propose that I be permitted to hold the Contract on the same Terms Commodore Richardson did, which was 12 Sicca Rupees each Man per Month. I will then engage to supply the Marine, agreeable to the Rules already established, and stand to every Loss that may happen until the Delivery of the Provisions to the proper Officers of the Ships.

“ As the Allowance of Candles, Fire Wood, and Oil, has not yet been fixed, I beg Leave to propose that the Ships be supplied with those Articles, agreeable to the established Customs observed in the Bombay Marine, making proper Allowances for the different Rates of the Ships.

“ Calcutta, the 9th January 1779.

“ I am, &c.
(Signed)

“ David Cumming.”

“ Governor General.—As a Doubt has been suggested respecting the Responsibility of the Victualling Stores provided by Mr. Cumming, I think it necessary that that Doubt should be solved before we proceed to the other Points of Mr. Cumming's Letter. The Resolution of the Board, by which Mr. Cummings holds his Appointment, expresses that he should be Agent Victualler of the armed Vessels under Commodore Richardson; and that in lieu of all Charges of Salary, &c. he was to be allowed a Commission of 15 <sup>pp</sup> Cent. on his new Purchases of Stores, agreeable to their fixed Rates. The Doubt now suggested is, whether the Risks of Losses and Decays in the Stores provided by Mr. Cummings is to lie on him or on the Company. I beg Leave to submit this Question to the Board for their Decision, premising my own Opinion that as Agent his whole Profits must be supposed to be bounded by his Commission, and in Effect I believe it will prove so, as the Rates which have been fixed for his Stores were the Current Rates of

of the Bazar at the Time in which they were First established, of course he ought not to be subjected to any Risk.

“ Mr. Wheler.—Mr. Cumming though termed an Agent Victualler is in the strictest Sense of the Words a Contractor for Provisions, and as such, in my Opinion, he must either take upon himself the Risk of the Provisions he shall furnish being sound and fit for use, from the Time of Delivery to certain Periods, say Six or Twelve Months, or submit the same to the Inspection of some Persons as shall be appointed by Government to receive them, and to the Loss of all such Part as shall be regularly condemned within the fixed Periods.

“ Mr. Francis.—Mr. Cumming, in his Letter recorded the 7th September, proposes ‘ to supply whatever Stores or Provisions might be wanted at the usual Advance of 15  $\frac{1}{2}$  Cent.’ He had also an Establishment allowed him to enable him to conduct this Service with greater Ease and Security to himself. The Cost of the several Articles is fixed by Rates, consequently it is possible he may be a considerable Gainer on the Purchase. The Commission of 15 per Cent. I understand to be in lieu of all Charges and Risques whatever; if not, I cannot conceive what Service he performs that should entitle him to that Allowance, if he is not to be answerable for the Quality and Preservation of the Articles he furnishes. It may happen that his Supplies may perish within a Week, or even within a Day, after they are delivered, and the Company must bear the Loss without a Remedy; and the same Person who supplied these bad Provisions will have the Advantage of replacing them, consequently we make it his Interest to deliver Provisions of such a Quality as may keep, not the longest but the shortest Time possible. For these Reasons, as well as the others assigned by Mr. Wheler, I entirely concur in his Opinion.

“ Mr. Barwell.—I see also the Weight of the Objections that have been already urged; but I think them rather strained, and a particular Diffidence expressed of this Gentleman’s Integrity, which had not Place before, when the Market Rate of Stores for the different Store Offices at the Presidency were fixed, and a Commission allowed to the Storekeepers and Commissioners of 15 per Cent. simply for their Trouble in buying Stores upon Indents, deliverable immediately on their Purchase, and for keeping the Accounts. That it may be Mr. Cumming’s Interest to provide bad Stores, or such as will almost immediately perish, to give Occasion for the Purchase of other Quantities, is possible, but not more so in his particular Office than any other. By his Appointment he is simply an Agent for the Purchase of Victualling Stores for the Armed Vessels, and the Commission was proposed in lieu of Salary. There is no Contract existing between the Company and him; none was ordered to be drawn, of course both are at Liberty to recede. I have no Objection to an Offer being made to Mr. Cumming on Behalf of Government, that he stand to all Loss, and of converting the Agent into a Contractor. If the Offer is not agreeable to him, the Secretary at the same Time he communicates it should be instructed to call upon Mr. Cumming to propose the Conditions on which he will contract.

“ Mr. Wheler.—I should be very sorry to have it thought that I meant in any Degree to reflect on the Integrity of Mr. Cumming. The Regulations I proposed will, I believe, when duly considered, be found too uniform and general to bear any such Construction. I have myself been concerned in very extensive Contracts for the Provision of Part of his Majesty’s Forces in America, and cheerfully submitted to the Regulations which I now prescribe, viz. an Inspection of the Provisions when delivered, and likewise an Engagement that the same should remain sound and good at various Periods and Places as specified in the Agreement.

“ Mr. Francis.—I do not think there is the smallest Resemblance between the Case of Mr. Cumming and that of the several Heads of Offices, who are allowed to supply Stores in their respective Departments on certain Terms, and under certain Regulations. Those Gentlemen are entitled to some Emoluments in virtue of their Offices, as they have no Salary, and, I firmly believe, that considering the Nature of the Trust inevitably reposed in them, a more safe and prudent Method could not be chosen of giving them those Emoluments. If they are not allowed fair and open Profits, they will have others. On the other Hand, the Stores they supply are not of a perishable Nature like Provisions, they are not called for in large Quantities for the possible Supply of long Periods, but indented for monthly as they are wanted, and precisely according to the Quantities which are immediately required. They are answerable for the Quality of their Stores, which are applied and expended in the Service as soon as they are delivered. Mr. Cumming is not in this Predicament. He is not the Head of an Office, nor has he any Connection officially with the Business he has undertaken. His Offer to us was a voluntary one, and such as we might have received from any other Individual. I do not question his Integrity, but in the Transaction of Business, I will not trust to that Principle of Action whenever it is in my Power to place an official Check over the Execution of any Engagement between Government and Individuals.

“ Governor General.—All the Arguments just urged by Mr. Francis prove that the other Agencies derive a certain Profit from their Supplies with no Risk. Their Stores are not of a perishable Nature, therefore the Responsibility cannot affect the Agents, but they are all purchasable in the Bazar from which they may be taken as they are wanted, and immediately delivered without any possible Chance of their perishing by the Way; and the Rates on which the Commission is taken, are, I am afraid, a Source of considerable Profit not intended by the Board; nay, if I mistake not, many of the Articles specified by the Book of Rates, are first taken from the Company’s Stores at an Advance of 25 per Cent. on the Prime Cost, then again supplied to the Company at the Rates prescribed prescribed by the Book, with the Commission of 15 per Cent. added to them. These are neither fair nor open Profits, if such exist, as I believe they do. Mr. Cumming is supposed to gain by the established Rates of his Stores. I believe he is as likely to be a Loser by them, as I know that they were taken from the actual Costs of those Articles in the Market at the Time in which the Rates were formed. Mr. Barwell has introduced a Proposal to the Board which has prevented mine, which would have been to place Mr. Cumming's Agency precisely on the Footing of Mr. Belli's, which is to allow him 15 per Cent. for his Agency in the Provision of the Stores, and 15 per Cent. for his Risk in Losses and Decays, and then to throw the Risk on him. This I think would have been a reasonable Allowance, and would free the Expence from Contingencies; but for the present I agree to the Motion introduced by Mr. Barwell.

" Mr. Francis.—I am sorry to be obliged to continue this Debate, but some Words which have fallen from the Governor General make it necessary. The Rates prescribed by the Book to the several Heads of Offices were fixed in that Manner in order to limit and ascertain the Company's Expence, and to avoid the Inconvenience of compelling Individuals, in Matters purely of Contract and Business, to determine between their Honour and their Interest, but it never was understood, to my Knowledge, that the Agents should not be at Liberty to purchase their Stores on the most favourable Terms to themselves. In the Prices of some Articles fixed by the Book of Rates I know they are Losers; in others, I doubt not they are Gainers. It is natural that they should endeavour to gain upon them all, nor is it of any Moment to us whether they do or not.

" The only Way by which they can gain on the Purchase Price, is by contracting for large Quantities on which of course there must be a Risk. They must judge very ill for their own Interests, if they go to the Bazar, for every Article they may occasionally want. With respect to the Fact intimated as Matter of Belief not asserted by the Governor General, viz. ' That many of the Articles specified by the Book of Rates, are first taken from the Company's Stores at an Advance of 25 per Cent. on the prime Cost, then again supplied to the Company at the Rates prescribed by the Book, with the Commission of 15 per Cent. added to them,' I am of Opinion it is a Point that deserves immediate Enquiry. For my own Part, I am convinced the Governor is mistaken. The Storekeepers are not allowed to supply any Articles already in the Company's Stores, nor do I know of any Instance in which the 15 per Cent. is charged on the Book Price on Articles purchased at the Company's Warehouses. In the troublesome Office which I hold, I do my utmost to prevent Frauds of this Kind; and I shall hold myself indebted to the Governor General, if he will be so good as to point out to me a Fact, or the Means of discovering a Fact of such a Nature.

" Governor General.—We have wandered so far from the Subject of Debate, that though I am compelled to reply, my Reply shall be short. The Book of Rates does not contain the Rates at which their respective Articles are to be purchased at the Market, but arbitrary Rates, greatly exceeding in every capital Instance the highest Market Prices. As to the Instance which Mr. Francis desires me to produce, I will mention one which has accidentally come to my Knowledge within these few Days, and leave it to Mr. Francis, as he has desired it, for a Subject of his Enquiry. Canvas is an Article of the Book Rates, and I understand it has been taken out of the Company's Warehouse, with the Advance allowed, as an Indulgence to the Company's Servants at the same Office from which it is issued, at an Advance of 15 per Cent. upon the Price prescribed by the Book of Rates. I shall here beg Leave to close this disagreeable Subject, which, as I before observed, has no Relation to the Question before us, although a proper Subject of Consideration by itself.

" Mr. Francis.—I have no Sort of Objection to reform the Book of Rates, if it should be found necessary: With respect to the other Matters, I shall make the strictest Enquiry I can into them.

" Agreed to Mr. Barwell's Proposition; and ordered that the Secretary do communicate the same to Mr. Cumming.

" Honble. Sir, and Sirs,
Mr. Cumming. " I beg Leave to observe, that my Proposals for supplying the Marine with Provisions, is not in the Nature of a Contract; it is impossible that it should be so; for the Commission I asked did did not exceed the Agency allowed to every Head of Office; and, as the Service I offered to perform was of a Nature that required much of my Time and Attention, I flattered myself you would make that Allowance to me in lieu of Salary ordered to your Heads of Offices.

" I had not the most distant Idea of engaging in a Contract: I proposed nothing for myself in undertaking for the public Service, beyond a very moderate Pittance, to compensate me in some Degree for my Trouble. However, if it be more agreeable to the Board, that I should engage in a Contract to replace the Provisions that may perish, I will do it; but do not apprehend I can undertake to bear this Loss unless the Board are pleased to allow me, in Addition to my present Commission, and Office Charges, a Premium of 15 per Cent.,—the Heat of a Ship's Hold being extremely destructive to every Species of Stores.

" If the Honourable Board approve a Contract on these Terms, I am ready to execute one; if not, and they insist on my standing to the Risk of Loss by Decay of Stores, and that I shall make up such Loss from my Commission; I hope they will not be displeased if I decline to accept their Proposition; and to beg Leave to be discharged from my Office of Agent Victualler.

" Governor General.—As the Offer made by Mr. Cumming is precisely in the Terms of that which I delivered it as my Opinion should be made to him on the Part of the Board, I move that it be agreed to.

" Mr. Wheler.—My Reason for saying that Mr. Cumming must either take upon himself the Risk of the Provisions he should furnish, being sound and fit for Use, from the Time of Delivery to a certain Period, or submit to the Inspection of Persons appointed by Government to receive the Provisions, and to the Loss of such Part as should be regularly condemned within the fixed Period, arose from a Conviction that Mr. Cumming had a Remedy against those of whom he purchased, in Case the Articles so purchased proved defective; consequently, the Company ought to have the same Remedy against Mr. Cumming. I am not competent * whether 15 per Cent. in Addition to Prices fixed by the Buzar Rates is, or is not adequate to the Risk, but I shall give it the Preference to an open unguarded Contract, and as it is recommended by the Governor General I shall accede to the Proposal.

“ In Reply to the foregoing Article, I beg Leave to inform the Board, that in consequence of their Instructions, I some Time ago gave Orders for providing Materials and commencing the Works; it will therefore be impossible to put a Stop to them without a manifest Loss to the Company. I must also add, that Two or Three Ranges as the Board have intimated, cannot, without subjecting the Troops to great Inconvenience, be spared for an Hospital, as One Range is now occupied by the Cadets, and another will be required for the Artillery Company coming down from Dinapoor; besides, as I before mentioned to the Board, an Hospital so contiguous to the Barracks and Officers Quarters must be very offensive, and, in Cases of contagious Disorders, might be the Means of communicating them to the Whole of the Troops. I must therefore request, Gentlemen, that you will permit the Hospitals to be carried on agreeable to the Directions which I have given.

“ With respect to the Expence, the Estimates are I hope, as I have already observed, over rated; and I must again repeat my Recommendation that the Board will agree to Captain Rotton's giving in his Bills upon Honour, agreeable to his own Desire; and that he be allowed the usual Commission for his Trouble.

“ The following Letter from Mr. John Fergusson having been sent in Circulation, the following Minutes, which are entered after it, were delivered by the Members of the Board.

“ Honble. Sir, and Gentlemen,

“ Finding by my late Letters from Madras that there is likely to be a Scarcity of Grain there, and knowing, from the present State of the Salt Trade, that almost all the Snows and Vessels which used to arrive here at this Season from Muffulipatan, Cozinga, and Gainjan, are now laid up at those Places, I sent Directions several Days ago to Mr. Turing, Chief of Gainjan, and Mr. Hamilton, Resident of Ingeram, to engage a Snow for carrying Thirty thousand Bags of Rice from hence to Madras in December and January next. I have not limited them as to the Terms of Freight, and have desired that the Vessels be dispatched in Ballast for this Place by the 20th next Month at furthest.

" I have now a Ship here called the Union, and daily expect the Ships Neptune and Narisipore, for which I have already purchased 20,000 Bags, and I hope to dispatch them for Madras by the End of the next Month, which will be an immediate Supply.

" Having no Desire of further Advantage from this than a reasonable Compensation for my Labour and Risk, I beg Leave to submit the following Proposals:—I will engage to deliver at Madras, in the Month of October, 20,000 Bags of good Cargo Rice, agreeable to such Musters as may be approved here, and in the Course of January and February next I will deliver 30,000 Bags more, the Dangers of the Seas and Enemies only excepted, at the Rate of Sicca Rupees 6 : 8 per Bag, of Two Bazar Maunds of 82 lbs. each; One Third the Amount to be paid One Third * in Advance, another Third when the Whole of the Rice is shipped here, and the Remainder to be paid when I produce Certificates of its Delivery at Madras. Or I will engage to supply Tonnage here before the First of January for carrying 40,000 Bags to Madras, at the Rate of Three Sicca Rupees per Bag of Two Bazar Maunds, and if any of these Vessels should be thought in an unfit Condition for Sea, the Amount of such Cargoes shall be insured at my Expence, and the Policies deposited with your Honourable Board.

" Such Supply will effectually prevent any great Scarcity at Madras, and will be a Remittance of Sicca Rupees 3,25,000 to that Presidency in an Article that will relieve their Wants, and which they can immediately convert into Money.

" I beg to be favoured with an Answer as soon as may be convenient, and if either of my Proposals should be accepted, I will give such Security for the Performance as your Honble. Board may require.

" IN CIRCULATION.—Proposals for supplying Rice at Madras.

" The Governor General agrees to accept Mr. Fergusson's Proposals to furnish 50,000 Bags of Rice to the Presidency of Fort St. George deeming them the most reasonable that can be obtained, as he understands there is little or no Tonnage now in the River; and further proposes to make an Offer to Mr. Fergusson of the same Terms for any Quantity to which he may be able to increase this Mode of Supply.

" Mr. Wheeler agrees to accept Mr. Fergusson's Proposal to supply 50,000 Bags of Rice, and to the Governor General's Propositions to make Mr. Fergusson an Offer to increase the Quantity.

" Agreed to the Proposal made by Mr. Fergusson to deliver at Madras in the Month of October next, Twenty thousand Bags of good Cargo Rice, agreeable to such Musters as the Board may approve of, and to deliver at the same Presidency, in the Course of January and February next, Thirty thousand Bags more, the Dangers of the Seas and Enemies only excepted, at the Rate of Six Sicca Rupees and eight Annas per Bag, of Two Bazar Maunds of Eighty-two Pounds each; One Third of the Amount to be paid to him in Advance, another Third when the Whole of the Rice is shipped here, and the Remainder when he produces Certificates of its Delivery at Madras. As Two Thirds of the Amount are to be advanced here to Mr. Fergusson, before the Grain is delivered at Fort St. George, the Board are of Opinion that Mr. Fergusson should be subjected to a Penalty adequate to the Event of a Failure in his Engagements, and a Sum double the Amount received, being usually incurred as a Penalty on these Occasions. Agreed, that the Sum of 8l. 10s. 8d. be the Penalty incurred by Mr. Fergusson, for every Bag of Rice which he may fail to deliver agreeable to the Terms of his Proposals. (a)

" Received the following Letter from the Agent of Supplies.

(a) Vide Appendix, N<sup>o</sup> CCCCXII.

" Gentlemen,

" Gentlemen,

" I have been honoured by the official Receipt of Copies of the 41st, 42d, 43d, and 44th Paragraphs of the General Letter from the Court of Directors, dated 12th July 1782, concerning my late Agency.

" I cannot help being struck with the deepest Concern, at finding that I have been the Instrument of an Appointment, which stands annulled by the Honble. the Court of Directors, with such severe Epithets of Disapprobation; and I beg Leave to express my Acknowledgements to you for affording me a further Opportunity of endeavouring to remove their Objections, which appear to have been obviously taken up from the Premises then before them, unopposed by sufficient Explanations or Testimonies of its good Effect, which I trust the present Experience of it will justify. The Commission was undoubtedly very high before your Honble. Board thought fit to reduce it, and the Honble. Court of Directors pass their Judgement upon it in its original State. They were naturally struck with the Sum, because it is certain that the Gross, &c. undiminished Amount of any Commission, fixed at a specific Rate so striking to the Observation, while the Drawbacks upon it, and the Instances of its Utility are various and imperceptible, until positively pointed out and defined. This is the chief Object of the present Letter.

" At the Time when the Appointment was made, it was hoped and expected that the most material Duties of it, being the Supply of the Presidency of Fort St. George, would be of short Duration, and of no very considerable Extent. I must declare, for my own Part, that this was my Opinion of it. The Rate of Commission had many Precedents, both of old and recent Establishment, to warrant it, which I could enumerate, and, I believe, was founded on the same Principles with them; yet it has always sustained several Deductions from it, especially before you reduced it. I beg Leave to enumerate the following. I have maintained a constant Establishment of Clerks and Agents at my own Expence. I have, at different Times, sent down European Overseers, entertained at high Wages, to superintend the Lading of the Europe Ships, and other Services which required superior Management and Attention, at my own Expence. The Number of Agents of different Kinds employed by me was necessarily great; but I have charged only for such as were immediately stationed at the Company's fixed Golahs, or casually employed in weighing off and shipping particular Invoices, according to the ordinary Custom of Merchants; and as long as the original Commission was allowed me, I never made any Charge for the Commission of Factors or Agents whom I employed in distant Parts. Mr. Hamilton at Coringa, for Instance, secured a large Quantity of the Country Tonnage for me at that Place, charging me with 5 per Cent. Commission on the Amount, for his Trouble in the first Season, which, while my own Commission would bear it, I considered as justly allowable out of it. For the present Season I agreed to pay him Commission upon such Tonnage only as he could procure under a certain Price. This I have thought it necessary to charge to the Company, because my own Commission had been reduced.

" The above Circumstances should be weighed in the general Scope of Reasoning upon this Subject; but a still more important Consideration starts up, which the Honble. Court of Directors could not have been acquainted with; I mean the heavy Charge of Interest which I have sustained to prevent the public from suffering at Times greater Losses and greater Inconveniencies than any possible Amount of my Commission. If it be urged that, by disbursing more than my Advances from the Treasury, I secured an ultimate Benefit to myself, I reply, that with positive Injunctions to carry my Supplies to an unlimited Extent, it was impossible to confine myself to my Advances, without a manifest Neglect of the public Interests, because both the Periods and Sums of my Advances were always uncertain, while my Engagements were necessarily fixed and positive. Had I omitted to take early Measures through proper Agents on the Coast, to make timely Advances to the Owners of Vessels, on Account of Freight, in order to secure as much Tonnage as possible to be brought to me here, and had I waited the Arrival of these Vessels, which would have come under Engagements to others, or have been sent on Speculation for Freight, I might, indeed, have been guided in the Amount of my Disbursements by that of my Advances; but I should have paid a much higher Rate for the same Articles, and very scantily have fulfilled the Object designed by my Appointment. In short, with all my strenuous and possible Exertions, it does not appear that the Presidency of Madras was ever abundantly supplied with Grain, but continually craving for more.

" No Agent, without an adequate Compensation to answer the Interest of Money borrowed by him, and the Risk of Failure in the Discharge of his occasional Loans, could afford to strain his own Credit for the public Service in Default of regular Advances from the Treasury, yet, if I had declined this Alternative, the Settlement of Madras might and probably would have suffered the most dismal Effects of a Famine (which, as it was, could hardly be kept from raging), the Company's and other Ships engaged for their Service would have lain upon Demurrage for Want of Cargoes to load them, and several of them must have lost the Season for Want of an expeditious Dispatch. In Fact, I must repeat that, besides all the Property which I could command of my own, I have continually taken up Loans from my Friends to the utmost Extent of my Credit, the Whole of which was invested in the Business of my Agency, although the full Amount does not appear by the monthly Balance of my Accounts. To form a just Idea of it, at any specific Period, the Sums paid by me for the Freight of Vessels, or for Grain not invoiced (all Grain both here here and at Buckergunge being purchased only for ready Money), ought to be added to the Balance of my monthly Account, or set against it, and will then shew the actual Sum which I was in Advance; but to ascertain this regularly for such a Length of Time, would be an arduous if not impracticable Task, considering the Magnitude of the Concern, the infinite Variety of Purchases made, the multifarious Distributions of them on Vessels, and the numberless Casualties which happened in such an extensive Business from the Return of the Vessels, and many other Causes. However I am happy to hear that the Honourable Board have ordered the Accountant General to report to them a State of the Average Price of my Supplies, the whole Period of my Agency, as the surest Test of Comparison to prove the Advantage which the Public has derived from it.

" This Advantage will be the more apparent when measured by the Scale of private Merchants here, who, if they employ Agents or Factors, must submit to pay a Commission of 5 per Cent. according to the Custom of the Place, upon the Dispatch from hence, and a further Commission of 5 per Cent. upon the Sale at Madras; which last Commission is drawn upon a much larger Sum than the Amount of the Invoice, being on the Amount of the gross Sale, the net Produce of which, after deducting that and all other Charges, still leaves such a Profit to the Owner, that every Individual who has engaged to any Extent in the Grain Trade to the Coast is known to have gained considerably by it.

" The Company have not only derived a great Profit by the immediate Difference of Value, from having had a more extensive Concern than any Individual, but in a political Light they have secured Resources for the Pay and Subsistence of their Army, and evidently provided for the Salvation of the Country, both by preserving their Forces from Desertion, and Inhabitants from Famine, in a greater Degree (I think this Letter will evince) than they could have done by the Means of Contracts. A public Agent for the Company, instead of raising the Market by a Competition with Individuals, possesses an operative Hand, which gives him this Advantage over them: His Office being the greatest Mart in Town, is the Place where the First Musters of Grain, and the First Offers of Freight, are generally produced; and the Current Price (though I ever cautiously avoided being the First to raise it) was in some Measure regulated by his Standard. These are Facts which Experience has fully proved. I never gave more for the Freight of Rice to Madras than 5 S<sup>r</sup> R<sup>r</sup> <sup>per</sup> Bag; and Individuals, though they found it answer their Purpose sometimes to pay a higher Freight, generally confined themselves to that Rate. Since my Agency has ceased, the Price of Freight is considerably increased, notwithstanding the Number of Company's Ships now laden for Madras, and the Quantity of Rice already imported there. The Cause of this Increase is not wholly to be ascribed to the Destruction committed by the French Fleet in the Bay, that having been very trivial, although at the Time alarming, but it is owing to the Competition of private Merchants, who, seeing that the public Supplies have ceased to be sent, and knowing that the Exigencies which they tended to relieve must be satisfied, conclude that the Wants at Madras will be the more urgent from this Cause, and that Grain will bear a Value in Proportion to them.

" For the Sake of the distressed Natives at Madras I sincerely hope that this Rage for pressing a beneficial Trade will glut the Market with Grain; but I really apprehend that it will produce no such Consequence. The Merchants, though not in One Combination, are in One Predicament, and will naturally ask the Profit they expect.—Rice is an indispensable Commodity, and must be had at any Rate. If Government fix the Price to prevent Extortion, they must have an equitable Regard to the Advantage of the Owner, who (as I have observed before) has paid high for his Concern.

" If the Board had thought proper to accept of my Offer for a Contract, and concluded it with me accordingly for any Length of Time, I must have thrown myself upon the Indulgence of Government, as the only Means of saving me and my Securities from the ruinous Effects of persevering in it; for the Price of Freight rose so suddenly and so high that it would have been impossible for me, by any Exertions of my own, to have fulfilled my Engagements. I am the more grateful therefore that the Board did not accept my Offer in this Light.

" I believe it has been an invariable Rule for all Contracts made in India to contain Stipulations for Advances of Money previous to the Performance of Services, which, considering the necessitous State of many Contractors, and the high Interest of Money, is a most material Object for them to secure. Indeed, without it their Terms must be proportionably higher; the Contractor might justify a Failure in his Engagements if necessary by the Want of his regular Advances, which are seldom paid to the Day, and being thus exempted from the Penalty of the Contract by the First Breach of it laying * in the Company, would possibly continue to execute it no longer than while it proved advantageous to him.—Disappointments would ensue, and the Service be considerably injured before a fresh Contract could be formed. Besides, in a Business which is liable to great Fluctuation, the Contractor, in his Proposal to secure himself from Contingencies, must include large original Profit upon the actual †, a Circumstance which might in any Event prove disadvantageous to the Company, on the One Hand, by Disappointments as above supposed in case the Price should increase; and on the other, by an enormous superfluous Expence, in case it should fall. I mean not to apply this Observation in any Instance to the Company's Orders; I mention it simply as it occurs on my own Case; for although I should have considered myself bound in Honour

* Sic in Orig.

† Sic in Orig.

Honour to continue the Service, even at a Loss, while my Resources would enable me; these must very soon have dried up, and an unavoidable Failure ensued, had my Contract been accepted and the Execution of it insisted on.

" Such probably would have been the Case with the Contract, which the Presidency of Bombay informed the Honourable Court of Directors they could have concluded for Rice deliverable at Bombay, at Rupees 5 : 3 per Bag, at the Time when my Consignment to them was so much higher : At least it is clear the Contractor would have been a considerable Loser by such a Bargain ; for only the Freight to Madras, which is less than Half the Distance, was Four Rupees per Bag, and the Price of Grain then about Nine Rupees per Bag. I very much doubt whether the Contract which was entered into afterwards by the Presidency of Bombay, and advised of in their Letter of 17th August 1781, for 50,000 Bags of Rice, was ever fulfilled by the Contractor. Indeed, I have good Reason to believe it was not ; but the only fair Way of drawing a Comparison is, from the current and relative Prices at each Place at the same Point of Time. I wish I could say with Precision what was the Price of Grain at Bombay when the Consignment from hence arrived there. At Madras I am sure there was always a Profit upon them, and sometimes a high one, I mean the Difference between the Invoice and the Market Price, which I stated particularly in my Letter of the 21st January 1782, and which is since greatly increased.

" If the Presidency of Bombay have it in their Power to make Contracts so much cheaper than the Supplies which they received from this Government, I must confess it appears extraordinary to me, that they should have lately indented to you for 40,000 Bags of Rice. It is proper also to take Notice, that my Accounts are in Current Rupees, those of Bombay, in Rupees of a much higher Denomination.

" Conceiving that the Calculation which appears in the 42d Paragraph of the General Letter has been made by some of the Officers under the Honble. the Court of Directors, I cannot help taking upon me to correct it, as I fear it has tended to mislead them. The Sum of 15,92,500 C<sup>t</sup> R<sup>s</sup> estimated to be required in 1781-2, was to include Commission, which in that Case ought not to have been computed upon it, but deducted from it, and in fact would have amounted to no more than Current Rupees 2,07,717 : 6 instead of Current Rupees 2,38,875 ; and the Exchange of 2s. 3d. per Current Rupee, at which the supposed Commission is converted into Pounds Sterling, is a Rate higher than is ever allowed. The Company's present Exchange for Bills, payable at Twelve Months Sight, is only Two Shillings, but at the Exchange fixed for the Salaries of the Members of the Board and the Judges, which is the proper Rate for its immediate Conversion, the above Commission would yield only 18,292l. 16s. 5d. instead of 26,873l.

" I acknowledge that the original Commission was high, and the unexpected Amount of the Supplies on which it was drawn, made it an Object of Importance ; but this did not escape the Attention of your Honourable Board, since you considered and thought fit to reduce it, and the Reduction accordingly took Place upwards of 12 Months before the Arrival of the Commands from the Honourable the Court of Directors, now transmitted to me.

" In my Letter of the 24th ultimo, I meant not to suggest an Opposition to the Orders of the Honourable the Court of Directors for conducting the Business by Contract, but only to offer my Services voluntarily and gratuitously, with the Benefit of the Experience I had acquired for the public Welfare, at a Time it seemed most to require them, and by that Means to extinguish any Impression or Idea, that my Advantages had exceeded my Deserts. It is painful to plead my own Pretensions, but I have seen many Persons since my Residence in India with less official Trust, less arduous Attention to their Duty, and lower Standing in the Service than myself, derive greater Fortunes from their Stations in it, than the utmost which I can say I am possessed of. I should never have thought of murmuring at this in the common Chance of Things, but it makes my Situation the more unlucky in being singular for Disapprobation or an Idea of uncommon Favour.

" I shall conclude with requesting, that you will be pleased to order a Copy of this Letter to be sent a Number in your next Packet to the Honble. the Court of Directors, with such Remarks or Elucidations as you may think proper to make upon it. (a)

“ Read the following Letters from Mr. N. W. Wood.

“ Honble. Sir, and Sirs,

“ I have the Pleasure to transmit your Honble. Board Bills of Lading of the Lancaster, Lark, and Fancy. The following Vessels left the River Hooringottah, and put to Sea the 20th instant, viz. The Lancaster, Maria, Darlington, and Asia; and the 22d instant also sailed from the same Place the Lark, Fancy, and William, which last Vessel sailed as I wrote you before the 21st January last, but meeting with a strong S. E. Wind, she was drove amongst the Shoals to the Westward; the Captain was some Days in clearing her. As the Wind has continued fair ever since the Vessels sailed, I hope by this they are all clear of the Sand Heads, and well on their Way. The above Fleet has Twenty-five thousand five hundred and forty-eight Bags of Rice on board as per Bills of Lading sent you. One of the Bills of Lading, the Darlington's, I had erased Fifty Bags, from making it Seven hundred Bags, whereas she had on board Seven hundred and fifty Bags; my Reason at the Time was, I thought the Captain had mistook and added the Ships Rice, which was Fifty Bags, but having seen him since, I find he was right, therefore the Darlington's Bill of Lading be pleased to alter, making it Seven hundred and fifty Bags.

“ I now request you will grant me an Order on your Treasury for One Lack of Rupees, according to my Agreement of the 4th of March 1782, and I am in Hopes if my Vessels are not taken, of fulfilling my Contract the next Trip.

“ I have the Honour to be, &c.

“ Joynagur,
24th February 1783.

(Signed) “ N. W. Wood.”

“ The Secretary informs the Board, that he duly received the above, and forwarded the Bills of Lading with regular Invoices to Fort Saint George.

“ Gentlemen,

“ Having been prevented by the French Cruizers, which continued off the Sand Heads during all the latter Part of the fine Season, from dispatching the full Quantity of 40,000 Bags of Rice, which I had contracted with the Company to send to Madras, within the Time stipulated by my Contract, viz. all the Month of February, for although the greatest Part of it was laden and ready to sail by the 20th January, yet as it could not be sent out without a Risk of the Cargo to the Company and of the Vessels to myself, I was obliged to detain it until the Season was too far advanced for the Vessels to perform a Second Trip before the Month of December next. The whole Quantity dispatched by me, as appears by the Bills of Lading which I had the Honour to transmit to you, was 25,548 Bags, for which, deducting the Advance of Sicca Rupees 1,00,000 which I have received, there remains to be paid to me the Sum of Sicca Rupees 78,836. I have the Pleasure to inform you of the safe Arrival of all the Vessels which contained this Rice at Madras, except the Lancaster, containing 4,700 Bags, which Vessel, having been chased by the French, took Refuge at Tranquebar, where Lord Macartney ordered her to wait the Arrival of Sir Edward Hughes on the Coast, unless it was practicable to land her Cargo at Negapatam.

"As the Arrangement ordered by the Honble. the Court of Directors will deprive me of my Station, and increase the Difficulty of accomplishing my Contract, which my Residence in the Rice Districts alone induced me to enter into; and as the Necessity for it no longer exists in the same Degree by the Absence of the Enemy from the Carnatic, and the large Contracts lately concluded by the Honble. Board on lower Terms than mine; I have to entreat that you will be pleased to dispense with my performing it, and order the Balance due upon that Part which is accomplished to be discharged.

" Calcutta,
14th April 1783.

" I have the Honour to be, &c.
(Signed) " R. W. Wood."

"Agreed to release Mr. Wood from his Engagements, and that the Balance due to him ~~of~~ the above Statement which is just, being C<sup>t</sup> R<sup>s</sup> 78,856 be issued from the Treasury.

" Warren Hastings,

The Counsel for the Defendant stated, that as to the Two next Allegations of the Charge, namely, that the Provisions delivered by Mr. Auriol were of a bad Quality, and that Mr. Hastings being informed of it discouraged all Enquiry touching the same, they should give no Evidence, they being abandoned by the Prosecutors. As to the remaining Subject, viz. Mr. Auriol's being to account upon Honour, though not made an Allegation in the Charge, yet, having been made Matter of Evidence, they should proceed to shew that in other Cases of a similar Nature, it was the Course for the Agent to account upon Honour.

The Counsel for the Defendant desired Mr. Auriol might be called in.

Mr. AURIOL was accordingly again called in, and examined as follows :

Q. Was the Commission of 15 per Cent. the usual Commission paid to the public Agents ?

A. It was ; besides the Instances which have been mentioned, I believe there are many more. There were Commissaries of Supplies to all the Brigades on the Bengal Establishment and to the Presidency of Fort William. I was Commissary of Supplies to the Presidency of Fort William, in the Year 1775, before I was appointed Secretary, and drew a Commission of 15 per Cent. upon my Disbursements, as did all those other Commissaries.

Q. Were the Supplies furnished by you uniformly of the best Quality as far as you could procure them to be of that Quality, and charged upon the lowest Terms ?

A. They were. There was a Complaint from Madras of the Quality of the Rice sent to them in the Year 1782 ; but I beg Leave to explain in a few Words how that arose. Early in October 1782, I believe I addressed the Board representing to them a probable Scarcity of Grain, and that I had a large Quantity on Hand, and requested Orders in consequence regarding the Supplies of Madras. A short Time afterwards there came very pressing Letters from Madras, which mentioned that in Consequence of a Gale of Wind they were deprived of the Supply of almost all the Grain then in the Roads, and that they were in a starving Condition. The Board immediately ordered that all the Grain which I had, and which I could procure, should be sent off immediately, and that the Commanders of the Vessels should be rewarded for their speedy Arrival. At this Time a Quantity of Rice had been ordered by the Board from the District of Rungpore, and was sent down by the Collector. On its Arrival the greatest Part of it proved to be very bad, and it was rejected at my Instance as unfit to be sent. All the Grain which I had, or could procure in the Markets was laden on Board the Vessels, and not being sufficient to complete their Cargoes, I was under the Necessity of dispatching them with incomplete Ladings, or of filling them up with the Rice from Rungpore, which not being purchased by me I drew no Commission upon, and therefore could have no Interest in sending it ; but I did send it, and I believe that was the Cause of the Complaint from Madras.

Q. Were the Accounts of your Disbursements which you delivered in upon Honour, such as you will now verify upon Oath ?

A. To the best of my Knowledge I believe them to be true and just Accounts, rather disadvantageous to myself than the Company, because I made the Purchases long before they were charged to the Company from the Necessity of the Case, and there could be no Vouchers, because the Grain was purchased as it could be got in the Markets, and paid for with ready Money.

Q. At the Time when you was first appointed to this Agency, was it foreseen that it would be necessary to send Supplies to such an Extent as afterwards happened, or during such a Length of Time ?

A. I believe not. I did not expect it.

Q. Was there, from the Time of your first Appointment, a considerable Rise in the Freight ?

A. The Freight rose more than double when I made my Proposal ; I think the Freight was about Two Rupees a Bag, and rose to 5½ in the Course of the Service.

Q. What Proportion did the Freight, when at the highest, bear to the original Cost of the Grain ?

A. The original Cost of the best Grain was about Two Rupees a Bag, and never varied very much, except in the Instance of the Scarcity I have mentioned.

Q. Was you liable to various incidental Charges which you did not receive from the Board ?

A. I was ; after my Return from Madras, I allowed my Brother for his Assistance in the Service, a Quarter Part of my Commission ; besides which, I employed Clerks and Agents, which I did not charge to the Company, and other Charges before the Commission was reduced, which I have specified in my Letters to the Board.

Q. Was you often considerably in Advance on the public Account ?

A. Almost continually.

Q. Was you obliged to raise Money on your own Credit to make such Advance ?

A. I was ; I had my own Bonds outstanding against me, bearing an Interest of 10 per Cent. for Money so borrowed, at one Time to the Extent of near 50,000 l. besides the Amount of my own Fortune.

Q. Was this at the Time that the Company was in the greatest Distress for Want of Money ?

A. It was on Account of the Company's great Distress for Want of Money.

Cross-examined by the Managers for the Commons.

Q. Whether you was concerned in the Corn Trade, or in what Trade, at that Period of Time ?

A. I was not concerned in any Trade at the Time of my Appointment ?

Q. What other Offers were made for supplying the Grain at the Time you had your Commission ?

A. At that Time I did not know of any.

Q. Whether, or no, you had any Conversation relative to the Terms of the Contract with Mr. Hastings before it appeared at the Board ?

A. There was some Conversation passed at the Board upon my suggesting it ; in consequence of which Conversation, I believe the last Paragraph of my Letter, offering to supply by Agency, was added : All the Members of the Board were pleased to pay me some Compliments, and to say, they preferred an Agency in my Hands to a Contract.

Q. Whether they paid you that Compliment on the Presumption of your Knowledge in that Article of Dealing ?

A. I believe not ; but upon their long Acquaintance with and Experience of my Services.

Q. Of what Services ? Were they in the Way of Contract or Agency ?

A. Chiefly as Secretary to the Government.

Q. Then you got that Agency as a Reward for those Services ; are you to be so understood ?

A. I considered it as a Reward, but in this Light, as giving me a Preference to any other Person, not giving me any Advantages which another Person in such a Situation would not have had.

Q. How came you to say, ' to give you the Preference', when there was no Competition ?

A. Because, as the Service was to be performed, I did suppose some Person must be appointed to execute it, and any Person fixed upon would probably have undertaken the Office.

Q. Is the Office of Secretary to the Council a Sinecure, or an Office of a great deal of Employment ?

A. It was certainly an Office of very laborious Employment ; but a Circumstance happened regarding myself, which I shall take the Liberty to state. My Predecessor, Mr. Stuart, when appointed to the Office by the Government constituted under the Act of Parliament, was allowed 2,500 Sicca Rupees a Month, and that Allowance was referred to the Court of Directors, who tacitly approved of it. When I was appointed, the Allowance was reduced to 1,800 Rupees a Month, and I never drew any more. Latterly, I understand that it has been increased by Lord Cornwallis, to about 5,000 Rupees a Month.

Q. Who reduced it, when the Court of Directors had approved of a larger Salary to Mr. Stuart ?

A. I said, ' tacitly approved ;' it was reduced by the Board.

Q. What Board ?

A. The Governor General and Council.

Q. What Governor General and Council ?

A. Consisting of Mr. Hastings, General Clavering, Colonel Monson, Mr. Barwell, and Mr. Francis.

Q. Did Mr. Hastings object to the Reduction ?

A. I believe he did ; but I am not quite positive at this Distance of Time ; I think he did.

Q. Did Mr. Hastings reduce or consent to the Reduction of all the Salaries, whose Existence at a higher Rate had been tacitly approved of by the Court of Directors ?

A. No ; I believe not.

Q. Do you not know that Mr. Hastings actually augmented Salaries, without any tacit or other Approbation of the Court of Directors ?

The Counsel for the Defendant desired the Managers for the Commons to state to what Part of the Charge the Question applied.

The Managers for the Commons made Answer, ' to no Part of the Charge.'

Then the Counsel for the Defendant objected to the Question.

Then all the preceding Questions and Answers upon the Cross-examination, except the Two first, were read by the Clerk. (a)

The Counsel for the Defendant waived their Objection.

The Witness said,

A. I fear I am not understood as to the Meaning of the Word ' Reward.'

The Managers for the Commons desired the Witness might first answer the Question.

The Witness said,

A. Mr. Hastings and the Council augmented many Salaries. I mentioned the Reduction of my own as a Circumstance which made me consider the Agency as a Reward. It was never mentioned by the Board as a Reward for the Reduction of my Salary. The Reason they gave me for their appointing me, was the Confidence they placed in me.

Q. Whether do you know that Mr. Hastings gave it to you expressly upon the Idea of the former or present Incompetence of it to your Services?

A. I cannot really say what Motive might operate upon Mr. Hastings's Mind, but I am confident that he never mentioned my Salary at the Time.

Q. Whether you are quite sure of that?

A. I think I have said, I am as positive as I can be of any Thing at this great Distance of Time.

Q. Whether any Conversation passed between you and Mr. Hastings upon that Subject, previous to your having the Agency or Contract?

A. I have mentioned that some did pass, which I have stated.

Q. When, where, and what?

A. At the Board: I have stated it.

Then the following Question and Answer were read by the Clerk, viz.

' Q. (b) Whether, or no, you had any Conversation relative to the Terms of the Contract with Mr. Hastings before it appeared at the Board?

' A. There was some Conversation passed at the Board upon my suggesting it; in consequence of which Conversation I believe the last Paragraph of my Letter, offering to supply by Agency, was added. All the Members of the Board were pleased to pay me some Compliments, and to say, that they preferred an Agency in my Hands to a Contract.'

The Witness desired his Answer might stand " the Members" not " all the Members of the Board," as he was not sure whether all the Members were present at the Time.

Q. Whether there was any previous Conversation before that which took Place at the Board?

A. I believe I mentioned to Mr. Hastings my Intention to offer Proposals if he had no Objection, and he did approve of it—nothing more.

Q. When you say that somebody else must have had the same 15 per Cent.—how do you know that no Merchant or Trader of the Bazar would have undertaken it at a lower Commission?

A. I do not recollect I have said so.

Then the following Questions, before put to the Witness, and his Answers to the same, were read by the Clerk:

' Q. (c) Of what Services? Were they in the Way of Contract or Agency?

' A. Chiefly as Secretary to the Government.'

' Q. Then you got that Agency as a Reward for those Services;—are you to be so understood?

' A. I considered it as a Reward; but in this Light, as giving me a Preference to any other Person; not giving me any Advantage which another Person in such a Situation would not have had.'

Then the Witness said,

A. If any Person had been appointed Agent, it would of Course have been a Company's Servant, not a Merchant who was not in the Service. I cannot tell upon what Terms a Merchant would have undertaken it.

(a) Vide supra, Page 2309.

(b) Vide supra, ibid.

(c) Vide supra, ibid.

Q. Were

Q. Were any Means taken to ascertain on what Terms it might have been done ?

A. Not that I know of.

Q. What is the Amount of the Value of the Grain supplied by you ?

A. I cannot speak from Recollection ; but I believe it is mentioned in the Accountant General's Report that was delivered in to the Board.

Q. Who was Accountant General ?

A. Mr. Larkins.

Q. How did you account with Mr. Larkins ?

A. I sent my Accounts in to the Board, not to Mr. Larkins.

Q. Whether in this Business Mr. Larkins had no Audit of your Accounts, nor made any Observations upon them ?

A. Mr. Larkins had an Audit by Order of the Board, and made some Observations which are upon Record.

Q. Then you are to be understood contrary to what you said,—that you did account with Mr. Larkins ?

A. I sent my Accounts monthly to the Board, and the Board referred them to the Accountant General's Office.

Q. When the Accountant General passed your Account, did he demand, upon every Particular of these Accounts, Vouchers ?

A. He did not demand Vouchers ; and for the greatest Part of them no Vouchers existed, as I have already explained, because the Purchases were made almost daily in the Market for ready Money ;—and the Grain purchased was the only Voucher.

Q. Had you the Vouchers to identify that so much Grain was purchased with so much ready Money ?

A. Musters or Samples of the Grain were regularly brought to me or my Brother, and if we approved of the Quality and Price, we ordered the Purchase to be made, and the Quantity weighed off by our own People.

The Question was repeated.

A. I had no Voucher but the Grain itself ; that is what I meant to say.

Q. The Question is not what Voucher you had, but what Voucher was produced to Mr. Larkins when he made up the Accounts ?

A. I have said, none.

Q. Then you are to be understood that Mr. Larkins made up your Accounts without seeing Vouchers ?

A. Yes.

Q. Whether you believe that Mr. Hastings knew that your Accounts were made up by Mr. Larkins without Vouchers ?

A. I think Mr. Larkins, in his Report of Audit, mentioned that he had not called for Vouchers. Such Vouchers as I could have produced, I was always ready to have produced : I mean the Sums paid for Freight, for Sloops and Demurrage, and those incidental Services which admitted of them.

Q. Did Mr. Hastings see that Report, stated to be without Vouchers ?

A. I believe he did.

Q. Whether it was usual in Mr. Hastings's Government to receive Accounts without seeing the Vouchers ?

A. I believe not ; it is according to the Nature of the Office ; there are different Offices and different Departments.

Q. Whether you absolutely executed the Business yourself ?

A. I superintended the Execution of it by my Brother and my own Agents.

Q. Whether you did not purchase at Calcutta, and in the Country, a very considerable Part of this Grain ?

A. I purchased it almost all at Calcutta, except some few Articles that could not be procured at Calcutta, and for which my Brother wrote to an Acquaintance at Patna, but they were very trifling.

Q. When you purchased any Grain by your Agent, did you not check or controul the Accounts yourself in any Way ?

A. I have mentioned the Manner in which I checked and controuled them ; I saw the Musters and Samples and agreed to the Prices.

Q. Did

Q. Did they produce no Vouchers to you that they had actually purchased that Grain for such Quantities as you did not actually purchase yourself?

A. The Weighmen's Account of the Quantity weighed off duly, was the only Proof I had.

Q. How came you not to produce those Proofs which you had from your Agents when you accounted with Mr. Larkins?

A. Mr. Larkins called upon me for no Vouchers.

Q. You have said of your Accounts, that they were made up rather to your own Prejudice than to that of the Company; what do you mean by that?

A. I have in Part explained: I meant that the Grain was purchased by me sometimes a considerable while before it was charged to the Company, and the Wastage and Loss in the intermediate Time was mine, because I charged them only for the Quantities actually shipped.

Q. What Vouchers had you for that?

A. The Bills of Lading.

Q. Did you produce those Bills of Lading to Mr. Larkins?

A. They were sent in to the Board and forwarded by the Vessels to Madras, and Duplicates afterwards sent.

Q. Was you not appointed Agent for Supplies to the other Presidencies as well as Madras?

A. I was.

Q. At those Presidencies was there any Famine, or any Necessity for any very extraordinary Supply?

A. I never sent more to those Presidencies than they actually indented for.

Q. That is not the Question asked?

A. It appears to me to be an Answer.

Then the Question and Answer were read by the Clerk; and the Witness was asked,

Q. Were they in the Distress which Madras is stated to have been in?

A. I believe not; but they who were best acquainted with their own Wants did write for those Supplies to Bengal.

Q. The Question is not, whether they were demanded, but whether there reigned that Necessity which existed in Madras?

A. I have said, not.

Q. Whether you do not know there were Complaints from Bombay of the Supply?

A. I know that there were Complaints from Bombay of the high Rate of the Supply, but I know that after making those Complaints they wrote to have it continued.

Q. Did not the Court of Directors censure that Supply and the Terms of it?

A. They did; and after the Receipt of their Letter, the Agency was abolished.

Q. But not before the Court of Directors had testified their extreme Disapprobation?

A. The Agency was not abolished before; but the Governor General and Council wrote to Madras that they were willing to abolish the Agency, and to adopt any other Mode which they thought might tend more effectually to their Relief; and this was a considerable Time before it was abolished.

Q. Do you not know that the Court of Directors considered it as an unnecessary Expenditure of the Company's Money?

A. I can only tell or only judge how the Court of Directors considered it from the Terms of their Letter.

Q. Did not you charge Seven Rupees a Bag for this Supply of Rice sent to Bombay?

A. I do not recollect exactly what the Charge was.

Q. Whether you do not believe it came to that?

A. I fancy it did.

Q. Whether Five Rupees a Bag were not charged for Freight alone?

A. I seldom paid so much for Freight as private Merchants for their own Account; and I know that private Merchants paid Five Rupees and a Half and upwards, I believe, to Madras only, which is not above Half the Distance.

Q. The Question is, whether or no you did not charge Five Rupees per Bag for Freight only above the Seven?

A. No; I did not certainly.

Q. The Question is, whether the Whole of the Charges did not amount to Seven Rupees the Bag?

A. I imagine the Cost must have been about Two, and the Freight Five.

Q. Did

Q. Did not you charge a Commission as well upon the Freight and the Charges as upon the Prime Cost of the Commodity you bought at Bengal?

A. I did, until it was reduced; that was my Rule until it was reduced.

Q. Did Mr. Hastings reduce it of himself, and upon his own Motion?

A. It was reduced by the Board.

Q. Did Mr. Hastings propose the Reduction of it, and carry the Reduction of it or not, of his own Accord, from the Sense of the Impropriety of so enormous a Charge?

A. If he did, it will appear upon the Record.

Q. The Question is, de facto, you being Secretary of the Council and Contractor, whether Mr. Hastings did reduce the Agency himself?

A. He did not move the Reduction of it, I believe; I believe it was reduced in consequence of a Letter which I addressed to the Board while Mr. Hastings was up the Country, and it was taken into Consideration after Mr. Hastings's Return.

Q. Why did you charge it so high first, and reduce it afterwards?

A. I charged it according to the Rule established for me; and suggested the Reduction soon after my Return from Madras, in consequence of the great Increase of Freight, and I believe from some Conversation I had with Mr. Macpherson upon the Subject.

Q. What was your Conversation with Mr. Macpherson upon the Subject?

A. Mr. Macpherson told me the Commission was considered as high, and upon Charges particularly.

Q. Then it was Mr. Macpherson that suggested to you the Reduction, and not Mr. Hastings?

A. I came in the Ship from Madras with Mr. Macpherson, and I think it was either on Board the Ship, or soon after our Arrival; Mr. Hastings was at that Time up the Country.

Q. When was any Complaint received from Bombay relative to these excessive Charges?

A. I do not recollect the Date when, but I believe it was in 1781.

Q. Was not the Company in very great Distress for Want of Money at that Time?

A. The Distress for Money was very great at that Period of Time.

Q. Was there no Complaint from any of the Presidencies of the evil Quality, of the inferior Quality of the Rice?

A. I have stated it and explained it.

Q. Do you recollect, whether or no, Mr. Hastings did not personally declare to you, that this Post was intended as a Reward for your long and laborious Services which had hitherto been unprofitable to you, as your Income fell short of your necessary Expence in this former Period; and that when you obtained the Place of Secretary, the Board reduced the Salary from 2,500 Rupees per Month, to 1,800 Rupees, which was a Sum scarcely sufficient to maintain you in it with Credit? Did Mr. Hastings declare that to you?

A. That seems to be a Question from a Letter from me to the Board.

Q. Did Mr. Hastings ever declare so to you, or not?

A. I conclude he must have so stated it, if I have said so in that Letter; I do not at this Moment recollect the Circumstances particularly, or the Time.

Q. Do you recollect whether or not Mr. Hastings ever had Conversation with you to this Effect?

A. I believe he must have had Conversation to that Effect with me, because I stated something of that Kind when the Circumstance was more recent.

Q. The Question is, whether you mean to say you do, or not, recollect whether Mr. Hastings had some such Conversation with you, or not?

A. I cannot at this Moment recollect when that Conversation took Place or the Circumstances of it.

Then the following Question and Answer were read by the Clerk.

Q. (a) Whether you do not know that Mr. Hastings gave it you expressly upon the Idea of the former or present Incompetency of the Salary to your Services?

A. I cannot really say what Motive might operate upon Mr. Hastings's Mind, but I am confident that he never mentioned my Salary at the Time.

The Witnesses added to his former Answer as follows:

A. I cannot recollect that he did mention the Salary at that Time. I am pretty certain he did not mention the Salary at that Time.

Q. Whether, when you wrote to the Board, you wrote ‘that the Members of the Board at the same Time personally declared to you, that this Post was intended as a Reward for your long and laborious Services which had hitherto been unprofitable to you, as your Income fell short of your necessary Expence in this former Period; and that when you obtained the Place of Secretary, the Board reduced the Salary from 2,500 Rupees per Menssem, to 1,800, which was a Sum scarcely sufficient to maintain you in it with Credit?’ Do you recollect writing to that Effect?

A. I do recollect I did write to that Effect.

Q. How do you reconcile that which you then wrote, with the Confidence you now profess, that Mr. Hastings did not at that Time mention any Thing with respect to the Salary?

A. Because I believe some Conversation to that Effect must have taken Place soon after I received the Appointment; I am pretty certain it did not take Place at the Board, because the Business of the Council passed regularly without any Conversation of that Sort.

Q. The Letter being “The Members of the Board at the same Time personally declared to me this Post was intended as a Reward”—Why did you write, if you did write, that the Members of the Board at the same Time did personally declare so to you?

A. I certainly wrote so, and I think it might have been after Council, when Conversation was general. I am not certain as to that, when it took place.

Q. (By a Lord.) You said it was agreed you was to account upon Honour, and that has been the Practice since; is it usual when a Person is to account upon Honour to demand Vouchers, and whether that would not totally change the Nature of an Account upon Honour?

A. I believe it is not usual, and it is generally understood for those Offices where Vouchers are difficult if not impossible to be had for all the Expenditures.

The Witness was directed to withdraw.

To shew a similar Instance of accounting upon Honour in Lord Cornwallis's Time,

Read, from Book 524, the following Extract of a Consultation of the 6th November 1790, beginning at Page 135 of the same Book.

“Minute delivered in by the Governor General.

“As it is an Object of the first Importance to provide for the Draft of our Artillery, in the completest Manner, I propose to collect all the trained Draft Cattle from the different Stations within our Reach, either by Land or Water Conveyances, and to authorize the Purchase of any good, serviceable, and well-trained Hackney Bullocks that may be procureable, either at the Presidency, or at Muxadavad. My Object will be to obtain, at least, 1,000 Head of the best and most efficient Cattle, but, as we hardly hope to accomplish it, I propose, that any Deficiency shall be made up by young and new Cattle, to be purchased by Mr. Biddulph, who is now on the Spot at Purneah; and tho’ I am aware they will not become immediately useful, I am still in hopes, that by Exertion and Care in training them, they may be made serviceable in a short Time. I propose to make use of the Agency of Mr. Biddulph the Contractor at Purneah, and that he should employ his Agent Mr. Ritso at Berhampore. The Contractor's Agency will be made use of at the Presidency, but as the Cattle procured by Mr. Biddulph, over and above what he obtained to compleat the Establishment, will not fall within the Terms of his Contract, it will be proper, that some Gratuity should be given to the Contractor for his Agency in the Business, the Amount of which may be determined, when his Accounts, attested upon Honour, are given in. Die Martis, 28<sup>o</sup> Maij 1793.

THE Lords being in their Places, the House resumed, the usual Proclamations made, and the Defendant appearing at the Bar, the Lord Chancellor informed the Counsel for the Defendant, they might proceed in his Defence.

The Counsel for the Defendant stated, that the next Article of this Charge was the Contract made with Mr. Belli, alledged, to have been a new Office or Appointment created by the Defendant, namely, the Appointment of an Agent for the Supply of Stores and Provisions for the Garrison of Fort William in Bengal, for which Appointment no adequate Necessity did then exist; and that, in the Spirit of criminal Partiality to his own Favourites, he nominated and appointed to the said Agency Mr. Belli, who at that Time was, and did continue to be, his confidential and private Secretary:

As to which they should first shew, that a Depôt of Stores and Provisions for the Garrison of Fort William was a Measure proper at all Times, and under all Circumstances, and particularly so at the Time, and under the existing Circumstances, when it took Place, in the Instance in Question.

And the First Evidence they should produce would be a Document as early as the Year 1711.

Read from a separate Paper, indorsed as follows, " Draught of General Letter to Bengal, 28th December 1711, per Mary Marlborough Kent," the following Extract, beginning at Paragraph 81 of the same Letter.

The Natives have no Maritime Strength, and Provisions might be brought by Sea; but to prevent this, we would have you always well stored with Rice, &c. * Provisions for your own Occasions, as well as w<sup>t</sup> is annually required for ffort St George, and w<sup>h</sup> you must send them as often as you can, and as much as they write for; but at y<sup>e</sup> same Time be very careful that y<sup>e</sup> Salt Provisions you provide be good of their Kind, and well taken care of, for we hear some lately sent thither proved bad, and was, the greatest Part of it, forced to be thrown away, of w<sup>h</sup> you will hear more from Madras. * Sic in Orig.

To shew, that in November 1771 the Board of Calcutta directed Colonel, afterwards, Sir Archibald Campbell to commence the Works, and to make proper Magazines and Stores for a large Garrison; and that the Government should take such Measures for securing a Supply of necessary Provisions for the Place, as might be calculated for the Subsistence of a Garrison of 10,000 Men for Three Months; and that that every Article of Provision esteemed soon perishable should be sold every Six Months, and a fresh Supply laid in Store ;

The Counsel for the Defendant stated, they should next refer to the printed Minutes, Page 1410, to shew, that, at the Time of the Appointment of Mr. Belli, Mr. Francis agreed “ that it was proper in all Circumstances, and more particularly perhaps at that Juncture, that a Store of Provisions should be deposited at Fort William.”

To shew, that in 1785 the Directors and Board of Controul agreed in the Necessity of keeping a regular and continued Supply of Provisions at Fort William, to answer any particular Emergency,

Read, from Book 560, the following Extract of a General Letter, from the Court of Directors, to the Board at Bengal, dated 27th March 1787, beginning at Paragraph 76 of the same Letter.

“ 76. We have taken a View of your Proceedings since the Expiration of the Contract with Mr. Belli, relative to keeping up a Depot of Victualling Stores in the Garrison of Fort William; and most heartily concur with you in applauding the Conduct of Mr. Belli, whose Fidelity and Assiduity in the Discharge of his Duty is fully proved by the Circumstances brought forward to our Notice in the 63d Paragraph of your General Letter of the 10th December 1784.

“ 77. We agree with you in the Necessity of keeping a regular and continued Supply of Provisions at Fort William, to answer any particular Emergency; at the same Time we wish to render the same as little expensive as possible. We conceive that the Frugality or Exorbitancy of that Expence depends in a great Measure on the Mode in which those Supplies are provided. We see no Reason to doubt that the Measures you have taken, as stated in your different Letters and Consultations, have been directed to that Object; but as you observe that a Reduction of the former Expence in supplying Fort William with an annual Store of Provisions, can only be made by regular and gradual Experiments, we expect, now that you have had the Benefit of more Experience, and have examined the Subject to the Bottom, you have come to a Decision upon it, and will, with your first Convenience, report it to us, together with the Reasons which have induced you ultimately to form that Decision.

“ 78. One Observation it is impossible for us not to make, upon the Whole of what you have laid before us.—The Garrison Storekeeper is not only to receive a Commission of Eight per Cent. on furnishing the necessary Articles, but also a like Commission on such Stores as it may be deemed necessary to dispose of; we are therefore naturally led to ask, wherein is the Check established, either to prevent his not urging you to purchase, from Time to Time, a greater Quantity of Stores than may be really necessary, or in the proper Care of the Stores when purchased, so as that they may not be again disposed of on growing unserviceable, before it would be otherwise necessary so to do.

" 79. By this Observation, we do not mean to cast the most distant Reflection on the Conduct of your present Garrison Storekeeper, Mr. Plowden. We only wish to draw your Attention more closely to the Subject, which we hereby direct you to revise, with a Reference to our former Sentiments thereon, as contained in our General Letter of the 23d December, 1778: And, as the keeping a constant Supply of Provisions, sufficient for the Support of 3,000 Europeans, and 9,000 Native Troops for Three Months, must unavoidably be attended with no inconsiderable Expence, such a Mode must be adopted, whether by Contract or otherwise, as will confine that Expence within the narrowest Bounds, consistently with the Good of the Service to be performed.

To shew the Fitness of Mr. Belli for the Office, the Counsel for the Defendant stated, they should again refer to Mr. Francis's Minutes, in Page 1410 of the printed Minutes of Evidence, and also to the Minute of Sir Eyre Coote, in Page 1443 of the printed Minutes.

To shew, that the Provisions purchased by Mr. Belli sold for more than Mr. Belli had charged,

Read also, from Book 527, the following Extract of a Letter from the Governor and Council at Bengal, to the Directors, dated 10th December 1784, beginning at Paragraph 62 of the same Letter, and Page 288 of the same Book.

" Par. 62. The Contract for victualling the Garrison expiring on the 4th October last, we adverted to the Necessity of appointing a proper Person to receive Charge of the Depot; Mr. Belli was engaged thereby to make out the respective Periods on which the several Branches of it should be deliverable, and accordingly invested Mr. R. C. Plowden with this Charge, allowing him a Commission of Eight per Cent. on such Purchases and Sales as he might hereafter think proper to direct. For our Minutes, constituting this Appointment, we beg to refer you to our Consultations, 21st September 1784.

" 63. We have the Pleasure to acquaint you, that the First Sales took Place on the 2d instant, according to the Mode prescribed in the Consultation above referred to, and, in Justice to Mr. Belli, we deem it incumbent on us to state the Amount for which the above Articles were laid in by him, viz.

" Such an Instance of Integrity as is proved by the above Difference, which becomes a clear Profit to the Company, deserves our highest Encomium." (a)

To shew the Approbation of the Court of Directors, of Mr. Belli's Conduct,

Read, from Book 560, the following Extract of a Letter from the Court of Directors to the Governor General and Council at Bengal, in Answer to the above, dated 27th March 1787, beginning at Paragraph 76 of the same Letter.

" 76. We have taken a View of your Proceedings since the Expiration of the Contract with Mr. Belli, relative to keeping up a Depot of Victualling Stores in the Garrison of Fort William, and most heartily concur with you in applauding the Conduct of Mr. Belli, whose Fidelity and Assiduity in the Discharge of his Duty, is fully proved by the Circumstances brought forward to our Notice, in the 63 Par. of your General Letter of 10th December 1784.

The Counsel for the Defendant stated, that, as to the next Allegation of this Article, namely, the Commission allowed to Mr. Belli, stating, ' that notwithstanding the Dependant, at the Time of creating the Office, had consented to take the Opinion of respectable Merchants, in Calcutta, in order to ascertain the Rate of Commission proper to be allowed to the Agent; and, notwithstanding their Opinion was, that a Commission of Twenty Pounds per Cent. per Annum, would be fully sufficient; yet the said Defendant proposed, and by his own casting Voice granted Mr. Belli, a Commission of Thirty Pounds: They should First shew, that other Papers were delivered in at the same Time to the Board with the Report of the Merchants, and the Proceedings of the Board thereupon.

Read, from Book 39, the following Extract of a Consultation of the 7th November, 1776, beginning at Page 462 of the same Book.

“ Honble. Sir, and Sirs,

“ Ordered, that these Accounts be kept for the Reference of the Board.

“ Ordered also, that this Subject lie for Consideration, and, in the mean Time, that the Commanding Officer in Garrison visit the Stores and Provisions which are now remaining of the Stock laid up by the Store-keeper of Garrison Provisions, and that he report the actual Quantity and State of the same, with an Estimation of their present Value, for the Information of the Board. (a)

(Signed) “ Warren Hastings,

The Counsel for the Defendant stated, they should next refer to the printed Minutes, Page 1417, to shew, that, from various Causes, there had been a Loss of above Ninety per Cent, during the Two Years it was under the Management of those who had the Appointment before Mr. Belli.

As to the next Allegation of the Charge, that the Defendant engaged to be answerable to the Council for as much of the said Commission as the Court of Directors should disapprove of,

The Counsel for the Defendant stated, they should shew that the Defendant, in common with the rest of the Council, was not guilty of any Disobedience of the Company's Orders, in suffering Mr. Belli to retain the full Profits of his Agency; the Court of Directors having ordered the Amount beyond 20  $\frac{1}{2}$  Cent to be paid back upon a Calculation made by General Clavering, of what those Profits would amount to at 20  $\frac{1}{2}$  Cent, whereas in Fact they fell short of nearly One Half of what General Clavering had calculated; in consequence of which the Board unanimously, Mr. Francis acquiescing, referred the Subject back to the Court of Directors for their further Consideration; who, on further Consideration, suffered Mr. Belli to detain the Profits of his Agency such as they were.

For which Purpose they would First refer to a Letter from the Court of Directors, 28th December 1778, (b) in the printed Minutes of Evidence, Pages 1437-8.

“ Read, a Letter from Mr. Belli as follows.

“ To I. P. Auriol Esquire.

“ Sir,

“ Fort William 20th December 1779.

“ I have received your Letter conveying to me the Extracts relating to my Agency, from the General Letter, dated 23d December 1778, and the Governor General and Council's Commands to answer them ; in Obedience to which I request, Sir, that you will acquaint the Honble. Governor General and Council that my Accounts, which I hope to be allowed some Time to examine, my immediate Attention to them for several Months having been prevented by Sicknefs, and by Absence from Calcutta for the Benefit of a Change of Air, shall be laid before them as soon as possible.

“ At the same Time I request you will, Sir, inform the Governor General and Council, that had I imagined it possible a Demand could have been made upon me to refund any Part of my Profits, or which I esteem the same Thing, that the Governor General could not have been subjected to a Penalty which the Terms of my Agency do not really enable me to indemnify him from, I would not have accepted of the Commission, which indeed was given to me without any Clause to such Effect alluded to in it.

“ As to undertaking the Remainder of the Duty for less than the Agreement to which I am bound, it is not in my Power to consent to it. I have met with too many and severe Misfortunes to enable me to undertake the Risks I run, for less than the Conditions on which I have ventured to hazard them.

“ I beg Leave to trouble you also, Sir, to acquaint the Honble. Board, that before I send in my Accounts I can assure them on my Honour, the Estimate made by General Clavering is so greatly exaggerated, that the whole Profits of my Agency, which I have held now near Three Years with a Commission of 30  $\frac{1}{2}$  Cent. has fallen Short of what the General asserted they would have been at 20  $\frac{1}{2}$  Cent. only, by nearly One Moiety.

“ As the Honourable Court of Directors have asserted with the General's Estimate before them that I should retain the Commission at 20  $\frac{1}{2}$  Cent. which, adopting as they do the General's Reasons, they must have imagined would be nearly double my actual Profits on the 30  $\frac{1}{2}$  Cent. surely they can have no Reason to require that the Profits I have received be refunded, or those which I am to receive should be diminished, as all their Deductions proceed on a speculative Estimate which has turned out in Fact to be erroneous.

“ I have the Honour to be, &c.

The Counsel for the Defendant stated, that they would next refer to a Letter and Account sent to the Board, already given in Evidence by the Managers for the Commons, in the printed Minutes of Evidence, Page 1438 to 1442, to shew that Mr. Belli's actual Profits in Three Years were no more than One Lack 2,000 Rupees.

The Counsel for the Defendant stated, that Mr. Francis and the Board unanimously referred the Matter back to the Court of Directors ; and they should next call Mr. Hudson to shew, that they did not repeat the Orders for Mr. Belli to refund.

The Witness was asked,

Q. Have the Court of Directors issued any Order since the Reference made in the Year 1780 by the Board, with respect to their former Order for Mr. Belli to refund, and that such Order as was originally given should be carried into Execution ?

A. They never have.

Cross-examined by the Managers for the Commons.

Q. Do you know at what Time the Court of Directors took this Matter into Consideration?

A. I do not understand they did take it into Consideration.

The Witness was directed to withdraw.

Then Major SCOTT was again called in, and examined as follows.

Q. Do you know whether Mr. Belli is at this Time in England?

A. No, he is not.

Q. Is he returned to India?

A. He is, in the Course of this Season.

Cross-examined by the Managers for the Commons.

Q. Do you know when Mr. Belli came to England?

A. Mr. Belli came to England in the Year 1785, and remained in England at the Desire of Mr. Hastings, in order to give Evidence upon this Trial, upon an Idea that he would have been called long ago. He remained beyond the Period prescribed by Law to return, without the Consent of the Court of Proprietors in Addition to that of the Court of Directors; and the Court of Proprietors and Court of Directors unanimously restored him to the Company's Service.

Q. Whether any Application was made to the Managers that Mr. Belli should be examined previous to Mr. Hastings's Defence?

A. Not that I know of.

Q. When did Mr. Belli depart from England?

A. He sailed I think in the William Pitt about Six Weeks ago.

Q. When did the William Pitt sail?

A. I am not certain.

Q. When did the Vessel sail in which Mr. Belli went?

A. I do not know, I rather think she remained Six Weeks for Convoy at Portsmouth.

Q. Do you know that any Application was made to this Court for Mr. Belli's Attendance, in order to save him from the Penalties which he might have incurred from remaining beyond his Time?

A. Not that I know of.

Q. You said Mr. Belli had waited a considerable Time with a View to be examined at Mr. Hastings's Trial; whether you know that when Mr. Belli came to England his Intention was to return to India?

A. I cannot very well answer that Question; if my Opinion is wished I will give it; I believe the Case to be that Mr. Belli had a very moderate Fortune and an Increase to his Family every Year, which made him desirous to return.

The Witness was directed to withdraw.

Then Mr. WRIGHT was called in, and being sworn, was examined as follows:

Q. In the Report of the Accomptant General the Average Price of Rice, sent by Mr. Auriol, is stated in Current Rupees, but the Account was entered in Sicca Rupees; what is the relative Value between Sicca and Current Rupees?

A. One hundred Sicca Rupees are equal to One hundred and Sixteen Current Rupees.

Q. How many Maunds are there in a Bag of Rice?

A. I believe the usual Quantity in a Bag is Two Maunds.

Q. Whether you have made out any Account, from Paymasters and other Accounts, of the Average Number of Bullocks that were employed from February 1781, to January 1782?

A. I have made out such Account.

Q. What is the Average Number from February 1781, to January 1782?

A. The Average Number employed in that Time was 10,504 per Month.

(Cross-examined.)

Q. When did you leave Calcutta?

A. I never was in Calcutta.

Q. From what Information do you speak of the Number of Maunds of Rice, the Quantity generally put into a Bag?

A. I speak only from what appears in the Consultations.

Q. What Knowledge have you of the Difference between the Current and Sicca Rupees?

A. My Knowledge arises merely from the Accounts received annually from India.

Re examined by Counsel.

Q. What Province do you fill—What is your Office?

A. Auditor of the India Accounts.

Q. Is it necessary, in the Course of the Duty of that Situation, to be acquainted with the Difference between Current and Sicca Rupees?

A. Certainly, as that Difference is stated in the Accounts received.

Q. Is it a Matter of any Sort of Doubt, what is the relative Value of those Two distinct Species of Coin?

A. It appears to be the general Rate of Exchange, at which all the Accounts are computed, all that state Sicca Rupees.

The Witness was directed to withdraw.

The Counsel for the Defendant stated, they would next produce several Documents which were omitted to be delivered in Yesterday, upon the Subject of the Bullock Contract.

To shew the Complement of Cattle requisite for the Military and Ordnance Stores, and that it constitutes but a small Part of the Quantity of Bullocks necessary to accompany an Army in India,

The Counsel for the Defendant stated, they should next proceed to shew the bad Policy of advertizing, and letting to the lowest Bidder, a Contract of this Importance.

Read, from Book 725, the following Extract of the Proceedings of Military Board of the 10th June, 1791, beginning at Page 162 of the same Book.

Earl Cornwallis, K. G. Governor General and Commander in Chief, absent on the Public Service.

“ I feel a Degree of Reluctance, and much Diffidence in offering my Sentiments (which in Reality are Objections) on the Subject of a Bullock Contract; but, solely actuated by my Wishes for the Good of the Service, and the present Advertisement for a New Contract affording, through the Medium of the Board, a just Opportunity for offering an Opinion, I rely on the Justice and Liberality of the Supreme Board for my Excuse for the Freedom of Remarks which proceed from such a Motive.

“ It has long appeared to me as a capital Defect in the General System of our Army Establishment, the giving the Draught and Carriage Cattle, or, in other Words, the Transportation of all the Artillery and Military Stores, and, ultimately, the Operations of the Campaign and its Consequences to a Contractor, who, tho' a Gentleman of the highest Honour and greatest Rectitude, feels himself as a Contractor no otherwise bound than by the Penalties affixed to his Breach of Contract, and when it is probable it will be more his Interest, upon a Call of Emergency, to forfeit rather than to fulfill his Engagements tho' subject to a heavy Penalty.

“ That this Branch of the Military Service has for Years past been conducted by Contract, and without any very great Evil or Complaint arising from the Mode, as practised on this Establishment, proves nothing, to my Judgement, in Favour of the System. We have been mostly at Peace here, and the Defects of the Plan have passed unnoticed, or little attended to; a sudden and unexpected War, whilst it proves the Defects, may leave us only to lament the Misfortune.

Report says, that, in the present War in the Carnatic, some Evil has arisen from the Cattle Contract. I mean not to strengthen or support this Rumour, which, if a Truth, must be known to Government, whose Wisdom will prevent the like in future; but I cannot dispossess myself of the Belief that there were some Grounds for Disappointment from the Contract, and it has added to my former Objections to this Mode of supplying the Cattle, which appears to me to possess but One Advantage, that of determining in some Measure the Expence, against many solid Objections; and this Advantage is lost, when we reflect that Government, from the Experience of Expence, may readily ascertain what the Cost ought and would be, if the Business was conducted by their own Servants, over whom they have an unlimited Controul and Power of forcing a just and proper Obedience and Attention, whilst his * Hopes of Honour, Rank, and Advantage, would rest upon the faithful Discharge of the Trust reposed in him.* In One Word, I see little Difference between contracting for the Army at large, and the Spring by which the Army is to move, I mean the Artillery Draft and Carriage Bullocks. " Mil<sup>d</sup> And<sup>d</sup> Gen<sup>l</sup>.—I think it is about Twenty Years since I communicated to the late Colonel Muir Sentiments coinciding with those in the Introductory Part of Major Dyer's Minute. I have often examined the Opinion, and I see strong Arguments for and against it. The Subject is of very great Importance to the State; and when the Right Honourable the Commander in Chief shall have Leisure to communicate to Government the Result of the Observations derived from his Experience and Discernment, the Supreme Board will have such clear and well grounded Information, as will enable them to determine to which System decided Preference should be given. In the mean Time, without hazarding a final Opinion, I will venture to state the Mode that has sometimes occurred to myself, as the best for obviating the Objections which have been presented to my own Mind on both Sides of the Question; namely, that this Service should be executed by Contract, rejecting without Hesitation every Proposal of any Man who should offer to take it on Terms so low as to be obviously inadequate, and concluding the Contract with one or more Men of respectable Characters on liberal yet unextravagant Terms. But instead of making this Contract for a fixed Number of Years, or leaving it transferrable to Executors, Administrators, or Assigns, a Clause should be inserted in it, expressly declaring, that the Government might put an End to the Contract, whenever they should think proper, upon a Notice of Months, taking the serviceable authorized Stock off the Contractor's Hands at a fair Valuation. By these Means the Expence would be defined, and kept within reasonable Limits, which are the great Objects of the Company in their System of Contracts; and the Contractor would be bound to the faithful Discharge of his Duty to the Publick by the strongest Ties, his Credit and Interest; because he would be sensible that the Continuance of his Profits would depend entirely on his good Conduct, and that his Dismission for Misbehaviour would be marked with Disgrace. "On this Occasion we shall find it indispensably necessary to depart from One of those systematic Principles which ought, I allow, to regulate the Public Expenditure in every Public Case; nothing indeed but the most pressing Exigency ought, at any Time, to induce even slight or temporary Relaxation from the Rules which have been used to guide us in this Department of Government. It must be so evident however, that there is not in the present Conjuncture a Possibility of our calculating, with any Precision, what, where, and when Supplies will be required from hence; and it must, in Consequence, be so manifest, that Contracts for such uncertain Supplies cannot be entered into without great Hazard to the public Service, that I have not a Doubt of the most liberal Allowance being made for any Irregularities in the Mode of providing Supplies, which existing Emergency, and our Zeal to promote that Service, may lead us into. The Counsel for the Defendant informed the House, that they had now closed their Evidence on the Defence to the Fourth Article of Charge.

The Counsel for the Defendant stated, that the Managers having given in Evidence certain Documents to shew the Opinion that was entertained by the Inhabitants of India upon Mr. Hastings's Conduct in general, and others to shew his Mal-administration; they proposed to give in Evidence several Letters, transmitting certain Representations from the Natives of India, expressing a very different Sense of his Government.

The Managers for the Commons desired to know from whom the Documents came.

The Counsel for the Defendant stated, that they came through the Channel of the Court of Directors, being Part of a Communication made to them by the Government of Bengal.

The Managers for the Commons stated, that they made no Objection to the Production of them, but desired to know how the Signatures were obtained.

The Counsel for the Defendant informed the House, they would first read an Extract of a Letter from the Governor General and Council at Bengal, dated 6th of November 1788.

Read, from Book 672, the following Extract of a General Letter from the Governor General and Council at Fort William in Bengal, to the Court of Directors, dated 6th November 1788, beginning at Paragraph 309 of the same Letter.

"Par. 309. Four several Addresses from the principal Native Inhabitants of Benares, to your Honourable Court, declaring their Sentiments of Mr. Hastings, were submitted to us by Mr.

(a) Vide supra Appendix, N<sup>o</sup> CCCXCIX.

George Thompson, late Secretary to Mr. Hastings, at the Request of Ally Ibrahim Cawn, the Chief Judicial Magistrate of that City, with the Correspondence which had passed with him on the Subject of them.

" 310. It appeared from the Tenor of this Correspondence that a Deputation of the Inhabitants of Benares had expressed their Wishes, through Ally Ibrahim Cawn, to wait upon your Resident Mr. Duncan with these Addresses, as the regular Official Channel of Communication, but that Mr. Duncan had declared it was unnecessary for the Inhabitants to attend him with the Addresses, as they did not concern the Company's Affairs.—Under these Circumstances they were forwarded to Mr. Thompson, as the Attorney and Friend of Mr. Hastings, with a Request that he would lay them before the Governor General in Council, and take the necessary Steps for their being translated and transmitted to Europe.

" 311. In Compliance with Ally Ibrahim Cawn's Solicitation, Mr. Thompson submitted these Papers to us, as before recited, requesting that they might be translated and forwarded to you in due Time; and under a Supposition that the Company would not be averse to receive, from its Native Subjects and Allies, the publick Declaration of their Sentiments, upon a Question of so much Importance to their Happiness, and to the Credit of the English Nation, as the Conduct of Mr. Hastings, during his long Government, Mr. Thompson further requested, that he might be permitted to receive the Suffrages which the Native Inhabitants of the Company's Possessions were desirous of conveying to the Court of Directors, as their Sense of Mr. Hastings's Merits; and that the Judges, Collectors, and Residents might be informed that he had obtained such Permission, or that they were themselves at Liberty to receive and transmit to us any Testimonies relative to Mr. Hastings, that might be tendered to them by or on the Part of the Native Inhabitants.

" 312. With these Requests from Mr. Thompson we complied, having qualified our Orders to the Judges, Collectors, and Residents, in the following Terms: ' That the Liberty accorded ' was merely to receive and transmit Testimonials when offered; but that they were not ' to deduce any Inference from it, that they were authorized to exercise any further Interference.'

" 313. The Addresses above mentioned, with Translations, and various other Addresses, &c. from the Nabob Vizier and his Ministers, from the Nabobs of Furruckabad, and these Provinces, also from the principal Zemindars of Dinagapore, Boglepore, &c. &c. &c. according to a List which accompanies them, attend you in the present Dispatch.

(Signed at the End) " Cornwallis,
Cha' Stuart,
J. Shore."

Then the Witnesses produced several other Papers.

The Managers for the Commons stated, that in respect of the Papers now tendered, they should leave it to the Consideration of the House, whether the same were admissible.

The Counsel for the Defendant stated, that independant of other Grounds they tendered them upon the Ground of a Consent given by the Managers for the Commons, by a Promise made so long ago as the Year 1789, and submitted whether it would be proper for them therefore, to argue upon their Admissibility.

The Managers for the Commons stated, they had no Objection, and would leave it to the House.

N<sup>o</sup> 1. Copy of Letter from Mr. Thompson, dated 27th March 1788.

To Earl Cornwallis, K. G. Governor General, &c.

Fort William, 27th March 1788.

My Lord,

The principal Native Inhabitants of Benares, having in four several Addresses to the Honourable Company declared their Sentiments of Mr. Hastings, were desirous of delivering the Addresses to Mr. Duncan, the Resident at that Place, in order that he might forward them to the Governor General in Council, and that they might be so transmitted to the Court of Directors. To this End, Ally Ibrahim Khawn, the Chief Judicial Magistrate at Benaris, wrote to Mr. Duncan, requesting that he would appoint a Time when a Deputation of the Inhabitants might attend him with the Addresses: Mr. Duncan returned for Answer to Ally Ibrahim Khawn, that as the Addresses did not concern the Company's Affairs, it was unnecessary that the Inhabitants should either come or send to him; under these Circumstances, Ally Ibrahim Khawn, at the Instance of the Parties who had signed the Addresses, forwarded them to me, in order that I might present them to the Governor General in Council, for the Purpose of being transmitted to England.

The Circumstances, as I have here stated them, will appear from Ally Ibrahim Khawn's Letter to Mr. Duncan's Answer, and Ally Ibrahim Khawn's Letter to me, Copies and Translations of which I take the Liberty of enclosing, N<sup>o</sup> 1.

In compliance with the Requisition which I have thus received, I have now the Honor to lay before your Lordship the several Persian Papers mentioned in the enclosed List, N<sup>o</sup> 2; and as well on the Part of the Native Inhabitants of Benaris as of Mr. Hastings, most earnestly to request that your Lordship will be pleased to order that the said Persian Papers may be translated into English by the proper Officers, and with the Translations transmitted to the Court of Directors by the next Ship.

As I humbly conceive that the Honourable Company will not be averse to receiving from its Native Subjects and Allies the public Declaration of their Sentiments upon a Question of so much Importance to their Happiness, and to the Credit of the English Nation, as the Conduct of Mr. Hastings during his long Government; and as I understand that the principal Native Inhabitants throughout the Company's Possessions are desirous of conveying to the Court of Directors their Sense of Mr. Hastings's Merits, I take the Liberty of requesting that I may be permitted to receive their Suffrages, and that the Gentlemen who act as Judges, Collectors, or Residents under the Presidency of Fort William, may be officially informed that I have obtained such Permission; and that they have Authority to transmit to the Governor General in Council any Testimonies relative to Mr. Hastings, which may be tendered to them for that Purpose, by or on the Part of the Native Inhabitants of their respective Districts.

I have the Honor to be,

My Lord,

Your Lordship's

most devoted and obedient humble Servant,

N<sup>o</sup> 2. First Enclosure in Mr. Thompson's Letter.

Translation of a Letter from Ally Ibrahim Khawn, the Chief Judicial Magistrate at Benares, to Jonathan Duncan, Esquire, the Resident at that Place.

The Inhabitants of this City have prepared, under their Seals and Signatures, several Addresses relative to the beneficent and honourable Mr. Hastings.—They wish to send to you certain Persons on their Part with the said Addresses, and to deliver to you a Petition to this Effect; viz. Be pleased, in your Kindness, to forward these Addresses to the Presence of the Right Honourable Earl Cornwallis, to whom be lasting Prosperity, and to the Honourable Gentlemen of his Council in Calcutta, who having graciously caused them to be translated by the Translators of the Company, will (it is requested) be pleased to forward them to the Honourable Directors in England, as has been already fully represented to you by Beneram Pundit. Whenever you shall be pleased to appoint, the said Persons will attend you, and present the said Addrefs.

Translation of Mr. Duncan's Answer to Ally Ibrahim Khawn.

Usual Compliments.

Your Letter, informing me that the Inhabitants of the City have prepared, under their Seals and Signatures, several Addresses relative to Mr. Hastings, and are desirous that certain Persons should come to me with the said Addresses, and a Request that I will forward them to his Lordship in Council, has been received. As the Addresses have no Connection with the Business of the Company, there is no Necessity that they (the Inhabitants) should come or send to me.—Let them do what they think proper. What more? &c.

Translation of a Letter from Ally Ibrahim Khawn to Mr. Thompson.

The usual Compliments.

The Inhabitants of the Town of Benaris having prepared several Addresses, under their Seals and Signatures, relative to Mr. Hastings, were desirous that certain of the Inhabitants should carry the Addresses, and deliver them to Mr. Duncan, in order that he might in his Kindness forward them to the Council in Calcutta, and request, in Behalf of the Inhabitants, that the benevolent Gentlemen of the Council, having caused the Addresses to be translated by the Translator of the Company, the Center of Prosperity, would send both the Originals and the Translations to England, to the Presence of the Honourable the Directors. I accordingly wrote to Mr. Duncan, he sent for Answer, that as the Addresses had no Relation to the Business of the Company, it was therefore unnecessary that they (the Inhabitants) should come or send to him.—This you will understand from the Copies which I send enclosed of my Letter on this Occasion to Mr. Duncan, and of his Answer. As you are the Attorney and the Friend of Mr. Hastings, they have therefore sent the Addresses to you—They will be delivered to you by Mirza Ally Nukky Khawn Behadre.—It is desired that you will deliver them to the Honourable the Gentlemen of the Council, and take such Steps that they may be translated and sent to England. What more? &c.

N° 4. Resolutions of the Right Honourable the Governor General in Council, on Mr. Thompson's Letter, 31st March 1788.

Resolutions on Mr. Thompson's Letter, in Consultation 31st March 1788.

The Governor General in Council, having considered the Request made by Mr. Thompson, does not conceive himself authorized to preclude Mr. Thompson, as the Attorney to Mr. Hastings, collecting the Suffrages of the Natives, or to reject an Application founded in common Justice, and therefore resolves to admit it, so far as to authorize the Officers of Government to receive Representations from the Natives, expressive of their Sense of Mr. Hastings's Conduct towards them, and to transmit them, if tendered, to the Secretary, with respect to these Testimonials.

The Governor General in Council deems it wholly unnecessary to record any Opinion upon a Subject with which he has no Concern or Interference.

Ordered, That the following Circular Letters be written to the Collectors, Judges, and Residents :

Mr. Matthew Dawson, Collector of Moorshedabad.

Sir,

Mr. Thompson, who appears to be one of Mr. Hastings's Attorneys, understanding that the principal Native Inhabitants of the Company's Territories are desirous of bearing Testimony to the Merits of Mr. Hastings, has addressed the Governor General in Council, requesting that he may be permitted to receive their Suffrages, and that the Judges, Collectors, or Residents under this Presidency, may have Authority to transmit to the Governor General in Council any Testimonies relative to Mr. Hastings, which may be tendered to them for that Purpose, by or on the Part of the Native Inhabitants of their respective Districts; with this Request the Governor General in Council has been pleased to comply; and I have therefore to inform you, that should any such Addresses be tendered to you by or on the Part of the Native Inhabitants within your District, you are at Liberty to receive and forward them to me. The Liberty now accorded is merely to receive and transmit Testimonials when offered; and you are not to deduce any Inference from it that you are authorized to exercise any further Interference in this Business.

A.

Papers received the 27th April 1788, and translated pursuant to an Order from the Governor General in Council, dated 27th April 1788.

Translation of an Address marked A. under the Seals as under-written :

All we, residing, born, or on a Visit at Benares, whether of the Hindoo Religion, or Followers of Ma'omet, have heard that the Gentlemen in England are displeased with Mr. Hastings, on Suspicion that he oppressed us Inhabitants of this Place, took our Money by Deceit and Force, and ruined the Country; therefore we, upon the Strength of our Religion and Religious Tenets, which we hold as a Duty upon us, and in order to act conformable to the Decrees of God in delivering Evidence, relate the praiseworthy Actions, full of Prudence and Rectitude, Friendship and Politeness, of Mr. Hastings, possessed of great Abilities and Understanding; and by representing Facts, remove the Doubts that have possessed the Minds of the Gentlemen in England, that Mr. Hastings distributed Protection and Security to Religion, and Kindness and Peace to us all.—He is free from the Charge of Embezzlement and Fraud, and his Heart is void of Covetousness and Avidity; during the Period of his Government no one experienced from him other than Protection and Justice, never having felt Hardships from him nor did the Poor ever know the Weight of an oppressive Hand from him. Our Characters and Reputations have been always guarded in Quiet from Attack, by the Vigilance of his Prudence and Foresight, and preserved by the Terror of his Justice.—He never omitted the smallest Instance of Kindness and Goodness towards us and those entitled to it, but always applied by Soothings and Mildness the Salve of Comfort to the Wounds of Affliction, not allowing a single Person to be overpowered by Despair.—He displayed his Friendship and Kindness to all.—He destroyed the Powers of Enemies and wicked Men by the Strength of his Terror.—He tied the Hands of Tyrants and Oppressors by his Justice, and by this Conduct he secured Happiness and Joy to us.—He re-established the Foundation of Justice; and we at all Times during his Government lived in Comfort, and passed our Days in Peace.—We are many many of us satisfied and pleased with him.—As Mr. Hastings was perfectly well acquainted with the Manners and Customs of these Countries, he was always desirous of performing that which would tend to the Preservation of our Religion and of the Duties of our Sects, and guard the Religious Customs of each from the Effects of Misfortunes and Accidents.—In every Sense he treated us with Attention and Respect. We have represented without Deceit what we have ourselves seen, and the Facts that happened from him.

Translation of a Paper marked B.

The Persian Translation of a Paper, written by the Maharatta Nagur, and every other Set of Pundits and Bramins, under their Signatures, in the Shanscrit Language and Deonagur Characters. —We, who are Inhabitants and Residents in the Country and City of Benares, declare, That we are pleased and satisfied with the Conduct and Kindness of Mr. Hallings;—First, For his Exertions for the Prosperity of Caashy (Benaris) the Residence of Bisheherjee, and the principal Place of Worship of all the Hindoos of Hindostan.—Secondly, For the Ease and Credit we experienced during his Government.—Thirdly, Because formerly there were great Oppressions committed by Gunga Puthan (Brahmins who officiate in the Duties of Religion) on the Pilgrims; on which Account few Pilgrims came: These he removed, and consequently the Number of Pilgrims is now increased from all Parts of Hindostan; this Treatment was never before experienced —Fourthly, He appointed the Nawaub Ally Ibrahim Cawn for the Protection and Administration of Justice in this City, because this Magistrate possessed Abilities, is just and disinterested. He inserted in the Regulations delivered to him, that the Decision of Disputes between Hindoos or Mahomedans must be made according to the respective Religious Tenets. If Mahomedans, according to the Rites of Islam; and nominated learned Men to expound the Laws of the Khoran—If Hindoos, agreeable to the Shaftah; and appointed Pundirs to lay down the Rules of it. And he also provided in the Regulations for the Peace and Quiet of us. This Magistrate exerts himself for our Peace, and has stop all Taxes, Bribery, or other Expence, during his Administration; and we enjoy, during his Administration, more Quiet than during those of Rajah Bulwant Sing and Rajah Cheyte Sing.—Fifthly, That during the Time he resided in Benaris, Mr. Hastings treated us all, on a Visit to him, with Kindness and Respect, according to the respective Rank of each; and pleased every one with his best Ability, and at all Times was anxious for our Happiness.—Sixthly, For erecting, at his own Expence, a Nabut Khana (a Place for a Kind of Drum) at the Door of the Temple of Bishehur, which is the Place of Worship of all Hindostan.—Seventhly, That at no Time did he omit any Particular tending to the Protection of the Inhabitants of this City; with respect to us, that he never was interested, nor ever was desirous of Detriment or Injury towards us. We have represented, with Sincerity and Truth, what pleasing and proper Conduct Mr. Hastings observed towards us. The Fame of the King and Company are spread through Indostan; and we, who have experienced Comfort and Ease, offer up our Prayers for the Prosperity of His Majesty, and the Success of the Company.

Translation of the Paper marked C.

The Persian Translation of Paper written by the Bengal Pundits in the Shawserit Language under their Signatures. Representation from the Inhabitants of the City of Benaris, and Pilgrims of the Country, to the King of England and the Company.—We are satisfied with the Conduct and Friendship of Mr. Hastings; during his Residence in this Country he always interested himself in our Welfare, and in the Protection of our Reputation and Credit. As from the Effects of Mr. Hastings's Kindness, we reside in the City of Benaris with Comfort and Ease, and the Promoters of Disturbances are severely punished; many People come from all Quarters to reside here in consequence of knowing of this Happiness. He has appointed the Nawaub Ally Ibraim Cawn, from a Conviction of his Understanding, Prudence, Fear of God, and Disinterestedness, to protect the good and to punish the bad Men, and to adjust the Causes between Mahomedans according to Koran, and between Hindoos according to the Shastar; and Ally Ibrahim Cawn possessed those Virtues, and acts conformable to their Precepts; and in consequence thereof our Protection and Safety is greater than during the Government of former Rajahs. When Mr. Hastings came to Benaris, every Person who went to see him were received with Attention and Respect, according to their Rank. And in order to please God (Bishwisher) and to secure eternal Protection, he established the Nubut at his own great Expence on the Door of the Temple of Bishwisher. During the Time

Time of his Residence in these Provinces, he cherished us as his Children. He did not in the least Instance occasion any Injury towards us. On these Accounts we have always lived in Peace; and the King of England, who is our Protector and the Guardian of the Poor, and the Company, have gained great Fame, and we pray for their Prosperity.—This is the Representation of the Inhabitants of Benaris.

Translation of the Paper marked D.

The Persian Translation of a Paper, written by the Noputty Bankers, Merchants, and others, under their Signatures, in the Hindoo Language, and Guzzerratty Characters.

We are Merchants, Bankers, and Residents in Benaris; and represent, with Faith and Truth, that Mr. Hastings never plundered any Man's Property, never injured any one's Character or Reputation, never received any Bribe, never possessed any Man's Territory or Property by Deceit, nor ever ruined the Country; but, on the contrary, laboured at the Prosperity and Satisfaction of all Mankind, pleased every one by his Kindness and Affability, appointed a Man of respectable Character for the Protection of the City, and to administer Justice in it, gave his Assistance for the Promulgation of the Tenets of the Mahomedan and Hindoo Religions, and held a Conduct pleasing and satisfactory.—As Mr. Hastings was possessed of Abilities, and acquainted with the Customs of Hindostan to a great Degree, he pleased every Sect with his superior Manners; he was in the highest Sense desirous of Justice and Protection of the Ryotts; we were very much pleased, and happy at his Conduct.—We have represented what we knew.

To Edward Hay, Esquire, Secretary to the Government.

Sir,
His Highness the Nabob Mobarek ul Dowla has sent me the accompanying Papers, relating, as he informs me, to Mr. Hastings, desiring I will immediately forward them to the Right Honourable the Governor General.

I have numbered them 1 and 2; and am,

Sir,

Your most obedient, humble Servant,
(Signed) PETER SPEKE,

Papers received 16th February 1788, and translated, pursuant to an Order from the Governor General in Council, dated 27th April 1788, marked F.

It is written for the Information and Knowledge of the Gentlemen in Power under the King and Company of England, that we have at this Time learnt by the News from Europe, that a few Persons, not being fully acquainted with the real State and Customs of this Country, have represented Matters with respect to Mr. Hastings contrary to Truth and Fact, have thrown the Minds of the Ministers and People of England into a State of Doubt, and having injured Mr. Hastings, and aspersed his Character. As Mr. Hastings, from the Time of his Arrival until his Departure, administered the Affairs of this Country with great Propriety and Splendour; always sought the Prosperity and Welfare of the Family of Nawaub Meer Mahomed Jaffer Khan, deceased, according to the Purport of the Treaties and Engagements; laboured for the Satisfaction, for the Preservation of the Character and Honour of every one, according to his Rank and Station; and avoided every Circumstance which could occasion us Distress or Indignity, we were and are pleased and satisfied with him. It is therefore incumbent on us to write, without Diminution, and according to the Truth, what we have seen and heard of the Particulars of Mr. Hastings's Conduct.

First. The whole Period of Mr. Hastings's Residence in this Country exhibited his good Conduct towards the Inhabitants. No Oppressions nor Tyranny was admitted over any one. He observed the Rules of Respect and Attention to ancient Families. He did not omit the Performance of the Duties of Politeness and Civility towards all Men of Rank and Station, when an Interview took place with them.

Secondly. In Affairs concerning the Government and Revenues, he was not covetous of other Men's Money and Property; he was not open to Bribery. He restricted the Farmers and Officers in their Oppressions, in a Manner that prevented them from exercising that Tyranny which Motives of Self-interest and private Gain might instigate them to observe towards the Ryotts and Helpless.

Thirdly. During his Administration, no War or Commotion arose in this Country. No Man's Property was plundered, but every one of every Rank lived in perfect Ease and Security.

Fourthly. When from the great Want of Rain there were Appearances of a Famine, and it was on the Eve of happening, when Thousands would have perished, he laboured with every Exertion to prevent it; he brought Grain from the Inland Districts, and, in order to relieve the People, he abolished the Duties on Grain. He severely threatened the Dealers in Grain, that no Hardship might be felt by any one.

Fifthly. He established the Civil and Criminal (Dewanny and Fouzedarry) Courts upon proper Rules, so that the Lives and Properties of Men were protected from the evil Acts of Thieves and Murderers. He regulated Punishments according to the Rules of Koran, and ordained that each Sect should be tried according to its respective Laws laid down in the Shaster and Koran.

Sixthly. He used great Exertions to cultivate the Country, to increase the Agriculture and Revenues. He transacted the Business of the Country and Revenues without Deceit, and with perfect Propriety and Rectitude.

Seventhly. He respected the learned and wise Men; and in order for the Propagation of Learning, he built a College, and endowed it with a Provision for the Maintenance of the Students, inasmuch that Thousands, reaping the Benefits thereof, offer up their Prayers for the Prosperity of the King of England, and for the Success of the Company.

Eighthly. He was not haughty in Temper, nor was he fond of State and Luxury. He did not seek his own Ease, but at all Times laboured for the Prosperity of the Country, and the Security of its Inhabitants.

Ninthly. So great was the Strength and Power, and Grandeur, and Fame, and Magnanimity of the Government of His Majesty, of the Company, and the English Nation throughout all Hindostan, during his Administration, that no one could establish the Standard of Rebellion. In short, he was incomparable for his Disposition and Virtues; and from the Length of his Residence in this Country he was fully acquainted with the Manners and Customs of it, and transacted all Affairs accordingly, and with Credit and Propriety.

Dated 29th Zeffar 1202, or 10th December 1787.

Fifthly. He established the Civil and Criminal (Dewanny, Fouzdarry) Courts upon proper Rules, so that the Lives and Properties of Men were protected from the evil Acts of Thieves and Murderers. He regulated the Punishment according to the Rules of the Koran; and ordained that that each Sect should be tried according to its respective Laws, laid down in the Shaster and Koran.

“ Sixthly. He used great Exertions to cultivate the Country; to encrease Agriculture and Revenues.—He transacted the Business of the Country and Revenues without Deceit, and with perfect Propriety and Rectitude.

“ Seventhly. He respected the learned and wise Men; and in order for the Propagation of Learning, he built a College, and endowed it with a Provision for the Maintenance of the Students; insomuch that Thousands, repeating the Benefit thereof, offer up their Prayers for the Prosperity of the King of England, and for the Success of the Company.

“ Eighthly. He was not haughty in Temper, nor was he fond of State and Luxury.—He did not seek his own Ease, but at all Times laboured for the Prosperity of the Country, and the Security of its Inhabitants.

“ Ninthly. So great was the Strength, and Power, and Grandeur, and Fame, and Magnanimity of the Government of His Majesty, of the Company, and the English Nation throughout all Hindostan during his Administration, that no one could establish the Standard of Rebellion; in short, he was incomparable for his Disposition and Virtues, and from the Length of his Residence in this Country, he was fully acquainted with the Manners and Customs of it, and transacted all Affairs accordingly, and with Credit and Propriety.

The humble Representations of us, Inhabitants and Residents of the Town of Moorshedabad, in the Kingdom of Bengal, to His Majesty, the Ministers, and the Directors of the East India Company of England, is as follows :

The late Governor, Warren Hastings, Esquire, during his Administration in this Country, from the Time of his Arrival until the Period of his Departure, at all Times gave us the greatest Satisfaction; and we were thankful for his good Conduct, and great good Qualities. He was always engaged in whatever tended to the Ease of the Ryots, to the Security, Prosperity, and Cultivation of the Country. By his firm and well-formed Regulations, and by his new System of Injuries of Robbers and Murderers; Justice was administered according to the Tenets of each respective Religion and Custom; and such was the due Vigilance and Care with which he protected this Country, that not one of the troublesome and rebellious Persons on its Borders could extend over it the Hand of Rapine and Invasion;—by these Means we lived in perfect Peace and Quiet. Notwithstanding a Scarcity of Rain, his Measures prevented the dreadful Effects of Famine. Mr. Hastings never shewed a Disposition coveting the Property or Riches, nor censuring or injuring the Reputation or Character of any one, nor did he ever accept of Bribes; but at all Times, with courteous Manners and proper Behaviour, performed the Civilities and Attentions due to Men of Rank and Power, to Men of Learning and Abilities. He established Colleges for the Propagation of Learning, and endowed them with Emoluments of a suitable Nature, inasmuch that to this Time Thousands profit by them, and are employed in Prayers for the Prosperity of His Majesty's Kingdom, the Strength of the Company and English Nation, were so evinced throughout Hindostan during the Government of Mr. Hastings, that no one elevated the Standard of Disobedience. In short, during Mr. Hastings's Government, we lived in perfect Peace and Security, with his Virtues and good Qualities.

From the Vizier, marked I.

Received 8th March 1788.

I Have learnt that Mr. Hastings has written to the Gentlemen residing in Calcutta, to write the Particulars of the Conduct he observed during his Government in India on the Part of the Company towards the Chiefs of Hindostan, and that they should first acquaint you therewith, and obtain your Consent. Your Lordship has been pleased not to forbid those who were inclined to write with their own Free-will. The Chiefs and People of Bengal and Benaris have written Papers voluntarily; and as I am myself, and my Ministers and chief People about me are, perfectly pleased with Mr. Hastings's Conduct, we have therefore written a Paper declaring our Satisfaction at it, and transmit it to your Lordship. If your Lordship should be pleased, and the Papers written yb

( 2357 )

by the People of Bengal, &c. should arrive with your Lordship; and your Lordship should transmit them to Europe, you will also transmit these Papers with them.

Papers received the 8th March 1788, and translated pursuant to an Order from the Governor General in Council, dated 27th April 1788.

Under the Seal of his Excellency the Nawaub Asoph ul Dowla Asoph Jeh Behadar, Vizier ul Momalik, marked K.

I have at this Time learnt that the Gentlemen in Power in England, upon the Suspicion that Mr. Hastings, during his Administration, acted contrary to the Rules of Justice and Impartiality, and, actuated by Motives of Avidity, was inimical towards Men without Cause, that he broke such Engagements and Treaties as had been made between the Company and other Chiefs, that he extended the Hand of Oppression over the Properties of Men, tore up the Roots of Security and Prosperity from the Land, and rendered the Ryotts and Subjects destitute by Force and Extortion*: As this Accusation in Fact is destitute of Uprightness and void of Truth, therefore, with a View to shew the Truth in its true Colours, I have written upon this Sheet, with Truth and Sincerity, to serve as an Evidence, and to represent real Facts, to serve also as Information and Communication, that Mr. Hastings, from the Commencement of his Administration until his Departure for England, whether during the Life-time of the deceased Nawaub, of blessed Memory, Vizier ul Moulk Sujah ul Dowlah Behadre, my Father, or during my Government, did not at any Time transact contrary to Justice any Matter which took place from the great Friendship between me and the Company, nor in any Business depart from the Path of Truth and Uprightness; but cultivated Friendship with Integrity and Sincerity, and in every Respect engaged himself in the Duties of Friendship with me, my Ministers, and Confidants. I am at all Times and in every Way pleased with, and thankful for, his friendly Manners and Qualities; and my Ministers and Confidants, who have always, every one of them, been satisfied with his Conduct, are for ever grateful for his Friendship, and thankful for his Virtues. As these Matters are real Facts, and according to Truth, I have written these Lines as an Evidence, and transmit this Paper to England through the Government of Calcutta, for the Information of the Gentlemen of Power and Rank in England.

* Some Words are wanted in the Original to close and complete the Sense of this Passage. Under the Seal of Nawaub Serfray ul Dowlah Nazim ul Mulk Hossain Reza Khan Behadre Zuffer Jung, and Nawaub Ameer ul Dowla Intezam ul Moulk Hyder Beg Khan Behadre Nuzrut Jung, marked L.

It is at this Time learnt by the Nawaub Vizier, and us his Ministers, that the Gentlemen of Power in England are displeased with Mr. Hastings, on the Suspicion that, during his Administration in this Country, from Motives of Avidity, he committed Oppressions, contrary to the Rules of Justice, took the Properties of Men by Deceit and Force, injured the Ryotts and Subjects, and rendered the Country destitute and ruined. As the true and upright Disposition of Mr. Hastings is in every Respect free of this Suspicion, we therefore, with Truth and Sincerity, declare by these Lines, written according to Fact, that Mr. Hastings, from the first of his Appointment to the Government of this Country until his Departure for Europe, during his Authority in the Management of the Affairs of the Country, whether in the Life-time of the Nawaub Sujah ul Dowla Behadre, deceased, or whether during the present Reign, did not in any Matters which took place from the great Friendship between this Government and the Company, act in anywise upon Motives of Avidity, and not having in any Respect other than Justice and Propriety Propriety in Intention, did not swerve from their Rules. He kept his Excellency the Vizier always pleased and satisfied by his Friendship and Attention in every Matter. He at all Times shewed Favour and Kindness towards us the Ministers of this Government; and under his Protection having enjoyed perfect Happiness and Comfort, we are from our Hearts satisfied with and grateful for his Benevolence and Goodness.—As by all the Rules of Religion and Custom, to witness with Truth procures its Reward of a good Name in this World and hereafter, we have written these Lines to prove our Satisfaction, and Mr. Hastings's good Conduct, and transmit this Paper to the Gentlemen in Europe.

At this Time it is heard that the Gentlemen in Power in Europe are displeased with Mr. Hastings, in consequence of Suspicion thrown out by his Enemies, and represented to them that Mr. Hastings, from Motives of Avidity, committed Acts during his Administration and Authority contrary to the Rules of Justice, and extended the Hand of Oppression and Usurpation over the Property, Country, and Character of the Chiefs of those Countries who had Connection, or were in Friendship with the Company;—Therefore we, the People of Rank belonging to his Excellency the Vizier, upon the Principle that making a true and faithful Evidence is pleasing to the Almighty, declare what we have ourselves seen during the Administration of Mr. Hastings, and write as true, and faithfully witnessed with our Seals upon this Paper, that from the Commencement of Mr. Hastings's Government, we have not seen or experienced any Oppression or Tyranny in regard to our Desires, our Effects, or our Property; that we have passed our Days in Peace and Security under his Protection; that no Injury or Detriment has ever happened from him to the Cultivation of the Lands; that no Opposition or Hindrance has ever taken place from him in the Customs of the Religion of any Sect, every Sect, whether Hindoo or Mahomedan, performing its religious Tenets according to its Professions and Rites in perfect Security; the Dignity and Character of every Person was supported by him according to the respective Station of each; and every Person, pleased and satisfied with his good Conduct and Disposition, were always, and continue to be, thankful: Mankind, from the Efforts of his Mind, and the Power of his Measures, were protected from Disturbances, and guarded against Evils, passing their Days in perfect Peace and Quiet. As these Particulars are individually true, we have therefore warranted this Paper with our Seals as an Evidence, and transmit it to the Gentlemen in England, in order that in giving Evidence of what is true and faithful, no Neglect may be attributed to us, who have seen and witnessed the Manner and Conduct of Mr. Hastings during his Administration.

N<sup>o</sup>. 9. Copy Translation of Letter from the Nabob of Furruckabad to the Governor General, and of Translate of 3 Persian Papers which accompanied it.

From the Nawaub of Furruckabad, marked N : Received 31st May 1788.

I have been informed that People in England have accused Mr. Hastings of a Conduct that carried with it the Destruction of the Country, and that tended to disgrace the Inhabitants; and that in order to do away this Accusation, the Inhabitants of Bengal, Benares, and Lucknow, have written, and continue to write, Address. As I have been for a long Time connected with the Company, and have not witnessed any Act of Mr. Hastings, but that of Civility and Kindness, therefore having, from Principles of Gratitude, prepared an Address expressive of my Satisfaction, I send it to your Lordship, and hope that you will transmit it to England, and thus make me indebted to your Kindness. Considering me attached to your Lordship, I trust you will make me happy by frequent Letters of Kindness.

Whereas Rectitude giveth Satisfaction unto God, the Communication of Truth is the Mean of Salvation, and the Cause of diffusing the Virtues of good Conduct. And as this is agreeable to every Understanding of Mankind in general, therefore is this Paper written freely, and according to the Inclination of my Heart, and whatever is just and true is represented with great Uprightness and Sincerity, for the Information of His Majesty the King of England, the Ministers of the Nation, and the Company—That Mr. Hastings, from the Commencement of his Administration of the Affairs of Hindostan, never committed any Act of Oppression towards me, Deleer Himmur Khan Mozuffer Jung; on the contrary, I lived under his Kindness and Protection in perfect Ease and Safety, and guarded against my Enemies by his Conduct. I entertained Hopes from him that he would have represented the true State of my Government to His Majesty and the Company, and have so exerted himself as to have procured it to be restored to its former State. As I have now heard that Mr. Hastings's Enemies, uniting together, have accused him before the Gentlemen of England of having taken the Property of Men in Hindostan, of having deprived the Inhabitants of the Lands they had cultivated, and injured their Reputations by putting Disgrace upon them; it is incumbent on us Mahomedans, according to the Orders of God and his Prophet, and our Religious Forefathers, to declare, having our Religious Tenets in View, what we know to be just and true: We now declare to all Men of all Ranks in England the Justice and good Conduct, the Kindness and pleasing Manners of Mr. Hastings, which we have witnessed; and at a Time when we are thankful and grateful for his Behaviour we have affixed our Names to this Paper of Satisfaction, and transmit through the Government of Calcutta to England.

We the Cauzie, Mosti, Students, Men of Rank, Men of Business, Merchants, Bankers, and Tradesmen, Inhabitants of the Town of Furruckabad, bear Evidence to the King of England, Ministers, and Directors of the Company, That Mr. Hastings committed no Kind of Oppression on us from the Commencement of his Administration in Hindostan, until his Departure. But on the contrary, under his Kindness and Protection we lived in Peace and Security, and were guarded against our Enemies. As we have now heard that Mr. Hastings's Enemies have laid an Accusation against him before the Ministers of England, that he took the Property of People in Hindostan, laid waste their Lands, and blasted their Reputation by Disgraces, it is necessary that we Mahomedans, agreeable to the Orders of God and his Prophets, and that we Hindoos, according to the Beeds and the Shaster, represent and make known what is Fact: We therefore represent to all Mankind the Justice and Kindness of Mr. Hastings, which we have always seen; and now, when we are grateful and thankful for his Kindness, we write this Deed of Satisfaction, and from our own free Will affix our Seals thereto, and transmit it through our own Sovereign and Chief to Calcutta, in order that the Government there may send it to England.

Paper received 18th July 1788, transmitted by George Hatch, Esquire, Collector of Dinagepore, and translated pursuant to an Order from the Governor General in Council, dated 27th April 1788, marked Q.

I Radanaut, Zemindar of Purgunnah Havelly Penjuna, &c. commonly called Dinagepore: As it has been learnt by me, the Muttesuddies, and the respectable Officers of my Zemindary, that the Ministers of England are displeased with the late Governor, Warren Hastings, Esquire, upon the Suspicion that he oppressed us, took Money from us by Deceit and Force, and ruined the Country; therefore we, upon the Strength of our Religion, which we think it incumbent on and necessary for us to abide by, following the Rules laid down in giving Evidence, declare the Particulars of the Acts and Deeds of Warren Hastings, Esquire, full of Circumspection and Caution, Civility and Justice, superior to the Conduct of the most learned; and by representing what is Fact, wipe away the Doubts that have possessed the Minds of the Ministers of England: That Mr. Hastings is possessed of Fidelity and Confidence, and yielding Protection to us, that he is clear of the Contamination of Mistrust and Wrong, and his Mind is free of Covetousness or Avarice. During the Time of his Administration no one saw other Conduct than that of Protection to the Husbandmen, and Justice; no Inhabitant ever experienced Afflictions, no one ever felt Oppression from him; our Reputations have always been guarded from Attacks by his Prudence, and our Families have always been protected by his Justice. He never omitted the smallest Instance of Kindness towards us, but healed the Wounds of Despair with the Salve of Consolation, by Means of his benevolent and kind Behaviour, never permitting one of us to sink in the Pit of Despondence; he supported every One by his Goodness, overset the Designs of evil-minded Men by his Authority, tied the Hand of Oppression with the strong Bandage of Justice, and by these Means expanded the pleasing Appearance of Happiness and Joy over us: He re-established Justice and Impartiality. We were, during his Government, in the Enjoyment of perfect Happiness and Ease, and many of us are thankful and satisfied. As Mr. Hastings was well acquainted with our Manners and Customs, he was always desirous, in every Respect, of doing whatever would preserve our Religious Rites, and guard them against every Kind of Accident and Injury, and at all Times protected us: Whatever we have experienced from him, and whatever happened from him, we have written without Deceit or Exaggeration.

Papers received 19th August 1788, and translated pursuant to an Order from the Governor General in Council, dated 27th April 1788.

Translation of Addrefs marked N<sup>o</sup> I. under the Seal of Nuzur ul Moulk Intizam ul Dowla Syed Allykhan Behadre Nuzrut Jung, and that of his Brother Shumzul ul Dowla, Syed Akhud Allykhan.

From the Reports of all Ranks of People, and from the News-papers, the Inhabitants of Hindostan, but particularly those of Bengal and its Dependencies, have learnt, that after the Arrival of Warren Hastings, Esquire, in England, an Investigation into the Conduct he observed in Hindostan while Governor of Calcutta has been commenced before the High Court of Justice of England; and that the Parliament, who are desirous of Justice, and permit no improper Act to pass, are determined to make a thorough Investigation into every Matter, and separate Right from Wrong: In consequence, all Classes of the Inhabitants of Hindostan have unanimously agreed, that as they all live in Ease and Peace under the kind Influence of the Protection of His Majesty the King of England, and the Parliament, and that on Account of the Care taken of them by the Parliament, they are daily more and more attached and zealous, and as Mr. Hastings during the Period of his Administration always shewed great Kindness and Protection, and observed strict Justice towards them, and in consequence of his good Qualities, his Care, and Justice, has great Claim upon them, and that it is incumbent on them for ever to keep in Remembrance this Obligation:—Therefore it is necessary for them to represent every Particular which they are acquainted with, of such Matters as the Justice of the Parliament is about to inquire into, in such Manner as that their Representations shall be noticed, and in a short Space of Time bestowed thereto the Truth of every Matter be known. Notwithstanding the Minds of just Men are like the Mirror, and what is right is immediately discovered, and Justice is not thrown into Doubt by the Declarations of any one, yet Religious Rites of every Sect, and the Books of every Prophet, give Sanction to Evidence, and it is a Demonstration in every Matter under Investigation; therefore, all the Inhabitants of this Country are unanimous in the above-written Intention: Among others, those of Jehanguirnar, commonly called Daccas, solely in order to represent Facts, which by all Books of Religion and expounded Laws is incumbent on every one, have brought to me an Address, sealed with their Seals, and testified by the Cauzy, that I may affix my own Seal thereto, and transmit it to the Court of Justice: Wherefore, I Syed Ally, commonly called Nuzrut Jung, Grandson of the deceased Nawaub Jessarut Khan, now, by the Kindness, Document of Right and Protection of old Servants, displayed by His Majesty, the Parliament, and Directors of the Company of England, in Charge of the Office of the Nizamut of the said City, called all those who have affixed their Seals on the said Address into the Hall of Audience, and have learnt verbally from each the Purport of the Writing, and having examined into it have affixed my own Seal thereto; for the Concealment of Truth is a great Crime before God, and revealing it is praise-worthy and pleasing to Mankind; and as among them there are many holy and religious Men, many learned, true, and upright Men, and many Descendants from Families of high Fame and Rank, who have affixed their Seals, I therefore perceived the Propriety of vouching to their Declarations, that the Particulars may be known, and their Representations obtain Sanction in the Minds of their Hearers. “God is the Discriminator of Truth, and an upright and just Judge, and I seek Protection under him against Falsity and Untruth.”

Translation of the Address under the Seals, as under written, marked N<sup>o</sup> 2.

The Natives and Residents of the City of Jehanguirnagur humbly represent to His Most Gracious Majesty the King of England, and to the Comptrollers and Directors of the Company, That the former Governor, Mr. Hastings, during the Period of his Administration, by the Justice he observed by his Complacency, and good Qualities, and by his Protection, secured our Satisfaction and Gratitude. He engaged himself in the Relief of our Situations, and in our Prosperity. He protected us from Thieves and Assassins by the Systems he laid down for the Civil and Criminal (Dewanny and Fouzdary) Courts, which were purely upon Motives of Goodness to Mankind, actuated by a Love for Justice; he permitted the Exercise of the Religion of each Sect according to the respective Tenets and Customs. He never neglected the Safety and Peace of the Inhabitants, nor the Cultivation of the Country. During his Government we slept in the Cradle of Security. He never coveted our Money or Property, nor attacked our Reputation, nor had he ever Inclination to do wrong, but treated every one according to the respective Station of each. He observed a Conduct of Respect and Veneration towards the learned and experienced Men, and towards Men of Family, according to the Degree of their Abilities and Science, of whatever Sect and Religion; and during his Administration he treated all the Inhabitants with Kindness and Encouragement; and from his good Qualities, his Justice, and his Attention, he has a great Claim upon us. In such Matters as would secure the Prayers of us Wellwishers for the everlasting Duration of His Majesty's Throne, and of the Jurisdiction and Government of the Company, he was constantly engaged; for Instance, to this Day the Colleges which he built, and where he established Allowances for the Students, remain, and the Students receive the fixed Allowance, and pass their Lives in Peace and Thanksgiving; and it is incumbent on us for ever to keep in Recollection the Obligations we are under to him. It is therefore necessary that in Matters which have induced the Minds of the Just to investigate, we obey the Orders of God in declaring what we know; we have therefore done so. Further Orders will be issued by His Majesty.—Dated the 15th Ramzaan 1202, Hejerie, 9th Asfar 1195 B. according to the 20th June 1788 E.

The Residents, whether Hindoo or Followers of Mahomed, in the Country, have heard that the Gentlemen in England are displeased with Mr. Hastings, on Suspicion that he oppressed us Inhabitants habitants of this Place, took our Money by Deceit and Force, and ruined the Country — Therefore we, upon the Strength of our Religion and Religious Tenets, which we hold as a Duty upon us, and in order to act conformable to the Decrees of God, in delivering Evidence, relate the praise-worthy Actions, full of Prudence and Rectitude, Friendship and Politeness, of Mr. Hastings, possessed of great Abilities and Understanding; and by representing Facts remove the Doubts that have possessed the Minds of the Gentlemen in England, that Mr. Hastings distributed Protection and Security to Religion, and Kindness and Peace to us all. He is free from the Charge of Embezzlements and Fraud, and his Heart is void of Covetousness and Avidity. During the Period of his Government no one experienced from him other than Protection and Justice, never having felt Hardship from him; nor did the Poor even know the Weight of an oppressive Hand from him. Our Characters and Reputations have been always guarded in Quiet from Attack by the Vigilance of his Prudence and Foresight, and preserved by the Terror of his Justice. He never omitted the smallest Instance of Kindness and Goodness towards us, and those entitled to it, but always applied, by Soothings and Mildness, the Salve of Comfort to the Wounds of Affliction, not allowing a single Person to be overpowered by Despair. He displayed his Friendship and Kindness to all. He destroyed the Powers of Enemies and wicked Men by the Strength of his Terror. He tied the Hands of Tyrants and Oppressors by his Justice; and, by this Conduct, he secured Happiness and Joy to us. He re-established the Foundation of Justice; and we, at all Times during his Government, lived in Comfort, and passed our Days in Peace. We are many, many of us satisfied and pleased with him. As Mr. Hastings was perfectly well acquainted with the Manners and Customs of these Countries, he was always desirous of performing that which would tend to the Preservation of our Religion, and of the Duties of our Sects, and guard the Religious Customs of each from the Effects of Misfortunes and Accidents. In every Sense he treated us with Attention and Respect. I have represented, without Deceit, what I have myself seen, and the Facts that happened from him.

That peaceable Disposition, that mild Temper, possessing the first Qualities and the greatest Kindness, adorned with Civility and sincere Affability to a Degree as to become the Theme among the Learned of every Class, and the Sensible in every Science, endowed with every praise-worthy Quality and Virtue, enlightening the World like the Moon, of Mr. Hastings, the Ministers of England are displeased with, on the Suspicion that he ruined the Property of the Inhabitants of this Country, under the Company's Authority, taking their Wealth by Force and Deceit. We the Inhabitants of this Country, on hearing this, represent and relate the pleasing and kind Qualities and Virtues of Mr. Hastings, who fought the Right, and was Judge of it, in order to remove this Doubt from the Minds of the Chiefs in England, that Mr. Hastings behaved with Honour and Respect to all the Residents of this Country of all Ranks, according to their respective Situations in Life, their Professions, their Religions, and Sects, and treated them with paternal Kindness, free from Deceit or Avarice, and shewed Respect and Attention to all learned Men and Students in any Science. He was a long Time resident in this Country, and well acquainted with every proper Custom and Mode for administering Justice. During the Period of his Administration, every one, whether great or small, living in perfect Happiness, professed their own Religions, and exercised their own Worldly Concerns with perfect Ease and Quiet. This is the inward Sentiment of all the Inhabitants of this Country.

Y. We the Zemindars, Chowderies, and Talookdars of Pergunnah Mahomed Amunpoor, and other Mhals, belonging to the Zillah of Nuddea in Bengal, have heard that the Gentlemen in England are displeased with Mr. Hastings, on Suspicion that he oppressed us Inhabitants of this Place, took our Money by Deceit and Force, and ruined the Country; therefore we, upon the Strength of our Religion and Religious Tenets, which we hold as a Duty upon us, and in order to act conformable to the Decrees of God in delivering Evidence, relate the praise-worthy Actions, full of Prudence and Rectitude, Friendship and Politeness, of Mr. Hastings, possessed of great Abilities and Understanding; and by representing Facts remove the Doubts that have possessed the Minds of the Gentlemen in England; that Mr. Hastings distributed Protection and Security of Religion, and Kindness and Peace to us all; He is free from the Charge of Embezzlements and Fraud, and his Heart is void of Covetousness and Avidity. During the Period of his Government no one experienced from him other than Protection and Justice, never having felt Hardship from him, nor did the Poor ever know the Weight of an oppressive Hand from him; our Characters and Reputations have been always guarded in Quiet from Attack, by the Vigilance of his Prudence and Foresight, and preserved by the Terror of his Justice; he never omitted the smallest Instance of Kindness and Goodness towards us and those entitled to it, but always applied, by Soothings and Mildness, the Salve of Comfort to the Wounds of Affliction, not allowing a single Person to be overpowered by Despair; he displayed his Friendship and Kindness to all; he destroyed the Powers of Enemies and wicked Men by the Strength of his Terror; he tied the Hands of Tyrants and Oppressors by his Justice, and by this Conduct he secured Happiness and Joy to us; he re-established the Foundation of Justice, and we at all Times, during his Government, lived in Comfort, and passed our Days in Peace. We are many, many of us satisfied and pleased with him, As Mr. Hastings was perfectly well acquainted with the Manners and Customs of these Countries, he was always desirous of performing that which would tend to the Preservation of our Religion, and of the Duties of our Sects, and guard the Religious Customs of each from the Effects of Misfortunes and Accidents. In every Sense he treated us with Attention and Respect.—We have represented without Deceit what we have ourselves seen, and the Facts that happened from him.

We Canongoes, Zemindars, Choudries, and Talookdars of the District of Boglepore, in the Province of Behar, have heard that the Gentlemen in England are displeased with Mr. Hastings, on Suspicion that he oppressed us Inhabitants of this Place, took our Money by Deceit and Force, and ruined the Country.—Therefore we, upon the Strength of our Religion and Religious Tenets, which we hold as a Duty upon us, and in order to act conformable to the Decrees of God, in delivering Evidence, relate the praise-worthy Actions full of Prudence and Rectitude, Friendship and Politeness, of Mr. Hastings, possessed of great Abilities and Understanding; and by representing Facts, remove the Doubts that have possessed the Minds of the Gentlemen in England:—That Mr. Hastings distributed Protection and Security to Religion, and Kindness and Peace to us all. 66. We humbly represent to the Minister of the King of England, That we, Inhabitants of Zillah Boglepoor, and Chuckla Akbarnagur, have heard that a few Persons, totally ignorant of the Particulars relative to this Country, have made false calumnious Reports regarding Mr. Hastings, thereby throwing the Minds of the Ministers of England into Doubt, and injured Mr. Hastings, and aspersed his Character : This has much astonished us, as all the Inhabitants of this Country lived in perfect Ease and Quiet, by the good Conduct which he followed from the Time of his Arrival until his Departure. Mr. Hastings transacted the Affairs of the Country in a proper Manner, at all Times seeking the Prosperity and Happiness of the Inhabitants, and preserving the Rights and Characters of every One according to their respective Rank, and avoiding every Act which could occasion Distress or Discredit to us. On this Account we were, and continue satisfied with Mr. Hastings. It is therefore incumbent on us to represent without Mystery, according to our Religion, a few of the Particulars of his wise Conduct, which we have seen and heard, as follows :—Mr. Hastings performed innumerable Benefits on all the Inhabitants of this Country, disapproved of Oppression towards any One, displayed Kindness and distinguishing Marks of Credit to ancient Families ; and, on an Interview with Crowds of Men of Rank and Respect, carefully avoided the Omission of any Instance of Civility or Honour. He was not, in the Transaction of the Affairs of Revenue or Government, covetous of the Money or Property of any One, but kept the Farmers and Overseers from committing Oppression. During his Administration, this Country experienced no Warfare or Commotion ; no Injury happened to the Property of any One ; on the contrary, every One enjoyed Peace and Security, and Courts of Civil and Criminal Jurisdiction were firmly established, by which our Lives and Property were protected from Thieves and Plunderers, and we were guarded from the Irruptions of the Hill People, with which this Country was frequently over-run and destroyed. He permitted the free Force of our own Laws of Relation ; he exerted every Nerve in the Cultivation of the Country, and transacted the Affairs of Government and Finance uprightly, and with Justice ; and not entertaining in his Disposition the least Share of Haughtiness, he laboured at our Ease and Prosperity. By these Means, the Name and Authority of the King and Company of England were so established during his Government, throughout all Hindostan, that no One could venture to raise the Head of Rebellion. In short, Mr. Hastings possessed every good Quality, and was well versed in the Manners and Customs of this Country, and always exerted himself in the Preservation of our Religion and Characters. On this Account we, Inhabitants of these Districts, were happy during his Government, and are highly satisfied and pleased with him.

All we Zemindars, Choudries, and Talookdars, of the District of Akbarnagur, commonly called Raje Mhal, in the Kingdom of Bengal, have heard that the Gentlemen in England are displeased with Mr. Hastings on Suspicion that he oppressed us, Inhabitants of this Place, took our Money by Deceit and Force, and ruined the Country;—Therefore we, upon the Strength of our Religion and Religious Tenets, which we hold as a Duty upon us, and in order to act conformable to the Decrees of God in delivering Evidence, relate the praise-worthy Actions, full of Prudence and Rectitude, Friendship and Politeness, of Mr. Hastings, possessed of great Abilities and Understanding; and by representing Facts, remove the Doubts that have possessed the Minds of the Gentlemen in England; that Mr. Hastings distributed Protection and Security to Religion, and Kindness and Peace to us all. He is free from the Charge of Embezzlements and Fraud, and that his Heart is void of Covetousness and Avidity. During the Period of his Government no one experienced from him other than Protection and Justice, never having felt Hardships from him; nor did the Poor ever know the Weight of an oppressive Hand from him. Our Characters and Reputations have always been guarded in Quiet from Attack by the Vigilance of his Prudence and Foresight, and preserved by the Terror of his Justice. He never omitted the smallest Instance of Kindness and Goodness towards us and those entitled to it, but always applied, by Soothings and Mildness, the Salve of Comfort to the Wounds of Affliction, not allowing a single Person to be overpowered by Despair. He displayed his Friendship and Kindness to all. He destroyed the Powers of the Enemies and wicked Men by the Strength of his Terror. He tied the Hands of Tyrants and Oppressors by his Justice, and by this Conduct he secured Happiness and Joy to us. He re-established the Foundation of Justice, and we at all Times, during his Government, lived in Comfort, and passed our Days in Peace. We are many, many of us satisfied and pleased with him. As Mr. Hastings was perfectly well acquainted with the Manners and Customs of these Countries, he was always desirous of performing that which would tend to the Preservation of our Religion, and of the Duties of our Sects, and guard the Religious Customs of each from the Effects of Misfortunes and Accidents. In every Sense he treated us with Attention and Respect.—We have represented without Deceit what we have ourselves seen, and the Facts that happened from him.

We, Inhabitants of the Hills in Ingleterry, in the Chuckla of Rajemhal and Boglepore, have learnt that the Inhabitants of the District of Boglepore have written in Praise of Mr. Hastings, wherefore why should not we, who are praising Mr. Hastings, write also, and not remain silent? We therefore represent, that we formerly lived in the Hills, like the Beasts of the Forests, and during the Government of Mr. Hastings became like other Men, and the Qualities and Honours of Men were instilled into us. Formerly our Means of Subsistence were no other than those of Plunder and Rapine, and we existed with the greatest Difficulty; but now, by the wise Conduct of that Gentleman, we live at Ease, and, like others, are happy and satisfied with the Company. As this Ease and Civilization, which has produced Respect to us among Mankind, has been the Effect of Mr. Hastings's Conduct and Management, we have never experienced other than Kindness, nor have any one of us heard of any Oppression from him; on this Account we are pleased with Mr. Hastings.

N<sup>o</sup> 16. Translation of a Persian Address from the Inhabitants of Patna.

Translation of an Address relative to Mr. Hastings, under the Seals and Signatures of the Inhabitants of the City of Patna.

It having come to the Hearing of all us Men, both high and low, of every Sect and Persuasion, as well Hindoos as Mahomedans, the Inhabitants and Natives of the City of Patna, Part of the Territories belonging to the Dewanny of the English Company, that the Gentlemen of England are displeased with the late Governor General, Warren Hastings, upon the Suspicion that exercising Tyranny and Oppression, and taking from us, by Artifice, and Fraud, and Force, our Property, he laid waste the Country; we therefore, according to the Dictates of our several Religions and sacred Ordinances, which we hold to be strictly binding on our Consciences, and in Obedience also of that Divine Precept, "Bear ye Testimony," do thus publish a true Account of the Nature and Circumstances of the Conduct of Mr. Hastings, an honoured Personage of esteemed Qualities, who was perfect in Caution and Rectitude, complete in Virtue and Benevolence, and first amongst those Characters who are signalized by their great Harmony and Wisdom, and was honoured both by the Kings of Hindostan and England; and by thus giving Utterance to the Words of Truth and Justice, cleanse the Mirrours of the Hearts of the Gentlemen of England from the Rust of Suspicion. This Person is clothed with Probity and Religion as with a Garment, and is adorned by the Protection of the People, and the Preservation of us the Worshipers of God, as it were with a Jewel; the Skirt of his Existence is unsullied by the Stain of Dishonesty or Prejudice, and the Mirrour of his Heart is unclouded by the Dust of Avarice. In the Time of his Government, and during the Period of his Administration, no one has seen in him any Thing but the Protection of the Subjects, and the Dispensation of Justice; never did the Dirt of Affliction seat itself through him on the Hearts of the People, nor did he ever break the Glass-like Minds of the Lowly with the Stone of Violence. As an Army is kept in Safety by its Watch Guards, so he protected the Honours of Strangers and Natives by his Vigilance and Foresight, and kept them defended in the Castle of Security from the Troops of Adversity. The Sanctuary of the Welfare of us humble Men was preserved in Safety by the superintending Care of his Justice and Benevolence; he did not omit the smallest Particle of Friendship towards us, and towards whoever else were deserving of it, but always by kind Words and benign Acts administered the Balm of Comfort to the wounded Hearts of the Afflicted. He left not one of us all, not a single Individual, to be melted in the Crucible of Despair. In his compassionate Nature and great Kindness he favoured us all. The Feet of the Endeavours of wicked Men were broken by the Axe of his Awe, and the oppressive Hands of Evil Doers were bound by the strong Cords of his Justice. By these Means the Doors of Happiness and Delight were opened to us. He new laid the Foundations of Justice and the Pillars of the Law. In every Shape we the Inhabitants of this Country, during the Time of his Administration, lived in Ease and in Peace. We are therefore greatly satisfied with and thankful to him. As the said Mr. Hastings was long acquainted with the Modes of Government in those Regions, so the inmost Purpose of his Heart was openly and secretly, in Word and in Deed, bent upon all those Things which might maintain inviolate our Religions, Ordinances, and Persuasions, and guard us in every the minutest Respect from Misfortune and Calamity. In every Way he cherished us in Honour and Credit. Whatever we have in our own Persons really experienced from him, and whatever has been clearly manifested by him, and whatever has been clearly, we have for the Sake and in the Name of God, without the Arts of Hypocrisy, truly and justly thus declared. In this there is no Doubt.

To Edward Hay, Esquire, Secretary to the Government.

Sir,

In my Letter of Yesterday's Date, accompanying further Addressees relative to Mr. Hastings, in order to preserve the List of them regular, I inserted under the Letter Z. an Address from the Inhabitants of Patna, with Translation, which was not completed, the Names to it not being made into English.—The Translation of them is now in Hand; but from the Number, and confused Order of the Seals and Signatures annexed to it, I shall not be able to prepare it to fill the Place allotted for it in the above-mentioned Letter, to go by the Packet of the William Pitt; I therefore request you will annex this Letter to that of Yesterday's Date, in order to explain the Cause that the Patna Address does not accompany according to the List, and that it may be deferred until the next Dispatch to England.

Paper transmitted by the Collector of Dinagepore : Received 19th October 1788, and translated, pursuant to an Order from the Governor General in Council, dated 27th April 1788.

We, the Zemindars, Chowdries, and Talookdars of Pergunnah Selberres, &c. Districts appertaining to the Zillah of Dinagepore, have heard that the Gentlemen in England are displeased with Mr. Hastings, on Suspicion that he oppressed us, Inhabitants of this Place, took our Money by Deceit and Force, and ruined the Country ;—Therefore we, upon the Strength of our Religion and Religious Tenets, which we hold as a Duty upon us, and in order to act conformable to the Decrees of God in delivering Evidence, relate the praise-worthy Actions, full of Prudence and Rectitude, Friendship and Politeness, of Mr. Hastings ; possessed of great Abilities and Understanding ; and by representing Facts, remove the Doubts that have possessed the Minds of the Gentlemen in England. That Mr. Hastings distributed Protection and Security to Religion, and Kindness and Peace to us all. He is free from the Charge of Embezzlements and Fraud ; and his Heart is void of Covetousness and Avidity. During the Period of his Government no one experienced from him other than Protection and Justice, never, having felt Hardships from him, nor did the Poor ever know the Weight of an oppressive Hand from him. Our Characters and Reputations have been always guarded in Quiet from Attack by the Vigilance of his Prudence and Foresight, and preserved by the Terror of his Justice. He never omitted the smallest Instance of Kindness and Goodness towards us and those entitled to it ; but always applied, by Soothings and Mildness, the Salve of Comfort to the Wounds of Affliction, nor allowing a single Person to be overpowered by Despair. He displayed his Friendship and Kindness to all ; he destroyed the Powers of Enemies and wicked Men by the Strength of his Terror ; he tied the Hands of Tyrants and Oppressors by his Justice, and by this Conduct he secured Happiness and Joy to us. He re-established the Foundation of Justice ; and we at all Times, during his Government, lived in Comfort, and passed our Days in Peace. We are many, many of us satisfied and pleased with him. As Mr. Hastings was perfectly well acquainted with the Manners and Customs of these Countries, he was always desirous of performing that which would tend to the Preservation of our Religion and of the Duties of our Sects, and guarded the Religious Customs of each from the Effects of Misfortunes and Accidents. In every Sense he treated us with Attention and Respect.—We have represented without Deceit what we have ourselves seen, and the Facts that happened from him.

Address from the Pundits of the 24 Pergunnahs.

Under the Signatures as under written.

Mr. Hastings's Disposition was adorned with the Jewel of Patience, Firmness, Clemency, and Courage, great Complacency and Politeness. He enlightened the World by the Brightness of his Conduct, the Praises of which are sung by all learned Men. The Ministers of England, on the Suspicion that Mr. Hastings took Money by Force and Deceit from the Natives of this Country, and ruined the Country, are displeased with him;—We, Inhabitants of the Country under the Company's Dominions, having heard this, in order to remove this Reflection on him, who administered Justice, and to wipe away the Cloud from the Minds of the People of England, represent the good Conduct he followed:—That in regard to Inhabitants of this Country, of high, middling, and low, all the three Degrees, he maintained them in the enlightening Roads of Religion, and cherished them with Parental Kindness, without Self-Interest. He raised the Credit of Tutors and Students in every Learning, by treating with Respect every Branch according to its Instructions and Science; and from having been long resident in this Country, he was well acquainted with the Nature of the Government of it. During his Administration in this Kingdom, the whole World felt no Uneasiness or Adversity, preserved the beaten Track of their Concerns, and lived in Peace.—This was the Case with every one.

I have heard that the Gentlemen in England are displeased with Mr. Hastings, on Suspicion that he oppressed us Inhabitants of this Place, took our Money by Deceit and Force, and ruined the Country;—Therefore we, upon the Strength of our Religion and Religious Tenets, which we hold as a Duty upon us, and in order to act conformable to the Decrees of God in delivering Evidence, relate the praise-worthy Actions, full of Prudence and Rectitude, Friendship and Politeness, of Mr. Hastings, possessed of great Abilities and Understanding; and by representing Facts, remove the Doubts that have possessed the Minds of the Gentlemen in England. That Mr. Hastings distributed Protection and Security to Religion, and Kindness and Peace to us all. He is free from the Charge of Embezzlements and Fraud, and his Heart is void of Covetousness and Avidity. During the Period of his Government no one experienced from him other than Protection and Justice, never having felt Hardships from him; nor did the Poor ever know the Weight of an oppressive Hand from him. Our Characters and Reputations have always been guarded in Quiet from Attack by the Vigilance of his Prudence and Foresight, and preserved by the Terror of his Justice. He never omitted the smallest Instance of Kindness and Goodness towards us and those entitled to it, but always applied, by Soothings and Mildness, the Salve of Comfort to the Wounds of Affliction, not allowing a single Person to be overpowered by Despair. He displayed his Friendship and Kindness to us all. He destroyed the Powers of Enemies and wicked Men by the Strength of his Terror. He tied the Hands of Tyrants and Oppressors by his Justice; and by this Conduct he secured Happiness and Joy to us. He re-established the Foundation of Justice; and we at all Times, during his Government, lived in Comfort, and passed our Days in Peace: We are many, many of us satisfied and pleased with him. As Mr. Hastings was perfectly well acquainted with the Manners and Customs of these Countries, he was always desirous of performing that which would tend to the Preservation of our Religion, and of the Duties of our Sects, and guarded the Religious Customs of each from the Effects of Misfortunes and Accidents. In every Sense he treated us with Attention and Respect.—We have represented without Deceit what we have ourselves seen, and the Facts that happened from him.

Under the Seals and Signatures as underwritten.

We, the Cannongoes, Zemindars, Chowdries, and Talookdars of Chucla Midnapoor, have heard that the Gentlemen in England are displeased with Mr. Hastings, on Suspicion that he oppressed pressed us Inhabitants of this Place, took Money by Deceit and Force, and ruined the Country;—Therefore we, upon the Strength of our Religion and Religious Tenets, which we hold as a Duty upon us, and in order to act conformable to the Decrees of God in delivering Evidence, relate the praise-worthy Actions, full of Prudence and Rectitude, Friendship and Politeness, of Mr. Hastings, possessed of great Abilities; and by representing Facts, remove the Doubts that have possessed the Minds of the Gentlemen in England. That Mr. Hastings distributed Protection and Security to Religion, and Kindness and Peace to us all.—He is free from the Charge of Embezzlements and Fraud, and his Heart is void of Covetousness and Avidity. During the Period of his Government, no one experienced from him other than Protection and Justice, never having felt Hardships from him; nor did the Poor ever know the Weight of an oppressive Hand from him. Our Characters and Reputations have been always guarded in Quiet from Attack, by the Vigilance of his Prudence and Foresight, and preserved by the Terror of his Justice. He never omitted the smallest Instance of Kindness and Goodness towards us and those entitled to it; but always applied, by Soothings and Mildness, the Salve of Comfort to the Wounds of Affliction, not allowing a single Person to be overpowered by Despair. He displayed his Friendship and Kindness to all. He destroyed the Powers of Enemies and wicked Men by the Strength of his Terror. He tied the Hands of Tyrants and Oppressors by his Justice; and by this Conduct he secured Happiness and Joy to us. He re-established the Foundation of Justice; and we at all Times, during his Government, lived in Comfort, and passed our Days in Peace. We are many, many of us, satisfied and pleased with him. As Mr. Hastings was perfectly well acquainted with the Manners and Customs of these Countries, he was always desirous of performing that which would tend to the Preservation of our Religion, and of the Duties of our Sects, and guarded the religious Customs of each from the Effects of Misfortunes and Accidents. In every Sense he treated us with Attention and Respect.—We have represented without Deceit what we have ourselves seen, and the Fact that happened from him.

N<sup>o</sup> 23. Translation of an Address from the Canongoes, &c. &c. &c. of Sylhet, presented by the Collector.

S. S.

Translation of a Persian Address delivered by the Canoongoes, Zemindars, Chowdries, and Talookdars of Sylhet, to Mr. Willis, Collector of the Revenues of that District.

We the Servants of the Imperial Court, the Canongoes, Zemindars, Chowdries, and Talookdars of the District of Sylhet, a Dependency of the Soubah of Bengal, that Paradise of Nations, have heard that the Gentlemen of England are displeased with Mr. Hastings, upon a Suspicion, that exercising Tyranny and Oppression over us, he took our Money by Fraud and Artifice, as well as by Force, and that by Mismanagement he laid waste the Country. We hearing this, are much astonished! For the Skill and Knowledge of Mr. Hastings in the Conduct of Business, and in managing the Affairs both of Revenue and Government, are notorious throughout all all Bengal and Hindostan. We for our Parts can say, that he never took from us, humble Men, a single Daun or Dhyrrum by Force or Oppression, or by Fraud or Artifice; nor was his Disposition in any Degree inclined to Avarice and Covetousness; on the contrary, he sowed the Seeds of Kindness in the Fields of the Hearts of all the Husbandmen and Subjects, and from the Showers which fell from the Clouds of his Benevolence and Generosity, he made the Hearts of the Poor to flourish like a Garden. By Law and the Dispensation of Justice he improved the Country. From the Sword of the Wicked, who delight in Sedition, he protected us, defenceless People, with the Shield of his Beneficence; and during the Time of his Administration and Government we passed our Time in Ease and Pleasure. As he was from a very early Period acquainted with the Usages and Customs of this Country, so he laboured to preserve inviolate the Honour, the Faith, and the Religion of us all. For these Reasons we, according to our Religion and Belief, and in pursuance of that holy Precept "withhold not your Testimony," have truly and justly made this public Declaration.

N<sup>o</sup> 25. Translation of a Persian Address from the Canongoes of Jellalore, presented by their Vackeel.

U U.

Paper delivered by the Vackeel from the Canoongoes, Zemindars, Choudries, and Talookdars, of Chucklah Jellalore.

Under the Seals and Signatures as under-written.

We the Canoongoes, Zemindars, Choudries, and Talookdars of Chucklah Jellalore, have heard that the Gentlemen in England are displeased with Mr. Hastings, on Suspicion that he oppressed us, Inhabitants of this Place, took our Money by Deceit and Force, and ruined the Country; therefore we, upon the Strength of our Religion and Religious Tenets, which we hold as a Duty upon us, and in order to act conformable to the Decrees of God in delivering Evidence, relate the praise-worthy Actions, full of Prudence and Rectitude, Friendship and Politeness, of Mr. Hastings, possessed of great Abilities and Understanding; and by representing Facts, remove the Doubts that have possessed the Minds of the Gentlemen in England. That Mr. Hastings distributed Protection and Security to Religion, and Kindness and Peace to us all. He is free from the Charge of Embezzlements and Fraud, and his Heart is void of Covetousness and Avidity. During the Period of his Government no one experienced from him other than Protection and Justice, never having felt Hardships from him; nor did the Poor ever know the Weight of an oppressive Hand from him. Our Characters and Reputations have been always guarded in Quiet from Attack by the Vigilance of his Prudence and Foresight, and preserved by the Terror of his Justice. He never omitted the smallest Instance of Kindness and Goodness towards us and those entitled to it, but always applied, by Soothings and Mildness, the Salve of Comfort to the Wounds of Affliction, not allowing a single Person to be overpowered by Despair. He displayed his Friendship and Kindness to all. He destroyed the Powers of Enemies and wicked Men by the Strength of his Terror. He tied the Hands of Tyrants and Oppressors by his Justice, and by this Conduct he secured Happiness and Joy to us. He re-established the Foundation of Justice, and we at all Times, during his Government, lived in Comfort, and passed our Days in Peace. We are many, many of us satisfied and pleased with him. As Mr. Hastings was perfectly well acquainted with the Manners and Customs of these Countries, he was always desirous of performing that which would tend to the Preservation of our Religion, and of the Duties of our Sects, and guarded the Religious Customs of each from the Effects of our Misfortunes and Accidents. In every Sense he treated us with Attention and Respect.—We have represented without Deceit what we have ourselves seen, and the Facts that happened from him.

Paper delivered by the Vakeel on the Part of the Zemindars, Chowdries, and Talookdars of the Mhals of Zillah Momenfing, &c. in the District of Dacca.

Under the Seal and Signatures as under-written.

We, the Zemindars, Chowdries, and Talookdars of the Mhals of Zillah Momenfing, &c. in the District of Dacca, have heard that the Gentlemen in England are displeased with Mr. Hastings, on Suspicion that he oppressed us Inhabitants of this Place, took our Money by Deceit and Force,
 and

and ruined the Country: Therefore we, upon the Strength of our Religion and Religious Tenets, which we hold as a Duty upon us, and in order to act conformable to the Decree of God in delivering Evidence, relate the praise-worthy Actions, full of Prudence and Rectitude, Friendship and Politeness, of Mr. Hastings, possessed of great Abilities and Understanding; and, by representing Facts, remove the Doubts that have possessed the Minds of the Gentlemen in England. That Mr. Hastings distributed Protection and Security to Religion, and Kindness and Peace to us all. He is free from the Charge of Embezzlement and Fraud, and his Heart is void of Covetousness and Avidity. During the Period of his Government, no one experienced from him other than Protection and Justice, never having felt Hardships from him; nor did the Poor ever know the Weight of an oppressive Hand from him. Our Characters and Reputations have been always guarded in Quiet from Attack, by the Vigilance of his Prudence and Foresight, and preserved by the Terror of his Justice. He never omitted the smallest Instance of Kindness and Goodness towards us, and those entitled to it, but always applied, by Soothings and Mildness, the Salve of Comfort to the Wounds of Affliction, not allowing a single Person to be overpowered by Despair. He displayed his Friendship and Kindness to all; he destroyed the Power of Enemies and wicked Men, by the Strength of his Terror; he tied the Hands of Tyrants and Oppressors by his Justice; and by this Conduct he secured Happiness and Joy to us. He re-established the Foundation of Justice; and we at all Times, during his Government, lived in Comfort, and passed our Days in Peace. We are many, many of us satisfied and pleased with him. As Mr. Hastings was perfectly well acquainted with the Manners and Customs of these Countries, he was always desirous of performing that which would tend to the Preservation of our Religion, and of the Duties of our Sects, and guarded the Religious Customs of each from the Effects of Misfortunes and Accidents. In every Sense he treated us with Attention and Respect.—We have represented without Deceit what we have ourselves seen, and the Facts that happened from him.

I, Mahomed Zemaun Khan, Son of Mahomed Behadre Zemaun Khan, deceased, Zemindar of Pergunnah Bheerbhoom, &c. in the Soubah of Bengal, have heard that the Gentlemen in England are displeased with Mr. Hastings, on Suspicion that he oppressed us Inhabitants of this Place, took our Money by Deceit and Force, and ruined the Country ;—Therefore we, upon the Strength of our Religion and Religious Tenets, which we hold as a Duty upon us, and in order to act conformable to the Decrees of God in delivering Evidence, relate the praise-worthy Actions, full of Prudence and Rectitude, Friendship and Politeness, of Mr. Hastings, possessed of great Abilities and Understanding; and by representing Facts, remove the Doubts that have possessed the Minds of the Gentlemen in England, that Mr. Hastings distributed Protection and Security to Religion, and Kindness and Peace to us all. He is free from the Charge of Embezzlement and Fraud, and his Heart is void of Covetousness and Avidity. During the Period of his Government no one experienced from him other than Protection and Justice, never having felt Hardships from him; nor did the Poor ever know the Weight of an oppressive Hand from him. Our Characters and Reputations have been always guarded in Quiet from Attack, by the Vigilance of his Prudence and Foresight, and preserved by the Terror of his Justice. He never omitted the smallest Instance of Kindness and Goodness towards us and those entitled to it, but always applied, by Soothings and Mildness, the Salve of Comfort to the Wounds of Affliction, not allowing a single Person to be overpowered by Despair. He displayed his Friendship and Kindness to all. He destroyed the Powers of Enemies and wicked Men by the Strength of his Terror. He tied the Hands of Tyrants and Oppressors by his Justice, and by this Conduct he secured Happiness and Joy to us. He re-established the Foundation of Justice; and we at all Times during his Government lived in Comfort, and passed our Days in Peace. We are many, many of us satisfied and pleased with him. As Mr. Hastings was perfectly well acquainted with the Manners and Customs of these Countries, he was always desirous of performing that which would tend to the Preservation of our Religion, and of the Duties of our Sects, and guarded the Religious Customs Customs of each from the Effects of Misfortunes and Accidents. In every Sense he treated us with Attention and Respect.—We have represented without Deceit what we have ourselves seen, and the Facts that happened from him.

We, the Inhabitants and Natives of the Bunder (Factory) of Houghly and its Environs, in the Soubah of Bengal, humbly represent to His Most Gracious Majesty the King of England, and to the upright Assembly, the Comptrollers and Directors of the Company, that Mr. Hastings, from his Nomination to the Government of this Country, until the Time of his Return to Europe, secured our Satisfaction and Happiness by his pleasing Deportment and commendable Virtues; he preserved the Affairs of this Country of every Denomination in the Channel of established Usage and Custom, so that Mankind, whether Merchants, Officers, Travellers, Strangers, or Tradesmen, with the most perfect Ease of Mind and Security employed themselves in seeking their Subsistence, in Happiness and inward Gratitude praying for the Extent of His Majesty's Reign, and the Company's Authority. That Gentleman was so attentive to the Protection and Safety of the Country, that no Disturber or Rioter on any Side could extend the Hand of Oppression and Tyranny.—He established Courts of Justice according to the respective Religions and Sects; and notwithstanding the Want of Rain, the dreadful Effects of Famine were warded off by the Wisdom and Prudence of his Measures and Arrangements. He settled the Courts of Criminal and Civil Jurisdiction (Fouzedary and Dewanny) on a new Footing, by which Mankind were guarded against Thieves and Murderers. He founded a College for the Propagation of Learning, and fixed an Income and Degrees for the Students; so that to this Moment the Learned and Students enjoy the Benefits and Advantages thereof, and pray for the Prosperity of His Majesty's Reign, and the Company; and we Moguls and others, whether Men in Service or Merchants, always lived protected from the Frauds of the Times under the Shadow of his Care and Kindness.

Kindness. He never coveted our Character, Property, or Wealth, nor did he ever act by Force or Opposition. In short, we, during the Government of Mr. Hastings, enjoyed Peace and Quiet, and in no Respect experienced Distress or Hardship, and are pleased with his Qualities and Virtues.

Translation of the Address delivered to Edward Hay, Esq. Secretary to the Government, by Meer Zahid, and other Inhabitants of Calcutta.

We, the great and principal People, Merchants, and others, Men of different Sects and Persuasions, Inhabitants of the City of Calcutta, Part of the Territories of the English Company (whom may God long preserve in Prosperity), having heard that the exalted Rulers of England, and they who preside over the Courts of Justice, have received Displeasure in their humane Hearts against Mr. Hastings, upon Suspicion that he took the Money and Effects of us the Inhabitants of this Country by Fraud and Treachery, and entirely ruined the Government of the Company.—Therefore we, the People aforesaid, with a perfect Unanimity, both in Expression and Meaning, according to the Precepts of our several Religions and Customs, the Observance of which which we always make the Object of our Hearts, do, for the Purpose of dispelling the Doubts of the exalted Gentlemen aforesaid, bring from behind the Curtain of Concealment, and place upon the Public Seat of Notoriety, such a Representation of the Character, and such a Relation of the Words and Actions of Mr. Hastings, whose Disposition is worthy of all Praise, as is true and certain, and fully proved and clearly demonstrated, and free from Ornament and Exaggeration. From the Time that he was appointed to, and became invested with, the Government of Calcutta, till the End of his Administration, he was always occupied in the Welfare of the Reyats, and the Improvement of the Country, in the Support of the Weak, in healing the Oppressions and Injustice of bad Men, in good Offices to the Great and Small, in the Preservation of the Rules of Government, and in Attention to the Rights and Degrees of Men nobly descended, in the Encouragement of Men of Merit and Learning, in laying the Foundation of Virtue, as for Example, by building Colleges and Schools, in keeping alive the Learning of every Sect and Persuasion, in giving Ease to the Landholders and the Merchants, in dispensing Justice to the injured and oppressed, in speaking the Language of Consolation to the Humble as well as to the Great, in conciliating the Hearts of Princes, whether Friends or Enemies, and in the Welfare of the Company.—In short, throughout the Territories under the Government of the Company there is not a single Individual who has not received from the well-spread Table of Mr. Hastings's Bounty whatever he was entitled to; and we, the Inhabitants of this Town of Calcutta, have for our Parts represented only that which we have ourselves seen of the Kindness, the Care, the Knowledge of what was right, and the Humanity of Mr. Hastings, who could distinguish what was just from what was unjust, who in his Exemption from Avarice was unequalled, the Fountain of good Dispositions, and the Assemblage of Mercies; we were and are in every Way satisfied with and grateful to Mr. Hastings, and sweet and refreshing to our Tongues are the Words with which we utter his Praises.

Translation of the Address delivered to Edward Hay, Esq. Secretary to the Government, by Ruffick Loll Dutt, Nemoy Churn Mullick, and others, Inhabitants of Calcutta.

It having at this Time come to the Hearing of all us the Gentry, Merchants, and other principal People of the City of Calcutta, Part of the Territories of the brave and noble English Company (whom may God long preserve in Prosperity!) that the exalted Rulers of England, and they who preside over the Courts of Justice, have received Doubt and Displeasure in their just Hearts against Mr. Hastings, upon a Suspicion that, taking the Money and Effects of us the Inhabitants of this Country by various Frauds and Artifices, he ruined the Government of the Company;—Therefore we, the People aforesaid; with a perfect Unanimity both in Expression and Meaning, do from our Hearts, and according to what we know and have heard, lay before the exalted Gentlemen aforesaid, for the Purpose of dispelling their Doubts, a true Representation of the Character of Mr. Hastings, from the Time that he was appointed to, and became invested, with, the Government of Calcutta till the End of his Administration. He was always occupied in the Welfare of the Ryotts and the Improvement of the Country, in the Support of the Weak, in healing the Oppressions and Injustice of bad Men, good Offices to the Great and Small, in the Preservation of the Rules of Government, and in Attention to the Rights and Degrees of Men nobly descended, in the Encouragement of Men of Merit and Learning, in establishing Allowances for Mussulmen, Doctors, and for Pundits and Students, and in supporting Colleges and Schools both for Mussulmans and Hindoos, in keeping alive the Learning of every Sect and Persuasion, in giving Ease to the Landholders and the Merchants, in dispensing Justice to the injured and oppressed, in speaking the Language of Consolation to the Humble as well as the Great, in conciliating the Hearts of Princes, whether Friends or Enemies, and in the Welfare of the Company. In short, throughout the Territories under the Government of the Company, there is not a single Individual who has not received from the Table of Mr. Hastings's Bounty whatever he was entitled to: And we, the Inhabitants of this Town of Calcutta, have for our own Parts represented only that which we have ourselves seen and heard of the Kindness, the Care, the Knowledge of what was right, and the Humanity of Mr. Hastings, who could distinguish what was just from what was unjust, who, in his Exemption from Avarice, was unequalled, the Fountain of good Dispositions, and the Assemblage of Mercies.—We were, and are, satisfied with and grateful to Mr. Hastings; and sweet and refreshing to our Tongues are the Words with which we utter his Praises.—Written on the 7th of Assin, 21st September 1788.

N<sup>o</sup> 33. Translation of a Persian Address from other Inhabitants of the Town of Calcutta, which was delivered to the Secretary by Rauje Chund Roy, and others.

Translation of a Petition delivered to Edward Hay, Esquire, the Secretary of the Government, by Rauje Chund Roy, Pettumber Mittre, Durup Narain, Colly Perlaud Ghose, Tunnoor Dutt, and others, Inhabitants of the Town of Calcutta.

We, your Petitioners, Inhabitants of the Town of Calcutta, present to the Council an Address relative to Mr. Hastings, under our Seals and Signatures, together with a Copy thereof; and in Behalf of ourselves, and of the other Persons who have sealed or signed the said Address, do request, that the Council, having caused the same to be translated by the Officers of the Company, will be pleased to transmit the Original and the Translation to England.

What was necessary we have represented.

Translation of the Address delivered to Edward Hay, Esquire, Secretary to the Government, by Rauje Chund Roy, Pettumber Mittre, and others.

We, the greatest and principal People, Merchants, and others, Men of different Sects and Persuasions, Inhabitants of the City of Calcutta, Part of the Territories of the English Company, (whom may God long preserve in Prosperity!) having heard that the exalted Rulers of England, and they who preside over the Courts of Justice, have received Displeasure in their humane Hearts against Mr. Hastings, upon a Suspicion that he took the Money and Effects of us the Inhabitants of this Country by Fraud and Treachery, and entirely ruined the Government of the Company;—Therefore we, the People aforesaid, with a perfect Unanimity both in Expression and Meaning, according to the Precepts of our several Religions and Customs, the Observance of which we always make the Objects of our Hearts, do, for the Purpose of dispelling the Doubts of the exalted Gentlemen aforesaid, bring from behind the Curtain of Concealment, and place upon the public Seat of Notoriety, such a Representation of the Character, and such a Relation of the Words and Actions of Mr. Hastings, whose Disposition is worthy of all Praise, as is true, and certain, and fully proved, and clearly demonstrated, and free from Ornament and Exaggeration, from the Time that he was appointed to, and became invested with, the Government of Calcutta till the End of his Administration. He was always occupied in the Welfare of the Ryots and the Improvement of the Country; in the Support of the Weak, in healing the Oppressions and Injustice of bad Men, in good Offices to the Great and Small, in the Preservation of the Rules of Government, and in Attention to the Right and Degrees of Men nobly descended, in the Encouragement of Men of Merit and Learning, in laying the Foundations of Virtue, as for Example, by building Colleges and Schools, in keeping alive the Learning of every Sect and Persuasion, in giving Help to the Landholders and the Merchants, in dispensing Justice to the Afflicted and Oppressed, in speaking the Language of Consolation to the Humble as well as to the Great, in conciliating the Hearts of Princes, whether Friends or Enemies, and in the Welfare of the Company. In short, throughout the Territories under the Government of the Company, there is not a single Individual who has not received from the well-spread Table of Mr. Hastings's Bounty whatever he was entitled to: And we, the Inhabitants of this Town of Calcutta, have for our own Part represented only that which we have ourselves seen of the Kindness, the Care, the Knowledge of what was right, and the Humanity of Mr. Hastings, who could distinguish what was just from what was unjust, who, in his Exemption from Avarice, was unequalled, the Fountain of good Dispositions, and the Assemblage of Mercies.—We were, and are, in every Way satisfied with and grateful to Mr. Hastings; and sweet and refreshing to our Tongues are the Words with which we utter his Praises.—Written on the 2d Bhauden, 16th August 1783.

N<sup>o</sup> 35. Copy Translation of a Greek Address from the Rector, and other Members of the Greek Church.

Translation of an Address from the principal Members of the Greek Church in Bengal, to the Honourable Court of Directors of the East India Company.

We, the Offspring of Hellas, called by Europeans Greeks, now residing for Commercial Purposes in Calcutta, and other Places in the Kingdom of Bengal, all and each of whom, except only one or two, came into this Country since the Commencement of the Administration of Warren Hastings, the late glorious and exalted Governor of Bengal, and of all East India, trading in and about these Parts free and unmolested.—We, the said Greeks, during the happy Days of the said late Governor Warren Hastings, having often been protected, and justly supported, by him, and having also been encouraged by his noble Succour and Assistance to raise, in this City, a holy Temple, in Honour and Glory of our Saviour's Transfiguration in Mount Thabor, to the End that we might be fixed in this Country, and that this our Church should remain as the Foundation of an Establishment for us, and for our Successors, being of the same Nation and Religion. We, at the same Time, considering ourselves lawful Subjects of His most high, powerful, and sacred Majesty the King of Great Britain, for whose Permanence, Prosperity, and Happiness, we, as by our Duty indispensably bound, do offer up to the Almighty God our daily Prayers: Forasmuch as we have heard, with deep Regret, that the said late Governor General Warren Hastings is prosecuted; and being, on our Parts, most perfectly and heartily satisfied with his wise and upright Government, as well as gratified by the pious and great Works which he rendered to us with his usual Benevolence—do take the Liberty of testifying and declaring, by this humble Representation, his Christian and universal Character, his beneficent and charitable Disposition towards all Mankind, his just and impartial Love for all the Native Inhabitants, whether high or low, of this Kingdom, and his fervent Zeal for the Prosperity of the Country in general, and of every Individual, manifesting to all and every of them Marks of paternal Affection, and stretching forth his Hand to those whom he found in indigent Circumstances, and destitute of the Necessaries of Life. He was a zealous Patron for the Dispensation of Justice to every Individual, and a faithful Balance of Equity. In a Word, he was enriched with all humane and moral Endowments, and famous not only for his moral and political Virtues, but worthy of Praise, and to be highly spoken of for his Desire to obtain and to improve the Literature of this Country. All which Excellencies will render him admired, and immortal, throughout the universal World.

We therefore, the small Number of Greeks residing in Calcutta, and dispersed throughout Bengal, in true Testimony of our great Gratitude for the many Benefits which we have received from the late Governor, Warren Hastings, do join with all the World in declaring our Sentiments in Favour of the Character of our worthy, wise, and humane Patron, the late Governor General; and have hereunto humbly set our Hands, this 13th Day of December 1788, O. S.

Paper delivered by the Vakeel on the Part of Rajah Anundenarain, Zemindar of Purgannah Tumlook 17 Anna Share, and translated pursuant to an Order from the Governor General in Council, dated 27th April 1788.

Under the Seal of Rajah Anundenarain, Zemindar of Purgannah Tumlook (7 Anna Share).

I have heard that the Gentlemen in England are displeased with Mr. Hastings, on Suspicion that he oppressed us Inhabitants of this Place, took our Money by Deceit and Force, and ruined the Country;—Therefore we, upon the Strength of our Religion and Religious Tenets, which we hold as a Duty upon us, and in order to act conformable to the Decrees of God, in delivering Evidence, relate the praise-worthy Actions, full of Prudence and Rectitude, Friendship and Politeness, of Mr. Hastings, possessed of great Abilities and Understanding; and by representing Facts, remove the Doubts that have possessed the Minds of the Gentlemen in England:—That Mr. Hastings distributed Protection and Security to Religion, and Kindness and Peace to us all. He is free from the Charge of Embezzlements and Fraud, and his Heart is void of Covetousness and Avidity. During the Period of his Government, no one experienced from him other than Protection and Justice, never having felt Hardships from him, nor did the Poor ever know the Weight of an oppressive Hand from him. Our Characters and Reputations have been always guarded in Quiet from Attack, by the Vigilance of his Prudence and Fore-sight, and preserved by the Terror of his Justice. He never omitted the smallest Instance of Kindness and Goodness towards us, and those entitled to it; but always applied, by Soothings and Mildness, the Salve of Comfort to the Wounds of Affliction, not allowing a single Person to be overpowered by Despair. He displayed his Friendship and Kindness to all; he destroyed the Powers of Enemies and wicked Men by the Strength of his Terror; he tied the Hands of Tyrants and Oppressors by his Justice; and by this Conduct he secured Happiness and Joy to us. He re-established the Foundation of Justice; and we at all Times, during his Government, lived in Comfort, and passed our Days in Peace. We are many, many of us satisfied and pleased with him. As Mr. Hastings was perfectly well acquainted with the Manners and Customs of these Countries, he was always desirous of performing that which would tend to the Preservation of our Religion, and of the Duties of our Sects, and guarded the Religious Customs of each from the Effects of Misfortunes and Accidents. In every Sense he treated us with Attention and Respect.—We have represented without Deceit what we have ourselves seen, and the Facts that happened from him.

He is free from the Charge of Embezzlements and Fraud, and his Heart is void of Covetousness and Avidity. During the Period of his Government no one experienced from him other than Protection and Justice, never having felt Hardships from him; nor did the Poor even know the Weight of an oppressive Hand from him. Our Characters and Reputations have been always guarded in Quiet from Attack, by the Vigilance of his Prudence and Foresight, and preserved by the Terror of his Justice. He never omitted the smallest Instance of Kindness and Goodness towards us, and those entitled to it, but always applied, by Soothings and Mildness, the Salve of Comfort to the Wounds of Affliction, not allowing a single Person to be overpowered by Despair. He displayed his Friendship and Kindness to all; he destroyed the Powers of Enemies and wicked Men by the Strength of his Terror; he tied the Hands of Tyrants and Oppressors by his Justice; and by this Conduct he secured Happiness and Joy to us. He re-established the Foundation of Justice; and we at all Times, during his Government, lived in Comfort, and passed our Days in Peace. We are many, many of us satisfied and pleased with him. As Mr. Hastings was perfectly well acquainted with the Manners and Customs of these Countries, he was always desirous of performing that which would tend to the Preservation of our Sects, and guarded the Religious Customs of each from the Effects of Misfortunes and Accidents. In every Sense he treated us with Attention and Respect.—We have represented without Deceit what we have ourselves seen, and the Facts that happened from him.

The Counsel for the Defendant stated, that they proposed to adduce the remaining Documents, with the Consent of the Managers; namely, the Address of the British Inhabitants of Calcutta, made to the Defendant upon the Eve of his Departure from Calcutta; and also the Address of the different Departments of the Army, and the Thanks of the Court of Directors and Proprietors. The Managers for the Commons consented to the same.

Accordingly the separate Papers above produced by the Witnesses were read as follows:

To the Honourable Warren Hastings, Esquire, Governor General.

Sir,

We, the British Inhabitants of Calcutta, impressed with real Concern at your Departure from India, intreat your Acceptance of this Public Tribute, in Testimony of our general Satisfaction in the whole Tenour of your long Administration, and our lasting Sense of your many patriotic Exertions.

For a Series of Years, we have uninterruptedly enjoyed, under your Government, the Blessings of private Comfort, and Public Tranquillity, and no one can recollect a Period wherein impartial Justice, political Wisdom, and a liberal Attention to the Rights of Individuals, were more eminently conspicuous.

We have seen you in many of the most critical Situations to which political Life can be exposed; in none of these have we perceived you to deviate from the Dignity of your Station, the Integrity of your Character, or the Vigour of your public Conduct: In every Vicissitude you have been provident and collected, and whilst you have proved yourself invulnerable to Inturrection, you have equally displayed yourself superior to Calumny.

The grand Outlines of the Connection by which this Country is united to Great Britain have been, under your Auspices, precisely ascertained, and its Continuance decisively secured. The unwieldy System of the double Government has been reduced to Order and Simplicity. The Administration of civil and criminal Justice, instead of a Burthen on Individuals, or an Engine of Corruption, has under your prudent Reformation become a Blessing to ten Millions of People. Arts have been uniformly patronised. The Channels of Communication between ourselves and the Natives have, by your liberal Encouragements, been opened, and our Settlement has increased to a Degree of Magnitude and Splendour, which evinces the Wisdom of your Measures, and the Mildness of your Government.

While the rest of India looked up to you alone for their Preservation from the Distractions of War and the Desolations of Famine, we have enjoyed an uninterrupted Plenty and Security, Blessings which, while we continue to possess, we shall never cease to remember were procured for us by your spirited Measures, which have raised upon the most solid Basis the Superstructure of public Happiness.

May that Happiness, and every other, be secured to you during the remaining Period of your Life, which can arise from the Possession of unfulfilled Virtue, and the Consciousness of unremitting Labours for the good of Society; and may you be blest, on your Return, with the brightest Reward

ward a Patriot Mind can court, the Applause of your Sovereign, and the Gratitude of a Country to which you have proved yourself so illustrious an Ornament.

We have the Honour to be,

Calcutta,

Warren Hastings, Esq.

Sir,

We have now the Honour to transmit a Set of the Address, consisting of sixteen Originals, and * Sic in Orig. notorial * Copies of the other two (a), the Duplicates of which did not come to hand.

Colonel Morgan has been pleased to take Charge of this Packet; the notorial Copies of the Whole were sent by the Greyhound Packet, on which Lord Macartney went home on the Louisa Emerenza, a Danish Ship.

We have lodged the other Set of Originals in the Hands of Colonel Pearce, who, when he shall learn the Fate of what has been sent before, and of this Packet, will hereafter transmit either the whole Set, or the two which will complete what we now send.

We beg Leave to assure you, that it has afforded us the greatest Pleasure to have been chosen the Agents of so respectable a Body of Officers, and that we hope our Services will prove acceptable to you.

We are, with much Respect, Sir,

Calcutta, 14th Dec. 1785.

Your most obedient humble Servants,

T. D. Pearce,
 Jas Morgan,
 Henry Watson.

† Sic in Orig. I William Jackson, Notary Public, dwelling and practising at Calcutta, at Fort William in Bengal, by lawful Authority admitted and sworn, do hereby certify and attest that the annexed Writing is a true Copy of an Address from the several Officers of the Bengal Army in the Service of the Honourable the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East Indies, whose Names are thereunto subscribed, to the Honourable Warren Hastings, Esquire, late Governor General of Bengal, carefully collated by me with the Original.

In Faith and Testimony whereof I have hereunto set my Hand and Seal, at Calcutta
 (L. S) aforesaid, the sixth Day of August, in the Year of our Lord One Thousand Seven Hundred and Eighty five.

W<sup>m</sup> Jackson,
 Not. Pub.

To the Honourable Warren Hastings, Esq. Governor General, &c.

Sir,

We whose Names are hereunto subscribed, Officers of the Bengal Army, with profound Respect, and most perfect Esteem, take the Liberty of addressing you on your Departure from amongst us.

Many of us as Citizens have already signed the general Address, which was projected, prepared, and signed, in the short Space of thirty Hours, and presented to you on the Morning of your Departure, with the Signature of near three Hundred of the principal Persons of the Settlement, to which large Additions have been since made, and still are making.

But it was judged, that an Address from the Officers of the Army in their collective Capacity, after you had left the Settlement, would more fully demonstrate to yourself, and to all the World, how very dear you were to them as Soldiers, and afford them an Opportunity of recording the Causes of their Esteem, by a Recital of the Events which produced it.

We all know, Sir, either by having seen it, or by having heard it from those who were on the Spot, that you have been very near thirteen Years at the Head of this Settlement: That you came to the Chair as Governor immediately after the most dreadful Calamity that ever befel a People, and found the Country much depopulated, the Treasury empty, and a most enormous Debt contracted: That the Plans which you so judiciously laid when Governor, were afterwards carried into Execution by the Governor General and Supreme Council, of which you have hitherto been the Head, and effected a Discharge of the Debt, filled the Treasury with Cash, and restored Life and Vigour to the Country: That during this Period, the Government was convulsed by jarring Interests and unusual Opposition; but, nevertheless, you maintained your Post with Dignity to the State, with Honour to yourself, and Confusion to the Enemies of our Country: That the Natives, taking Advantage of what they supposed a divided Government, entered into a Confederacy to destroy the Influence of the English in India, and to set up that of the French, who secretly promoted the Union, and afterward joined in League with them: That all these Efforts were baffled, and India preserved to us, by your Firmness and the Vigour of your Government, from which an Expedition planned by yourself was sent forth, and an Army under General Goddard traversed Regions unknown from the East to the West of India, and, in Spite of the Disasters which befel those who were to co-operate, reached the Coasts of Surat, and conquered Provinces from the Powers at War with our Nation.

(a) N. B. One of the notorial Copies is missing.

It is also well known, that in the Midst of this Scene of Trouble, the French and Spaniards, and afterwards the Dutch, joined to attack us, and were aided by the late Hyder Allee, who, before the Dutch War, invaded the Carnatic, defeated the English in Battle, and reduced to his Obedience the Whole of that Country, except Madras and Vellore, and some few paltry Forts in the Neighbourhood of the Presidency: That when all Men considered the State of the Carnatic to be desperate, you rose to rescue them from impending Ruin; and though Bengal was threatened with Invasions, nobly resolved to meet the Enemy at a Distance; you sent out two Detachments which gave Strength and Vigour to the Army under Sir Eyre Coote, thereby saved the British Possessions in that Part of India, and reduced the Enemy to conclude an honourable Peace without the smallest Loss of Territory: And lastly, that the Armies serving at a Distance were paid, fed, clothed and armed, by the Exertions and Resources of your Government.

Thus, Sir, under your Administration, have the united Efforts of our numerous and powerful Enemies been frustrated; and India, by the Conquests there made from the European Powers, has afforded the Means of redeeming what the Nation lost to them in every other Part of the Globe.

We therefore entreat you to accept this just and grateful Tribute of our Praises, and our warmest Thanks for having opened the Paths which led to Glory, and afforded to the Bengal Army the Means of acquiring Honour, and of being servicable to the State at large.

Permit us now, Sir, to express our Feelings on your Departure. Time, and the Contemplation of your illustrious Actions, created an Esteem which is deeply rooted in our Hearts; and our Sorrow at losing the Man whom we considered as the Father of the Settlement, is, as it ought to be, great and poignant; we must therefore seek for Consolation in our Hopes that you are going to receive those Honours and Rewards which are due to superior Merit; and with united Voice we pray that such may be the Event.
